[116] "Merchandise arriving in any vessel for delivery in different districts or ports of entry shall be described in the manifest in the order of the districts or ports at or in which the same is to be unladen. Before any vessel arriving in the United States with any such merchandise shall depart from the port of first arrival, the master shall obtain from the collector a permit therefor with a certified copy of the vessel's manifest showing the quantities and particulars of the merchandise entered at such port of entry and of that remaining on board." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 443; 19 U. S. C. 1443)

"If the master of any such vessel shall proceed to another port or district without having obtained a permit therefor and a certified copy of his manifest, or if he shall fail to produce such permit and certified copy of his manifest to the collector at the port of destination, or if he shall proceed to any port not specified in the permit, he shall be liable to a penalty, for each offense, of not more than $500." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 445; 19 U. S. C. 1445)

[117] "Within twenty-four hours after the arrival of such vessel at another port of entry, the master shall report the arrival of his vessel to the collector at such port and shall produce the permit issued by the collector at the port of first arrival, together with the certified copy of his manifest." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 444; 19 U. S. C. 1444)

[119] "Any vessel having on board merchandise shown by the manifest to be destined to a foreign port or place may, after the report and entry of such vessel under the provisions of this Act, proceed to such foreign port of destination with the cargo so destined therefor, without unlading the same and without the payment of duty thereon. • • •" (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 442; 19 U. S. C. 1442)

[120] "The Secretary of the Treasury may by regulations require the production of landing certificates in respect of merchandise exported from the United States, or in respect of residue cargo, in cases in which he deems it necessary for the protection of the revenue." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 622; 19 U. S. C. 1622) in the United States as provided for in §§ 4.85, 4.86, or 4.87.

§ 4.90 Simultaneous vessel transactions.

(a) A vessel may proceed from port to port in the United States for the purpose of engaging in two or more of the following transactions simultaneously,[121] subject to the limitations hereafter mentioned in this section and the conditions stated in the sections indicated in the list:

(1) Coastwise trade (§ 4.80).
(2) Touching at a foreign port while in coastwise trade (§ 4.82).
(3) Trade with noncontiguous territory of the United States (§ 4.84).
(4) Carriage of residue cargo or passengers from foreign ports (§§ 4.85–4.86).
(5) Carriage of cargo or passengers laden for foreign ports (§ 4.87).
(6) Carriage of residue cargo for foreign ports (§ 4.88).

(b) When a vessel is engaged simultaneously in two or more such transactions, the master shall indicate each type of transaction in which the vessel is engaged in his application for clearance on subdivision 1 of customs Form 1385. The master shall conform simultaneously to all requirements of these regulations with respect to each transaction in which the vessel is engaged.

(c) A foreign vessel is not authorized by this section to engage in the coastwise trade, including trade with noncontinguous territory embraced within the coastwise laws.

(d) A vessel of the United States may engage in transactions (2), (4), (5), or (6) only if under register or frontier enrollment and license. Such a vessel shall not engage in transactions (1) or (3) unless permitted by its register or frontier enrollment and license so to do.

(e) When one vessel bond on customs Form 7567 or 7569 is filed at any port and applicable to the current voyage of the vessel, it shall cover all simultaneous transactions engaged in on that voyage and no other like bond need be filed.

[121] For the purposes of this part, an inward foreign voyage is completed at the port of final discharge of inbound passengers or cargo, and an outward foreign voyage begins at the port where cargo or passengers are first laden for carriage to a foreign destination.

§ 4.91 Diversion of vessel; transshipment of cargo.

(b) If any vessel cleared from a port in the United States for a foreign port as provided for in § 4.60 is diverted, while en route, to a port in the United States other than that from which it was cleared, the owner or agent of the vessel immediately shall give notice of the diversion to the collector who granted the clearance, informing him of the new destination of the vessel and requesting him to notify the collector at the latter port. Such notification by the collector shall constitute a permit to proceed coastwise, and shall authorize the vessel to proceed to the new destination. On arrival at the new destination, the master shall report arrival within 24 hours. He shall also make entry within 48 hours by presenting (1) the vessel's document, (2) the foreign clearance on Form 1378 granted by the collector at the port of departure, (3) a certificate that when the vessel was cleared from the last previous port in the United States there were on board cargo and/or passengers for the ports named in the foreign clearance certificate only and that additional cargo or passengers (have) (have not) been taken on board or discharged since such clearance was granted (specifying the particulars if any passengers or cargo were taken on board or discharged), (4) a list in duplicate of all unentered articles acquired abroad by the officers and crew of the vessel which are still retained on board, and (5) a list in duplicate of the stores on board.

[122] See § 4.33.

(c) In a case of necessity, a collector may grant an application on customs Form 3171 of the owner or agent of an established line for permission to transship [123] all cargo and passengers from one vessel of the United States to another such vessel under customs supervision, if the first vessel is transporting residue cargo for domestic or foreign ports or is on an outward foreign voyage or a voyage to noncontiguous territory of the United States, and is following the procedure prescribed in §§ 4.85, 4.87, or 4.88. When inward foreign cargo or passengers are so transshipped to another vessel, a separate traveling manifest with a separate certificate on customs Form 3221 attached shall be used for the transshipped cargo or passengers, whether or not the forwarding vessel is also carrying other residue cargo or passengers. An appropriate cross reference shall be made on customs Form 3221 to show whether any other traveling manifest is being carried forward on the same vessel.

§ 4.92 Towing.

The prohibition against the use of foreign vessels in towing operations [124] shall be enforced with respect to such operations between any points embraced within the coastwise laws.

[124] "It shall be unlawful for any vessel not wholly owned by a person who is a citizen of the United States within the meaning of the laws respecting the documentation of vessels and not having in force a certificate of registry, a certificate of enrollment, or a license, issued pursuant to this title, or a certificate of award of number issued pursuant to section 288 of this title, to tow any vessel other than a vessel of foreign registry, or a vessel in distress, from any port or place in the United States, its Territories or possessions, embraced within the coastwise laws of the United States, to any other port or place within the same, either directly or by way of a foreign port or place, or to do any part of such towing, or to tow any such vessel, from point to point within the harbor of such places. The owner and master of any vessel towing another vessel in violation of the provisions of this section shall each be liable to a fine of not less than $250 nor more than $1,000, which fines shall constitute liens upon the offending vessel enforceable through the district court of the United States for any district in which such vessel may be found, and clearance shall not be granted to such vessel until the fines have been paid. The towing vessel shall also be further liable to a penalty of $50 per ton on the measurement of every vessel towed in violation of this section, which sum may be recovered by way of libel or suit." (46 U. S. C. 316 (a))

"Any foreign railroad company or corporation, whose road enters the United States by means of a ferry, tugboat, or towboat, may own such vessel and operate the same in connection with the water transportation of the passenger, freight, express, baggage, and mail cars used by such road, together with the passengers, freight, express matter, baggage, and mails transported in such cars, without being subject to any other or different restrictions than those imposed by law on any vessel of the United States entering ports of the United States from ports in the same foreign country: Provided, That except as authorized by section 883 of this title, such ferry, tugboat, or towboat shall not, under penalty of forfeiture, be used in connection with the transportation of any merchandise shipped from any port or place in the United States, its Territories or possessions, embraced within the coastwise laws of the United States, to any other port or place within the same." (46 U. S. C. 316 (c))

"Every undocumented vessel, operated in whole or in part by machinery owned in the United States and found on the navigable waters thereof, except public vessels, and vessels not exceeding sixteen feet in length measured from end to end over the deck excluding sheer, temporarily equipped with detachable motors, shall be numbered. * * *" (46 U. S. C. 288)

(See § 3.19 (a) of this chapter).

GENERAL

§ 4.95 Records of entry and clearance of vessels.

Permanent records shall be prepared at each customhouse of all entries of vessels on customs Form 1400 and of all clearances and permits to proceed on customs Form 1401.[125] When the number of transactions is small, such records may be prepared on the short forms (customs Forms 1400–A and 1401–A). Whenever a vessel is diverted, as provided for in § 4.91 (a) or (b), customs Form 1401 or 1401–A shall be amended to show the new destination. These records shall be open to public inspection.

[125] For regulations of the Bureau of the Census relating to statistics from these records, see 15 CFR Part 30.

§ 4.96 Fisheries.

(a) As used in this section:

(1) The term "convention vessel" means a Canadian fishing vessel which, at the time of its arrival in the United States, is engaged only in the North Pacific halibut fishery and which is therefore entitled to the privileges provided for by the Halibut Fishing Vessels Convention between the United States and Canada signed at Ottawa on March 24, 1950 (T. D. 52862);

(2) The term "nonconvention fishing vessel" means any vessel other than a convention vessel which is employed in whole or in part in fishing at the time of its arrival in the United States and

(i) Which is documented under the laws of a foreign country,

(ii) Which is undocumented, of 5 net tons or over, and owned in whole or in part by a person other than a citizen of the United States, or

(iii) Which is undocumented, of less than 5 net tons, and owned in whole or in part by a person who is neither a citizen nor a resident of the United States;

(3) The term "nonconvention cargo vessel" means any vessel which is not employed in fishing at the time of its arrival in the United States, but which is engaged in whole or in part in the transportation of fish or fish products [125a] and

(i) Which is documented under the laws of a foreign country or

(ii) Which is undocumented and owned by a person other than a citizen of the United States; and

(4) The term "fishing" means the planting, cultivation, or taking of fish, shell fish, marine animals, pearls, shells, or marine vegetation, or the transportation of any of those marine products to the United States by the taking vessel or another vessel under the complete control and management of a common owner or bareboat charterer.

[125a] "* * * Except as otherwise provided by treaty or convention to which the United States is a party, no foreign-flag vessel shall, whether documented as a cargo vessel or otherwise, land in a port of the United States its catch of fish taken on board such vessels on the high seas or fish products processed therefrom, or any fish or fish products taken on board such vessel on the high seas from a vessel engaged in fishing operations or in the processing of fish or fish products." (46 U. S. C. 251)

(b) Except as provided for in paragraph (d), (e), or (g) of this section, no vessel employed in fishing, other than a vessel of the United States or a vessel of less than 5 net tons owned in the United States, shall come into a port or place in the United States.[125b]

(c) A vessel of the United States to be employed in fishing may be enrolled and licensed, or licensed, depending upon its size, or registered. If registered, the vessel must be entitled to be licensed or enrolled and licensed for the fisheries. (See §§ 3.2 and 3.42 of this chapter.)

(d) A convention vessel may come into a port of entry on the Pacific coast of the United States, including Alaska, to land its catch of halibut and incidentally-caught sable fish, or to secure supplies, equipment, or repairs. Such a vessel may come into any other port of entry or, if properly authorized to do so under § 1.2 (b) of this chapter, into any place other than a port of entry, for the purpose of securing supplies, equipment, or repairs only, but shall not land its catch. A convention vessel which comes into the United States as provided for in this paragraph shall comply with the usual requirements applicable to foreign vessels arriving at and departing from the United States.

(e) A nonconvention fishing vessel may come into a port of entry in the United States or, if granted permission under § 1.2 (b) of this chapter, into a place other than a port of entry for the purpose of securing supplies, equipment, or repairs, but shall not land its catch. A nonconvention fishing vessel which comes into the United States as provided for in this paragraph shall comply with the usual requirements applicable to foreign vessels arriving at and departing from ports of the United States.

(f) A nonconvention cargo vessel, although not prohibited by by law from coming into the United States, shall not be permitted to land in the United States its catch of fish taken on the high seas or any fish or fish products taken on board on the high seas from a vessel employed in fishing or in the processing of fish or fish products, but may land fish taken on board at any place other than the high seas upon compliance with the usual requirements. Before any such fish may be landed the master shall satisfy the collector that the fish were not taken on board on the high seas by presenting declarations of the master and two or more officers or members of the crew of the vessel, of whom the person next in authority to the master shall be one, or other evidence acceptable to the collector which establishes the place of lading to his satisfaction.

(g) A convention vessel, a nonconvention fishing vessel, or a nonconvention cargo vessel which arrives in the United States in distress shall be subject to the usual requirements applicable to foreign vessels arriving in distress. While in the United States, supplies, equipment, or repairs may be secured, but, except as specified in the next sentence, fish shall not be landed unless the vessel's master, or other authorized representative of the owner, shows to the satisfaction of the collector that it will not be possible, by the exercise of due diligence, for the vessel to transport its catch to a foreign port without spoilage, in which event the collector may allow the vessel, upon compliance with all applicable requirements, to land, transship, or otherwise dispose of its catch. Nothing herein shall prevent a convention vessel arriving in distress from landing its catch of halibut and incidentally-caught sable fish at a port of entry on the Pacific coast, including Alaska, upon compliance with normal customs procedures, nor prevent a foreign cargo vessel arriving in distress from landing, upon compliance with normal customs procedures, its cargo of fish taken on board at any place not on the high seas.

(h) A registered vessel may be cleared for a whaling voyage [125c] under the same terms and conditions as though it were enrolled and licensed for the whale fishery.

§ 4.97 Salvage vessels.

(a) Only a vessel of the United States, a numbered motorboat owned by a citizen,[132] or a vessel operating within the purview of paragraph (d) or (e) of this section, shall engage in any salvage operation in territorial waters of the United States unless an application addressed to the Commissioner of Customs to use another specified vessel in a completely described operation has been granted.[133]

(b) Upon receipt of such an application, the Commissioner of Customs will cause an investigation to be made immediately to determine whether a suitable vessel of the United States or a suitable numbered motorboat owned by a citizen is available for the operation. If he finds that no such vessel is available and that the facts otherwise warrant

[125b] "Vessels of twenty tons and upward, enrolled in pursuance of sections 251–255, 258, 259, 262–280, 293, 306–316, 318, 321–330 and 333–335 of this title, and having a license in force, or vessels of less than twenty tons, which, although not enrolled, have a license in force, as required by such sections, and no others, shall be deemed vessels of the United States entitled to the privileges of vessels employed in the coasting trade or fisheries. * * *" (46 U. S. C. 251)

[133] "No foreign vessel shall, under penalty of forfeiture, engage in salvaging operations on the Atlantic or Pacific coast of the United States, in any portion of the Great Lakes or their connecting or tributary waters, including any portion of the Saint Lawrence River through which the international boundary line extends, or in territorial waters of the United States on the Gulf of Mexico, except when authorized by a treaty or in accordance with the provisions of section 725 of this title: Provided, however, That if, on investigation, the Secretary of the Treasury is satisfied that no suitable vessel wholly owned by a person who is a citizen of the United States and documented under the laws of the United States or numbered pursuant to section 288 of this title, is available in any particular locality he may authorize the use of a foreign vessel or vessels in salvaging operations in that locality and no penalty shall be incurred for such authorized use." (46 U. S. C. 316 (d))

"Nothing in this section shall be held or construed to prohibit or restrict any assistance to vessels or salvage operations authorized by Article II of the treaty between the United States and Great Britain 'concerning reciprocal rights for United States and Canada in the conveyance of prisoners and wrecking and salvage' signed at Washington, May 18, 1908 (35 Stat. 2036), or by the treaty between the United States and Mexico 'to facilitate assistance to and salvage of vessels in territorial waters,' signed at Mexico City, June 13, 1935 (49 Stat. 3359)." (46 U. S. C. 316 (e)) favorable action, he will grant the application.

(c) If the application is granted, the applicant shall make a full report of the operation as soon as possible to the collector of customs at the port nearest the place where the operation was conducted.

(d) A Canadian vessel may engage in salvage operations on any vessel in any territorial waters of the United States in which Canadian vessels are permitted to conduct such operations by article II of the treaty between the United States and Great Britain signed on May 18, 1908,[134] or by section 725, title 46, United States Code.[135] If any such vessel engages in a salvage operation in territorial waters of the United States, the owner or master of the vessel shall make a full report of the operation as soon as possible to the collector of customs at the port nearest the place where the operation was conducted.

(e) A Mexican vessel may engage in a salvage operation on a Mexican vessel in any territorial waters of the United States in which Mexican vessels are permitted to conduct such operations by the treaty between the United States and Mexico signed on June 13, 1935.[136]

§ 4.98 Navigation fees.

(a) The table of navigation fees required to be posted in customs offices[137] shall be on customs Form 1010. The respective fees shall be designated in correspondence and reports by numbers as follows:

Fee No. and service

1 Entry of vessel, including American, from foreign port (19 U. S. C. 58):
   (a) Less than 100 net tons.
   (b) 100 net tons and over.
2 Clearance of vessel, including American, to foreign port (19 U. S. C. 58):
   (a) Less than 100 net tons.
   (b) 100 net tons and over.
3 Issuing permit to foreign vessel to proceed from district to district, and receiving the manifest (46 U. S. C. 329, 330).
4 Receiving manifest of foreign vessel on arrival from another district and granting a permit to unlade (46 U. S. C. 329, 330).
5 Receiving post entry (19 U. S C 58, 46 U S. C. 330).
6 Changing name of vessel (46 U. S. C. 53):
   (a) Less than 100 gross tons.
   (b) 100 and not exceeding 499 gross tons.
   (c) 500 and not exceeding 999 gross tons.
   (d) 1,000 and not exceeding 4,999 gross tons.
   (e) 5,000 gross tons and over.
7 (a) Recording bill of sale, conveyance, mortgage, or assignment of mortgage; or
   (b) Furnishing certified copy of any bill of sale, conveyance, mortgage, assignment of mortgage, notice of claim of lien, or certificate of discharge in respect to such vessel; or
   (c) Furnishing certified copy of record at former home port; or
   (d) Furnishing certificate setting forth names of owners, the interest held by each owner, material facts in each bill of sale, conveyance, mortgage, assignment of mortgage, lien, or encumbrance; or
   (e) Furnishing certificate that there are no liens or encumbrances (46 U. S. C. 927).
8 Receiving official bond not otherwise provided for (19 U. S. C. 58).
9 Certifying payment of tonnage tax and certifying admeasurement, both for foreign vessels only (19 U. S. C. 58).
10 Furnishing copy of official document, including marine document, certified outward foreign manifest, and others not elsewhere enumerated (19 U. S. C. 58).
11 Registering a house flag or funnel mark, or both (5 U. S. C. 140; T. D 53385).

(b) Fee 1 shall be collected at the first port of entry only. It shall not be collected from a vessel entering directly from a port in noncontiguous territory of the United States nor from one entering at a port on the northern, northeastern, or northwestern frontier otherwise than by sea.

(c) Fee 2 shall be collected at the final port of departure from the United States. It shall be collected from a yacht or public vessel which obtains a clearance, but shall not be collected from a vessel clearing directly for a port in noncontiguous territory of the United States nor from one clearing from a port on the northern, northeastern, or northwestern frontier otherwise than by sea. It shall be collected only upon the first clearance each year of a vessel making regular daily trips between a port of the United States and a port in Canada wholly upon interior waters not navigable to the ocean.

(d) Fee 3 shall be collected for granting a permit to a foreign vessel to proceed to another customs district, but not for a permit to proceed to a port in the same district. It shall be collected from a foreign vessel clearing directly for a port in noncontiguous territory of the United States outside its customs territory. This fee shall not be collected in the case of a foreign vessel proceeding on a voyage by sea from one district in the United States to another such district via a foreign port. Only one fee shall be collected in case of simultaneous vessel transactions.

(e) Fee 4 shall be collected for receiving the manifest of a foreign vessel arriving from another customs district, but not arriving from a port in the same district. It shall be collected from a foreign vessel entering directly from a port in noncontiguous territory of the United States outside its customs territory. This fee shall not be collected in the case of a foreign vessel which arrives in one district in the United States from another such district on a voyage by sea via a foreign port. Only one fee shall be collected in case of simultaneous vessel transactions.

(f) Fee 6 shall be collected when the application is approved.

(g) In computing the amounts to be collected under Fee 7:

(1) The word "folio" shall mean 100 words, counting each figure as a word (44 U. S. C. 326). No charge shall be made for fractions of a folio.

(2) When any instrument presented is not on an appropriate customs form, the number of folios shall be computed under the pertinent one of the following formulas:

(i) Except as specified in subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph, if the instrument is of less than 20 pages, the total number of lines shall be determined; the number of words in 10 percent of the lines of each size and style of writing or printing (handwritten, pica typewritten, elite typewritten, printed, etc.; full measure, indented, etc.) shall be counted, using lines of average length; the average number of words per line of each size and style of writing or printing shall be multiplied by the total number of lines of such size and style in order to arrive at the total number of words; and that total shall be divided by 100 in order to ascertain the total number of folios.

(ii) Except as specified in subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph, if the instrument is of 20 pages or more, the number of words on a representative sample of pages (10 percent of the total, using pages of average width and length) shall be counted; the average number of words per page shall be multiplied by the number of pages in order to arrive at the total number of words; and that total shall be divided by 100 in order to ascertain the total number of folios.

(iii) If any such instrument contains a recitation or copy of a marine document of a vessel, whether reproduced by photostatic process or otherwise, the number of folios in such recitation or copy shall not be determined as specified in subdivision (i) or (ii) of this subparagraph, but instead each such recitation or copy shall be deemed to contain 5 folios. The number of folios contained in such recitation or copies, determined in accordance with this subdivision, shall be added to the number of folios contained in the remainder of such instrument, ascertained in accordance with subdivision (i) or (ii) of this subparagraph, as the case may be, and the sum shall be the total number of folios in that instrument.

(3) When any instrument presented is on one of the following customs forms and contains only such written matter as is customarily used and necessary to complete and fill in the blanks on the form or when it contains such matter and other written matter interpolated or appended of less than 200 words, the number of folios in the instrument shall be deemed to be in accordance with the following schedule:

(i) Bill of sale of vessel on customs Form 1340, 1342, 1344, 1346, or 1356: 10 folios.

(ii) Mortgage of vessel on customs Form 1348—If marine document is not recited: 15 folios. If marine document is recited: 20 folios.

(iii) General Index or Abstract of Title on customs Form 1332: 5 folios.

(iv) General Index or Abstract of Title—Continuation Sheet on customs Form 1332–A: 1 folio for each two instruments noted thereon.

(v) Certificate of Ownership on customs Form 1330: 5 folios.

(4) When any such instrument is prepared on a customs form and contains such written matter as is customarily used and necessary to complete and fill in the blanks on the form and other written matter interpolated or appended of 200 or more words, the number of folios in the instrument shall be computed on the basis of the above schedule for the printed forms, plus an additional amount for all the written matter other than such as is used and necessary to complete and fill in the blanks on the form in the customary manner, which amount shall be computed as though that portion of the instrument were not on a customs form.

(5) The number of folios in a certified copy of any instrument furnished under Fee 7, Service (b), shall be computed in the same manner as in the case of the original, except that the number of folios in a certificate of discharge on customs Form 1363 shall be deemed to be 5, unless the form contains interpolated or appended written matter of 200 or more words in addition to such written matter as is customarily used and necessary to complete and fill in the blanks on the form, in which case the fee shall be computed on the basis of a charge for 3 folios for the printed form, plus an additional amount for all the written matter other than such as is used and necessary to complete and fill in the blanks on the form in the customary manner, which amount shall be computed as though that portion of the instrument were not on a customs form.

(h) Fee 7 applies only to services covered by the Ship Mortgage Act, 1920 (46 U. S. C. 921 (b), 923, 926 (c), and 927), all of which are included in the descriptions opposite that fee number in the table set forth in paragraph (a) of this section. It shall not be collected for a duplicate certified copy of the record at the former home port issued in accordance with § 3.33 (l) of this chapter.

(i) Fee 8 is collected principally from vessels in the Alaska trade.

(j) Fee 9 shall be collected from foreign vessels only.

(k) Fee 10 shall be collected for each copy of any official document, whether certified or not, furnished to any person other than a Government officer.

AUTHORITY: §§ 5.1 to 5.15 issued under R. S. 251, sec. 624, 46 Stat. 759; 19 U. S. C. 66, 1624. Statutory provisions interpreted or applied and special rule making authority are cited to text in parentheses.

§ 5.1 Imports from contiguous countries; manifests; report of arrival.

(a) The master or person in charge of every vessel of less than 5 net tons which is carrying baggage or other merchandise and arrives in the United States from a contiguous country otherwise than by sea[1] and the person in charge of every vehicle which arrives in the United States from a contiguous country, whether or not carrying merchandise, shall report arrival to the collector. Baggage and other merchandise carried in either such case shall be listed on a manifest as provided for by paragraph (b) of this section, which shall be filed with the collector when the arrival is reported.[2] A vessel of less than 5 net tons arriving in the United States from a contiguous country otherwise than by sea is not subject to the provisions of sections 433, 434, 435, or 448 (a), Tariff Act of 1930, and no report of the arrival of such a vessel is required if it is not carrying any baggage or other merchandise.

(b) Except as otherwise specifically provided for in this paragraph or as may be specially authorized by the Bureau, the manifest shall be filed in original only. It shall be certified by the master of the vessel or person in charge of the vehicle. Customs Form 7533–A shall be used to manifest baggage arriving in baggage cars. When the procedure for the use of sticker labels in lieu of sealing and special manifesting, authorized by § 5.5 (d) is followed, the total number of pieces of baggage examined and passed in foreign territory by the United States customs officer who will release them upon arrival in the United States may be shown on customs Form 7533–A in lieu of filling in the first four columns of such form. Customs Form 5119 or 5119–A may be used in lieu of other forms of customs manifest when the value of the [134] "The High Contracting Parties agree that vessels and wrecking appliances, either from the United States or from the Dominion of Canada, may salve any property wrecked and may render aid and assistance to any vessels wrecked, disabled or in distress in the waters or on the shores of the other country in that portion of the St. Lawrence River through which the International Boundary line extends, and, in Lake Ontario, Lake Erie, Lake St. Clair, Lake Huron, and Lake Superior, and in the Rivers Niagara, Detroit, St. Clair, and Ste. Marie, and the Canals at Sault Ste. Marie, and on the shores and in the waters of the other country along the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts within a distance of thirty miles from the International Boundary on such Coasts.

"It is further agreed that such reciprocal wrecking and salvage privileges shall include all necessary towing incident thereto, and that nothing in the Customs, Coasting or other laws or regulations of either country shall restrict in any manner the salving operations of such vessels or wrecking appliances.

"Vessels from either country employed in salving in the waters of the other shall, as soon as practicable afterwards, make full report at the nearest custom house of the country in whose waters such salving takes place." (35 Stat. 2036)

[135] "Canadian vessels and wrecking appurtenance may render aid and assistance to Canadian or other vessels and property wrecked, disabled, or in distress in the waters of the United States contiguous to the Dominion of Canada.

"This section shall be construed to apply to the canal and improvement of the waters between Lake Erie and Lake Huron, and to the waters of the Saint Mary's River and Canal: * * *." (46 U. S. C. 725)

The waters of Lake Michigan are not contiguous to the Dominion of Canada within the meaning of this statute.

[136] "The High Contracting Parties agree that vessels and rescue apparatus, public or private, of either country, may aid or assist vessels of their own nationality, including the passengers and crews thereof, which may be disabled or in distress on the shores or within the territorial waters of the other country within a radius of seven hundred and twenty nautical miles of the intersection of the International Boundary Line and the coast of the Pacific Ocean, or within a radius of two hundred nautical miles of the intersection of the International Boundary Line and the coast of the Gulf of Mexico." (49 Stat. 3360)

[137] "Every collector, comptroller, and surveyor shall cause to be affixed, and constantly kept in some public and conspicuous place of his office, a fair table of the rates of fees * * * demandable by law, and shall give a receipt for the fees received by him, specifying the particulars whenever required so to do; and for every failure so to do, he shall be liable to a penalty of $100, recoverable to the use of the informer." (19 U. S. C. 59)

[1] For the reporting, entry, and clearance requirements applicable to vessels of less than 5 net tons which arrive in the United States from, or depart for, a contiguous country by sea, and to vessels of 5 net tons or over, whether arriving or departing by sea or otherwise, see §§ 4.2, 4.3, and 4.60 of this chapter.

[2] "The master of any vessel of less than five net tons carrying merchandise and the person in charge of any vehicle arriving in the United States from contiguous country, shall immediately report his arrival to the customs officer at the port of entry or customhouse which shall be nearest to the place at which such vessel or vehicle shall cross the boundary line or shall enter the territorial waters of the United States, and if such vessel or vehicle have on board any merchandise, shall produce to such customs officer a manifest as required by law, and no such vessel or vehicle shall proceed farther inland nor shall discharge or land any merchandise, passengers, or baggage without receiving a permit therefor from such customs officer. Any person importing or bringing merchandise into the United States from a contiguous country otherwise than in a vessel or vehicles shall immediately report his arrival to the customs officer at the port of entry or customhouse which shall be nearest to the place at which he shall cross the boundary line and shall present such merchandise to such customs officer for inspection." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 459, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1459)

merchandise does not exceed $250. Customs Form 7523 also may be used in lieu of other forms of customs manifests for merchandise which is entered on that form. In all other cases, except as provided for by paragraph (c) of this section and § 5.11 (c), the manifest required from a vehicle, or from a vessel of less than 5 net tons arriving in the United States from a contiguous country otherwise than by sea, shall be on customs Form 7533, except that when baggage arrives in the United States in the actual possession of a traveler, his declaration therefor shall be accepted in lieu of a manifest. For manifesting required in the case of any vessel which is required to make entry, see § 4.7 (a) of this chapter. If a shipment not exceeding $250 in value is unconditionally free of duty and not subject to quota or to internal-revenue tax and arrives on a vessel which is required to enter, the inward foreign manifest of the merchandise, if presented in duplicate, may be used as an entry therefor, if no merchandise for a different entrant is listed on the same page of the manifest, and if the importer notes on the manifest the country of exportation of the merchandise, its value, and the provision of law under which free entry is claimed and furnishes evidence of the right to make entry as required by § 8.6 of this chapter. Merchandise imported by a person otherwise than in a vessel or vehicle need not be covered by a manifest, but the importer shall report his arrival, present such merchandise for inspection, and make entry therefor, if required, in accordance with the applicable laws and regulations.

(c) When all the merchandise arriving on one vessel or vehicle is entered immediately upon arrival either under a single immediate transportation entry or a single transportation and exportation or direct exportation entry, the copy of customs Form 7512 to be retained at the port of first arrival may be adapted for use as a combined inward foreign manifest and in-bond transportation or direct exportation entry. When Customs Form 7512 is to be so used, the foreign port of lading and the name of the shipper shall be shown thereon in every case and a certificate in the following form shall be executed by the master of the vessel or the person in charge of the vehicle:

This entry correctly covers all the merchandise on the vessel or vehicle, of which I am the master or person in charge, when it first arrived in the United States. If any error in the quantity, kind of articles, or other details, is discovered, I will immediately report the correct information to the collector of customs.

The above prescribed form of certificate may be legibly stamped on the form or on a separate paper securely attached thereto.

(d) The penalty of $100 for failure to report and the penalty of $100 for proceeding inland without a permit, imposed by section 460, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[3] apply in every case where a vehicle is involved whether or not the vehicle is carrying merchandise, passengers, or baggage. Such penalties apply with respect to vessels of less than 5 net tons only when such vessels are carrying merchandise or baggage.

[3] "The master of any vessel or the person in charge of any vehicle who fails to report arrival in the United States as required by the preceding section, or if so reporting proceeds further inland without a permit from the proper customs officer, shall be subject to a penalty of $100 for each offense. If any merchandise is imported or brought into the United States in any vessel or vehicle, or by any person otherwise than in a vessel or vehicle, from a contiguous country, which vessel, vehicle, or merchandise is not so reported to the proper customs officers; or if the master of such vessel or the person in charge of such vehicle fails to file a manifest for the merchandise carried therein, or discharges or lands such merchandise without a permit; such merchandise and the vessel or vehicle, if any, in which it was imported or brought into the United States shall be subject to forfeiture; and the master of such vessel or the person in charge of such vehicle, or the person importing or bringing in merchandise otherwise than in a vessel or vehicle, shall, in addition to any other penalty, be liable to a penalty equal to the value of the merchandise which was not reported, or not included in the manifest, or which was discharged or landed without a permit. If any vessel or vehicle not so reported carries any passenger; or if any passenger is discharged or landed from any such vessel or vehicle before it is so reported, or after such report but without a permit; the master of the vessel or the person in charge of the vehicle shall, in addition to any other penalty, be liable to a penalty of $500 for each passenger so carried, discharged, or landed." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 460, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1460)

[3a] For the requirements with respect to the unlading or lading of vessels not within the purview of this section, see § 4.30 of this chapter.

§ 5.2 Vessels and vehicles; unlading and lading; permits; overtime services.[3a]

(a) No passenger or merchandise (including baggage) shall be landed or discharged at any time from any vessel of less than 5 net tons which arrives from a contiguous country, by sea or otherwise, or from a vehicle which arrives from such a country, until permission therefor has been granted by the customs officer to whom the arrival of the vessel or vehicle has been duly reported. The collector may require that the permission and an application therefor be in writing on customs Form 3851, appropriately modified for the purpose. The foregoing requirement shall not apply to the unlading of passengers from any such vessel arriving from a contiguous country otherwise than by sea when such vessel is not carrying baggage or other merchandise.

(b) No lading of merchandise requiring customs supervision on any vessel or vehicle departing for a contiguous country by any route, and no unlading of any passenger or merchandise (including baggage) from any vessel of less than 5 net tons or vehicle arriving from a contiguous country by any route, shall be done at night or on a Sunday or holiday until the collector has granted an application for a special license therefor and a request on customs Form 3853 for any reimbursable overtime services required to be performed by customs employees. The foregoing requirement shall not apply to the unlading of passengers from any such vessel arriving from a contiguous country otherwise than by sea when such vessel is not carrying baggage or other merchandise. The application for the license shall be in writing on customs Form 3851, except that in the case of vessels of less than 5 net tons and vehicles not engaged in the carriage of persons or property for hire, the collector in his discretion and under such conditions as he deems advisable may allow the application to be made orally. In the cases of the vessels and vehicles last mentioned, the collector may authorize his customs inspectors to grant oral permission for unlading at night or on a Sunday or holiday, and to grant requests on Form 3853 for overtime services.

(c) A request for reimbursable overtime services shall not be approved under the provisions of the preceding paragraph unless the required cash deposit or bond on customs Form 7567, 7569, or 7597 shall have been received, except that, when a carrier has on file a bond on customs Form 3587, no further bond shall be required of such carrier solely by reason of the unlading or lading at night or on a Sunday or holiday of merchandise (including baggage) covered by an entry for transportation in bond.

(d) A permit or special license required by this section may be issued on a term basis in the manner and under such of the conditions prescribed in § 4.30 (f) or (g) of this chapter as are applicable.

§ 5.3 Vessels under frontier enrollment and license; repairs and equipment; sea and saloon stores and supplies.

(a) The statement of the cost of repairs made or equipment taken on board a vessel in contiguous foreign territory, required to be filed by section 465, Tariff Act of 1930,[4] shall be submitted by the master on customs Form 3415. If no equipment has been purchased or repairs made, a declaration to that effect shall be made on customs Form 3415. Equipment purchased and repairs made in a foreign country are subject to duty, but such duty may be remitted under certain conditions. (See §§ 4.7(b)(2) and 4.14 of this chapter.)

[4] "The master of any vessel of the United States documented to engage in the foreign and coasting trade on the northern, northeastern, and northwestern frontiers shall, upon arrival from a foreign contiguous territory, file with the manifest of such vessel a detailed list of all samples or other merchandise purchased in such foreign country for use or sale on such vessel, and also a statement of the cost of all repairs to and all equipment taken on board such vessel. • • • If any such supplies, merchandise, repairs, or equipment shall not be reported, the master, • • • or other person having charge of such vessel • • • shall be liable to a fine of not less than $100 and not more than $500, or to imprisonment for not more than two years, or both." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 465; 19 U. S. C. 1465)

(b) The master shall also certify to the collector that any supplies listed as "sea stores" are intended for the exclusive use of the vessel. If the quantities thereof are excessive, duties shall be paid on the excess.

(c) Supplies listed as "saloon stores," intended for sale on board the vessel, are dutiable and shall be entered as merchandise.

(Sec. 465, 46 Stat. 718; 19 U. S. C. 1465)

§ 5.4 Inspection of baggage from contiguous foreign country.

Customs officers shall not open baggage for the purpose of making the inspection required by section 461, Tariff Act of 1930,[5] but shall detain such baggage until its owner or his agent opens or refuses to open it. If the owner or his agent refuses to open the baggage, it shall be opened and examined in accordance with the provisions of section 462, Tariff Act of 1930,[6] unless a request is received from the owner or his agent to make other proper disposition thereof.[7] Customs officers shall not unlock a vehicle or a compartment thereof for the purpose of examining baggage unless the owner or operator refuses to unlock such vehicle or compartment.

§ 5.5 Examination of baggage in foreign territory.

(a) United States customs officers stationed in foreign territory for that purpose may examine baggage being forwarded under baggage check, by express or in chartered cars of persons destined to the United States who have made proper declaration therefor, when requested to do so by such persons, but, except as to baggage being forwarded under baggage check, such examination shall not be made of baggage containing articles for which the $200 or $300 exemption is claimed under paragraph 1798, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended. Upon completion of the examination, a special green cardboard manifest not less than 2½ by 4½ inches in size supplied by the carrier shall be completed and attached under customs supervision to each piece of baggage by wire or cord and the baggage placed in the custody of the carrier. The special green manifest shall be in substantially the following form:

UNITED STATES CUSTOMS

SPECIAL BAGGAGE MANIFEST

CARRIER'S BAGGAGEMAN: Destroy this tag if owner has access to baggage before arrival in United States.

Check No. ------

Baggage examined and passed at ---------- (Office)

(U.S. Customs Officer)

(b) In lieu of attaching a special manifest to each piece as set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, such baggage may be laden in cars or compartments sealed with United States customs in-transit blue Tyden seals. The sealed cars or compartments shall be accompanied by a sheet manifest prepared in duplicate in the following form:

UNITED STATES CUSTOMS

SPECIAL MANIFEST OF BAGGAGE FORWARDED IN SEALED CAR OR COMPARTMENT

This baggage is in transit from ---------- to ---------- in the United States.

Car No. --------

Check No.	Destination	Passenger's name	Number declared for	Exemption allowed

The above-described baggage has been examined carefully and passed by me; its lading and the sealing of the car or compartment have been done under my personal supervision; and no goods of any kind subject to duty are contained in such baggage except that on which proper exemption has been allowed.

U. S. Customs Officer

(c) One copy of this manifest shall be given to the railroad employee in charge of the baggage for delivery by him to the customs officer at the port of first arrival in the United States.

(d) In lieu of the procedure set forth in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, sticker labels other than official baggage stamps may be affixed to baggage examined and passed in foreign territory if the baggage is to be released in the United States by the same officer who examined and passed it in the foreign country. Such sticker labels shall bear suitable wording showing that the baggage has been passed by the United States customs.

(e) The removal of the special tag manifest or the customs car or compartment seal described in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section may be done only by a customs officer. The tag manifest or any customs seal on the car or compartment shall be removed by the customs officer who boards the train at the port of first arrival in the United States. If the officer finds the special tag manifest, sticker label, or customs car or compartment seal missing or not intact (except as provided for in § 18.3(c) of this chapter), or for any other reason believes that the baggage has been tampered with en route to the United States, he shall detain it for examination.

(f) If the baggage is to re-enter contiguous foreign territory before it reaches the final port of entry into the United States, the tag manifest or the seal or seals shall be removed by the customs officer at the first port of entry in the United States after the last transit through foreign territory.

(g) No baggage containing dutiable merchandise in excess of that on which an exemption may be allowed shall be passed in foreign territory.

§ 5.6 Merchandise arriving from a contiguous foreign country in sealed vessels or vehicles.

Merchandise arriving from a contiguous foreign country, which is not to be unladen at the port of first arrival, may be transported to destination in sealed vessels or vehicles without inspection at the port of first arrival, subject to the conditions set forth in sections 463 and 464, Tariff Act of 1930,[8] and §§ 18.29–18.31 of this chapter.

§ 5.7 Supplies on international trains.

(a) Articles subject to internal-revenue tax and other merchandise acquired

[5] "All merchandise and baggage imported or brought in from any contiguous country, except as otherwise provided by law or by regulations of the Secretary of the Treasury, shall be unladen in the presence of and be inspected by a customs officer at the first port of entry at which the same shall arrive; and such officer may require the owner, or his agent, or other person having charge or possession of any trunk, traveling bag, sack, valise, or other container or of any closed vehicle, to open the same for inspection, or to furnish a key or other means for opening the same." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 461; 19 U. S. C. 1461)

[6] "If such owner, agent, or other person shall fail to comply with his demand, the officer shall retain such trunk, traveling bag, sack, valise, or other container or closed vehicle, and open the same, and, as soon thereafter as may be practicable, examine the contents, and if any article subject to duty or any article the importation of which is prohibited is found therein, the whole contents and the container or vehicle shall be subject to forfeiture." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 462; 19 U.S.C. 1462)

[7] For procedure relative to the examination of uninspected baggage, form of declaration, exemption, and forwarding baggage in bond, see §§ 10.16–10.30 of this chapter.

[8] "To avoid unnecessary inspection of merchandise imported from a contiguous country at the first port of arrival, the master of the vessel or the person in charge of the vehicle in which such merchandise is imported may apply to the customs officer of the United States stationed in the place from which such merchandise is shipped, and such officer may seal such vessel or vehicle. Any vessel or vehicle so sealed may proceed with such merchandise to the port of destination under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 463; 19 U. S. C. 1463)

"If the master of such vessel or the person in charge of any such vehicle fails to proceed with reasonable promptness to the port of destination and to deliver such vessel or vehicle to the proper officers of the customs, or fails to proceed in accordance with such regulations of the Secretary of the Treasury, or unlades such merchandise or any part thereof at other than such port of destination, or disposes of any such merchandise by sale or otherwise, he shall be guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned for not more than five years, or both; and any such vessel or vehicle, with its contents, shall be subject to forfeiture." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 464; 19 U. S. C. 1464)

in a foreign country constituting supplies of dining, observation, or buffet cars attached to international trains passing and repassing the boundary line, for which the train crew elects not to file an inventory, as provided for in paragraph (b) of this section, shall be subject to duty and tax unless locked or sealed in a separate compartment or locker upon arrival at the frontier port of the United States and the lock or seal remains unbroken until the final departure of the train from the United States at the frontier port.

(b) Supplies acquired abroad and not required to have internal-revenue stamps affixed thereto before release for consumption may be used in the United States if covered by an inventory furnished in duplicate to the proper customs officer at the time of arrival in the United States.[9] The correctness of the inventory shall be sworn to by the person in charge of the railroad car. The inventory shall consist of an itemized list showing in parallel columns the kind and quantity of each class of supplies on hand in the car upon its arrival in the United States and the quantity used in the United States.

(c) The customs officer shall certify both copies of the inventory, retain the original, and return the other copy to the person in charge of the car.

(d) Upon arrival of the railroad car at the port of exit on its return to the foreign country, the copy of the inventory which was returned by the customs officer at the port of arrival to the person in charge of the car shall be submitted to the proper customs officer after being completed by filling in the column showing the quantity of each item used in the United States and resworn to by the person in charge of the car.

[9] "* * * The conductor or person in charge of any railway car arriving from a contiguous country shall file with the manifest of such car a detailed list of all supplies or other merchandise purchased in such foreign country for use in the United States. If any such supplies, merchandise, repairs, or equipment shall not be reported, the master, conductor, or other person having charge of such vessel or vehicle shall be liable to a fine of not less than $100 and not more than $500, or to imprisonment for not more than two years, or both." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 465; 19 U. S. C. 1465)

(e) Entries must be filed and duties paid at the port of exit on the quantities of inventoried supplies consumed in the United States.

(f) Supplies purchased in the United States shall be passed free of duty without inventory or entry.

(Sec. 465, 46 Stat. 718; 19 U. S. C. 1465)

§ 5.8 Merchandise in transit between ports in the United States through contiguous foreign territory; procedure at port of exit or lading on vessel.

(a) In accordance with the provisions of section 554, Tariff Act of 1930,[10] merchandise may be transported from one port to another in the United States through Canada or Mexico without being subject to treatment as an importation when returned to the United States, upon compliance with the regulations in this section and in §§ 5.9 and 5.10.

(b) The merchandise shall be transported in sealed conveyances or compartments unless (1) it is in less-than-load or compartment lots, in which case the packages may be forwarded without being corded and sealed, or (2) it consists of live animals to be transported in accordance with paragraph (c) of this section, or (3) its treatment in the same manner as less-than-load or compartment lots is authorized by the Bureau. The merchandise shall be covered by manifests conforming to such requirements as to color, size, form, and content as the Commissioner of Customs may specify for particular types of transactions. If the Commissioner has not promulgated applicable specifications, the manifest forms shall be printed on yellow paper, approximately 5¾ by 6½ inches in size, and shall correspond to the following example in which geographical designations have been inserted solely for the purpose of illustration:

[10] "With the consent of the proper authorities, imported merchandise, in bond or duty-paid, and products and manufactures of the United States may be transported from one port to another in the United States through contiguous countries, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe, unless such transportation is in violation of section 4347 of the Revised Statutes, as amended, section 27 of the Merchant Marine Act, 1920, or section 588 of this Act." Inspector

It will be noted that the name of the port of exit is followed by the name of the foreign port of entry and that the names of the ports of reentry are followed by the names of the foreign ports of exit. The names of the foreign ports may be omitted. In the case of a conveyance other than a railroad car, the conveyance shall be identified in a suitable manner, as by the name and rig of a vessel, in the place provided for car number and initials, and the inspector's certificate shall be modified appropriately.

(c) Live animals which can be identified by specific description in the manifest may be transported in the care of an attendant or customs inspector at the expense of the parties in interest in conveyances or compartments not secured with customs seals.

(d) The information contained in the in-transit manifest shall correspond with the information contained in the waybill accompanying the conveyance.

(e) Each manifest shall be presented by the carrier to the customs officer at the port of exit of the conveyance or at the port of lading of the vessel, as the case may be. When the merchandise is to be transshipped under customs supervision in foreign territory, an additional copy of the manifest shall be so presented by the carrier for each place of transshipment. In lieu of any improvised record of the transaction, an extra copy of the manifest may be required in any case provided it serves an essential administrative purpose. In the case of mixed ladings, that is ladings made up of several shipments, the description shall be "miscellaneous shipments." When such ladings are to be transshipped in foreign territory and the transshipment may involve the breaking up or consolidation of such mixed ladings, the manifest for the conveyance shall be on a long form, preferably 8 by 10½ inches, instead of on the short form prescribed in paragraph (b) of this section, and as to each shipment in the conveyance shall show, in addition to the information required on the short form, the name of the consignee, the final destination, the marks and numbers of the packages, and the number of packages.

(f) Before the departure from the United States of an in-transit railroad train, the carrier concerned shall furnish to the customs inspector at the port of exit a train sheet, otherwise known as a consist, bridge sheet, or trip sheet, listing each car of the train and specifically indicating the in-transit cars.

(g) It shall be the duty of the carrier to affix blue in-transit seals to all openings of conveyances and compartments containing in-transit merchandise, except that on the Canadian border yellow in-transit seals shall be affixed to sealable carload or truckload shipments of in-transit merchandise, whether or not the cars or trucks are already sealed with United States customs red in-bond seals, and except that in all other instances conveyances or compartments already secured by United States customs red in-bond seals may go forward without having blue or yellow in-transit seals affixed thereto and without in-transit manifests. The collector may relieve the carrier of the responsibility of affixing in-transit seals by notifying it in writing that customs inspectors will assume it. The conveyance shall not proceed until after the customs inspector has finished the inspection.

(h) The original manifest shall accompany the merchandise and the additional copies required when transshipment is involved shall be mailed by the customs officer to the customs officers stationed at the places of transshipment. When by reason of the carrier's schedule or other condition it is probable that the additional copy of the manifest if sent by mail will not reach the customs officer at the place of transshipment prior to the arrival of the merchandise, it may be given to the conductor, master, aircraft commander, or driver, as the case may be, in a sealed envelope for delivery to such customs officer.

§ 5.9 Transshipment; storage; feeding and watering livestock in Canada.

(a) Merchandise in transit may be transshipped in foreign territory from one conveyance to another under the supervision of a customs officer, who shall also supervise the sealing of the conveyances or compartments to which the merchandise is transshipped, note his action on both the additional copy of the manifest received by him in accordance with § 5.8(h) and on the conductor's, master's, aircraft commander's, or driver's copy, and return the latter to the conductor, master, aircraft commander, or driver to accompany the merchandise.

(b) When the transshipment involves the breaking up of the in-transit contents of a conveyance or compartment, and the circumstances are such as to require separate manifests for articles previously covered by a single manifest, the customs officer supervising the transshipment shall take up the carrier's copy of the manifest and require the carrier to prepare a new manifest, in duplicate, for each conveyance to which the merchandise is transshipped. If there is to be a further transshipment, an additional copy of each new manifest shall be presented for mailing by the customs officer to the customs officer at the point of further transshipment, or be forwarded in a sealed envelope in care of the conductor, master, aircraft commander, or driver as provided for in § 5.8(h). After supervising the transshipment and sealing of the conveyances or compartments to which the merchandise is transshipped, the customs officer shall sign or initial the new manifests and return the originals of such new manifests to the carrier to accompany the merchandise. If the transshipping results in mixed ladings, except when the lading is into a vessel, the long form of manifest, referred to in § 5.8 (e), shall be used.

(c) Live animals in sealed conveyances or compartments may be fed and watered in Canada under the supervision of United States or Canadian customs officers.

(d) When merchandise under in-transit manifests is to be stored in foreign territory awaiting transshipment, the customs officer at the place of transshipment shall check the merchandise into a storehouse, where it shall remain under customs locks or seals until transshipment is effected under custom supervision.

§ 5.10 Diversion or delay in foreign territory; procedure and treatment at port of reentry or discharge from vessel.

(a) In cases where in-transit cars are diverted, cut out of a train for any reason, or unusually delayed, the railroad superintendent at the point of such diversion, cut-out, or delay shall immediately notify the proper customs officer at the port of reentry by telegraph.

(b) When customs entry is made in Canada or Mexico for merchandise which left the United States is in an in-transit status, the carrier shall send the in-transit seals and manifests to the ports where the manifests were first filed with customs, with an endorsement by the carriers' agent on each manifest showing that the merchandise was so entered.

(c) On arrival of an in-transit shipment at the first port in the United States after transportation through foreign territory, the carrier shall present to the customs officer for each loaded conveyance a manifest or manifests, signed or initialed by a customs officer at the port of exit, or the port of lading in the case of a vessel, or the place of transshipment when the merchandise has been transshipped in foreign territory; and in the case of a railroad train the conductor shall also present a train sheet showing the initials, car numbers, and port of exit of each car in the train. In the case of mixed ladings under § 5.8 (e), the waybills shall be available at the port of return or discharge for use by customs officers for necessary checking purposes.

(d) Upon the arrival at a port of entry of a vessel carrying in-transit merchandise, the master's copies of the in-transit or in-bond manifests covering the merchandise given final customs release at that port shall be retained by customs at that port and the manifests, if any, covering merchandise to be discharged at subsequent ports of arrival shall be returned to the master of the vessel for surrender to customs at the next port, and so on as the vessel proceeds from port to port.

(e) In-bond seals shall be broken only by a customs officer or by a person acting under the direction of a customs officer. In-transit seals may be broken by any carrier's employee, or by the consignee at any time or place after the merchandise under such seals has been released by customs upon return to the United States.

(f) Merchandise which shall have left the United States under in-transit seals but which shall have been transshipped in foreign territory without United States customs supervision shall, upon return to the United States, be treated in the same manner as other merchandise arriving from Canada or Mexico, as the case may be. Similar treatment shall be accorded the merchandise if the inspector finds any of the seals applied to the conveyance or compartment at the port of exit are unlocked or missing. If any cases of substitution of merchandise are found, the merchandise shall be detained and the facts reported to the Bureau.

(g) No in-transit merchandise arriving at ports in the United States shall be released until proper manifests are received, except that it may be treated as originating in Canada or Mexico, as the case may be.

(h) No inward foreign manifests are required for merchandise returned to the United States as an in-transit movement under the regulations in this part.

(Sec. 554, 46 Stat. 743; 19 U. S. C. 1554)

§ 5.11 Merchandise in transit through the United States between ports of Canada or Mexico; procedure.

(a) Subject to the applicable provisions of paragraphs (b) and (c), whenever merchandise (including baggage) arrives at a frontier port from Mexico or Canada in transit through the United States to the same country from which it arrived, the same procedure shall be followed as that prescribed for merchandise in transit through the United States to other foreign countries (§§ 18.14 and 18.20–18.24 of this chapter), except that, only four copies of customs Form 7512 or 7520 shall be required, and except that, when the route is such that the train and cars will remain intact while proceeding through the United States, a consolidated train manifest containing the same information as is required on customs Form 7512 or 7520 may be used. One copy of customs Form 7512 or 7520 shall be delivered to the conductor, master, or person in charge to accompany the conveyance and be delivered to the collector at destination for his record.

(b) When sealable carload or truckload shipments of merchandise arrive at Canadian frontier ports for in-transit movement through the United States in bond and return to Canada, bright green intransit seals will be placed on the cars or trucks and the sealing thereof verified by Canadian customs officers before the cars or trucks depart from Canada. No other in-transit seals shall be required to be placed on such cars or trucks before their movement in bond through the United States provided the seals placed on the cars or trucks in Canada are found to be locked and properly attached. In-transit manifest forms of the kind referred to in § 5.8 (b) may be used in lieu of customs Form 7512 or 7520, as the case may be, for such sealed carload shipments of in-transit merchandise. In-transit manifest forms so used in lieu of customs Form 7512 or 7520 shall be serially numbered in a separate series of numbers.

(c) A commercial traveler arriving at a Canadian frontier port with his samples which are to be transported in his own automobile through the United States to another port in Canada without being displayed in the United States, may present the samples, if the outer containers can be effectively sealed, to a Canadian customs officer at the port of departure from Canada for cording and sealing with uncolored automatic metal in-transit seals. As a condition for such cording and sealing, the traveler will be required to furnish to the Canadian customs officer a list, in duplicate, of all the articles in the containers with the approximate values of the articles shown. Such list will bear the traveler's name and address. Upon the arrival of the commercial traveler in the United States with his samples effectively corded and sealed as set forth above, and upon presentation to the United States customs officer of the original list of samples properly authenticated by the Canadian customs officer, the samples may be transported through the United States without disturbing the cords and seals and without further sealing of the samples in the United States. Bonded common carrier facilities are not considered to be reasonably available to a commercial traveler under the above described circumstances and, therefore, he may be permitted to transport his samples in his own automobile, subject to the conditions of § 18.20 (b) of this chapter. The traveler shall be required to execute and file customs Form 7520, in triplicate, at the port of his arrival in the United States as an in-transit manifest covering the movement to the port of exit from the United States of any portion of his samples which is not released from customs custody. In preparing customs Form 7520 for commercial travelers' samples, descriptions, quantities, and values may be shown thereon by merely noting "Commercial Samples", the number of the corded and sealed containers, and the approximate total value of the samples.

(d) When all the merchandise arriving on one vehicle is to move in transit through the United States in the importing vehicle in a continuing movement, the copy of customs Form 7512 to be retained at the port of first arrival may be prepared to permit its use as a combined inward foreign and in-bond manifest. When customs Form 7512 is to be used in this manner, the foreign port of lading shall be shown and a certificate in the following form shall be executed by the person in charge of the vehicle:

I, the undersigned, certify that this transportation entry and manifest contains, to the best of my knowledge and belief, a just and true account of all the goods, wares, and merchandise, including packages of every kind and nature whatsoever, which constituted the lading of the vehicle named herein when it first arrived within the limits of the United States, and that I have been, since the arrival of the said vehicle within the United States, the person in charge of said vehicle and that no packages whatsoever, nor any goods, wares, or merchandise, have been in any way removed from said vehicle since its arrival within the United States.

And I further certify that, if I shall hereafter discover or know of any error, discrepancy, or omission in this entry and manifest, I will immediately and without delay make due report thereof to the collector of the district to whom this report is now delivered.

§ 5.12 Locomotives; railroad equipment; when entry required.[10a]

(a) Foreign locomotives or other foreign railroad equipment in use on a continuous route crossing the boundary into the United States shall be admitted without entry or the payment of duty to proceed to and return from the end of the run; that is, in the case of locomotives, the last place to which the locomotive takes the inbound train by a continuous haul, and, in the case of other equipment, the place of complete unloading. Unless formally entered and cleared through customs in the United States, such locomotives or other equipment shall not be used on the inward trip otherwise than in connection with the continuous run, which includes switching of cars of a train that it has hauled into the United States. On the return trip, the locomotives may be used only in connection with through trains crossing the boundary, including the switching to make up such trains, but the other equipment may be used in such trains or for such local traffic as is reasonably incidental to its economical and prompt return to the country from which it entered the United States. Empty foreign railroad cars shall enter the United States without formal entry to be loaded only if the passengers or goods are to be transported directly to or through the country from which the cars entered the United States. Customs officers shall seize any locomotive or other railroad equipment used in violation of this regulation as being imported contrary to law.

(b) Domestic locomotives or other domestic railroad equipment,[11] upon which repairs have been made in a foreign country shall be subject, upon reentry into the United States, to a duty upon the value of the repairs at the rate at which the locomotive or other equipment would be dutiable if imported, but no such duty shall be assessed by reason of repairs required to restore any such article to the condition in which it last left the United States. A report of the first arrival in the United States of such equipment after it has been repaired in a foreign country shall be made promptly, in writing, to the United States Customs at the port of entry, such report to state the time and place of arrival.

§ 5.13 Stolen automobiles, trailers, and airplanes returned to United States; entry not required.

Collectors of customs shall admit from Mexico, under the provisions of Executive Order 7965, dated August 29, 1938, 3 CFR, 1943 Cum. Supp., without entry and without the payment of duty, alleged stolen or embezzled motor vehicles, trailers, airplanes, or component parts of any of them, if accompanied by a letter from the United States Embassy in Mexico City stating that such Embassy is satisfied from information furnished it that the property, which must be adequately described in the letter for identification purposes, is stolen property being returned to the United States under the provisions of the convention between the United States and Mexico concluded October 6, 1936.

§ 5.14 Grain from Canada to be ground and returned; exemption from duty.

(a) When grain is brought into the United States by Canadian farmers to be ground and returned under the provisions of section 193, Title 19, United States Code,[12] and the mill at which such grain is to be ground is not located at a port of entry, a deposit of the duties on such grain shall be taken, such deposit to be refunded upon receipt of certificate by the owner of the mill that the said grain has been received at the mill and of evidence satisfactory to the collector that the product of the grinding thereof, less any toll, has been returned to Canada.

(b) A statement from the owners of the mill, showing that they are citizens of the United States, shall be filed with the collector. An account shall be kept by the miller in a proper register to be open to inspection by any customs officer, showing the name of the farmer bringing any such grain to the mill, the nature of the grain, the dates of its receipt by him and of its delivery, the quantity received at the mill, the quantity of ground products delivered to the farmer, and the quantity of grain taken as tolls for grinding. The miller shall produce a statement of such quantities at the end of each month to the collector, and shall then enter the grain received as tolls and pay the duties due thereon.

(c) Duties shall be paid on any grain, or manufactures thereof, not removed from the mill for transportation to Canada within 1 month from the date of its receipt by the miller. Such grain may be mixed, provided the entire product of the grinding be returned to Canada with the exception of the tolls and other portions on which duty has been paid.

§ 5.15 Buildings on boundary; merchandise deposited therein.

When any merchandise on which the duty has not been paid or which was imported contrary to law is found in any building upon or within 10 feet of the boundary line between the United States and any foreign country, such merchandise shall be seized and the building or that portion thereof which is within the United States shall be taken down or removed.[13]

(Sec. 595, 46 Stat. 752; 19 U.S.C. 1595)

[10a] "(a) Vehicles and other instruments of international traffic, of any class specified by the Secretary of the Treasury, shall be granted the customary exceptions from the application of the customs laws to such extent and subject to such terms and conditions as may be prescribed in regulations or instructions of the Secretary of the Treasury." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 322(a), as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1322(a))

[11] For the purpose of this section, locomotives or other railroad equipment manufactured in, or regularly imported into, the United States, and not subsequently cleared through foreign customs into another country, nor used in foreign local traffic otherwise than as an incident of the return of the equipment to the United States, shall be considered "domestic." Other railroad equipment shall be considered "foreign."

[13] "If any collector of customs or other officer or person authorized to make searches and seizures shall have cause to suspect the presence in any dwelling house, store, or other building or place of any merchandise upon which the duties have not been paid, or which has been otherwise brought into the United States contrary to law, he may make application, under oath, to any justice of the peace, to any municipal, county, State, or Federal judge, or to any United States commissioner, and shall thereupon be entitled to a warrant to enter such dwelling house in the daytime only, or such store or other place at night or by day, and to search for and seize such merchandise: Provided, That if any such house, store, or other building, or place in which such merchandise shall be found, is upon or within 10 feet of the boundary line between the United States and a foreign country, such portion thereof as is within the United States may forthwith be taken down or removed." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 595 (a); 19 U.S.C. 1595 (a))

"Whoever receives or deposits any merchandise in any building upon the boundary line between the United States and any foreign country, or carries any merchandise through the same, in violation of law, shall be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than two years, or both." § 6.1 Scope and definitions.

(a) The regulations in this part shall not be applicable in the islands of Guam, Midway, American Samoa, Wake, Kingman Reef, and Johnston Island, the Virgin Islands and other insular possessions not specified herein.

(b) The term "United States" when used in a geographical sense means the territory comprising the several States, Territories, possessions, and the District of Columbia, including the territorial waters thereof and the overlying air space, but shall not include the Canal Zone.

(c) The term "area" shall mean any one of the following parts of the United States:

(1) The mainland.
(2) Alaska.
(3) Hawaii.
(4) Puerto Rico.

(d) The term "aircraft" means civil aircraft, that is, any aircraft not used exclusively in the governmental service of the United States or a foreign country, and includes any government-owned aircraft engaged in carrying persons or property for commercial purposes.

(e) The term "aircraft commander" means the person serving on the aircraft having charge or command of its operation and navigation.

(f) The term "scheduled airline" means any individual, partnership, corporation, or association engaged in air transportation upon regular schedules to, over, or away from the United States, or from area to area, and holding a Foreign Air Carrier Permit or a Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity issued by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

(g) The term "authorized person" (authorized agent of an owner or operator) means any person who by written authority, satisfactory to the collector of customs, has been designated to act for and in the place of an owner or operator of a scheduled airline or who by power of attorney has been authorized to act for and in the place of an owner or operator of a nonscheduled airline.

(h) The term "international airport" means any airport designated by the Secretary of the Treasury or the Commissioner of Customs as a port of entry for aircraft arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof and for the merchandise carried on such aircraft, by the Attorney General as a port of entry for aliens arriving on such aircraft, and by the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare as a place for quarantine inspection.

§ 6.2 Landing requirements.

(a) Place of landing. Every aircraft coming into any area from any place outside thereof shall land in such area unless exempted from this requirement by the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Agency, Washington 25, D.C. The first landing shall be at an international airport unless permission to land elsewhere shall first be granted by the Bureau of Customs, in cases of aircraft operated by scheduled airlines, and in all other cases by the collector or other customs officer in charge at the port of entry or customs station nearest the intended place of first landing. When the Bureau of Customs grants permission to land elsewhere than at an international airport, the Bureau shall immediately notify the heads of the Public Health Service, the Immigration and Naturalization Service, and of any other agency likely to be concerned with the landing, and, when a collector or other customs officer grants such permission, he shall immediately notify the principal local officer of each such agency. In cases where such permission is given, the owner, operator, or person in charge of the aircraft shall pay the additional expenses, if any, incurred in inspecting the aircraft, passengers, employees, and merchandise, including baggage, carried therein. When such permission is granted to a scheduled airline to land aircraft operating on a schedule, no inspection charge shall be made except for overtime service performed by customs officers.

(b) Advance notice of arrival. (1) Before an aircraft comes into any area from any place outside the United States, for security reasons, and in order to avoid the penalties provided for in § 6.11, a timely notice of intended flight must be furnished, either by or at the request of the commander of the aircraft, to the collector or other customs officer in charge at or nearest the intended place of first landing in such area. That officer shall notify the officers in charge of the other Government services. When, by reason such as departure from a remote place, dependable facilities for giving notice are not available, a landing shall be made at a place where the necessary facilities do exist before coming into any area from any place outside the United States. However, radio equipment of the plane may be used if this will result in the giving of adequate and timely notice. Advance notice shall not be required in the case of aircraft of a scheduled airline arriving in accordance with a regular schedule filed with the collector of customs for the district in which the place of first landing is situated. If, upon landing in any area, the aircraft commander finds that the Government officers have not arrived, the aircraft commander must hold the aircraft and any merchandise, including baggage, thereon intact, and keep the passengers and crew members in a segregated place until the inspection officers are available.

(2) Each notice of an intended flight shall specify the type of aircraft, the registration marks thereon, the name of the aircraft commander, the place of last departure, the international airport or other place at which landing has been authorized, number of alien passengers, number of citizen passengers, and the estimated time of arrival; and shall be sent so as to be received in sufficient time to enable the officers designated to inspect the aircraft to reach the international airport or such other place of first landing prior to the arrival of the aircraft.

(c) Permission to discharge or depart. No aircraft arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or in an area from another area carrying residue foreign cargo (see § 6.9) shall depart from the place of landing, or discharge any passengers or merchandise, including baggage, without receiving permission from the customs officers in charge.

(d) Permit to proceed; foreign aircraft. (1) Aircraft are subject to customs entry when brought in for repairs or when otherwise treated as imported articles. Before an aircraft which is not treated as an imported article, which is registered in a foreign country, and which arrives in the United States carrying passengers for hire or merchandise is ferried (proceeds in ballast) from the airport of first arrival to one or more airports in the United States, its commander shall obtain from the collector of customs at the airport of first arrival a permit on customs Form 4449 allowing the aircraft to proceed from airport to airport in the United States, which shall be retained on board such aircraft while in the United States. At each airport visited, the customs officer there, or, if there is none, the airport manager, shall make an endorsement on the back of such permit showing the name of the airport, date and time of arrival, date and time of departure, and purpose of the visit. The permit shall be surrendered to the collector of customs at the port of final clearance for a foreign destination, who shall satisfy himself prior to the issuance of clearance that the aircraft received proper customs treatment while in this country. The permit shall then be returned to the collector of customs at the port of issue.

(2) A copy of the permit shall be retained by the collector at the port where issued. If within 60 days after the issuance of such permit the said collector does not receive a report of the outward clearance of the aircraft covered thereby, the matter shall be reported to the supervising customs agent for investigation.

(3) Civil aircraft registered in the United States and arriving from a foreign country with passengers carried for hire or merchandise, after proper customs treatment of all such passengers and merchandise, may be allowed to proceed upon their identity being established.

(e) Monthly and annual requests for overtime services and licenses to unlade and lade. A special license on customs Form 3851 running for any period up to 1 month and in multiples of months thereafter, but not to exceed 1 year nor longer than the period of the supporting bond, may be granted to a scheduled airline to unlade passengers or merchandise, including baggage, or to lade merchandise, including baggage, in the case of any or all of its planes at night or on a Sunday or holiday when customs supervision is required. The application for such a special license shall be on customs Form 3851 and shall be supplemented by a request on customs Form 3853 (modified) for overtime services of customs officers. Such request for overtime services must show the exact times when overtime services will be needed unless arrangements are made so that the proper customs officer will be notified during official hours in advance of the services requested as to the exact times that the services will be needed. The special license shall not be granted until the required bond on customs Form 3587, 7567, or 7569 shall have been filed.

(f) Monthly and annual permits to unlade and lade. The collector may also issue a permit running for any period up to 1 month and in multiples of months thereafter, but not to exceed 1 year, to unlade or lade during official hours any or all of the planes of a scheduled airline. Customs Form 3851 shall be used for such purpose.

(g) Emergency or forced landing. Should an emergency or forced landing be made by an aircraft coming into the United States from any place outside thereof, or into any area from any other area, or while traveling from airport to airport in the United States under a permit to proceed (see § 6.9 (b)), the aircraft commander shall not allow any merchandise, baggage, passengers or crew members not previously cleared by customs or other applicable Government agency to be removed or to depart from the landing place without permission of a customs officer, unless such removal or departure is necessary for purposes of safety, communication with customs authorities, or the preservation of life, health or property. As soon as practicable, the aircraft commander, or a member of the crew in charge, or the owner of the aircraft, shall communicate with the customs officer at the intended place of first landing or at the nearest international airport or other customs port of entry in that area and make a full report of the circumstances of the flight and of the emergency or forced landing. Mail carried as such may be removed from such aircraft upon making an emergency or forced landing, but if so removed shall be delivered at once to a responsible officer or employee of the Postal Service.

§ 6.3 Entry and clearance.

(a) Aircraft coming into any area from any place outside the United States shall be entered in such area if landing is made therein and if carrying passengers for hire or commercial cargo (see § 6.7). Aircraft proceeding from one area into another shall be entered in the latter area if landing is made therein and if carrying residue cargo. Aircraft not required to enter under this paragraph are subject to other customs requirements (see § 6.2).

(b) Entry shall be made by the aircraft commander, or by any other authorized agent of the owner or operator of the aircraft (hereinafter referred to as an authorized person),[1] at the international airport at which the first landing is made in the area. If, pursuant to § 6.2 (a), the first landing occurs at a place not an international airport, entry shall be made at the nearest international airport or customs port of entry, unless some other place is designated for that purpose.

(c) Aircraft departing for any area for foreign territory, or to take aboard or discharge persons or merchandise

[1] Section 431, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U. S. C. 1431): "(b) Whenever a manifest of articles or persons on board an aircraft is required for customs purposes to be signed, or produced or delivered to a customs officer, the manifest may be signed, produced, or delivered by the pilot or person in charge of the aircraft, or by any other authorized agent of the owner or operator of the aircraft, subject to such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe. If any irregularity of omission or commission occurs in any way in respect of any such manifest, the owner or operator of the aircraft shall be liable for any fine or penalty prescribed by law in respect of such irregularity."

anywhere outside the United States, or departing from any area for another area carrying merchandise destined to or through Puerto Rico or residue cargo shall be cleared (see § 6.8) in the area from which departing. Clearance is not required of aircraft not carrying passengers for hire or merchandise, but such aircraft are subject to certain requirements under the export and import licensing regulations of the Department of State relating to international traffic in arms.[2]

(d) The clearance shall be obtained by the aircraft commander or an authorized person at the customs port of entry (whether or not an international airport) at or near the place of last take-off from the area, unless some other place is designated for that purpose by the collector of customs.

(e) This section shall not apply to the entry of aircraft of scheduled airlines complying with the terms of § 6.4 nor to the clearance of such aircraft complying with the terms of § 6.5, nor to the clearance of any aircraft holding a permit issued by the Secretary of Commerce authorizing departure without clearance.

§ 6.4 Entry of aircraft of scheduled airlines.

(a) Aircraft operated by scheduled airlines coming into any area from any place outside the United States shall be entered in the area of first landing.

(b) Aircraft operated by scheduled airlines coming from one area into another area shall be entered therein if carrying residue cargo (§ 6.9).

(c) Entry required by this section in an area shall be made at the place of landing provided for under § 6.2.

§ 6.5 Clearance of aircraft of scheduled airlines.

(a) Aircraft operated by scheduled airlines departing for any place outside the United States may clear from the area of departure, but clearance shall be mandatory only during any period covered by a proclamation of the President that a state of war exists between foreign nations, or the aircraft is—

(1) Beginning a flight in that area; or

(2) Carrying from that area merchandise which must be listed in its general clearance declaration (§ 6.8).

(b) Aircraft operated by scheduled airlines departing from any area for another area shall clear in the area from which departing if carrying merchandise destined to or through Puerto Rico or residue foreign cargo.

(c) Clearance required by this section may be obtained by the aircraft commander or an authorized person at the customs port of entry (whether or not an international airport) at or nearest each place at which merchandise or passengers, or both, are taken aboard for discharge beyond the area. In such case the clearance shall be limited to the passengers and merchandise taken aboard at such place. Otherwise the clearance shall be obtained at the customs port of entry (whether or not an international airport) at or nearest the place of last take-off in the area unless some other place for clearance is designated by the collector of customs.

(a) The forms described in §§ 6.7 and 6.8 shall be the primary documents required for entry and clearance of aircraft. The forms shall be approximately but not to exceed 8½" wide and 14" long and shall be on white bond paper that will not discolor or become brittle within 20 years. If these forms are dittoed or if the entries on them are to be dittoed, the paper must be substance 40, 17" x 22", 1,000-sheet basis; if printed or typewritten, at least 25 percent rag, substance 26, 17" x 22", 1,000-sheet basis. These forms and the entries thereon must be dittoed, typewritten, or printed in the English language, with ink or dye that will not fade or "feather" within 20 years. The forms to be used for the entry and clearance of the aircraft, passengers, crew members, and merchandise carried thereon shall be forms approved by the Commissioner of Customs.

(b) The forms described in §§ 6.7 and 6.8 may be obtained from collectors of customs upon payment by the owner or operator of the aircraft. These forms may be printed or dittoed by private parties, provided the forms so printed or dittoed conform to the official forms currently in use, with respect to size, wording arrangement, style and size of type, and paper specifications. A small quantity of each of the forms shall be set aside by collectors of customs for free distribution and official use.

§ 6.7 Documents for entry.

(a) At the time any aircraft arriving from outside the United States lands in any area in which entry is required by § 6.3 or 6.4, the aircraft commander or an authorized person shall deliver a general declaration on customs Form 7507 in accordance with this section but the total number of crew members shall be shown on the general declaration. If an aircraft arrives in an area from another area, the documents specified in § 6.9 (b) shall be delivered.

(b) A general declaration shall contain or have attached thereto the following information:

(1) A crew manifest. This manifest is not required if the aircraft is arriving directly on a trip which originated in Canada but the total number of crew members shall be shown on the general declaration. A crew purchase list shall not be required if crew declarations on customs Form 5123, when required by paragraph (g) of this section, are securely attached to the general declaration and the following statement is included on the general declaration:

Crew purchases as per crew declarations attached.

Articles entered by crew members not required to file crew declarations shall be shown opposite the name of the crew member on the general declaration or on a separate list attached thereto.

(2) The total number of passengers shall be shown on the face of the general declaration.

(NOTE: No passenger manifest is required for customs purposes. For Immigration and Naturalization Service passenger manifest requirements, see 8 CFR Part 231.)

(3) A cargo manifest. The cargo manifest on the general declaration, properly executed and having airway bills or consignment notes attached, will be acceptable if it bears a notation such as "Express as per airway bills attached" and shows the airway bill or consignment note numbers, if any. If the airway bills or consignment notes are not attached to the general declaration or to the separate form of cargo manifest, the full information indicated in the cargo manifest on the general declaration shall be furnished. Customs Form 5119 may be used in lieu of the cargo manifest if the baggage or other merchandise consists of a single shipment and does not exceed $250 in value. Customs Form 7523 also may be used in lieu of other forms of cargo manifests for merchandise in a single shipment which is entered on that form. Except as to any arms, ammunition, or implements of war on board which require a license issued by the Secretary of State, no cargo manifest or store list shall be required for merchandise, including baggage, arriving from a foreign country and departing for the same or another foreign country on the same through flight, although any such document on board may be inspected if necessary. (For rule applicable to arrival in an area from another area, see § 6.8 (e).) Aircraft of scheduled airlines shall not be required to file a separate store list for domestic supplies and equipment or for fuel, if the following statement is included on the general declaration or attached cargo manifest:

Domestic supplies and equipment and fuel for immediate flight only, except as noted.

Alcoholic beverages, tobacco or tobacco products, and bonded or foreign merchandise arriving as stores, or any equipment consisting of arms, ammunition, or implements of war on board which requires a license issued by the Secretary of State, shall be shown on the general declaration, or attached cargo manifest, or on a separate list attached thereto.

(4) Unaccompanied baggage arriving in the United States under a check number from any foreign country by air shall be shown on the air cargo manifest under the following headings:

Check No.	Description of package	Where from	Destination

On the right of the foregoing information, two blank columns, one headed "Name of examining officer" and on the right thereof another column headed "Disposition" shall be provided on the air cargo manifest for use of customs officers. Unaccompanied unchecked baggage arriving as air express or air freight shall be manifested as other air express or freight.

[2] Information regarding requirements relating to the licensing for export and import of articles defined as arms, ammunition, and implements of war may be obtained at any customhouse.

(5) Such other information and statements as are indicated on the general declaration form.

(c) One copy of the general declaration and one copy of each attached manifest shall be delivered by the aircraft commander or an authorized person immediately to the customs officer in charge at the airport or other place of arrival.

(d) The provisions of section 466, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U. S. C. 257, 258), are applicable to any aircraft of United States registry engaged in trade and arriving in the United States, as defined in section 401 (k), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U. S. C. 1401 (k)), whether from a contiguous or noncontiguous foreign country, and a notation as to any equipment installed on, or repairs made to, any such aircraft in a foreign country shall be made in the aircraft journey log book, which shall set forth a general description of the equipment or repairs and a statement of any necessity therefor. The aircraft commander or an authorized person, on the first subsequent arrival of the aircraft in the United States, shall exhibit the journey log book to the customs officer at the place of arrival. A declaration on customs Form 3415, to the effect that no equipment was purchased, or repairs made, in a foreign country, shall not be required in any case for any such aircraft. Except as specified hereafter in this paragraph, any such equipment purchased or repairs made shall be subject to entry and deposit of duty as prescribed by § 4.14 of this chapter, but the following may be added to the entry in lieu of the filing of customs Form 3415:

This entry contains a complete account of the equipment purchased for and the repairs made to the within-mentioned aircraft during the flight covered hereby, together with the cost of such equipment and the expenses of such repairs (including the cost of installation of equipment and the cost of repair parts and material used). Application is hereby made for the ascertainment of the amount of duty due under section 466, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

(e) The filing of customs Form 3415 and entry and deposit of duty for equipment purchased for or repairs made to an aircraft belonging to a scheduled airline or to an air carrier generally authorized to operate contract passenger or cargo flights and operating between the United States and foreign territory shall not be required if (1) such equipment or repairs were made necessary by reason of stress of weather or other casualty occurring since the aircraft last left the United States and were required to secure the safety and airworthiness of the aircraft in accordance with Federal Aviation Agency regulations to enable the aircraft to continue its flight; or such equipment installed and materials used in making the repairs were of the growth, produce, or manufacture of the United States and the work incident to such installation or repairs was performed by the regular crew of the aircraft or by residents of the United States, (2) the following statement is included on the general declaration or attached cargo manifest:

Entry for equipment purchased or repairs made to this aircraft while in a foreign country not required under section 6.7 (e) of the Customs Regulations.

and (3) the collector is satisfied from an inspection of the journey log book and such further investigation as he may deem necessary that the facts with respect to the installation of the equipment and making of repairs were as set forth in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph.

(f) The provisions of section 446, Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U. S. C. 1446), relating to supplies and stores retained on board, shall be applicable to aircraft arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place.

(g) Crew baggage declarations required by § 10.22 (b) of this chapter shall be filed by the officers and members of the crew of aircraft arriving from contiguous or noncontiguous foreign territory. A crew member may be permitted to make an oral declaration and entry if all articles he has to declare, in addition to articles for which no entry is required in accordance with § 23.4 (c) of this chapter, may be admitted free of duty under section 321 (a) (2) (B) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended. Written declarations may be required in any case if necessary to effect prompt and orderly clearance of crew members and their effects or if deemed necessary to protect the revenue.

(h) The provisions of sections 440[a] and 584,[b] Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, relating respectively to post entry for correction of a manifest and penalties for falsity or lack of manifest, are applicable to aircraft arriving in the United States with merchandise or unaccompanied baggage. If the inward foreign manifest is incorrect, it shall be corrected promptly. Post entry to correct a manifest to include merchandise or unaccompanied baggage which is not included in, or does not agree with, the original manifest may be made on customs Form 3257 or on a separate copy of the cargo manifest form which has been marked or stamped "Post Entry" and signed by the aircraft commander or an authorized person. Correction of a manifest to delete merchandise and unaccompanied baggage which is shortshipped, and is not on board the aircraft at the time of arrival may be made by submission of a certificate of cargo shortshipped on customs Form 3249 or on a separate copy of a manifest form signed by the aircraft commander or an authorized person, which shall list the merchandise not found, together with reasons for the shortage, and shall include the following statement:

The following merchandise or unaccompanied baggage described has not been landed at any port in the United States and was not found for the reasons stated.

§ 6.8 Documents for clearance.

(a) At the time of the departure of any aircraft from any area from which clearance is required by § 6.3 or § 6.5, the aircraft commander or an authorized person shall deliver to the customs officer in charge shipper's export declarations on Commerce Form 7525–V for all cargo on the aircraft (also for the aircraft itself if it is being exported from the United States for foreign account), and a general declaration in accordance with this section. The foregoing documents may be filed pro forma if the aircraft is departing from the United States and prior to departure a proper bond is given, in which case the completed documents are to be delivered pursuant to the bond not later than the fourth day after departure: Provided, That, during any period covered by a proclamation of the President that a state of war exists between foreign nations, no aircraft shall be cleared for a foreign destination until the shipper's export declarations have been filed with the customs officer in charge.[3]

(b) The general declaration shall be on the same form as is required by § 6.7. Any cargo manifest delivered with the general declaration shall also be on the same forms as are required by § 6.7.

(c) When the aircraft is departing from the United States, the general declaration required by this section shall be prepared in duplicate, with a single copy of each cargo manifest. For each shipment to be exported under an entry or withdrawal for exportation or for transportation and exportation, the outward manifest or the airway bill or consignment note attached to the manifest and made a part thereof shall clearly show for such shipment the number, date, and class of such customs entry or withdrawal (i. e. T. & E., Wd. T. & E., I. E., Wd. Ex., or Wd. T., as applicable) and the name of the port where the entry or withdrawal was filed if other than the port where the merchandise is laden for exportation. One copy of the general declaration and each air cargo manifest shall be delivered by the aircraft commander or an authorized person to the customs officer in charge to be retained by him as a record of outward clearance.

(d) One copy of the general declaration for departure from the United States shall constitute a clearance certificate when endorsed by the customs officer in charge to show that clearance is granted.

(e) One extra copy of the general declaration and one copy of the air cargo manifest shall be prepared if the aircraft is carrying merchandise other than residue cargo between the mainland and Puerto Rico. Such declaration and manifest shall be delivered to the customs officer in the area from which the aircraft is departing and shall be retained by him. If the aircraft is carrying residue cargo, a copy of the general declaration retained on board at the time of departure must have the endorsement of the customs officer in the area from which the aircraft is departing that permit to proceed is granted. (For residue cargo see § 6.9.)

§ 6.9 Residue cargo.[4]

(a) Aircraft arriving in the United States with cargo on board shown by the manifest to be destined to other ports in the same or in some other areas of the United States or outside the United States may be permitted to proceed with such cargo from port to port in the United States or to a foreign country for the unlading thereof under the procedure prescribed in paragraph (b) of this section, upon the giving of a bond on customs Form 7567 or 7569. When an aircraft arriving from outside the United States has on board no cargo and immediate clearance is requested, it may be permitted to proceed if a bond on customs Form 7567 or 7569 is on file covering such aircraft.

(b) When applying for clearance from the airport or place of first entry in the United States, the aircraft commander or an authorized person shall present to the collector (1) one copy[5] of a general declaration and one copy of each manifest[6] forming a part thereof (referred to hereinafter as abstract general declarations and manifests), covering all foreign residue cargo not yet cleared by customs or other interested governmental agency and manifested or destined for discharge at other domestic or foreign airports and of all crew members, and (2) one certified copy of the original complete general declaration which was filed upon the arrival of the aircraft at such airport or place, and of the manifests forming a part thereof[7] required on entry of aircraft from noncontiguous foreign territory (referred to hereinafter as the traveling general declaration and manifest). If clearance is in order a permit to proceed from one airport to another, which may be stamped, mimeographed, or printed on the abstract general declaration or on a separate sheet of paper attached thereto, shall be dated and signed by the appropriate customs officer at the airport of clearance. The documents presented by the aircraft commander or authorized person when applying for clearance shall be delivered to the aircraft commander, together with the permit to proceed, for deposit at the next international airport. The permit to proceed and a related declaration of the aircraft commander or an authorized person, to be executed on entry at a following airport, shall be substantially as follows:

PERMIT TO PROCEED FROM ONE AIRPORT TO ANOTHER

Airport of Departure _____
Date _____
Permission is hereby given aircraft _____ to proceed to _____.
(Next international airport)

The aircraft, which has arrived from and is destined to the places shown in the general declaration, is proceeding to such places of destination to discharge residue cargo, passengers, or crew members and their purchases, as listed in the attached manifests. Bond was given at the initial international airport for the cargo retained on board. Items of cargo manifested for delivery at this airport appear to have been landed.

Number of crew members not cleared by Public Health for: Quarantine _____; medical examination of aliens _____.

Number of passengers not cleared by Public Health for: Quarantine _____; medical examination of aliens _____.

Number of crew members not cleared by Customs _____.

Number of passengers not cleared by Customs _____.

Number of pieces of cargo not cleared _____.

DECLARATION ON ENTRY OF AIRCRAFT AT FOLLOWING AIRPORT

Airport of Arrival _____
Date _____

I, _____, commander or authorized representative of the aircraft identified in this document, declare and guarantee that there were not, when such aircraft departed from the airport of _____, nor have been since, nor now are, any more or other goods, wares, or merchandise on board than was stated in the manifests attached hereto.

Title _____

(c) Upon arrival of the aircraft at the next airport (except when such airport is the last domestic port of discharge), the aircraft commander or an authorized person shall make entry by presenting the abstract general declaration and manifest and the traveling general declaration and manifest, together with the permit to proceed, to the customs officer after the declaration at the bottom of the permit to proceed has been properly executed. The declarations and entries of crew members (customs Form 5123) who leave the aircraft at that airport with their purchases shall be detached from the traveling manifest and retained at that port. Upon departure from the second airport of arrival with foreign residue cargo, passengers, or crew members and their purchases not yet cleared by customs or other interested governmental agency, the procedure shall be the same as at the airport of first arrival, except that no new traveling general declaration and manifest shall be prepared, but the traveling general declaration and manifest as certified at the first international airport shall be delivered to the aircraft commander for deposit at the next airport of entry.

(d) The same procedure as above set forth shall be followed at any subsequent airport (except the last domestic port of discharge) to which the aircraft may proceed with foreign residue cargo, passengers, or crew members and their purchases not yet cleared by customs or other interested governmental agency. At the last domestic port of discharge no abstract manifest shall be required, and the traveling general declaration with one copy of each cargo manifest forming a part thereof shall be used for entering the aircraft, and shall be retained at such port.

(e) The provisions of this section shall be applicable to aircraft arriving in the United States from either contiguous or noncontiguous foreign territory. Except as specified in this section, the customs requirements applicable to residue vessel cargo (see § 4.85 of this chapter) shall apply to residue aircraft cargo.

§ 6.10 General provisions.

Except as otherwise provided for in this part, aircraft arriving from contiguous foreign territory and the persons and merchandise, including baggage, carried thereon shall be subject to the customs laws and regulations applicable to vehicles arriving from contiguous foreign territory; and aircraft and the passengers and merchandise, including baggage, carried thereon, arriving from any other place, shall be subject to the customs laws and regulations applicable to vessels so arriving, insofar as such laws and regulations are applicable to aircraft.

Any person violating any customs requirements prescribed in this part or any provision of the customs laws or regulations made applicable to aircraft

[a] "If there is any merchandise or baggage on board such vessel which is not included in or which does not agree with the manifest, the master of the vessel shall make a post entry thereof, and mail or deliver a copy to such employee as the Secretary of the Treasury shall designate and for failure so to do shall be liable to a penalty of $500." (Tariff Act of 1930. Sec. 440, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1440.)

[b] "• • • if any merchandise described in such manifest is not found on board the vessel or vehicle the master or other person in charge or the owner of such vessel or vehicle shall be subject to a penalty of $500: Provided, That if the collector shall be satisfied that the manifest • • • is incorrect by reason of clerical error or other mistake and that no part of the merchandise not found on board was unshipped or discharged except as specified in the report of the master, said penalties shall not be incurred. • • •." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 584, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1584.)

[4] "• • • Any vessel arriving from a foreign port or place having on board merchandise shown by the manifest to be destined to a port or ports in the United States other than the port of entry at which such vessel first arrived and made entry may proceed with such merchandise from port to port or from district to district for the unlading thereof." (19 U. S. C. 1442.)

"Merchandise arriving in any vessel for delivery in different districts or ports of entry shall be described in the manifest in the order of the districts or ports at or in which the same is to be unladen. Before any vessel arriving in the United States with any such merchandise shall depart from the port of first arrival, the master shall obtain from the collector a permit therefor with a certified copy of the vessel's manifest showing the quantities and particulars of the merchandise entered at such port of entry and of that remaining on board." (19 U. S. C. 1443.)

"Within twenty-four hours after the arrival of such vessel at another port of entry, the master shall report the arrival of his vessel to the collector at such port and shall produce the permit issued by the collector at the port of first arrival together with the certified copy of his manifest." (19 U. S. C. 1444.)

[5] Other copies of abstract manifests may be required by other interested governmental agencies.

[6] Includes air bills or consignment notes used as manifests.

[7] If crew purchases are not listed on abstract manifests but references are made thereon to the declarations and entries of crew members (customs Form 5123) on which the articles are listed, the declaration and entries of the crew members who have not yet left the aircraft with their purchases shall be attached to the traveling manifest.

by § 6.10 shall be subject to a civil penalty of $500, and any aircraft used in connection with any such violation shall be subject to seizure and forfeiture, as provided for in the customs laws. Such penalty and forfeiture may be remitted or mitigated in accordance with the provisions of §§ 23.23 to 23.25 of this chapter.

§ 6.12 International airports; regulations.

(a) International airports will be designated after due investigation to establish the fact that a sufficient need exists in any particular district or area to justify such designation and to determine the airport best suited for such purpose.

(b) A specific airport will be designated in each case, rather than a general area or district which may include several airports.

(c) The designation as an international airport may be withdrawn if it is found that the volume of business clearing through the port does not justify maintenance of inspection equipment and personnel, if proper facilities are not provided and maintained by the airport, if the rules and regulations of the Federal Government are not complied with, or if it is found that some other location would be more advantageous.

(d) International airports shall be municipal airports, unless particular conditions which prevail warrant a departure from this requirement.

(e) Each international airport shall provide without cost to the Government suitable office and other space for the exclusive use of Federal officials connected with the port. A suitable surfaced loading area shall be provided by each airport at a convenient location with respect to such office space. Such loading area shall be reserved for the use of aircraft entering or clearing through the airport.

(f) International airports shall be open to all aircraft for entry and clearance purposes and no charge shall be made for the use of said airports for such purposes. However, in any case where an international airport authorizes any such aircraft to use such airport for the taking on or discharging of passengers or cargo, or as a base for other commercial operations or for private operations, this paragraph shall not be interpreted to mean that charges may not be made for such commercial or private use of such airport.

(g) All aircraft entering or clearing through an international airport shall receive the required servicing by airport personnel promptly and in the order of arrival or preparation for departure without discrimination. The charges made for such servicing shall in no case exceed the schedule of charges prevailing at the airport in question. A copy of said schedule of charges shall be posted in a conspicuous place at the office space provided for the use of Federal officials connected with the port.

(h) International airports shall adopt and enforce observance of such requirements for the operation of airports, including airport rules, as may be prescribed or recommended by the Federal Aviation Agency.

(i) Requirements in addition to all the foregoing may be imposed at a particular airport as the needs of the district or area to be served by the airport may demand.

§ 6.15 Transportation in bond and merchandise in transit.

(a) The regulations in this section apply only to the transportation in bond of merchandise arriving in United States customs territory by aircraft and entered for immediate transportation without appraisement or for transportation and exportation by aircraft. Except as provided for herein, the regulations[9] applicable to transportation in bond and merchandise in transit shall apply to transportation of merchandise in bond by aircraft.

(b) Procedure at port of origin. (1) Customs Form 7512 shall be used as a combined entry and manifest. These forms shall be filed in quintuple and all copies shall be signed by the agent of the carrier.

(2) When merchandise is entered for immediate transportation without appraisement, two copies of the combined entry and manifest shall be delivered to the carrier to accompany the merchandise to the port of destination. When merchandise is entered for transportation and exportation, one copy of the combined entry and manifest shall be delivered to the carrier to accompany the merchandise to the port of destination.

(3) All such merchandise delivered to a bonded air carrier for transportation in bond shall be receipted for by an agent of the carrier and no supervision of the lading of the merchandise on the transporting aircraft shall be required.

(4) Merchandise covered by a single combined entry and manifest may be forwarded to destination on one aircraft or on more than one aircraft, and a separate manifest for each aircraft shall not be required if the entire shipment is forwarded within a single 24-hour period. When a portion of a shipment is forwarded on an aircraft departing more than 24 hours after the first portion of the shipment was forwarded, the original combined entry and manifest copy or copies accompanying the first portion of the shipment shall be endorsed to indicate that the remainder of the shipment will follow by separate aircraft, and a single manifest shall be prepared for each portion of the shipment which follows by separate aircraft and used as a notice of arrival at the port of destination.

(5) Merchandise forwarded in bond under the regulations in this part may be transshipped at an intermediate port to one or more aircraft of the same line without customs supervision and notice of such transshipment shall not be required. When merchandise covered by a single combined entry and manifest is transshipped to more than one aircraft the procedure specified in subparagraph (4) of this paragraph, shall be followed.

(6) The sealing of aircraft or compartments of aircraft carrying in-bond merchandise, or the cording and sealing of in-bond packages carried by aircraft, shall not be required. However, the carrier shall furnish and attach to each in-bond package the warning label prescribed by § 18.4 (e) of this chapter.

(c) Procedure at the port of destination. On arrival of an in-bond shipment at the port of destination, the aircraft commander, or an authorized person, shall deliver one copy of the combined entry and manifest which accompanied the shipment, or the copy of the manifest prepared for each portion of a shipment forwarded by separate aircraft which departed more than 24 hours after the first portion of the shipment, to the collector at that port as a notice of arrival. One copy of the entry and manifest which accompanied merchandise forwarded under an entry for immediate transportation without appraisement shall be delivered by the carrier to the consignee to be used in making entry. This copy may be endorsed as provided for by § 8.6 (e) of this chapter and used as a carrier's certificate.

§ 6.16 Certificate of lading for exportation.

The certificate of lading for exportation on customs Form 7512 or customs Form 7520 shall be executed at the place where the aircraft clearance covering such merchandise is obtained. In any case where the aircraft clearance is obtained at a place other than the place of last take-off from United States customs territory, as provided for by § 6.5 (c), the aircraft commander or an authorized person shall at each place of subsequent landing in United States customs territory prior to foreign departure (a) immediately report arrival with merchandise on board destined to be exported from bond to the customs officer at that place and (b) surrender the clearance certificate received at the place where such merchandise was taken on board to the customs officer to be retained until departure.[10]

[8] "(b) The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to (1) designate places in the United States as ports of entry for civil aircraft arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof and for merchandise carried on such aircraft, (2) detail to ports of entry for civil aircraft such officers and employees of the customs service as he may deem necessary, and to confer or impose upon any officer or employee of the United States stationed at any such port of entry (with the consent of the head of the Government department or other agency under whose jurisdiction the officer or employee is serving) any of the powers, privileges, or duties conferred or imposed upon officers or employees of the customs service, and (3) by regulation to provide for the application to civil air navigation of the laws and regulations relating to the administration of the customs laws to such extent and upon such conditions as he deems necessary.

"(c) The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized by regulation to provide for the application to civil aircraft of the laws and regulations relating to the entry and clearance of vessels to such extent and upon such conditions as he deems necessary." (49 U.S.C. 1509(b), (c).)

[9] See Part 18 of this chapter.

[10] "If any merchandise entered or withdrawn for exportation without payment of duties thereon, * * *, is relanded at any place in the United States without entry having been made, such merchandise shall be considered as having been imported in the United States contrary to law, and each person concerned shall be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than 2 years, or both; and such merchandise shall be forfeited." (18 U. S. C. 544.)

PART 7—CUSTOMS RELATIONS WITH INSULAR POSSESSIONS AND GUANTANAMO BAY NAVAL STATION[1]

Sec.
7.1 Puerto Rico; spirits and wines withdrawn from warehouse for shipment to; duty on foreign-grown coffee.
7.8 Insular possessions of the United States other than Puerto Rico.
7.11 Guantanamo Bay Naval Station.

AUTHORITY: §§ 7.1 to 7.11 issued under R. S. 251, sec. 624, 46 Stat. 759; 19 U. S. C. 66, 1624. Statutory provisions interpreted or applied and special rule making authority are cited to text in parentheses.

§ 7.1 Puerto Rico; spirits and wines withdrawn from warehouse for shipment to; duty on foreign-grown coffee.

(a) When spirits and wines are withdrawn from a bonded manufacturing warehouse for shipment in bond to Puerto Rico pursuant to section 311, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[2] the warehouse withdrawal shall contain on the face thereof a statement of the kind and quantity of all imported merchandise (in its condition as imported) and imported containers used in the manufacture and putting up of such spirits and wines. The duty assessed on the imported merchandise and containers so used, and their classification and value, shall be shown on the withdrawal in accordance with § 8.34 of this chapter. If no imported merchandise or containers have been used, the warehouse withdrawal shall bear an endorsement to that effect. (See § 22.26 of this chapter.)

(b) The spirits and wines shall be forwarded in accordance with the general provisions of the regulations governing the transportation of merchandise in bond, Part 18 of this chapter.

(c) A regular entry shall be made for all foreign-grown coffee shipped to Puerto Rico from the United States, but special customs invoices shall not be required for such shipments.[3]

(Secs. 311, 319, 484 (a), 46 Stat. 691, as amended, 696, 722, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1311, 1319, 1484 (a))

§ 7.8 Insular possessions of the United States other than Puerto Rico.

(a) When articles coming directly into the United States from an insular possession, other than Puerto Rico, in a shipment valued over $25 are sought to be admitted free of duty under the provisions of section 301, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, relating to certain articles produced in such insular possessions,[4]

[1] "All laws affecting imports of articles, goods, wares, and merchandise from foreign countries shall apply to articles, goods, wares, and merchandise and persons coming from the Canal Zone, Isthmus of Panama, and seeking entry into any State or Territory of the United States or the District of Columbia." (33 Stat. 843; 19 U. S. C. 126)

The customs administration of the said Canal Zone is under the jurisdiction of the Governor of the Panama Canal. (T. D.'s 26163, 28815, 30254, 30448, 39402, C. D. 530)

For the treaty between the United States and the Republic of Panama see 33 Stat. 2234.

[2] " * * * Distilled spirits and wines which are rectified in bonded manufacturing warehouses, class six, and distilled spirits which are reduced in proof and bottled in such warehouses, shall be deemed to have been manufactured within the meaning of this section and may be withdrawn as hereinbefore provided, and likewise for shipment in bond to Puerto Rico, subject to the provisions of this section, and under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, there to be withdrawn for consumption or be rewarehoused and subsequently withdrawn for consumption: Provided, That upon withdrawal in Puerto Rico for consumption, the duties imposed by the customs laws of the United States shall be collected on all imported merchandise (in its condition as imported) and imported containers used in the manufacture and putting up of such spirits and wines in such warehouses: Provided further, That no internal-revenue tax shall be imposed on distilled spirits and wines rectified in class six warehouses if such distilled spirits and wines are exported or shipped in accordance with the provisions of this section, * * *." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 311, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1311)

[3] Section 319, Tariff Act of 1930, authorizes the Legislature of Puerto Rico to impose a duty on coffee imported into Puerto Rico, including coffee grown in a foreign country coming into Puerto Rico from the United States, and the Legislature of Puerto Rico has imposed such a duty.

[4] "There shall be levied, collected, and paid upon all articles coming into the United States from any of its insular possessions, except Puerto Rico, the rates of duty which are required to be levied, collected, and paid upon like articles imported from foreign countries; except that all articles the growth or product of any such possession, or manufactured or produced in any such possession from materials the growth, product, or manufacture of any such possession or of there shall be filed in connection with the entry a certificate of origin covering articles shipped from insular possessions (except Puerto Rico) to the United States, customs Form 3229, signed by the chief or assistant chief customs officer at the port of shipment,[15] showing that such merchandise is the growth or product of such possession, or manufactured or produced in such possession, from materials the growth, product, or manufacture of any such possession or of the United States, or of both, which do not contain foreign materials to the value of more than 50 per centum of their total value. Such certificate shall not be required for any shipment valued at $25 or less.

(b) When articles coming directly into the United States from an insular possession, other than Puerto Rico, in a shipment valued over $25 are sought to be admitted free of duty under the provisions of section 301, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, relating to certain articles returned to the United States,[16] there shall be filed in connection with the entry the following evidence:

(1) A certificate, customs Form 4467, of the collector of customs at the port from which the merchandise was shipped from the United States, except that no such certificate shall be required if the collector is satisfied by reason of the nature of the articles or otherwise that no drawback of duties or refund or remission of taxes was allowed on the merchandise by reason of such shipment. This certificate shall be issued on application of the importer, or of the collector at the importer's request, and shall be mailed by the issuing officer directly to the port at which it is to be used. If the merchandise was shipped from the port at which entry is made and the fact of shipment appears on the records of the customhouse, the fact of return shall be noted on such record but the filing of the certificate on Form 4467 shall not be required.

(2) A declaration of the shipper in the insular possession in the following form:

I, _____ of _____, do hereby declare that to the best of my knowledge and belief the articles identified below were sent directly from the United States on _____, 19____, to _____, of _____, on the _____ (Insular possession), and that the _____ (Name of carrier), articles remained in said insular possession until shipped by me directly to the United States via the _____ (Name of carrier) on _____, 19____.

Marks	Numbers	Quantity	Description	Value

Dated at _____, this ____ day of _____, 19__.

_____ (Shipper)

Such certificate and declaration shall not be required for shipments valued at $25 or less, or in any case where the collector is satisfied by reason of the nature of the articles or otherwise that they were shipped directly to the insular possession and were returned therefrom by direct shipment, and that no drawback of duties or refund or remission of taxes was allowed when the articles were shipped from the United States.

(c) When merchandise, excluding any shipments valued at $25 or less, arrives unaccompanied by a certificate of origin or a declaration of the shipper, or when any other document necessary to complete entry is lacking, a bond for the production thereof may be taken on customs Form 7551, 7553, or other appropriate form, except that a bond for production of a bill of lading shall be taken on customs Form 7581.

(d) In determining whether an article produced or manufactured in any such insular possession contains foreign materials to the value of more than 50 per centum, a comparison shall be made between the actual purchase price of the foreign materials (excluding any material which at the time such article is entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption in the United States, may be imported into the United States from a foreign country, other than Cuba or the Philippine Republic, free of duty), plus the cost of transportation to such insular possession (but excluding duties and taxes, if any, assessed by the insular possession and any charges which may accrue after landing), and the final appraised value in the United States determined in accordance with section 402, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, of the article brought into the United States.

(e) A special customs invoice shall be required in connection with each shipment of dutiable merchandise valued over $500 unless the shipment would have been exempt from the requirement of a special customs invoice under § 8.15 of this chapter if it had been imported from a foreign country, or when the shipment is covered by a certificate of origin provided for in paragraph (a) of this section.

(f) Merchandise may be withdrawn from bonded warehouse under section 557, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, for shipment to the Virgin Islands, American Samoa, Wake Island, Midway Islands, Kingman Reef, Johnston Island, or the Island of Guam, without payment of duty, or with refund of duty if the duties have been paid thereon, in like manner as for exportation to foreign countries. No drawback may be allowed under section 313, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, on articles manufactured or produced in the United States and shipped to any insular possession. No drawback of internal-revenue tax is allowable under section 313 of the Tariff Act on articles manufactured or produced in the United States with the use of domestic tax-paid alcohol and shipped to Wake Island, Midway Islands, Kingman Reef, or Johnston Island. (See § 22.22 of this chapter.)

§ 7.11 Guantanamo Bay Naval Station.

Articles of foreign origin may enter the area (both land and water) of the Guantanamo Bay Naval Station free of duty, but such articles shall be subject to duty upon their subsequent entry into the United States.

the United States, or of both, which do not contain foreign materials to the value of more than 50 per centum of their total value, coming into the United States directly from any such possession, * * * shall be admitted free of duty upon compliance with such regulations as to proof of origin as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury. In determining whether an article produced or manufactured in any such insular possession contains foreign materials to the value of more than 50 per centum, no material shall be considered foreign which, at the time such article is entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, in the United States for consumption, may be imported into the United States from a foreign country, other than Cuba or the Philippine Republic, free of duty." (Sec. 301, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.)

[15] Guam, Wake Island, Midway Islands, Kingman Reef, Johnston Island and American Samoa are American territory, but not within the customs territory of the United States. Importations into those islands are not governed by the Tariff Act of 1930 or these customs regulations. The customs administration of American Samoa is under the jurisdiction of the Department of the Interior (Office of Territories). The customs administration of Wake Island is under the jurisdiction of the Department of Commerce (Civil Aeronautics Administration). The customs administration of Midway Islands is under the jurisdiction of the Department of the Navy. The customs administration of Guam is under the Government of Guam. A certificate signed by the Commander at the Johnston Island Air Force Base, or his assistant, shall be acceptable as proof of origin. Kingman Reef is understood to be uninhabited.

[16] "* * * all articles previously imported into the United States with payment of all applicable duties and taxes imposed upon or by reason of importation which are shipped from the United States, without remission, refund, or drawback of such duties or taxes, directly to the possession from which it is being returned by direct shipment, shall be admitted free of duty upon compliance with such regulations as to proof of origin as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury." LIABILITY FOR DUTIES

§ 8.1 Liability of importer for duties.

(a) Unless otherwise specially provided for by law, duties accrue upon imported merchandise on arrival of the importing vessel within a customs port with intent then and there to unlade, or at the time of arrival within the limits of the United States if the merchandise arrives otherwise than by vessel.

(b) Unless relieved by law or regulations, the liability for duties, both regular and additional, attaching on importation constitutes a personal debt due from the importer to the United States which can be discharged only by payment in full of all duties legally accruing. It may be enforced notwithstanding the fact that an erroneous construction of law or regulation may have enabled the importer to pass his goods through the customhouse without such payment. It also constitutes a lien upon the merchandise imported which may be enforced while such merchandise is in the custody or subject to the control of the United States.

(c) In case of the importer's death or insolvency, the Government's claim against his estate for unpaid duties has priority over obligations to creditors other than the United States.[1]

(d) The States and their instrumentalities are entitled to no constitutional exemption from the payment of customs duties.

§ 8.2 Reimportation; liability for duties on.

Dutiable merchandise imported and afterwards exported, although duty thereon may have been paid on the first importation, is liable to duty on every subsequent importation into the United States; but this does not apply to:

(a) Personal and household effects taken abroad by a resident of the United States and brought back on his return to this country (see § 10.17(a) of this chapter);

(b) Professional books, implements, instruments, and tools of trade, occupation, or employment taken abroad by any individual and brought back on his return to this country (see § 10.15 of this chapter);

(c) Automobiles and other vehicles taken abroad for noncommercial use (see § 10.42 of this chapter);

(d) Steel boxes, casks, barrels, carboys, bags, quicksilver flasks or bottles, metal drums, or other substantial outer containers exported from the United States empty and returned as usual containers or coverings of merchandise, or exported filled with products of the United States and returned empty or as the usual containers or coverings of merchandise (see § 10.7 (b), (c), (d), and (e) of this chapter);

(e) Articles exported from the United States for repairs or alterations, which may be returned upon the payment of duty on the value of the repairs or alterations at the rate or rates which would otherwise apply to the articles in their repaired or altered conditions (see § 10.8 of this chapter);

(f) Articles exported for exhibition under certain conditions (see §§ 10.66 and 10.67 of this chapter);

(g) Domestic animals taken abroad for temporary pasturage purposes and returned within 8 months (see § 10.74 of this chapter);

(h) Articles exported under lease to a foreign manufacturer (see § 10.108 of this chapter); or

(i) Any other reimported articles the free entry of which is specifically provided for.

ENTRY

§ 8.3 Entry required; exceptions.

(a) Entry, as required by section 484(a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[2]

[1] "Whenever any person indebted to the United States is insolvent, or whenever the estate of any deceased debtor, in the hands of the executors or administrators, is insufficient to pay all the debts due from the deceased, the debts due to the United States shall be first satisfied; and the priority established shall extend as well to cases in which a debtor, not having sufficient property to pay all his debts, makes a voluntary assignment thereof, or in which the estate and effects of an absconding, concealed, or absent debtor are attached by process of law, as to cases in which an act of bankruptcy is committed." (31 U. S. C. 191)

"Every executor, administrator, or assignee, or other person, who pays, * * * any debt due by the person or estate for whom or for which he acts before he satisfies and pays the debts due to the United States from such person or estate, shall become answerable in his own person and estate * * * for the debts so due to the United States, or for so much thereof as may remain due and unpaid." (31 U. S. C. 192)

[2] "Except as provided in sections 490, 498, 552, and 553 and in subdivision (j) of section 336 of this Act, and in subdivisions (h) and (i) of this section, the consignee of imported merchandise shall make entry therefor either in person or by an agent authorized by him in writing under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe. Such entry shall be made at the customhouse with-shall be made of every importation, whether free or dutiable and regardless of value, unless the importation is specifically exempted by statute or regulations from the requirement that it be entered. (See paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, and §§ 8.52, 9.3(b), and 9.6 of this chapter.)

(b) The collector shall pass free of duty and internal-revenue tax, and without the preparation of an entry, any importation having a value not exceeding $1, unless he has reason to believe that the shipment is one of several lots covered by a single order or contract and that it was sent separately for the express purpose of securing free entry therefor or of avoiding compliance with any pertinent law or regulation. (See § 10.21 (i) of this chapter.)

(c) The collector shall pass free of duty and internal-revenue tax, and without the preparation of an entry, any article sent as a bona fide gift from a person in a foreign country to a person in the United States, provided the aggregate value of such articles received by one person on one day does not exceed $10. An article is "sent" for purposes of this paragraph if it is conveyed in any manner other than on the person or in the accompanied or unaccompanied baggage of the donor or donee.

(d) Customs officers shall be further guided as follows in determining whether an article or parcel shall be exempted from duty or tax under this section:

(1) A "bona fide gift" for purposes of section 321 (a) (2) (A), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, is an article formerly owned by a donor (may be a commercial firm) who gave it outright in its entirety to a donee without compensation or promise of compensation. It does not include articles acquired by purchase, barter, promissory exchange, or similar transaction, nor does it include articles said to be "given" in conjunction with a purchase, barter, promissory exchange, or similar transaction, such as a so-called "bonus article."

(2) A parcel addressed to a person in the United States from an individual in a foreign country which contains a gift should be clearly marked on the outside to indicate that it contains a gift. Such marking is not conclusive evidence of a gift nor is the absence of such marking conclusive evidence that an article is not a gift. Ordinarily an article not exceeding $10 in value sent from a person in a foreign country to a person in the United States will be recognizable as a gift from the nature of the article and the obvious facts surrounding the shipment.

(3) A parcel addressed to a person in the United States from a business firm in a foreign country would ordinarily not contain a gift from a donor in the foreign country. When such a parcel in fact contains an article entitled to free entry under section 321 (a) (2) (A), the parcel should be clearly marked to indicate that it contains such a gift and a statement to this effect should be enclosed in the parcel.

(4) Consolidated shipments addressed to one consignee shall be treated for purposes of this section as one importation.

(5) No alcoholic beverage, perfume containing alcohol (except where the aggregate value of all merchandise contained in the shipment does not exceed $1), or tobacco product shall be exempted from the payment of duty and tax under this section.

(6) The exemptions provided for in section 321, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, are not to be allowed in respect of any shipment containing one or more gifts having an aggregate value in excess of $10. For example, an article ordinarily subject to an ad valorem rate of duty but sent as a gift, if valued at $11, would be subject to a duty based upon its full value rather than a value of $1.

(Secs. 484(a), 498, 505, 46 Stat. 722, as amended, 728, as amended, 732, sec. 7, 52 Stat. 1081, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1321, 1484(a), 1498, 1505)

§ 8.4 Preliminary examination of entry papers; making entry or withdrawal; applicable rate of duty; date of importation.

(a) Formal entry papers may be presented at the customhouse for preliminary examination within such period of time prior to the arrival of the merchandise within the limits of the port where the merchandise is to be entered as may be fixed by the collector of customs. The entry papers shall not be considered to be "deposited" or "accepted", nor shall the merchandise covered thereby be considered to be entered within the meaning of the law or regulations applicable to the entry of the merchandise, until after the arrival of the merchandise within the limits of the port of entry and the subsequent deposit of estimated duties or subsequent official determination that no deposit is required. After presentation of such entry papers and before entry of the merchandise, the importer shall not be permitted to pay the duties and taxes, if any are estimated to be due, and shall not be permitted to know about, or to have access to, any paper which would disclose what packages will be designated for examination, but he may recall the entry papers at any time during this period, in which case the collector shall destroy the summary sheet, permit, and any other document on which the designation of examination packages is indicated. Except at the port of New York, such entry papers shall not be numbered or dated prior to entry of the merchandise; at New York they may be numbered but shall not be dated. The foregoing provisions shall not be applicable to merchandise which is to be released under the immediate delivery procedure (see § 8.59), merchandise subject to a quantitative or tariff-rate quota, merchandise which is to be entered at a customs station, or any merchandise to be covered by an informal entry.

(b) Except as provided for hereinafter in this paragraph, no entry or withdrawal form shall be presented to a customs entry officer at any time when the customhouse is not open for the general transaction of business. With respect to merchandise for which the rate of duty changes each year on fixed dates, when the last day upon which such merchandise may be entered at a lower rate of duty falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, an entry or withdrawal for consumption may be accepted on such day provided the entry or withdrawal is tendered at a time when overtime services of the customs officers concerned are reimbursable and the person desiring to make the entry or withdrawal has applied for overtime services in accordance with § 24.16 of this chapter. When the last day upon which the merchandise may be entered or withdrawn at the lower rate of duty falls on a day when customs offices are open for the general transaction of business, an entry or withdrawal for consumption on such day may be accepted and processed after 5 p. m., provided the person desiring to make the entry or withdrawal has applied for overtime services in accordance with § 24.16 of this chapter.

(c) Except in the case of merchandise subject to a quantitative or tariff-rate quota, collectors are authorized to accept an entry for consumption or for warehousing for the entire quantity of merchandise covered by an entry for immediate transportation after the arrival of any part of such quantity at the port of destination or such other place as may be authorized in accordance with § 18.11 (c) of this chapter.[a]

(d) Entry is made under an appraisement entry (customs Form 7500), a formal consumption entry (customs Form 7501), a combined entry for rewarehouse and withdrawal for consumption (customs Form 7519), or an informal entry (customs Form 5119 or 5119–A) when the specified form is properly executed and deposited, together with any related documents required by any provision of these regulations to be filed with such form at the time of entry, at the port or station with the customs officer designated to receive such entry papers and any duties or taxes required to be paid at the time of making such entry have been deposited with the customs officer designated to receive such monies. The rate or rates of duty applicable to merchandise entered under any such entry shall be the rate or rates in effect when the making of the entry as stated above is completed, except as provided for in section

[a] "(f) * * * in the case of articles not subject to a quantitative or tariff-rate quota, entry for the entire quantity covered by an entry for immediate transportation made under section 552 of this act may be accepted at the port of entry designated by the consignee, or his agent, in such entry after the arrival of any part of such quantity at such designated port or at such other place of deposit as may be authorized in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 484 (f), as amended, 19 U. S. C. 1484 (f)) in five days, exclusive of Sundays and holidays, after the entry of the importing vessel or report of the vehicle, or after the arrival at the port of destination in the case of merchandise transported in bond, unless the collector authorizes in writing a longer time." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 484 (a), as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1484 (a))

315 (a) (2), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.[aa]

(e) Entry is made under an informal mail entry (customs Form 3419, 3420, or 3421) when the preparation of the entry by a customs employee is completed. (See § 9.3 (d) of this chapter.)

(f) Entry is made under a warehouse entry (customs Form 7502) when the specified form is properly executed and deposited, together with any related documents required by any provision of these regulations to be filed with such form at the time of entry, with the customs officer designated to receive such entry papers.

(g) A withdrawal from warehouse for consumption, the process preparatory for the issuance of a permit for the release of the merchandise to or upon the order of the warehouse proprietor, is made when customs Form 7505 is properly executed and deposited, together with any related documents required by any provision of these regulations to be filed with such form at the time of withdrawal, with the customs officer designated to receive the withdrawal and any duties or taxes required to be paid at the time of withdrawal have been deposited with the customs officer designated to receive such monies. The rate or rates of duty applicable to merchandise withdrawn from warehouse for consumption shall be the rate or rates in effect when the making of the withdrawal as stated above is completed.[aa] Unless all acts required by this paragraph and section 315(a) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, including the deposit of required duties and taxes, are completed before the expiration of 60 days from the date of deposit of customs Form 7505, such form and any related papers shall be deemed abandoned.

(h) If merchandise which has been entered for consumption as stated in paragraph (d) of this section is thereafter, and before release from continuous customs custody, removed from the port or place of intended release under any of the circumstances specified in section 315 (b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[ab] and is returned to such port or place within the 90-day period specified in such section 315 (b), such merchandise shall be subject to duty at the rate or rates in effect when the merchandise was entered as above stated, provided the merchandise is identified with the original entry by the usual customs examination and any documentary evidence as to its movement between its removal and return which the collector may reasonably require. If the original entry has not been liquidated and the consignee at the time of original importation and at the time of return is the same person, the merchandise may be cleared through customs under the original entry; otherwise a new entry shall be required.

(i) In the case of articles imported by vessel, the date on which the vessel arrives within the limits of a port in the United States with intent then and there to unlade shall be deemed the date of importation of those articles as to which there is such intent to unlade. In the case of articles imported otherwise than by vessel, the date on which the articles arrive within the limits of the United States shall be deemed the date of importation.

§ 8.5 Examination of merchandise before entry for consumption or warehouse.

(a) Unless an examination is required for the exclusive benefit of the United States or is permitted in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section, no imported merchandise shall be opened, examined, or inspected until it has been entered under some form of an entry for consumption or warehouse.

(b) As a bona fide incident to exportation or further transportation, merchandise entered or withdrawn for transportation in bond to another port or place in the United States or for exportation may, upon written application by the consignee or his agent be permitted by the collector to be examined,[4] sampled, weighed, or subjected to an operation not constituting a manufacture required by reason of an emergency, under conditions set forth in subparagraphs (2) to (5) of this paragraph. Under the same conditions, transshipment of such merchandise involving the breaking of customs Tyden seals by or under the immediate supervision of a customs officer at a place other than the port of destination or departure from the United States may be permitted. Merchandise entered or withdrawn as prescribed above may be subjected to any other operation not constituting a manufacture if neither the protection of the revenue nor the proper conduct of customs business requires it to be done in a customs bonded warehouse and the following conditions are met:

(1) A special application by the consignee or his agent is submitted to the Bureau of Customs with the recommendation of the collector concerned and is approved by the Bureau;

(2) The operation permitted is executed under customs supervision;

(3) The application is supported by a legitimate business reason for the request;

(4) If the merchandise is in possession or joint possession of a carrier, the concurrence of the carrier is obtained; and

(5) The Government is reimbursed for the compensation, computed in accordance with § 19.5 (b) of this chapter, and other expenses of the customs officer or employee supervising the action permitted.

An application to examine merchandise, whether or not covered by an entry or withdrawal for transportation in bond or for exportation, may be granted under the conditions set forth in subparagraphs (2), (4), and (5) of this paragraph when (i) an importer has been unable to obtain the necessary documents or information to make the desired entry and such examination is required to obtain information for the preparation of a pro forma invoice to be used in making the entry, or (ii) examination of perishable merchandise is desired solely for the purpose of determining its condition. An application to sample coal-tar products (see § 14.5(a) of this chapter) before their entry under some form of an entry for consumption or warehouse may also be granted under the conditions of subparagraphs (2), (4), and (5) of this paragraph. The provisions of this paragraph are applicable to quota merchandise of a kind which may neither be entered for warehouse nor for consumption because of the fulfillment of the quota.

(c) Properly authorized employees of the Customs Service, the Food and Drug Administration, the Agricultural Research Service, the Public Health Service, or other agency of the United States may take samples of unladen merchandise for which entry has not been filed. In no case shall any official action be taken on any such samples until entry has been filed.

(d) Prior to the filing of a proper entry, no information concerning the designation of packages for examination shall be given to or be accessible to any importer, broker, or other person who is not a customs officer necessarily concerned with such designation, except as provided for in § 8.59 (c), relating to

[aa] "(a) Except as otherwise specially provided for, the rate or rates of duty imposed by or pursuant to this Act or any other law on any article entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption shall be the rate or rates in effect when the documents comprising the entry for consumption or withdrawal from warehouse for consumption and any estimated or liquidated duties then required to be paid have been deposited with the appropriate customs officer in the form and manner prescribed by regulations of the Secretary of the Treasury, except that—merchandise released under immediate delivery permits.

§ 8.6 Evidence of right to make entry; legal representative of consignee; nonresident consignee; foreign corportation; underwriters and salvors.

(a) The holder of a bill of lading, properly endorsed when endorsement is required under the law, shall have the right to make entry.[5] However, the consignee named in a nonnegotiable bill of lading may not by endorsing it vest in someone else a right to make entry. A shipping receipt or other document presented in lieu of a bill of lading shall not be accepted as authority for making entry unless bearing a certificate of the carrier in accordance with subsection (h) or (i) of section 484, Tariff Act of 1930,[6] or unless entry is made by the actual consignee in person or in his name by a duly authorized agent.

(b) When merchandise is not imported by a common carrier, possession of the merchandise at the time of arrival in the United States shall be deemed sufficient evidence of the right to make entry.

(c) Entry shall not be made on an extract from a bill of lading, unless such extract is certified to be genuine by the carrier bringing the merchandise to the port at which entry is made. Collectors of customs shall not certify extracts from bills of lading.

(d) Separate entries may be made for consolidated shipments upon compliance with the following requirements:

(1) The consignee of a consolidated shipment covering merchandise for various ultimate consignees who desire to make separate entries shall deposit with the collector the original bill of lading, the certified duplicate bill of lading, the carrier's certificate, or the shipping receipt if no bill of lading has been issued, covering the entire shipment, and such document shall be permanently retained by the collector.

(2) If a bill of lading is filed, it shall contain the following endorsement signed by the consignee named therein:

As the within-described merchandise belongs to various ultimate consignees who desire to make separate entries therefor, the undersigned consignee thereof hereby expressly waives the right granted by section 484 (j), Tariff Act of 1930, to have this bill of lading returned.

(3) Except when an authority to make entry for a portion of a consolidated shipment is executed on the entry form in the space provided therefor, at the time of depositing such bill of lading, or other document, the consignee named therein shall produce a certificate prepared and signed by him for each portion of the shipment for which separate entry is desired. The certificate shall be in the following form:

Collection district No.------
Port of------
------ 19--

We / I }------, the consignee in the above-mentioned document covering merchandise for various ultimate consignees, hereby authorize ------ or order to make customs entry for the above-described merchandise.

Consignee

(4) When a certificate on a separate document as described in subparagraph (3) is presented, it shall be compared with the supporting document and after being initialed by the entry clerk shall be returned to the consignee for transmittal to the person who will make entry. When an entry is received having executed thereon in the space provided therefor an authority to make entry for a portion of a consolidated shipment, such authority shall be compared with the supporting document.

(5) The authority to make entry carried by such certificate may be transferred by endorsement.

(e) When a carrier's certificate is used in making entry pursuant to the provisions of section 484 (h), Tariff Act of 1930, it shall be executed on customs Form 7529, unless it is included in the official entry form or unless in appropriate cases an endorsement, in substantially the form set forth below, to serve as a combined carrier's certificate and release order with one signature, is rubber-stamped or typewritten on a copy of the bill of lading, on a copy of the airway bill, or on another document containing the required descriptive information (see § 8.23 (a)).

The undersigned carrier, to whom or upon whose order the articles described herein or in the attached document must be released, hereby certifies that the consignee named in this document is the owner or consignee of such articles within the purview of section 484 (h), Tariff Act of 1930. In accordance with the provisions of section 484 (j), Tariff Act of 1930, authority is hereby given to release the articles covered by the aforementioned statement to such consignee.

(Agent)

(f) A collector may accept a blanket carrier's certificate, customs Form 7529, appropriately modified, from a carrier for any or all shipments which will arrive in its conveyances at the port during a period specified in the certificate.

(g) When entry is made on a certified duplicate bill of lading, the certificate thereon shall be substantially in the following form:

DUPLICATE BILL OF LADING CERTIFICATE

------ 19--

The undersigned carrier, bringing the within-described merchandise to this port, hereby certifies that this signed copy of the bill of lading is genuine and may be used for the purpose of making customs entry as provided for in section 484 (1) of the tariff act.

(h) When a bond is given for the production of a bill of lading, it shall be on customs Form 7581 and shall run in favor of the collector personally and as collector of customs. When the collector is in doubt as to the propriety of accepting entry on a bond for the production of a bill of lading, he shall request authority to do so from the Bureau.

(i) Inasmuch as the provisions of section 484 (c) of the tariff act do not apply in the case of entries made under subsection (h) or (i), no bond for the production of a carrier's certificate or certified duplicate bill of lading shall be taken; but when a bond is given for the production of a bill of lading, such bond may be considered as satisfied upon the production of a proper carrier's certificate or certified duplicate bill of lading, but shall not be canceled.

(j) The executor or administrator of the estate of a deceased consignee, the receiver or other legal representative of an insolvent consignee, or the representative appointed in any action or proceeding at law to act for a consignee shall not be permitted to make entry unless he shall produce a duly endorsed bill of lading, a carrier's certificate, or a duplicate bill of lading, executed in accordance with subsection (h) or (i) of section 484 of the tariff act, showing him to be the consignee for customs purposes.

(k) A nonresident consignee has the right to make entry but the bond, customs Form 7551, 7553, or other appropriate form, when required, shall have a resident corporate surety thereon.

(l) A foreign corporation shall not enter merchandise for consumption unless it has, in the state where the port of entry is located, a resident agent authorized to accept service of process against such corporation and files a bond with a resident corporate surety to secure the payment of any increased and additional duties which may be found due.

(m) Underwriters of abandoned merchandise or salvors of merchandise saved from a wreck who are unable to produce a bill of lading, certified duplicate bill of lading, or carrier's certificate shall produce evidence satisfactory to the collector of their right to act.[7]

(Sec. 484, 46 Stat. 722, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1484)

§ 8.7 Disposition of bill of lading or carrier's certificate.

(a) When the return of the bill of lading to the person making the entry, as required by the provisions of section 484(j), Tariff Act of 1930,[8] is requested, the collector shall take a receipt therefor, which shall set forth such of the data contained in the bill of lading as will completely identify it and enable the comptroller to verify the production of proper evidence of the right to make entry. The receipt shall also show any freight charges and weights that appear on the bill of lading. If the original bill of lading is necessary to obtain a carrier's certificate or duplicate bill of lading from the carrier, such exchange shall be made before the entry is filed.

(b) When a carrier's certificate or duplicate bill of lading is used in making entry, it shall be retained by the collector as evidence that the person making entry is authorized to do so.

§ 8.8 Requirements on entry.

(a) Entries shall be legibly prepared on a typewriter or with ink, indelible pencil, or other permanent medium. All entry papers and documents required shall be on the appropriate forms prescribed by the regulations and shall clearly set forth, with respect to the merchandise covered thereby, all information for which spaces are provided on such forms.[9] With respect to each invoice covered by the entry, the following shall be shown separately: the quantity of each class of merchandise; the claimed rate or rates of duty for each class of merchandise; and, except in the case of entry by appraisement, the aggregate of the entered value for each classification. The description of the merchandise shall be in terms of the tariff act in accordance with "United States Import Duties Annotated for Statistical Reporting", or in more specific terms which indicate clearly the tariff classification claimed by the importer.[10]

(b) For each invoice of dutiable, taxable, or conditionally free merchandise covered by the entry and in a conspicuous place among the entry data related to such invoice, there shall be shown the gross amount of such invoice, the deduction of the aggregate amount of any nondutiable charges included in such amount, the further deduction of the aggregate of any deductions from invoice values to make entered values, and the addition of the aggregate of any dutiable charges not included in the gross amount of the invoice and of any other additions to invoice values to make entered values, so that the final amount in the summary computation represents the aggregate of the entered values of all the merchandise on each invoice covered by the entry. For each invoice of merchandise that is unconditionally free of duty and tax, it will be sufficient if the entry data related to such invoice include the entered value, without details of the computation such as are specified for invoices of dutiable, taxable, or conditionally free merchandise.

(c) When required by the collector as a memorandum entry record for purposes of local administration, a copy of customs Form 5101 shall be prepared and presented by the importer with each formal or appraisement entry, except those covering shipments declared to be for more than one actual owner.

(d) Each entry when presented shall be accompanied by customs Form 6417, the face of which shall be prepared by the importer as a carbon copy of the entry and shall show the information required under paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, except that in the case of an importation entitled to immediate delivery under § 10.104(a) of this chapter, no customs Form 6417 shall be required or accepted by the collector of customs.

(e) If entry is made by or for the account of one who has purchased the goods while they were in transit from the point of exportation to the point of entry, a statement showing the price paid for each item by such purchaser must be presented at the time of entry.

(f) Consolidated shipments to one consignee for various ultimate consignees and the several enclosures of a packed package may be covered by separate entries upon compliance with the provisions of §§ 8.6 (d) and 8.52, respectively.

(g) If the collector is satisfied that there will be no prejudice to the revenue or to the efficient conduct of customs business, separate entries may be accepted for portions of all the merchandise arriving on one vessel or vehicle and consigned to one consignee,[11] as prescribed in § 8.6 (d), and also when:

(1) The consignee desires to enter such portions under different forms of entry, for transportation to different ports of entry, or for warehousing in separate warehouses;

(2) Appraisements are being withheld upon merchandise of the class or kind constituting a portion for which a separate entry is tendered;

(3) The several portions for which separate entries are tendered are covered by separate bills of lading;

S. C. 1484 (f))

(4) The consignment consists of different classes of merchandise to be examined by different appraising officers;

(5) The consignment consists of merchandise subject to entry under bonds given to assure accounting for final disposition;

(6) The merchandise for which a separate entry is tendered comprises one or more importations which arrived under a consolidated immediate transportation without appraisement entry (see § 18.11 (h) of this chapter); or

(7) A special application is submitted to the Bureau of Customs with the recommendation of the collector concerned and is approved by the Bureau.

(h) When separate entries are made under the preceding paragraphs, the entries shall be presented simultaneously when practicable. A separate consignee's declaration shall be filed for each entry and, except when a portion of the merchandise is entered under section 308, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, each entry shall cover whole packages or not less than 1 ton of merchandise in bulk.

(i) When separate entries are made under paragraph (e) of this section for merchandise covered by a single bill of lading, compliance with § 8.6 (d) shall be required, except that the endorsement on the bill of lading shall read as follows:

As portions of the within-described merchandise will be covered by separate entries, the undersigned consignee expressly waives the right granted by section 484 (j), Tariff Act of 1930, to have this bill of lading returned.

(Sec. 484, 46 Stat. 722, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1484)

§ 8.9 Entry without required invoice.

If an invoice required under § 8.15 is not available in proper form at the time of entry, the entry shall be accepted only if—

(a) The collector is satisfied that the failure to produce the required invoice is due to a cause beyond the control of the person for whom the entry is tendered;

(b) Such person or his agent makes a written declaration that he is unable to produce such invoice and (1) files therewith a seller's or shipper's invoice, or (2) if no seller's or shipper's invoice is available, files therewith a statement of the value, or the price paid, in the form of an invoice; and

(c) Such person or his agent gives a bond on customs Form 7551 or 7553, or other appropriate form, for the production of the required invoice within 6 months from the date of entry of the merchandise.[12]

§ 8.11 Invoice to be for single shipment; extracts from invoices.

(a) Except as provided for in § 8.12, a customs invoice shall not represent more than one distinct shipment of merchandise by one consignor to one consignee by one vessel or conveyance. If by reason of accident or short shipment a portion of the quantity covered by one invoice fails to arrive, or if for any other reason only a portion of the quantity covered by one invoice is entered under one entry, an extract from the special customs or commercial invoice used in connection with the first entry, covering the quantity to be entered under another entry, may be used in connection with the subsequent entry of any portion of the merchandise not cleared under the first entry. However, an extract from the invoice filed with the first entry for consumption from a foreign-trade zone of a portion of the merchandise shown on the invoice will not be required for any subsequent entry for consumption from that zone at the same port of a portion of the merchandise covered by such invoice, if a pro forma invoice is filed and identifies the entry first made and the invoice then filed.

(b) When portions of a single shipment requiring a special customs or commercial invoice are entered at different ports, the importer may request the collector for the port where the invoice is on file or, if a certified extract or extracts of such invoice have been issued, the collector for the port where an extract was last issued, to prepare and certify an extract of the invoice or an extract of the extract of the invoice, as the case may be. The certified extract shall be delivered to the importer by the collector after the official seal is affixed thereto. The certified extract shall show all the invoice data for all merchandise covered by the invoice or extract but not included in the entry made at the port of certification. An extract from a special customs or commercial invoice presented within the bonded period may be accepted to cancel the bond given for the production of a certified or commercial invoice. In cases where a portion of a shipment is entered at the first port on a pro forma invoice, entries at each subsequent port shall be made by means of a new pro forma invoice for only the merchandise entered. An extract from an invoice shall be identified thereon in substantially the following form:

Extract from {special customs / commercial} Invoice No.---
---------- dated ----------, filed at
---------- with ---------- (Port)
entry No. ---------- dated ----------, covering {purchased / consigned} goods for use at the port of ----------.
Certified correct ----------, 19--.

Consignee

Collector of Customs

The extract shall be prepared in duplicate and the duplicate shall be attached to the original invoice or to the last prior extract.

(c) Bona fide installment shipments may be covered by one invoice in accordance with § 8.12 and any bona fide installment valued at not more than $250 may be entered on an informal entry in accordance with § 8.51. The consolidation of separate shipments in one invoice or the splitting up of an importation into small lots, each valued at not more than $500, to avoid special customs invoice requirements shall not be permitted.

§ 8.12 Invoices for installment shipments arriving within a period of 7 days; entry.

(a) Installments of a shipment covered by a single order or contract and shipped from one consignor to one consignee may be included in one invoice if the installments arrive at the port of entry by any means of transportation within a period of not to exceed 7 consecutive days.

(b) If the required invoice is not filed with the first entry of the installment series, a pro forma invoice shall be filed with each entry made before the required invoice is produced and a bond shall be given, or charge against a term bond made, for the production of the required invoice. Liquidated damages will accrue in the case of each entry if more than 6 months expires without the production of an invoice for such entry.

(c) The invoice shall be prepared in the manner provided for in section 481 (a), Tariff Act of 1930, and § 8.13, and, when practicable, shall show the quantities, values, and other invoice data with respect to each installment and the date of shipment of each installment and shall give the car number or other identification of the importing conveyance in which it was shipped.

(d) In regard to the application of the informal entry procedure to installment shipments, see § 8.51.

§ 8.13 Contents of invoices; incomplete invoices; general requirements supplemented.

(a) Every special customs invoice of merchandise to be imported into the United States shall set forth the information required by section 481 (a), Tariff Act of 1930.[13]

(b) Every special customs invoice of imported merchandise shipped to a person in the United States by a person other than the manufacturer and otherwise than pursuant to a purchase or agreement to purchase shall set forth the information required by section 481(b) of the tariff act.[14]

(c) In the case of merchandise valued at over $500, the collector shall reject special customs invoices or commercial invoices for commodities not requiring special customs invoices which are not executed in accordance with the regulations in this part, but entry may be made on a pro forma invoice containing sufficient data for classification and appraisement purposes and a bond taken for the production of a correct special customs or commercial invoice, as the case may be.

(d) When any of the component materials of an imported article affects its classification or appraisement, the invoice shall set forth an analysis of the article or the formula under which it was manufactured or produced, stating the component materials contained in the article and the percentage of each, if such percentage is known.

(e) Whenever it shall be determined by the appraising officer that information as to the cost of production or constructed value is necessary in the appraisement of any class or kind of merchandise, the importer shall be notified by the appraiser and thereafter invoices covering shipments of such merchandise shall contain a verified statement by the manufacturer or producer as to the cost of production or constructed value,[15] as defined in section 402a(f) or 402(d), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

(f) All invoices shall set forth in detail, with respect to each class or kind of merchandise covered thereby, every discount from list or other base price which has been or may be allowed in fixing each purchase price or value set forth therein.

(g) If the invoice or entry does not disclose the weight, gauge, or measure of merchandise required to be weighed, gauged, or measured in order to ascertain the duties thereon, the consignee shall pay the expense of weighing, gauging, or measuring prior to the release of the merchandise from customs custody.[15a]

(h) Under section 481(a)(10) of the tariff act, additional information shall be furnished on special customs or commercial invoices of certain classes of merchandise in accordance with the requirements set forth in the following Treasury Decisions or sections of this chapter.

"(2) The time when, the place where, and the person by whom and the person to whom the merchandise is sold or agreed to be sold, or if to be imported otherwise than in pursuance of a purchase, the place from which shipped, the time when and the person to whom and the person by whom it is shipped;

"(3) A detailed description of the merchandise, including the name by which each item is known, the grade or quality, and the marks, numbers, or symbols under which sold by the seller or manufacturer to the trade in the country of exportation, together with the marks and numbers of the packages in which the merchandise is packed;

"(4) The quantities in the weights and measures of the country or place from which the merchandise is shipped, or in the weights and measures of the United States;

"(5) The purchase price of each item in the currency of the purchase, if the merchandise is shipped in pursuance of a purchase or an agreement to purchase;

"(6) If the merchandise is shipped otherwise than in pursuance of a purchase or an agreement to purchase, the value for each item, in the currency in which the transactions are usually made, or, in the absence of such value, the price in such currency that the manufacturer, seller, shipper, or owner would have received, or was willing to receive, for such merchandise if sold in the ordinary course of trade and in the usual wholesale quantities in the country of exportation;

"(7) The kind of currency, whether gold, silver, or paper;

"(8) All charges upon the merchandise, itemized by name and amount when known to the seller or shipper; or all charges by name (including commissions, insurance, freight, cases, containers, coverings, and cost of packing) included in the invoice prices when the amounts for such charges are unknown to the seller or shipper;

"(9) All rebates, drawbacks, and bounties, separately itemized, allowed upon the exportation of the merchandise; and

"(10) Any other facts deemed necessary to a proper appraisement, examination, and classification of the merchandise that the Secretary of the Treasury may require." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 481 (a); 19 U. S. C. 1481 (a))

[14] "If the merchandise is shipped to a person in the United States by a person other than the manufacturer, otherwise than by purchase, such person shall state on the invoice the time when, the place where, the person from whom such merchandise was purchased, and the price paid therefor in the currency of the purchase, stating whether gold, silver, or paper." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 481 (b); 19 U. S. C. 1481 (b))

[15] "Under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, the collector or the appraiser may require a verified statement from the manufacturer or producer showing the cost of production of the imported merchandise, when necessary to the appraisement of such merchandise." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 484(g); 19 U.S.C. 1484(g))

[15a] "In all cases in which the invoice or entry does not state the weight, quantity, or measure of the merchandise, the expense of ascertaining the same shall be collected from the consignee before its release from customs custody." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 494; 19 U.S.C. 1494)

On customs invoices of merchandise imported from a country having a currency for which two or more rates of exchange have been certified by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York pursuant to section 522 of the Tariff Act of 1930, except merchandise unconditionally free of duty or subject only to a specific rate of duty not depending on value, there shall be shown the exchange rate or rates used in converting the United States dollars received for such merchandise into the foreign currency and the percentage of each rate if two or more rates are used. If a rate or combination of rates different from the rate or combination of rates used in payment for the merchandise was used in payment of costs, charges, or expenses, the rate or combination of rates used in payment of such costs, charges, and expenses shall be stated separately. Where the dollars have not been converted at the time the invoice is prepared that fact shall be stated on the invoice, in which case the invoice shall also state the rate or combination of rates at which the dollars will be converted or shall state that it is not known what rate or rates will be used, as the case may be.

(i) When more than one invoice is included in the same entry, all invoices shall bear the entry number and shall be numbered consecutively, beginning with number 1.

(j) If the invoice or invoices filed with an entry are made out on more than two sheets of paper, each sheet shall be legibly numbered by the importer on the bottom of its face. The numbering shall begin with number 1 for the first sheet of the first invoice and continue in a single series of numbers through all the sheets of all the invoices attached to one summary sheet.

§ 8.15 Special customs invoices required; exceptions.

(a) Pursuant to the provisions of section 484(b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[18] a special customs invoice is hereby required to be produced in connection with each entry (see § 8.9) of imported merchandise, if such merchandise is not provided for in paragraph (c) or (d) of this section and is:

(1) Imported in pursuance of a purchase or agreement to purchase and has an aggregate purchase price, including all expenses incident to placing the goods in condition, packed ready for shipment to the United States, over $500, as determined by the collector, or

(2) Imported otherwise than in pursuance of a purchase or agreement to purchase and has an aggregate value over $500, as determined in accordance with § 14.3 of this chapter, and if such merchandise is:

(i) Subject to an ad valorem rate of duty or to a rate of duty dependent in any manner upon its value;

(ii) Conditionally free of duty and subject to a rate of duty dependent on value if the free entry conditions are not met, but a special customs invoice shall not be required for such merchandise and any obligation for the production of such an invoice shall be canceled if all free entry documents and evidence required to establish the exemption from duty are produced at the time of entry or within the time prescribed for their later production by the pertinent regulations; or

(iii) Subject by reason of a national emergency to an import permit requirement of which the Bureau has issued a notice.

(b) For all imported merchandise for which a special customs invoice is not required under the preceding paragraph and which is not provided for in the following paragraph, a commercial invoice prepared in the manner customary for commercial transactions involving articles such as are offered for entry and containing any special data required by § 8.13 (h) shall be produced at the time of entry or within 6 months thereafter (see § 8.9). In lieu of a required commercial invoice, the collector in his discretion may accept a copy thereof made otherwise than by a photostatic process and bearing a declaration of the foreign seller or shipper, or of the importer, that it is a true copy, or a photostatic copy of the required invoice without such a declaration.

(c) No special customs or commercial invoice, or bond for the production of either shall be required in connection with the entry of articles listed hereafter in this paragraph, unless such an invoice is available otherwise than by reason of a customs requirement, but the consignee or owner in each case shall furnish any invoice, memorandum invoice, or bill pertaining to the goods which may be in his possession or available to him or, if no such invoice or bill is available, he shall furnish a pro forma invoice containing an adequate description of the articles, a statement of the quantity thereof, and a statement of their cost or value. The articles subject to the foregoing requirements are as follows:

(1) Articles having an aggregate value, as specified in the first two numbered subdivisions of paragraph (a) of this section, of $500 or less.

(2) Articles not intended for sale in their imported condition or in any other form and not brought in on commission for any person other than the importer, if the aggregate value determined in accordance with § 14.3 of this chapter does not exceed $1,000.

(3) Articles for which an appraisement entry is accepted in accordance with § 8.50.

(4) Articles accompanying a person arriving in the United States and articles declared by such a person upon his arrival as not accompanying him but imported or to be imported in connection with his arrival; all the foregoing which are not intended for sale or any commercial use and are not brought in on commission for any person not included in the declaration.

(5) Household and personal effects of all kinds provided for in paragraph 1632, 1739, 1747, or 1798, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

(6) Aircraft, automobiles and other vehicles, boats, horses, and the usual equipment of any of the foregoing, if taken abroad by the owner or his agent for noncommercial use and returned by or for the account of such owner in accordance with the provisions of § 10.42 of this chapter.

[18] See footnote 12, § 8.9.

(7) Articles sent by persons in foreign countries as gifts to persons in the United States.

(8) Articles entitled to free entry under paragraph 1615 or 1815, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, or under sections 194 and 195, title 19, United States Code, if the applicable regulations are complied with. (See §§ 10.1 (a), 10.2 (a), 10.66, 10.67, and 25.16 of this chapter.)

(9) Articles returned to the United States after having been exported for repairs or alterations under paragraph 1615 (g), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

(10) Articles shipped aboard, not delivered to the consignee, and returned to the United States.

(11) Articles exported from continuous customs custody within 6 months after the date of entry.

(12) Articles consigned to, or entered in the name of, any agency of the United States Government.

(13) Currency and coins, if brought into the United States as mediums of exchange.

(14) Postage and revenue stamps, canceled or uncanceled, and government stamped envelopes or post cards bearing no printing other than the official imprint thereon.

(15) Articles provided for in section 465 or 466, Tariff Act of 1930.

(16) Articles imported as supplies, stores, or equipment of the importing carrier and subsequently made subject to entry pursuant to section 446, Tariff Act of 1930.

(17) Ballast (not including cargo used for ballast) landed from a vessel and delivered for consumption.

(18) Articles from the Virgin Islands, if covered by the certificate of origin provided for in § 7.9 (a) of this chapter; articles from Guam, Wake Island, Midway Islands, Kingman Reef, or American Samoa, if covered by the certificate provided for in §7.8 of this chapter; and articles from the Swan Islands, if covered by the evidence provided for in § 7.10 of this chapter.

(19) Articles accorded free entry as "Philippine articles". See § 16.26 of this chapter.

(20) Articles, whether privileged or nonprivileged, resulting from manipulation or manufacture in a foreign-trade zone.

(21) Archeological articles for exhibition and not for sale, if imported by an institution established for the encouragement of the arts, science, or education.

(22) Corpses.

(23) Screenings contained in bulk importations of grain or seeds.

(24) Articles accorded free entry under paragraph 1631, Tariff Act of 1930.

(25) Public documents accorded free entry under paragraph 1629, Tariff Act of 1930.

(26) Articles entered under paragraph 1607 or 1809, or section 308, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, except as provided for in the last sentence of § 10.36 (a) of this chapter.

(27) Articles accorded free entry under section 196a, title 19, United States Code.

(28) Racing pigeons.

(29) Rubber, crude.

(30) The following articles when unconditionally free of duty or subject only to a specific rate of duty not depending on value:

(i) Fertilizer and fertilizer materials.

(ii) Fish, shellfish, and fish and shellfish products such as shells, bones, cuttlefish bones, eggs, livers, sounds, fins, skins, tails, cuttings, and waste, but not including fish or fish livers in air-tight containers.

(iii) Flower bulbs.

(iv) Fruits and vegetables in their natural state.

(v) Newspapers and newsreel films.

(vi) Pulpwood.

(31) Crude petroleum and liquid derivatives of crude petroleum which are not subject to a rate of duty based upon or regulated in any manner by value, imported by pipeline or in bulk.

(d) No special customs invoice or commercial invoice shall be required for articles with respect to which it shall be established to the satisfaction of the collector that the importer cannot by reason of conditions beyond his control furnish a complete and accurate invoice, if the importer files with the entry any invoice or invoices received from the seller or shipper, a statement pointing out in exact detail the inaccuracies, omissions, or other defects in such invoice or invoices, and an executed pro forma invoice as required by the collector, and furnishes any other information required by the collector or appraiser for purposes of examination, classification, and appraisement of the merchandise. The entry bond shall be liable for the production of a correct invoice, which liability shall be deemed satisfied upon full compliance with the conditions herein prescribed.

§ 8.16 Entered value; importers may add to or deduct from the invoice value.

The person making entry shall show in clear detail on the invoice or on a statement attached thereto each addition to or deduction from the invoice value of merchandise under section 487, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[19] together with the item to which it refers, indicating the entered unit value. He shall likewise show the computation in detail of the aggregate amount of all the additions or deductions made by the importer to make the aggregate entered value.

§ 8.18 Declaration on entry.

(a) The consignee in whose name an entry is made under the provisions of section 484, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, shall execute the declaration applicable to the circumstances of the particular case in accordance with section 485(a) of that act,[21] except that the declaration need not be under oath.

(b) In the case of successive importations of books, magazines, newspapers, and periodicals within the purview of section 485(b) of the tariff act,[22] one declaration filed at the time of the arrival of the first importation will be sufficient.

(c) When entry is made by an agent,[23] he shall execute on the entry form, as agent, the declaration of the consignee applicable to the person for whom he acts as agent. An agent shall not execute the declaration of a nominal consignee unless he is acting as agent for a nominal consignee. If the agent has

[19] "The consignee or his agent may, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, at the time entry is made, make in the entry such additions to or deductions from the cost or value given in the invoice as, in his opinion, may raise or lower the same to the value of such merchandise." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 487, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1487)

[21] "Every consignee making an entry under the provisions of section 484 of this Act shall make and file therewith, in a form to be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, a declaration under oath, stating—

"(1) Whether the merchandise is imported in pursuance of a purchase or an agreement to purchase or whether it is imported otherwise than in pursuance of a purchase or agreement to purchase;

"(2) That the prices set forth in the invoice are true, in the case of merchandise purchased or agreed to be purchased; or in the case of merchandise secured otherwise than by purchase or agreement to purchase, that the statements in such invoice as to value or price are true to the best of his knowledge and belief;

"(3) That all other statements in the invoice or other documents filed with the entry, or in the entry itself, are true and correct; and

"(4) That he will produce at once to the collector any invoice, paper, letter, document, or information received showing that any such prices or statements are not true or correct." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 485(a); 19 U.S.C. 1485(a))

"The Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe separate forms for the declaration in the case of merchandise which is imported in pursuance of a purchase or agreement to purchase and merchandise which is imported otherwise than in pursuance of a purchase or agreement to purchase." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 485(e); 19 U.S.C. 1485(e))

[22] "The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to prescribe regulations for one declaration in the case of books, magazines, newspapers, and periodicals published and imported in successive parts, numbers, or volumes, and entitled to free entry." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 485(b); 19 U.S.C. 1485(b))

[23] The agent referred to in sec. 485 (c), Tariff Act of 1930, is a person acting under written authority from the consignee who makes entry in the name of the consignee. A nominal consignee who makes entry in his own name is not an agent within the purview of such sec. 485 (c).

In view of the specific provision in sec. 485 (f) of the tariff act, as amended, that when the merchandise is consigned to an individual, a partnership, or a corporation the consignee's declaration may be made by any person who has knowledge of the facts and who is specifically authorized by such individual, a member of the partnership, or an officer of such corporation to make such declaration, the person who executes the declaration on behalf of the individual, partnership, or corporation is not considered to be an agent within the purview of sec. 485 (c) and is not required by sec. 485 (c) to produce, or give bond to produce, any further declaration.

duly authorized agent. A nonresident owner's declaration shall not be accepted knowledge of the facts and is authorized under a proper power of attorney to execute the declaration of the principal (consignee), no further declaration of the consignee shall be required; otherwise a declaration of the consignee on customs Form 3347–A shall be produced with the entry or a charge for the production of such declaration made against the appropriate entry bond.[24] No separate bond of the agent shall be required.

(d) A consignee in whose name an entry is made who desires under the provisions of section 485 (d), Tariff Act of 1930,[25] to be relieved from direct liability for the payment of increased and additional duties shall file a declaration of the actual owner of the merchandise on customs Form 3347. If the consignee desires to be relieved also from the liability for the payment of such duties voluntarily assumed by him in the single-entry bond which he filed in connection with the entry or in his term bond against which the entry was charged, he shall file with the collector of customs within 90 days from the date of entry a superseding bond on customs Form 7601 of the actual owner whose declaration on customs Form 3347 has been filed in accordance with section 485 (d) and the regulations in this part. The filing of the owner's declaration and of the superseding bond by the nominal consignee is optional and no bond shall be required for the production of either. Neither the owner's declaration nor the superseding bond shall be accepted unless filed by the nominal consignee or his

[24] "In the event that an entry is made by an agent under the provisions of section 484 of this Act and such agent is not in possession of such declaration of the consignee, such agent shall give a bond to produce such declaration." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 485 (c); 19 U. S. C. 1485 (d))

[25] "A consignee shall not be liable for any additional or increased duties if (1) he declares at the time of entry that he is not the actual owner of the merchandise, (2) he furnishes the name and address of such owner, and (3) within ninety days from the date of entry he produces a declaration of such owner conditioned that he will pay all additional and increased duties, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe. Such owner shall possess all the rights of a consignee." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 485 (d); 19 U. S. C. 1485 (d) as a compliance with section 485 (d) unless there is filed therewith a bond of such owner on customs Form 7551 or 7553, with a resident corporate surety thereon.

(Sec. 485, 486, 46 Stat. 724, as amended, 725, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1485, 1486)

§ 8.19 Powers of attorney.

(a) A power of attorney may be executed for the transaction of a specified part or for all the customs business of the principal, except that a separate power of attorney on customs Form 5295 or 5295–A shall be required for filing protests.[26] Customs Form 5291 may be used by individuals and customs Form 5293 by corporations for giving powers of attorney to transact customs business. If a customs power of attorney is not on a prescribed customs form, it shall be either a general power of attorney with unlimited authority [26a] or a limited power of attorney as explicit in its terms as is the prescribed customs form and executed in the same manner as the prescribed form. If for the execution of sealed instruments, it shall be under seal. A customs power of attorney to a minor shall not be accepted. A customs power of attorney executed under authority of another power of attorney shall be accepted if the grantor of the original power of attorney is a nonresident and if such original power contains express authority from the principal for the appointment of a subagent or subagents. Customs powers of attorney of residents shall be without power of substitution except for the purpose of executing shippers' export declarations. A subagent so appointed cannot delegate his authority. A customs power of attorney executed in favor of a licensed customhouse broker may specify that the power of attorney is granted to the customhouse broker to act through any of its licensed officers or any employee specifically authorized to act for such customhouse broker by power of attorney filed by the customhouse broker with the collector of customs.

(b) An individual, other than a married woman, may execute a power of attorney to sign as surety on customs bonds. If the power is limited to bonds of one or several importers, such importers shall be named. Such power shall have attached a justification of the donor in a specified amount.

(c) A trustee may execute a power of attorney for the transaction of customs business incident to the trusteeship.

(d) One member of a partnership may execute a power of attorney in the name of the partnership for the transaction of all its customs business, except the execution of sealed instruments. Such power shall recite the names of all members of the partnership and shall be limited to a period of not more than 2 years from the date of receipt of the power by the collector. When a new firm is formed by a change of membership, no power of attorney filed by the antecedent firm shall thereafter be recognized for any customs purpose. A customs power of attorney given by a partnership for the execution of sealed instruments shall be signed and sealed by each partner.

(e) A power of attorney shall not be required when the person signing customs documents on behalf of a resident corporation is known to the collector to be the president, vice president, treasurer, or secretary of the corporation. When a power of attorney is required for a resident corporation, it shall be executed by a person duly authorized for such purpose, and a certificate of the secretary, assistant secretary, or other corporate officer, but not the person executing the power, showing the authority of such officer or person to execute the power of attorney shall be executed under seal as follows:

CERTIFICATE

I, _____, certify that I am the _____ of _____, organized under the laws of the State of _____; that _____, who signed this power of attorney on behalf of the donor, is the _____ of the said corporation; and that said power of attorney was duly signed, sealed, and attested for and in behalf of said corporation by authority of its governing body as the same appears in a resolution of the Board of Directors passed at a regular meeting held on the _____ day of _____, now in my possession or custody. I further certify that the resolution is in accordance with the articles of incorporation and by-laws of said corporation.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said corporation, at the City of _____ this _____ day of _____, 19____.

A power of attorney executed by a nonresident corporation shall be supported by the following documents which, except the certificate of incorporation, shall be certified as correct by the secretary of the corporation under its corporate seal: (1) a certificate from the proper public officer of the country showing the legal existence of the corporation, (2) a copy of that portion of the charter or articles of incorporation which shows the scope of the business of the corporation and the governing body thereof, (3) if the authority of the grantor is derived from the charter or articles of incorporation, there shall be filed also a copy of that portion thereof which contains such authority or, if the authority of the grantor is derived from the governing body, there shall be filed a copy of the by-laws or other document which authorizes the governing body to designate others to appoint agents or attorneys, together with a copy of the resolution, minutes, or other document by which the governing body conferred the authority on the grantor.

(f) No declaration executed by the attorney in fact of a corporation shall be accepted unless his power of attorney specifically authorizes him to make such a declaration.

(g) A power of attorney filed by one who is not a resident of the United States shall not be accepted unless the agent designated thereby is a resident of the United States and is authorized to accept service of process against such nonresident.

[26] See § 17.2 of this chapter.

[26a] The following is an example of an acceptable general power of attorney with unlimited authority:

Know all men by these presents, that _____,
(Name of principal)
(State legal designation, such as corporation, individual, etc.)
residing at _____ and doing business under the laws of the State of _____ hereby appoints _____
(Name, legal designation, and address)
as a true and lawful agent and attorney of the principal named above with full power and authority to do and perform every lawful act and thing the said agent and attorney may deem requisite and necessary to be done for and on behalf of the said principal without limitation of any kind as fully as said principal could do if present and acting, and hereby ratify and confirm all that said agent and attorney shall lawfully do or cause to be done by virtue of these presents until and including _____, or until notice of revocation in writing is duly given before that date.

(h) When a power of attorney which is not limited to acts transacted at a specified port has ben filed and it is desired to use it at another port, the collector at the port where it is filed, upon request of the collector at the other port or upon request from the person, firm, or corporation which executed the power, shall forward a certified copy thereof to the collector at the second port. Any expense in connection with the preparation of such documents shall be borne by the parties in interest.

(i) Unless a power of attorney specifies that it authorizes the donee to act thereunder in all customs collection districts, the number of each district in which the donee is authorized to act thereunder shall be stated. The donor shall file a power of attorney in a sufficient number of copies for distribution to each district in which the donee is to act. The collector of customs with whom a power of attorney is filed, irrespective of whether his district is named therein, shall approve it, if it is in the correct form and the provisions of this section are complied with, and forward any copies intended for other districts to the districts in which the donee is to act.

(j) An individual (but not a partnership, association, or corporation) who is not a regular importer may appoint a relative as his agent for customs purposes by executing a power of attorney applicable to a single non-commercial shipment by writing, printing, or stamping and subscribing on the invoice, or a separate paper attached thereto, the following statement:

is hereby authorized to execute, as an agent who has knowledge of the facts, pursuant to the provisions of section 485 (f), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, the consignee's and owner's declarations provided for in section 485 (a) and (d), Tariff Act of 1930, and to enter on my behalf or for my account the goods described in the attached invoice which contains a true and complete statement of the facts concerning this shipment.

Date _____, 19___.

(k) For the purposes of this section "resident" shall mean an individual who resides within, or a partnership, one or more of whose partners reside within, the customs territory of the United States or the Virgin Islands, or a corporation incorporated in any State, Territory, or possession within the customs territory of the United States or in the Virgin Islands.

§ 8.20 Incomplete entry; bonds for the production of documents.

Unless otherwise prescribed in the regulations in this part, a bond may be given on the appropriate form for the production of any required document which is not available at the time of entry.

§ 8.21 Estimation of duties; classification.

(a) When the entry is filed, the classification and values stated therein shall be compared with the description and values in the invoice and the proper amount of duties estimated by the customs officer designated to accept entries.

(b) The rates of duty at which the entry is passed and the appropriate paragraphs shall be noted by the importer with black ink in the left-hand margin of the invoice.

§ 8.22 Designation of merchandise to be examined.

(a) Pursuant to section 499, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[27] the collector shall designate in the appropriate spaces on customs Form 6417 and with respect to each invoice, the packages to be examined and the place where the examination is to be made if elsewhere than at the public stores. The designation of packages for examination shall be by marks and numbers or, whether or not the packages bear marks and numbers, by minimum percentages of packages or quantities, as may be determined by the collector. He shall also indicate the examination packages on the permit and, if he deems it necessary, on the entry. The order for examination on customs Form 6417 shall be signed by the collector, the assistant collector, a deputy collector, or a customs officer officially acting as such. If the merchandise is bulky, inflammable, explosive, or dangerous, the collector shall direct examination on the wharf or at any other suitable place, subject to the approval of the appraiser. When merchandise is to be gauged, measured, or weighed, the collector shall so indicate on the invoice, the permit, and, if he deems it necessary, on the entry. As to the designation for examination of merchandise to be released under immediate delivery permits, see § 8.59(c).

(b) When a portion of a zone lot of nonprivileged foreign merchandise, covered by one invoice, the contents and value of packages of which are uniform or the merchandise is identical as to character and value although differing as to quantity and aggregate value per package, has been entered and packages or quantities thereof have been designated for examination for customs purposes, the collector with the concurrence of the appraiser may, if they consider an examination unnecessary, permit subsequent entries for consumption from such zone lot of merchandise to be made by the same importer at the same port of entry on the basis of the first examination. Each subsequent entry of a portion of such a zone lot of merchandise shall identify the first consumption entry made by the importer of a portion of the lot.

§ 8.23 Release of merchandise.

(a) The release order issued by the carrier under the provisions of section 484 (j), Tariff Act of 1930,[28] shall be executed on customs Form 7529 if a carrier's certificate is used in making entry, unless it is included in the official entry form or unless a combined carrier's certificate and release order as described in § 8.6 (e) has been furnished. When a certified duplicate bill of lading is used for entry purposes under the provisions of section 484 (i), Tariff Act of 1930, the carrier's release order may be endorsed thereon and shall be in substantially the following form:

In accordance with the provisions of section 484 (j), Tariff Act of 1930, authority is hereby given to release the articles covered by this certified duplicate bill of lading to:

[27] "Imported merchandise, required by law or regulations made in pursuance thereof to be inspected, examined, or appraised, shall not be delivered from customs custody, except under such bond or other security as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury to assure compliance with all applicable laws, regulations, and instructions which the Secretary of the Treasury or the Customs Service is authorized to enforce, until it has been inspected, examined, or appraised and is reported by the appraiser to have been truly and correctly invoiced and found to comply with the requirements of the laws of the United States. The collector shall designate the packages or quantities covered by any invoice or entry which are to be opened and examined for the purpose of appraisement or otherwise and shall order such packages or quantities to be sent to the public stores or other places for such purpose. Not less than one package of every invoice and not less than one package of every ten packages of merchandise, shall be so designated unless the Secretary of the Treasury, from the character and description of the merchandise, is of the opinion that the examination of a less proportion of packages will amply protect the revenue and by special regulation or instruction, the application of which may be restricted to one or more individual ports or to one or more importations or one or more classes of merchandise, permit a less number of packages to be examined. All such special regulations or instructions shall be published in the weekly Treasury Decisions within fifteen days after issuance and before the liquidation of any entries affected thereby. The collector or the appraiser may require such additional packages or quantities as either of them may deem necessary. If any package is found by the appraiser to contain any article not specified in the invoice and he reports to the collector that in his opinion such article was omitted from the invoice with fraudulent intent on the part of the seller, shipper, owner, or agent, the contents of the entire package in which such article is found shall be liable to seizure, but if the appraiser reports that no such fraudulent intent is apparent then the value of said article shall be added to the entry and the duties thereon paid accordingly. If a deficiency is found in quantity, weight, or measure in the examination of any package, report thereof shall be made to the collector, who shall make allowance therefor in the liquidation of duties • • •." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 499, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1499)

[28] Merchandise shall be released from customs custody only to or upon the order of the carrier by whom the merchandise is brought to the port at which entry is made, except that merchandise in a bonded warehouse shall be released from customs custody only to or upon the order of the proprietor of the warehouse. • • •." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 484 (j); 19 U. S. C. 1484 (j))

This order may be qualified as follows:

(1) "For transfer to the bonded warehouse designated in the warehouse entry," if the merchandise is entered for warehousing.

(2) "For transfer to the bonded carrier designated in the transportation entry," if the merchandise is entered for transportation in bond.

(3) "For transfer to the carrier designated in the export entry," if the merchandise is entered for exportation.

(b) A release order from the proprietor of a bonded warehouse covering merchandise therein shall be substantially in the same form.

(c) The merchandise may be released to the person named in the bill of lading in the absence of a specific release order from the carrier, provided the carrier concerned shall have filed a blanket order authorizing release to the consignee in such cases.

(d) The release order at the bottom of customs Form 7529 may be modified and executed to make it a blanket release order for the shipments covered by a blanket carrier's certificate as provided for by § 8.6 (f).

(Sec. 484, 46 Stat. 722, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1484)

§ 8.24 Release of merchandise in customs custody after liquidation; merchandise refused by consignee.

(a) No merchandise remaining in customs custody after liquidation of the entry shall be released until the full amount of liquidated duties has been paid. When duties are unpaid, the collector shall not permit one importation to pass out of his custody with a view of holding a lien upon a subsequent importation.

(b) Merchandise consigned to anyone without his authority and refused by him shall be treated as unclaimed.

§ 8.25 Liens for freight, charges, or contribution in general average.

(a) A notice filed with the collector pursuant to section 564, Tariff Act of 1930,[29] of lien for freight, charges, or contribution in general average[30] shall be on customs Form 3485, signed by the authorized agent of the carrier and certified by him.

(b) When the cargo of a vessel is subject to contribution in general average, a preliminary notice thereof may be filed with the collector and individual notices of lien filed thereafter. Upon receipt of a preliminary notice, the collector shall withhold release of any merchandise imported in the vessel for 2 days (exclusive of Sunday and holidays) after such merchandise is taken into customs custody, unless proof is submitted that the claim for contribution in general average has been paid or secured.

(c) A notice of lien upon goods entered for immediate transportation shall be filed by the carrier with the collector of customs at destination.

(d) No notice of lien against goods shall be accepted by the collector after their forefeiture under any provision of law; nor after they are sold pursuant to section 491 or 559, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended; nor after customs release; nor, in the case of goods abandoned to the Government under section 506 (1) or 563 (b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, after the receipt and acceptance of the notice of abandonment. Any notice of lien received thereafter shall be returned with a statement thereon as to the reason for rejection. The acceptance of any notice of lien shall not in any manner affect the order of disposition and accounting for the proceeds of sales of forfeited and abandoned property provided for in §§ 15.6, 20.6, and 23.20 of this chapter.

(e) The collector shall not adjudicate any dispute respecting the validity of any lien, but when the amount of such lien depends upon the quantity or weight of merchandise actually landed, the collector shall hold the lien satisfied upon the payment of an amount computed upon the basis of the report made by the United States appraiser, weigher, or gauger.

(f) When any doubt exists as to the validity of a lien filed with the collector, he may exact a bond of indemnity to save him harmless from any personal liability which may result from withholding the release of the goods.

(g) Proof that the lien has been satisfied or discharged shall consist of a written release or receipt signed by the claimant and filed with the collector, showing payment of the claim in full.

§ 8.26 Recall of merchandise released from customs custody; requests of appraiser for additional packages or quantities.

(a) If at any time after entry the collector determines, either from the appraiser's report or otherwise, that any merchandise contained in an importation is for any reason not entitled to admission into the commerce of the United States, he shall promptly demand the return to customs custody of any such merchandise which has been released. The demand for the return of the merchandise shall be by letter, or on customs Form 3483 or other appropriate form.

(b) If the appraiser desires additional packages or quantities of merchandise for the purpose of examination, inspection, or appraisement, he shall notify the importer on customs Form 3483 to deliver them to the appraiser's stores or other place designated by him. If the request of the appraiser is not promptly complied with, he shall request the collector to make a demand under the appropriate bond for the return of the merchandise to customs custody.

(c) At any time before the appraiser's report of appraisement the collector may demand the return to customs custody of such additional packages or quantities of merchandise as the appraiser may desire, pursuant to section 499, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and paragraph (b) of this section, for the purpose of examination, inspection, or appraisement. The demand shall be by letter or on customs Form 3483 or other appropriate form. The collector may also demand the return to customs custody of any merchandise for the purpose of requiring it to be marked pursuant to the provisions of paragraph 367 or 368, or section 304, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended. The demand for this purpose shall be on customs Form 4647, not later than 20 days after the appraiser's report of appraisement.

(d) The demand for redelivery to customs custody for any purpose specified in this section shall be made on the actual owner, and not on the nominal consignee, if the latter has filed a superseding bond of the actual owner on customs Form 7601 before the date of a proper demand hereunder for redelivery for the purpose specified.

(e) The demand or notification shall be prepared in duplicate and the retained copy, with the date of mailing or delivery noted thereon, shall be made part of the entry record.

ENTRY FOR CONSUMPTION

§ 8.27 Form of entry.

Entry for consumption shall be made on customs Form 7501. Such entries shall be numbered in two separate series, one for dutiable consumption entries and the other for free consumption entries. The dutiable entries shall be made in triplicate, except that entries covering stainless steel table flatware and manufactures of cotton shall be in quintuple. Free entries shall be made in duplicate.

[29] "Whenever a collector of customs shall be notified in writing of the existence of a lien for freight, charges, or contribution in general average upon any imported merchandise sent to the appraiser's store for examination, entered for warehousing or taken possession of by him, he shall refuse to permit delivery thereof from public store or bonded warehouse until proof shall be produced that the said lien has been satisfied or discharged. The rights of the United States shall not be prejudiced or affected by the filing of such lien, nor shall the United States or its officers be liable for losses or damages consequent upon such refusal to permit delivery. If merchandise, regarding which such notice of lien has been filed, shall be forfeited or abandoned and sold, the freight, charges, or contribution in general average due thereon shall be paid from the proceeds of such sale in the same manner as other lawful charges and expenses are paid therefrom." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 564; 19 U. S. C. 1564)

[30] The term "freight" means the carrier's charge for the transportation of the goods from the place of shipment in the foreign country to final destination in the United States. The term "charges" means the charges due to or assumed by the claimant of the lien which are incident to the shipment and forwarding of the goods to destination in the United States, but does not include the purchase price, whether advanced or to be collected, nor other claims not connected with the transportation of the goods. "General average" means the liability to contribution of the owners of a cargo which arises when a sacrifice of a part of such cargo has been made for the preservation of the residue or when money is expended to preserve the whole. It only arises from actions impelled by necessity.

(a) When the importer desires the release from customs custody of any part of the merchandise before (1) the full amount of duties, including dumping or other special duties and charges, due thereon or the right to free entry has been ascertained by liquidation of the entry, (2) the right of such merchandise to admission into the United States has been determined by the proper officer, or (3) any document relating thereto required by law or regulations has been furnished, he shall, except as hereinafter indicated, file a bond on customs Form 7551, 7553, or other appropriate form, at the time of entry or prior to such release.[31] Such a bond shall not be required when all the merchandise in an importation has remained in customs custody at the public stores or on the wharf or other place in charge of a customs officer until it has been inspected, examined, and appraised, and has been found to comply with all laws and regulations governing its admission into the commerce of the United States, and until there have been produced all documents for the production of which a bond is required by law or regulations if not filed at time of entry.

(b) The estimated duties, if any, having been deposited as required by section 505, Tariff Act of 1930,[32] and the bond filed, a permit on customs Form 7501-A shall be issued and delivered to the importer or his agent, to be by him sent to the inspector in charge of the merchandise, who shall release to or upon the order of the carrier that part of the merchandise not designated for examination: Provided, That the collector may authorize the appraiser to permit an examiner to release both examined and unexamined packages in a shipment examined by such officer at a place not in charge of a customs officer, when this can be done without any real interference with the performance of the examiner's regular duties.

(c) Estimated duties need not be deposited when a shipment is entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption by a United States Government department or agency, or an authorized representative thereof. In such case a stipulation in the following form shall be furnished in lieu of any bond provided for in Part 25 of this chapter:

I, ----------, ----------, a duly authorized representative of the ---------- (Title) (Name of United States Government department or agency)

stipulate and agree on behalf of such department or agency that all applicable provisions of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and the regulations thereunder, and of all other laws and regulations, relating to ---------- entry No. ----, of ----------, will be observed and complied with in all respects.

After liquidation of the entry, the collector shall bill the proper department or agency on Standard Form 1080 for any duties or charges due the Government.

§ 8.29 Release of packages.

(a) Merchandise which has not been designated for examination shall be released from customs custody in accordance with the provisions of § 8.28.

(b) Merchandise designated for examination may be released after examination has been completed if it has been found to be truly and correctly invoiced, is entitled to admission into the commerce of the United States, and its release is not precluded by any law or regulation. The collector may designate an appraising officer to effect the release of examined packages. See § 8.28(b).

(c) If the examiner believes that the entered rate or value of any merchandise is too low, or if he finds that the quantity imported exceeds the entered quantity, and the estimated aggregate of the increase in duties in the shipment exceeds $15, he shall promptly notify the importer of record on every shipment on customs Form 5555, specifying the nature of the difference on the notice. The report of appraisement shall not be withheld unless in the judgment of the appraiser there are compelling reasons that would warrant such action.

(d) If either the nominal consignee (importer of record) or the actual owner whose declaration and superseding bond have been filed in accordance with § 8.18 (d) desires, he may estimate, on the basis of information contained in the entry papers or obtainable from the examiner, the probable amount of unpaid duties or taxes which will be found due on the entire shipment and deposit them in whole or in part with the collector. The deposit shall be tendered in writing by the importer of record or the actual owner in the following form in the number of copies required for the purposes of local administration.

ENTRY FOR WAREHOUSE

§ 8.30 Form and contents; articles entitled to entry.[33]

(a) Entry for warehousing shall be made in duplicate on customs Form 7502 except that in the case of stainless steel table flatware and manufactures of cotton, it shall be in quintuple. The collector may require an extra copy or copies of customs Form 7502-A (Warehouse or Rewarehouse Permit) to be furnished for use in connection with the delivery of the merchandise to the bonded warehouse designated on the entry.

(b) The importer shall designate upon the entry the bonded warehouse in which he desires his merchandise deposited and the bonded cartman or lighterman by whom he wishes the goods transferred.

(c) Dangerous and highly inflammable merchandise, though not classified as explosive, shall not be entered for warehouse without the written consent of the insurance company insuring the warehouse in which the merchandise is to be stored.

(d) The procedure to be followed in connection with the preparation and filing of the entry, making notations on invoices, the preparation of customs Form 6417, the designation of examination packages, and the appraisement of the merchandise shall be the same as that prescribed for a consumption entry, except that, when packages which are not uniform in contents, quantities, values, or rates of duties or taxes are grouped together as one item on an entry, a specification sheet or sheets (original only) shall be furnished with the entry, listing separately opposite the identification mark or number of each package the quantity of each class of merchandise therein, the entered value of each class, and the rate or rates of duty or taxes claimed therefor, unless one withdrawal is to be filed for all the merchandise covered by the entry.

(e) A warehouse entry may be substituted for a consumption entry covering merchandise which has remained in continuous customs custody. In such a case, the superseded consumption entry shall be liquidated for refund of any estimated duties deposited without awaiting liquidation of the warehouse entry. All copies of the warehouse entry shall bear the following notation:

This entry is in substitution of consumption entry No, ------, dated ----------, 19----.

[31] "Imported merchandise, required by law or regulations made in pursuance thereof to be inspected, examined, or appraised, shall not be delivered from customs custody, except under such bond or other security as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury to assure compliance with all applicable laws, regulations, and instructions which the Secretary of the Treasury or the Customs Service is authorized to enforce, until it has been inspected, examined, or appraised and is reported by the appraiser to have been truly and correctly invoiced and found to comply with the requirements of the laws of the United States. * * *" (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 499, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1499)

[32] "The consignee shall deposit with the collector, at the time of making entry, unless the merchandise is entered for warehouse or transportation, or under bond, the amount of duty estimated to be payable thereon. * * *" (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 505; 19 U. S. C. 1505)

[33] Any merchandise subject to duty, with the exception of perishable articles and explosive substances other than firecrackers, may be entered for warehousing and be deposited in a bonded warehouse at the expense and risk of the owner, importer, or consignee. * * *" (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 557 (a), as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1557 (a))

(f) Conditionally free merchandise, the right of which to free entry has not been established because of the absence of required documents or other cause, may be entered for warehouse and be withdrawn under the appropriate provision of law within the 3-year warehousing period.

§ 8.31 Estimation of duties; bond.

(a) After the duty has been estimated upon the warehouse entry, the collector shall require a bond on customs Form 7555, or other appropriate form, unless there is on file a general term bond of the consignee.

(b) The bond having been executed, the goods, except such as may be designated for examination, shall be sent to the bonded warehouse.

§ 8.32 Liability of importers and sureties.

(a) The importer of goods entered for warehousing is liable for the payment of increased duties not only as principal on the warehouse entry bond but also by reason of his personal liability as consignee. Under the first condition of the warehouse entry bond, the sureties on the bond shall be held liable for the payment of duties and customs charges not paid by the principal on the bond, whether such duties and charges are finally ascertained before the merchandise is withdrawn from customs custody or thereafter.

(b) Upon the transfer of the right to withdraw goods from a bonded warehouse, as provided for in section 557 (b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (see § 8.39), the transferor and his sureties shall be relieved from all undischarged liability for the payment of duties, taxes imposed upon or by reason of importation, charges, and exaction with respect to the merchandise the subject of the transfer, but shall remain bound by all other obligations of the bond filed by the transferor which are not assumed in the bond filed by the transferee.

(c) There shall be no abatement or allowance of duties on account of damage, loss, or deterioration of the merchandise while in warehouse, except as provided for by statute.

(Sec. 557, 46 Stat. 744, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1557)

ENTRY FOR REWAREHOUSE

§ 8.33 Procedure.

(a) After arrival of the merchandise and receipt of the mail copy of the warehouse withdrawal for transportation, customs Form 7512, at the port of destination, the merchandise may be entered for rewarehouse by the consignee named in the withdrawal. The entry shall be on customs Form 7502 and shall be filed in duplicate. The collector may require an extra copy or copies of customs Form 7502–A (Warehouse or Rewarehouse Permit) to be furnished for use in connection with the delivery of the merchandise to the bonded warehouse designated on the entry. Separate shipments consigned to the same consignee and received under separate withdrawals for transportation shall not be combined in one rewarehouse entry unless the warehouse withdrawals are from the same original warehouse entry. If the merchandise is not entered before the expiration of 5 days after its arrival, it shall be sent to the general-order warehouse but shall not be sold or otherwise disposed of as unclaimed until the expiration of the original warehouse entry bond period.

(b) No declaration is required on entry. Any examination necessary for identification of the merchandise, determination of shortages, or other purposes shall be made.

(c) When a bond on customs Form 7555 or other appropriate form shall have been given, a permit may be issued on customs Form 7502–A for sending the merchandise to the bonded warehouse designated on the entry. No entry bond shall be required if the merchandise is entered by the consignee named in the original warehouse entry bond filed at the original port of entry or if it is entered by a transferee whose right to withdraw the merchandise has been established in accordance with § 8.39.

§ 8.34 Value and classification; protest.

(a) Except in the cases provided for in § 16.10(h) of this chapter, the duties determined at the port where the original warehouse entry was filed shall be the duties chargeable under the rewarehouse entry or entry for rewarehouse and withdrawal for consumption.

(b) A protest may be filed at the port of destination against a liquidation made at that port under § 16.10 (h) of this chapter or against the refusal of the collector at that port to liquidate pursuant to § 16.10 (h) of this chapter.

COMBINED ENTRY FOR REWAREHOUSE AND WITHDRAWAL FOR CONSUMPTION

§ 8.35 Form; procedure.

(a) If the consignee of merchandise withdrawn from warehouse for transportation desires to pay duty and obtain possession of the goods immediately on arrival at destination, a combined entry for rewarehouse and withdrawal for consumption shall be made on customs Form 7519 in quadruplicate, one copy to be used as the permit.

(b) In such a case no rewarehouse entry bond shall be required if the merchandise is entered by the consignee named in the original warehouse entry bond filed at the port of original entry for warehousing, or by a transferee whose right to withdraw the merchandise has been established in accordance with § 8.39. Upon payment of the duties and any taxes in the amounts certified on the withdrawal for transportation to be payable, the collector shall issue a permit for release on customs Form 7519.

(c) No declaration is required on the combined entry. Any examination necessary for identification of the merchandise, determination of shortages, or other purposes shall be made.

EXPORTATION UNDER WAREHOUSE WITHDRAWAL FOR TRANSPORTATION

§ 8.36 Procedure.

A consignee of merchandise withdrawn from warehouse for transportation who desires to export the shipment on arrival at destination shall so advise the collector at destination in writing. The collector shall thereupon make a proper notation on the entry and manifest and permit the exportation of the merchandise under customs supervision. The subsequent procedure shall be the same as that prescribed for warehouse or rewarehouse withdrawals for transportation and exportation.

(Sec. 557, 46 Stat. 744, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1557)

WITHDRAWAL AT ORIGINAL OR SECONDARY PORT FOR CONSUMPTION

§ 8.37 Withdrawal; form and contents.

(a) Withdrawals for consumption of merchandise in bonded warehouses shall be filed in triplicate on customs Form 7505 (in quadruplicate at the port of New York).[34] No new declaration of the consignee or agent is required, but if a nominal consignee has produced a valid owner's declaration in accordance with section 485(d), Tariff Act of 1930, the withdrawal shall be made only by the owner of the merchandise. The withdrawal shall show the number of the bond, the marks and numbers of the packages withdrawn, the carrier and date of importation, the description, quantity, rates of duty, separate value of each package, and total dutiable value of the merchandise, and shall be signed by the person making the withdrawal, except that in the case of merchandise in packages which are uniform in kind, quantity, value, and duty the number of each package to be withdrawn need not be shown on the withdrawal if the lowest and the highest numbers in the number series of such packages are shown. In the case of stainless steel table flatware or articles manufactured from cotton, the description shall reflect any correction thereof reported after the filing of the warehouse entry.

(b) Each withdrawal filed shall have indicated thereon, preferably in the top margin toward the right-hand corner, a summary statement of the account to which it is related. The statement shall indicate (1) the quantity (i. e., number of outer containers, or tons, etc.) in the warehouse account before the withdrawal, (2) the amount included on the particular withdrawal, and (3) the quantity remaining in warehouse after the withdrawal. The quantity in each instance aforementioned, although it may include a group of varied units, such as boxes, cases, or cartons, and may consist of more than one commodity, such as distilled spirits, chinaware, etc., may be shown as a cumulative total. When all or a portion of an original lot is transferred to a new owner, withdrawals by the transferee shall show only the quantity transferred, the quantity withdrawn by the transferee, and the transferred quantity remaining in warehouse. In such case, the quantity retained by the original importer and the quantity transferred shall be treated as separate accounts. (See § 8.39.)

§ 8.38 Withdrawal; when completed.

When the duties and other charges have been paid, a permit on customs Form 7505–A shall be issued and delivered to the person making the warehouse withdrawal. When the permit is presented to the customs warehouse officer, he shall release the merchandise to or upon the order of the proprietor of the warehouse in accordance with § 19.6 of this chapter, unless the person making the withdrawal requests, by endorsement on the permit, that release be withheld subject to the provisions of § 20.3(c) of this chapter until he shall have presented to the customs warehouse officer an order to release on customs Form 7505–B. If partial release is desired, the order may cover only part of the merchandise specified in the permit, but not less than an entire package, or, if in bulk, 1 ton in weight. Proprietors may be permitted to make copies of permits and orders to release.

§ 8.39 Withdrawal by transferee.

(a) Except as provided for in paragraph (c) of this section or in § 10.60(b) or 18.16(a) of this chapter, a transfer of the right to withdraw merchandise entered for warehousing[35] shall be established by an endorsement made in the space provided therefor on customs Form 7505, authorizing the withdrawal by a designated transferee, and the deposit of the endorsed document, properly executed in all respects, together with a bond of the designated transferee on customs Form 7555 or other appropriate form, with the customs officer designated to receive such document and bond. Such endorsement shall be made by the person primarily liable, immediately before the endorsed document is so deposited, for duties on the merchandise the subject of the transfer, i. e., the person who made the warehouse or rewarehouse entry or a transferee of the withdrawal right of such a person. The transferee's bond shall include an obligation to pay, with respect to the merchandise the subject of the transfer, all unpaid regular, increased, and additional duties, all unpaid taxes imposed upon or by reason of importation, and all unpaid charges and exactions.

(b) The endorsed Form 7505 and transferee's bond may be deposited by either the transferor or the transferee.

(c) If the transferor desires to do so, he may endorse Form 7505 to authorize the right to withdraw the merchandise specified thereon but leave the space for the name of the transferee blank. A holder of a Form 7505 so endorsed and otherwise fully executed may insert his own name in the blank space in the endorsement, deposit such form with his transferee's bond in the customhouse, and thereby establish his right to withdraw the merchandise.

(d) At any time within the warehousing period after compliance with paragraph (a) or (c) of this section, or concurrently with such compliance, a transferee may withdraw all or any part of the merchandise covered by the transfer by filing any authorized kind of withdrawal from warehouse in proper form and otherwise complying with the law and regulations pertinent to the kind of withdrawal filed. Each withdrawal of any type filed by the transferee shall contain a summary statement thereon indicating the quantity on hand in the transferee's name before the withdrawal, the amount withdrawn on the particular withdrawal, and the quantity remaining in the warehouse to the credit of the transferee, if any. (See § 8.37.)

(e) The right of a transferee to withdraw the merchandise may not be revoked by the transferor, but may be retransferred by the transferee.

§ 8.40 Withdrawals before and after liquidation.

(a) Merchandise may be withdrawn for consumption before liquidation of the warehouse entry upon payment of the estimated duties, and after liquidation upon payment of the liquidated duties.

(b) If there is a difference of $3 or more between the total estimated duties deposited and the total liquidated duties accruing on merchandise withdrawn for consumption before the liquidation or reliquidation of the warehouse entry, a notice shall be issued promptly on customs Form 5107 or customs Form 5269, as the case may be, and such difference shall be collected or refunded.

(c) In the computation of duty on a warehouse withdrawal, ad valorem rates shall be applied to the value in even dollars, fractional parts of a dollar less than 50 cents being disregarded and 50 cents or more being considered as $1. If the rate of duty upon the goods withdrawn is specific and $1 or less per unit, fractional quantities of less than one-half shall be disregarded, and one-half or more shall be treated as a whole unit. If the specific rate is more than $1 per unit, duty shall be assessed upon the exact quantity and the fractional part thereof, if any, expressed in the form of a decimal extended to two places. Any necessary adjustment shall be made on the final withdrawal by increasing or decreasing the amount to be collected to bring the aggregate payments into balance with the amount due as indicated by the liquidation of the warehouse or rewarehouse entry.

WITHDRAWAL AT ORIGINAL OR SECONDARY PORT FOR EXPORTATION

§ 8.41 Form and contents; goods not laden.

(a) Merchandise may be withdrawn from warehouse at original and secondary ports for exportation in accordance with § 18.19 of this chapter.[36]

[35] "(b) The right to withdraw any merchandise entered in accordance with subsection (a) of this section for the purposes specified in such subsection may be transferred upon compliance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury and upon the filing by the transferee of a bond in such amount and containing such conditions as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe. The bond shall include an obligation to pay, with respect to the merchandise the subject of the transfer, all unpaid regular, increased, and additional duties, all unpaid taxes imposed upon or by reason of importation, and all unpaid charges and exactions. Such transfers shall be irrevocable, shall relieve the transferor from all customs liability with respect to obligations assumed by the transferee under the bond herein provided for, and shall confer upon the transferee all rights to the privileges provided for in this section and in sections 562 and 563 of this Act which were vested in the transferor prior to the transfer. The transferee shall also have the right to receive all lawful refunds of moneys paid by him to the United States with respect to the merchandise the subject of the transfer, but shall have no right to file any protest under section 514 of this Act except as to decisions with respect to his rights under subsection (c) of this section or under section 562 or 563 of this Act or against a decision as to the rate or amount of duty, tax, charge, or exaction when such rate or amount has been changed by statute or proclamation on or after the date of the transfer. The transferee shall have no right to file an appeal for reappraisement under section 501 of this Act, except when subsequent to the transfer and before a withdrawal for consumption has been deposited for the merchandise, it has been changed in condition pursuant to the provisions of section 562 or 311 of this Act in a manner which necessitates that it be appraised in its changed condition in order that the correct amount of duties may be assessed. No new or separate liquidation, reliquidation, or determination shall be made in the name of, or on behalf of, a transferee, except with regard to any matter which may arise under subsection (c) of this section or section 562 or 563 of this Act when the transferee has invoked either of these sections, and in the case of a statuory or proclaimed change in the rate of duty, tax, charge, or exaction applicable to the merchandise the subject of the transfer and effective on or after the date of the transfer. A transferee may further transfer the right to withdraw merchandise, subject to the provisions of this subsection relating to original transfers." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 557 (b), as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1557 (b))

Section 21 (b), Customs Simplification Act of 1953 (67 Stat. 520), provides that the above-quoted provisions of section 557 (b), Tariff Act of 1930, shall be effective with respect to merchandise entered after August 8, 1953, and to merchandise which was entered before that date and is the subject of a transfer within the purview of the amended section 557 (b) and made after August 8, 1953.

[36] "Any merchandise subject to duty, with the exception of perishable articles and explosive substances other than firecrackers,

(b) If exported by other than the original importer, the same authority shall be required as in case of withdrawal for consumption. The exportation shall be made under the original marks of importation. Port marks may be added by authority of the collector and under the supervision of a customs officer. The original and the port marks shall appear in all customs papers pertaining to the exportation.

(c) Goods withdrawn for exportation but not laden shall be sent to general order unless other disposition is directed by the collector.

(d) Withdrawals for transportation and exportation may be converted to withdrawals for consumption upon request to the collector of customs at the port of origin.

§ 8.43 Weight, gauge, or measure.

(a) Merchandise in bulk and packaged articles which are customarily bought and sold by weight, gauge, or measure may be withdrawn for exportation or transportation only at the actual quantities ascertained at the time of original entry for warehouse, except as otherwise provided for by law.

(b) In any case the collector may require a special report of weight, gauge, or measure of the merchandise being exported if he deems it necessary.

§ 8.45 Parcel-post packages.

Merchandise in bonded warehouse may be withdrawn for exportation by mail in accordance with the provisions of § 9.11 of this chapter.

(Sec. 557, 46 Stat. 744, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1557)

ORES; CRUDE COPPER-BEARING MATERIALS; CRUDE METALS

§ 8.46 Entry and sampling of ores and crude metals not for smelting in bond.

(a) When ores or crude metals are entered for consumption or warehousing at the port of first arrival, they shall be sampled for assay and moisture purposes in accordance with commercial methods under the supervision of customs officers, as provided for in § 8.48. An extra copy of the entry shall be filed at the time of entry for use by the collector in reporting for statistical purposes any changes in entered quantities and values. They shall be transported under bond to the place of sampling if proper sampling facilities are not available at the port of entry.

(b) The sampling and weighing of ores or crude metals at any place other than the port of entry shall be at the expense of the parties in interest.

§ 8.47 Entry and sampling of crude copper-bearing materials not for smelting or refining in bond.

With respect to the entry under I.R.C. section 4541 or 4542 of crude copper-bearing materials to be smelted, refined, or smelted and refined, but not in bond, and of copper-bearing ores and concentrates not for smelting or refining in bond, the procedure outlined in § 8.46 shall be followed. This procedure shall be followed also when the material is not imported primarily for the recovery of metal. If metallurgical losses are to be claimed, there shall be filed in connection with the entry the statement provided for in § 19.28(d) of this chapter and such allowances shall be determined in the manner provided for in § 19.28.

§ 8.48 Sampling and assaying.

(a) In the calculation of the dutiable quantity of imported ore or similar material, the sample used for the moisture test shall be representative of the importation at the time the importation is weighed for customs purposes. The percentage of moisture shall be determined in accordance with commercial methods by the customs chemist or, if the merchandise is in a bonded smelting or refining warehouse, by the customs chemist or customs warehouse officer. The commercial settlement test for moisture may be used as the basis for duty assessment in appropriate cases. See paragraph (f) of this section.

(b) Representative commercial assay samples taken under customs supervision shall be selected by the customs officer for assay by the customs laboratory. When a shipment is made up of a number of lots a composite sample of the shipment shall be drawn for assay, provided composite sampling is feasible and assays of the individual lots are not required for tariff classification or other customs purpose. The composite sample shall consist of proportional parts by weight of the prepared sample drawn from the various lots represented and shall be thoroughly mixed.

(c) Where the procedure outlined in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section cannot be followed, the importer shall be required to furnish a verified commercial moisture sample and prepared assay sample certified to be representative of the importation at the time the importation was weighed for customs purposes. The samples shall be in appropriate containers, properly labeled, and shall be accompanied by a statement including entry number, lots represented, kind of ore, date and place where sampling occurred, and the name and address of the sampling concern. The samples shall be forwarded promptly to the customs laboratory for analysis.

(d) Where no commercial samples have been taken, the customs officer shall take and send to the customs laboratory representative samples from different parts of the importation.

(e) A suitable place or container shall be provided for the safekeeping of all customs samples under Government lock or seal.

(f) Customs officers may secure from the importer a certified copy of the commercial settlement test for moisture. This result shall be transmitted with the commercial moisture sample to the customs laboratory where it shall be compared with the result shown by the customs moisture test. If the two results are not in substantial agreement, the chief chemist of the customs laboratory shall review his test. The import entries shall be liquidated on the basis of the result shown by the customs moisture test, except that the settlement moisture test shall be the basis of duty assessment if, in the opinion of the chief chemist, the settlement and customs tests differ with respect to the percentage of moisture contained in the importation at the time of weighing by no more than is to be expected between qualified laboratories and provided further that the use of such commercial moisture test will not require a different tariff classification or rate of duty than is indicated by the customs test.

(g) Customs officers may secure from the importer a certified copy of the commercial settlement assay results which shall be transmitted with the commercial sample to the customs laboratory, where it shall be compared with the results shown by the customs assay. If the two results are not in substantial agreement, the chief chemist of the customs laboratory shall review his assay. The import entries shall be liquidated on the basis of the results shown by the customs assay, except that the settlement assay shall be the basis of duty assessment if, in the opinion of the chief chemist, the settlement and customs assays differ with respect to the percentage of dutiable metal content by no more than is to be expected between qualified laboratories and provided further that the use of such commercial assay will not require a different tariff classification or rate of duty than is indicated by the customs assay.

(h) When the ores or crude metals assayed are of a class or kind which is ordinarily smelted or converted, the collector, in the liquidation of the entry, shall make a deduction of one and one-half units for lead and one and one-third units for copper from the lead content and copper content, respectively, as reported by the laboratory, if such deductions are ordinarily provided for in the contracts and settlement papers under which such ores and crude metals are bought and sold.

ENTRY FOR EXPORTATION, ENTRY BY APPRAISEMENT, INFORMAL ENTRIES, AND PACKED PACKAGES

§ 8.49 Entry for exportation; exportation of rejected merchandise.

(a) Merchandise in customs custody for which entry has not been completed and merchandise which has remained in continuous customs custody and is covered by an unliquidated consumption entry may be exported under the procedure outlined in §§ 18.25–18.27 of this chapter with refund of any estimated duties paid.

(b) If merchandise has been regularly entered or withdrawn for consumption in good faith and is thereafter found to be prohibited entry under any law of the United States, it may be exported under customs supervision in accordance with §§ 18.25 and 18.26 of this chapter with refund of any duties that have been paid.[35] (See § 15.5 of this chapter.)

(c) When merchandise to be exported from continuous customs custody is covered by a liquidated consumption entry under which duties have been assessed, the drawback procedure prescribed in §§ 22.27–22.30 of this chapter shall be followed.

§ 8.50 Entry by appraisement.

(a) Application for an entry by appraisement shall be made in triplicate on customs Form 7500.

(b) An application for an entry by appraisement may be approved by the collector without securing the approval of the Commissioner's office for articles described in section 498 (a), (2), (3), (4), (5), (7), or (8), Tariff Act of 1930.[36] As the value of articles of the following descriptions cannot be declared, an application for an entry by appraisement for any such articles pursuant to section 498 (a) (10),[36] Tariff Act of 1930, may be approved by the collector without the approval of the Commissioner's office:

(1) Articles which are second-hand;

(2) Articles which have become deteriorated or damaged before importation otherwise than as specified in section 498 (a) (2);

(3) Articles which are not the subject of a commercial transaction; and

(4) So-called overages or dock accumulations which cannot be identified with any particular shipment.

Entry by appraisement for articles not provided for above shall be allowed only with the approval of the Commissioner's office. Each request for such approval shall be filed in triplicate with the collector and shall state in detail the reasons for the request for entry by appraisement.

(c) An application for an entry by appraisement shall not be approved after the merchandise has been appraised or released from customs custody, nor for damaged merchandise when the damage occurs after importation.

(d) The consignee or owner shall in all cases furnish any bills or statements of cost relating to the articles which may be in his possession and a declaration that he has no other information as to the value of the articles and is unable to obtain such information or to determine the value of the articles for the purpose of making formal entry thereof.

(e) After submission, if acceptable, the application, together with any bills or statements relating to the cost or value of the merchandise, shall be forwarded to the appraiser, who shall report the result of his appraisement and his advisory classification of the merchandise thereon and return it with its attachments to the collector. Duties shall be assessed in accordance with the values reported by the appraiser; but the importer may substitute an entry for warehouse at any time within 1 year from the date of importation, provided the merchandise has remained in continuous customs custody.

(f) Any additional expense for cartage, storage, or labor occasioned by reason of an entry by appraisement shall be borne by the importer.

§ 8.51 Informal entries.[37]

(a) Merchandise not exceeding $250 in value, unless falling within the provisions of § 8.50, may be entered on a customs Form 5119 or 5119–A. The nonserially-numbered customs Form 5119 or 5119–A may be prepared by importers or their agents or by customs officers when it can be presented to a customs cashier or acting cashier for payment of duties and taxes and for numbering of the entry before the merchandise is examined by a customs officer. The serially-numbered customs Form 5119 or 5119–A must be prepared by customs officers when the merchandise is to be cleared at a time or place where there is no customs cashier or acting cashier. Each informal entry shall contain an adequate description of the merchandise and the number of the paragraph under which the merchandise is classified. This form may also be used for the entry of household or personal effects or tools of trade entitled to free entry under paragraph 1632, 1747, or 1798, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, but any such articles imported in the baggage of their owner shall ordinarily be included in his baggage declaration. This form may also be used for the entry of (1) books or other articles imported by a society, institution, school, or library and classifiable under paragraph 1631, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended; (2) effects not exceeding $250 in value of citizens of the United States dying abroad; and (3) household and personal effects as described in section 498(a)(4) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, when entered under paragraph 1615(g)(1) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and the value of the repairs or alterations thereto does not exceed $250. An informal entry may be prepared for any installment, not exceeding $250 in value, of a shipment arriving at different times and in such case need not be considered in connection with invoice requirements for the balance of the series or otherwise as an installment shipment within the purview of § 8.12.

(b) The estimated duties and taxes, if any, shall be deposited at the time the entry is presented and accepted by a customs officer, whether at the custom-house or elsewhere. If upon examination of the merchandise further duties or taxes are found due, they shall be deposited before release of the goods by customs. When the entry is presented elsewhere than where the merchandise is examined, the permit copy shall be delivered through proper channels to the customs officer who will examine the merchandise.

(c) The collector may, when he deems it necessary for the protection of the revenue, require a formal entry, customs Form 7501, for any such merchandise. Individual shipments for the same consignee, when such shipments are valued at $250 or less, may be consolidated on customs Form 7501.

(d) No special customs invoice is required but, in the case of merchandise imported pursuant to a purchase or agreement to purchase or intended for sale, the consignee shall produce the commercial invoice covering the transaction or, in the absence thereof, an itemized statement of value.

(e) The collector may, in his discretion, require any merchandise entered in accordance with this section to be regularly examined and appraised.

(a) Packed packages, which may be separately entered under the provisions of section 484(f), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[43] and § 8.8 (f), shall be marked to indicate that they are packed packages.

(b) Entire packed packages, or one or more of the enclosures thereof, may be entered on any form of formal or informal entry applicable thereto. No entry is required for parcels contained in packed packages where the individual parcel contains merchandise unconditionally free of duty and not exceeding $250 in value.

(Sec. 484, 46 Stat. 722, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1484)

LANDING AND DELIVERY OF ARTICLES FOR WHICH IMMEDIATE DELIVERY IS NECESSARY

§ 8.59 Application; entry; procedure.

(a) "Articles, the immediate delivery of which is necessary," for which special permits for delivery are authorized by section 448 (b), Tariff Act of 1930,[44] shall be construed to include, in addition to perishable articles, any other articles in connection with which it is definitely established that delay in securing release would occasion unusual loss or inconvenience to the importer or to the carrier bringing the merchandise to the port. The term "formal entry" in the said section 448 (b) means the process of making entry and does not specify a kind of entry.

(b) Special permits for the delivery of articles of a class referred to in paragraph (a) of this section prior to entry shall be granted only in cases where the collector of customs shall be satisfied that such delivery can be permitted with safety to the revenue.

(c) Applications for special permits for the delivery of imported articles prior to entry therefor shall be made in duplicate on customs Form 3461 and shall be supported by evidence satisfactory to the collector of the right of the applicant to make entry for the articles with respect to which the application is filed. Designations and orders for examination of merchandise to be released under immediate delivery permits may be made before the arrival of the merchandise by the collector, the assistant collector, a deputy collector, or a customs officer officially acting as one of the foregoing. Such designations and orders shall be made in the space provided therefor on the special permit, customs Form 3461, when possible, and the designations may be by minimum percentages of packages or quantities which shall be examined, unless the collector shall be of the opinion that the proper protection of the revenue requires packages to be otherwise designated for examination. Information as to particular packages designated for examination, when less than the total number of packages in the shipment, shall not be given or be accessible to anyone, other than the customs officers necessarily concerned prior to the arrival of the merchandise within the limits of the port. If the collector is satisfied that the conditions warrant such action, a special permit may be granted to cover the delivery prior to entry of a class or classes of articles particularly described in the application for such permit and imported during a period not to exceed 1 year. In such case the fact of release of the merchandise, together with such supplemental information as may be necessary to identify the shipment and determine its quantity and value, shall be noted on the manifest and initialed by the customs officer who releases the merchandise.

(d) No permit for the delivery of imported articles prior to entry being made therefor shall be issued until there has been filed in connection with the application for such delivery a single entry bond on customs Form 7551, with approved corporate surety; or a term bond on customs Form 7553, with approved corporate surety (see § 25.4 (a) (9) and (10) of this chapter as to amounts of such bonds). When the transaction involves articles of a kind which is subject to a tariff-rate quota and such articles are released at a time when the pertinent quota is filled, the full rate or rates shall be used in computing the estimated duties and taxes for the purpose of determining the amount of the single-entry bond. The term bond may be filed in connection with a single application to cover several importations during a period of not more than 1 year, or in connection with several applications to be filed during a period of not more than 1 year. A general term bond on customs Form 7595 is also applicable to the landing and delivery of articles for which immediate delivery is necessary.

(e) If there is available sufficient information as to the quantities and values of the merchandise for a proper estimation of the duties and any taxes which will be payable, there may be deposited with the application for a special permit all the papers, including an entry bond, in proper form for making entry for consumption in accordance with § 8.4 (d), but no deposit of duties or taxes shall be permitted for the shipment until such time as entry could be made therefor in accordance with § 8.4.

(f) In the case of articles of a class referred to in paragraph (a) of this section, arriving from Canada or Mexico when the customhouse is closed and destined to places other than the port of arrival, the application and the evidence of the right to make entry may be submitted to the chief customs officer on duty and a special permit may be issued for their release, provided the person making application has on file in the customhouse a special term bond as described in paragraph (d) of this section.

(g) Except as otherwise prescribed in this chapter, entry shall be made including deposit of estimated duties and taxes, within 2 days after the day on which the articles are released under a special permit. When the importer or his agent furnishes in writing a satisfactory explanation of his inability to make entry and deposit within 2 days after the day of release, the collector may extend the period for not to exceed 2 additional days. In computing the period within which entry and deposit must be made, including any authorized extension, the day of release, Saturday, Sunday, and holiday shall be excluded. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the time within which entries (including deposit of estimated duties and taxes) shall be filed covering articles of a kind which is subject to a tariff-rate quota which are released under a special permit at a time when the pertinent quota is filled shall expire in any event not later than midnight on the last day before the applicable quota again opens and no extension beyond such midnight shall be granted. Each formal consumption entry, except where the collector has approved the use of a consolidated report on the summary sheet (customs Form 6417) in lieu of the reports on customs Form 7501–A, or informal entry for merchandise released under a term immediate delivery permit shall be accompanied by an entry permit on customs Form 7501–A, 5119, or 5119–A, as applicable, for execution by customs officers on the permit of the reports of action. Such consolidated report, which may be printed or rubber stamped in the space on the summary sheet normally used to designate examination packages, shall read substantially as follows:

I certify that the merchandise covered by this entry has been (1) examined or sampled, (2) weighed, gauged, or measured or stamped as directed, or invoiced ☐ or entered ☐ quantities accepted (check one box, if applicable) and (3) released under immediate delivery permit No. _____ on _____ (Date) and that it was in apparent good order, except as noted below:

If no exceptions, note ("None")

(Inspector-Acting Examiner)

Unless needed by customs for noting the entry number on the manifest, no entry permit on customs Form 7501–A, 5119, or 5119–A is required to accompany an entry for merchandise released under an immediate delivery permit (customs Form 3461) for a single importation. Upon request, the local collector of customs will advise whether an entry permit is required.

(h) Entry under paragraph (g) of this section shall not be required for prohibited articles (1) which are exported or destroyed within the period for entry specified in paragraph (g) of this section, or (2) for which entry for exportation or application to destroy is made during such period provided such prohibited articles are promptly exported or destroyed. The conditions governing the exportation or destruction of prohibited articles covered by entries for consumption with remission or refund of duty under section 558 (a) (2) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and the regulations thereunder shall apply to such exportation or destruction. Direct export or transportation and exportation entries made for prohibited articles for which no formal or informal entry for consumption is filed shall have conspicuously stamped or imprinted thereon the legend: Prohibited Merchandise; No Other Entry Filed.

(i) If entry, when required, is not timely made the collector shall make an immediate demand for liquidated damages in the entire amount of the bond in the case of a single-entry bond. When the transaction has been charged against a term bond, the demand shall be for the amount that would have been demanded if the merchandise had been released under a single immediate delivery and consumption entry bond. Unless prompt action is taken looking to the settlement of the claim, the collector shall discontinue allowing immediate delivery of articles imported by or for the account of the person in default.

(j) When liquidated damages have been assessed for failure to file a timely entry for merchandise not subject to a quota which has been released under a special permit and the importer files an application for relief, the collector may cancel such liquidated damages upon the payment of $10, if he is satisfied that the delay in filing the entry was not due to willful negligence and was occasioned by circumstances reasonbly beyond the control of the parties.

(k) Except in the case of articles entered in accordance with § 8.51, the collector shall give timely notice of the arrival of the vessel or vehicle to the appraiser, who shall promptly detail an officer to examine the merchandise, except that when the vessel or vehicle arrives at night or on a Sunday or holiday, and the articles consist of fruits, vegetables, or other merchandise which it is practicable to appraise by means of samples, the discharging inspector shall take samples in such manner and in such quantities as the appraiser may direct and retain them for examination on the next business day. The discharging inspector shall not release the merchandise to the carrier until it has been examined or adequate samples have been taken when appraisement is to be made by sample. Examination and release of merchandise under the special delivery provisions of this section shall not be made unless there is first furnished to the examining officer an invoice, waybill, or other satisfactory document setting forth an adequate description of the merchandise and the quantitites thereof, together with the values or approximate values thereof when the latter information is needed in connection with the examination. If an annual special delivery permit is involved, the invoice, or other document so presented to the examining officer shall also have shown thereon, when possible, the special delivery permit number, to facilitate the identification of the importation with the permit.

(l) In all other respects the procedure shall be the same as in the case of other imported merchandise.

9.6 Importations not over $1 in value; gifts.
9.7 Parcels for the United States Government; merchandise in diplomatic pouches; parcels marked for copyright; books, engravings, etc., for the United States.
9.8 Cigars, cigarettes, and manufactured tobacco; oleomargarine; and playing cards.
9.9 Merchandise conditionally free.
9.10 Dissatisfied addressees; delivery under a resident's $200 or $300 exemption; undelivered dutiable parcels.
9.11 Exportation by mail; plant material.
9.12 Prohibited and restricted mail importations; seizure under the customs laws.

AUTHORITY: §§ 9.1 to 9.12 issued under R.S. 161, 251, sec. 624, 46 Stat. 759; 5 U.S.C. 22, 19 U.S.C. 66, 1624. Statutory provisions interpreted or applied and special rule making authority are cited to text in parentheses.

§ 9.1 Customs declarations and invoices.

(a) A customs declaration on the form provided by the foreign mailing office, giving an accurate description and the value of the contents, shall be securely attached to at least one package of each parcel-post shipment. Each commercial shipment by parcel post shall also be accompanied by a commercial invoice. In case the shipment consists of more than one package, the invoice shall be placed in the package to which the postal form of customs declaration is attached, and such package shall be marked "Invoice enclosed." There shall be enclosed with the contents of every mail parcel containing merchandise dispatched otherwise than by parcel post an invoice in the case of commercial shipments, or a statement of value in the case of merchandise not purchased nor consigned for sale, giving an accurate description and the value of the merchandise. If it is impracticable to enclose the invoice or statement, it shall be securely attached to the outside of the parcel.

(b) When the aggregate value of a mail shipment exceeds $500, the accompanying invoice is subject to the same requirements as invoices covering similar shipments imported otherwise than in the mails. When a special customs invoice accompanies a mail shipment, no other invoice or statement of value is required.

CROSS REFERENCE: For exception to the requirements of this section with regard to customs invoices in the shipment of bona fide gifts under Public Law No. 790 (50 U. S. C. App. 846, 847), see § 54.3 (e) of this chapter.

§ 9.2 Treatment of mail importations at offices of first receipt and at offices of examination.

(a) Parcels of all classes of mail believed to contain articles liable to customs duty received at post offices other than New York, Chicago, San Francisco, or Seattle,[2] and such parcels received at exchange post offices at the four ports mentioned for delivery within their respective distribution districts as shown in the special distribution scheme,[3] shall be given customs treatment at the ports where received.

(b) All parcels, including those subject to formal entry, for delivery at points outside the distribution districts of the four exchange post offices named in paragraph (a) of this section, and received at such offices, shall be left in the custody of the postmaster, without customs examination, for redispatch to other distributing post offices in accordance with the special distribution scheme. Upon receipt at the distributing post offices, the dispatches shall be opened in the presence of customs officers and the mail given customs treatment.

(a) In the case of importation in the mails not exceeding $250 in value, customs officers shall prepare and attach the proper entry form and return the shipment to the postal authorities for delivery and collection of duty.[4]

(b) No mail or other entry shall be issued for any shipment in the mails which is: (1) Unconditionally free of duty and does not exceed $250 in value; or (2) accompanied by a properly completed customs Form 3351, Release for Unaccompanied Tourist Shipment. In the case of articles which are unquestionably the growth, produce, or manufacture of the United States, and which have not been advanced in value or improved in condition, if the collector is satisfied from the character thereof or otherwise that they are free of duty under paragraph 1615, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and if the total value of the articles of American origin contained in the shipment does not exceed $250, no mail or other entry shall be issued and no declaration of the owner, importer, or agent on customs Form 3311 shall be required.

(c) Books or other articles imported in the mails by a society, institution, school, or library and classifiable under paragraph 1631, Tariff Act of 1930, may be cleared through customs under an informal mail entry, regardless of value.

(d) The rate or rates of duty applicable to any article released under an informal mail entry (customs Form 3419, or 3421) shall be the rate or rates in effect when the preparation of such entry is completed by a customs employee for transmittal with the article to the addressee.[4a]

§ 9.4 Formal entry of mail importations.

Formal entry at the customhouse shall be required for every importation in the mails which exceeds $250 in value, except as provided for in § 9.3 (c) or 10.20(b)(4) of this chapter. When a mail shipment is examined and found to be subject to formal entry, the addressee or consignee shall be notified on customs Form 3509 of the arrival of the shipment and of the port at which entry is to be made. When a shipment is addressed to a point which is not a customs port or station, the port of entry specified in the notice shall be the port nearest the office of destination of the shipment. Single shipments not exceeding $250 in value, if mailed abroad at different times (as shown by the declaration or other mailing indicia), shall not be combined for the purpose of requiring formal customs entry, even though they reach customs at the same or approximately the same time, unless there was a splitting of shipments in order to avoid the payment of the lawful customs duty. The collector may require formal entry of mail shipments regardless of value, if in his opinion such entry is necessary to protect the revenue.

§ 9.5 Sealed mail parcels to bear label or endorsement.

(a) The importation of merchandise in sealed parcels (other than parcel post) shall be permitted if the sealed letter or other sealed parcel bears on the address side thereof the label, Form C 1, provided for by the Universal Postal Convention or the endorsement "May be opened for customs purposes before delivery to the addressee," or words of similar purport definitely waiving the privacy of the seal and indicating that the parcel may be opened by customs officers without recourse to the addressee.[5]

(b) When a sealed envelope or other parcel (other than parcel post) believed to contain merchandise is not endorsed or labeled as required, the postmaster will detain it in his custody and request the addressee to furnish written authority for a customs officer to open the parcel in the presence of a representative of the postmaster. If the addressee does not furnish such written authority within 30 days after the date of notice by the postmaster or within such further time as may be allowed, the parcel will be treated as undeliverable mail matter. If the parcel, upon being opened under proper written authority, is found to contain merchandise free of internal-revenue tax and free of duty either because unconditionally free or because the aggregate value of the shipment is not more than $1 and the expense and inconvenience of collecting the duty accruing thereon would be disproportionate to the amount of such duty, the parcel may be delivered to the addressee without the collection of any fine on account of the article not having been endorsed or labeled in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) Except as provided for in paragraph (b) of this section, if a sealed letter or other parcel not endorsed or labeled as required by paragraph (a) of this section is found to contain merchandise subject to duty (including conditionally free merchandise) or subject to internal-revenue tax, the merchandise is subject to seizure and forfeiture as having been imported contrary to law. Under the authority contained in section 618, Tariff Act of 1930, any forfeiture so incurred is hereby mitigated to an amount equal to 10 percent of the loss of revenue which was or might have been sustained, provided there is no evidence indicating to the collector that failure to label or endorse the parcel was due to willful negligence or to an intent to defraud the revenue. If there is any such evidence, or if for any other reason the collector believes that it would not be in the interest of the United States to grant this relief, the matter shall be reported to the Bureau of Customs for instructions. When the shipment does not exceed $250 in value, customs Form 3421 shall be used for the entry of the merchandise and the duty, any internal-revenue tax, and the amount of the mitigated forfeiture shall be entered as separate items thereon. If a parcel for which a mail fine entry has been issued in accordance with the foregoing provision is undeliverable, it will be returned to the collector of customs at the port where the mail entry was issued, for disposition in accordance with § 9.12 (d) relating to articles subject to seizure. The addressee or sender may file a petition with the collector of customs at the port where the mail fine entry was issued for relief from the forfeiture incurred and for the release of the seized merchandise to the addressee or sender.

§ 9.6 Importations not over $1 in value; gifts.

(a) Customs officers shall pass free of duty and internal-revenue tax, without issuing a mail entry therefor, any parcel containing articles the aggregate value of which is not over $1, unless they have reason to believe that the parcel is one of several lots covered by a single order or contract and that it was sent separately for the express purpose of securing free entry therefor or of avoiding compliance with a provision of law or regulation.[6]

(b) Customs officers shall pass free of duty and internal-revenue tax, without issuing a mail entry therefor, parcels containing bona fide gifts from persons in foreign countries to persons in the United States, provided the aggregate value of such articles received by one person on one day does not exceed $10.

(c) The provisions of § 8.3 (d) of this chapter are also applicable to this section.

(Sec. 7, 52 Stat. 1081, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1321)

§ 9.7 Parcels for the United States Government; merchandise in diplomatic pouches; parcels marked for copyright; books, engravings, etc., for the United States.

(a) Parcels addressed to offices or officials of the United States Government, believed to contain only official documents, shall be forwarded immediately to the addressees. Such parcels, when known or believed to contain merchandise, shall be treated in the same manner as similar parcels for other addressees.

(b) Books, engravings, and other articles enumerated in paragraph 1628, Tariff Act of 1930, which are imported by mail and addressed to the Library of Congress or any department or agency of the Government, shall be forwarded for delivery without the assessment of duty, if the collector is satisfied they are entitled to free entry under such paragraph 1628.

(c) Parcels marked for copyright, addressed to the Library of Congress, to the Copyright Office, or to the office of the Register of Copyrights, Washington 25, D. C., may be passed free of duty and promptly forwarded to destination.

(d) No merchandise of any character may be forwarded in diplomatic or other official pouches.[7]

§ 9.8 Cigars, cigarettes, and manufactured tobacco; oleomargarine; and playing cards.

(a) In the case of mail entries for playing cards or oleomargarine required to have internal revenue stamps affixed customs officers shall sign and attach to the entries internal revenue Form 923 (order for stamps-imported manufactures), after such completion as is directed thereon, and customs Form 3473. When the parcel is addressed for delivery at the post office where it is examined and customs Form 3473 is not required to insure the taking of the action described thereon, Form 3473 need not be prepared. The postmaster will furnish the addressee with internal revenue Form 923. The addressee will be required to secure the necessary internal revenue stamps and affix them to the immediate packages of the merchandise before the parcel will be delivered to him.

(1) When playing cards imported by mail bear the required internal revenue stamps affixed in a foreign country as provided for in regulations of the Internal Revenue Service (26 CFR (1939) 1956 Supp., 305.19), they may be treated the same as any importation by mail subject only to duty.

(2) The internal revenue tax on tobacco products (cigars, cigarettes, manufactured tobacco) valued not in excess of $250 imported by mail shall be paid on the basis of a return made on the mail entry. When used for this purpose the mail entry shall state the kind of tobacco product, quantity of each kind, and shall show the tax (by class in the case of cigars and cigarettes) and duty separately for each kind. The tax and duty will be collected by the postal service at the time of delivery of the shipment and a copy of the entry (return) will be given to the importer as a receipt for the duty and tax paid. Mail shipments of tobacco products, except those for the personal consumption of an importer or for disposition as his bona fide gift, are subject to compliance with the package and mark requirements under regulations of the Internal Revenue Service before release to the importer.

(b) When appropriate, the immediate packages of the merchandise shall be stamped by customs officers before the shipment is released for delivery.

(c) United States customs duty and internal-revenue tax on mail shipments of cigars for informal entry, dispatched to the United States under the provisions of the parcel-post convention with Cuba, effective September 1, 1930, may, at the option of the sender, be prepaid at Miami or Tampa, Fla., upon condition:

(1) That all such mail shipments of cigars from Cuba be sent in mail sacks addressed to the postmaster at Miami

[2] Dutiable packages addressed to persons on commercial vessels in harbor bound for a foreign port are subject to duty unless remailed to a foreign destination or otherwise exported under customs supervision. (T. D. 38287 (3))

[3] Copies of the special distribution scheme will be furnished to collectors of customs and will be available for inspection by the public at the collectors' offices.

[4] "• • • The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to prescribe rules and regulations for the declaration and entry of—

"(1) Merchandise, imported in the mails or otherwise, when the aggregate value of the shipment does not exceed such amount, not greater than $250, as the Secretary of the Treasury shall specify in the regulations, and the specified amount may vary for different classes or kinds of merchandise or different classes of transactions; or Tampa for customs examination at either of those ports;

• • • • •

(2) That the Cuban sender will authorize, in writing, his representative at Miami or Tampa to prepay the customs duty and internal-revenue tax on each mail parcel before it is returned to the postmaster for delivery or dispatch to destination; and

(3) That each parcel, before dispatch to the United States, be plainly stamped "Customs duty and internal-revenue tax on this parcel to be paid at Miami (or Tampa) Fla."

(d) For each prepaid shipment the customs officer shall prepare customs Form 3419 in quadruplicate. Two copies shall be signed by the collector or the deputy collector and the sender's representative. One of these copies shall be given to the representative as a receipt for the duty and tax paid.

(e) Each prepaid parcel shall be legibly stamped on the addressed side "U.S. customs duty and internal-revenue tax prepaid at Miami (or Tampa), Fla." followed by the mail entry number and the initials of two customs employees certifying to the appraisal of the merchandise and the collection of the duty and internal-revenue tax.

§ 9.9 Merchandise conditionally free.

(a) When the contents of a parcel may be conditionally free under the tariff act, the attached blank form of declaration for free entry shall be properly executed and returned to the postal authorities by the addressee in order to obtain free entry.

(b) When an institution files evidence to show that it is entitled to import books, music, and other merchandise free of duty under paragraph 1631, Tariff Act of 1930, the name of such institution shall be placed on a free list, to be kept by the collector for that purpose, if the institution agrees in writing to notify the collector in the event goods not for the sole use of the institution arrive addressed to the institution. A mail importation of such merchandise, regardless of value, addressed directly to such an institution shall be passed free of duty without requiring compliance with paragraph (a) of this section and without issuing a mail entry.

(c) A conditionally free shipment from any United States insular possession, except Puerto Rico, valued over $25 but not over $250, when accompanied by the documentary evidence required by § 7.8 of this chapter, and any such shipment valued at $25 or less, may be passed without issuance of a mail entry if the collector is satisfied that the merchandise is entitled to free entry. In the case of each such shipment valued over $250, formal entry shall be required and the provisions of Parts 7 and 8 of this chapter shall be followed.

(a) Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section, if the addressee of a shipment covered by a mail entry is dissatisfied with the amount assessed, he may (1) elect to pay the amount, take delivery of the shipment and petition the collector of customs to reliquidate the entry; or (2) refuse to accept the shipment and provide the postmaster with a written statement of his objections. In the latter case, the postmaster shall forward the addressee's protest to the customs office that issued the entry, accompanied by such invoices or other evidence submitted by the addressee, and retain custody of the shipment until advice is received from the issuing customs office as to the disposition to be made.

(b) If the collector of customs is satisfied that the protest of an addressee of a mail shipment against the amounts assessed is valid, the collector may reclassify the merchandise or amend the value, even though the merchandise has been delivered to the addressee. A mail entry may be reliquidated to allow a claim of the addressee after the expiration of 60 days after liquidation only if a protest has been filed in the form and manner prescribed in section 514, Tariff Act of 1930, or if the claim is allowable under section 520 (c) (2), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.[*]

(c) Postmasters and military mail personnel may release shipments covered by mail entries claimed to be free of duty under tourist exemptions without the payment of duty upon presentation of a declaration on customs Form 3351 executed by the addressee. If the addressee cannot produce a customs Form 3351, the shipment may be released without the collection of duty upon the execution by the addressee of the declaration printed on the reverse side of the duplicate copy of the mail entry.

(d) If for any reason an undelivered parcel known or supposed to be dutiable is not returned to the country of origin, it will be delivered to the proper customs officer for disposition under the customs laws and regulations governing seized or unclaimed merchandise.

(a) Articles imported into the United States from foreign countries may be exported in the registered or ordinary mails, or in registered, insured, or ordinary parcel post, without the payment of duties that may have accrued thereon if the articles have remained continuously in the custody of the Government (customs or postal authorities), and the packages containing such articles are inspected and mailed under customs supervision. Waiver of the right to withdraw the package from the mails shall be endorsed on each package to be so exported and signed by the exporter. Export entries or withdrawals for exportation, as the case may be, shall be filed for such articles except those imported by mail (1) which are unclaimed or refused and are returned by the Post Office Department to the country of origin as undeliverable mail or (2) for which a formal entry has not been filed and which are remailed from continuous customs or postal custody to Canada. See §§ 8.45 and 22.27 of this chapter; and as to articles released from continuous Government custody for which return to customs custody is appropriate prior to exportation, see §§ 10.8, 10.17, 10.38, and 22.33 of this chapter.

(b) Shipments of plant material may be imported by mail free of duty for immediate exportation by mail subject to the following regulations, which have been approved by the Department of Agriculture and the Post Office Department:

(1) Each shipment shall be dispatched in the mails from abroad, accompanied by a yellow and green special mail tag bearing the serial number of the permit for entry for immediate exportation or immediate transportation and exportation, issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, and also the postal form of customs declaration.

(2) Upon arrival, the shipment shall be detained by or redispatched to the postmaster at Washington, D.C., Brownsville, Texas, Hoboken, New Jersey, Honolulu, Hawaii, Laredo, Texas, Miami, Florida, San Francisco, California, San Juan, Puerto Rico, San Pedro, California, or Seattle, Washington, as may be appropriate, according to the address on the green and yellow tag, and there submitted to the customs officer and the Federal quarantine inspector. The merchandise shall under no circumstances be permitted to enter the commerce of the United States.

(3) After inspection by the customs and quarantine officers, and with their approval, the addressee or his authorized agent shall repack and readdress the mail parcel under customs supervision; affix to the parcel the necessary postage; and comply with other mailing requirements, after which the parcel shall be delivered to the postmaster for exportation by mail pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section. The contents of the original parcel may be subdivided and exported in separate parcels in like manner.

(4) It will not be necessary to issue a customs mail entry nor to require formal entry of the shipments.

(5) The mail shipments referred to shall be accorded special handling only at the points specified in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph.

(6) The foregoing procedure shall not affect the movement of plant material in the international mails in transit through the United States.

§ 9.12 Prohibited and restricted mail importations; seizure under the customs laws.

(a) Each mail shipment of admissible arms, implements of war, or other nonexplosive munitions of war designated in the United States Munitions List (22 CFR, Parts 121–128), issued pursuant to section 414 of the Mutual Security Act of 1954 (22 U. S. C. 1934), shall be detained by customs until an import license from the Secretary of State has been submitted for such shipment. Likewise, a shipment of firearms, as that term is defined in the National Firearms Act, as amended (26 U.S.C. 5848), shall be detained by customs until an import permit from the Commissioner of Internal Revenue has been submitted by the addressee. If the import license or the import permit is found to be in proper form, the mail parcel shall be endorsed by customs to show that it is entitled to entry and released to the postmaster for delivery or dispatch to destination in the mails, subject to any duties that may accrue and to other customs requirements applicable thereto. Pistols, revolvers, and other firearms capable of being concealed on the person are nonmailable, with certain exceptions (18 U.S.C. 1715), and when received in the mails such nonmailable articles are subject to seizure and forfeiture under the customs laws.

(b) Plants and plant products, including seeds and bulbs of all kinds, may be imported into the United States only under the conditions set forth in the Plant Quarantine Act, amendments thereto, and regulations thereunder. All such articles shall be submitted through customs officials to plant quarantine inspectors of the United States Department of Agriculture for fulfillment of the requirements of the law.

(c) Certain viruses, serums, toxins, and other biological products as well as organisms and vectors are subject to import restrictions (see §§ 12.17—12.23 of this chapter). In all cases mail shipments of such products shall be submitted to customs representatives who shall communicate with the addressees and determine whether such importations are in compliance with the law and regulations.

(d) All mail shipments containing articles, except lottery matter and contraceptive literature which are prohibited importation and all mail shipments containing articles subject to seizure as being imported or brought into the United States in any manner contrary to law shall be immediately taken and held by customs officers for appropriate treatment under the customs laws. All mail parcels which are known or believed to contain merchandise and of which the addressee refuses to take delivery, or for which the addressee declines to make formal entry when requested by the customs officer in cases where the appraised value exceeds the value shown in the declaration or invoice, will be delivered to customs officers for treatment under the customs laws upon production to the postmaster concerned of satisfactory evidence of fraudulent intent on the part of any of the persons mentioned in this paragraph. In all cases where articles are seized by customs officers, notice shall be given by customs officers to the addressee of that fact and the reason therefor.

(e) Mail parcels of all classes, sealed or unsealed, which upon inspection or examination are found to contain or are supposed to contain lottery matter prohibited importation under section 305, Tariff Act of 1930, or enclosures pertaining thereto, will be retained by the postal service, or shall be delivered to that service by the Customs Service, for disposition under the Postal Laws and Regulations. If such a parcel is found to contain other merchandise, the parcel shall be held by, or delivered to, the Customs Service for appropriate treatment under the customs laws and regulations. Mail parcels which upon inspection or examination are found to contain contraceptive literature will be retained by the postal service, or shall be delivered to that service by the customs service, for disposition under the Postal Laws and Regulations. If the postal service shall determine in any case that it is proper to release contraceptive literature to an addressee, such literature before delivery to the addressee will be turned over to the nearest customs officer located at a post office for treatment by customs in the same manner as other articles imported in the mails.

[*] Liquidation of mail entries are subject to protest as in the case of formal entries. Importations in the mails are not subject to appeal for reappraisement unless formal entry has been made.

ARTICLES EXPORTED AND RETURNED

§ 10.1 Domestic products; requirements on entry.

(a) Except as otherwise provided for in this section or in §10.2, the following documents shall be filed in connection with the entry of articles claimed to be free of duty under paragraph 1615, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended:[1]

(1) A declaration by the foreign shipper in substantially the following form, if the value of the returned articles exceeds $500:

I, _____, declare that the articles herein specified are, to the best of my knowledge and belief, the growth, produce, or manufacture of the United States; that they were exported from the United States, from the port of _____ on or about _____, 19__; that they are returned without having been advanced in value or improved in condition by any process of manufacture or other means.

Marks	Number	Quantity	Description	Value, U. S. Coin

_____ (Capacity)

_____ (Address)

(2) A declaration of the owner, importer, consignee, or agent on customs Form 3311.

(3) A certificate, customs Form 4467, of the collector of customs at the port from which the merchandise was exported from the United States, except that no such certificate shall be required if the articles are unquestionably products of the United States which have not been advanced in value or improved in condition while abroad and the collector is satisfied by reason of the nature of the articles or otherwise that no drawback of duties or refund or remission of taxes was allowed when the articles were exported from the United States. Such certificate shall show whether drawback was claimed or paid on the merchandise covered by the certificate and, if any was paid, the amount thereof. This certificate shall be issued on application of the importer, or of the collector at the importer's request, and shall be mailed by the issuing officer directly to the port at which it is to be used. If the merchandise has been exported from the port at which entry is made and the fact of exportation appears on the records of the customhouse, the fact of reimportation shall be noted on such export record but the filing of the certificate on Form 4467 shall not be required.

(b) If, in any case where the appraising officer's report does not show definitely that merchandise the value of which exceeds $500 is of domestic origin, customs Form 3311 has not been executed by the owner or ultimate consignee, the collector may require the execution of such form by the owner or ultimate consignee. In such a case Form 3311 shall be filed within 3 months after the date of the demand therefor upon the person in whose name the entry was filed. If the owner or ultimate consignee is a corporation, such form may be signed by the president, vice president, secretary, or treasurer of the corporation, or it may be signed by any employee or agent of the corporation who holds a power of attorney executed under the conditions outlined in § 8.19 of this chapter and a certification by the corporation that such employee or other agent has or will have knowledge of the pertinent facts. In the case of articles which are unquestionably the growth, produce, or manufacture of the United States and which have not been advanced in value or improved in condition, if the collector is satisfied from the character thereof or otherwise that they are free of duty under paragraph 1615, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and if the total value of the articles of American origin contained in the shipment does not exceed $250, the execution of customs Form 3311 shall not be required therefor, except when used as an entry under paragraph (d), (e), or (f) of this section.

(d) In the case of aircraft and parts and equipment therefor which are returned to the United States by or for the account of an aircraft owner or operator and are intended for use in his or its own aircraft operations, either within or outside the United States and with or without alteration or other change in condition in this country, entry thereof may be made under paragraph 1615 (a) on customs Form 3311, executed by the importer and supported by proper evidence of the right to make the entry, but without the other documents described in this section and without the giving of a bond to produce any of them, when there is no question that the articles are of domestic origin and it satisfactorily appears that they have not been improved in condition or advanced in value while abroad and that no drawback has been or will be paid on them. In such a case, the entrant shall show on customs Form 3311 after the words "returned to" the name and address of the aircraft owner or operator by whom or for whose account the articles were returned. The entrant shall also show on Form 3311 the name of the importing conveyance, the date of its arrival, the values of the articles, and that they are intended for use in the aircraft owner's or operator's own aircraft operations.

(e) Entry of nonconsumable stores and equipment of a vessel may be made under paragraph 1615 (a) on customs Form 3311, in duplicate, executed by the importer and supported by proper evidence of the right to make entry when there is no question that the articles are of domestic origin, and it satisfactorily appears that they have not been improved in condition or advanced in value while abroad; that no customs drawback has been or will be paid on them, and that duty is not payable thereon because of an internal-revenue tax. No declaration of a foreign shipper and no certificate of exportation is required in connection with an entry on customs Form 3311. In satisfying himself that no customs drawback was allowed on the articles in connection with their removal from the United States, the customs officer may accept the written declaration of the master or other person having knowledge of the facts showing that the articles left this country on a vessel of the United States or a vessel operated by the United States Government as stores or equipment thereof and that they were not landed in a foreign country except for any needed repairs, adjustments, or refilling and return to the vessel from which landed or for transshipment to another vessel as stores or equipment thereof. Such declaration may be made on the reverse side of the entry on customs Form 3311. The entrant shall show on customs Form 3311 the name of the importing vessel, the date of its arrival, and the values of the articles.

(f) When the total value of articles of claimed American origin contained in any shipment does not exceed $250 and the articles are found to be unquestionably of domestic origin and do not appear to have been advanced in value or improved in condition while abroad and no quota is involved, free entry thereof may be made under paragraph 1615 (a) on customs Form 3311, executed by the importer and filed in duplicate, without regard to the requirement of a certificate of exportation or evidence of similar purport, unless the customs officer has reason to believe that customs drawback or exemption from internal-revenue tax, or both, were probably allowed on exportation of the articles or that they are otherwise subject to duty. The entrant shall show on customs Form 3311 the name of the importing conveyance, the date of its arrival, the name of the country from which the articles were returned to the United States, and the values of the articles. The entrant shall also produce evidence of his right to make entry. If the customs officer is not entirely certain as to the domestic origin of articles entered under this paragraph by a nominal consignee, the actual owner or ultimate consignee thereof may be required to execute a customs Form 3311.

§ 10.2 Waiver of evidence.

(a) The collector may waive the declaration of the foreign shipper provided for in § 10.1(a)(1) if he is satisfied by the production of other evidence as to the existence of all the facts upon which the entry of the merchandise under paragraph 1615, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, is dependent.

(b) No evidence relative to the conditions of paragraph 1615 shall be required in the case of articles of domestic manufacture in use at the time of importation as the usual coverings or containers of merchandise not subject to an ad valorem rate of duty unless such articles would be dutiable if not of domestic manufacture under special provisions of the Tariff Act of 1930, such as paragraphs 217, 328, and 408.

(c) A certificate from the master of a vessel showing that articles of domestic production are returned in the same vessel without having been unladen may be accepted in lieu of a declaration of the foreign shipper.

§ 10.3 Drawback; internal-revenue tax.

(a) Except as prescribed in § 10.1 (f) or in paragraph (c) of this section, no free entry shall be allowed under paragraph 1615, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, in the final liquidation of an entry unless the collector is satisfied by the certificate of exportation or other evidence or information that no drawback was allowed in connection with the exportation from the United States, and unless no internal-revenue tax is imposed on the importation of like articles not

[1] "(a) Articles, the growth, produce, or manufacture of the United States, when returned after having been exported, without having been advanced in value or improved in condition by any process of manufacture or other means; • • •

"(b) Steel boxes, casks, barrels, carboys, bags, quicksilver flasks or bottles, metal drums, and other substantial outer containers of domestic or foreign manufacture, exported empty and returned as usual containers or coverings of merchandise, or exported filled with products of the United States and returned empty or as the usual containers or coverings of merchandise, including shooks and staves produced in the United States when returned as boxes or barrels in use as the usual containers of merchandise.

"(c) Photographic dry plates and films of the manufacture of the United States (except moving-picture films to be used for commercial purposes), exposed abroad, whether developed or not.

"(d) Photographic films light struck or otherwise damaged, or worn out, so as to be unsuitable for any other purposes than the recovery of the constituent materials, provided the basic films are of the manufacture of the United States.

"(e) The foregoing provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to—

"(1) Any article upon which an allowance of drawback has been made under section 313 of this Act or a corresponding provision of a prior tariff act, unless such article is in use at the time of importation as the usual container or covering of merchandise not subject to an ad valorem rate of duty.

"(2) Any article of a kind with respect to the importation of which an internal-revenue tax is imposed at the time such article is entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption, unless such article was subject to an internal-revenue tax imposed upon production or importation at the time of its exportation from the United States and it shall be proved that such tax was paid before exportation and not refunded;

"(3) Any article (A) manufactured or produced in the United States in a customs bonded warehouse or under section 308(1) of this Act, and (B) exported under any provision of law; or

"(4) Any article made dutiable under the provision of paragraph 1606 (c) of this Act.

"(h) The allowance of total or partial exemption from duty under any provision of this paragraph shall be subject to such regulations as to proof of identity and compliance with the conditions of this paragraph as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1615, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1201, par. 1615)

previously exported from the United States or, if such tax is being imposed at the time of entry for consumption or withdrawal from warehouse for consumption, the collector is satisfied that an internal-revenue tax on production or importation was paid in respect of the imported article before it was exported from the United States and was not refunded.[2] Except as provided for in § 10.1 (f), when it is impracticable, because of the destruction of customs records or other circumstances, to determine whether drawback was allowed, or the amount of drawback allowed, with respect to an article established to be a returned product of the United States which has not been advanced in value or improved in condition while abroad, there shall be assessed on the returned article an amount of duty determined as follows: (1) If there is any likelihood that drawback was allowable on the exportation of like articles at any time when the imported article may have been exported from the United States, the estimated amount of any drawback which would have been allowable if duty had been paid on any foreign merchandise likely to have been used in the manufacture of the returned article at the rate or rates applicable to such foreign merchandise on the date of importation of the returned article (see paragraph (b) of this section) and (2) if there is any likelihood that a refund or remission of tax was allowed on the exportation of the returned article, the amount of any internal-revenue tax which would be payable at the time of importation if the returned article were wholly of foreign origin, but in no such case shall there be assessed more than an amount equal to the duty and tax that would apply if the returned article were wholly of foreign origin and originally imported. (See § 10.7(a).) Except as provided for in § 10.1(f), if the imported article is of a kind which would be subject to an internal-revenue tax if of foreign origin and payment of an internal-revenue tax before exportation without refund thereof is not established, duty shall be assessed on the imported article in an amount equal to the internal-revenue tax imposed at the time of entry for consumption or withdrawal from warehouse for consumption on like articles of foreign origin, plus the amount of any drawback allowed on the exportation of the article from the United States; but if no drawback was allowed, the duty equal to internal-revenue tax shall be the total duty to be assessed. If an allowance of drawback on the exportation from the United States of the imported article is established, duty shall be assessed in an amount equal to such drawback, plus an amount equal to any internal-revenue tax which may be assessable in accordance with this paragraph; but in no case shall duty equal to drawback, or to drawback and internal-revenue tax, be assessed in an amount in excess of the ordinary customs duty and internal-revenue tax applicable to like articles of foreign origin. In any case, where payment of internal-revenue tax before exportation without refund thereof is established, no duty equal to an internal-revenue tax currently in force shall be assessed.

(b) In the absence of satisfactory evidence as to the nonallowance of drawback or the amount thereof allowed on the following articles of American manufacture or production, duty shall be assessed thereon in the amounts respectively indicated, the amount shown in each case being considered the fair average amount of drawback allowed on such articles:

Article	Duty assessment
Drums, metal (when not exempt from duty in accordance with sec. 10.3 (c)).	24 cents each.
Hosiery, nylon	45 cents per dozen.
Lead compound, tetraethyl	$0.006 per pound.
Lithopone	$0.00143 per pound.
Oxide, zinc	$0.0065 per pound.
Piece goods, cotton:
Bleached	$0.02675 per square yard.
Dyed	$0.02888 per square yard.
Printed	$0.02697 per square yard.
Piece goods, nylon: Dyed	$0.24320 per square yard.
Piece goods, rayon:
Printed	$0.04070 per square yard.
Other than printed (white, piece dyed or yarn dyed)	$0.07089 per square yard.
Tallow, refined, inedible	$0.007 per pound.

(c) The following articles shall be admitted free of duty, even though exported from the United States with benefit of drawback:

(1) Any article of a kind which would be admitted free of duty otherwise than under paragraph 1615 if of foreign origin;

(2) Steel boxes, casks, barrels, carboys, bags, quicksilver flasks or bottles, metal drums, and other substantial outer containers of domestic manufacture exported empty or filled with products of the United States, including shooks and staves when returned as boxes or barrels; all the foregoing when in use at the time of importation as the usual containers of merchandise not subject to an ad valorem rate of duty;

(3) Any article provided for in paragraph 1615 (f), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, with respect to which the collector of customs has determined that the collection of duty under such paragraph 1615 (f) would involve an expense and inconvenience to the Government disproportionate to the probable amount of such duty; and

(4) Other articles of domestic manufacture which are in use at the time of importation as the usual coverings or containers of merchandise not subject to an ad valorem rate of duty, and which have not been advanced in value or improved in condition while abroad by any process of manufacture or other means.[3]

(d) Articles manufactured or produced in the United States in a customs bonded warehouse and exported shall be subject on reimportation to a duty equal to the total duty and internal-revenue tax, if any, imposed at the time of entry for consumption or withdrawal from warehouse for consumption with respect to the importation of like articles not previously exported from the United States.

(e) Animals straying across the border or driven across the border for pasturage purposes or for feeding to improve them for the market and not returned within 8 months are excluded from free entry as domestic products returned.

[2] "Upon the entry for consumption or withdrawal from warehouse for consumption of any article previously exported, which is excepted from free entry under this paragraph by the foregoing subparagraph ( ) [see note 1] and is not otherwise exempted from the payment of duty, there shall be levied, collected, and paid thereon, in lieu of any other duty or tax, a duty equal to the total duty and internal-revenue tax, if any, then imposed with respect to the importation of like articles not previously exported from the United States, but in no case in excess of the sum of customs drawback, if any, proved to have been allowed upon the exportation of such article from the United States plus the amount of the internal-revenue tax, if any, imposed at the time such article is entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption upon the importation of like articles not previously exported from the United States. Manufactured tobacco subject to duty hereunder shall be retained in customs custody until internal-revenue stamps in payment of any part of the legal duties measured by a rate or amount of internal-revenue tax shall have been placed thereon. When because of the destruction of customs records or for other cause it is impracticable to establish whether drawback was allowed, or to determine the amount of drawback allowed, on a reimported article excepted under subparagraph (e), there shall be assessed thereon an amount of duty equal to the estimated drawback and internal-revenue tax which would be allowable or refundable if the imported merchandise used in the manufacture or production of the reimported article were dutiable or taxable at the rate applicable to such merchandise on the date of importation, but in no case more than the duty and tax that would apply if the article were originally imported. In order to facilitate the ascertainment and collection of the duty provided for in this subparagraph, the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to ascertain and specify the amounts of duty equal to drawback or internal-revenue tax which shall be applied to articles or classes or kinds of articles, and to exempt from the assessment of duty articles or classes or kinds of articles excepted under subparagraph (e) with respect to which the collection of such duty involves expense and inconvenience to the Government which is disproportionate to the probable amount of such duty." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1615 (f), as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1201, par. 1615(f).)

[3] Filling, sealing, and labeling are held to advance the value of the contents rather than that of the container.

§ 10.4 Internal-revenue marks; erasure.

Internal-revenue brands or marks on casks or other containers previously exported from the United States must be erased at the importer's expense under customs supervision before their delivery from customs custody.

(Par. 1615, sec. 201, 46 Stat. 674, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1201, par. 1615) [13 F. R. 7961, Dec. 18, 1948]

§ 10.5 Shooks and staves; cloth boards; collector's account.

(a) Shooks and staves produced in the United States and returned in the form of complete boxes or barrels in use as the usual containers of merchandise are exempt from any duties imposed by the tariff laws upon similar containers made of foreign shooks or staves, provided their identity is established under the regulations in this part.

(b) The term "shook" embraces only shooks which at the time of exportation from this country are ready to be assembled into boxes or barrels without further cutting to size; except that box shooks may be exported in double lengths and cut abroad. The number of boxes made from such shooks which may be imported into this country free of duty cannot exceed the number of complete sets of shooks exported.

(c) Boxes imported filled with any fruit specified in paragraph 408, Tariff Act of 1930, and with the sides, tops, and bottoms consisting of fruit-box shooks exported from the United States may be entered or withdrawn upon the payment of duty at one-half the rate imposed on similar boxes of entirely foreign origin.[4] Proof as to the identity of such shooks shall be made under the regulations in this part.

(d) An exporter of shooks or staves in respect of which free entry or a reduction in duty is to be claimed when returned as boxes or barrels shall file with the collector of customs at the port of exportation, at least 6 hours before the lading of the articles on the exporting vessel, a notice of intent to export, customs Form 4481. Such shooks or staves shall be inspected and laden on board the exporting vessel under customs supervision.

(e) A certificate of exportation, customs Form 4479, describing the shooks and staves in the manner set forth in the notice of intent to export, shall be issued by the collector in triplicate after verification from the manifest of the exporting vessel and the return of the lading officer. The certificate shall show the number of bundles of shooks and staves exported, the number of shooks of each size, and the number of superficial feet of lumber contained in each shipment. The original certificate shall be forwarded by the collector to the consignee. The duplicate copy shall be given to the exported and the triplicate copy shall be retained.

(f) Whenever boxes or barrels alleged to have been manufactured from American shooks or staves are shipped to the United States from a person abroad other than the one to whom they were exported from the United States, the importer shall be required to obtain from the foreign consignee to whom the shooks or staves were originally exported from this country the certificate or certificates, customs Form 4479, covering the exportation of the shooks or staves from the United States, or an extract therefrom signed by such consignee, showing the number of shooks or staves covered by such certificate or certificates, together with the number of superficial feet of such shooks or staves. Such Form 4479, or extract therefrom, shall be filed by the importer in connection with the entry of the boxes or barrels.

(g) Accounts shall be kept by the collector of customs at the port of exportation of the shooks and staves as to each exportation thereof and as to the returns thereof in boves, barrels, etc. Notifications of such returns shall be given to the port of exportation by the collector at the port of importation. When returns in the form of boxes, barrels, etc. entirely accont for the shooks and staves exported as shown on the appropriate customs Form 4479, the collector maintaining the account shall so inform the collector making inquiry about the merchandise being imported and alleged to contain shooks or staves covered by the particular exportation.

(h) A record of cloth boards of domestic manufacture exported [5] to be wrapped with foreign textiles shall be kept by collectors of customs in a similar manner as for shooks and staves. If such boards are advanced in value or improved in condition while abroad, free entry shall be denied on importation.

(Par. 408, sec. 1, 46 Stat. 630, par. 1615, sec. 201, 46 Stat. 674, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1001, par. 408, 1201, par. 1615)

§ 10.6 Certificates of foreign shipper and box maker.

(a) A foreign shipper desiring to export to the United States boxes or barrels alleged to have been made from American shooks shall execute and send with the invoice covering the merchandise contained in such boxes or barrels a certificate of the foreign shipper, stating that the boxes or barrels were made from American shooks or staves, and identifying the latter with the certificate covering their exportation from the United States. This foreign shipper's certificate shall be in the following form:

I, _____, of_____, do hereby certify that to the best of my knowledge and belief the boxes and (or) barrels mentioned in (the annexed invoice)* (invoice No. _____, of_____, 19__)* are made (wholly)* (except for the ends and partitions)* of shooks (or staves) of the manufacture of the United States, as stated in the accompanying certificate of _____, box maker; that the shooks (or staves) were exported from_____, per S. S._____, on_____, 19__, and that the said boxes (or barrels) (will be)* (have been)* filled with _____, covered by the above-mentioned invoice, and (will be)* (have been)* shipped to the port of_____ in the United States, per S. S._____, sailing from _____, on _____, 19__.

Dated at _____ this _____ day of _____, 19__.

(b) There shall be annexed to the certificate of the foreign shipper, on the same or a separate form, a certificate of the box maker, stating that the boxes or barrels were made from American shooks or staves and showing the number of boxes or barrels in the shipment, the dimensions of each, and number of shooks or staves of each size, together with the number of superficial feet of lumber used. This certificate shall be in the following form:

I, _____, of_____, do hereby certify that the boxes and (or) barrels mentioned in the annexed certificate of foreign shipper were made by me (wholly)* (except for the ends and partitions)* from shooks (or staves) of the manufacture of the United States as follows:

*Cross out inapplicable words.

(c) If a claim accompanied by an appropriately modified customs Form 3311 is made by the importer at the time of filing the entry for an exemption from duty on account of boxes or barrels made from American shooks or staves, the certificate of the foreign shipper with the annexed certificate of the box maker may be accepted if produced at any time prior to the liquidation of the entry. Upon receipt, from the collector at the port of exportation of the shooks and staves, of corroboration that the records of exportation do not conflict materially with such claim, the exemption may be allowed. If the claim for an exemption is disallowed in full or in part, the importer may file a request, within 15 days of the date of the collector's notice to him of any disallowance, for referral of the question to the Commissioner of Customs for review.

[4] "Boxes, barrels, and other articles containing oranges, lemons, limes, grapefruit, shaddocks or pomelos, 25 per centum ad valorem: Provided, That the thin wood, so-called, comprising the sides, tops, and bottoms of fruit boxes of the growth or manufacture of the United States exported as fruit-box shooks, may be reimported in completed form, filled with fruit, by the payment of duty at one-half the rate imposed on similar boxes of entirely foreign growth and manufacture; but proof of the identity of such shooks shall be made under regulations to be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury." (Tariff Act of 1930 par. 408; 19 U. S. C. 1001, par. 408)

§ 10.7 Drums, quicksilver flasks, etc.

(a) Except as provided for in § 10.2(b), steel boxes, casks, barrels, carboys, bags, quicksilver flasks or bottles, metal drums, and other substantial outer containers of domestic manufacture shall be entered under the general regulations governing the free entry of domestic products exported and returned. If the record evidence of exportation is not produced, the collector may accept other satisfactory evidence of allowance or nonallowance of drawback.

(b) Steel boxes, casks, barrels, carboys, bags, quicksilver flasks or bottles, metal drums, and other substantial outer containers of foreign manufacture, if actually exported from the United States empty and returned as usual containers of coverings of merchandise, or exported filled with products of the United States and returned empty or as the usual containers or coverings of merchandise, shall be exempt from duty if (1) exported in accordance with the regulations contained in § 10.5 (d) and (e), except that the notice of intent shall be on customs Form 4481 and the certificate of exportation issued by the collector of customs on customs Form 4479, and (2) there are filed in connection with the entry a declaration of the importer on customs Form 3289 and a certificate of the foreign shipper in the form prescribed by paragraph (c) of this section. Such articles must be permanently and indelibly marked for identification prior to exportation from the United States.

(c) The certificate to be furnished by the foreign shipper for the use of the collector at the port of entry shall be in the following form:

I, _____, of_____ do hereby certify that to the best of my knowledge and belief the (steel boxes, casks, barrels, carboys, bags, quicksilver flasks or bottles, metal drums, and other substantial outer containers)* mentioned in (the annexed invoice) (invoice No. _____ of_____, 19__)* are of the manufacture of _____ and were exported from the United States at the port of_____, per S. S. _____ on _____ 19__ (empty _____) (filled with _____),* and that the same are being returned to the United States (empty _____) (filled with_____).*

(d) The collector, after verification of the foreign shipper's certificate with the records of the collector at the port of exportation in this country, shall allow free entry to the extent the basis for such allowance is verified. The procedure in the last two sentences of § 10.6 (c) shall be applicable.

(e) If claim for exemption from duty for foreign steel boxes, casks, barrels, carboys, bags, quicksilver flasks or bottles, metal drums, or other substantial outer containers is made at the time of entry, the certificate of the foreign shipper may be accepted if produced at any time prior to the liquidation of the entry.

§ 10.8 Articles exported for repairs, alterations, or processing.

(a) For the purposes of paragraph 1615(g)(1), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[6] the term "repairs or alterations" shall be held to mean restoration, change, addition, renovation, cleaning, or other treatment which does not destroy the identity of the article exported or create a new or different article.

(b) Three conditions are required under paragraph 1615 (g) (2), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended: [6]

(1) The article sent abroad for further processing must be an article of metal (except precious metal) manufactured in the United States, or manufactured abroad and subjected to a process of manufacture in the United States.

(2) The article must be subjected to a further processing abroad; and

(3) The returned article must be one which is to be subjected to further processing after return to the United States.

(c) Articles may not be entered under the provisions of subparagraph (g) of paragraph 1615, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, if they come within the meaning of subdivision (3) of that subparagraph.[6]

(d) Before the exportation of any article to be subject on return to the United States to duty on the value [6] of repairs, alterations, or processing effected abroad, as provided for in paragraph 1615 (g), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, a declaration and application shall be filed in duplicate on customs Form 4455 by the owner or exporter with the collector of customs or appraiser of merchandise at a time before the departure of the exporting conveyance which will permit an examination of the article.

(e) In the case of articles of metal (except precious metal) which may be claimed dutiable on the value of processing under paragraph 1615 (g) (2), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, a statement shall be included on the reverse side of customs Form 4455 by the exporter or owner substantially as follows:

The articles described in this certificate were manufactured in the United States by _____; or if of foreign (Name and address) origin, were subjected to _____ (Show processes of _____ manufacture, such as, molding, machining, _____ in the United States by casting, etc.)

(Name and address)

The articles in their changed condition will be returned for further processing by _____ (Name and address, if known)

(f) The applicant shall be notified on customs Form 4455 of the place to which he shall deliver the articles for examination. All expense in connection with the delivery of the articles, cording, sealing, marking, and transfer to the exporting conveyance shall be borne by the exporter. The exportation of the articles shall be under customs supervision, except in the case of exportation by mail of any article identifiable by the manufacturer's mark or number. A photograph or other means of identification shall be furnished when required by the customs examining officer.

(g) When the report of the customs officer showing the examination of the articles and their lading on the exporting conveyance or delivery for mailing has been endorsed on the Form 4455 covering the articles, the duplicate copy of such form shall be delivered to the exporter, and the original shall be filed in the collector's office.

(h) When articles other than those exported by mail or parcel post are examined and registered at one port and exported for repairs, alterations, or processing through another port, they shall be forwarded to the port of exportation under a transportation and exportation entry.

(i) There shall be filed in connection with an entry covering articles entered under the provisions of paragraph 1615 (g) (1) or (2), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, a statement of the person who performed such repairs, alterations, or processing in substantially the following form:

I, _____, declare that the articles herein specified are to the best of my knowledge and belief the articles which, in the condition in which they were exported from the United States, were received by me (us) on _____, 19____, from _____; (Name and address of owner or exporter in the United States) that they were received by me (us) for the sole purpose of being repaired, altered, or processed; that only the repairs, alterations, or processing described below were effected by me (us); that the full cost or (when no charge is made) fair market value of such repairs, alterations, or processing and the value of the articles after repair, alteration, or processing are correctly stated below; and that no substitution whatever has been made to replace any of the articles originally received by me (us) from the owner or exporter thereof mentioned above.

Marks and numbers	Description of articles and of repairs, alterations, or processing	Full cost or (when no charge is made) fair market value of repairs, alterations, or processing	Total value of articles after repairs, alterations, or processing

(Address) (Capacity)

(j) There shall be filed in connection with the entry the certificate of registration (customs Form 4455) and a declaration made by the consignee, owner, or an agent having knowledge of the facts that the articles entered in their repaired, altered, or processed condition are the same articles covered by the certificate of registration. This declaration shall also show that the full cost or (when no charge is made) fair market value of the repairs, alterations, or processing is correctly stated in the entry. Where articles of metal (not including any precious metal) are claimed to be subject to the provisions of paragraph 1615 (g) (2), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, there shall be included a concise statement as to the nature of the processing performed outside the United States immediately prior to the current importation and as to the processing to be performed thereafter in the United States, showing the name and address of the processor who will do the subsequent processing.

(k) In any case where an imported article was exported for repairs, alterations, or processing without compliance with the registration requirements of this section, the collector may waive such evidence if he is satisfied that the returned merchandise is entitled to entry under paragraph 1615 (g) (1) or (2), and that the failure to comply with the registration requirements was due to inadvertence, mistake, or inexperience, and not to negligence or bad faith.

(l) Collectors shall require at the time of entry a deposit of estimated duties based upon the full cost or fair market value, as the case may be, of the repairs, alterations, or processing. The cost or fair market value, as the case may be, of the repairs, alterations, or processing outside the United States which is to be set forth in the invoice and entry papers as the basis for the assessment of duty under paragraph 1615 (g), as amended, shall be limited to the cost or value of the repairs, alterations, or processing actually performed abroad and shall not include any of the expenses incurred in this country, whether by way of engineering costs, preparation of plans or specifications, furnishing of tools or equipment for doing the repairs, alterations or processing abroad or otherwise.

§ 10.9 Books bound abroad.

The provisions of § 10.8 with respect to articles exported for repairs or alterations shall be applicable in the case of books of domestic manufacture which have been advanced in value or improved in condition abroad and returned to the United States.[7]

§ 10.10 News-reel films.

Where free entry is claimed for news-reel films under the provisions of paragraph 1726, Tariff Act of 1930,[8] there shall be furnished in connection with the entry a statement of the cameraman, shipper, or other person having knowledge of the facts, identifying the films with the invoice and stating that the basic films are to the best of his knowledge and belief the manufacture of the United States and that they have been exposed abroad and are shipped for use as news reel. There shall also be required in connection with the entry the written declaration of the importer to the effect that he believes the films entered by him are the ones covered by the statement above referred to and that they are for use as news reel. The invoice shall state the footage and title of each subject.

(Par. 1726; sec. 201, 46 Stat. 679; as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1201, par. 1726)

HOUSEHOLD EFFECTS

§ 10.11 Declaration.

(a) When household effects [9] are claimed to be free of duty under paragraph 1632, Tariff Act of 1930 [10] a declaration of the owner on customs Form 3297 in the case of a returning resident of the United States, or customs Form 3299 in any other case, shall be required to support the claim for free duty.

(b) If it is impracticable to produce such declaration at the time of entry, the consignee may give a bond on customs Form 7551 or 7553 for the production of the owner's declaration within 6 months.

§ 10.12 Use abroad.

(a) In order to obtain free entry for household effects under the provisions of paragraph 1632, Tariff Act of 1930, the required use of the effects abroad for 1 year must be proven to the satisfaction of the collector,[11] who may, in his discretion, require evidence other than the declaration of the applicant.

(b) Household effects used abroad not less than 1 year by a family of which the importer was a resident member for not less than 1 year during such period of use may be passed free of duty, whether or not the importer owned the effects at the time of such use.

(c) The free entry of household effects under paragraph 1632 shall be allowed to residents of the United States as well as to nonresidents.

(Par. 1632, sec. 201, 46 Stat. 675; 19 U. S. C. 1201, par. 1632)

---

[6] "(g) (1) Any article exported from the United States for repairs or alterations may be returned upon the payment of a duty upon the value of the repairs or alterations at the rate or rates which would apply to the article itself in its repaired or altered condition if not within the purview of this subparagraph (g).

"(2) If—

"(A) any article of metal (except precious metal) manufactured in the United States or subjected to a process of manufacture in the United States is exported for further processing; and

"(B) the exported article as processed outside the United States, or the article which results from the processing outside the United States, as the case may be, is returned to the United States for further processing, then such article may be returned upon the payment of a duty upon the value of such processing outside the United States at the rate or rates which would apply to such article itself if it were not within the purview of this subparagraph (g).

"(3) This subparagraph (g) shall not apply to any article exported—

"(A) from bonded warehouse or from continuous customs custody elsewhere than bonded warehouse with remission, abatement, or refund of duty;

"(B) with benefit of drawback through substitution or otherwise;

"(C) for the purpose of complying with any law of the United States or regulation of any Federal agency requiring exportation; or

"(D) After manufacture or production in the United States under section 308(1) of this Act.

"(4) For the purposes of this subparagraph (g), the value of repairs, alterations, or processing outside the United States shall be considered to be—

"(A) the cost to the importer of such repairs, alterations, or processing; or

"(B) if no charge is made, the value of such repairs, alterations, or processing, as set out in the invoice and entry papers; except that, if the Secretary of the Treasury concludes that the amount so set out does not represent a reasonable cost or fair value, as the case may be, then the value of the repairs, alterations, or processing shall be determined in accordance with section 402 of this Act. No appraisement of the imported article in its repaired, altered, or processed condition shall be required unless necessary to a determination of the rate or rates of duty applicable to such article.

"(h) The allowance of total or partial exemption from duty under any provision of this paragraph shall be subject to such regulations as to proof of identity and compliance with the conditions of this paragraph as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1615 (g), (h), as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1201, par. 1615 (g), (h))

[7] "* * * exported books of domestic manufacture, when returned to the United States after having been advanced in value or improved in condition by any process of manufacture or other means, shall, under rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, be dutiable only on the cost of materials added and labor performed in a foreign country; * * *." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1410; 19 U.S.C. 1001, par. 1410)

[9] The free entry of household effects under par. 1632 is limited to such as are similar to books, libraries, furniture, carpets, paintings, tableware, and other usual household furnishings. Automobiles, horses, carriages, sleighs, boats, and similar articles, and wines, provisions, and other consumable supplies do not constitute similiar household effects within the meaning of par. 1632. Articles such as office safes and office furniture used abroad in business pursuits are not entitled to free entry as household effects.

[10] "Books, libraries, usual and reasonable furniture, and similar household effects of persons or families from foreign countries if actually used abroad by them not less than one year, and not intended for any other person or persons, nor for sale." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1632 (free list); 19 U. S. C. 1201, part 1632)

[11] The year of use need not immediately precede the time of importation nor need it be continuous.

As a general rule, household effects arriving more than 10 years after the last arrival of the importer in the United States from the country in which the effects were used should not be admitted free under par. 1632. If, however, the collector is satisfied from the importer's explanation that the effects were unavoidably detained beyond the 10-year period he may admit them to free entry upon the filing of a declaration on customs Form 3297 in the case of a returning resident of the United States or customs Form 3299 in any other case. In no case shall free entry be allowed under par. 1632 when a period of 25 years or more has elapsed since the last arrival of the importer in the United States from the country in which the effects were used. (T. D.'s 38668, 40174, 41985)

Immigrants' Teams

§ 10.13 Immigrants' teams; free entry.

(a) An immigrant claiming free entry of a team or vehicle[12] under paragraph 1607 (a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[13] shall file in connection with the entry a declaration on customs Form 3299, stating the number and kind of animals, wagons, and other articles used by him for the purpose of emigration and that they are actually owned by him and have been in actual use by him abroad and are not intended for sale.

(b) Formal entry shall be required for such teams, vehicles, and effects valued at more than $250.

(c) Horses and vehicles owned by immigrants and used by them for the transportation of themselves and their baggage to a railway station, then shipped to the United States and again used by such immigrants to reach their destination, are entitled to entry free of duty.

(Par. 1607, sec. 201, 46 Stat. 673, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1201, par. 1607)

Effects of Citizens Dying Abroad; Tools of Trade

§ 10.14 Effects of citizens dying abroad; procedure.

(a) Articles claimed to be free of duty under paragraph 1739, Tariff Act of 1930,[14] as the effects of citizens of the United States dying abroad[15] shall be entered in accordance with the provisions of § 8.50 of this chapter or if not exceeding $250 in value, entry may be permitted under § 8.51.

(b) The collector shall require in connection with the entry the written statement of a person having knowledge of the facts or otherwise satisfy himself as to the citizenship of the deceased owner of the effects at the time of his death.

§ 10.15 Tools of trade.

When professional books, implements, instruments, or tools of trade, occupation, or employment are claimed to be free of duty under paragraph 1747, Tariff Act of 1930,[16] or under paragraph 1798 (a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[18] a declaration of the emigrant or returning individual shall be required to support the claim for free entry. The declaration shall be on customs Form 3299 if the declarant is an emigrant or nonresident returning from abroad, and on customs Form 3297 if the declarant is a returning resident of the United States, except that, as to any such articles claimed to be free of duty under paragraph 1798 (a), an oral declaration of the returning individual may be accepted in lieu of a written declaration.

(Sec. 201 (pars. 1747, 1798), 46 Stat. 680, as amended, 683, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1201 (pars. 1747, 1798))

§ 10.16 Status of passengers.

(a) Persons arriving from foreign countries shall be divided into two classes for customs purposes: (1) Residents of the United States returning from abroad, and (2) all other persons, hereinafter referred to as nonresidents.

(b) Citizens of the United States, or persons who have formerly resided in the United States, shall be deemed to be residents thereof returning from abroad within the meaning of paragraph 1798, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, in the absence of satisfactory evidence that they have established a home elsewhere. The residence of a wife shall be deemed to be that of her husband unless satisfactory evidence is presented that the wife has established a separate residence elsewhere. The residence of a minor child shall be presumed to be that of his parents.

(c) Any person arriving in the United States who is not a resident of the United States or who, though a resident of the United States, is not returning from abroad shall be treated for the purposes of the regulations in this part as a nonresident.

(Par. 1798, sec. 201, 46 Stat. 683, as amended, sec. 498, 46 Stat. 728, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1201 (par. 1798), 1498)

§ 10.17 Exemptions for returning residents.

(a) Personal and household effects taken abroad. Each returning resident is entitled under paragraph 1798 (c) (1) and (f), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[21] to bring in free of duty and internal-revenue tax all personal and household effects which he took abroad. If any such effect has been advanced in value or improved in condition while abroad by repairs (including cleaning) not merely incidental to wear or use while abroad, or by alterations (including additions) which did not change the identity of the article, the cost or value of such repairs or alterations is subject to duty, unless all or part of such cost or value is covered by an allowance of the $200 or $300 exemption hereinafter mentioned. An effect taken abroad and there changed into a different article is dutiable at its full value when returned to the United States, unless covered in whole or in part by some provision for free entry.

(b) Articles acquired abroad. Subject to the limitations and conditions hereinafter stated, each returning resident is entitled under paragraph 1798 (c) (2) and (f), as amended[22] to bring in free of duty and internal-revenue tax

[12] Only such vehicles as are drawn by animals are entitled to free entry under par. 1607, Tariff Act of 1930. Automobiles are excluded from the privilege. (T. D. 31706)

[13] "(a) Teams of animals, including their harness and tackle, and the wagons or other vehicles actually owned by persons emigrating from foreign countries to the United States with their families, and in actual use for the purpose of such emigration, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1607, as amended (free list); 19 U. S. C. 1201, par. 1607)

[14] "Personal effects, not merchandise, of citizens of the United States dying in foreign countries." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1739 (free list); 19 U. S. C. 1201, par. 1739)

[16] "Professional books, implements, instruments, and tools of trade, occupation, or employment in the actual possession of persons emigrating to the United States owned and used by them abroad; but this exemption shall not be construed to include machinery or other articles imported for use in any manufacturing establishment, or for any other person or persons, or for sale, nor shall it be construed to include theatrical scenery, properties, and apparel." (Tariff Act of 1930, 1747 (free list); 19 U. S. C. 1201, par. 1741)

The privilege of free entry granted by par. 1747, Tariff Act of 1930, applies whether the articles accompany the emigrant or are imported subsequent to his arrival, provided they were owned and used by him and in his possession abroad.

[18] "(a) Professional books, implements, instruments, and tools of trade, occupation, or employment, when imported by or for the account of any person arriving in the United States by whom or for whose account they were taken abroad." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1798 (a), as amended (free list); 19 U. S. C. 1201, par. 1798 (a))

The articles need not actually accompany the traveler upon his departure from the United States, but if they did not it must be clearly established that the shipment of the articles was in connection with his departure from this country.

[20] "The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to prescribe rules and regulations for the declaration and entry of— • • •

"(6) Articles carried on the person or contained in the baggage of a person arriving in the United States; • • •." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 498 (a); 19 U. S. C. 1498 (a))

[21] "(c) In the case of any person arriving in the United States who is a returning resident thereof—

"(1) All personal and household effects taken abroad by him or for his account and brought back by him or for his account; • • •

• • • • • •

"(f) All articles exempted by this paragraph from the payment of duty shall be exempt also from the payment of any internal-revenue tax imposed upon or by reason of importation." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1798, as amended (free list); 19 U. S. C. 1201 (par. 1798))

[22] "(c) In the case of any person arriving in the United States who is a returning resident thereof—

"(2) Articles (including not more than one wine gallon of alcoholic beverages and not more than 100 cigars) acquired abroad as an incident of the journey from which he is returning, for his personal or household use, but not imported for the account of any other person nor intended for sale, if declared in accordance with regulations of the Secretary of the Treasury, up to but not exceeding in aggregate value—

"(A) $200, if such person arrives from a contiguous country which maintains a free zone or free port (see subparagraph (d) [footnote 24, sec. 10.17 (g)]), or arrives from any other country after having remained beyond the territorial limits of the United States for a period of not less than forty-eight hours, and in either case has not claimed an exemption under this subdivision (A) within the thirty days immediately preceding his arrival; and

"(B) $300 in addition, if such person has remained beyond the territorial limits of the United States for a period of not less than twelve days and has not claimed an exemption under this subdivision (B) within the six months immediately preceding his arrival.

"(f) All articles exempted by this paragraph from the payment of duty shall be exempt also from the payment of any internal-revenue tax imposed upon or by reason of importation." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1798, as amended (free list); 19 U. S. C. 1201 (par. 1798))

up to but not exceeding $200, and in appropriate cases up to but not exceeding an additional $300, in value of articles for his personal or household use which were purchased or otherwise acquired abroad by him merely as an incident of the foreign journey from which he is returning. These exemptions do not apply to articles intended for sale or acquired on commission, i. e., for the account of another person, with or without compensation for the service rendered.

(c) Gifts. An article acquired abroad by a returning resident and imported by him to be disposed of after importation as his bona fide gift is for the personal use of the importer. Articles forwarded to a donee by a donor who is abroad are not imported by or for the account of the donor and are not allowed any exemption to which he may become entitled. (See § 8.3 (c) of this chapter as to gift shipments valued not over $10.)

(d) Tobacco products, alcoholic beverages, and foodstuffs. Cigarettes, manufactured tobacco, and foodstuffs may be included in the exemptions to which a returning resident is entitled, but not more than 100 cigars nor an aggregate of over 1 wine gallon of alcoholic beverages may be included in such exemptions. If a returning resident is entitled to both the $200 and the $300 exemptions, any cigars or alcoholic beverages entitled to exemption shall be included in the $200 exemption. If the resident is not entitled to the $200 exemption (by reason of having claimed that exemption within the 30 days immediately preceding his arrival) but is entitled to the $300 exemption, not more than the above-stated quantities of cigars and alcoholic beverages may be allowed free entry under the $300 exemption if the resident did not claim exemption for any such articles under the last exemption he received under paragraph 1798 (c) (2) (A). The maximum of 1 wine gallon of alcoholic beverages may include more than one kind of beverage.

(e) Cumulation of $200 and $300 exemptions. (1) When all the applicable conditions of each exemption are met, both the $200 and $300 exemptions may be allowed to one person on one return. Moreover, the $300 exemption may be allowed when its conditions are satisfied and when it is in addition to an allowance under the $200 exemption within the preceding 30-day period.

(2) In each case in which both exemptions are allowed on one return, the declarant may designate accompanied or unaccompanied goods listed on his declaration which would not be entitled to application of the $300 exemption (alcoholic beverages and cigars) for allowance of the $200 exemption. Subject to this exception, in each such case the $200 exemption shall be applied first[23] and to the value of the articles subject to the highest rates, and the additional $300 exemption shall be applied to the value of articles subject to the next highest rates, including any amount in excess of $200 pertaining to articles covered in part by the $200 exemption. This rule shall be applied to articles accompanying the returning resident and the same rule shall be applied separately to each unaccompanied shipment covered by his declaration. If an internal-revenue tax is applicable, it shall be combined with the duty in determining which rates are highest.

(f) Family grouping of exemptions. Each member of a family is entitled to the $200 or $300 exemption, or both, subject to the conditions prescribed in paragraph 1798, as amended. Articles belonging to one person cannot be included in the $200 or $300 exemption of another person, except that when members of a family residing in one household travel together on their return to the United States, the $200 or $300 exemption, or both, to which the several members of the family may be entitled may be grouped and allowed without regard to which member is the owner of any of the articles. A grouped exemption shall not include any exemption for a family member not entitled to it in his own right, nor shall a grouped exemption be applied to any property of such a member. The term "members of a family residing in one household," as used herein, shall include all persons, regardless of age, related by blood, marriage, or adoption, who lived together in one household at their last permanent residence and who intend to live together in one household after their return to the United States. No exemption allowable to a resident servant accompanying the family shall be included in the family grouping.

(g) Length of stay abroad. In the case of articles acquired elsewhere than in Mexico, the $200 exemption shall not be allowed unless the returning resident has remained beyond the territorial limits of the United States for a period of not less than 48 hours. With respect to articles acquired in Mexico, the $200 exemption may be allowed without regard to the length of time the returning resident has remained outside the territorial limits of the United States, unless the resident returns through a port as to which there is in effect a special regulation or instruction requiring that the returning resident, in order to obtain the benefit of the $200 exemption for such articles, shall have remained beyond the territorial limits of the United States for such period, not to exceed 24 hours, as shall be specified in the special regulation or instruction.[24] The $300 exemption shall not be allowed unless the returning resident has remained outside the territorial limits of the United States for a period of not less than 12 days.

(h) Frequency of allowances. (1) The $200 exemption shall not be granted to a returning resident who has taken advantage of such exemption within the 30-day period immediately preceding his return to the United States, and the $300 exemption shall not be granted to a returning resident who has taken advantage of such $300 exemption within the 6-month period immediately preceding his return to the United States.[25] The date of the returning resident's latest prior arrival on which he declared articles for allowance of the $200 or $300 exemption shall be deemed the date he took advantage of the applicable exemption, notwithstanding that articles admitted under either exemption may have arrived before or after such latest arrival.

(2) A returning resident who has received a total exemption of less than $200 under the $200 exemption, or a total exemption of less than $300 under the $300 exemption, in connection with his return from one journey is not entitled to apply the remainder of either amount to articles acquired abroad on any previous or subsequent journey. Articles acquired on one journey and left in a foreign country cannot be allowed any exemption accruing upon the importer's return from a subsequent journey.

(i) Computation of time requirements. (1) The 24-hour or 48-hour period a returning resident must have been abroad to be entitled to the $200 exemption shall be computed exactly. For example, a resident leaving United States territory at 1:30 p. m. on June 1 would complete the 24-hour period at 1:30 p. m. on June 2 and the 48-hour period at 1:30 p. m. on June 3.

(2) The 12-day period a returning resident must have remained outside United States territory to be entitled to the $300 exemption shall be computed by excluding the day of arrival and counting the day of departure as a full day, irrespective of the time of either day at which the traveler crossed the land border or 3-mile limit at sea. Thus, a resident departing from such territory at 1:30 p. m. on June 1 would meet the 12-day require-

[23] When the $200 exemption has been so applied, another claim for the $200 exemption within the following 30 days cannot be allowed. See § 23.5 (c) of this chapter.

[24] "(d) In the case of persons arriving from a contiguous country which maintains a free zone or free port, if the Secretary of the Treasury deems it necessary in the public interest and to facilitate enforcement of the requirement that the exemption shall apply only to articles acquired as an incident of the foreign journey, he shall prescribe by regulation or instruction, the application of which may be restricted to one or more ports of entry, that the [$200] exemption authorized by subdivision (2) (A) of subparagraph (c) shall be allowed only to residents who have remained beyond the territorial limits of the United States for not less than a specified period, not to exceed twenty-four hours, and after the expiration of ninety days after the date of such regulation or instruction allowance of the said exemption shall be subject to the limitations so prescribed." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1798, as amended (free list); 19 U. S. C. 1201 (par. 1798))

The 24-hour limitation is now applicable only at ports in customs collection district No. 25, which includes all ports of entry in southern California below Los Angeles. (T. D. 49925)

ment if he remained abroad until any time after midnight of June 12.

(3) The 30-day period immediately preceding the resident's return shall be computed by excluding the day of arrival and counting backward 30 days. In the case of an arrival on May 28, the resident would not be entitled to the $200 exemption if he had taken advantage of such exemption on or after the last preceding April 28.

(4) The 6-month period immediately preceding the resident's return shall be computed by excluding the day of arrival and counting backward 6 months. In the case of an arrival on July 28, the resident would not be entitled to the $300 exemption if he had taken advantage of such exemption on or after the last preceding January 28.

(j) Arrival incidental to further foreign travel. A resident who enters the United States merely as an incident of foreign travel and will continue his foreign travel before finally returning to the United States from the continuous trip shall not be required to clear through customs any articles he has acquired, or had repaired or altered, while abroad. Such articles may be left in customs custody, shipped in bond, or exported directly from customs custody in order that the resident may declare them, and possibly other later acquired articles, upon his final return to the United States from the continuous trip. If, however, the traveler fails to advise the customs officer of the incidental character of such an entry or for other reason declares any articles for allowance of the $200 or $300 exemption, such declaration will start the running of the respective period or periods during which a further allowance cannot be granted.

(k) Unaccompanied articles. It is not necessary that articles accompany a resident at the time of his return to the United States to be within the $200 or $300 exemption. See § 10.20 (b). However, customs officers shall apply the exemptions only to articles before them for examination, and the application of an exemption to unaccompanied articles shall be finally determined only after they have been imported and the importer has performed the acts required of him for their customs clearance. If any allowance of the $200 or $300 exemption is to be claimed in respect of any articles not cleared at the time of a resident's return, whether such articles have already arrived, will arrive later, or are being shipped in bond to another port, they must be declared in writing to a customs officer. Such declaration of articles accompanying the resident shall be made at the time of the resident's return to the United States. A declaration for articles not accompanying the resident on his return should be made by him in writing at the time and place of his return, but if satisfactory reasons are given to the collector for failure to so declare such articles, a written declaration may be accepted, either at the port of clearance of the article or at the port of the resident's return, for such articles within one year after the return. An application to make such supplemental declaration shall be accompanied by any invoices, receipts, and any other available pertinent data to aid the collector in determining whether the articles were acquired abroad by the claimant as an incident of a journey made by him and are for his personal or household use. The supplemental declaration shall be made on customs Form 6059, 6063 or 6064, as the case may be, appropriately modified.

(l) Replacements. An article furnished by a foreign supplier to replace a like article of comparable value previously exempted from duty under paragraph 1798 (c), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, shall be allowed free entry if the article previously exempted is found by the importer to be unsatisfactory and is returned to customs custody and exported under customs supervision at the expense of the importer within 60 days after its importation.[25a] In any case where the importer has failed to return the unsatisfactory article to customs custody for supervision of exportation, the collector may allow free entry of the replacement article if he is satisfied that the unsatisfactory article was timely exported and that the failure to return it to customs custody was due to inadvertence or lack of experience in customs matters and was without willful intent to avoid customs supervision. The requirement that the original article be exported under customs supervision does not apply when a duplicate article is furnished by a foreign supplier as a replacement for an article declared for entry under the $200 or $300 exemption and found by the customs inspector or other examining officer to be so damaged as to constitute a nonimportation (§ 15.10 of this chapter). In such a case the duplicate replacement shall be considered to have been acquired abroad for the purposes of the $200 or $300 exemption provision, provided no charge is made to the importer for such article.

(m) Sale. An article brought in under the $200 exemption and subsequently sold is not dutiable or subject to forfeiture by reason of the sale thereof, if the returning resident actually acquired and imported the article for his bona fide household or personal use and not for sale. If any article admitted free of duty under the $300 exemption is sold within 3 years after the date of its importation without prior payment to a collector of customs of the duty which would have been payable at the time of entry if the article had been entered without the benefit of paragraph 1798 (c) (2) (B), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, such article, or its value (to be recovered from the importer), shall be subject to forfeiture. A sale pursuant to a judicial order or in liquidation of the estate of a decedent shall not be a basis for any liability for duty or forfeiture under paragraph 1798(g), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.[26]

(n) Rented automobiles. Under the provisions of paragraph 1798(h), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[26a] an automobile rented by a resident of the United States while abroad may, without the payment of duty, be brought into the United States for a temporary period not to exceed 30 days by or on behalf of such resident for the transportation of such resident, his family and guests, and such incidental carriage of articles as may be appropriate to his personal use of the automobile. No entry or security for exportation shall be required. A touring certificate, customs Form 4447 properly modified, will be issued to or on behalf of the returning resident. Recrossings of the border incidental to the trip and for the purposes of said paragraph 1798(h) of the tariff act may be permitted during the effective period of the touring certificate provided the certificate is presented to the customs officer at the port of each departure from and re-entry into the United States. The touring certificate shall be finally surrendered to the customs officer at the port of last departure of the automobile for return aboard.

(a) Personal effects. A nonresident (including any resident who is not returning), regardless of age, arriving in the United States is entitled under paragraph 1798 (b) (1), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[27] to entry free of duty and internal-revenue tax for his wearing apparel, articles of personal adornment, toilet articles, and similar personal effects. This exemption applies only to articles which were actually owned by the nonresident and in his possession abroad at the time of, or prior to, his departure for the United States and which are appropriate for his own personal use and intended only for such use and not for any other person nor for sale. "Similar personal effects" include all articles intended and appropriate for the personal use of the nonresident while traveling, such as hunting and fishing equipment, wheelchairs for invalids or crippled persons, pet and hunting dogs, and the like. Articles to be given by the importer to another person are not free under paragraph 1798 (b) (1).

(b) Vehicles. Nonresidents are entitled under paragraph 1798 (b) (2), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[28] to entry free of duty and internal-revenue tax for automobiles, trailers, aircraft, motorcycles, bicycles, baby carriages, boats, horse-drawn conveyances, horses, and similar means of transportation, and the usual equipment accompanying the foregoing, if imported in connection with the arrival of the nonresident and to be used in the United States only for the transportation of such nonresident, his family and guests, and such incidental carriage of articles as may be appropriate to his personal use of the conveyance.

(c) Articles carried through the United States.[28a] A nonresident who is in transit to a place outside United States customs territory may take with him through the United States for carriage to such place, without the payment of duty or internal-revenue tax, articles not exceeding $200 in aggregate value which are not entitled to free entry under paragraph (a) of this section.

(d) Sale. If any jewelry or similar articles of personal adornment having a value of $300 or more which have been exempted from duty under paragraph 1798(b) (1), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, are sold within 3 years after the date of importation, or if any article which has been exempted from duty under paragraph 1798(b) (2), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, is sold within 1 year after the date of importation, without prior payment to a collector of customs of the duty which would have been payable at the time of entry if the article had been entered without the benefit of the said paragraph 1798(b) (1) or (2), such article, or its value (to be recovered from the importer) shall be subject to forfeiture in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 1798(g), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.[28b] A sale pursuant to a judicial order or in liquidation of the estate of a decedent is not a basis for any liability for duty or forfeiture under such provisions.

(e) Tobacco products and alcoholic beverages. Fifty cigars, or 300 cigarettes, or 3 pounds of manufactured tobacco, and not exceeding 1 quart of alcoholic beverages, when brought in by an adult nonresident and not to be given to another person nor for sale or other commercial use, may be passed free of duty and internal-revenue tax. The exemption for tobacco products may be applied proportionately; for example, to 25 cigars and 150 cigarettes, or to 25 cigars, 50 cigarettes, and 1 pound of manufactured tobacco. The exemption for alcoholic beverages may be applied to more than one kind but not to an aggregate of more than 1 quart for one person.

(a) Declaration required. All articles brought into the United States by any individual shall be declared to a customs officer. The declaration may be made to a customs officer at the port of first arrival in the United States or on a train or ferry en route to the United States on which such an officer is assigned for that purpose. The declaration may be submitted to a United States customs officer stationed in a foreign country for that purpose if one is available and all the articles presented to him for inspection and clearance are within allowable exemptions.

(b) Oral declarations. Each arriving nonresident may make only an oral declaration if all the articles he has to declare are entitled to free entry under paragraph 1798 (b) or are being admitted free of duty under section 321 (a) (2) (B), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and each returning resident may make only an oral declaration if (1) he has no article in his possession on which duty or internal-revenue tax is collectible, (2) all articles for which any exemption is to be claimed in connection with his arrival accompany him at the time of his arrival and none is forwarded in bond, and (3) the aggregate of the value of all articles acquired abroad by him and of the cost or value of alterations and dutiable repairs made abroad to personal or household effects taken out and brought back by him (see § 10.17 (a)) does not exceed $200; except that written declarations may be required generally or in respect of particular types of traffic if necessary at any seaport or airport to effect prompt and orderly clearance of passengers and their effects, and may be required in particular cases at any port if deemed necessary to protect the revenue.

(c) Written declarations. (1) Unless an oral declaration is accepted under paragraph (b) of this section, the declaration required by paragraph (a) of this section shall be in writing and in a form approved by the Commissioner of Customs. Effects of a nonresident entitled to free entry under paragraph 1798 (b), as amended, and effects of a returning resident entitled to free entry under paragraph 1798 (a) or (c) (1), (other than automobiles and other vehicles of residents returning from noncontiguous countries) need not be itemized in written declarations.

(2) Written declarations for passengers arriving by sea shall be executed fully and deposited with the purser of the vessel not later than the day before the vessel will arrive in port.

(d) Acknowledgment. Each written declaration shall be acknowledged by the declarant before the customs officer who examines the baggage covered by the declaration.

(e) Amendment. (1) If, before examination of a passenger's baggage has begun, the fact that any article has not been declared is brought by the passenger to the attention of the examining officer, the passenger shall be permitted to add such article to his declaration.

(2) If, after examination of the baggage has begun but before any undeclared article is found, the passenger advises the examining officer that he has such article and the examining officer is satisfied that there was no fraudulent intent, the passenger shall be permitted to add the articles to his declaration.

(3) Under no circumstances shall a passenger be permitted to add any undeclared article to his declaration after such article has been discovered by the examining officer.

[25a] "(e) Any article imported to replace a like article of comparable value previously exempted from duty under subdivision (c) of this paragraph shall be allowed free entry if the article previously exempted shall have been exported, under such supervision as the Secretary may prescribe, within sixty days after its importation because it was found by the importer to be unsatisfactory." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1798, as amended (free list); 19 U. S. C. 1201 (par. 1798))

[26] "(g) If • • • any article which has been exempted from duty under subdivision (2) (B) of subparagraph (c) is sold within three years after the date of importation • • • without prior payment to the United States of the duty which would have been payable at the time of entry if the article had been entered without the benefit of this paragraph, such article, or its value (to be recovered from the importer), shall be subject to forfeiture. A sale pursuant to a judicial order or in liquidation of the estate of a decedent shall not be subject to the provisions of this subparagraph." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1798, as amended (free list); 19 U. S. C. 1201 (par. 1798))

[26a] (h) Automobiles rented by any resident of the United States while abroad may be imported into the United States by or on behalf of such resident for the transportation of such resident, his family and guests, and such incidental carriage of articles as may be appropriate to his personal use of the automobile without payment of duty, for such temporary periods as the Secretary of the Treasury by regulation may prescribe. Any automobile exempted from duty under this subparagraph which is used otherwise than for a purpose herein expressed or is not returned abroad within the time and manner as the Secretary may prescribe by regulation, or the value of such automobile (to be recovered from the importer), shall be subject to forfeiture to the United States. (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1798, as amended (free list); 19 U.S.C. 1201 (par. 1798))

[27] "(b) In the case of any person arriving in the United States who is not a returning resident thereof—

"(1) Wearing apparel, articles of personal adornment, toilet articles, and similar personal effects; all the foregoing, if actually owned by and in the possession of such person abroad at the time of or prior to his departure for the United States, and if appropriate for his own personal use and intended only for such use and not for any other person nor for sale; • • •." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1798, as amended (free list); 19 U. S. C. 1201 (par. 1798))

[28] "(b) In the case of any person arriving in the United States who is not a returning resident thereof—

• • • • •

"(2) Automobiles, trailers, aircraft, motorcycles, bicycles, baby carriages, boats, horse-drawn conveyances, horses, and similar means of transportation, and the usual equipment accompanying the foregoing; any of the foregoing imported in connection with the arrival of such person and to be used in the United States only for the transportation of such person, his family and guests, and such incidental carriage of articles as may be appropriate to his personal use of the conveyance; • • •." Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1798, as amended (free list); 19 U. S. C. 1201 (par. 1798))

[28a] "(b) In the case of any person arriving in the United States who is not a returning resident thereof—

• • • • •

"(3) Not exceeding $200 in value of articles accompanying such a person who is in transit to a place outside United States customs territory and who will take the articles with him to such place." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1798, as amended (free list); 19 U. S. C. 1201 (par. 1798))

[28b] "(g) If any jewelry or similar articles of personal adornment having a value of $300 or more which have been exempted from duty under subdivision (1) of subparagraph (b) • • • is sold within three years after the date of importation, or if any article which has been exempted from duty under subdivision (2) of subparagraph (b) is sold within one year after the date of importation, without prior payment to the United States of the duty which would have been payable at the time of entry if the article had been entered without the benefit of this paragraph, such article, or its value (to be recovered from the importer), shall be subject to forfeiture. A sale pursuant to a judicial order or in liquidation of the estate of a decedent shall not be subject to the provisions of this subparagraph." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1798, as amended (free list); 19 U. S. C. 1201 (par. 1798))

(f) Value. Opposite the description of each article required to be declared specifically in a written declaration the passenger shall state the price actually paid for the article, or its fair value if it was acquired otherwise than by purchase. A statement of price shall be in the currency of purchase or its equivalent in United States currency, and a statement of value shall be in the currency of the country in which the article was acquired or in United States currency. Due adjustment shall be made by the appropriate customs officer whenever the purchase price or value declared differs from the correct customs value, whether by reason of depreciation due to wear and use or for any other reason.

(g) Family declarations. One of a group of passengers who are members of the same family may declare for the entire group if all have the same residence status. Servants accompanying a family group shall not be included in the family declaration.

(h) Merchandise. Articles not personal in character, or which are intended for sale or are brought in on commission for another person, may be included in the baggage declaration of a resident or nonresident under the conditions specified in § 10.21 (e). If not so included, regular entry shall be required.

(i) Regular entry. Subject to any applicable exemption from entry requirements, articles imported as baggage but not passed under a baggage declaration or under the procedure provided for in § 10.20 shall be entered in the same manner as a cargo importation of like goods. In making regular entry for articles imported in baggage, the value of articles entitled to free entry under paragraph 1798 (a) or (c) (1), as amended, shall be disregarded in determining whether formal or informal entry is required.

(j) Examination in foreign territory. (1) The baggage of returning residents may be examined at places in foreign territory where United States customs offices have been established for that purpose (see § 1.3 of this chapter). When the baggage of a returning resident is examined at such a place, and the resident will return to the United States via train or ferry, the declaration, after completion and presentation to the customs office, shall be returned to the declarant for surrender to the customs officer on the train or ferry, or to the customs officer at the port of return, in order that such customs officer may determine what exemption, if any, has already been allowed. When the baggage of a passenger traveling by air is examined in foreign territory, the baggage declaration shall be surrendered to the customs officer at the airport of departure for the United States prior to boarding the aircraft.

(2) When a declarant, whose baggage has been examined and passed in foreign territory in accordance with subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, subsequently acquires additional articles before he returns to the United States, the customs officer to whom the declaration is surrendered as provided for in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph may permit the amendment of that declaration to include articles not previously declared.

§ 10.20 Unaccompanied shipments.

(a) Effects and tools of trade. When effects claimed to be free of duty under paragraph 1798 (a), (b) or (c) (1), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, do not accompany the importer on his arrival in the United States or are forwarded in bond, a declaration of the importer on customs Form 3299 in the case of a nonresident, or on customs Form 3297 in the case of a returning resident, shall be required to support the claim for free entry, except that as to effects which are free of duty under paragraph 1798 (a) or (c) (1), as amended, an oral declaration of the importer may be accepted in lieu of a written declaration on Form 3297. If the collector is satisfied that an entry would serve no good purpose, none need be required, but evidence of ownership for customs purposes, such as a carrier's certificate or properly endorsed bill of lading, shall be required in connection with the declaration. Such exemption from entry may also be applied with respect to household effects or tools of trade entitled to free entry (see §§ 10.11 and 10.15 respectively) which are unaccompanied or forwarded in bond.

(b) Articles acquired abroad by returning resident. (1) The declaration of a returning resident shall be in writing if it covers articles which do not accompany him, or which are to be shipped in bond to another port for clearance, and such articles are entitled to free entry under the $200 or $300 exemption. Effects of the returning resident entitled to free entry under paragraph 1798 (a) or (c) (1), as amended, (other than automobiles and other vehicles of residents returning from noncontiguous countries) need not be itemized in written declarations.

(2) Customs Form 3351 shall be issued to the returning resident for each shipment of declared articles not accompanying the resident upon arrival or to be shipped in bond to another port for clearance and for which a claim for free entry, in whole or in part, is likely to be made under the $200 or $300 exemption.

(3) Customs Form 3351 shall not be issued to a returning resident who has used his entire allowable exemption upon arrival, except for the replacement of an article to be exchanged as provided for in paragraph (c) of this section.

(4) Unaccompanied shipments, except those containing prohibited or restricted merchandise, shall be released free of duty immediately after examination upon the presentation of properly completed customs Form 3351 by the consignee or his agent, or if the shipment or shipping papers are accompanied by a release on customs Form 3351, except that the collector may withhold release of the shipment until the claim for exemption is verified.

(5) In any case where the importer of a shipment arriving otherwise than by mail, claims any part of a shipment duty free under the $200 or $300 exemption, but is unable to produce a release on customs Form 3351, he shall be issued a customs Form 3351; upon completion of this form, the shipment shall be treated in the manner set forth in subparagraph (4) of this paragraph. Such shipments covered by mail entries shall be treated as set forth in § 9.10 (c) of this chapter.

(6) All claims for exemptions on customs Form 3351 and on the reverse side of duplicate copies of mail entries shall be subject to verification in the manner prescribed by the Commissioner of Customs. When the collector finds that a false claim for exemption has been made with intent to defraud the revenue, he shall take action under section 592 of the Tariff Act of 1930, in accordance with § 23.6 of this chapter.

(7) No application of the $200 or $300 exemption to an unaccompanied or bonded shipment shall be allowed in any case until the collector at the port of clearance is satisfied that the articles for which the exemption is claimed were acquired by the claimant while abroad in accordance with the pertinent provisions of paragraph 1798, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

(c) Replacements. When any article declared by a returning resident is to be replaced under the provisions of § 10.17 (1), a release on customs Form 3351 shall be issued to the importer with appropriate instructions as to its use.

§ 10.21 Examination procedure; collection of duties and taxes.

(a) Customs officers shall not open baggage or other containers for the purpose of examination.[m] Any such baggage or other container which is not opened by the owner or his agent for examination and any vehicle with a locked compartment which the person in charge refuses to open shall be treated as unclaimed.

(b) The inspector who examines the baggage of any person arriving in the United States, including inspectors on trains or ferries, may examine and pass, without limitation as to value, all articles in such baggage or otherwise accompanying such person which are personal or household effects of such person and are free of duty under paragraph 1632, 1747, or 1798 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, or under § 10.42, and paintings and other articles classifiable under paragraph 1807, Tariff Act of 1930, and works of art which are the production of American artists temporarily residing abroad, provided for in paragraph 1810, Tariff Act of 1930, when accompanying the person who produced them, upon compliance with § 10.48 or § 10.50, as the case may be. The inspector may examine, determine the dutiable value of, collect duty on, and pass articles accompanying the arriving person which are for his personal or household use but are subject to duty, including articles imported by a nonresident to be disposed of by him as bona fide gifts. No special customs invoice shall be required for articles passed under this paragraph.

(c) The inspector may also examine, determine the customs value of, collect any duty due on, and pass articles properly listed on the baggage declaration which are not personal or household effects of the declarant, provided the aggregate customs value of such articles is not more than $250.

(d) In determining dutiable value under paragraph (b) or (c) of this section, the inspector shall apply the principles of section 402 or 402a, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and shall not regard the declared price or value as conclusive. He shall give due consideration to the condition of the articles at the time of importation, but he shall not make any allowance for wear and use in excess of 25 percent of the declared price or value of a worn or used article. A passenger who desires to claim a larger allowance may arrange for formal entry and appraisement of his goods.

(e) Articles not described in paragraph (b) of this section, having an aggregate value over $250 but not over $500, may be entered and cleared on a baggage declaration at the place of their arrival with a passenger, provided the articles are accompanied by a proper invoice if one is required, and provided it is practicable to make the required formal appraisement at that place. If the foregoing requirements are not satisfied, or if the value of such articles is over $500, regular entry shall be required.

(f) Whenever the customs officer deems it advisable, or at the request of the passenger, any or all of a passenger's baggage may be sent to the appraiser's store for examination of reexamination, in which case a receipt for such baggage shall be given on customs Form 6051.

(g) Passengers dissatisfied with the assessment of duty on their baggage may demand a reexamination, provided the articles have not been removed from customs custody.

(h) If reappraisement by the United States Customs Court is desired, the passenger must arrange for regular entry and formal appraisement of the articles in controversy, and thereafter make written application for reappraisement to the collector of customs within 30 days after the formal appraisement.

(i) The exemption from duty and internal-revenue tax contemplated by section 321(a)(2)(B), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[n] may be applied to any articles accompanying, and for the personal or household use (not including any business or commercial use of any kind) of, any person arriving in the United States who is not entitled to any exemption under paragraph 1798(c)(2), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, except that such exemption under section 321(a)(2)(B) shall not be applied to any article subject to internal-revenue tax other than cigarettes not in excess of 50, cigars not in excess of 10, manufactured tobacco not in excess of ½ pound, alcoholic beverages not in excess of 4 ounces, or alcoholic perfumery not in excess of 4 ounces, and except that such exemption under section 321(a)(2)(B) shall not be applied to any article subject to internal-revenue tax in addition to any exemption allowed such articles under § 23.4 of this chapter. Family grouping of this $10 exemption shall not be allowed. If any article accompanying a person is subject to duty or tax by reason of these limitations, no articles accompanying such person shall be exempted from duty or tax under this paragraph.

(j) When duties are collected on articles in a passenger's baggage and the declaration is on customs Form 6064, the coupon receipt attached to the form shall be given to the passenger. When the declaration is on customs Form 6059 or 6063, a receipt on customs Form 5103 shall be issued.

(k) Tea for personal use in one or more packages weighing not more than 5 pounds each, when imported in a passenger's baggage, may be delivered without examination for purity under 21 U. S. C. 41–50 and without payment of the examination fee prescribed in 21 U. S. C. 46a.

(l) The internal-revenue tax on taxable tobacco products in passengers' baggage shall be paid to customs, using the customs entry form as a return. Any such return shall show the kind, the quantity, and the tax (by class in the case of cigars and cigarettes) on such tobacco products separately from the statement of duty. Unless for the personal consumption of the importer or disposition as his bona fide gift, tobacco products are subject to compliance with the package and mark requirements in the regulations of the Internal Revenue Service.

(m) Alcoholic beverages found in passengers' baggage shall be released without the placing of strip stamps on the bottles, provided it appears from the baggage declaration or otherwise that the liquors are for personal use and not for sale or other commercial purposes. The internal-revenue tax, however, shall be collected on all wines and liquors in excess of the quantity entitled to exemption as specified in § 10.17 (d), § 10.18 (e) or paragraph (i) of this section.

(a) An officer or seaman arriving on a vessel from a foreign port shall be considered a returning resident of the United States for the purpose of paragraph 1798, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and §§ 10.17 to 10.21: Provided, He is a resident and (1) leaves the vessel without intention of reshipping on a vessel touching at foreign ports, or (2) remains on or transships to a vessel which is to proceed to another port of the United States in a movement in which entry of the vessel will not be required. An officer or seaman arriving on a vessel from a foreign port who is treated as a nonresident shall be regarded as arriving in the United States whenever the conditions specified in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph are met.

(b) Articles on board a vessel in the possession of or owned by any officer or member of the crew of the vessel, which are to be landed in the United States and for which written declaration and entry are required, shall be described and declared on a Declaration and Entry of Crew Member for Imported Articles, customs Form 5123, or other form approved by the Commissioner of Customs, upon the arrival of the vessel in the United States. Articles in the possession of or owned by officers or members of the crew and of a character for which entry must be made when they are brought into the United States shall be entered only at the port where the articles are to be landed, except that if any officer or crew member remains on a vessel which is to proceed on a movement described in paragraph (a) (2) of this section, entry shall be made at the port where such movement begins. Any duties and taxes found due shall be collected as in the case of arriving passengers. Articles belonging to an officer or seaman may be transferred from one vessel to another in the foreign trade under the supervision of customs officers, by a bonded cartman if necessary, without entry, declaration, or assessment of duty.

(c) Any such articles which are required to be manifested and are not manifested shall be subject to forfeiture and the master shall be subjected to a penalty equal to the value thereof, as provided for in section 584, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended. If any such articles are landed without a permit, the penalties provided for in section 453, Tariff Act of 1930, will accrue. (See § 23.4 of this chapter.)

Passengers' baggage and effects and purchases of officers and members of the crew landed in the United States from vessels which have transited the Panama Canal are subject to customs examination and treatment in the same manner as arrivals from a foreign country and a permit to unlade shall be obtained in such cases or the penalties provided for in section 453, Tariff Act of 1930, will be incurred.

§ 10.24 Government vessels.

(a) Immediately upon the arrival of any vessel operated directly by the United States or any agency thereof from a foreign port, the commanding officer shall file with the collector of customs information as to dutiable articles acquired abroad in the following form:

UNITED STATES NAVY CUSTOMS DECLARATION

U. S. S. _____
Port of arrival_____
To the collector of customs:

Herewith is submitted a list of articles acquired in foreign countries by me and the respective officers and members of the crew under my command, which list is correct to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Owner	Rank	Description of articles	Cost or value

Date _____, 19_____.
(Name)_____, (Rank)_____,
Commanding Officer.

The listed articles shall be segregated until formally passed by the customs. If there are no articles to be listed, the statement "Nothing to declare" shall suffice.

(b) No baggage declarations shall be required, but the articles listed shall otherwise be examined and passed in the same manner as the baggage on passenger vessels.

§ 10.25 Army and Navy transports; baggage brought in.

(a) Commissioned officers and enlisted personnel of the armed forces of the United States engaged in the operation of an Army or Navy transport, enlisted men carried as passengers, and civilian officers and crew members, shall not be required to execute baggage declarations, but all articles acquired abroad by them must be listed on the manifest of the vessel. Written baggage declarations shall be required of all cabin passengers.

(b) Passengers on transports shall be granted the applicable exemptions from duty provided for in paragraph 1798, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and commissioned officers and enlisted personnel of the armed forces of the United States engaged in the operation of the vessel shall be accorded the same privilege. Civilian officers and crew members shall be subject to the provisions of § 10.22 with respect to exemption from duty.

(c) Baggage on transports shall be examined at the port where landed in the same manner as baggage on commercial vessels.

(Sec. 498, 46 Stat. 728, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1498)

§ 10.26 Household and personal effects of Army, Navy, and Marine Corps personnel and of civilian employees of the Panama Canal.

(a) A member of the armed forces of the United States or a civilian employee of the Panama Canal Company or Canal Zone Government returning to the United States is ordinarily classifiable for customs purposes under the provisions of paragraph 1798, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, as a returning resident of the United States, and such person shall be classified as a nonresident only if satisfactory evidence is available to show that the person has established a home elsewhere.

((b) Effects of the persons mentioned in paragraph (a) of this section shipped to the United States otherwise than as baggage from points in the Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands, the island of Guam, or American Samoa, where customs officials are stationed, shall be passed free of duty without examination upon arrival of the shipment in this country: Provided, That (1) the effects have been corded and sealed immediately after an examination made by a principal customs officer at the place of shipment; (2) the cords and seals are intact at the time of importation; and (3) there are filed at the port of entry a declaration of the owner and a certificate of the examining customs officer, both indicating that the packages corded and sealed contain nothing but articles of the classes entitled to free entry under paragraph 1615 or 1632, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended. Returning residents may also include in the corded and sealed packages articles classifiable under paragraph 1798 (a) or (c) (1), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended. Citizens of the United States who are employed in a civilian capacity by the Panama Canal and who are not returning residents may include in the corded and sealed packages articles classifiable under paragraph 1798 (a), (b) (1), or (b) (2), as amended. The declaration of the owner may be accepted as an entry for any effects passed free under this paragraph when supported by evidence of the right to make entry.

(c) The declaration of the owner shall contain a statement as to his residence and the certificate of examination shall contain or be supported by detailed inventories of the contents of the packages covered by the declaration and certificate, certified by the examining customs officer to be correct in every particular. Both the declaration and the certificate shall be executed in triplicate, the original to accompany the shipment to the United States, the duplicate to be retained by the shipper of the merchandise, and the triplicate to be forwarded by mail to the collector of customs at the port in the United States where the shipment will be imported.

(d) Effects of members of the armed forces of the United States who are returning to this country from points abroad where no customs officer under the jurisdiction of the United States is stationed may be examined abroad under the procedure outlined above, the examination to be made by the senior officer of the post, excluding the owner of the effects except where only one officer is stationed. Upon the arrival of such shipments consigned to an official representative of the armed forces and the receipt of the required certificates of inspection and declaration of the owner, the packages shall be delivered to the consignee under cord and seal in order to eliminate storage and other charges, but not finally released until an entry has been filed and the goods actually have been examined by a customs officer of the port of entry. Examination in these cases shall be made at armed forces storehouses and, if items are found which are not classifiable under paragraph 1615, 1632, or paragraph 1798 (a) or (c) (1), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, the consignment shall again be corded and sealed and left in the custody of the official representative of the armed forces pending the payment of any duties applicable thereto.

(e) For the purpose of completing the collectors' records, the fact of arrival of armed forces personnel taking advantage of the provisions of this section shall be certified to the collector of the port through which their effects have been imported by the proper representative of the service to which the owners of the effects belong.

(f) Nothing in this section shall be construed to preclude the examination and detention of any importation if a customs officer having proper jurisdiction deems such action advisable in the interest of the revenue.

§ 10.27 Unclaimed and unaccompanied baggage.

Articles in passengers' baggage on which duties due are not paid and baggage not claimed within a reasonable time shall be treated as unclaimed and sent to general order. All baggage on board a vessel not accompanying a passenger and the marks or addresses thereof shall be listed on the last sheet of the passenger manifest under the caption "Unaccompanied baggage."

§ 10.28 Registration of valuable effects.

(a) Any person who intends to take valuable effects of foreign origin or plumage abroad may make an application, before his departure from the United States, to a collector of customs or appraiser of merchandise on customs Form 4455 in duplicate for the registration of such articles to facilitate their identification on return. The applicant shall be notified on the Form 4455 of the place to which the articles shall be delivered for examination. After the articles have been examined and the certificate on the Form 4455 has been executed, the duplicate copy of the form shall be delivered to the applicant for use on return, and the original shall be filed in the collector's office. The applicant's copy of the form shall be presented to the customs officer who handles the clearance of the articles when they are returned to the United States if any question then arises as to the duty-free or admissible status of the articles.

(b) In the case of resident seamen and airmen who make recurrent voyages while pursuing their occupation, customs Form 4457 may be issued, in lieu of customs Form 4455, to cover cameras and photographic equipment, binoculars, sextants, radios, and other valuable effects of foreign origin. This certificate shall be effective for a period of 2 years from the date of its issuance.

(c) Resident travelers who make frequent trips abroad may permanently register cameras, binoculars, and other articles of foreign origin which bear permanent identification numbers or markings. Customs Form 4457, properly conformed, shall be used for this purpose.

(Sec. 498, 46 Stat. 728, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1498)

DIPLOMATIC AND CONSULAR OFFICERS

§ 10.29 Baggage.

(a) Upon application to the Department of State and appropriate instructions from the Treasury Department in each instance, the privilege of admission free of duty without entry shall be extended to the baggage and effects of the following representatives of foreign governments and their families, suites, and servants, provided the governments which they represent grant reciprocal privileges to American officials of like grade accredited thereto or en route to or from other countries to which accredited.

(1) Ambassadors, ministers, and chargés d'affaires; secretaries, counselors and naval, military, and other attachés of embassies and legations; high commissioners, consular officers, and trade representatives; all the foregoing who are accredited to this Government or are en route to or from other countries to which accredited; and

(2) Other high officials of foreign governments and such distinguished foreign visitors as may be designated by the Department of State.

(b) In the absence of special authorization therefor from the Department prior to the arrival of representatives of foreign governments enumerated in paragraph (a) (1) of this section, the privilege may be extended to their baggage and effects upon presentation of their credentials or other proof of their identity.

(c) Foreign ambassadors, ministers, chargés d'affaires; secretaries, counselors, and naval, military, and other attachés of foreign embassies and legations shall not be detained or inconvenienced, and their baggage effects shall remain inviolate. Every proper means shall be afforded them to facilitate their passage through ports of the United States.

(d) The privilege of admission free of duty without entry of their baggage and effects may also be extended to representatives of this Government of the classes enumerated in paragraph (a) (1) of this section, including Treasury attachés and Treasury representatives, together with their families and servants, returning from their missions abroad, upon the production of their credentials; and to other high officials of this Government returning from special missions abroad, upon application therefor direct to the Treasury Department by the heads of the respective branches of the Government with which they are connected and the issuance of appropriate instructions. The free entry authorized hereunder shall not extend to alcoholic beverages, with respect to which the persons enumerated in this paragraph shall receive no other exemption from duty and internal-revenue tax than is allowed returning residents of the United States in accordance with § 10.17 (d).

(e) If by accident or unavoidable delay in shipment the baggage or other effects of a person of any class mentioned in this section shall arrive after him, such baggage or effects may be passed free of duty, under the conditions specified above, upon satisfactory proof of ownership.

(f) The accompanied personal baggage of diplomatic couriers of foreign countries shall be accorded customs privileges and immunities extended to foreign personnel of diplomatic rank under paragraph (e), except in cases provided for by special instructions from the Commissioner of Customs.

§ 10.30 Importations for resident representatives of foreign governments.

(a) Costumes, regalia, and other articles, including office supplies and equipment, for the official use of members and attachés of foreign embassies and legations, consular officers, and other representatives of foreign governments, may be admitted free of duty, provided the country which any such person represents accords like privileges to corresponding officials of the United States. Articles for the official use of representatives of foreign governments not listed in a Treasury Decision[32] shall be admitted free of duty only upon the receipt of instructions from the Department, which will be issued only when application therefor is made through the Department of State.

(b) Packages bearing the official seal of a foreign government with which the United States has diplomatic relations, accompanied by certificates under such seal to the effect that they contain only official communications or documents may be admitted free of duty without customs examination.

(c) The privilege of importing free of duty articles for their personal or family use may be granted to (1) members and attachés of foreign embassies and legations, and (2) other representatives and employees of foreign governments to whom the privilege is accorded under special agreements between the United States and the countries which they represent,[32] but in either case the privilege may be granted only upon the Department's instructions in each instance which will be issued only upon the request of the Department of State.

(d) No entry is required for shipments admitted free of duty under this section.

[32] Notices regarding the special agreements are published in the Treasury Decisions.

PUBLIC INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

§ 10.30a Organizations included.

(a) The President, by virtue of the authority vested in him by section 1 of The International Organizations Immunities Act of December 29, 1945 (22 U. S. C. 288) [32a] has designated certain organizations as public international organizations entitled to the free entry privileges of that statute. The following is a list of the public international organizations currently entitled to such free entry privileges and the Executive orders by which they were designated:

Organization	Executive Order	Date

World Meteorological Organization	10676	Sept. 1, 1956

(b) Pursuant to sections 2 (d) and 3 [35c] of the act, property of the organizations named in paragraph (a) of this section and the baggage and effects of the alien officers and employees thereof, of aliens designated by foreign governments to serve as their representatives in or to such organizations, or of the families, suites, and servants of such officers, employees, or representatives, shall be admitted free of duties and internal-revenue taxes imposed upon or by reason of importation, but such exemption shall be granted only upon the receipt in each instance of the Department's instructions which will be issued only upon the request of the Department of State.

(c) The term "baggage and effects" as used in section 3 of the act includes all articles which were in the possession abroad, and are being imported in connection with the arrival, of a person entitled to the benefits of the act and which are intended for his bona fide personal or household use, but does not include articles imported as an accommodation to others or for sale or other commercial use.

(d) All articles accorded free entry under the act shall be entered or withdrawn in accordance with the requirements prescribed by the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and the regulations thereunder.

(e) No invoices shall be required for articles accorded free entry under the act.

(f) Any customs bond which may be required from one of the organizations named in paragraph (a) of this section in connection with the importation or entry of merchandise into, or the exportation of merchandise from, the United States may be accepted without surety.

(g) The provisions of the act are applicable, insofar as duties and internal-revenue taxes imposed upon or by reason of importation are concerned, only with respect to articles entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption on and after December 29, 1945.

(Sec. 498, 46 Stat. 728, as amended, sec. 3, 59 Stat. 669; 19 U.S.C. 1498, 22 U.S.C. 288b)

[35c] "Insofar as concerns customs duties and internal-revenue taxes imposed upon or by reason of importation, and the procedures in connection therewith; the registration of foreign agents; and the treatment of official communications, the privileges, exemptions, and immunities to which international organizations shall be entitled shall be those accorded under similar circumstances to foreign governments." (Sec. 2 (d), 59 Stat. 669; 22 U. S. C. 288a (d))

"Pursuant to regulations prescribed by the Commissioner of Customs with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, the baggage and effects of alien officers and employees of international organizations, or of aliens designated by foreign governments to serve as their representatives in or to such organizations, or of the families, suites, and servants of such officers, employees, or representatives shall be admitted (when imported in connection with the arrival of the owner) free of customs duties and free of internal-revenue taxes imposed upon or by reason of importation." (Sec. 3, 59 Stat. 669; 22 U. S. C. 288b)

§ 10.30b Baggage of, and importations for, certain representatives of the United Nations, of specialized agencies of the United Nations, and of the Organization of American States.

(a) The privilege of admission free of duty and internal-revenue tax without entry or examination may be extended to the baggage and effects of (1) every person designated by a United Nations Member nation as the principal resident representative to the United Nations of such Member or as a resident representative with the rank of ambassador or minister plenipotentiary, (2) such resident members of their staffs as may be agreed upon between the Secretary-General of the United Nations, the Government of the United States, and the Government of the United Nations Member concerned, (3) every person designated by a United Nations Member of a specialized United Nations agency as its principal resident representative, with the rank of ambassador or minister plenipotentiary, at the headquarters of such agency in the United States, (4) such other principal resident representatives of United Nations Members to a specialized United Nations agency and such resident members of the staffs of representatives to a specialized United Nations agency as may be agreed upon between the principal executive officer of the specialized agency, the Government of the United States, and the Government of the United Nations Member concerned, (5) any person designated by a Member of the Organization of American States as its representative or interim representative on the council of the Organization of American States, and (6) all other permanent members of the Delegation of a Member of the Organization of American States regarding whom there is agreement for that purpose between the Government of the Member State concerned, the Secretary-General of the Organization of American States, and the Government of the United States of America.

(b) The privilege of importing without entry and free of duty and internal-revenue tax articles for their personal or family use may be granted to persons of the classes enumerated in paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) In the absence of a special authorization from the Department prior to arrival of persons of the classes enumerated in paragraph (a) of this section, the privilege of admission free of duty and internal-revenue tax without entry or examination may be extended to their baggage and effects upon presentation of their credentials or other proof of their identity.

(d) Only the alien representatives and the alien members of staffs enumerated in paragraph (a) of this section shall be entitled to the privileges and immunities provided for by this section.

(Art. V, sec. 15, 61 Stat. 762, ch. 628, 66 Stat. 516, sec. 498, 46 Stat. 728, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1498)

Free Entry; Foreign Military Personnel and Members of Their Immediate Families [35e]

§ 10.30c Articles for the use of foreign military personnel and their immediate families.

(a) Pursuant to section 196a Title 19, United States Code, collectors of customs shall accord entry free of all duties and internal-revenue taxes imposed upon or by reason of importation, and of all customs charges and exactions to articles entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption on or after August 28, 1949, for the official use of any person who is on duty in the United States, its Territories, or possessions as a member of the armed forces of any foreign country, or for the personal use of any such person or of any member of his immediate family.

(b) If any question arises as to the status of the importer under the said section 196a or whether articles entered thereunder are for official use or personal use, the collector shall report the available facts to the Bureau of Customs and await instructions.

(c) The entry requirements prescribed in the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and the regulations thereunder are applicable to articles for which free entry is claimed under the said section 196a.

(d) No invoices shall be required for articles accorded free entry under the said section 196a.

(Sec. 1, 63 Stat. 666; 19 U.S.C. 196a)

Temporary Importations Under Bond

(a) Entry of articles brought into the United States temporarily and claimed to be exempt from duty under section 308, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[36] shall be made on customs Form 7501, except that, when § 10.36 is applicable or the aggregate value of the articles is not over $250, the form prescribed for the informal entry of importations by mail, in baggage, or other, as the case may be, may be used. When entry is made on customs Form 7501, it shall be in original only except in the case of entries under subdivision (1) of section 308, in which case a duplicate copy shall be required for statistical purposes. In addition to the data usually shown on a regular consumption entry, there shall be set forth on each temporary importation bond entry (1) the subdivision of section 308 under which entry is claimed, (2) a statement of the use to be made of the articles in sufficient detail to enable the collector to determine whether they are entitled to entry as claimed, and (3) a declaration that the articles are not to be put to any other use and that they are not imported for sale or sale on approval.

(b) The collector, if he is satisfied as to the importer's identity and good faith, may admit a vehicle or craft brought in by a nonresident to take part in a race or other specific contest for which no money purse is awarded, under the provisions of section 308 (5), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, without formal entry or security for exportation. In such cases the collector shall issue to the importer a certificate on customs Form 4447, which shall be delivered with the article covered thereby to the customs officer at the port of exit at the time of departure. If at the time of arrival it appears that the article is likely to remain in the United States beyond 90 days, formal entry and bond shall be taken.

(c) When any article has been admitted without formal entry or security for exportation and the importer thereafter desires to prolong his stay beyond 90 days, an entry covering the article and security for its exportation shall be accepted at any port where the article may be presented for examination. Whenever an entry is substituted under the provisions of this paragraph for a certificate on customs Form 4447, the time during which the imported article may remain in the United States under the entry shall be computed from the date of original arrival in the United States and the article shall be appraised according to its value at the time of such arrival.

(d) In the case of a foreign-owned automobile or motorcycle, the registration of which is required by the country of ownership, the importer shall present a certificate of registration or other satisfactory evidence of ownership.

(e) Articles entered under bond for exportation may be withdrawn for consumption upon payment of the duties and taxes thereon and compliance with the applicable laws and regulations of the Treasury Department and other Government departments.

(f) Articles entered under bond for exportation may be transferred to another port for exportation under bond in accordance with § 10.41.

(g) Articles entered under bond for exportation may be destroyed under customs supervision at the port of importation or at the port of exportation, or at any other port to which they may be transported under bond for destruction, in lieu of exportation, with the consent of the collector of customs at the port of importation.

(h) Articles entered under bond for exportation may be abandoned to the Government in accordance with § 10.39.

tion card therefor may be taken up in lieu of the issuance of customs Form 4447, if the owner so desires, provided the collector is satisfied that the article concerned will leave the United States via the same route within 90 days.

(e) The entry or invoice shall describe each article in detail and set forth any marks or numbers thereon or other distinguishing features thereof, together with the value of each item. When practicable and necessary, the articles shall be marked by the examining officer so as to enable the customs officer at the port of exportation to identify the articles at the time of exportation.

(f) A bond shall be given on customs Form 7563 in an amount equal to one and one-quarter times the duties which it is estimated would accrue had all the articles covered by the entry been entered under an ordinary consumption entry. A term bond on customs Form 7563–A, may also be given. Cash deposits in the amount of the bond may be accepted in lieu of sureties. When the articles are entered under section 308(3) or 308(9) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, without formal entry, as provided for in § 10.36, or the amount of the bond taken under any subdivision of section 308 is less than $25, the bond shall be without surety or cash deposit and the bond form shall be modified to so indicate.

(g) Claim for free entry under such section 308 may be made for articles of any character described therein which have been previously entered under any other provision of law and the entry amended accordingly upon compliance with the requirements of this section, provided the articles have not been released from customs custody, but the 1-year period shall be computed from the date of importation. In the case of articles covered by an informal mail entry, such a claim may be made within a reasonable time either before or after the articles have been released from customs custody.

(h) After the entry and bond have been accepted, the articles may be released to the importer. The entry shall be liquidated free of duty, but at the time of such liquidation the amount of duties which would have accrued if the bond had not been given shall be ascertained and noted on the entry for use in connection with the consideration of any petition for relief from the payment of liquidated damages.

§ 10.33 Theatrical effects.*

(a) In connection with the entry under bond of theatrical scenery, property, and apparel, a declaration of the manager or proprietor shall be required on customs Form 3325 in addition to the requirements of § 10.31.

(b) Animals imported for use or exhibition in theaters or menageries may be classified as theatrical properties.

(c) The term "theatrical scenery, properties, and apparel" shall not be construed to include motion-picture films.

(Sec. 308, 46 Stat. 690, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1308)

§ 10.34 Articles brought by professional artists, lecturers, or scientists.

In connection with the entry of works of art and other articles provided for in section 308(12), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, brought in by professional artists, lecturers, or scientists, a declaration on customs Form 3333 shall be required in addition to the requirements of § 10.31.

(b) The importer shall file in connection with the entry a declaration stating, in addition to his name and business address, that he is a manufacturer; that the articles are imported solely as models for use in his own establishment and will be so used; that they are not imported for sale or for sale on approval; and that they will not be removed from such establishment for reproducing, copying, painting, or sketching by others, nor used in his establishment for such purposes except by him or his employees.

(c) Invoices covering models of women's wearing apparel entered under section 308 (2) or (3) shall state the kind and color of the principal material from which the apparel is made, and shall contain a description of the lining and the trimming, stating whether composed of fur, lace, embroidery, or other material. Invoices shall also contain a statement as to how the trimming is applied, that is, whether on the cuffs, collar, sleeves, or elsewhere, and the total value of each completed garment or article.

(d) Models of women's wearing apparel entered under section 308 (2) or (3) shall be marked for identification by means of a cord and lead or tin seal, the cord to be run through the article and all trimming thereon, where necessary, in such manner as to prevent the removal of the cord and seal without cutting the cord or injuring the article. A tag shall be attached to the cord, upon which shall be stated the name of the port at which the article was imported, the entry number, name of importer, and the number of the bond.

§ 10.36 Commercial travelers' samples; professional equipment and tools of trade; theatrical effects and other articles.

(a) Samples accompanying a commercial traveler who presents an adequate descriptive list or a special customs invoice and professional equipment and tools of trade imported in his baggage for his own use by a nonresident sojourning temporarily in the United States may be entered on the importer's baggage declaration in lieu of formal entry and examination and may be passed under section 308 (3) or 308 (9), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, at the place of arrival in the same manner as other passengers' baggage. The examination may be made by an inspector who is qualified, in the opinion of the collector, to determine the amount of the bond required by § 10.31 (c) to be filed in support of the entry. If the articles are a commercial traveler's samples and exceed $500 in value, a special customs invoice or a descriptive list shall be furnished.

(b) When the proprietor or manager of a theatrical exhibition arriving from abroad who has entered his scenery, properties, and apparel under section 308 (11) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, contemplates side trips to a contiguous country with the exhibition within the period of the bond, including any lawful extension, a copy of the entry covering the effects and a copy of a descriptive list of such effects or invoice furnished by him may be certified by the examining officer and returned to the proprietor or manager for use in registering the effects with the customs officers at the port of exit, and in clearing them through customs on his return. Cancelation of the bond shall be effected by exportation in accordance with the provisions of § 10.38 at the time the theatrical effects are finally taken out of the United States before the expiration of the bond period, including any lawful extension. Similar treatment may be accorded articles entered under other subdivisions of section 308 of the tariff act, as amended, upon approval by the Bureau.

(c) When a commercial traveler contemplates side trips to a contiguous country within the period of the bond, including any lawful extension, a copy of his baggage declaration and a copy of the descriptive list or special customs invoice furnished by him may be certified by the examining officer and returned to the traveler for use in registering the samples with customs officers at the port of exit, and in clearing them through customs upon his return. Cancelation of the bond shall be effected by exportation in accordance with the provisions of § 10.38 at the time the samples are finally taken out of the United States before the expiration of the bond period, including any lawful extension.

(d) The privilege of clearance of commercial travelers' samples or professional equipment or tools of trade imported for his own use by a nonresident sojourning temporarily in the United States on a baggage declaration under bond without surety or cash deposit shall not be accorded to a commercial traveler or such nonresident who, through fraud or culpable negligence, has failed to comply with the provisions of such a bond in connection with a prior arrival. Such a commercial traveler or nonresident shall be required to file a formal entry under section 308 (3) or 308 (9), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended with a bond supported by a surety or cash deposit in lieu of surety.

§ 10.37 Extension of bonds.

A bond given to assure the exportation of a temporary importation entered under section 308, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, may be extended for not more than two further periods of 1 year each, or such shorter period as may be appropriate, by the collector of customs at the port where the entry was filed, upon written application to such collector on customs Form 3173, provided the articles have not been exported or duly destroyed before the receipt of the application by the collector, and provided liquidated damages have not been assessed under the bond before such receipt.

§ 10.38 Exportation.

(a) Articles entered under a temporary importation bond may be exported at the port of entry or at another port and shall be delivered by the importer for examination at the appraiser's store or at such other place as the collector may designate. An application on customs Form 3495 shall be filed with the collector a sufficient length of time in advance of exportation to permit their examination, and the articles shall be identified as the same articles which were imported. The applicant shall be notified on customs Form 3497 where the articles are to be sent for identification.

(b) All expenses in connection with the delivery of the articles for examination, the cording and sealing of such articles, and their transfer for exportation shall be paid by the parties in interest.

(c) If exportation is to be made at a port other than the one at which the merchandise was entered, the application on customs Form 3495 shall be filed in duplicate. There shall also be filed with the application a certified copy of the import entry or a certified copy of the invoice used on entry.

(d) If the goods are examined at one port and are to be exported at another port, they shall be forwarded to the port of exportation under a transportation and exportation entry. In such cases customs Form 3495 shall be filed in duplicate.

(e) If the articles are to be exported by mail or parcel post, the package containing the articles must be mailed under customs supervision after examination. Waiver of the right to withdraw the package from the mails shall be endorsed on each package to be so exported and signed by the exporter.

§ 10.39 Cancellation of bonds.

(a) Bonds taken pursuant to section 308, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, may be canceled in the manner prescribed in § 25.15 of this chapter. In the case of articles entered under section 308 (4), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, which are destroyed because of their use for the purpose of importation, the bond shall not be canceled unless there is submitted to the collector a certificate of the importer that the articles were destroyed during the course of a specifically described use, and the collector is satisfied that the articles were so destroyed as articles of commerce within the bond period (including any lawful extension). Bonds covering articles entered under other provisions of law shall not be canceled upon proof of destruction, except as provided for in paragraph (c) of this section, unless the articles are destroyed under customs supervision in accordance with section 557, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and § 15.4 of this chapter.

(b) Where exportation has been made at a port other than the port of entry, the bond may be canceled upon the certificate of lading received from the port of exportation, showing that such exportation was made within the bond period. In addition, the collector may require the production of a landing certificate signed by a revenue officer of the country to which the merchandise is exported.

(c) When articles entered temporarily free of duty under bond are destroyed within the bond period by death, accidental fire, or other casualty, application for relief from liability under the bond shall be made to the Bureau of Customs. The application shall be accompanied by a statement of the importer, or other person having knowledge of the facts, setting forth the circumstances of the destruction of the articles.

(d) If any article entered under section 308, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, has not been exported or destroyed in accordance with the regulations in this part within the bond period (including any lawful extension), the collector shall make a demand in writing under the bond for the payment of liquidated damages equal to the entire amount of the bond, except that if the entry covering the articles is charged against a term bond the demand shall be limited to an amount equal to one and one-quarter times the estimated duties applicable to such entry. The written demand shall include a statement that a written application for relief from the payment of the full liquidated damages may be filed with the collector within 60 days after the date of the demand.

(e) If there has been default with respect to all the articles covered by the bond and a written application for relief is timely filed, it shall be transmitted to the Bureau with a full report of the facts, unless it is allowed by the collector in whole or in part in accordance with this regulation. If the full amount of liquidated damages demanded does not exceed $20,000 and the collector is satisfied that the importation was properly entered under section 308, and that there was no intent to defraud the revenue or delay the payment of duty, the collector may cancel the liability for the payment of liquidated damages as follows:

(1) If evidence is furnished which satisfies the collector that the article would have been entitled to free entry as domestic products exported and returned had the evidence been furnished at the time of entry, without the collection of liquidated damages.

(2) If the article has been exported or destroyed under customs supervision but not within the bond period, upon the payment of such lesser amount as the collector may deem appropriate under the law and in view of the circumstances, or without the collection of liquidated damages if the collector is satisfied that the delay in exportation or destruction was for the benefit of the United States or was occasioned wholly by circumstances reasonably beyond the control of the parties concerned and which could not have been anticipated by a reasonably prudent person.

(3) If the article was exported or destroyed within the bond period but not under customs supervision and satisfactory documentary evidence of actual exportation, such as a foreign landing certificate, or of death or other complete destruction, such as a veterinarian's certificate or certificates of two disinterested witnesses, are furnished together with a complete explanation by the applicant of the failure to obtain customs supervision, upon the payment of such lesser amount as the collector may deem appropriate under the law and in view of the circumstances, or without the collection of liquidated damages if the collector is satisfied that the merchandise was destroyed under circumstances which precluded any arrangement to obtain customs supervision.

(4) Upon the payment of an amount equal to one and one-quarter times the duties which would have accrued on the articles had they been entered under an ordinary consumption entry, if such amount is determined to be less than the full amount of the bond.

(f) If there has been compliance with the terms of the bond with respect to part of but not all the articles covered thereby and a written application for relief is filed, and if that part of the liability for liquidated damages which represents one and one-quarter times the duty on the articles in respect of which there has been a default does not exceed $20,000, the collector may cancel the total liability for payment of liquidated damages in any amount upon the payment of an amount equal to one and one-quarter times the duty on the articles in respect of which the default occurred or, under the circumstances enumerated in subparagraphs (1), (2), or (3) of paragraph (e) of this section, upon payment of such lesser amount as the collector may deem appropriate, provided the collector is satisfied that the importation was properly entered under section 308 and that there was no intent to defraud the revenue or delay the payment of duty.

(g) If the applicant is not satisfied with a collector's action under this section and submits a supplemental application, both the original and the supplemental applications shall be transmitted to the Bureau with a full report on the case.

(Sec. 308, 623, 46 Stat. 690, as amended, 759, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1308, 1623)

* For regulations relating to return without formal entry of theatrical effects taken from the United States, see § 10.68.

§ 10.40 Refund of cash deposits.

(a) When a cash deposit is made in lieu of surety, it shall be refunded to the person in whose name the entry is made upon exportation in compliance with § 10.38.

(b) If any article entered under section 308, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, is not exported or destroyed within the bond period (including any lawful extension), the collector shall notify the importer in writing that the entire cash deposit will be transferred to the regular account as liquidated damages unless a written application for relief from the payment of the full liquidated damages is filed with the collector within 60 days after the date of the notice. If such an application is timely filed, the transfer of the cash deposit to the regular account as liquidated damages shall be deferred pending the decision of the Bureau or, in appropriate cases, the collector of customs on the application.

INTERNATIONAL TRAFFIC [37]

§ 10.41 Instruments; exceptions.

(a) Locomotives and other railroad equipment used in international traffic shall be subject to the treatment provided for in § 5.12 of this chapter.

(b) Foreign-owned trucks, busses, and taxicabs arriving with merchandise or passengers destined to points in the United States, or arriving empty or loaded for the purpose of taking out merchandise or passengers, but not to engage in any local traffic in the United States (except that a vehicle in use on a regular scheduled trip in international traffic may carry merchandise or passengers between points in the United States when such carriage is directly incidental to the international schedule, and a foreign-owned truck trailer may carry merchandise between points in the United States on the return trip to the country from which it entered the United States under the same conditions as are prescribed for "other equipment" in § 5.12 (a) of this chapter), may be admitted without written entry or the payment of duty. In the case of any such vehicle not in use on a regularly scheduled trip, the collector may require that the registration card for the vehicle be deposited pending the return of the vehicle for departure to the country from which it arrived, or the collector may take other appropriate measures to assure the proper use and departure of the vehicle.

(c) Foreign-owned aircraft arriving in the United States shall be subject to the treatment provided for in Part 6 of this chapter, unless entered under the provisions of § 10.31 or of paragraph (d) of this section.

(d) Any foreign-owned vehicle, aircraft, or undocumented boat brought into the United States for the purpose of carrying merchandise or passengers between points in the United States for hire or as an element of a commercial transaction, except as stated in the parenthetical matter in paragraph (b) of this section, is subject to treatment as an importation of merchandise from a foreign country and a regular entry therefor shall be made. Any such vehicle, aircraft, or boat so used without a proper entry having been made shall be subject to forfeiture under section 592, Tariff Act of 1930.

(e) Materials and equipment for use in building a bridge or tunnel over or under water between the United States and a foreign country shall be admitted without entry or the payment of duty provided the material is for installation in the bridge or tunnel proper, and not in the approaches on land at the United States end of the bridge or tunnel. All articles admitted under this paragraph shall be subject to customs supervision at the expense of the builder until exported or installed.

(f) Material for the maintenance or repair of international cables under the high seas, if requiring storage in special tanks for preservation, may be placed in tanks specially bonded for the purpose and withdrawn therefrom for high-seas installation without the payment of duty and without limitation of the storage period to the usual 3-year warehousing period. International cables laid under the territorial waters of the United States but not brought on shore in the United States shall be admitted without entry or the payment of duty. With respect to international cables laid under the territorial waters of the United States but brought on shore in the United States, only that part of the cable in the United States between the point of entry into the territorial waters of the United States and the first point of support on land in the United States shall be admitted without the payment of duty.

(g) Vehicles and undocumented boats of foreign origin which are used for commercial purposes between adjoining or neighboring communities of the United States and a contiguous foreign country, such as delivery, peddlers', and service trucks, wagons, or boats, are subject to duty on first arrival, but may thereafter be admitted without entry or the payment of duty so long as they are continuously employed in international traffic.

§ 10.41a Lift vans, cargo vans, shipping tanks, skids, pallets, and similar instruments of international traffic.

(a) Lift vans, cargo vans, shipping tanks, skids, pallets, caul boards, and similar instruments arriving (whether loaded or empty) in use or to be used in the shipment of merchandise in international traffic are hereby designated as "instruments of international traffic" within the meaning of section 322(a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended. Such instruments may be released without entry or the payment of duty, subject to the provisions of this section.

(b) No article which by law is dutiable whether "filled or unfilled" or whether "full or empty," such as the cylindrical and tubular tanks or vessels provided for in paragraph 328 of the tariff act, is designated as an instrument of international traffic under this section.

(c) The instruments of international traffic designated in paragraph (a) of this section may be released in accordance with the provisions of that paragraph only after the applicant for such release has filed a bond with a collector of customs on customs Form 7587.[38] When the application for release is made at a port other than that at which the bond is on file, a certified copy of the bond shall be filed at the port at which release is requested.

(d) If an instrument released under this section is diverted to point to point local traffic within the United States, or if the instrument is otherwise withdrawn in the United States from its use as an instrument of international traffic, it becomes subject to entry and the payment of any applicable duties.

(e) The person who filed the application for release under paragraph (a) of this section shall promptly (1) notify a collector of customs at a port of entry in the United States as defined in section 401(k), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, of such diversion or withdrawal, (2) file with the collector of customs notified a consumption entry for the instrument, and (3) pay all duties due on the instrument at the rate or rates in effect and in its condition on the date of such diversion or withdrawal.

(f) Except as provided in paragraph (h) of this section, no part of this section precludes (1) the use of an instrument in picking up and delivering loads at intervening points in the United States while en route between the port of arrival and the point of destination of its imported cargo or (2) such use during the return of the instrument from such point of destination to an exterior port of departure, when such point to point traffic is incidental to the efficient and economical utilization of the instrument in the course of its use in international traffic. Such use does not constitute a diversion to unpermitted point to point local traffic within the United States or a withdrawal of an instrument in the United States from its use as an instrument of international traffic under this section.

(g) For failure promptly to report the diversion or withdrawal or promptly to make the required entry and pay the duties due, the applicant shall be liable for the payment of liquidated damages equal to the domestic value of the instrument established in accordance with section 606, Tariff Act of 1930.

(h) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to affect the treatment of articles covered herein under the coastwise laws of the United States, with particular reference to section 883, title 46, United States Code.

(Sec. 14, 67 Stat. 516, Sec. 623, 46 Stat. 759, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1322, 1623)

[37] "(a) Vehicles and other instruments of international traffic, of any class specified by the Secretary of the Treasury, shall be granted the customary exceptions from the application of the customs laws to such extent and subject to such terms and conditions as may be prescribed in regulations or instructions of the Secretary of the Treasury." (Sec. 322, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1322)

§ 10.42 Automobiles and other vehicles, boats, teams, and saddle horses taken abroad.

(a) Automobiles, aircraft, and other vehicles, boats, teams, and saddle horses of domestic origin, or of foreign origin if duty-paid, together with their accessories, taken abroad by the owner or his agent for noncommercial use and returned for the account of such owner shall be admitted without the payment of duty, except as provided for in paragraph (b) of this section, upon being satisfactorily identified.

(b) Repairs made abroad to such articles if incidental to use abroad are not subject to duty, but repairs not incidental to use abroad and alterations and additions made abroad shall be assessed with duty upon their value at the rate at which the article itself would be dutiable if imported. Accessories acquired abroad are dutiable as if separately imported.

(c) Upon the request of the owner or his agent, the collector of customs shall cause any such article to be examined before it is taken abroad and issue a certificate of registration therefor on customs Form 4455. On the return of the article, such certificate may be accepted as satisfactory identification for the purpose of admitting the article free of duty, whether the article is covered by a baggage declaration or by a regular entry, provided the article agrees with the description contained in the certificate. The State registration card for an automobile, the certificate of registration issued by the Department of Commerce for an aircraft, or the yacht license or motorboat identification certificate for a pleasure boat may be accepted under the same conditions as, and in lieu of, customs Form 4455 and be given the same force and effect.

(d) Regular entry or entry on a baggage declaration shall be required if the owner or his agent is unable to produce a proper registration card or certificate covering the article, or if duty is to be collected, or if a claim for free entry under the $200 or $300 returning resident's exemption with respect to the articles is to be made. The value of any repairs, alterations, additions, or accessories for which free entry under the $200 or $300 exemption will be claimed shall be included in a returning resident's baggage declaration, whether or not the article accompanies the resident at the time of his return to the United States.

(e) The collector shall admit, under the provisions of the convention between the United States and Mexico and regulations thereunder, without entry and without the payment of duty, stolen or embezzled motor vehicles, trailers, airplanes, or component parts of any of them, only in cases where they are accompanied by a letter from the United States Embassy in Mexico City stating that such Embassy is satisfied from information furnished it that the property, which must be adequately described in the letter for identification purposes, is stolen property being returned to the United States under the provisions of the said convention and regulations.

(f) Trucks, busses, and taxicabs, whether of foreign or domestic origin, taking out merchandise or passengers for hire or leaving empty for the purpose of bringing back merchandise or passengers for hire shall be admitted free of duty without entry on their return to the United States upon their identity being established by State registration cards. However, such vehicles taken abroad for commercial use between points in a foreign country otherwise than in the course of a regularly scheduled trip in international traffic shall be considered to have been exported and must be regularly entered on return. Trucks, busses, and taxicabs in use on regularly scheduled trips in international traffic, which regular trips may include the incidental carrying of merchandise or passengers for hire between points in a foreign country or between points in this country, shall be admitted without entry and without the payment of duty.

(g) Domestic truck, busses, and taxicabs upon which repairs have been made in a foreign country shall be subject upon reentry into the United States to a duty upon the value of the repairs at the rate at which the vehicles or other equipment would be dutiable if imported, but no such duty shall be assessed by reason of repairs required to restore any such article to the condition in which it last left the United States, by reason of "running" repairs required for the immediate safety of transportation or by reason of repairs which are incidental to the regular use of the vehicle in international traffic. For the purpose of this paragraph, trucks, busses, and taxicabs and their equipment manufactured in, or regularly imported into, the United States, and not subsequently cleared through foreign customs into another country, nor use in foreign local traffic otherwise than as an incident of the return of the equipment to the United States, shall be considered "domestic." A report of the first arrival in the United States of such trucks, busses, and taxicabs after they have been repaired in a foreign country shall be made promptly, in writing, to the United States Customs at the port of entry, such report to state the time and place of arrival and the nature and value of the repairs.

ARTICLES FOR INSTITUTIONS

(a) The importer of articles claimed to be exempt from duty under paragraph 1631,[39] 1773,[40] or 1817,[40a] Tariff Act of 1930, or under the provision in paragraph 1774,[40b] Tariff Act of 1930, for articles imported by order of an institution, shall file, as evidence that such articles are entitled to free entry, a declaration on customs Form 3321 of an executive officer or other authorized representative of the institution for which the articles are imported. In the case of articles claimed to be free under paragraph 1817, a declaration of a responsible officer of the importing society or institution that the substantial equivalent of the imported article is not manufactured in the United States shall also be furnished.

(b) The collector may require a copy of the charter or other evidence of the character of the institution for which the articles are imported, and may also require the production of the original of any order given by such society or institution to any importing agent or dealer for such articles.

(c) In the case of articles claimed to be free under paragraph 1720, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[40c] the collector may

[39] "Any society or institution incorporated or established solely for religious, philosophical, educational, scientific, or literary purposes, or for the encouragement of the fine arts, or any college, academy, school, or seminary of learning in the United States, or any State or public library, may import free of duty any book, map, music, engraving, photograph, etching, lithographic print, or chart, for its own use or for the encouragement of the fine arts, and not for sale, under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1631 (free list); 19 U. S. C. 1201, par. 1631)

[40] "• • • regalia and gems, where specially imported in good faith for the use and by order of any society incorporated or established solely for religious, philosophical, educational, scientific, or literary purposes, or for the encouragement of the fine arts, or for the use and by order of any college, academy, school, seminary of learning, orphan asylum, or public hospital in the United States, or any State or public library, and not for sale, subject to such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe; but the term 'regalia' as herein used shall be held to embrace only such insignia of rank or office or emblems as may be worn upon the person or borne in the hand during public exercises of the society or institution, and shall not include articles of furniture or fixtures, or of regular wearing apparel, nor personal property of individuals." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1773 (free list); 19 U. S. C. 1201, par. 1773)

[40a] "Any society or institution incorporated or established solely for educational, religious, or charitable purposes may import free of duty any textile machine or machinery, or part thereof, for its own use in the instruction of students and not for sale or for any commercial use, under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe: Provided, That free entry hereunder shall be conditioned upon the presentation to the collector of customs of an affidavit of a responsible officer of the importing society or institution that the substantial equivalent of the imported article is not manufactured in the United States." (Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, par. 1817 (free list); 19 U. S. C. 1201, par. 1817)

[40b] "Altars, pulpits, communion tables, baptismal fonts, shrines, or parts of any of the foregoing, and statuary (except casts of plaster of paris, or of compositions of paper or papier-mâché), imported in good faith for the use of, either by order of or for presentation (without charge) to, any corporation or association organized and operated exclusively for religious purposes." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1774 (free list); 19 U. S. C. 1201 par. 1774)

[40c] "Models of inventions and of other improvements in the arts, to be used exclusively as models, or exclusively as exhibits in exhibitions at any college, academy, school, or seminary of learning, any society or institution established for the encouragement of the arts, science, or education, or any association of such organizations." (Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, par. 1720 (free list); 19 U.S.C. 1201, par. 1720) require a declaration as to the use to be made of the articles, and in the case of articles for use exclusively as exhibits in exhibitions, a copy of the charter or other evidence of the character of the institution at which the articles are to be exhibited.

§ 10.44 Declaration of dealer or agent; certificate of delivery; stipulation.

(a) When such articles are imported through a dealer, his declaration and that of the importer shall be filed on customs Form 3321.

(b) Such declarations shall be filed at the time of entry, and bonds shall not be accepted for their subsequent production. However, when it is impracticable to produce at the time of entry the declaration of the institution for which the importation is made, the importer may deposit the estimated duties and stipulate to produce such declaration within 6 months if he files a written statement at the time of entry showing why the declaration of the institution cannot be produced. (See § 25.16 (c) of this chapter). When neither the declaration nor the statement is filed at the time of entry the collector nevertheless may grant free entry to imported articles under the applicable provision of the tariff act when there are subsequently filed in connection with the entry a declaration on customs Form 3321 and the original order of the society or institution establishing the applicability of the exemption from duty, with a written statement setting forth a reasonable explanation for the failure to file the declaration or statement at the time of entry.

(c) Customs Form 3337, signed by an executive officer or other authorized representative of the institution, shall be filed within 6 months from the date of entry unless (1) the importation is consigned to the institution, (2) the receipt of the articles is acknowledged by the institution on customs Form 3321, or (3) examination of the articles on the premises of the institution is approved under § 14.2 of this chapter.

§ 10.45 Serial publications; list of publications.

One declaration may be made for books or other publications issued serially and imported in installments. A list shall be filed with the declaration on entry of the first importation of the publication, which list shall be signed by the importer immediately below the last-mentioned article in such list. Subsequent installments may be admitted free upon declaration of the importer that they are included in the list already filed.

(Sec. 485(b), 46 Stat. 724, pars. 1631, 1773, sec. 201, 46 Stat. 675, 681; 19 U.S.C. 1485 (b), 1201, pars. 1631, 1773)

§ 10.46 Articles for the United States.

Pursuant to paragraph 1628, Tariff Act of 1930,[41] books, engravings, and other articles therein enumerated, which are imported by authority or for the use of the United States or for the use of the Library of Congress, shall be admitted free of duty upon compliance with §§ 10.43–10.45, or upon the written request of the head of the bureau or executive department concerned.

(Pars. 1628, sec. 201, 46 Stat. 675, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1201, par. 1628)

§ 10.47 Statutory and casts of sculpture.

(a) Pursuant to paragraph 1773, Tariff Act of 1930,[42] statuary and casts of sculpture for use as models or for art educational purposes only shall be admitted free of duty if reported by the appraising officer to be statuary or casts of sculpture, and if the collector of customs is satisfied that they are actually imported for the purposes above mentioned.

(b) The importer shall file in connection with the entry a declaration of the ultimate consignee on customs Form 3307.

§ 10.48 Original paintings, engravings, drawings, sculpture, etc.

(a) Invoices covering works of art claimed to be free of duty under paragraph 1807, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[43] shall show whether they are originals, replicas, reproductions, or copies, and also the name of the artist who produced them, unless upon examination the appraiser is satisfied that such statement is not necessary to a proper determination of the facts.

(b) The following evidence shall be filed in connection with the entry:

(1) A declaration in the following form by the artist who produced the article, showing whether it is original, or, in the case of sculpture, the original work or model or one of the first ten castings, replicas, or reproductions made from the original work or model; and in the case of etchings, engravings, woodcuts, lithographs, or prints made by other hand transfer processes, that they were printed by hand from hand-etched, hand-drawn, or hand-engraved plates, stones, or blocks:

I, ----------, do hereby declare that I am the painter or producer of certain works of art, viz:---------- covered by the annexed invoice dated ----------; that the said paintings, pastels, mosaics, drawings and/or sketches are originals; that the said sculptures or statuary are the original works or models or one of the first ten castings, replicas, or reproductions made from the sculptor's original work or model; and that the said etchings, engravings, woodcuts, lithographs, or prints made by other hand-transfer processes were printed by hand from hand-etched, hand-drawn, or hand-engraved plates, stones, or blocks.

(2) A declaration of the seller or shipper giving the information specified in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, if it be shown that it is impossible to produce the declaration of the artist.

(3) A declaration of the importer on customs Form 3307.

(c) The declaration of the artist, or the declaration of the seller or shipper in lieu thereof, may be waived upon a satisfactory showing that it is impossible to produce either, but the declaration of the importer shall be required in all cases.

(d) Artists' proof etchings, engravings, woodcuts, lithographs, or prints made by other hand transfer processes should bear the genuine signature or mark of the artist as evidence of their authenticity. In the absence of such a signature or mark, other evidence shall be required which will establish the authenticity of the work to the satisfaction of the collector.

(e) In the case of articles claimed to be free under paragraph 1807(b), the collector may require proof of the character of the article, including, when necessary, certificates from curators or other recognized authorities on art, that the imported article represents some school, kind, or medium of the free fine arts.

§ 10.49 Articles for exhibition; requirements on entry.

(a) There shall be filed in connection with the entry of works of art and other articles claimed to be free of duty under paragraph 1809, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[44] a declaration by a qualified officer of the institution on customs Form 3325, and a bond on customs Form 7565. Claim for free entry under paragraph 1809 may be made for articles of the character described therein which have been previously entered under any other provision of law and the entry amended accordingly upon compliance with the requirements of this section, provided the articles have not been released from customs custody.

(b) The collector may require a copy of the charter or other evidence of the character of the institution for which the articles are imported, and may also require the production of the original of any order given by such society or institution to any importing agent or dealer for such articles.

(c) Articles entered under paragraph 1809 of the tariff act may be transferred from one institution to another upon an application in writing in the case of each transfer describing the articles and stating the name of the institution to which transfer is to be made, provided the sureties to the bond assent in writing under seal or a new bond is filed. No entry or withdrawal shall be required for such a transfer.

(d) If any of the articles accorded free entry under paragraph 1809 shall be sold, offered or exposed for sale, transferred, or used in any manner contrary to the provisions of the regulations in this part, within 5 years after the date of entry under such paragraph, the amount of the duties shall be collected immediately by the collector of customs at the port of entry and deposited as duties. If the articles are exported or destroyed under customs supervision within such 5-year period, the liability under the bond shall be treated as terminated.

§ 10.50 Works of American artists.

When works of art produced by American artists residing temporarily abroad are claimed to be free of duty under paragraph 1810, Tariff Act of 1930,[45] the importer shall file a declaration of the artist which shall be on or attached to the invoice and shall state:

I, ----------, do hereby declare that I am a citizen of the United States of America, and by profession ----------; (Artist or sculptor) that my place of residence in the United States is ----------; that I departed from the United States of America on or about ----------, 19--, to take up my temporary residence at ----------; and that I have not given up, and that it is not my intention to give up, my residence in the United States, and I intend to return ultimately to the United States. I further declare that the ---------- described (Briefly identify the works of art) in the invoice herewith were produced by me during my temporary residence abroad at ----------, during the year 19--.

The declaration may be made by the artist on customs Form 3307.

§ 10.51 Articles for institutions.

When articles for institutions are claimed to be free of duty under the provisions in paragraph 1774 or 1810, Tariff Act of 1930,[46] for articles imported for presentation to institutions, there shall be filed, in connection with the entry of such articles, a declaration on customs Form 3331 showing that the articles were expressly imported for presentation to the institution named in the entry, together with letters of presentation and acceptance from the donors and donees, respectively.

§ 10.52 Stained or painted glass windows for houses of worship.

(a) When stained or painted glass windows or window glass which are works of art valued at $15 or more per square foot are claimed to be free of duty under paragraph 1810, Tariff Act of 1930,[47] the importer shall file in connection with the entry a declaration on customs Form 3321, declaring that the importation is a work of art made for use in a house of worship.

(b) Customs Form 3337 shall be filed in connection with the entry unless (1) the importation is consigned to the institution, (2) the receipt of the articles is acknowledged by the institution on customs Form 3321, or (3) examination of the articles on the premises of the institution is approved under § 14.2 of this chapter.

§ 10.53 Artistic antiquities.

(a) Regardless of the value of the articles, the invoice filed in connection with the entry of artistic antiquities and other articles provided for in paragraph

[41] "Books, engravings, photographs, etchings, bound or unbound, maps and charts imported by authority or for the use of the United States or for the use of the Library of Congress; sound recordings imported by the Department of State for use in the program authorized by the United States Information and Educational Exchange Act of 1948." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1628, as amended (free list); 19 U.S.C. 1201, par. 1628)

[42] "Statuary and casts of sculpture for use as models or for art educational purposes only; * * *." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1773 (free list); 19 U.S.C. 1201, par. 1773)

[43] "(a) Original paintings in oil, mineral, water, vitreous enamel, or other colors, pastels, original mosaics, original drawings and sketches in pen, ink, pencil, or watercolors, or works of the free fine arts in any other media including applied paper and other materials, manufactured or otherwise, such as are used on collages, artists' proof etchings unbound, and engravings and woodcuts unbound, lithographs or prints made by other hand transfer processes unbound, original sculptures or statuary; but the terms 'sculpture' and 'statuary' as used in this paragraph shall be understood to include professional productions of sculptors only, whether in round or in relief, in bronze, marble, stone, terra cotta, ivory, wood, metal, or other materials, or whether cut, carved, or otherwise wrought by hand from the solid block or mass of marble, stone, alabaster, or from metal, or other material, or cast in bronze or other metal or substance, or from wax or plaster, or constructed from any material or made in any form as the professional productions of sculptors only, and the term 'original', as used in this paragraph to modify the words 'sculptures' and 'statuary', shall be understood to include the original work or model and not more than ten castings, replicas, or reproductions made from the sculptor's original work or model, with or without a change in scale and regardless of whether or not the sculptor is alive at the time the castings, replicas, or reproductions are completed. The terms 'painting', 'mosaic', 'drawing', 'work of the free fine arts', 'sketch', 'sculpture', and 'statuary' as used in this paragraph, shall not be understood to include any articles of utility or for industrial use, nor such as are made wholly or in part by stenciling or any other mechanical process; and the terms 'etchings', 'engravings', and 'woodcuts', 'lithographs', or 'prints made by other hand transfer processes', as used in this paragraph, shall be understood to include only such as are printed by hand from plates, stones, or blocks etched, drawn, or engraved with hand tools and not such as are printed from plates, stones, or blocks etched, drawn, or engraved by photochemical or other mechanical processes.

"(b) Original works of the free fine arts, not provided for in subparagraph (a), subject to such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe as to proof that the article imported represents some school, kind, or medium of the free fine arts. The term 'original works of the free fine arts' as used herein shall not be understood to include any article of utility or for industrial use." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1807, as amended (free list); 19 U.S.C. 1201, par. 1807.)

[44] "(a) Works of art, collections in illustration of the progress of the arts, sciences, agriculture, or manufactures, photographs, works in terra cotta, parian, pottery, or porcelain, antiquities and artistic copies thereof in metal or other material, imported in good faith for exhibition purposes within the territorial limits of the United States by any State or by any society or institution established for the encouragement of the arts, science, agriculture, or education, or for a municipal corporation, and all like articles imported in good faith by any society or association, or for a municipal corporation, for the purpose of erecting a public monument, and not intended for sale nor for any other purpose than herein expressed; but bond shall be given, under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, for the payment of lawful duties which may accrue should any of the articles aforesaid be sold, transferred, or used contrary to this paragraph within five years after the date of entry hereunder and such articles shall be subject at any time within such five-year period to examination and inspection by the proper officers of the customs: Provided, That the privileges of this subparagraph (a) shall not be allowed to associations or corporations engaged in or connected with business of a private or commercial character.

"(b) In connection with the entry of works of art and other articles claimed to be free of duty under this paragraph, surety on bonds may be waived in the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury.

"(c) Articles entered under this paragraph may be transferred, subject to such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, from an organization specified in subparagraph (a) to another such organization or temporarily to a commercial gallery or other premises for exhibition and not for sale." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1809, as amended, (free list); 19 U.S.C. 1201, par. 1809.)

[45] "Works of art, productions of American artists residing temporarily abroad * * * but such exemption shall be subject to such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1810 (free list); 19 U. S. C. 1201, par. 18.0)

[46] "PAR. 1774. Altars, pulpits, communion tables, baptismal fonts, shrines, mosaics, or parts of any of the foregoing, and statuary (except casts of plaster of paris, or of compositions of paper or papier-mâché), imported in good faith for the use of, either by order of or for presentation (without charge) to, any corporation or association organized and operated exclusively for religious purposes."

"PAR. 1810. * * * other works of art, including pictorial paintings on glass, imported expressly for presentation to a national institution or to any State or municipal corporation or incorporated religious society, college, or other public institution. * * * and excluding any article, in whole or in part, molded, cast, or mechanically wrought from metal within twenty years prior to importation; but such exemption shall be subject to such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe." (Tariff Act of 1930, pars. 1774, 1810 (free list); 19 U. S. C. 1201, pars. 1774, 1810)

[47] "* * * stained or painted window glass or stained or painted glass windows which are works of art when imported to be used in houses of worship valued at $15 or more per square foot, * * * but such exemption shall be subject to such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1810 (free list); U. S. C. 1201, par. 1810)

1811, Tariff Act of 1930,[48] as amended, shall contain a declaration by the actual foreign vendor if the merchandise is shipped in pursuance of a purchase or agreement to purchase, or by the foreign owner if the merchandise is shipped otherwise than in pursuance of a purchase or agreement to purchase, showing the name and address of the person from whom the articles were acquired by him, the date when so acquired, and, if possible, the place and approximate date of production. A declaration executed on the invoice by an agent competent to verify the value and the statements set forth in the invoice may be accepted as a sufficient compliance with this section. The declaration may be waived by the collector in any case in which he is satisfied that failure to produce it is not due to any lack of diligence or good faith on the part of the importer and that the information is not required for any purpose in connection with the classification and appraisement of the articles, provided the declaration of the owner in this country or of the person in this country importing otherwise than in pursuance of a purchase or agreement to purchase, required by paragraph (b) of this section, is supplemented by a statement of such owner or person, giving all the facts within his knowledge tending to show how long the articles have been in existence and where they were produced.

(b) A declaration on customs Form 3307, executed by (1) the owner in this country, (2) the person in this country importing otherwise than in pursuance of a purchase or agreement to purchase, or (3) a duly authorized agent or attorney of either of the foregoing who has knowledge of the pertinent facts shall also be filed in connection with the entry.

(c) Articles brought in as passenger's baggage and entitled to entry under the passenger's declaration and entry which are claimed to be entitled to free entry as artistic antiquities may be admitted free of duty upon the execution by the passenger of a declaration on Form 3307, provided the passenger is the owner of the articles and they are not for sale or other commercial use, and provided the collector, after examination by the appraising officer, is satisfied that the articles are artistic and of the requisite age.

(d) Artistic antiquities, if of the age prescribed by paragraph 1811, shall be admitted free of duty though repaired or renovated. If, however, an artistic antiquity has been repaired with a substantial amount of additional material, without changing the original form or shape, or enhancing its artistic quality, the original and added portions shall be appraised and reported as separate entities and the basis for such report shall be plainly indicated on the invoice by the appraiser. In such cases duty shall be assessed on the portion added. If the repairs consist of an addition to an article of an artistic or other feature which changes it substantially from the article originally produced, or if the antique portion has otherwise been so changed as to lose its identity as the article which was in existence prior to the time prescribed in paragraph 1811, the entire article shall be excluded from free entry under paragraph 1811.

(e) Furniture claimed to be free of duty under paragraph 1811, except picture frames classifiable under subparagraph (a) of that paragraph, as amended, may be entered for consumption only at the ports of Baltimore, Md., Boston, Mass., Chicago, Ill., Honolulu, Hawaii, Los Angeles, Calif., New Orleans, La., New York, N.Y., Philadelphia, Pa., San Francisco, Calif., and Seattle, Wash.[49] However, such furniture may be entered at any port for transportation in bond to one of the ports named herein, or to any authorized place of deposit outside one of those ports, for examination and release, as contemplated by section 484(f), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, if the port of entry designated in the transportation entry is one at which furniture may be entered for consumption and there is a compliance with the procedure prescribed by § 18.11(c) of this chapter.

(f) A claim for the free entry of an article under paragraph 1811 on the basis of antiquity may be made on the entry, or filed after entry at any time prior to liquidation of the entry, provided the article has not been released from customs custody or it has been found upon examination before such release to be described in paragraph 1811.

(g) In the case of furniture previously entered at a port not designated for the entry of antique furniture, a claim for free entry under paragraph 1811 shall not be considered after the appraiser has made his report in the case of articles not imported for sale, or after the examination of the articles for the purpose of appraisement or classification has begun in the case of articles imported for sale. If such a claim is made before that time at such port, the entry shall be canceled and, if the importer does not enter the articles for exportation or for shipment in bond to a port designated for the entry of antique furniture, the articles shall be treated as unclaimed.

(h) The additional duty of 25 percent imposed by section 489, Tariff Act of 1930,[50] as amended, shall apply to any article which is imported for sale and claimed, either at the time of entry or at a later date, to be free of duty under paragraph 1811 if such article is later found to be unauthentic in respect of the antiquity claimed as a basis for such free entry, unless the claim under paragraph 1811 is withdrawn in writing before the examination of the article for the purpose of appraisement or classification has begun.

(i) The 25 percent additional duty provided for in section 489 of the tariff act shall not be assessed if the importer establishes by evidence satisfactory to the collector that the article was not imported for sale. In the case of any article imported in a passenger's baggage, the collector may accept the statement of the passenger that the article was not imported for sale if he is satisfied of the truth of such statement.

§ 10.54 Gobelin and other hand-woven tapestries.

(a) Pursuant to paragraph 1812, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[51] Gobelin tapestries produced in the Manufacture Nationale des Gobelins factories at Paris and Beauvais under the direction and control of the French Government, and other hand-woven tapestries, shall be accorded free entry if of a kind fit only for use as wall hangings, and valued at not less than $20 per square foot.

(b) A certificate executed by the manager or other responsible employee of the Gobelin or other factory or producer establishing the character of the article shall accompany the invoice. If the absence of such a certificate is satisfactorily explained, other evidence establishing the necessary facts may be accepted.

§ 10.55 Ethnographic objects.

Claim for free entry as ethnographic objects made in traditional aboriginal styles and made at least fifty years prior to their date of entry, under paragraph 1811(c), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[52] shall be supported by a declaration of a person having knowledge of the facts as to the character and origin of the objects, the fact of their having been produced at least fifty years prior to their date of entry, and a statement of the sources of the information upon which such declaration is based.

(Sec. 201 (par. 1811), 46 Stat. 685; 19 U.S.C. 1201 (par. 1811))

§ 10.56 Vegetable oils, denaturing; release.

(a) Olive, palm-kernel, rapeseed, sunflower, and sesame oil shall be admitted free of duty under the provisions of paragraph 1732, Tariff Act of 1930,[53] if denatured abroad or under customs supervision after importation but before release from customs custody, at the request and expense of the importer, by a formula prescribed by the Bureau, or if by their method of production abroad they are rendered unfit for use as food or for any but mechanical or manufacturing purposes.

(b) Each cask or package of oil claimed to have been before importation denatured or otherwise rendered unfit for use as food or for any but mechanical or manufacturing purposes shall be sampled and tested by an appraising officer.

(c) The following formulas are prescribed:

To 100 gallons of the oil to be denatured add any of the following substances:

(1) Three gallons of rosin oil, preferably second or third runs.

(2) Three gallons of refined, destructively distilled, wood turpentine, boiling not lower than 160° C.

(3) One hundred fluid ounces of lavender oil.

(4) One-fourth gallon of pyridin.

(5) One-half gallon of creosote.

(6) Four gallons of aniline oil.

(7) Six gallons of dark-colored oleic acid.

(8) Six ounces of oleoresin capsicum.

(9) Not less than 2 gallons of pine tar.

(10) One hundred ounces of linalool.

(11) One hundred ounces of HO oil.

(12) One-third ounce of brucine alkaloid dissolved in a solution composed of two parts by volume of alcohol and four parts by volume of rosemary oil, steam-distilled pine oil, or synthetic pine oil, or other suitable essential or distilled oil.

(13) One gallon of sulphuric (66° B.) acid, and the mixture allowed to stand at least 24 hours before being released.

(14) One hundred ounces of a mixture of two parts by weight of terpineol and one part by weight of phenyl acetic aldehyde.

(15) One and one-half gallons of heavy coal-tar naphtha conforming to the following specifications:

Specific gravity at 15.5° C.: 0.915 to 0.950.
Distillation: 10 percent not lower than 160° C.; 70 percent at 199° to 201° C.; 95 percent not higher than 260° C.
Flash point: Not less than 38° C.
Free from separated moisture and dirt.

(16) One and one-half gallons of special heavy coal-tar naphtha of the following specifications:

Specific gravity at 15.5° C.: 0.880 to 0.970.
Distillation: Not over 10 percent at 160° C.; 90 percent not higher than 20 ° C.
Flash point: Not less than 38° C.
Free from separated moisture and dirt.

(17) Two gallons of special mineral denaturing oil of the following specifications:

Initial boiling point: Not lower than 205° C.
Flash point (open cup): Not lower than 75° C.
Specific gravity at 15.5° C.: Not lower than 0.819.
This special mineral denaturing oil must be easily recognizable by its pronounced and unmistakably disagreeable taste and odor when present in the vegetable oil to be denatured in the proportion of two parts of the mineral oil to 100 parts of the vegetable oil.

(18) One gallon of a petroleum oil oxidation product meeting the following specifications:

The denaturant upon distillation shall yield not less than 20 percent and not more than 60 percent, by volume, below 200° C.
Ten cubic centimeters of the denaturant with 15 cubic centimeters of Schiff-Elvove reagent (Journal of Industrial and Engineering Chemistry, June 1921, p. 543) must show decided violet color within 30 seconds after addition and agitation.
The iodine numbers (Hanns) shall be not less than 35.

(19) One hundred fluid ounces of steam-distilled pine oil or synthetic pine oil.

(20) One hundred ounces of Oil Bois de Rose Brazil.

(21) Proprietary mixtures of essential oils and synthetic perfume material approved by the Commissioner of Customs.

(d) The Bureau will from time to time prescribe additional formulas, and will consider any formula for special denaturing that may be submitted.

(e) The collector may, if he deems it advisable, require an importer requesting permission to use any authorized denaturant to submit to the appraiser an adequate sample of such denaturant, in order that the appraiser may report to the collector whether or not such denaturant is suitable for rendering the oil unfit for use as food or for any but mechanical or manufacturing purposes.

(f) No such oil shall be released free of duty until the appraiser shall have made a special report that it has been properly denatured and the owner or consignee shall have filed with the collector a declaration on customs Form 3339.

(Par. 1732, sec. 201, 46 Stat. 680; 19 U. S. C. 1201, par. 1732)

POTATOES, CORN, OR MAIZE

§ 10.57 Certified seed potatoes, and seed corn or maize.

Claim for classification as seed potatoes under paragraph 771, Tariff Act of 1930, as modified (T.D. 51802), or as seed corn or maize under paragraph 724, Tariff Act of 1930, as modified (T.D. 52739), shall be made at the time of entry. Such classification shall be allowed only if the articles are white or Irish potatoes, or maize or corn, imported in containers and if, at the time of importation, there is firmly affixed to each container an official tag supplied by the government of the country in which the contents were grown, or an agency of such government. The tag shall bear a certificate to the effect that the specified contents of the container were grown, and have been approved, especially for use as seed. The tag shall also bear a number or other symbol identifying the potatoes or corn in the container with an inspection record of the foreign government or its agency on the basis of which the certificate was issued.

BOLTING CLOTHS

§ 10.58 Bolting cloths; marking.

(a) As a prerequisite to the free entry of bolting cloth for milling purposes under paragraph 1626, Tariff Act of 1930,[55] the cloth shall be indelibly marked from selvage to selvage at intervals of not more than 4 inches with the words "bolting cloth expressly for milling purposes" in block letters 3 inches in height. Such cloth shall be allowed free entry only under the following conditions:

(1) Bolting cloths composed of silk imported expressly for milling purposes shall be considered only such cloths as are suitable for and are used in the act or process of grading, screening, bolting, separating, classifying, or sifting dry materials, or of dry materials mixed with water, if the water is merely a carrying medium.

(2) If an importer is a manufacturer of mills or machines for any process described above, or conducts a business wherein any act or process described above, constitutes an activity, he shall file with the collector of customs in connection with the entry a certificate that he is such a manufacturer or conducts such a business and that such bolting cloths are imported expressly for milling purposes.

(3) If bolting cloths are imported by an agent in fulfillment of an accepted order, the importer shall file with the collector of customs in connection with the entry a certificate showing the name of the actual purchaser of such bolting cloths and that such purchaser is a manufacturer or conducts a business as described, or conducts a business for the purpose of supplying such manufacturers and businesses.

[48] "(a) Works of art (except rugs and carpets made after the year 1700), collections in illustration of the progress of the arts, works in bronze, marble, terra cotta, parian, pottery, or porcelain, artistic antiquities, and objects of art of ornamental character or educational value which shall have been produced prior to the year 1830, subject to such regulations as to proof of antiquity as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe. Picture frames classifiable under this subparagraph may be entered at any port of entry.

"(b) Violins, violas, violoncellos, and double basses, of all sizes, made in the year 1800 or prior year.

"(c) Ethnographic objects made in traditional aboriginal styles and made at least fifty years prior to their date of entry, subject to such regulations as to proof of antiquity as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1811, as amended (free list); 19 U.S.C. 1201, par. 1811)

[49] "• • • Furniture described in paragraph 1811 shall enter the United States at ports which shall be designated by the Secretary of the Treasury for this purpose. • • •" (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 489; 19 U. S. C. 1489)

[50] "• • • If any article described in paragraph 1811 and imported for sale is rejected as unauthentic in respect to the antiquity claimed as a basis for free entry, there shall be imposed, collected, and paid on such article, unless exported under customs supervision, a duty of 25 per centum of the value of such article in addition to any other duty imposed by law upon such article." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 489; 19 U. S. C. 1489)

"Furniture" within the meaning of section 489, Tariff Act of 1930, is defined as "movable articles of convenience or decoration designed for use in furnishing a house, apartment, place of business or of accommodation." This definition embraces most articles claimed to be free of duty as artistic antiquities. (See T. D. 44165)

[51] "Gobelin and other hand-woven tapestries fit only for use as wall hangings, and valued at not less than $20 per square foot." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1812, as amended, (free list); 19 U.S.C. 1201, par. 1812)

[52] "(c) Ethnographic objects made in traditional aboriginal styles and made at least fifty years prior to their date of entry, subject to such regulations as to proof of antiquity as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe." (Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, par. 1811(c) (free list))

[53] "• • • olive, palm-kernel, rapeseed, sunflower, and sesame oil, rendered unfit for use as food or for any but mechanical or manufacturing purposes, by such means as shall be satisfactory to the Secretary of the Treasury and under regulations to be prescribed by him; • • •." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1732 (free list); 19 U. S. C. 1201, part 1732)

[55] "Bolting cloths composed of silk, imported expressly for milling purposes, and so permanently marked as not to be available for any other use." Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1626 (free list); 19 U. S. C. 1201, par. 1626)

(4) If bolting cloths are imported for stock, the importer shall file with the collector of customs in connection with the entry a certificate to the effect that he imports such bolting cloths expressly for the purpose of supplying manufacturers and businesses as described, or of supplying other firms who in turn supply manufacturers and businesses as described.

(b) Bolting cloths not marked in the manner above indicated at the time of importation may be so marked by the importers in public stores under the supervision of customs officers.

(Par. 1626, sec. 201, 46 Stat. 675; 19 U. S. C. 1201, par. 1626)

WITHDRAWAL OF SUPPLIES AND EQUIPMENT FOR VESSELS

§ 10.59 Exemption from customs duties and internal-revenue tax.[56]

(a) A vessel shall not be considered to be actually engaged in the foreign trade, or in trade between the Atlantic and Pacific ports of the United States, or between the United States and its possessions, as the case may be, for the purpose of withdrawing supplies free of duty and internal-revenue tax pursuant to section 309(a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, unless it is:

(1) Operating on a regular schedule in a class of trade which entitles it to the privilege;

(2) Actually transporting passengers or merchandise to or from a foreign port, a port on the opposite coast of the United States, or between a port in a possession of the United States and a port in the United States or in another of its possessions;

(3) Departing in ballast (without cargo or passengers) from one port for another, domestic or foreign, for the purpose of lading passengers or cargo at the port of destination for carriage in a class of trade specified in section 309 (a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, for which class of trade the vessel is suitable and substantially ready for service with necessary fittings, outfit, and equipment already installed on its departure in ballast, and from which it is not diverted prior to carriage of passengers or cargo in such trade. A written declaration of the owner or agent of the vessel may be required in connection with the withdrawal, certifying to the vessel's suitableness and substantial readiness with necessary fittings, outfit, and equipment already installed on its departure in ballast for service in a class of trade specified in section 309 and agreeing to notify the collector if it is laid up or diverted from such class of trade prior to the carriage of cargo or passengers in such trade.

(b) A withdrawal of articles may not be made under section 309, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, for use on a trial or test trip of a vessel preparatory to its actually engaging in trades.

(c) The classes of articles which may be withdrawn as provided for by section 309, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and I. R. C. sec 3451 include the containers in which the articles are withdrawn and laden even though for tariff purposes the containers are classifiable separately from their contents, except unusual containers within the purview of section 504, Tariff Act of 1930.

(d) For the purpose of allowing the privileges of section 309, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, to aircraft as provided for therein, an aircraft shall be deemed to be a vessel within the meaning of each provision of this section and of §§ 10.60–10.64 which may be applied to aircraft.

(e) Vessels of the United States documented to engage in the fisheries and foreign fishing vessels of 5 net tons or over may be allowed to withdraw distilled spirits (including alcohol), wines, and beer conditionally free under section 309 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, if the collector is satisfied from the quantity requested, in the light of (1) whether the vessel is employed in substantially continuous fishing activities, and (2) the vessel's complement, that none of the withdrawn articles is intended to be removed from the vessel in, or otherwise returned to, the United States without the payment of duty or tax. Such withdrawal shall be permitted only after the approval by the collector of a special written application, in duplicate, on customs Form 5125, of the withdrawer, supported by a bond on customs Form 7603 executed by the withdrawer. Such application shall be filed with customs Form 7506 or 7512,[57] as the case may be. The original application, after approval, shall be stamped with the withdrawal number and date thereof and shall be returned to the withdrawer for use as prescribed below. Approval of each such application shall be subject to the condition that the original shall be presented thereafter by the withdrawer or the vessel's master to the collector within 24 hours (excluding Saturday, Sunday, and holidays) after each subsequent arrival of the vessel at a customs port or station and that an accounting shall be made at the time of such presentation of the disposition of the articles until the collector is satisfied that all of them have been consumed on board, or landed under customs supervision, and takes up the authorization. The approval shall be subject to the further conditions that any such withdrawn article remaining on board while the vessel is in port shall be safeguarded in the manner and to such extent as the collector for the port or place of arrival shall deem necessary and that failure to comply with the conditions upon which a conditionally free withdrawal is approved shall subject the total quantity of withdrawn articles to the assessment and collection of an amount equal to the duties and taxes that would have been assessed on the entire quantity of supplies withdrawn had such supplies been regularly entered, or withdrawn, for consumption.

§ 10.60 Forms of withdrawals; bond.

(a) Withdrawals from warehouse shall be made on customs Form 7506. Each withdrawal shall contain the statement prescribed for withdrawals in § 8.37(b) of this chapter. Withdrawals from continuous customs custody elsewhere than in a bonded warehouse shall be made on customs Form 7512, except as provided

[56] "(a) Exemption from duties and taxes. Articles of foreign or domestic origin may be withdrawn, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, from any customs bonded warehouse, from continuous customs custody elsewhere than in a bonded warehouse, or from a foreign-trade zone free of duty and internal-revenue tax, or from any internal-revenue bonded warehouse, from any brewery, or from any winery premises or bonded premises for the storage of wine, free of internal-revenue tax—

"(1) For supplies (not including equipment) of (A) vessels or aircraft operated by the United States, (B) vessels of the United States employed in the fisheries or in the whaling business, or actually engaged in foreign trade or trade between the Atlantic and Pacific ports of the United States or between the United States and any of its possessions, or (C) aircraft registered in the United States and actually engaged in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions; or

"(2) For supplies (including equipment) or repair of (A) vessels of war of any foreign nation, or (B) foreign vessels employed in the fisheries or in the whaling business, or actually engaged in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions, where such trade by foreign vessels is permitted; or

"(3) For supplies (including equipment), ground equipment, maintenance, or repair of aircraft registered in any foreign country and actually engaged in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions, where trade by foreign aircraft is permitted. With respect to articles for ground equipment, the exemption hereunder shall apply only to duties and to taxes imposed upon or by reason of importation.

"(c) Articles removed in, or returned to, the United States. Any article exempted from duty or tax, or in respect of which drawback has been allowed, under this section or section 317 of this Act and thereafter removed in the United States from any vessel or aircraft, or otherwise returned to the United States, shall be treated as an importation from a foreign country.

"(d) Reciprocal privileges. The privileges granted by this section and section 317 of this Act in respect of aircraft registered in a foreign country shall be allowed only if the Secretary of the Treasury shall have been advised by the Secretary of Commerce that he has found that such foreign country allows, or will allow, substantially reciprocal privileges in respect of aircraft registered in the United States. If the Secretary of Commerce shall advise the Secretary of the Treasury that he has found that a foreign country has discontinued, or will discontinue, the allowance of such privileges, the privileges granted by this section and such section 317 shall not apply thereafter in respect of aircraft registered in that foreign country." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 309, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1309) for by paragraph (h) of this section. When a withdrawal of supplies or other articles is made which may be used on a vessel while it is proceeding in ballast to another port as provided for by § 10.59 (a) (3), a notation of this fact shall be made on the withdrawal and the name of the other port given if known.

(b) If the withdrawal is made by other than the principal on the warehouse or rewarehouse entry, as the case may be, the assent of such principal shall be endorsed on the withdrawal, unless the principal has otherwise authorized such withdrawal in writing.

(c) A bond on customs Form 7561 or other appropriate form shall be taken when the withdrawal from warehouse is made by a person other than the principal on the warehouse or rewarehouse entry, as provided for in paragraph (b) of this section.

(d) When the supplies are to be laden at a port other than the port of withdrawal from warehouse, they shall be withdrawn for transportation in bond to the port of lading. Three copies of the manifest on customs Form 7512, in addition to six copies of the withdrawal on customs Form 7506, shall be required. The procedure shall be the same as that prescribed in § 18.19 (b) of this chapter (the six copies of customs Form 7506 taking the place of the entry copies of customs Form 7512).

(e) No bond shall be required in the case of war vessels.

(f) Unless transfer is permitted under the provisions of paragraph (h) of this section, when articles are withdrawn from continuous customs custody elsewhere than in a bonded warehouse for lading at the port of withdrawal, the procedure provided for in § 18.25 of this chapter shall be followed, except that the bond required shall be on customs Form 7557, 7559, or 7595. Unless transfer is permitted under the provisions of paragraph (h) of this section, when articles are withdrawn from continuous customs custody elsewhere than in a bonded warehouse for lading at another port, the procedure set forth in § 18.26 of this chapter shall be followed, except that the withdrawal when filed shall be supported by a bond on customs Form 7557, 7559, or 7595. There shall be such examination of the articles as may be necessary to satisfy the collector that they are subject to the privileges of section 309, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, or I. R. C. section 3451, as the case may be, and that the value and quantity declared for them are correct.

(g) A withdrawal under § 10.59 (e) shall be supported by a bond on customs Form 7603 in lieu of any other bond.

(h) If a request is made for permission to transfer supplies or stores from one vessel to another which would be entitled to withdraw them free of duty and tax under section 309 or 317, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, or section 3451 of the Internal Revenue Code, the collector in his discretion may permit the articles to be so transferred under customs supervision under a permit on customs Form 3171 in lieu of a formal withdrawal under the pertinent statute. In such a case, the pertinent statute shall be indicated by an endorsement made on the permit by the collector. If the vessel to which vessel supplies are transferred is in a class of trade in which it is not required to enter, the customs inspector supervising the transfer shall make a suitable notation of the transfer in the stores log of the vessel to which transfer is made, unless it appears that the articles were previously laden in the United States free of duty and tax for supplies or sea stores on a vessel in a class of trade in which it was not required to enter and a customs officer was not required to make a notation in a stores log of the vessel.

§ 10.61 Withdrawal permit; lading; stores log.

(a) Upon the filing of the withdrawal and the execution of the bond, when required, the collector shall issue a permit on customs Form 7506 or 7512.

(b) Upon the lading on a vessel of supplies, equipment, or repair articles withdrawn from bond for which a declaration is required under § 10.64, they shall be entered by a representative of the vessel in a special bound stores log book of the vessel in ink or indelible pencil. The stores log shall be kept on board available for customs inspection and use at any time and shall contain the following information with respect to each withdrawal: Port where laden; date of lading; withdrawal number; quantity and description. Except when the procedure prescribed by § 10.62 is followed, after the supplies have been so entered in the vessel's stores log, the customs officer who supervised the lading thereof shall place his name and title after the entry in the log.

§ 10.62 Bunker oil.

(a) When fuel oil is withdrawn under section 309, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, or section 3451, Internal Revenue Code, for delivery by barge or lighter to the vessel on which it is to be used, sealing of the transporting vessel, the issuance of a lighterage ticket or other document to cover the transportation for delivery, and immediate customs supervision of the transfer of the oil from the delivering vessel to the vessel on which it is to be used may be dispensed with if the person making the withdrawal undertakes to file with the customs warehouse officer in charge of the bonded tank from which the oil is to be withdrawn the following:

(1) A legible receipt signed by the master or person in charge of the delivering vessel, showing—

(i) The respective quantities of (a) bonded fuel oil and (b) domestic fuel oil on the delivering vessel at the time the oil covered by the current withdrawal is laden on such vessel;

(ii) The quantity of oil laden on the delivering vessel from the bonded tank under the withdrawal;

(iii) The date the oil was laden on his vessel; and

(iv) The quantity of the oil remaining on his vessel after delivery to the vessel on which the oil is to be used.

(2) A legible copy of the receipt given to the master or person in charge of the delivering vessel by the receiving officer of the vessel on which the oil is to be used, showing—

(i) The number of the warehouse entry covering the oil;

(ii) The number of the vessel supply withdrawal covering the oil;

(iii) The number or other identification of the sales order for the oil;

(iv) The identification number of the delivering vessel;

(v) The name and location of the vessel to which the oil was delivered for use;

(vi) The quantity of oil delivered to such vessel;

(vii) The date of delivery to such vessel; and

(viii) The signature and title of the officer receiving the oil on such vessel.

(b) When the procedure prescribed in paragraph (a) of this section is followed, representatives of the Commissioner of Customs will from time to time verify various withdrawals against all pertinent records, including financial records, of the withdrawers, deliverers, and receivers of the oil.

(Sec. 309 (a), 46 Stat. 690, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1309(a))

§ 10.63 Vessels withdrawn from trade or diverted to nonprivileged trade; landing of bonded supplies and stores.

(a) If an American-flag vessel which has taken on board supplies or stores free of duty or tax is subsequently withdrawn from trade or is diverted to a class of trade which does not entitle it to the free withdrawal privilege, the withdrawal from trade or diversion shall be reported by the parties in interest to the collector at each port where any such supplies or stores were withdrawn in order that duty and tax may be collected under the bond on any unused bonded supplies or stores remaining on board. The foregoing report shall show the kind and quantities, if any, of the in-bound supplies or stores which were consumed while the vessel was laid up and out of trade or otherwise in a status which did not entitle it to use the supplies or stores without payment of duty or tax thereon.

(b) In any case in which it is desired to land in the United States articles covered by a conditionally free withdrawal, the master shall make application for a permit to land such articles under customs supervision. Except when transfer to another vessel entitled to the free withdrawal privilege is permitted under the original vessel supply withdrawal, the articles landed shall be treated as imported merchandise under section 309 (c), Tariff Act of 1930. Such unloading into customs custody shall be regarded as satisfying any bond obligation assumed in connection with the withdrawal of such articles as vessel supplies or stores.

§ 10.64 Crediting or cancellation of bonds.

(a) The warehouse or rewarehouse entry bond or the bond provided for in § 10.60 (c) or (f) covering articles withdrawn for use as supplies, equipment, or repair articles of a vessel may be credited or canceled in respect of such articles if a proper declaration as prescribed below is filed with the collector at the port of withdrawal within 6 months after the date of withdrawal. Such declaration shall not be required as a condition for crediting or canceling the bond as to articles which after lading are treated as imported under section 309 (c), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, or which are used on a vessel while it is engaged in a class of trade in which it is required to enter, unless it proceeds in ballast from the port where the articles are laden to another port to lade passengers or cargo. The 6 months' period for the production of the declaration when required may be extended as provided for in § 25.18 of this chapter. The declaration shall be executed by one of the following who has knowledge of the facts:

(1) The operations manager or port captain for the vessel on which the articles are used but not a representative of the supplier.

(2) The master or other officer of the vessel on which the articles are used.

In the case of an American-flag vessel, the declaration shall be in substantially the following form:

I, _____,
Operations Manager, Port Captain, Master, or other officer of the vessel _____, declare that I have knowledge of the facts set forth herein, and that, during the period any of the articles covered by withdrawal No. _____, filed at _____
(Name of port)
(as listed in the vessel's stores log of supplies withdrawn from bond) remained on board unused, the said vessel was engaged in the business or trade checked below:

1. Fisheries.
2. Whaling.
3. Trade between Atlantic and Pacific ports of the United States.
4. Trade between the United States and any of its possessions.
5. Foreign trade.

[1] I further declare that the vessel proceeded in ballast to the port of _____ Name of port
to lade cargo or passengers, that the vessel was suitable for service in the class of trade checked above with fittings, outfit, and equipment for such trade already installed when the vessel so departed in ballast, and that upon arrival it proceeded to engage in the carriage of cargo or passengers in such trade, except as stated below:

(If no exception, note "None")

(Name and title)

[1] This statement to be included if the articles were laden on a vessel which proceeded in ballast from the port of lading to another port.

In the case of a foreign vessel, the declaration shall be in substantially the following form:

I, _____
(Operations manager, port captain, master, or other officer) of the vessel _____, declare that I have knowledge of the facts set forth herein, and that upon the lading of the articles covered by withdrawal No. _____, filed at _____, (as listed in the vessel's stores log of supplies, equipment, or repair articles withdrawn from bond) the vessel then proceeded in ballast to lade cargo or passengers; that the vessel was suitable for service in the class of trade checked below with fittings, outfit, and equipment for such trade already installed when the vessel so departed in ballast; and that upon arrival it proceeded to engage in the carriage of cargo or passengers in such trade, except as stated below:

(If no exception, note "None")

1. Foreign trade.
2. Fisheries.
3. Whaling.
4. Trade between the united States and any of its possessions when such trade is not prohibited by coastwise laws.

(Name and title)

(b) A declaration as to the intended business or trade of a vessel may, in the discretion of the collector, be accepted in lieu of a declaration prescribed in paragraph (a) of this section when the amount of duty or tax, or both, involved in a single lading is less than $100.

§ 10.65 Tobacco products.

(a) Imported manufactured tobacco, cigars, and cigarettes in bonded warehouse or otherwise in customs custody, and such articles manufactured with the use of imported materials in a bonded manufacturing warehouse of class 6, may be withdrawn under section 317, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[59] for consumption beginning beyond the 3-mile limit or international boundary, as the case may be, (1) on vessels actually engaged in the foreign, intercoastal, or noncontiguous territory trade within the purview of § 10.59(a); (2) on vessels departing from the port where the withdrawal is made directly for a foreign port, a port on the opposite coast, or a port in one of the possessions of the United States; or (3) on vessels of war or other governmental activity.

(b) The privilege shall not be granted to vessels stationed in American waters for an indefinite period without sailing schedules.

(c) With the following additions and exceptions, the same procedure shall be followed as in the case of withdrawals under section 309 (a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

(1) No bond shall be required in the case of vessels operated by the United States Government.

(2) When a shipping case containing tobacco products is made up of a number of units, each in a separate package, such units may be withdrawn separately, provided each unit is marked and numbered for identification and contains not less than 250 cigars or 1,000 cigarettes, or 5 pounds of manufactured tobacco. In the case of imported tobacco products so packed, only one unit from each shipping case shall be opened for examination, unless the appraiser shall deem it necessary for the protection of the revenue to examine a greater quantity.[60]

(3) When all the units in such shipping case are not to be withdrawn at the same time or for use on the same vessel, a blanket withdrawal may be filed for the entire case in lieu of a separate withdrawal for each unit. In such event, the withdrawal shall be retained by the customs warehouse officer until delivery receipts are obtained for the entire quantity covered by the withdrawal, provided the total period of time during which the merchandise remains in bonded warehouse does not exceed 3 years. The bond on customs Form 7561 or other appropriate form, when required, shall be filed at the time of or prior to the removal of any of the merchandise from the warehouse for delivery to the vessel on which it is to be used.

(4) Merchandise for which blanket withdrawals are filed shall be stored in a separate room or enclosure in a bonded warehouse under separate locks, and shall be inventoried at least once each month. If, at the time of any such inventory, any merchandise is missing and not properly accounted for, duties shall be paid thereon before any further withdrawals are permitted.

(5) The declaration of use, when required, shall include a statement that consumption of the articles covered by the withdrawal did not begin until the withdrawing vessel or aircraft had proceeded beyond the 3-mile limit or the international boundary.

(Sec. 317, 46 Stat. 696, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1317)

ARTICLES EXPORTED FOR EXHIBITION, ETC.

§ 10.66 Articles exported for temporary exhibition and returned; procedure on entry.

(a) In connection with the entry of articles, including livestock or other animals, exported for temporary exhibition and returned and claimed to be exempt from duty under 19 U.S.C. 194 [61] or 19 U.S.C. 195,[62] there shall be filed:

(1) A certificate of exportation, customs Form 4467;

(2) A declaration by the foreign shipper, irrespective of the value of the shipment, stating:

I, _____, do hereby declare that the merchandise herein described was imported from the United States, and that it was sent to _____ for temporary use at the Exhibition entitled _____, held at _____ on _____, 19__.

(Date and place of signing)

(Signature of exporter or authorized agent)

(3) A declaration of the importer on customs Form 3329 for articles of either domestic or foreign origin; and

(4) In the case of animals of foreign origin taken aboard for exhibition in connection with a circus or menagerie, the inventory required by 19 U. S. C. 195.

(b) If it is shown to be impracticable to produce the certificate of exportation required under paragraph (a) (1) of this section, the collector may accept other satisfactory evidence of exportation, or may take a bond to secure the production of such certificate or other evidence. A bond shall also be taken to secure the production of the foreign shipper's declaration required by paragraph (a) (2) of this section if it is not filed at the time of entry.

(c) If, prior to the exportation of articles claimed to be exempt from duty under 19 U. S. C. 194 or 19 U. S. C. 195, an application on customs Form 4455 (accompanied by an appropriate inventory, when required by law or by the collector or appraiser) was filed with a declaration thereon that any right to drawback of customs duties with respect to that shipment was waived, and that any internal-revenue tax due has been paid and no refund thereof will be sought, and the merchandise was identified, registered, and exported in accordance with the regulations set forth in § 10.8 (d), (f), (g), and (h) governing the exportation of articles sent abroad for repairs, such articles may be returned free of duty without formal entry, without regard to the requirements of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, upon the filing of said duplicate customs Form 4455 (with accompanying inventory, if one was required), and a declaration of the importer on customs Form 3329.

(29 Stat. 122, 30 Stat. 1372; 19 U.S.C. 194, 195)

§ 10.67 Articles exported for scientific or educational purposes and returned; precedure on entry.

(a) In connection with each entry of articles exported for scientific or educational purposes and returned under paragraph 1815, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[63] the following shall be required, irrespective of the value of the shipment:

(1) A certificate of exportation, customs Form 4467;

(2) A declaration by the foreign shipper in the same form as that prescribed in § 10.66 (a) (2) but stating that such articles were sent from the United States solely for temporary scientific or educational use and describing the specific use to which they were put while abroad.

(3) A declaration of the ultimate consignee in substantially the following form:

District No. ____, Port of _____,
Collector's Office, _____, 19____.

I, _____, declare that the several articles described in the annexed entry are, to the best of my knowledge and belief, the identical articles exported from the United States on the _____ day of _____, 19____, by _____
address _____, for the account of _____, address _____; that they are returned to _____, address _____, for the account of _____, address _____; that the said articles were exported solely for temporary scientific or educational purposes and for no other use abroad than for exhibition, examination, or experimentation; that they are being returned without having been changed in condition in any manner, except by reason of their bona fide use as follows:

(Describe change in condition)

(b) If it is shown to be impracticable to produce the certificate of exportation required by paragraph (a) (1) of this section, the collector may accept other satisfactory evidence of exportation. The collector may take a bond to secure the subsequent production of any of the evidence or documents required by paragraph (a) of this section which are not available at the time of entry.

(c) If, prior to the exportation of articles claimed to be exempt from duty under paragraph 1815, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, an application on customs Form 4455 (accompanied by an appropriate inventory when, in the discretion of the collector or appraiser, such inventory is deemed necessary) was filed and the merchandise was identified, registered, and exported in accordance with the regulations set forth in § 10.8 (d), (f), (g), and (h) governing the exportation of articles sent abroad for repairs, such articles may be returned for the account of the exporter free of duty without formal entry, without regard to the requirements of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, upon the filing of the duplicate customs Form 4455 (with accompanying inventory, if one was required), and a declaration of the ultimate consignee in substantially the form set forth in paragraph (a) (3) of this section.

(Par. 1815, sec. 201, 46 Stat. 672, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1201, par. 1815)

THEATRICAL EFFECTS, MOTION-PICTURE FILMS, AND COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS' SAMPLES

§ 10.68 Procedure.

(a) Theatrical scenery, properties, and effects, motion-picture films, and commercial travelers' samples, of domestic or foreign origin, taken abroad may be returned without formal entry: Provided, That prior to exportation of such articles an application on customs Form 4455 was filed and the merchandise was identified as set forth in § 10.8, governing the exportation of articles sent abroad for repairs. When articles other than those exported by mail or parcel post are examined and registered at one port and exported through another port, they shall be forwarded to the port of exportation under a transportation and exportation entry, as prescribed in § 10.38(d). In the case of commercial travelers' samples taken abroad for temporary use, collectors, in their discretion, may waive examination at the time of exportation.

(b) When any such articles are to be returned to the United States from a contiguous foreign country in which a United States customs officer is stationed, the articles may be presented to such officer with the duplicate copy of the application for examination and comparison with the descriptive list. Upon completion of such examination, the packages containing the articles shall be corded and sealed or forwarded in cars sealed by customs officers and shall be manifested in the same manner as personal baggage. Articles so treated shall be released upon arrival in the United [59] "(a) The shipment or delivery of manufactured tobacco, snuff, cigars, or cigarettes, for consumption beyond the jurisdiction of the internal-revenue laws of the United States, as defined by section 3448 of the Revised Statutes, shall be deemed exportation within the meaning of the customs and internal-revenue laws applicable to the exportation of such articles without payment of duty or internal-revenue tax.

"(b) The shipment or delivery of any merchandise for use as supplies (including equipment) upon, or in the maintenance or repair of any vessel or aircraft described in subdivision (2) or (3) of section 309 (a) of this Act, or for use as ground equipment for any such aircraft, shall be deemed an exportation within the meaning of the customs and internal-revenue laws applicable to the exportation of such merchandise without the payment of duty or internal-revenue tax. With respect to merchandise for use as ground equipment, such shipment or delivery shall not be deemed an exportation within the meaning of the internal-revenue laws relating to taxes other than those imposed upon or by reason of importation." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 317, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1317)

"The internal revenue laws imposing taxes on tobacco, snuff, cigars, or cigarettes shall be held to extend to such articles produced anywhere within the exterior boundaries of the United States, whether the same be within a collection district or not." (26 U. S. C. 2197 (a))

[60] Imported tobacco products on which the duty or internal-revenue tax has been paid may not be withdrawn under section 317, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, with a drawback of such duty or internal-revenue tax.

[61] "Whenever any article or articles or livestock shall be sent out of the United States for temporary use or exhibition at any public exposition, fair, or conference, held in a foreign country, such articles shall be entitled to be returned to the United States, under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, without the payment of customs duty, whether they shall be of domestic or of foreign production: Provided, That the articles of foreign production have once paid duty in the United States and no drawback has been allowed thereon, and if any domestic articles are subject to internal-revenue tax, such tax shall be proved to have been paid before exportation and not refunded." (19 U. S. C. 194)

[62] "The privilege of free entry conferred by section 194 of this title shall apply to wild and other animals of foreign origin taken abroad temporarily for exhibition in connection with any circus or menagerie, subject, however, to the conditions and limitations prescribed in said section. The provision of this section shall apply only in such cases as those of foreign-born animals taken abroad, and inventories of which are filed prior to their leaving the country with the collector of customs at the port of their departure." (30 Stat. 1372; 19 U. S. C. 195)

[63] "Articles, when returned after having been loaned and exported for use temporarily abroad solely for exhibition, examination, or experimentation, for scientific or educational purposes, if imported by or for the account of the person who exported them from the United States, and not for sale, subject to such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe." States and removal of the seals by customs officers.

(c) When commercial travelers' samples consisting of raw cotton are taken to and returned from Canada, the application on customs Form 4455 shall be executed in triplicate, two copies thereof to be returned to the traveler for surrender to the customs officer on the return of the samples from Canada.

§ 10.69 Samples to Great Britain and Ireland under reciprocal agreement.

Descriptive lists of samples taken to Great Britain and Ireland by commercial travelers of the United States under the joint declarations of December 3 and 8, 1910 (State Department treaty series 552), shall be required in triplicate, verified by the affidavit of the commercial traveler before a customs officer, and shall show that the samples are for use as models or patterns for the purpose of obtaining orders and not for sale and that the lists contain a full description of the articles. One copy shall be retained and the others shall be delivered to the commercial traveler—one for the identification of the samples on their return to the United States and one for the use of the foreign customs authorities. The latter copy must have been attested by a consular officer of the country concerned in the United States.

ANIMALS AND BIRDS

CROSS REFERENCE: For regulations with respect to recognition of breeds and purebred animals see 9 CFR Part 151.

§ 10.70 Purebred animals for breeding purposes; declaration; certificate.

(a) There shall be filed in connection with the entry of purebred animals for breeding purposes under paragraph 1606, Tariff Act of 1930,[64] a declaration on customs Form 3327 showing that the importer is a citizen of the United States and that the animals are imported specially for breeding purposes.[65]

(b) No claim for free entry shall be allowed in liquidation of the entry until the collector of customs has received from the Department of Agriculture a certificate that the animal is purebred of a recognized breed and duly registered in a book of record recognized by the Secretary of Agriculture for that breed. Importers are required by regulations of the Department of Agriculture to make application for a certificate of pure breeding directly to the Animal Inspection and Quarantine Division of Agricultural Research Service of that Department on A.H. or I&Q Form 105, accompanied by an affidavit on A.H. or I&Q Form 283. The regulations of the Department of Agriculture prescribing the requirements for the issuance of certificates of pure breeding provide that all animals imported under such regulations must be accompanied to the United States customs port of first arrival by certificates of pedigree and transfers of ownership in order that identification may be accomplished, and that, if such animals are moved from such port prior to the presentation of such certificates and transfers, such action shall constitute a waiver of any further claim to certification under such regulations.

(c) The regulations of the Department of Agriculture prescribing the requirements for the issuance of certificates of pure breeding covering animals entered under paragraph 1606 require an examination for the purpose of determining identity by a Federal inspector at the port of arrival of the animals. In the cases of cats and dogs arriving at Canadian border ports, customs officers and employees are hereby authorized and directed to make the examination required by such regulations of the Department of Agriculture. Customs officers and employees are also authorized and directed to make such examinations at the ports of New York and Boston, provided the dog or cat is brought into the United States by a passenger. At all airports, customs officers shall make the examination of dogs and cats, whether or not accompanied by the owners, if there is no inspector of the Department of Agriculture stationed there or on duty at the time of arrival.

§ 10.71 Purebred animals; bond for production of evidence; deposit of estimated duties; stipulation.

(a) When the pedigree certificate and evidence of transfer of ownership have been presented in accordance with the regulations of the Department of Agriculture mentioned in § 10.70(b), the animal may be released from customs custody upon the furnishing by the importer of a bond on customs Form 7551 or 7553 for the production within 6 months of the declaration required by § 10.70(a) (if such declaration cannot be filed at the time of entry) and a certificate of pure breeding. (See § 25.16(c) of this chapter.)

(b) Such bond shall be canceled only upon the production of the required evidence or on payment of duties.

(c) In cases where the pedigree certificate and evidence of transfer of ownership have been presented in accordance with the regulations of the Department of Agriculture, the importer, if he so elects, may, in lieu of giving a bond, deposit estimated duties and file a stipulation with the collector within 10 days after the date of entry to produce the declaration and certificate of pure breeding within 6 months from the date of entry, whereupon the liquidation of the entry shall be suspended. (See § 25.16 (c) of this chapter.)

(d) If the pedigree certificate and evidence of transfer of ownership were not presented in accordance with such regulations of the Department of Agriculture, a deposit of estimated duties, in addition to the regular entry bond, shall be required.

§ 10.72 Horses and mules for immediate slaughter.

Horses or mules claimed to be entitled to free entry under paragraph 1695, Tariff Act of 1930,[66] shall be admitted free of duty upon the submission of a declaration in connection with the entry stating that the animals are being imported solely for slaughter, provided the collector is satisfied from an examination of the animals and such other investigation as he deems necessary that no other use is intended.

§ 10.73 Cows for dairy purposes.

Claim for the reduced rate of duty on cows for dairy purposes under paragraph 701, Tariff Act of 1930, as modified pursuant to the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade,[67] shall be made at the time of entry. There shall be filed in connection with the entry a certificate of the ultimate consignee that the animals were imported in good faith for dairy purposes and that they have actually been delivered to a dairy, farm, or other place suitable for dairy operations, the address of which shall be stated. If the ultimate consignee is not the importer of record, the latter also shall file a certificate executed by himself that the animals are being imported in good faith for dairy purposes.

Tariff Act of 1930, paragraph	Description of products	Rate of duty
701	Cattle weighing less than 200 pounds each or 700 pounds or more each: Provided, That not more than 200,000 head of cattle weighing less than 200 pounds each entered in the 12-month period beginning Apr. 1 in any year, and not more than 400,000 head of cattle weighing 700 pounds or more each (other than cows imported specially for dairy purposes) entered in any such period, but not more than 120,000 head of such cattle weighing 700 pounds or more each entered in any 3-month period beginning Apr. 1, July 1, Oct. 1, or Jan. 1 within any such 12-month period, shall be dutiable at 1½ cents per pound; and any of the foregoing cattle not subject to that rate of duty shall be dutiable at (Second proviso obsolete.)	1½¢ per lb 2½¢ per lb.

§ 10.74 Animals straying or driven across boundary for pasturage; offspring.

(a) When domestic animals for which free entry is to be claimed under paragraph 1606 (c), Tariff Act of 1930,[68] are driven across the boundary for pasturage purposes, the owner shall file with the collector of customs a descriptive list stating the number of animals, their sex, age, and marks or brands, together with a written statement that the animals therein described are being taken abroad for temporary pasturage purposes only.

(b) Upon the return of such animals within 8 months, entry shall be required and there shall be filed in connection therewith a declaration in the following form:

I, _____, do solemnly declare that I am a resident of _____; that the animals now being returned to the United States are _____ (Number) of the identical animals described in the list filed with the collector of customs at the port of _____ on the _____ day of _____, 19____; and that _____ (Number) of their offspring accompany said animals.

(c) Animals which have strayed across the boundary line may be returned under the above-mentioned provision of law, together with their offspring, without entry if brought back within 30 days; otherwise entry shall be required: Provided, That the owner of any such animal shall report its return to the nearest customs officer and hold it for such inspection and treatment as may be deemed necessary by a representative of the Agricultural Research Service of the Department of Agriculture and any such animal found not to have been so reported or held shall be subject to seizure and forfeiture pursuant to section 545, Title 18, United States Code.

§ 10.75 Wild animals and birds; zoological collections.

When wild animals or birds are claimed to be free of duty under paragraph 1607(b), Tariff Act of 1930,[69] there shall be filed in connection with the entry a declaration of the ultimate consignee on customs Form 3321, showing that the animals or birds were specially imported pursuant to negotiations conducted prior to importation for the delivery of animals or birds of a named species meeting agreed specifications of reasonable particularity and that they are intended at the time of importation for public exhibition in a collection maintained for scientific or educational purposes and not for sale or for use in connection with any enterprise conducted for profit. The fact that an animal or bird may have been sent on approval shall not preclude free entry under paragraph 1607 (b) when it is actually accepted as a part of the zoological collection and so exhibited.

§ 10.76 Game animals and birds.

(a) The following classes of live game animals and birds may be admitted free of duty for stocking purposes under the provisions of paragraph 1682, Tariff Act of 1930,[70] without reference to the Bureau of Customs, if the requirements of the Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior, have been complied with.

ANIMALS

1. Cervidae, commonly known as deer and elk.
2. Leporidae, commonly known as rabbits.
3. Sciuridae, commonly known as squirrels.

BIRDS

1. Anatidae, commonly known as ducks and geese.
2. Gallinae, commonly known as turkeys, grouse, pheasants, partridges, and quail.
3. Otididae, commonly known as bustards.
4. Tinamidae, commonly known as tinamous.

(b) Application for the free entry of other live animals or birds under paragraph 1682 shall be referred to the Bureau of Customs for consideration. Animals imported for fur-farming purposes shall not be admitted free of duty under that paragraph.

(c) There shall be filed in connection with the entry a declaration by the importer or his agent on customs Form 3313. If the declaration is signed by an officer of the Federal Government or a State government, or by a person who shall present to the collector an order for the shipment given him by the Federal or State government, a statement as to the place of delivery shall not be required.

(d) Game animals and birds killed in foreign countries by residents of the United States, if not imported for sale or other commercial purposes, may be admitted free of duty without entry, if the person has no merchandise requiring a written declaration upon the filing of a declaration on customs Form 3315. No bond or cash deposit to insure the destruction or exportation of the plumage of such birds shall be required.

§ 10.77 Skins bearing wool or hair as fur skins.

(a) The following types of skins bearing wool or hair of a kind described in paragraph 1101 or 1102, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, may be classified as fur skins under paragraph 1681, Tariff Act of 1930,[71] without special supporting evidence:

PRODUCTS OF AMERICAN FISHERIES

§ 10.78 Entry.

(a) Except as prescribed in § 10.79(d), no entry shall be required for fish or other marine products taken on the high seas by vessels of the United States or by residents of the United States in undocumented vessels owned in the United States when such fish or other products are brought into port by the taking vessel.

(b) An American fishery, within the meaning of paragraph 1730 (a), Tariff Act of 1930, is defined as a fishing enterprise conducted under the American flag by vessels of the United States on the high seas or in foreign waters in which such vessels have the right by treaty or otherwise, to take fish or other marine products and may include a shore station operated in conjunction with such vessels by the owner or master thereof.

(c) The employment of citizens of a foreign country by an American fishery is permissible but the purchase by an American fishery of fish or other marine products taken by citizens of a foreign country on the high seas or in foreign waters will subject such fish or other marine products to treatment as foreign merchandise.

(d) Products of an American fishery shall be entitled to free entry although prepared, preserved, or otherwise changed in condition, provided the work is done at sea by the master or crew of the fishery or by persons employed by and under the supervision of the master or owner of the fishery. Fish (except cod, haddock, hake, pollock, cusk, mackerel, and swordfish) the product of an American fishery landed in a foreign country and there not further advanced than beheaded, eviscerated, packed in ice, frozen, and with fins removed, shall be entitled to free entry, whether or not such processing is done by the American fishery. Products of an American fishery prepared or preserved on the treaty coasts of Newfoundland, Magdalen Islands, or Labrador, as such coasts are defined in the Convention of 1818 between the United States and Great Britain, shall be entitled to free entry only if the preparation or preservation is done by an American fishery.[72]

(a) When products of American fisheries claimed to be free of duty under paragraph 1730(a), Tariff Act of 1930, are imported by the taking vessel, or are shipped to the United States by the master, owner, or agent of the taking vessel otherwise than in the taking vessel, a declaration, customs Form 3295, of the master of the taking vessel, verified by at least two members of the crew, shall be required in connection with the entry. Additional proof may be required if doubt exists. If any of the products have been landed or transshipped in a foreign country, there shall also be filed in connection with the entry an additional statement as to what, if any, change has been made in the condition of the fish or other marine products since their taking and where such change occurred. If the products are fresh or frozen fillets, fresh or frozen fish steaks, or fresh or frozen slices of fish substantially free of bone (including any of the foregoing divided into sections) which have been processed in a foreign country or its territorial waters, a further statement shall be made in connection with the entry as to the residence status of all persons whose labor was used in the processing of such products.

(b) If fish or other marine products are shipped to the United States by one in a foreign country who has purchased them from the master, owner, or agent of the taking vessel, the declaration on customs Form 3295 shall be executed by the master and two members of the crew of the American fishing vessel for the entire quantity discharged at the foreign port and shall be filed in connection with the entry together with a declaration of the purchaser or his agent. Such declaration of the purchaser or agent shall be attached to the invoice and be in the following form:

I, _____, agent of the _____ _____ at the port of _____, do hereby declare that _____ did receive from the following-named American fishing vessels _____ pounds of _____ and _____ pounds of _____ and that _____ pounds thereof in _____ cases went forward in _____ consigned to _____ (Carrier) at _____, and that the above products have not been changed in condition after taking except as shown below:

Vessel and registry	Article	Pounds received	Date received	Pounds shipped	Number of cases	Nature of change in condition, place where so changed, residence of laborers. (See Note.)

NOTE: Insert in this column the name of country or, if the processing was done on board a vessel outside the territorial waters of any country, the name and registry of the vessel and its location at the time the processing occurred. If fish fillets, steaks, or slices are involved, insert also a statement as to the residence of all laborers engaged in the processing.

(c) If whale oil (except sperm oil), fish oil (except cod oil, cod-liver oil, and halibut-liver oil), or marine-animal oil of any kind, whether or not such whale, fish, or marine-animal oil be refined, sulphonated, sulphated, hydrogenated, or otherwise processed, or fatty acids derived from any of the foregoing, entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption is claimed to be free under I.R.C. section 4562 of the import tax provided for in I.R.C. section 4561[73] as a product of American fisheries, there shall be filed in connection with the entry, in addition to the documents required by paragraph (a) of this section a declaration of the master of the

[72] "All products of American fisheries (including fish, shellfish, and other marine animals, and spermaceti, whale, fish, and other marine animal oils), which have not been landed in a foreign country or which, if so landed, have been landed solely for transshipment without change in condition: Provided, That fish the product of American fisheries (except cod, haddock, hake, pollock, cusk, mackerel, and swordfish) landed in a foreign country and there not further advanced than beheaded, eviscerated, packed in ice, frozen, and with fins removed, shall be exempt from duty: Provided further, That products of American fisheries, prepared or preserved by an American fishery, on the treaty coasts of Newfoundland, Magdalen Islands, and Labrador, as such coasts are defined in the Convention of 1818 between the United States and Great Britain, shall be exempt from duty." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1730 (a) (free list); 19 U. S. C. 1201, par. 1730 (a))

"Wherever, in the statutes of the United States or in the rulings, regulations, or interpretations of various administrative bureaus and agencies of the United States there appears or may appear the term 'products of American fisheries' said term shall not include fresh or frozen fish fillets, fresh or frozen fish steaks, or fresh or frozen slices of fish substantially free of bone (including any of the foregoing divided into sections), produced in a foreign country or its territorial waters, in whole or in part with the use of the labor of persons who are not residents of the United States." (1 U. S. C. 6)

[73] "In addition to any other tax or duty imposed by law, there is hereby imposed upon the following articles imported into the United States, unless treaty provisions of the United States otherwise provide, a tax of 3 cents per pound, to be paid by the importer:

Whale oil (except sperm oil).

Fish oil (except cod oil, cod-liver oil, and halibut liver oil).

Marine animal oil.

Tallow.

Inedible animal oils.

Inedible animal fats.

Inedible animal greases.

Fatty acids derived from any of the foregoing, and salts of any of the foregoing; all the foregoing, whether or not refined, sulphonated, sulphated, hydrogenated, or otherwise processed."

(Sec. 4561, I.R.C.)

"Whale oil (except sperm oil), fish oil, or marine animal oil of any kind (whether or not refined, sulphonated, sulphated, hydrogenated or otherwise processed), or fatty acids derived therefrom, shall be admitted to entry free from the tax provided in section 4561 provided that such oil was produced on vessels of the United States or in the United States or its possessions, from whales, fish, or marine animals or parts thereof taken and captured by vessels of the United States." (Sec. 4562, I.R.C.)

American fishery giving the names of the vessels which took and captured the whales, fish, or marine animals from which such oil or fatty acids were produced and stating whether such vessels at the time of taking the whales, fish, or marine animals were documented under the laws of the United States. No vessel shall be considered to be the taking vessel within the meaning of this section unless the whales, fish, or marine animals from which the oil or fatty acids were produced were taken and captured directly by such vessel with the use of no other boats than those carried as its regular equipment.

(d) No whale, fish, or marine-animal oil of a class or kind for which a rate of import tax is provided in I. R. C. section 4561 shall be admitted without entry, notwithstanding the provisions of § 10.78 (a).

(e) If entry free of the import tax imposed by I.R.C. section 4561 is claimed for any whale, fish, or marine-animal oil or fatty acid derived therefrom because of its production in the United States, the case shall be submitted to the Bureau for decision.

(f) For the purposes of paragraph (e) of this section and I.R.C. sections 4561, 4571, 4581, and 4582, the term "United States" when used in a geographical sense, includes only the States, the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii, and the District of Columbia (I.R.C. sec. 7701 (a)(9)). In view of the provisions of I.R.C. section 4601(3), the tax prescribed in I.R.C. section 4561 shall apply to the oils and fatty acids enumerated in such section 4561 which are produced in any possession of the United States, even though such oils or fatty acids were produced from whales, fish, or marine animals taken by vessels of the United States.

(Par. 1730 (a), sec. 201, 46 Stat. 679, 53 Stat. 268; 19 U. S. C. 1201, par. 1730 (a), 26 U. S. C. 2494)

§ 10.80 Remission of duty; withdrawal; bond.

Pursuant to section 313(e), Tariff Act of 1930,[74] imported salt entered for warehouse may be withdrawn under bond for use in curing fish. Upon proof that the salt has been so used, the duties thereon shall be remitted. In no case shall the quantity of salt withdrawn exceed the reasonable requirements of the case. Withdrawal shall be made on customs Form 7506. Each withdrawal shall contain the statement prescribed for withdrawals in § 8.37(b) of this chapter. When the withdrawal is made by a person other than the importer of record, a bond on customs Form 7561 or other appropriate form for the production of proof of proper use shall be filed. Upon acceptance of the bond, a withdrawal permit shall be issued on customs Form 7506.

(a) Salt withdrawn under bond for use in curing fish on the shores of navigable waters may be used for such purpose in any district, but the evidence of use in such cases shall be submitted through the collector of customs for the district where the salt was used.

(b) If desired, salt to be used in curing fish on shore in another district than that in which it is warehoused in bond may be withdrawn under a transportation entry and shipped in bond to a port in the district in which it is to be used, at which port it may be entered on customs Form 7519 with customs Form 7506 attached to show withdrawal of the salt for use in curing fish. Thereupon, and upon the filing of a bond on customs Form 7561 or other appropriate form when necessary, such salt may be used without being sent to a bonded warehouse or public store. In such a case the proof of use shall be filed at the latter port.

(a) Proof that the salt withdrawn for use in curing fish has been so used shall be as follows:

(1) The certificate, customs Form 3751, of the person making the withdrawal that the salt has been actually used in curing fish taken by vessels of the United States licensed to engaged in the fisheries or in curing fish on the shores of navigable waters of the United States, giving the names of the vessels, tonnage, names of masters, the approximate quantity of fish cured thereby, and the locality in the district where cured if cured on shore;

(2) The certificate of the master, customs Form 3745, and of at least one other person employed on board any vessel during any voyage on which it is claimed that any part of the salt so withdrawn for curing fish was used that the salt delivered to the vessel by the person making the withdrawal was actually used in curing fish taken by such vessel; and

(3) The certificates, customs Form 3753, of at least two persons actually employed in curing fish on shore (if two or more were so employed) if any part of such salt was so used, stating the quantity of salt used in curing fish on shore and where cured, that it was used in curing fish taken by American fishermen, and the approximate quantity of fish cured.

(b) If the person making the withdrawal is actually employed in curing the fish on shore, the certificate, customs Form 3751, of one other person so employed will be sufficient.

(a) The proofs required by § 10.82 shall be presented to the collector holding the bond before the first day of January next after the date of withdrawal, and if it shall appear to his satisfaction that the entire quantity of salt covered by the bond has been duly accounted for, either by having been used in curing fish or by the payment of duty, the collector may cancel the bond, but in his discretion he may first require additional evidence in corroboration of the proof produced.

(b) On application of the person making the withdrawal, the period of the bond may be extended 1 year so as to allow the salt to be used during the time of extension in curing fish with the same privileges as if used during the original period.

§ 10.84 Leather for use in the manufacture of footwear.

(a) Leather of a kind entitled under paragraph 1530(c), Tariff Act of 1930,[75] as modified, to a reduced rate of duty if used in the manufacture of footwear may be entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption upon payment of duty at the reduced rate if the person making the entry or withdrawal files therewith his declaration that the leather was imported to be used in the manufacture of footwear and the collector is satisfied that the importer of the leather had the declared intention at the time of importation. Liquidation of the entry covering the leather shall be suspended until proof of use is furnished or the time allowed for the production thereof has expired.

(b) Within 3 years from the date of entry (in the case of warehouse entries as well as consumption entries) the importer shall submit in duplicate a certificate of the superintendent or manager of the manufacturing plant that the leather has actually been used in the manufacture of boots, shoes, or other footwear. A blanket certificate covering all purchases of leather from a particular importer during a given period, or all such purchases with specified exceptions, may be accepted for this purpose, provided the importer shall furnish a statement showing in detail, in such manner as to be readily identified with each entry, the leather which he sold to such manufacturer during such period. The latter statement shall be based on adequate and carefully kept records of the importer, which shall be open at all

[74] "Imported salt in bond may be used in curing fish taken by vessels licensed to engage in the fisheries, and in curing fish on the shores of the navigable waters of the United States, whether such fish are taken by licensed or unlicensed vessels, and upon proof that the salt has been used for either of such purposes, the duties on the same shall be remitted." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 313 (e); 19 U. S. C. 1313 (e))

[75] "Leather (except leather provided for in subparagraph (d) of this paragraph), made from hides or skins of animals (including fish, reptiles, and birds, but not including cattle of the bovine species), in the rough, in the white, crust, or russet, partly finished, or finished, 25 per centum ad valorem; vegetable-tanned rough leather made from goat or sheep skins (including those commercially known as India-tanned goat or sheep skins), 10 per centum ad valorem; any of the foregoing if imported to be used in the manufacture of boots, shoes, or footwear, or cut or wholly or partly manufactured into uppers, vamps, or any forms or shapes suitable for conversion into boots, shoes, or footwear, 10 per centum ad valorem." § 10.85 Leather to be used in the manufacture of harness or saddlery.

Leather to be used in the manufacture of harness or saddlery may be released on deposit of estimated duty at the rate provided for in paragraph 1530 (b) (3), Tariff Act of 1930,[76] as modified, in the same manner and subject to the same conditions as leather to be used in the manufacture of footwear (see § 10.84) except that the proof of use shall show that the leather was used in the manufacture of harness or saddlery and the other documents required shall be modified accordingly.

(Par. 1530 (b) (3), (g), sec. 1, 46 Stat. 666, 667; 19 U. S. C. 1001, par. 1530 (b) (3), (g))

§ 10.86 Hides and skins of the India water buffalo to be used in the manufacture of rawhide articles.

Pursuant to paragraph 1691, Tariff Act of 1930,[77] hides and skins of the India water buffalo imported to be used in the manufacture of rawhide articles may be released without the deposit of duty in the same manner and subject to the same conditions as leather to be used in the manufacture of footwear (see § 10.84), except that the proof of use shall show that the merchandise was used in the manufacture of rawhide articles and the other documents required shall be modified accordingly.

§ 10.87 Leather to be used in the manufacture of footballs, basketballs, soccer balls, or medicine balls.[78]

If, at the time of importation, leather of the character ordinarily used in the manufacture of footballs, basketballs, soccer balls, or medicine balls is not intended for the manufacture of such balls, it may be released upon the deposit of duty at the rate applicable to leather not intended for such use, in the same manner and subject to the same conditions as leather to be used in the manufacture of footwear (see § 10.84), except that the declaration filed on entry shall state that the leather is not to be used in the manufacture of footballs, basketballs, soccer balls, or medicine balls and the proof of use shall show that it was used in the manufacture of articles other than such balls, or was exported or destroyed, and the other documents required shall be modified accordingly.

(Par. 1530 (b) (6), (g), sec. 1, 46 Stat. 666, 667; 19 U.S.C. 1001, par. 1530 (b) (6), (g))

PATNA RICE

§ 10.88 Patna rice to be used in the manufacture of canned soups.

Pursuant to paragraph 1752, Tariff Act of 1930,[79] patna rice cleaned for use in the manufacture of canned soups may be released without the deposit of duty in the same manner and subject to the same conditions as leather to be used in the manufacture of footwear (see § 10.84), except that the proof of use shall show that the rice was used in the manufacture of canned soups, and the other documents required shall be modified accordingly.

MOTION-PICTURE FILMS, MASTER RECORDS, AND METAL MATRICES

(a) Estimated duties at the appropriate rate under paragraph 1551, Tariff Act of 1930, as modified, shall be collected on the entry of motion-picture films claimed to be dutiable at the rate of 1 cent per linear foot (or 0.8 cent, if exposed in Cuba) under the second proviso to that paragraph,[80] and there shall be filed in connection with the entry a certificate in substantially the following form:

I, _____, certify that I am an American producer of motion-picture films operating temporarily in a foreign country and that the ____ feet of films imported by me ex S. S. _____ on _____ were taken from the United States in the S. S. _____ on _____ and exposed by me in _____, for use in the picture (Country) entitled _____.

Dated _____ _____

(b) Within 6 months from the date of entry there shall be filed with the collector a certificate of the American producer in substantially the following form:

I, _____, certify that the _____ feet of motion-picture films imported by me ex S. S. _____ on _____ were used in connection with the production of the picture entitled _____.

I further certify that the number of feet of film in the completed picture is _____, of which _____ feet were made in the United States and _____ feet represent the _____ feet of films exposed in _____ and imported as above stated. (Country)

Dated _____ _____

(c) The collector, in his discretion, may extend the 6-month period during which such certificate may be furnished and he may refer the claim to a customs agent for investigation if he deems it desirable. Liquidation shall be suspended during the period allowed for the production of the certificate and pending the receipt of any required report of a customs agent. If, after comparing the number of feet of film exposed abroad and found in the completed picture with the total number of feet in the completed picture, it appears that 60 percent or more of the completed picture was made in the United States and the other conditions of the proviso are met, the entry shall be liquidated with duty at the appropriate rate on the total number of feet exposed abroad.

§ 10.90 Master records and metal matrices.

(a) An importer desiring to avail himself of the privilege of importing master records, or metal matrices obtained therefrom, under paragraph 1797, Tariff Act of 1930,[81] shall file an application with the Bureau. If the application has not been approved when the merchandise involved is imported, liquidation of the entry covering the importation shall be suspended until advice is received from the Bureau of the action taken in the matter.

(b) The importer (and the manufacturer, if the two are not identical) shall prepare a statement and agreement describing (1) the use to be made of the records or matrices, (2) the means adopted to identify them and the products manufactured with their use, and

(3) the accounts kept, and agreeing (i) that the plant and accounts shall be open to the inspection of customs officers at all reasonable times, and (ii) that the importer will notify the collector at the port where the records or matrices were imported and pay promptly an amount equal to the duties ordinarily collectible thereon in the event he uses or intends to use them in the United States otherwise than in the manufacture of sound records for export purposes.

(c) Consumption entries covering importations under paragraph 1797 shall be filed at a port in the customs district in which the factory where the articles will be used is located.

(d) There shall be filed in connection with each such entry a declaration of the importer setting forth his name and business address; that he is an exporter of sound records; that the master records or metal matrices are imported for use in the manufacture by or for him of sound records for export purposes; and that sound records produced therefrom will not be used or sold for use in the United States.

(e) The invoice filed with the entry shall contain or be supported by a detailed statement of the cost of production, in the country where made, of each master record or metal matrix covered thereby.

(f) A bond on customs Form 7563 shall be filed in connection with each entry. Such bond shall contain an added condition that the principal shall export all the sound records made with the use of imported master records, or metal matrices obtained from master records, covered by the entry and that the principal shall not sell, expose for sale, or use any of the said articles contrary to law and the regulations issued thereunder; or in default thereof that the obligors shall pay an amount equal to the lawful duties which would have accrued on the merchandise.

(g) If and when the application is approved, entries already filed and future entries shall be liquidated in due course without the assessment of duty, but liability on bonds given with the entries shall be discontinued with respect to any article covered thereby only upon payment of liquidated damages in an amount equal to the duties which would have accrued had the master records or metal matrices been imported for use otherwise than in the manufacture of sound records for export purposes, or upon satisfactory proof that the master records or metal matrices obtained therefrom have been exported or destroyed under customs supervision, and that all sound records made with the use of such articles have been exported.

WOOLS AND HAIR OF THE CAMEL FOR USE IN MANUFACTURING FLOOR COVERINGS AND OTHER ARTICLES

§ 10.91 Importation under paragraph 1101; entry or withdrawal under bond.

(a) Wool or hair of the camel[82] imported for use in the manufacture of any of the articles enumerated in paragraph 1101(b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[83] may be entered on customs Form 7501 and immediately released under bond or may be entered for warehouse on customs Form 7502 and remain in bonded warehouse under the ordinary warehouse bond until appropriately withdrawn or otherwise disposed of in accordance with law. The withdrawal shall contain the statement prescribed for withdrawals in § 8.37(b) of this chapter.

(b) When entry is made on customs Form 7501, it shall have endorsed thereon the following notation: "Above merchandise entered under bond for use in the manufacture of _____ (floor coverings, press cloth, papermaker's felts, camel's-hair belting, knit or felt boots, or heavy fulled lumbermen's socks) under the provisions of paragraph 1101(b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended." The endorsement shall be signed by the obligor on the bond. When the merchandise is entered for warehouse, withdrawals for use in the manufacture of the articles enumerated shall be made on customs Form 7506 in the name of the obligor on the bond.

(c) Such wool or hair which has been released from custody shall not be restored to a customs status from which it could thereafter be entered or withdrawn under the provisions of paragraph 1101 (b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

§ 10.92 Bond; form; penalty.

(a) At the time of making entry for consumption or withdrawal from warehouse of the wool or hair there shall be filed a single entry bond on customs Form 7547, unless the transaction is charged against a term bond on customs Form 7549 or other appropriate form. The penalty of the single entry bond shall be in the amount equal to the value of the wool or hair, as set forth in the entry, plus double the estimated duties, as determined at the time of entry. The penalty of the term bond shall be $10,000, or such larger amount as the collector of customs deems necessary to the protection of the revenue.[84]

(b) A single entry or term bond shall be filed by each manufacturer, processor, or dealer entering or withdrawing the wool or hair under bond or receiving it by transfer under bond in its imported or other form.[85]

(c) Only one term bond shall be required from each manufacturer, processor, or dealer. If wool or hair is entered or withdrawn at any port other than that at which the original term bond is filed, a certified copy of such bond shall be filed at such other port.

(d) The collector of customs may cancel liquidated damages not in excess of $20,000 incurred under a bond mentioned in this section upon payment of less than the full amount, or without the payment of any amount if no loss of revenue is involved, as he may deem appropriate under the law and in view of the circumstances.

§ 10.93 Records of receipt of wool or hair.

(a) Each manufacturer, processor, or dealer who enters or withdraws wool or hair under bond, or who receives wool or hair by transfer under bond, shall keep records which will show:

(1) In the case of entry or withdrawal, the quantity, entered clean content, identity, and description of the wool or hair entered or withdrawn under bond; and

(2) In the case of receipt by transfer, the quantity, description, and date of transfer certificate (see § 10.95 (d)) of the wool or hair received by transfer under bond, and the name and address of the transferor from whom received.

(b) Every lot of wool or hair entered or withdrawn under bond, or received by transfer under bond, shall be marked or stored until put into process in such manner as to insure the identification of the lot with the entry, withdrawal, or transfer certificate.

§ 10.94 Manufacturing records.

(a) Each manufacturer or processor shall keep the records specified in this section with respect to products and substances resulting wholly or in part from bonded wool or hair. Such records may be kept by manufacturing lot or by period

[82] Except with reference to entry or withdrawal, the term "wool or hair" means wool or hair in its imported or any other form, that is, wool or hair which has been entered or withdrawn under the provisions of par. 1101 (b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and any product or substance composed wholly or in part of, and resulting from any processing of, such wool or hair under bond, but does not include articles made from such wool or hair and enumerated in such par. 1101 (b).

[83] "Any of the foregoing may be entered or withdrawn from warehouse without the payment of duty by a manufacturer, processor, or dealer upon the filing of a bond to insure that any wool or hair entered or withdrawn thereunder shall be used only in the manufacture of press cloth, papermaker's felts, camel's hair belting, knit or felt boots, heavy fulled lumbermen's socks, rugs, carpets, or any other floor covering. * * * The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to prescribe such regulations, and the form conditions, and amounts of such bonds as may be necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this subparagraph." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1101(b) as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1001, par. 1101(b))

[84] "* * * A manufacturer, processor, or dealer may be relieved of liability under his bond with respect to any wool or hair so entered or withdrawn which is transferred in its imported or any other form to another manufacturer, processor, or dealer who has filed a bond to insure that the merchandise so transferred shall be used only in the manufacture of the above-enumerated articles. * * *" (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1101 (b), as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1001, par 1101 (b))

[85] Wool or hair is transferred under bond whenever it is transferred from the custody of one manufacturer, processor, or dealer to the custody of another manufacturer, processor, or dealer, whether the transferor or transferee is the owner of the merchandise or has received or is to receive such merchandise to be processed for the account of another.

of manufacture of not to exceed 6 months, and shall show:

(1) The date or inclusive dates of the processing of each manufacturing lot or the inclusive dates of each period of manufacture;

(2) The quantity, identity, and description of the wool or hair not previously processed by the reporting manufacturer or processor put into process in the lot or during the period;

(3) The quantity and description of all intermediate products, stocks in process, and wastes (including noils) not described in the preceding subparagraph which are put into process in the lot or during the period; [88]

(4) The quantity and description of the final products resulting from the processing by the manufacturer or processor; the quantity by weight of the wool or hair contained therein; and

(5) The quantity of any wastes (including noils) incurred which remain on hand upon completion of the manufacturing lot or period of manufacture. Such wastes shall be accounted for under the following designations:

Noils.

Soft (including all wastes, except noils, burr wastes, card strippings, and sweepings, produced after the scouring of the wool or hair and before the spinning operation).

Hard (including all wastes, except sweepings, produced in and after the spinning operation but before completion of the weaving operation or, in the case of the manufacture of article enumerated in par. 11101 (b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, which are not woven, before the completion of the enumerated article).

Fly (including all wastes other than noils and hard and soft wastes as above specified).

White soft wastes and white threads shall be accounted for separately.

(6) The records of each manufacturer or processor shall contain a detailed inventory of all wool and hair on hand at the close of each abstract period or at the completion of each manufacturing lot.

(b) When the manufacturer of any enumerated articles spins the yarns used in the manufacture thereof, he shall also keep records showing the quantity and description of all the yarns so spun.

(c) When a bonded manufacturer or processor has not manufactured or processed any bonded wool or hair for a period of 6 months since his last report, he shall promptly so advise the collector of customs.

(d) Within 3 months after the completion of each lot or period of manufacture, the manufacturer or processor shall submit to the collector of customs where his original bond is on file an abstract of his records of manufacture showing the data provided for heretofore in this section.

(e) Each such abstract shall bear the following certificate of an authorized officer or member of the firm:

I, ----------, certify that this document is a true and correct abstract of our records of manufacture; that such records have been kept in the manner prescribed by § 10.94, Customs Regulations.

All wastes reported herein as resulting from operations in our plant resulted in the usual course of manufacture of articles enumerated in paragraph 1101 (b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, except as follows:

All wool or hair delivered from our plant during the period covered by this abstract, under a transfer certificate or otherwise, has been listed herein.

Dated----------.

(Title)

(f) In the case of preliminary processors, such as pullers, sorters, washers, scourers, and carbonizers, transfer certificates on customs Form 7531–A covering wool or hair processed and transferred by them may be accepted by the collector as abstracts of the manufacturing records if the certificate (1) shows that the quantity of wool or hair transferred is the entire quantity of product obtained by the transferor from a particular lot of wool or hair received by him for processing, (2) contains, with respect to such lot, an abstract of the data provided for in paragraph (a) of this section, and (3) is supported by the certificate prescribed in paragraph (e) of this section.

§ 10.95 Records and reports of enumerated articles of wool or hair delivered; transfer certificates.

(a) Each manufacturer, processor, or dealer shall keep records showing the quantity, description, and wool or hair content of all wool or hair (including samples) and enumerated articles delivered from his premises pursuant to transfer under bond, purchase, consignment, or otherwise. Such records shall also show the date of delivery from the premises and the name and address of the transferee, purchaser, consignee, or other person to whom delivery is made. The records shall show also the exact designation under which any wool or hair was transferred, sold, consigned, or otherwise delivered and (except as to transfers under bond) the price paid or agreed to be paid, or, if there has been no sale or contract of sale, the price that the manufacturer, processor, or dealer would have received or was willing to receive for the wool or hair if sold in the ordinary course of trade. Every delivery within the purview of this paragraph, except of enumerated articles, shall be shown on the abstract prescribed in § 10.94(d).

(b) Within 30 days after the delivery of wool or hair from the premises, otherwise than under a transfer certificate provided for in paragraph (d) of this section, the manufacturer, processor, or dealer making such delivery shall file a declaration with the collector of customs in whose district his original bond is filed, showing the quantity and description of merchandise delivered, the date of delivery, and the name and address of the person to whom delivered. The declaration shall show the particulars as to price specified in paragraph (a) of this section, whether representative samples have been retained, whether the merchandise resulted in the usual course of manufacture of enumerated articles, and whether such merchandise could have been used (with or without further preparation) in the manufacture of enumerated articles.

(c) The manufacturer, processor, or dealer shall retain for customs inspection a representative sample of not less than one pound of each kind of merchandise for which a report is required by § 10.96 (a) or (b). Such sample shall be properly identified in his records with the report covering such merchandise and shall be available for inspection by proper officers of the Government at all reasonable times for a period of 3 months after its delivery.

(d) Wool or hair transferred by one bonded manufacturer, processor, or dealer to another manufacturer, processor, or dealer shall be covered by a transfer certificate on customs Form 7531–A. When the transfer is made by a dealer, such certificate shall be filed within 30 days after the date of the transfer and when the transfer is made by a manufacturer or processor, it shall be filed within the period allowed for the filing of the abstract on which the transfer is required to be reported. When the original bonds of both the transferor and transferee are on file in the office of one collector of customs, the transfer of certificate shall be filed with that officer in duplicate. When the original bond of the transferee is on file in another customs district, the transfer certificate shall be filed in triplicate. The transferor shall not be relieved from liability under his bond until the transferred wool or hair has been charged against the bond of the transferee.

(e) The establishments of bonded manufacturers, processors, and dealers, and the originals of all books and records kept by such manufacturers, processors, and dealers relating to bonded wool or hair shall be available at all reasonable times for inspection by proper officers of the Government.

(f) All records required to be kept by manufacturers, processors, and dealers relating to bonded wool or hair shall be retained for a period of 3 years after the imported wool or hair has been used in the manufacture of the articles enumerated in paragraph 1101 (b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended. Where the wool or hair has been charged against the bond of a transferee, the records of the transferor shall be retained for a period of 3 years from the date of the transfer.

§ 10.96 Reports of use or transfer for use in violation of bond.

(a) When a bonded manufacturer or processor uses any bonded wool or hair otherwise than in the manufacture of the articles enumerated in paragraph 1101(b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, or in preparation for such manufacture, he shall, within 30 days after such use, make a report thereof to the collector of customs in whose district his original bond is filed, showing the quantity and description of the wool or hair so used, the use to which it has been put, the date of such use, whether such wool or hair resulted in the usual course of manufacture of the enumerated articles, and whether it could have been used in the usual course of manufacture of such articles.[87]

(b) A manufacturer, processor, or dealer shall likewise report to such collector of customs within 30 days any transfer of bonded wool or hair for use otherwise than in the manufacture of the enumerated articles. The report shall show the quantity and description of the wool or hair, the date of transfer, the name and address of the transferee, and, if known, the specific use to which the wool or hair is to be put. Such a report of a manufacturer or processor shall state whether the wool or hair resulted in the usual course of manufacture of the enumerated articles and whether it could have been used in the manufacture of such articles.

(c) Whether merchandise has resulted in the usual course of manufacture shall be determined with respect to the bona fide and normal operations of the plant at which the merchandise resulted. Merchandise resulting in the usual course of manufacture which cannot be used (with or without further preparation) in the usual course of the manufacture of enumerated articles shall be the quantity of the merchandise resulting in the usual course of manufacture in excess of the quantity thereof which is used in the bona fide and normal operations at the plant at which it resulted. In determining, for the above-mentioned purposes, whether operations are bona fide and normal, consideration may be given to the conditions at the plant and in the industry as a whole.

§ 10.97 Duties, exportation or destruction.

(a) All wool or hair in its imported form used or transferred for use otherwise than in the manufacture of the enumerated articles shall be assessed with duty in accordance with paragraph 1101(b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.[88] As to merchandise resulting from the use of the imported wool or hair in the usual course of manufacture of the enumerated articles and which is used or transferred for use otherwise than in the manufacture of the enumerated articles, no duty shall be assessed unless such merchandise can be used (with or without further preparation) in ordinary commercial practice in the usual course of manufacture of such enumerated articles, except in the case of white soft wastes, white thread, and noils which shall be dutiable at seven-eighths of the regular duties when they are used or transferred for use otherwise than in the manufacture of the enumerated articles, irrespective of whether they can be used (with or without further preparation) in the manufacture of such enumerated articles. Wastes and other merchandise which have not resulted in the usual course of manufacture of the enumerated articles are dutiable when used or transferred for use otherwise than in the manufacture of the enumerated articles, irrespective of whether they could have been used with or without further preparation.

(b) Wool or hair, except wool or hair in its imported form, shall be credited against the covering bond if exported or destroyed under customs supervision.

(Par. 1101, sec. 1, 46 Stat. 646, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1001, par. 1101)

FLUXING MATERIAL

§ 10.98 Copper-bearing fluxing material.

(a) For the purpose of this section, ores of concentrates usable as a flux or sulphur reagent, mentioned in the provision for such ores in I.R.C. sections 4541 and 4542,[89] shall include only ores or concentrates having a copper content of not more than 15 percent based upon the assay, with a deduction of 1.3 units.

(b) For the purpose of administering this provision of law, the tax year shall begin June 21 of each year and end June 20 of the succeeding year.

(c) There shall be filed in connection with the entry of such copper-bearing ores or concentrates, either for consumption or warehouse, a declaration of the importer that the material is to be used for fluxing purposes only. In the case of a consumption entry, the estimated tax shall be deposited at the time of entry. Liquidation of entries shall be suspended pending proof of use for fluxing purposes as hereinafter provided.

(d) Samples of the material shall be taken in accordance with the commercial method in effect at the plant if to be used in a bonded smelting warehouse, or in accordance with § 8.48 of this chapter if entered for consumption, and the copper content thereof shall be determined by the Government chemist in accordance with the assay from which a deduction of 1.3 units shall be made by the collector in the liquidation of the entry.

(e) The management of the smelting or converting plant shall file with the deputy collector at Perth Amboy, N. J., a statement based on its records of operation for each quarterly period showing for each furnace or converter the total quantity of material charged during each month or part thereof of each quarter, the total quantity of material used for fluxing purposes, and the quantity of imported ores or concentrates used for fluxing purposes for which free entry was claimed under the above-mentioned provision, together with the copper content of such imported ores or concentrates computed in accordance with the net Government assay. If the quantity of ores or concentrates used for fluxing purposes in any furnace or converter during any month or part thereof of any quarter is in excess of 25 percent of the charge of such furnace or converter, the quarterly statement shall be accompanied by an explanation of the necessity for using such quantity for fluxing purposes.

[88] This applies only to materials carried over from a previous lot or period and does not require the keeping of records of materials which are put back into process in the same lot or period in which they resulted.

[87] "• • • Every manufacturer, processor, or dealer who has given a bond pursuant to the provisions of this subparagraph shall report any use or transfer of merchandise in violation of the terms of his bond, within thirty days after such use or transfer, to the collector of customs in whose district the bond is filed; and for failure to so report, such manufacturer, processor, or dealer shall be liable to a penalty equal to the value of the merchandise so used or transferred at the time and place of such use or transfer. Such penalty shall be in addition to the duties above provided for. • • •" (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1101 (b), as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1001, par. 1101 (b))

[88] "• • • If any wool or hair so entered, withdrawn, or transferred under bond is used or transferred for use in its imported or any other form in any manner otherwise than in the manufacture of the articles enumerated above, there shall be levied, collected, and paid on the merchandise so used or transferred in violation of the bond the regular duties which would apply to such merchandise if imported in its condition at the time of such use or transfer. Such duties shall be paid by the manufacturer, processor, or dealer whose bond is charged with the wool or hair at the time of such use or transfer; but such duties shall not be levied or collected on any merchandise (except white soft wastes, white threads and noils, which shall be dutiable at seven-eighths of such regular duties when used or transferred for use otherwise than in the manufacture of the enumerated articles) resulting in the usual course of manufacture of such enumerated manufactured articles which cannot be used (with or without further preparation) in the usual course of the manufacture of such enumerated articles, or which is exported or destroyed. When any wool or hair which has been entered or withdrawn under bond as provided for in this subparagraph is used or transferred for use, in its imported or any other form, otherwise than in the manufacture of the above-enumerated articles and prior to such use or transfer there shall have been combined or mixed with such wool or hair any other merchandise, the whole or the combination or mixture shall be presumed to be composed of wool or hair entered or withdrawn under bond, as provided for in this subparagraph, unless the manufacturer, processor, or dealer liable for the payment of the duties shall establish the quantity of bonded wool or hair in such combination or mixture. • • •" (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1101 (b), as amended; 19 U. [89] "(b) Copper usable as flux, etc.—Ores or concentrates usable as a flux or sulphur reagent in copper smelting and/or converting and having a copper content of not more than 15 percent, when imported for fluxing purposes, shall be admitted free of the tax imposed by section 4541 in an aggregate amount of not to exceed in any one year 15,000 tons of copper content." (I.R.C. 4542(b).)

[90] "Imported distilled spirits. Imported distilled spirits of 185 degrees or more of proof (or spirits of any proof imported for any purpose incident to the requirements of the national defense) may, under such regulations as the Secretary or his delegate shall prescribe, be withdrawn from customs custody, and transferred to the bonded premises ernmental agency thereof for the classification of ethyl alcohol of 185 degrees or more of proof under the last clause of paragraph 4 of the Tariff Act of 1930,[71] there shall be filed in connection with the entry a declaration of the importer that the alcohol is to be used for nonbeverage purposes only.

(1) Such alcohol shall be released by customs upon deposit of estimated duty, if any, and without payment of the internal revenue tax only when there has been received an application on Internal Revenue Form 2609 by the proprietor of the distilled spirits plant approved by the appropriate internal revenue officer covering the transfer under internal revenue bond of the alcohol to the bonded premises of the proprietor's plant for nonbeverage use.

(2) Prior to release of such alcohol from customs custody, Internal Revenue Form 236 shall be prepared by the customs officer in the manner and number of copies prescribed in 26 CFR 251.173. When shipments are in tank cars or trucks, the details of th gauge of each tank car or truck shall be reported separately. In the case of barrels, drums, or similar portable containers, the details of the gauge shall be shown on Internal Revenue Form 2630, in triplicate. The customs officer shall also note on Form 236 the rate of customs duty paid and the rate of customs duty which would have been applicable had such alcohol been imported for beverage purposes.[72] Upon compliance with customs entry requirements and completion of the appropriate Internal Revenue forms, the customs officer shall release the alcohol for transfer to the distilled spirits plant. The customs officer shall distribute and retain copies of the Internal Revenue forms as prescribed in 26 CFR 251.173.

(3) Before a shipment in a tank car or tank truck is released, all openings affording access to the alcohol shall be sealed by a customs officer with customs seals in such manner as will prevent unauthorized removal of the alcohol.

(4) When the distilled spirits plant is equipped with suitable dock facilities, the alcohol may, subject to all requirements of the customs laws and regulations, be transferred by pipeline from the importing vessel or barge through weighing tanks or other suitable measuring tanks into locked empty storage tanks on the bonded premises of the distilled spirits plant, or directly into locked storage tanks on such premises provided such storage tanks are equipped with suitable measuring devices for correctly indicating the actual contents and the outlets thereof are locked. In all such cases of pipeline transfers, the alcohol shall be transferred under customs supervision, gauged immediately by a customs officer, and thereupon released for deposit in the distilled spirits plant. The details of the gauge shall be reported for internal revenue on Form 236 and distribution of such form shall be made as prescribed in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph.

(b) If ethyl alcohol is to be withdrawn from customs custody by the United States or any governmental agency thereof for its own use for nonbeverage purposes, before release under the entry without the deposit of estimated duties, if any, and internal revenue tax, or before release in accordance with the provisions of § 8.28(c) of this chapter, there shall be filed with the collector of customs an appropriate permit on Internal Revenue Form 1444 which may also cover future withdrawals at that port pursuant to appropriate entry in each case. The alcohol shall be gauged by a customs officer, who shall prepare a report of gauge on Internal Revenue Form 2629, in triplicate, and may then be released for shipment to the United States or governmental agency thereof named in the permit, Form 1444. The customs officer shall make the appropriate notation on Form 1444 as to the withdrawal, shall state on each copy of Form 2629 the permit number of the Form 1444 involved, shall retain the original of the Form 2629 with the permit on Form 1444, and shall forward one copy of Form 2629 to the governmental agency involved and one copy to the director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, Internal Revenue Service, Washington 25, D.C.

(c) The foregoing provisions are not applicable with respect to withdrawal free of tax on the entry of such articles from the Virgin Islands. Provisions for the release free of tax of distilled spirits, denatured distilled spirits, and products containing denatured spirits produced and withdrawn in the Virgin Islands are found in Subpart O of Part 250, Internal Revenue Regulations (26 CFR Part 250, Subpart O).

(d) Upon the completion of the applicable procedure outlined above, the entry shall be liquidated with the assessment of duty at the appropriate rate, if any, and without the assessment of internal revenue tax.

RAPESEED OIL

§ 10.100 Rapeseed oil to be used in the manufacture of rubber substitutes or lubricating oil.

Pursuant to I.R.C. section 4572, rapeseed oil imported to be used in the manufacture of rubber substitutes or lubricating oil may be released without the deposit of tax in the same manner and subject to the same conditions as leather to be used in the manufacture of footwear (see § 10.84), except that the proof of use shall include a description of the processing in sufficient detail to enable the collector to determine whether the rapeseed oil under consideration has been used in the manufacture of rubber substitutes or lubricating oil, and the other documents required shall be modified accordingly.

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT IMPORTATIONS

§ 10.103 Entry, examination, and tariff status.

Except as otherwise provided for in §§ 8.8(d), 8.15(c)(12), 8.28(c) of this chapter, 10.104, 10.105, or elsewhere in these regulations, importations made by or for the account of any agency or office of the United States Government are subject to the usual customs entry and examination requirements, and, in the absence of express exemptions from duty, such as are contained in paragraph 1628 or other free list provision of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[75] the Act of August 10, 1956 (10 U.S.C. 2383),[76] section 602(d)(6) of the Act of June 30, 1949, as amended (40 U.S.C. 474(6)),[77] and section 161(1), Atomic Energy Act of 1954 (42 U.S.C. 2201(1)),[78] such importations are also subject to duty.

§ 10.104 Importations by a military department, the General Services Administration, and the Atomic Energy Commission.

(a) Shipments consigned to a military department, the General Services Administration, the Atomic Energy Commission, or other party acting for the Atomic Energy Commission, or to an officer or official of any such agency in his official capacity, shall be regarded for purposes of this regulation as shipments the immediate delivery of which is necessary within the purview of section 448(b), Tariff Act of 1930. Such shipments may be released upon the filing of immediate delivery applications on customs Form 3461 as set forth in § 8.59 of this chapter. Such applications may be granted to cover a specified period of not more than 1 year and in such cases may be limited to shipments in special categories, such as shipments as to which the collector shall be notified that free entry will be claimed.

(b) Before the release of a shipment under an immediate delivery permit, evidence of the right of the applicant to make entry for the articles shall be furnished the collector in accordance with the provisions of § 8.6 of this chapter. A blanket carrier's certificate and release order on customs Form 7529 may be accepted by a collector for all shipments for the same consignee which may be brought to a port by a carrier during any period stated on the form. No bond shall be required in support of an immediate delivery application provided for in this section if a stipulation in substantially the form set forth in § 8.28 (c) of this chapter is filed with the collector of customs in connection with the application. No invoice or other declaration of the shipper shall be required for shipments for which free entry is allowed in accordance with this section.

(c) (1) Collectors may admit articles free of duty under the Act of August 10, 1956 (10 U.S.C. 2383), only upon receipt of a certificate executed by a duly authorized officer or civilian official of the appropriate department in the following form:

I certify that the procurement of this material constituted an emergency purchase of war material abroad by the Department of the (name of the military department), and it is accordingly requested that such material be admitted free of duty pursuant to the Act of August 10, 1956 (10 U.S.C. 2383).

(Title), who has been designated to execute free-entry certificates for the above-named department.

(Grade) (Organization)

(2) Collectors may admit articles free under section 602 (d) (6) of the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949, as amended (40 U. S. C. 474 (6)), only upon the receipt of a certificate executed by a duly designated official of the General Services Administration in the following form:

Pursuant to section 502 (d) (6) of the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949, as amended (40 U. S. C. 474 (6)), I hereby certify that the above-described materials are strategic and critical materials procured under the Strategic and Critical Materials Stock Piling Act (50 U. S. C. 98b).

(Title), General Services Administration, who has been duly authorized to execute the above certificate.

(3) Collectors may admit materials free under section 161 (1), Atomic Energy Act of 1954 (42 U. S. C. 2201 (1)), only upon receipt from the Atomic Energy Commission of a certificate specifically identifying the shipment of such materials and executed in the following form by a duly authorized official of the Atomic Energy Commission.

I certify to the Secretary of the Treasury that the above-described materials are source materials purchased abroad, the admittance of which is necessary in the interest of the common defense and security, in accordance with section 161 (1) of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 (42 U. S. C. 2201 (1)).

(Title, who has been authorized to execute free-entry certificates for the Atomic Energy Commission)

(4) The above certificates may be printed, stamped, or typewritten on the customs entry or withdrawal, customs Form 7501 or 7506, or on a separate paper attached to the entry or withdrawal provided the certification is clearly and unmistakably identified with the material covered by the entry or withdrawal.

(d) Shipments for which free entry has been or will be claimed under one of the statutes mentioned in paragraph (c) of this section shall be released after only such examination as is necessary to identify them.

(e) All materials for which free entry is claimed under one of the statutes mentioned in paragraph (c) of this section shall be entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption in the name of the Government department whose representative executes the certificate set forth in the said paragraph (c) of this section, unless exemption from this requirement is specifically authorized by the Bureau.

(f) If proper entries for consumption for importations released under this regulation are not filed within a reasonable time, appropriate steps shall be taken to insure the prompt filing of such entries.

§ 10.105 American goods returned.

(a) Articles entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption in the name of an agency or office of the United States Government may be admitted free of duty under paragraph 1615 (a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, upon the filing of a certificate in the following form in lieu of the documents provided for in § 10.1 (a):

I certify that the articles covered by this entry for which free entry is claimed under paragraph 1615 (a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, are the growth, produce, or manufacture of the United States, and have been returned to the United States without having been advanced in value or improved in condition by any process of manufacture or other means, and that no drawback has been or will be claimed on such articles.

WHEAT

§ 10.106 Wheat, unfit for human consumption; other wheat.

(a) There shall be filed in connection with each entry covering wheat entered under paragraph 729, Tariff Act of 1930, as modified, as "wheat, unfit for human consumption," a declaration of the importer setting out whether any part of the importation is to be used with or without blending with other wheat in the manufacture of products for human consumption. If it is declared that no part of the shipment is to be so used, a further declaration shall be made stating the use to which the wheat is to be put. When it is shown by the declaration that the wheat is to be used in the manufacture of products for human consumption, it shall be classified as "wheat" under the provisions of paragraph 729, as modified. However, when the declaration states that the wheat is to be used otherwise than in the manufacture of products for human consumption, the procedure outlined in T. D. 47577 shall be followed, and in the absence of other controlling factors, the wheat shall be classified as "wheat, unfit for human consumption" under the provisions of paragraph 729, as modified, if it contains 30 per centum or more of damaged kernels.

NOTE: Treasury Decision 53309, 18 F. R. 4705, Aug. 8, 1953, provides as follows:

The declaration required by § 10.106 may be made by the actual importer or by a nominal consignee having actual knowledge of the facts.

The use of wheat in the manufacture of a product for human consumption within the meaning of § 10.106 includes use in the manufacture of ethyl alcohol, monosodium glutamate, edible flour, or edible starch.

RESCUE AND RELIEF WORK

§ 10.107 Equipment and supplies; admission.

(a) There shall be admitted without entry and without the payment of duty or any tax imposed upon or by reason of importation of any article described in section 322(b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[98] subject to compliance with the following conditions:

(1) Before importation or as soon thereafter as possible, and in every case before the expiration of 10 days after importation, a report shall be made to the nearest customs officer by the person in charge of sending the article from the foreign country, or by the person for whose account it was brought into the United States, stating the character, quantity, destination, and use to be made of the article.

(2) If practicable, the article shall be exported under customs supervision. In any other case a report shall be made by the person in charge of the exportation as soon as possible after exportation to the customs officer to whom the arrival was reported, stating the character, quantity, and circumstances of the exportation.

(b) In the case of each article admitted under paragraph (a) of this section, the collector of customs shall satisfy himself as to whether the article was exported within a reasonable time, or that it has been properly expended or destroyed. If an article is so far destroyed in connection with a use contemplated for it by section 322 (b) that it has only a salvage value, it shall not be required to be exported.

(c) Any article admitted under paragraph (a) of this section which is used in the United States otherwise than for a purpose contemplated for it by section 322 (b), or which is not exported within 90 days after its arrival in the United States, or within such longer time as may be specially authorized by the collector of customs or the Bureau, shall be seized and forfeited to the United States.

(Sec. 14, 67 Stat. 516; 19 U. S. C. 1322 (b))

PRODUCTS EXPORTED UNDER LEASE AND REIMPORTED

§ 10.108 Entry of reimported articles exported under lease.

(a) Free entry shall be accorded under paragraph 1615(a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[99] whenever it is established to the satisfaction of the collector of customs that the article for which free entry is claimed was duty paid on a previous importation, is being reimported without having been advanced in value or improved in condition by any process of manufacture or other means, was exported from the United States under a lease to a foreign manufacturer, and is being reimported by or for the account of the person who previously imported it into, and exported it from, the United States.

(b) There shall be filed in connection with the entry a statement specifying the port at which duty was previously paid on the article and the number and date of the previous entry; the date of exportation to the lessee abroad; the number and date of the export declaration; and the designation of the vessel or other carrier on which the article was exported. If such information is not filed at the time of entry, a bond as provided for in § 8.28 (a) of this chapter shall be taken for its production.

WESTERN WHITE SPRUCE—ENGELMANN SPRUCE

§ 10.109 Western white spruce; Engelmann spruce.

(a) There shall be filed in connection with each entry of lumber claimed to be exempt as Western white spruce or Engelmann spruce under the provisions of section 4553, I.R.C.,[101] from the import tax imposed by section 4551,[102] a declaration of the shipper or other person having knowledge of the facts in the following form:

I, having knowledge of the facts, declare that insofar as claim for exemption from the import tax imposed by section 4551, Internal Revenue Code of 1954, is concerned, the shipment of lumber contained in car number(s) ---------- covered by the invoice of ----------, dated ----------, consists of lumber generally bought, sold, and described in the United States, as stated below, (1) as Western white spruce, (2) as Engelmann spruce, or (3) consists of both such lumbers. So far as the shipment consists of lumber cut from stands subjected to lumbering operations on May 28, 1938, and claimed to be Western white spruce free of import tax under section 4553, Internal Revenue Code of 1954, it is lumber of a kind which as of that date was generally bought, sold, and described in the United States as Western white spruce. Any part of the shipment consisting of lumber cut from stands not yet subjected to lumbering operations on May 28, 1938, and claimed to be Western white spruce free of import tax under section 4553, Internal Revenue Code of 1954, is lumber of a kind which from the commencement of lumbering operations in the stands in which it was cut has been generally bought, sold, and described in the United States as Western white spruce and possesses the character of the lumber which on May 28, 1938, was generally bought, sold, and described in the United States as Western white spruce. Insofar as the shipment consists of lumber claimed to be Engelmann spruce free of import tax under section 4556, Internal Revenue Code of 1954, it is lumber of a kind which as of September 27, 1950, was generally bought, sold, and described in the United States as Engelmann spruce.
(Seller or consignor)

STRATEGIC MATERIALS OBTAINED BY BARTER OR EXCHANGE

§ 10.110 Strategic materials acquired as a result of barter or exchange of agricultural commodities or products.

(a) Upon notification by the Commodity Credit Corporation, or by another government agency designated by the Commodity Credit Corporation to act for it, of the name of an importer who has contracted with the Commodity Credit Corporation to barter or exchange agricultural products for strategic materials, and a description identifying a shipment to be made in compliance with such a contract, the collector shall accept an entry covering such shipment for the account of the importer claiming exemption from duty under section 206 (b) of the Agricultural Act of 1956 (7 U. S. C. 1856 (b)).[103] Upon submission to the collector of a certificate executed in the following form, the entry shall be liquidated free of duty under authority of 7 U. S. C. 1856 (b):

I hereby certify that the above described materials covered by this certificate are strategic materials acquired by the Commodity Credit Corporation as a result of barter or exchange of agricultural commodities or products as provided for in section 303 of the Agricultural Trade Development and Assistance Act of 1954 (7 U. S. C. 1692). Free entry under the provisions of section 206 (b) of the Agricultural Act of 1956 (7 U. S. C. 1856 (b)) is claimed.

(Title)

Who has been designated by Commodity Credit Corporation, or other government agency, under authority from the Commodity Credit Corporation, to make claim for free entry, and to execute certifications necessary to establish the right to exemption from duty.

(b) When the certification set forth in paragraph (a) of this section is not on a copy of the entry form, it must clearly and unmistakably identify the material covered by the entry.

WOOLEN TEXTILES

§ 10.111 Woolen textiles imported to be used in the manufacture of apparel for members of religious orders.

(a) Serges, weighing not over 6 ounces per square yard, and nun's veiling and other woven fabrics, weighing not over 4 ounces per square yard; all the foregoing wholly or in chief value of wool of the sheep, valued at over $4 per pound, in solid colors, imported to be used in the manufacture of apparel for members of religious orders, entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption after the annual quota on certain wool fabrics classifiable under paragraphs 1108 and 1109 (a), Tariff Act of 1930, has been filled may be released on deposit of estimated duties at the rate the ad valorem part of which is 30 percent, as provided for in the President's Proclamation No. 3160 of September 28, 1956 (3 CFR, 1956 Supp., TD 54212), as amended by the President's Proclamation No. 3225 of March 7, 1958 (3 CFR, 1958 Supp., TD 54550), if there is filed with the entry or the withdrawal a declaration of a person having knowledge of the facts that the fabrics were imported to be used in the manufacture of apparel for members of religious orders. Liquidation of the entry covering the fabrics shall be suspended until the proof of use provided for in paragraph (b) of this section is furnished or the time allowed for the production thereof has expired.

(b) Within 1 year from the date of the entry (in case of warehouse entries as well as consumption entries) or any extension of that period as hereinafter provided for, the importer shall furnish proof of use satisfactory to the collector that the imported fabrics have been used in the manufacture of apparel for members of religious orders. The collector may, upon written application of the importer before the expiration of the initial or any extended period, extend the period for further periods of 1 year each, but not to exceed 5 years from the date of entry.

(c) When proof of use is not furnished within the 1 year period or any extension thereof provided for in paragraph (b) of this section, the entry shall be liquidated at the rate the ad valorem part of which is 45 percent, as provided for in the President's Proclamation No. 3160 of September 28, 1956, as amended.

LATE FILING OF FREE ENTRY DOCUMENTS

§ 10.112 Filing free entry documents after entry.

Whenever a document, form, or statement required by regulations in this part to be filed in connection with the entry is not filed at the time of the entry or within the period for which a bond was filed for its production but failure to file it was not due to willful negligence or fraudulent intent, such document, form, or statement may be filed at any time prior to liquidation of the entry or, if the entry was liquidated, before the liquidation becomes final.

PUMICE STONE

§ 10.113 Pumice stone to be used in the manufacture of concrete masonry products, such as building blocks, bricks, tiles, and similar forms.

(a) Pumice stone, when entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption, after October 21, 1959, to be used in the manufacture of concrete masonry products, such as building blocks, bricks, tiles, and similar forms, may be released without the payment of duties, if there is filed with the entry or withdrawal a declaration of a person having knowledge of the facts that the pumice stone was imported to be used in the manufacture of concrete masonry products, such as building blocks, bricks, tiles, and similar forms. Liquidation of the entry covering the pumice stone shall be suspended until the proof of use provided for in paragraph (b) of this section is furnished or the time allowed for the production thereof has expired.

(b) Within 1 year from the date of the entry (in the case of warehouse entries as well as consumption entries) or any extension of that period as hereinafter provided for, the importer shall furnish proof of use satisfactory to the collector that the imported pumice stone has been used in the manufacture of concrete masonry products, such as building blocks, bricks, tiles, or similar forms. The collector may, upon written application of the importer before the expiration of the initial or any extended period, extend the period for further periods of 1 year each, but not to exceed 5 years from the date of entry.

(c) When proof of use is not furnished within the 1 year period or any extension thereof provided for in paragraph (b) hereof, the entry shall be liquidated with the assessment of duty at the appropriate rate, if any.

§ 11.1 Cigars, cigarettes, medicinal preparations, and perfumery.

(a) All cigars and cigarettes imported into the United States, except importations by mail and in baggage, shall be placed in the public stores or in a designated bonded warehouse to remain until inspected, weighed, and repacked, if necessary, under the customs and internal-revenue laws. However, if the invoice and entry presented specify all of the information necessary for prompt determination of the estimated duty and tax on the packages of cigars and cigarettes covered thereby, the collector may permit designation of less than the entire importation for examination.

(b) After the cigars and cigarettes have been examined, weighed, and appraised, before release the inspecting officer shall verify that they are in properly constructed packages, conforming to the requirements of the regulations of the Internal Revenue Service, bearing a legible imprint or a securely affixed label stating the quantity, kind, and classification for tax purposes as required by such regulations. No cigars or cigarettes shall be released for consumption unless packed and marked as prescribed in such regulations.

(c) The immediate containers of all domestic cigars, cigarettes, medicinal preparations, and perfumery, which are returned to the United States and are subject to a duty equal to an internal-revenue tax, shall be stamped by the customs inspector with a rubber stamp bearing the legend "U.S. Customs—American Goods Returned—_____ Inspector." The inspector's initials shall appear in the space provided therefor. The packaging requirements set forth in paragraph (b) of this section apply to returned cigars and cigarettes of domestic origin.

§ 11.2 Manufactured tobacco.

(a) All manufactured tobacco, as defined in regulations of the Internal Revenue Service, shall be packed and marked as required by such regulations before release for consumption. If the invoice and entry presented for manufactured tobacco specify all of the information necessary for prompt determination of the estimated duty and tax on the manufactured tobacco covered thereby, the collector may permit designation of less than the entire importation for examination.

(b) In the case of returned American manufactured tobacco, the packages shall be marked or stamped by customs with the inscription "American goods returned."

§ 11.2a Release of tobacco materials to qualified manufacturers of tobacco products and dealers in tobacco material; also release of manufactured tobacco, cigars, and cigarettes to qualified manufacturers.

Tobacco materials may be released from customs custody, without the payment of internal-revenue tax, for delivery to a qualified dealer in tobacco materials, or to a qualified manufacturer of tobacco cigars, or cigarettes, under such dealer's or manufacturer's bond, solely for receipt into premises covered by bond. The collector of customs may permit such release upon the filing with him of a notice of release, Internal Revenue Form 2146, properly and completely executed by the dealer or manufacturer desiring release of the tobacco materials to him. Manufactured tobacco, cigars and cigarettes, may also be released from customs custody without payment of internal-revenue tax for delivery to a qualified manufacturer of such products, under the manufacturer's bond, solely for receipt into premises covered by such bond. The collector of customs may permit such release of tobacco products upon filing with him of a notice of release of imported tobacco products, Internal Revenue Form 2145, properly executed by the manufacturer concerned and properly endorsed by the appropriate assistant regional commissioner of internal revenue.

§ 11.3 Cigarette papers and tubes.

The procedure for the collection of internal-revenue tax on cigarette papers and tubes is prescribed in article 188 of Internal Revenue Regulations No. 8, revised November 1934 (26 CFR 140.189). Customs officers shall require importers of cigarette tubes to affix to each package of tubes the internal-revenue stamps prescribed in paragraph (d) of the said article 188 and cancel them before release from customs custody.[3]

[3] Internal-revenue stamps for imported cigarette tubes, playing cards, and oleomargarine will be sold to the owner or consignee of the merchandise by the district director of internal revenue of the district in which is located the office of the collector of customs where the customs entry is filed, upon requisition therefor an internal-revenue Form 923, duly executed by an authorized customs officer.

§ 11.4 Playing cards.

(a) Imported playing cards, not bearing stamps in payment of the tax affixed abroad in accordance with Internal Revenue Regulations (26 CFR (1939), 1956 Supp., 305.19), shall not be released for consumption until the required internal-revenue stamps have been affixed thereto and canceled by the importer in accordance with Internal Revenue Regulations No. 66 (26 CFR Part 305).[3] Imported playing cards bearing the required stamps affixed abroad may be treated the same as any importation subject only to duty.

(b) The immediate containers of reimported domestic playing cards which are subject to a duty equal to an internal-revenue tax shall be stamped by the customs inspector with a rubber hand stamp bearing the legend—"U. S. Customs—American goods returned _____ Inspector," to denote the payment of duty equal to the internal-revenue tax. The inspector's initials shall appear in the space provided therefor.

§ 11.5 Oleomargarine.

(a) All imported oleomargarine and imported articles suspected of being oleomargarine shall be detained by the collector of customs and the facts reported to the collector of internal revenue of the district, to whom such samples shall be furnished as may be requested.

(b) No imported oleomargarine shall be released for consumption until the proper internal-revenue stamps have been affixed and canceled by the importer as required by Internal Revenue Regulations No. 9 (26 CFR Part 310).[3]

§ 11.6 Distilled spirits, wines, and malt liquors in casks and similar containers.

All distilled spirits, wines, and malt liquors imported in pipes, hogsheads, tierces, barrels, casks, or other similar packages shall be stamped in accordance with 19 U.S.C. 467.[3] The provision in that section that such spirits, wines, and liquors shall be first placed in public store or bonded warehouse is construed as directory only and such merchandise, unless otherwise required to be sent to the public store, may, in the discretion of the collector, be inspected, gauged, marked, and stamped at the place of unlading or at another suitable place if, in the opinion of the collector such inspecting, gauging, marking, and stamping can be done with facility and effectiveness.

§ 11.7 Distilled spirits and other alcoholic beverages imported in bottles and similar containers; regulations of the Internal Revenue Service.

The importation of distilled spirits and other alcoholic beverages in bottles and similar containers is subject to regulations of the Internal Revenue Service relating to strip stamps and other matters. (27 CFR Part 7, 26 CFR Parts 175, 225, and 251). Customs officers and employees shall perform such functions as are necessary or proper on their part to carry out such regulations.

[3] "All distilled spirits, wines, and malt liquors, imported in pipes, hogsheads, tierces, barrels, casks, or other similar packages, shall be first placed in public store or bonded warehouse, and shall not be removed therefrom until the same shall have been inspected, marked, and branded by a United States customs-gauger, and a stamp affixed to each package, indicating the date and particulars of such inspection; and the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to prescribe the form of, and provide, the requisite stamps, and to make all regulations which he may deem necessary and proper for carrying the foregoing requirements into effect. Any pipe, hogshead, tierce, barrel, cask, or other package withdrawn from public store or bonded warehouse purporting to contain imported liquor, found without having thereon the stamp hereby required shall be, with its contents, forfeited to the United States; * * *." (19 U. S. C. 467)

"Still wines, including ginger wine or ginger cordial, vermouth, and rice wine or sake, and similar beverages * * *: Provided, That any of the foregoing articles specified in this paragraph when imported containing more than 24 per centum of alcohol shall be classed as spirits * * *." (Par. 804, Tariff Act of 1930; 19 U. S. C. 1001, par. 804)

MARKING

§ 11.8 Marking of articles and containers to indicate name of country of origin.

(a) The term "country" as used in section 304, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[4] requiring the marking of articles to indicate the country of origin, shall be considered to mean the political entity known as a nation. Colonies, possessions, or protectorates, outside the boundaries of the mother country shall be considered separate countries. The name of any such colony, possession, or protectorate shall be considered acceptable marking, except when the Bureau finds that the name is not sufficiently well known to insure that the ultimate purchasers will be fully informed of the country of origin, or where the name appearing alone may cause confusion, deception, or mistake.[5]

(b) The marking required by such section 304 shall include the English name of the country of origin, unless other marking to indicate the English name of the country of origin is specifically authorized by the Bureau.[6] The adjectival form of the name of a country shall be accepted as a proper indication of the name of the country of origin of imported merchandise, provided the adjectival form of the name does not appear with other words so as to refer to a kind or species of product. For example, such terms as "English walnuts" or "Brazil nuts" are unacceptable. Variant spellings which clearly indicate the English name of the country of origin, such as Brasil for Brazil and Italie for Italy, are acceptable. Abbreviations which unmistakably indicate the name of a country, such as "Gt. Britain" for "Great Britain" and "Br. N. Borneo" for "British North Borneo," are acceptable.

(c) The country of manufacture or production shall be considered the country of origin. Further work or material added to an article in another country must affect a substantial transformation in order to render such other country the "country of origin" within the meaning of this section.

(d) Subject to the exceptions specified in section 304 (a) (3), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, each article classifiable under paragraph 354, 355, 357, 358, 359, 360, 361, or 1553 of that act shall be marked legibly and conspicuously to indicate its origin by die stamping, cast-in-the-mold lettering, etching (acid or electrolytic), engraving, or by means of metal plates which bear the prescribed marking and which are securely attached to the article in a conspicuous place by welding, screws, or rivets. In the case of other classes of articles, the exact method of marking to meet the requirements of section 304, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, is not specified in these regulations or elsewhere. When an article not classifiable under a paragraph specified above is required to be marked under section 304 to indicate its origin, any method of legible and conspicuous marking is acceptable which will remain on the article (or its container, when the container and not the article is required to be marked) until it reaches the ultimate purchaser. The marking must in all cases be legible and conspicuous and of a degree of permanency which will assure that in any reasonably foreseeable circumstance the marking, unless it is deliberately removed, will remain on the article (or its container) until it reaches the ultimate purchaser. For example, if chinaware is marked by means of paper sticker labels, the labels, legibly indicating the English name of the country of origin, must be affixed to the chinaware in a conspicuous place and so securely that unless deliberately removed they will remain on the chinaware while it is in storage or on display and until it is delivered to the purchaser at retail or other ultimate purchaser. Similarly, when tags are used, the tags, legibly indicating origin, must be attached in a conspicuous place and in a manner which assures that unless deliberately removed they will remain on the article until it reaches the ultimate purchaser.

(e) If an imported article is to be used in the United States in the manufacture of an article having a name, character, or use differing from that of the imported article, the principle of the decision in the case of United States v. Gibson-Thomsen Co., Inc. (C. A. D. 98) will apply to such imported article. Under this principle, the manufacturer or processor in the United States who will convert or combine the imported article into the different article will be considered the "ultimate purchaser" [6a] of the imported article within the contemplation of section 304 (a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

(f) Articles of foreign manufacture or production imported into any possession of the United States outside its customs territory (section 401 (k), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended) and reshipped to the United States are subject to all marking requirements applicable to like articles of foreign origin imported directly from a foreign country to the United States.

(g) When an imported article is of a kind which is usually combined with an-

[4] "Except as hereinafter provided, every article of foreign origin (or its container, as provided in subsection (b) hereof) imported into the United States shall be marked in a conspicuous place as legibly, indelibly, and permanently as the nature of the article (or container will permit in such manner as to indicate to an ultimate purchaser in the United States the English name of the country of origin of the article. The Secretary of the Treasury may by regulations—

"(1) Determine the character of words and phrases or abbreviations thereof which shall be acceptable as indicating the country of origin and prescribe any reasonable method of marking, whether by printing, stenciling, stamping, branding, labeling, or by any other reasonable method, and a conspicuous place on the article (or container) where the marking shall appear; * * *." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 304 (a) as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1304 (a))

[5] In such cases, the Bureau will specify in decisions which will be published in the weekly Treasury Decisions the additional marking to be used in conjunction with the name of the colony, possession, or protectorate.

[6] Notices of acceptable markings other than the English name of the country of origin will be published from time to time in the Treasury Decisions.

[6a] It is not feasible to state who will be the "ultimate purchaser" in every circumstance. Broadly stated, an "ultimate purchaser" may be defined as the last person in the United States who will receive the article in the form in which it was imported. If an imported article will be used in manufacture, the manufacturer is the "ultimate purchaser." If an article is to be sold at retail in its imported form, the purchaser at retail is the "ultimate purchaser." A person who subjects an imported article to a process which results in a substantial transformation of the article, even though the process may not result in a new or different article, may be an "ultimate purchaser" in certain circumstances; but if the process is merely a minor one which leaves the identity of the imported article intact, the consumer or user of the article, who purchases it after the processing, will be regarded as the "ultimate purchaser."

other article subsequent to importation but before delivery to an ultimate purchaser, and the name indicating the country of origin of the article appears in a place on the article so that the name will be visible after such combining, the marking shall include, in addition to the name of the country of origin, words or symbols which shall clearly show that the origin indicated is that of the imported article only and not that of any other article with which the imported article may be combined subsequent to importation. For example, bottles, drums, or other containers imported empty, to be filled in the United States, shall be marked with such words as "Bottle (or drum or container) made in (name of country)." Labels and similar articles so marked that the name of the country of origin of the article is visible after it is affixed to another article in this country shall be marked with additional descriptive words such as "Label made (or printed) in (name of country)" or words of similar import.[7] This paragraph shall not apply to articles of a kind which are ordinarily so substantially changed in this country that the articles in their changed condition become products of the United States. An article excepted from marking under § 11.10 is not within the scope of section 304 (a) (2), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and is not subject to the requirements of this paragraph.

(h) In the case of containers required to be marked in accordance with section 304 (b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[8] the container to be marked shall be the outermost container in which the article ordinarily reaches the ultimate purchaser.

(i) If an article is excepted under § 11.10 from the marking requirements, its container shall be marked to indicate the country of origin of the contained article, unless the container is exempt from marking by reason of the second sentence of section 304 (b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, or because the container itself is within an exception covered by § 11.10. This requirement applies even though the excepted article is itself actually marked to indicate the country of its origin.

(j) Unusual containers within the purview of section 504, Tariff Act of 1930, shall be marked to indicate clearly the country of their own origin in addition to any marking which may be required to show the country of origin of their contents.

(k) The duty of 10 percent provided for in subsection (c) of section 304, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[9] accrues upon merchandise not legally marked, exported, or destroyed prior to the liquidation of the entry covering it and shall be assessed upon the dutiable value as defined in section 503, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended. The 10 percent additional duty is assessable for failure either to mark the article (or container) to indicate the English name of the country of origin of the article or to include words or symbols required to prevent deception or mistake. When an article is to be exported or destroyed, or the article (or its container) is to be marked under customs supervision, under subsection (c) of such section 304, the identity of the imported article shall be established to the satisfaction of the collector.

(l) No article which has been repacked under § 19.8 of this chapter, manipulated under section 562, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, or manipulated (but not manufactured) in a foreign-trade zone as provided for in § 30.12 of this chapter shall be withdrawn for consumption unless such article (or its container) is marked in accordance with the provisions of section 304, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, at the time of withdrawal or transfer to customs territory,[10] except when the article and its container were exempt at the time of importation from marking by reason of § 11.10.

(m) The compensation of customs officers and employees assigned to supervise the exportation, destruction, or marking of articles so as to exempt them from the application of marking duties shall be computed in accordance with § 19.5 (b) of this chapter, except to the extent that such supervision is performed by a customs officer or employee in an overtime status, in which case the compensation with respect to the overtime shall be computed in accordance with § 24.16 of this chapter.[11] The time for which compensation is charged shall include all periods devoted to supervision and all periods during which such officers or employees are away from their regular posts of duty by reason of such assignment and for which compensation to such officers and employees is provided for by law. In formulating charges for expenses pertaining to such supervision, there shall be included all expenses of transportation, per diem allowance in lieu of subsistence, and all other expenses incurred by such officers and employees by reason of such supervision. If the aggregate amount of compensation and expenses with respect to a single assignment, computed as herein provided, is less than 50 cents, no charge shall be made with respect to such assignment. If the importations of more than one importer are concurrently supervised, the service rendered for each importer shall be regarded as a separate assignment, but the total amount of the compensation, and any expenses properly applicable to more than one importer, shall be equitably apportioned among the importers concerned.

§ 11.9 Special marking on certain articles.

(a) No article classifiable under paragraph 367 or 368, Tariff Act of 1930, shall be released for consumption until marked in exact conformity with the requirements thereof. If any article required to be marked under paragraph 367 or 368 is found not to be marked to indicate the country of origin, the 10 percent marking duty shall be assessed, unless such marking is accomplished or the merchandise is exported or destroyed under customs supervision prior to the liquidation of the entry, in accordance with the provisions of section 304 (c), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

(b) The name of the manufacturer or purchaser, which must appear on articles classifiable under such paragraph 367 or 368 and specified in subparagraph (b) or (g) of paragraph 367 or subparagraph (b) of paragraph 368, may be either the actual name of the manufacturer or purchaser or a duly registered trade name under which such manufacturer or purchaser carries on his business. A trade-mark shall not be accepted as meeting any such special marking requirement unless it includes the full name of the manufacturer or purchaser. The term "purchaser" as used in this paragraph means the purchaser in the United States by whom or for whose account the articles are imported.

§ 11.10 Exceptions to marking requirements.

(a) Articles within any specification in section 304(a)(3), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[12] are hereby excepted from the requirement of marking. The marking of the container of an article will reasonably indicate the origin of such article within the meaning of section 304(a)(3)(D) if the article is imported (or repacked under section 562, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended) in a container which will reach the ultimate purchaser in the United States unopened. An article which is to be processed in the United States by the importer or for his account shall not be considered to be within the specifications of section 304 (a) (3) (G) if there is a reasonable method of marking which will not be obliterated, destroyed, or permanently concealed by such processing. The exceptions under section 304 (a) (3) (J) are set forth in T. D. 49690, T. D. 49835, T. D. 49896, and T. D. 54167.

(b) The following articles and their containers are not subject to the marking requirements of section 304, as amended, or paragraph 367 or 368, Tariff Act of 1930:

(1) Articles entered or withdrawn for immediate exportation or for transportation and exportation;

(2) Products of American fisheries which are free of duty;

(3) Products of possessions of the United States.

(4) Products of the United States exported and returned;

(5) Articles exempt from duty under § 8.3 or 9.6 of this chapter.

§ 11.11 Disposition of articles not properly marked.

(a) The appraiser, acting for the collector, shall notify the importer on customs Form 4647 to arrange with the collector's office to properly mark the articles or containers found upon examination not to be legally marked, or to return the unexamined packages to customs custody for exportation, or destruction. Such marking, exportation, or destruction shall be at the expense of the importer and under customs supervision.[13]

(b) Articles (or containers) in examination packages may be marked in the appraiser's stores by the importer in accordance with the provisions of section 304, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, or paragraph 367 or 368, Tariff Act of 1930. If it is impracticable to mark such articles (or containers) in the appraiser's stores, the merchandise may be turned over to the importer for proper marking upon the deposit of adequate security to insure compliance with the marking requirements and the payment of any additional expense which will be incurred on account of customs supervision. If such merchandise is not exported, destroyed, or properly marked by the importer within a reasonable time, it shall be sent to general-order stores unless covered by a warehouse entry, and, if not exported within 1 year from the date of entry, shall be sold as abandoned merchandise upon the condition that it be marked by the purchaser under customs supervision or exported under such supervision.

(c) If in any case articles subject to marking, which have been released from customs custody, are not returned or properly marked within 30 days from the date of the requisition therefor, the collector shall demand payment of the liquidated damages incurred under the bond in an amount equal to the entered value of the articles not returned, plus any estimated duty thereon as determined at the time of entry. If payment is not made or an application for relief from such payment is not filed within the period prescribed in § 25.15 (e) of this chapter, the collector shall proceed in accordance with the provisions of that section. Any relief from the payment of the full liquidated damages incurred will be contingent upon the showing made concerning diligence and good faith shown by the importer in attempting to secure compliance with the marking requirements.

(d) If a written application for relief is timely filed, such application, together with a full report of the facts, shall be transmitted to the Bureau for decision, except that in cases involving only marking under section 304 of the tariff act, as amended, if the full amount of liquidated damages incurred for failure to redeliver does not exceed $20,000, collectors of customs are hereby authorized to cancel the liability incurred without the collection of liquidated damages, provided the marking duty due under that section of the tariff act has been deposited, and the collector is satisfied that the importer was not guilty of negligence or bad faith in permitting the not-properly-marked articles to be distributed, has been diligent in attempting to secure compliance with the marking requirements, and has attempted by all reasonable means to effect redelivery.

§ 11.12 Labeling of wool products to indicate fiber content.

(a) Wool products imported into the United States, except those made more than 20 years prior to importation, and except carpets, rugs, mats, and upholsteries, shall have affixed thereto a stamp, tag, label, or other means of identification, as required by the Wool Products Labeling Act of 1939 (54 Stat. 1129; 15 U.S.C. 68 et seq) and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder by the Federal Trade Commission (16 CFR Part 300). The term "wool product" means any product, or any portion of a product, which contains, purports to contain, or in any way is represented as containing wool, reprocessed wool, or reused wool.

(b) If imported wool products are not correctly labeled and the collector is satisfied that the error or omission involved no fraud or willful neglect, the importer shall be afforded a reasonable opportunity to label the merchandise under customs supervision to conform with the requirements of such act and the rules and regulations of the Federal Trade Commission. The compensation and expenses of customs officers and employees assigned to supervise the labeling shall be reimbursed to the Government and shall be assessed in the same manner as in the case of marking of country of origin, § 11.8 (m).

(c) Packages of wool products subject to the provisions of this section which

[8] "Whenever an article is excepted under subdivision (3) of subsection (a) of this section from the requirements of marking, the immediate container, if any, of such article, or such other container or containers of such article as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, shall be marked in such manner as to indicate to an ultimate purchaser in the United States the English name of the country of origin of such article, subject to all provisions of this section, including the same exceptions as are applicable to articles under subdivision (3) of subsection (a). If articles are excepted from marking requirements under clause (F), (G), or (H) of subdivision (3) of subsection (a) of this section, their usual containers shall not be subject to the marking requirements of this section. Such duty shall be levied, collected, and paid in addition to any other duty imposed by law and whether or not the article is exempt from the payment of ordinary customs duties. * * *" (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 304 (c), as amended; 19 U. (d) The collector of customs shall give written notice to the importer of any lack of compliance with the Wool Products Labeling Act of 1939 in respect of an importation of wool products, and pursuant to § 8.26 (a) of this chapter shall demand the immediate return of the involved products to customs custody, unless the lack of compliance is forthwith corrected.

(e) If the products covered by a notice and demand given pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section are not promptly returned to customs custody and the collector is not fully satisfied that they have been brought into compliance with the Wool Products Labeling Act of 1939, appropriate action shall be taken to effect the collection of liquidated damages in an amount equal to the entered value of the merchandise not redelivered, plus the estimated duty thereon as determined at the time of entry, unless the owner or consignee shall file with the appropriate customs officer an application for cancelation of the liability incurred under the bond upon the payment as liquidated damages of a lesser amount than the full amount of the liquidated damages incurred, or upon the basis of such other terms and conditions as the Secretary of the Treasury may deem sufficient. The application shall contain a full statement of the reasons for the requested cancellation and shall be in duplicate.

(f) If any fraudulent violation of the act with respect to imported articles comes to the attention of the collector of customs, the involved merchandise shall be placed under seizure, or a demand shall be made for the redelivery of the merchandise if it has been released from customs custody, and the case shall be reported to the Federal Trade Commission, Washington, D. C.

(a) Fur products imported into the United States shall have affixed thereto a label as required by section 4 of the Fur Products Labeling Act (15 U.S.C. 69b) and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder by the Federal Trade Commission (16 CFR 301.1–301.49). The term "fur product" means any article of wearing apparel made in whole or in part of fur or used fur; except that such term shall not include such articles as the Federal Trade Commission shall exempt by reason of the relatively small quantity or value of the fur or used fur contained therein.

(b) If imported fur products are not correctly labeled and the collector is satisfied that the error or omission involved no fraud or wilful neglect, the importer shall be afforded a reasonable opportunity to label the merchandise under customs supervision to conform with the requirements of such act and the rules and regulations of the Federal Trade Commission. The compensation and expenses of customs officers and employees assigned to supervise the labeling shall be reimbursed to the Government and shall be assessed in the same manner as in the case of marking of country of origin, § 11.8(m).

(c) Packages of fur products subject to the provisions of this section which are not designated for examination may be released pending examination of the designated packages, but only if there shall have been filed in connection with the entry the usual customs single entry or term bond in such amount as is prescribed for such bonds in §§ 25.3 and 25.4 of this chapter.

(d) The collector of customs shall give written notice to the importer of any lack of compliance with the Fur Products Labeling Act in respect of an importation of fur products, and pursuant to § 8.26 (a) of this chapter shall demand the immediate return of the involved products to customs custody, unless the lack of compliance is forthwith corrected.

(e) If the products covered by a notice and demand given pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section are not promptly returned to customs custody and the collector is not fully satisfied that they have been brought into compliance with the Fur Products Labeling Act, appropriate action shall be taken to effect the collection of liquidated damages in an amount equal to the entered value of the merchandise not redelivered, plus the estimated duty thereon as determined at the time of entry, unless the owner or consignee shall file with the appropriate customs officer an application for cancelation of the liability incurred under the bond upon the payment as liquidated damages of a lesser amount than the full amount of the liquidated damages incurred, or upon the basis of such other terms and conditions as the Secretary of the Treasury may deem sufficient. The application shall contain a full statement of the reasons for the requested cancelation and shall be in duplicate.

(f) If any fraudulent violation of the act with respect to imported articles comes to the attention of a collector of customs, the involved merchandise shall be placed under seizure, or a demand shall be made for the redelivery of the merchandise if it has been released from customs custody, and the case shall be reported to the Federal Trade Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

§ 11.12b Labeling textile fiber products.

(a) Textile fiber products imported into the United States shall be labeled or marked in accordance with the Textile Fiber Products Identification Act (15 U.S.C. 70–70k) and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder by the Federal Trade Commission (16 CFR Part 303) unless exempt from marking or labeling under section 12 of the Act (15 U.S.C. 70j). An invoice or other paper, containing the specified information may be used in lieu of a label where the textile product is not in the form intended for sale, delivery to, or for use by the ultimate consumer. Rule 31 of the Federal Trade Commission (16 CFR 303.31).

(b) If imported fiber products are not correctly labeled and the collector is satisfied that the error or omission involved no fraud or willful neglect, the importer shall be afforded a reaosnable opportunity to label the merchandise under customs supervision to conform with the requirements of such Act and the rules and regulations of the Federal Trade Commission. The compensation and expenses of customs officers and employees assigned to supervise the labeling shall be reimbursed to the Government and shall be assessed in the same manner as in the case of marking of country of origin, § 11.8(m).

(c) Packages of fiber products subject to the provisions of this section which are not designated for examination may be released pending examination of the designated packages, but only if there shall have been filed in connection with the entry the usual customs single entry or term bond in such amount as is prescribed for such bonds in § 25.4 of this chapter.

(d) The collector of customs shall give written notice to the importer of any lack of compliance with the Fiber Products Identification Act in respect of an importation of fiber products, and pursuant to § 8.26(a) of this chapter shall demand the immediate return of the involved products to customs custody, unless the lack of compliance is forthwith corrected.

(e) If the products covered by a notice and demand given pursuant to the preceding paragraph are not promptly returned to customs custody and the collector is not fully satisfied that they have been brought into compliance with the Fiber Products Identification Act, appropriate action shall be taken to effect the collection of liquidated damages in an amount equal to the entered value of the merchandise not redelivered, plus the estimated duty thereon as determined at the time of entry, unless the owner or consignee shall file with the appropriate customs officer an application for cancellation of the liability incurred under the bond upon the payment as liquidated damages of a lesser amount than the full amount of the liquidated damages incurred, or upon the basis of such other terms and conditions as the Secretary of the Treasury may deem sufficient. The application shall contain a full statement of the reasons for the requested cancellation and shall be in duplicate.

(f) If any willful or flagrant violation of the Act with respect to the importation of articles comes to the attention of a collector of customs, the involved merchandise shall be placed under seizure, or a demand shall be made for the redelivery of the merchandise if it has been released from customs custody, and the case shall be reported to the Federal Trade Commission, Washington 25, D.C.

(Sec. 501, 65 Stat. 290, secs. 2–12, 14, 72 Stat. 1717; 5 U.S.C. 140, 15 U.S.C. 70–70k)

§ 11.13 False designations of origin and false descriptions; false marking of articles of gold or silver.

(a) Articles which bear, or the containers of which bear, false designations of origin, or false descriptions or representations, including words or other symbols tending falsely to describe or represent the articles, are prohibited importation and shall be detained.[14]

[14] "It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, corporation, or association, being a manufacturer of or wholesale or retail dealer in gold or silver jewelry or gold ware, silver goods or silverware, * * * to import or export or cause to be imported into or exported from the United States for the purpose of selling or disposing of the same, * * * any article of merchandise manufactured after June 13, 1907, and made in whole or in part of gold or silver, or any alloy of either of said metals, and having stamped, branded, engraved, or printed thereon, or upon any tag, card, or label attached thereto, or upon any box, package, cover, or wrapper in which said article is incased or inclosed, any mark or word indicating or designed or intended to indicate that the gold or silver or alloy of either of said metals in such article is of a greater degree of fineness than the actual fineness or quality of such gold, silver, or alloy, according to the standards and subject to the qualifications set forth in sections 295 and 296." (15 U. S. C. 294; see also 15 U. S. C. 295–298)

"* * * no article of imported merchandise which * * * shall bear a name or mark calculated to induce the public to believe that the article is manufactured in the United States, or that it is manufactured in any foreign country or locality other than the country or locality in which it is in fact manufactured, shall be admitted to entry at any customhouse of the United States; * * *." (15 U. S. C. 1124)

"(a) Any person who shall affix, apply, or annex, or use in connection with any goods or services, or any container or containers for goods, a false designation of origin, or any false description or representation, including words or other symbols tending falsely to describe or represent the same, and shall cause such goods or services to enter into commerce, and any person who shall with knowledge of the falsity of such designation of origin or description or representation cause or procure the same to be transported or used in commerce or deliver the same to any carrier to be transported or used, shall be liable to a civil action by any person doing business in the locality falsely indicated as that of origin or in the region in which said locality is situated, or by any person who believes that he is or is likely to be damaged by the use of any such false description or representation.

"(b) Any goods marked or labeled in contravention of the provisions of this section shall not be imported into the United States or admitted to entry at any customhouse of the United States. The owner, importer, or consignee of goods refused entry at any customhouse under this section may have any recourse by protest or appeal that is given under the customs revenue laws or may have the remedy given by this Act in cases involving goods refused entry or seized." (15 U. S. C. 1125)

(b) Articles made in whole or in part of gold or silver or alloys thereof imported for sale by manufacturers or dealers which are marked or labeled in a manner indicating a greater degree of fineness than the actual fineness of the gold or silver or alloys thereof, and any plated or filled articles so imported which are marked or labeled to indicate the fineness of the gold or silver and are not also marked or labeled to indicate the plated or filled condition or are marked or labeled with the word "sterling" or the word "coin", are prohibited importation and shall be detained, and the facts shall be reported to the United States attorney.

(c) Whenever any articles are detained in accordance with the foregoing provisions of this section, and the case of any articles detained under paragraph (b) of this section the United States attorney has indicated that he does not intend to prosecute, the articles shall be seized and forfeited in the usual manner, except that, upon the filing of a petition therefor by the importer prior to final disposition of the articles, the collector may release the articles upon the condition that the prohibited marking be removed or obliterated or that the articles and containers be properly marked to indicate their origin, contents, or condition, or may permit the articles to be exported or destroyed under customs supervision, and without expense to the Government.

(d) Articles forfeited for violation of section 294, 1124, or 1125, title 15 and section 545, title 18, U. S. Code, may be disposed of in accordance with the procedure applicable to other customs forfeitures, but may not be released from customs custody except upon the removal by and at the expense of the party in interest of the prohibited marking by reason of which the articles were seized.

(Secs 1–5, 34 Stat. 260–262, secs. 42, 43, 60 Stat. 440, 441, sec. 1, 62 Stat. 716, sec. 618, 46 Stat. 757; 15 U. S. C. 294–298, 1124, 1125, 18 U.S.C. 545, 19 U.S.C. 1618)

TRADE-MARKS AND TRADE NAMES

§ 11.14 Trade-marks and trade names; prohibition of importation.

(a) The importation of merchandise of foreign or domestic manufacture is prohibited if such merchandise bears a mark or name which copies or simulates a trade-mark or trade name recorded in the Treasury Department under the Trade-Mark Act of February 20, 1905, or the Trade-Mark Act of July 5, 1946, unless such merchandise is imported by or for the account of, or with the written consent of, the owner of the protected trade-mark or trade name.[15] The prohibition does not apply to articles to which a copying or simulating mark has been applied, if such mark is removed or completely obliterated before importation. See § 11.17(b).[16]

[15] "(a) It shall be unlawful to import into the United States any merchandise of foreign manufacture if such merchandise, or the label, sign, print, package, wrapper, or receptacle, bears a trade mark owned by a citizen of, or by a corporation or association created or organized within, the United States, and registered in the Patent Office by a person domiciled in the United States, under the provisions of sections 81–109 of Title 15, and if a copy of the certificate of registration of such trade mark is filed with the Secretary of the Treasury, in the manner provided in section 106 of said Title 15, unless written consent of the owner of such trade mark is produced at the time of making entry.

"(b) Any such merchandise imported into the United States in violation of the provisions of this section shall be subject to seizure and forfeiture for violation of the customs laws.

"(c) Any person dealing in any such merchandise may be enjoined from dealing therein within the United States or may be required to export or destroy such merchandise or to remove or obliterate such trade mark and shall be liable for the same damages and profits provided for wrongful use of a trade mark, under the provisions of sections 81–109 of Title 15." (19 U.S.C. 1526.)

[16] Registration on the supplemental register or under the act of March 19, 1920, shall not be filed in the Department of the Treasury or be used to stop importations." (Sec. 28, 60 Stat. 436; 15 U.S.C. 1096)

(b) A mark or name (including a mark or name which is a genuine trade-mark or trade name in a foreign country) on an article of foreign manufacture identical with a trade-mark or trade name recorded under the trade-mark laws mentioned in paragraph (a) of this section, as well as a mark or name on an article of foreign or domestic manufacture counterfeiting such recorded trade-mark or trade name, or so resembling such recorded trade-mark or trade name as to be likely to cause confusion or mistake in the minds of the public or to deceive purchasers, shall be deemed to copy or simulate such name recorded under the above-mentioned trade-mark laws, as well as a mark or name on an article of foreign or domestic manufacture counterfeiting such recorded trade-mark or trade name, or so resembling such recorded trade-mark or trade name as to be likely to cause confusion or mistake in the minds of the public or to deceive purchasers, shall be deemed to copy or simulate such protected trade-mark or trade name. However, merchandise manufactured or sold in a foreign country under a trade-mark or trade name, which trade-mark is registered and recorded, or which trade name is recorded under the above-mentioned trade-mark laws, shall not be deemed to copy or simulate such United States trade-mark or trade name if such foreign trade-mark or trade name and such United States trade-mark or trade name are owned by the same person, partnership, association, or corporation.

§ 11.15 Trade-marks; recording;[16] change of ownership; renewal.

(a) To record a trade-mark with the Treasury Department, an application, which may be in the form of a letter, shall be addressed to the Commissioner of Customs, Washington 25, D.C., stating the name, residence, and citizenship of the owner or owners (if a partnership, the citizenship of each partner; if a corporation or association, the country or State within which it was organized or created), the name of the locality in which the goods are manufactured, and the name and address of each foreign person, partnership, association, or corporation using the trade-mark while acting as the principal or agent of the trade-mark owner. The application shall be accompanied by one certified copy of the original certificate of registration issued by the Commissioner of Patents in accordance with the Trade-Mark Act of February 20, 1905, or section 7 of the Trade-Mark Act of July 5, 1946, to which shall be attached one printed Patent Office facsimile of the statement and drawing covering the trade-mark; such of the documents mentioned in paragraph (b) or (c) of this section as may be required to show the ownership of the applicant, or renewal of the trade-mark; 500 uncertified facsimiles of the statement and drawing covering the trade-mark (which may be reproduced privately from a Patent Office facsimile) for distribution to all collectors of customs and appraisers of merchandise; and the fee of $75 prescribed by § 24.12 of this chapter. Checks or money orders in payment of the fee shall be made payable to the Head, Fiscal Section, Bureau of Customs.

(b) If ownership of a registered trade-mark is claimed by an applicant by virtue of an assignment of such trademark, the certification on the original certificate of registration required by paragraph (a) of this section must show the record title to be in the applicant. There shall be transmitted with the application for recording, in addition to the documents and information specified in paragraph (a) of this section, a statement as to the nature of the assignment, whether such assignment is qualified in any way, and whether or not the mark has been reassigned without recordation of the reassignment.

(c) If the application for recording is presented after the expiration of the period for which the certificate of registration or a renewal thereof was issued, the application shall be accompanied by a certified copy of a certificate of renewal from the United States Patent Office showing that the registration is in force. In order to continue to receive the protection of the trade-mark statutes with respect to imported merchandise, such a certified copy of each subsequent certificate of renewal shall be promptly filed with the Treasury Department.

§ 11.16 Trade names; recording.

To record the trade name (not a trade-mark) of a manufacturer or trader, an application, which may be in the form of a letter, shall be addressed to the Commissioner of Customs, Washington 25, D. C., stating the trade name, the name, residence, and citizenship of the owner or owners (if a partnership, the citizenship of each partner; if a corporation or association, the country or State within which it was organized or created), a description of the class or kind of merchandise to which the trade name is applied, the name of the locality in which the merchandise is manufactured and the name and address of each foreign person, partnership, association, or corporation using the trade name while acting as the principal or agent of the trade name owner. The application shall be accompanied by supporting evidence in the form of certificates by the owner or owners and by at least two other persons not associated with or related to the applicant but having actual knowledge of the facts showing that the applicant has used the trade name in connection with the class or kind of merchandise described in the application for a specified period of time, that the trade name is not identical with, or confusingly similar to, any other trade name or registered trade-mark used in connection with merchandise of such class or kind, and that the applicant has the sole and exclusive right to the use of such trade name in connection with merchandise of such class or kind, and by the fee of $75 prescribed by § 24.12 of this chapter. Checks or money orders in payment of the fee shall be made payable to the Head, Fiscal Section, Bureau of Customs.

§ 11.17 Detention; seizure; exportation; release.

(a) Merchandise which bears a mark or name copying or simulating a trade-mark or trade name entitled to the protection of section 27, Trade-Mark Act of February 20, 1905, or section 42, Trade-Mark Act of July 5, 1946,[19] if not imported by or for the account of, or with the appropriate written consent of, the owner of the United States trade-mark or trade name shall be detained for a period of 30 days from the date of notice to the importer that the merchandise is prohibited importation to permit the importer to secure the written consent of the owner of the trade-mark or trade name.

(b) Whenever merchandise is detained in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section and the importer indicates that he will not attempt to secure the written consent of the owner of the trade-mark or trade name to the importation of the merchandise, or such consent is not presented to the collector prior to the expiration of the 30-day period, the merchandise shall be seized and forfeited in the usual manner, except that, when a petition therefor is made by the importer prior to final disposition of the merchandise, the collector may release the merchandise upon the condition that the name, mark, or trade-mark be removed or obliterated prior to the release, or may permit the merchandise to be exported or destroyed under customs supervision and without expense to the Government. In the case of any such merchandise carried as baggage or otherwise by a person arriving in the United States, such petition may be made orally at the time of the customs examination and the collector may thereupon dispose of the merchandise under the above-mentioned conditions without a formal notice of detention or seizure.

(c) Merchandise forfeited for violation of any trade-mark law may be disposed of in accordance with the procedure applicable to other customs forfeitures, but only after removal or obliteration of the name, mark, or trade-mark by reason of which the goods were seized.

(d) If the violation is not discovered until after entry and deposit of estimated duty, the entry shall be endorsed with an appropriate notation, the duty refunded as an erroneous collection, and the merchandise disposed of in accordance with the provisions of paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section.

(Sec. 42, 60 Stat. 440; 15 U.S.C. 1124)

[19] "That no article of imported merchandise which shall copy or simulate the name of any domestic manufacture, or manufacturer, or trader, or of any manufacturer or trader located in any foreign country which, by treaty, convention, or law affords similar privileges to citizens of the United States, or which shall copy or simulate a trade-mark registered in accordance with the provisions of this act or shall bear a name or mark calculated to induce the public to believe that the article is manufactured in the United States, or that it is manufactured in any foreign country or locality other than the country or locality in which it is in fact manufactured, shall be admitted to entry at any customhouse of the United States; and, in order to aid the officers of the customs in enforcing this prohibition, any domestic manufacturer or trader, and any foreign manufacturer or trader, who is entitled under the provisions of a treaty, convention, declaration, or agreement between the United States and any foreign country to the advantages afforded by law to citizens of the United States in respect to trade-marks and commercial names, may require his name and residence, and the name of the locality in which his goods are manufactured, and a copy of the certificate of registration of his trade-mark, issued in accordance with the provisions of this act, to be recorded in books which shall be kept for this purpose in the Department of the Treasury, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe, and may furnish to the Department facsimiles of his name, the name of the locality in which his goods are manufactured, or of his registered trade-mark, and thereupon the Secretary of the Treasury shall cause one or more copies of the same to be transmitted to each collector or other proper officer or customs." (Sec. 42, Public No. 489, 79th Cong. See similar provision in Trade-Mark Act of February 20, 1905, sec. 27; 15 U. S. C. 106.)

The laws of the United States relating to patents, trade-marks, and copyrights have been extended to the Virgin Islands. (See 48 U. S. C. 1405q.)

COPYRIGHTS

§ 11.18 False notice of copyright.

(a) The importation of books, periodicals, newspapers, music, moving-picture films, and other articles which bear a false notice of copyright—that is, words indicating that they have been copyrighted in the United States when they have not in fact been so copyrighted—is prohibited.[20]

(b) All articles bearing a false notice of copyright (except when imported in the mails) shall be seized and forfeited. Such articles imported in the mails shall be returned to the postmaster for return to the sender as nondeliverable.

(Sec. 1, 61 Stat. 652, as amended; 17 U. S. C. 106–109)

[20] "The importation into the United States of any article bearing a false notice of copyright when there is no existing copyright thereon in the United States, or of any piratical copies of any work copyrighted in the United States, is prohibited." (17 U. S. C. 106)

The laws of the United States relating to patents, trade-marks, and copyrights have been extended to the Virgin Islands. (See 48 U. S. C. 1405q.)

§ 11.19 Recordation of copyrighted works.

(a) A person whose copyright claim has been registered in accordance with the provisions of the Copyright Act of July 30, 1947, as amended (17 U.S.C. 1–32),[21] or a person who claims copyright protection under section 9 (c) of that act, as amended (17 U. S. C. 9 (c)),[21a] by virtue of the Universal Copyright Convention, and has not registered a copyright claim, may secure to himself customs protection against importation of piratical copies of the copyrighted work in the following manner:

(1) In the case of books and other printed works which may be readily identified by title and name of the author, the copyright proprietor, or any person claiming actual or potential injury by reason of actual or contemplated importations of copies of such works, shall file in the Office of the Director, Customs Information Exchange, 201 Varick Street, New York 14, New York, a certificate of registration issued by the Copyright Office or, if copyright is claimed under section 9 (c) by virtue of the Universal Copyright Convention and no registration has been made, a statement setting forth the citizenship and domicile of the author at the time of publication, the date and place of publication, and a description of the work, including its title and the name of the author. There shall also be filed an application in duplicate for recordation of the copyrighted work, accompanied by 1,000 notices in the form indicated below, printed in 11-point Roman type on plain white cards of medium weight, size 3 x 5 inches, for distribution to customs field officers throughout the United States, including Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Hawaii, and Alaska, and the fee of $75 prescribed by § 24.12 of this chapter. Checks or money orders in payment of the fee shall be made payable to the Collector of Customs, New York, New York.

Copyright claimed under 17 U. S. C. 9 (c) and no claim registered ☐

(Name and address of copyright proprietor)

(2) In the case of copyrighted works not readily identifiable by title and author, application for recordation in the form of a letter shall be made to the Commissioner of Customs, Washington 25, D. C. Such application shall be accompanied by a certificate of registration issued by the Copyright Office, or, if copyright is claimed under section 9 (c) by virtue of the Universal Copyright Convention and no registration has been made, a statement setting forth the citizenship and domicile of the author at the time of publication, the date and place of publication, and a description of the work. There shall also be filed 500 photographic or other likenesses of the copyrighted work reproduced on paper 8 x 10½ inches in size, for distribution to all collectors of customs and appraisers of merchandise, accompanied by the fee of $75 prescribed by § 24.12 of this chapter. Checks or money orders in payment of the fee shall be made payable to the Head, Fiscal Section, Bureau of Customs.

(b) The following countries are parties to the Universal Copyright Convention:

§ 11.20 Piratical copies.

(a) Actual copies or substantial reproductions of legally copyrighted works produced and imported in contravention of the rights of the copyright proprietor shall be considered "piratical copies" within the meaning of the copyright act.

(b) Collectors shall not permit delivery of imported articles if representations are made that they are piratical copies and such representations are not denied by the importers, or if the collection in the event that it is held by the tor is satisfied that they do in fact constitute piratical copies.[22]

[21] "The Secretary of the Treasury and the Postmaster General are hereby empowered and required to make and enforce individually or jointly such rules and regulations as shall prevent the importation into the United States of articles prohibited importation by this title, and may require, as conditions precedent to exclusion of any work in which copyright is claimed, the copyright proprietor or any person claiming actual or potential injury by reason of actual or contemplated importations of copies of such work to file with the Post Office Department or the Treasury Department a certificate of the Register of Copyrights that the provisions of section 13 of this title have been fully complied with, and to give notice of such compliance to postmasters or to customs officers at the ports of entry in the United States in such form and accompanied by such exhibits as may be deemed necessary for the practical and efficient administration and enforcement of the provisions of sections 106 and 107 of this title." (17 U. S. C. 109)

[21a] (c) When the Universal Copyright Convention, signed at Geneva on September 6, 1952, shall be in force between the United States of America and the foreign state or nation of which such author is a citizen or subject, or in which the work was first published. Any work to which copyright is extended pursuant to this subsection shall be exempt from the following provisions of this title: (1) The requirement in section 1 (e) that a foreign state or nation must grant to United States citizens mechanical reproduction rights similar to those specified therein; (2) the obligatory deposit requirements of the first sentence of section 13; (3) the provisions of sections 14, 16, 17, and 18; (4) the import prohibitions of section 107, to the extent that they are related to the manufacturing requirements of section 16; and (5) the requirements of sections 19 and 20: Provided, however, That such exemptions shall apply only if from the time of first publication all the copies of the work published with the authority of the author or other copyright proprietor shall bear the symbol © accompanied by the name of the copyright proprietor and the year of first publication placed in such manner and location as to give reasonable notice of claim of copyright.

Upon the coming into force of the Universal Copyright Convention in a foreign state or nation as hereinbefore provided, every book or periodical of a citizen or subject thereof in which ad interim copyright was subsisting on the effective date of said coming into force shall have copyright for twenty-eight years from the date of first publication abroad without the necessity of complying with the further formalities specified in section 23 of this title.

The provisions of this subsection shall not be extended to works of an author who is a citizen of, or domiciled in the United States of America regardless of place of first publication, or to works first published in the United States. (17 U. S. C. 9 (c))

[22] "During the existence of the American copyright in any book the importation into the United States of any piractical copies thereof or any copies thereof (although authorized by the author or proprietor) which have not been produced in accordance with the manufacturing provisions specified in section 16 of this title, or any plates of the same not made from type set within the limits of the United States, or any copies thereof produced by lithographic or photo-engraving process not performed within the limits of the United States, in accordance with the provisions of section 16 is prohibited: Provided, however, That, except as regards piratical copies, such prohibition shall not apply:

"(a) To works in raised characters for the use of the blind;

"(b) To a foreign newspaper or magazine, although containing matter copyrighted in the United States printed or reprinted by authority of the copyright proprietor, unless such newspaper or magazine contains also copyright matter printed or reprinted without such authorization.

"(c) To the authorized edition of a book in a foreign language or languages of which only a translation into English has been copyrighted in this country.

"(d) To any book published abroad with the authorization of the author or copyright proprietor when imported under the circumstances stated in one of the four subdivisions following, that is to say:

"First. When imported, not more than one copy at one time, for individual use and not for sale; but such privilege of importation shall not extend to a foreign reprint of a book by an American author copyrighted in the United States.

"Second. When imported by the authority or for the use of the United States.

"Third. When imported, for use and not for sale, not more than one copy of any such book in any one invoice, in good faith by or for any society or institution incorporated for educational, literary, philosophical, scientific, or religious purposes or for the encouragement of the fine arts, or for any college,

(c) If the collector is not satisfied that an imported article is a piratical copy, and the importer files a statement denying that it is in fact a piratical copy and alleging that the detention of the article will result in a material depreciation of its value or loss or damage to him, the article shall be admitted to entry, unless a written demand for its exclusion is filed by the copyright proprietor or other party in interest setting forth that the imported article is a piratical copy of an article legally copyrighted in the United States, and unless there is also filed with the collector a good and sufficient bond conditioned to hold the importer or owner of such article harmless from any loss or damage resulting from its detention in the event that it is held by the Bureau not to be prohibited from importation under section 106 of the copyright act.

(d) Upon the filing of such demand and bond, the collector shall detain the article and shall fix a time at which the parties in interest may submit evidence to substantiate their respective claims, which evidence shall be reduced to writing at the expense of the parties in interest. The burden of proof that any article is in fact a piratical copy shall be upon the party making such claim.

(e) If the article is held by the Bureau to be a piratical copy, its seizure and forfeiture will be directed in accordance with section 108 of the copyright act,[23] and the bond will be returned to the copyright proprietor; but if the article is not so held, the collector will be directed to release it and transmit the bond to the importer.

§ 11.21 United States manufacturing requirements; copies not produced in accordance with 17 U.S.C. 16.[24]

(a) Copies of books or periodicals for which manufacture in the United States is required by 17 U.S.C. 16 may not be imported during the existence of the United States copyright, unless importation is permitted under 17 U. S. C. 107,[25] or unless protection was secured under 17 U. S. C. 9 (c) by virtue of the Universal Copyright Convention or an ad interim copyright was extended to the full term by the provisions of 17 U. S. C. 9 (c).

(b) Up to 1500 copies of a book or periodical covered by ad interim copyright, when imported pursuant to the quantitative exception in 17 U. S. C. 16, may be released upon compliance with usual customs requirements if there is presented in connection with the entry an "Import Statement" issued by the Register of Copyrights on Copyright Office Form C–100, and such copies are otherwise admissible. The reverse side of the statement shall be completely filled in by the customs officer concerned and mailed at once to the Register of Copyrights as directed in the form.

(c) When an ad interim copyright is extended to a full term copyright, as provided for in 17 U. S. C. 23, notice of such extension, together with the full-term registration number and the date thereof, shall be communicated by the copyright proprietor to the Commissioner of Customs, Washington 25, D. C., within 30 days after such date.

academy, school, or seminary of learning, or for any State, school, college, university, or free public library in the United States.

"Fourth. When such books form parts of libraries or collections purchased en bloc for the use of societies, institutions, or libraries designated in the foregoing paragraph, or form parts of the libraries or personal baggage belonging to persons or families arriving from foreign countries and are not intended for sale: Provided, That copies imported as above may not lawfully be used in any way to violate the rights of the proprietor of the American copyright or annual or limit the copyright protection secured by this title, and such unlawful use shall be deemed an infringement of copyright." (17 U.S.C. 107)

[23] "Any and all articles prohibited importation by this title which are brought into the United States from any foreign country (except in the mails) shall be seized and forfeited by like proceedings as those provided by law for the seizure and condemnation of property imported into the United States in violation of the customs revenue laws. Such articles when forfeited shall be destroyed in such manner as the Secretary of the Treasury or the court, as the case may be, shall direct: Provided, however, That all copies of authorized editions of copyright books imported in the mails or otherwise in violation of the provisions of this title may be exported and returned to the country of export whenever it is shown to the satisfaction of the Secretary of the Treasury, in a written application, that such importation does not involve willful negligence or fraud." (17 U. S. C. 108)

[24] Mechanical work to be done in United States. Of the printed book or periodical specified in section 5, subsections (a) and (b), of this title, except the original text of a book or periodical of foreign origin in a language or languages other than English, the text of all copies accorded protection under this title, except as below provided, shall be printed from type set within the limits of the United States, either by hand or by the aid of any kind of typesetting machine, or from plates made within the limits of the United States from type set therein, or, if the text be produced by lithographic process, or photoengraving process, then by a process wholly performed within the limits of the United States, and the printing of the text and binding of the said book shall be performed within the limits of the United States; which requirements shall extend also to the illustrations within a book consisting of printed text and illustrations produced by lithographic process, or photoengraving process, and also to separate lithographs or photoengravings, except where in either case the subjects represented are located in a foreign country and illustrate a scientific work or reproduce a work of art: Provided, however, That said requirements shall not apply to works in raised characters for the use of the blind, or to books or periodicals of foreign origin in a language or languages other than English, or to works printed or produced in the United States by any other process than those above specified in this section, or to copies of books or periodicals, first published abroad in the English language, imported into the United States within five years after first publication in a foreign state or nation up to the number of fifteen hundred copies of each such book or periodical if said copies shall contain notice of copyright in accordance with sections 10, 19, and 20 of this title and if ad interim copyright in said work shall have been obtained pursuant to section 22 of this title prior to the importation into the United States of any copy except those permitted by the provisions of section 107 of this title: Provided further, That the provisions of this section shall not affect the right of importation under the provisions of section 107 of this title. (17 U. S. C. 16)

[25] "During the existence of the American copyright in any book the importation into the United States of any piratical copies thereof or any copies thereof (although authorized by the author or proprietor) which have not been produced in accordance with the manufacturing provisions specified in section 16 of this title, or any plates of the same not made from type set within the limits of the United States, or any copies thereof produced by lithographic or photoengraving process not performed within the limits of the United States, in accordance with the provisions of section 16 is prohibited: Provided, however, That, except as regards piratical copies, such prohibition shall not apply:

"(a) To works in raised characters for the use of the blind;

"(b) To a foreign newspaper or magazine, although containing matter copyrighted in the United States printed or reprinted by authority of the copyright proprietor, unless such newspaper or magazine contains also copyright matter printed or reprinted without such authorization.

"(c) To the authorized edition of a book in a foreign language or languages of which only a translation into English has been copyrighted in this country.

"(d) To any book published abroad with the authorization of the author or copyright proprietor when imported under the circumstances stated in one of the four subdivisions following, that is to say:

"First. When imported, not more than one copy at one time, for individual use and not for sale; but such privilege of importation shall not extend to a foreign reprint of a book by an American author copyrighted in the United States.

"Second. When imported by the authority or for the use of the United States.

"Third. When imported, for use and not for sale, not more than one copy of any such book in any one invoice, in good faith by or for any society or institution incorporated for educational, literary, philosophical, scientific, or religious purposes or for the encouragement of the fine arts, or for any college, academy, school, or seminary of learning, or for any State, school, college, university, or free public library in the United States.

"Fourth. When such books form parts of libraries or collections purchased en bloc for the use of societies, institutions, or libraries designated in the foregoing paragraph, or form parts of the libraries or personal baggage belonging to persons or families arriving from foreign countries and are not intended for sale: Provided, That copies imported as above may not lawfully be used in any way to violate the rights of the proprietor of the American copyright or annual or limit the copyright protection secured by this title, and such unlawful use shall be deemed an infringement of copyright." FOODS, DRUGS, AND COSMETICS, ECONOMIC POISONS, AND CAUSTIC OR CORROSIVE SUBSTANCES

§ 12.1 Cooperation with certain agencies; joint regulations.

(a) The importation into the United States of food, drugs, devices, and cosmetics, as defined in section 201 (f), (g), (h), and (i) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act,[1] is governed by section 801 of said act and regulations issued under section 701(b) of said act.[2]

(b) The importation of insecticides and certain other economic poisons and devices is governed by section 10 of the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act of June 25, 1947 (7 U. S. C. Sup., 135h) and regulations issued thereunder.[3]

(c) The importation of dangerous caustic or corrosive substances, as defined in section 2 (a) of the Federal Caustic Poison Act,[4] is governed by section 5 of said act[5] and by regulations

[1] "(f) The term 'food' means (1) articles used for food or drink for man or other animals, (2) chewing gum, and (3) articles used for components of any such article.

"(g) The term 'drug' means (1) articles recognized in the official United States Pharmacopoeia, official Homeopathic Pharmacopoeia of the United States, or official National Formulary, or any supplement to any of them; and (2) articles intended for use in the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment, or prevention of disease in man or other animals; and (3) articles (other than food) intended to affect the structure or any function of the body of man or other animals; and (4) articles intended for use as a component of any article in clause (1), (2), or (3); but does not include devices or their components, parts, or accessories.

"(h) The term 'device' (except when used in paragraph (n) of this section and in sections 331 (i), 343 (f), 352 (c), and 362 (c)) means instruments, apparatus, and contrivances, including their components, parts, and accessories, intended (1) for use in the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment, or prevention of disease in man or other animals; or (2) to affect the structure or any function of the body of man or other animals.

"(i) The term 'cosmetic' means (1) articles intended to be rubbed, poured, sprinkled, or sprayed on, introduced into, or otherwise applied to the human body or any part thereof for cleansing, beautifying, promoting attractiveness, or altering the appearance, and (2) articles intended for use as a component of any such articles; except that such term shall not include soap." (21 U. S. C. 321 (f), (g), (h), and (i))

[2] See Appendix XI, Customs Regulations of 1943.

[3] See Appendix XI, Customs Regulations of 1943. The classes of articles covered by the act are defined in section 2 of the act (7 U. S. C. 135).

[4] "The term 'dangerous caustic or corrosive substance' means:

"(1) Hydrochloric acid and any preparation containing free or chemically unneutralized hydrochloric acid (HCl) in a concentration of 10 per centum or more;

"(2) Sulphuric acid and any preparation containing free or chemically unneutralized sulphuric acid (H_2SO_4) in a concentration of 10 per centum or more;

"(3) Nitric acid or any preparation containing free or chemically unneutralized nitric acid (HNO_3) in a concentration of 5 per centum or more;

"(4) Carbolic (C_6H_5OH), otherwise known as phenol, and any preparation containng carbolic acid in a concentration of 5 per centum or more;

"(5) Oxalic acid and any preparation containing free or chemically unneutralized oxalic acid ($H_2C_2O_4$) in a concentration of 10 per centum or more;

"(6) Any salt of oxalic acid and any preparation containing any such salt in a concentration of 10 per centum or more;

"(7) Acetic acid or any preparation containing free or chemically unneutralized acetic acid ($HC_2H_3O_2$) in a concentration of 20 per centum or more;

"(8) Hypochlorous acid, either free or combined, and any preparation containing the same in a concentration so as to yield 10 per centum or more by weight of available chlorine, excluding calx chlorinata, bleaching powder, and chloride of lime;

"(9) Potassium hydroxide and any preparation containing free or chemically unneutralized potassium hydroxide (KOH), including caustic potash and Vienna paste, in a concentration of 10 per centum or more;

"(10) Sodium hydroxide and any preparation containng free or chemically unneutralized sodium hydroxide (NaOH), including caustic soda and lye, in a concentration of 10 per centum or more;

"(11) Silver nitrate, sometimes known as lunar caustic, and any preparation containing silver nitrate ($AgNO_3$) in a concentration of 5 per centum or more; and

"(12) Ammonia water and any preparation containng free or chemically uncombined ammonia (NH_3), including ammonium hydroxide and 'hartshorn,' in a concentration of 5 per centum or more." (15 U. S. C. 402 (a))

[5] "(a) Whenever in the case of any dangerous caustic or corrosive substance being offered for importation the Secretary of Agriculture has reason to believe that such substance is being shipped in interstate or for-prescribed by the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare (21 CFR 285.20–285.32).

(d) Customs officers and employees shall perform such functions as are necessary or proper on their part to carry out the regulations referred to in paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of this section.

§ 12.2 Shippers' declarations.

The regulations referred to in § 12.1 (b) require that each invoice of economic poisons and devices be accompanied by a prescribed declaration of the shipper.

§ 12.3 Release under bond.

No food, drug, device, cosmetic, economic poison or device, or dangerous caustic or corrosive substance shall be released to the consignee prior to the report of examination by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare or the Department of Agriculture, as the case may be or a determination by the representatives of such agency or department that such examination is not necessary, except upon the giving of a bond on customs Form 7551, 7553, or other appropriate form containing a condition for the return to customs custody of the merchandise or any part thereof upon demand of the collector of customs at any time.

§ 12.4 Exportation.

Exportation of merchandise refused admission into the United States under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act, or the Federal Caustic Poison Act shall be under customs supervision in accordance with the regulations set forth in §§ 18.25 and 18.26 of this chapter.

§ 12.5 Shipment to other ports.

When imported merchandise subject to the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide and Rodenticide Act, or the Federal Caustic Poison Act is shipped to another port for reconditioning or exportation, such shipment shall be under a customs carrier's manifest, customs Form 7512, in the same manner as shipments in bond.

§ 12.6 Suspension of liquidation.

(a) The liquidation of each entry covering foods, drugs, devices, cosmetics, economic poisons or devices, or dangerous caustic or corrosive substances shall be suspended until it is determined whether admission of the merchandise into the United States is permitted under the law.

(b) In any case where the admission of such merchandise into the United States is refused and the merchandise is exported or destroyed under proper supervision, the merchandise is exempt from duty and any duties collected thereon shall be refunded. See §§ 8.49 (b) and 15.5 of this chapter.

(Sec. 558, 46 Stat. 744, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1558)

Milk and Cream

§ 12.7 Permits required for importation.

(a) Under the act of February 15, 1927 (44 Stat. 1101; 21 U. S. C. 141–149), commonly known as the Federal Import Milk Act, the importation into the United States of milk and cream is prohibited unless the person by whom such milk or cream is shipped or transported into the United States holds a valid permit from the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. Such permits become invalid at the end of one year unless applications for renewal are filed prior to the date of expiration.

(b) The regulations of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare under the said act[1] require that each container of milk or cream shipped or transported into the United States by a permittee shall have firmly attached thereto a tag showing in clear and legible type the product (raw milk, pasteurized milk, raw cream, or pasteurized cream) the permit number and the name and address of the shipper; except that in case of unit shipments consisting of milk only or cream only under one permit number, each container need not be so marked if the vehicle of transportation is sealed and tagged with the above-mentioned tag. In such case the tag is required to show, in addition to the other required information, the number of containers and the contents of each. Customs officers shall not permit the importation of any milk or cream that is not tagged in accordance with such regulations.

Meat and Meat-Food Products

§ 12.8 Inspection; bond; release.

(a) All imported meat, meat-food products,[2] horse meat and horse meat-food products offered for entry into the United States are subject to the regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Agriculture under section 306, Tariff Act of 1930.[3] Such meat, meat-food products, horse meat and horse meat-food products shall not be released from customs custody prior to inspection by an inspector of the Meat Inspection Division, Agricultural Research Service, except when authority is given by such inspector for inspection at the importer's premises or other place not under customs supervision. In such case a bond for the return to customs custody of the merchandise shall be given by the consignee or agent on customs Form 7551, 7553, or other appropriate form, and the conveyances or packages in which such merchandise is removed to the place of examination shall be sealed or corded and sealed by a eign commerce in violation of section 403 of this title, he shall give due notice and opportunity for hearing thereon to the owner or consignee and certify such fact to the Secretary of the Treasury, who shall thereupon (1) refuse admission and delivery to the consignee of such substance, or (2) deliver such substance to the consignee pending examination, hearing, and decision in the matter, on the execution of a penal bond to the amount of the full invoice value of such substance, together with the duty thereon, if any, and to the effect that on refusal to return such substance for any cause to the Secretary of the Treasury when demanded, for the purpose of excluding it from the country or for any other purpose, the consignee shall forfeit the full amount of the bond.

"(b) If, after proceeding in accordance with subdivision (a), the Secretary of Agriculture is satisfied that such substance being offered for importation was shipped in interstate or foreign commerce in violation of any provision of this chapter, he shall certify the fact to the Secretary of the Treasury, who shall thereupon notify the owner or consignee and cause the sale or other disposition of such substance refused admission and delivery or entered under bond, unless it is exported by the owner or consignee or labeled by him so as to conform to the law within three months from the date of such notice, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe. All charges for storage, cartage, or labor on any such substance refused admission or delivery or entered upon bond shall be paid by the owner or consignee. In default of such payment such charges shall constitute a lien against any future importations made by such owner or consignee." (15 U. S. C. 405)

[1] See Appendix XXI, Customs Regulations of 1943.

[2] The term "meat and meat-food products," for the purpose of this section, shall include any imported article of food or any imported article which enters or may enter into the composition of food for human consumption, which is derived or prepared in whole or in part from any portion of the carcass of any cattle, sheep, swine, or goat, if such portion is all or a considerable and definite portion of the article, except such articles as organotherapeutic substances, meat juice, meat extract, and the like, which are only for medicinal purposes and are advertised only to the medical profession.

[3] "(a) Rinderpest and foot-and-mouth disease. If the Secretary of Agriculture determines that rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease exists in any foreign country, he shall officially notify the Secretary of the Treasury and give public notice thereof, and thereafter, and until the Secretary of Agriculture gives notice in a similar manner that such disease no longer exists in such foreign country the importation into the United States * * * of fresh, chilled, or frozen beef, veal, mutton, lamb, or pork, from such foreign country, is prohibited.

"(b) Meats unfit for human food. No meat of any kind shall be imported into the United States unless such meat is healthful, wholesome, and fit for human food and contains no dye, chemical, preservative, or ingredient which renders such meat unhealthful, unwholesome, or unfit for human food, and unless such meat also complies with the rules and regulations made by the Secretary of Agriculture. All imported meats shall, after entry into the United States in compliance with such rules and regulations, be deemed and treated as domestic meats within the meaning of and subject to the provisions of the Act of June 30, 1906 (Thirty-fourth Statutes at Large, page 674), commonly called the 'Meat Inspection Amendment,' and the Act of June 30, 1906 (Thirty-fourth Statutes at Large, page 766) commonly called the 'Food and Drugs Act,' and acts amendatory of, supplementary to, or in substitution for such Acts.

"(c) Regulations. The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized to make rules and regulations to carry out the purposes of this section, and in such rules and regulations the Secretary of Agriculture may prescribe the terms and conditions for the destruction of all cattle, sheep, and other domestic ruminants, and swine, and of all meats, offered for entry and refused admission into the United States, unless such cattle, sheep, domestic ruminants, swine, or meats be exported by the consignee within the time fixed therefor in such rules and regulations." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec 306; 19 U. S. C. 1306) customs officer or an inspector of the Meat Inspection Division, Agricultural Research Service, with import-meat seals furnished by the Department of Agriculture unless bearing United States customs seals, or in the case of packages otherwise identified as provided for in this section. When cording is necessary for proper sealing, the cords shall be furnished and affixed by the importer or his agent. Import-meat seals or cords and seals may be broken only by a customs officer or inspector of the Meat Inspection Division, Agricultural Research Service.

In lieu of cording and sealing packages, the carrier or importer may furnish and attach to each package of product a warning notice on bright yellow paper, not less than 5 by 8 inches in size, containing the following legend in black type of a conspicuous size:

(Name of Truck Line or Carrier)

NOTICE

This package of meat or meat product must be delivered intact to an inspector of the Meat Inspection Division, U.S. Department of Agriculture.

WARNING

Failure to comply with these instructions will result in penalty action being taken against the holder of the Customs entry bond.

If the product is found to be acceptable upon inspection the package will be marked "U.S. Inspected and Passed" and this warning notice defaced.

(b) Liquidated damages assessed for breach of bonds taken under this section, if not in excess of $20,000, and if a written application for relief is filed, may be canceled by the collector of customs upon the payment of less than the full amount as he shall deem appropriate, or without the payment of any amount, as may be deemed appropriate, but the collector shall not act under this paragraph unless the officer in charge of the local office of the Meat Inspection Division, Agricultural Research Service, Department of Agriculture, is in full agreement with the proposed action. If there is no local inspector of the Meat Inspection Division, the collector shall not act unless he has obtained the full agreement of the Meat Inspection Division in Washington.

§ 12.9 Release for final delivery to consignee.

No meat, meat-food products, or animal casings shall be released for final delivery to the consignee until the collector of customs is advised by the Department of Agriculture, or its representative, that the merchandise is admissible.

Plants and Plant Products

§ 12.10 Regulations and orders of the Departure of Agriculture.

The importation into the United States of plants and plant products is subject to regulations and orders of the Department of Agriculture restricting or prohibiting the importation of such plants and plant products. Customs officers and employees shall perform such functions as are necessary or proper on their part to carry out such regulations and orders of the Department of Agriculture and the provisions of law under which they are made.

(Secs. 1–9, 11, 37 Stat. 315, as amended, 316, 317, 318, as amended, 319, 37 Stat. 854; 7 U.S.C. 151–162)

§ 12.11 Requirements for entry and release.

(a) The importer or his representative shall submit to the collector at the port of first arrival, for each entry of plants or plant products requiring a plant quarantine permit, a notice of arrival for any type of entry except rewarehouse and informal mail entries. Such notice shall be on a form provided for the purpose by the Department of Agriculture. The collector at the port of arrival shall compare the notice of arrival which he receives from the importer or his representative with the shipping documents, certify its agreement therewith, and transmit it, together with any accompanying certificates or other documents pertaining to the sanitary status of the shipment, to the Department of Agriculture. The merchandise may not be moved, stored, or otherwise disposed of until the notice of arrival has been submitted and release for the intended purpose has been authorized by an inspector of the Plant Quarantine Division, Agricultural Research Service.

(b) Where plant or plant products are shipped from the port of first arrival to another port or place for inspection or other treatment by a representative of the Plant Quarantine Division and all customs requirements for the release of the merchandise have been met, the merchandise shall be forwarded under a special manifest (customs Form 7512) and in-bond labels or customs seals to the representative of the Plant Quarantine Division at the place at which the inspection or other treatment is to take place. No further release by the collector of customs shall be required.

§ 12.12 Release under bond.

Plants or plant products which require fumigation, disinfection, sterilization, or other treatment as a condition of entry may be released to the permittee for treatment at a plant approved by the Department of Agriculture upon the giving of a bond on customs Form 7551, 7553, or other appropriate form to insure that the merchandise is treated under the supervision and to the satisfaction of an inspector of the Department of Agriculture or returned to customs custody when demanded by the collector of customs.

§ 12.13 Unclaimed shipments.

(a) If plants or plant products enterable into the United States under the rules and regulations promulgated by the Secretary of Agriculture are unclaimed, they may be sold subject to the provisions of §§ 20.5 and 20.6 of this chapter to any person to whom a permit has been issued who can comply with the requirements of the regulations governing the material involved.

(b) Unclaimed plants and plant products not complying with the requirements mentioned in this section shall be destroyed, by burning or otherwise, under customs supervision.

§ 12.14 Detention.

(a) Collectors of customs shall refuse release of all plants or plant products with respect to which a notice of prohibition has been promulgated by the Secretary of Agriculture under any of the various quarantines. If an importer refuses to export a prohibited shipment immediately, the collector shall report the facts to the Plant Quarantine Division and the United States attorney and withhold delivery pending advice from that Bureau.

(b) In case of doubt as to whether any plant or plant product is prohibited, the collector shall detain it pending advice from the Department of Agriculture.

§ 12.15 Disposition; refund of duty.

Plants or plant products which are prohibited admission into the United States under Federal law or regulations and are exported or destroyed under proper supervision are exempt from duty and any duties collected thereon shall be refunded. (See §§ 8.49(b) and 15.5 of this chapter.)

(Sec. 558, 46 Stat. 744, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1558)

Agricultural and Vegetable Seeds

§ 12.16 Joint regulations of the Secretary of the Treasury and the Secretary of Agriculture.

(a) The importation into the United States of agricultural and vegetable seeds and screenings thereof is governed by rules and regulations prescribed jointly by the Secretary of the Treasury and the Secretary of Agriculture under section 402(b) of the Federal Seed Act of August 9, 1939.[4]

(b) Under the said joint rules and regulations, collectors of customs are required to draw samples of such seeds and screenings, forward them to the seed laboratories, and notify the owner or consignee that such samples have been drawn and that the shipment shall be held intact pending a decision of the Grain Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, in the matter.

(c) It is further provided in said joint rules and regulations that after samples have been drawn such seeds and screenings shall be admitted into the commerce of the United States only if they have been found to meet the requirements of the Federal Seed Act of August 9, 1939, and the said regulations, but if the containers bear sufficient marks of identification the collector of customs may release the shipment, pending examination and decision in the matter, upon the giving of a bond conditioned upon the return to customs custody of the seed or screenings or any part thereof upon demand of the collector of customs at any time. Such bond shall be on customs Form 7551, 7553, or other appropriate form, and shall be filed with the collector of customs who, in case of default, shall take appropriate action to effect the collection of the liquidated damages equal to the invoice value of the entire shipment plus the estimated duty thereof, if any.

(Sec. 402 (b), 53 Stat. 1285; 7 U. S. C. 1592(b))

VIRUSES, SERUMS, AND TOXINS FOR TREATMENT OF DOMESTIC ANIMALS

§ 12.17 Importation restricted.

The importation into the United States of viruses, serums, toxins, and analogous products for use in the treatment of domestic animals is prohibited[9a] unless the importer holds a permit from the Department of Agriculture covering the specific product. The collector of customs shall notify the Animal Inspection and Quarantine Division, Agricultural Research Service, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C., of the arrival of any such product, and detain it until he shall receive notice from that Department that a permit to import the shipment has been issued.

§ 12.18 Labels.

Each separate container of such virus, serum, toxin, or analogous product imported is required by the regulations of the Department of Agriculture to bear the true name of the product and the permit number assigned by the Department of Agriculture in the following form: "U.S. Veterinary Permit No. --------," or an abbreviation thereof authorized by the Animal Inspection and Quarantine Division, Agricultural Research Service. Each separate container also shall bear a serial number affixed by the manufacturer for identification of the product with the records of preparation thereof, together with a return date.

§ 12.19 Detention; samples.

(a) The collector of customs shall detain all shipments of such products for which no permit to import has been issued pending instructions from the Department of Agriculture.

(b) Samples shall be furnished to the Department of Agriculture upon its request, and the collector shall immediately notify the consignee of any such request.

[9a] See Appendix XVII, Customs Regulations of 1943.

§ 12.20 Disposition.

Viruses, serums, or toxins rejected by the Department of Agriculture shall be released by the collector to that Department for destruction, or exported under customs supervision at the expense of the importer if exportation is authorized by the Department of Agriculture.

VIRUSES, SERUMS, TOXINS, ANTITOXINS, AND ANALOGOUS PRODUCTS FOR THE TREATMENT OF MAN

§ 12.21 Licensed establishments.

The bringing into the United States for sale, barter, or exchange of any virus, therapeutic serum, toxin, antitoxin, or analogous product applicable to the prevention and cure of diseases of man is prohibited unless such virus, serum, toxin, antitoxin, or product has been propagated and prepared at an establishment holding an unsuspended and unrevoked license for such propagation.[10]

(Sec. 351, 58 Stat. 702; 42 U.S.C. 262)

§ 12.22 Labels; samples.

Each package of such products imported for sale, barter, or exchange shall be labeled or plainly marked with the name of the article, the name, address, and license number of the manufacturer, and the date beyond which the contents cannot be expected to yield their specific results. Samples of the same lot or laboratory number shall accompany each importation for sale, barter, or exchange, and such samples shall be forwarded by the collector of customs to the National Institute of Health of the United States Public Health Service at Washington, D. C.

(Sec. 351, 58 Stat. 702; 42 U.S.C. 262)

§ 12.23 Detention; examination; disposition.

(a) Collectors of customs shall detain all importations of viruses, serums, toxins, antitoxins, and analogous products for the treatment of the diseases of man pending examination by the National Institute of Health, unless satisfied from evidence furnished at the time of entry, in the form of an affidavit or otherwise, that the products are not intended for sale, barter, or exchange.

[10] See Appendix XVII, Customs Regulations of 1943.

(b) If the shipment is imported for sale, barter, or exchange and is found by the National Institute of Health to be admissible, the collector shall release it upon receipt of a report from the Public Health Service that the article is admissible.

(c) If the Public Health Service reports that the article was found upon examination not to conform to the law and the regulations, the collector shall not release it but shall permit the exportation or destruction thereof under customs supervision at the option of the importer.

(Sec. 351, 58 Stat. 702; 42 U.S.C. 262)

DOMESTIC ANIMALS, ANIMAL PRODUCTS, AND ANIMAL FEEDING MATERIALS

§ 12.24 Regulations of the Department of Agriculture.

(a) The importation into the United States of domestic animals, animal products, and animal feeding materials is subject to inspection and quarantine regulations of the Department of Agriculture,[11] Customs officers and employees are authorized and directed to perform such functions as are necessary or proper on their part to carry out such regulations of the Department of Agriculture.

(b) Inspection by an inspector of the Animal Inspection and Quarantine Division, Agricultural Research Service, is required for all horses, cattle, sheep, other ruminants, and swine as a prerequisite to their entry from any foreign country. Orders listing the ports designated as quarantine stations for the inspection and quarantine of animals will be issued by the Secretary of Agriculture, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, whenever conditions warrant.

(c) The entry of domestic animals may be made, but shall not be required, before the expiration of the quarantine period. Such animals, if not entered at the time of arrival, shall be considered as under general order while under quarantine and shall not be released except upon notice from the collector of customs that the importer has complied with all the requirements for entry.

[11] See Appendix XII, Customs Regulations of 1943, and BAI orders published from time to time in the weekly Treasury Decisions.

WILD ANIMALS, BIRDS, AND INSECTS

§ 12.26 Importations of wild animals or birds; certain species prohibited; permits required.

(a) The importation into the United States or any territory or district thereof of the mongoose (Herpestes auropunctatus), the so-called "flying foxes" or fruit bats (all species of Genus Pteropus), the English sparrow (Passer domesticus), the starling (Sturnus vulgaris), and such other birds and animals as the Secretary of the Interior may from time to time declare to be injurious to the interests of agriculture or horticulture, is prohibited.[12] If any such bird

[12] "(a) The importation into the United States or any Territory or district thereof, of the mongoose, the so-called 'flying foxes' or fruit bats, the English sparrow, the starling, and such other birds and animals as the Secretary of the Interior may declare to be injurious to the interests of agriculture or horticulture, is prohibited; and all such birds and animals shall, upon arrival at any port of the United States, be destroyed or returned at the expense of the owner. Nothing in this subsection shall restrict the importation of natural-history specimens for museums or scientific collections, or of certain cage birds, such as domesticated canaries, parrots, or such other birds as the Secretary of the Interior may designate. The Secretary of the Treasury may make regulations for carrying into effect the provisions of this section.

"(b) Whoever violates this section shall be fined not more than $500 or imprisoned not more than six months, or both.

"(c) The Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe such requirements and issue such permits as he may deem necessary for the transportation of wild animals and birds under humane and healthful conditions, and it shall be unlawful for any person, including any importer, knowingly to cause or permit any wild animal or bird to be transported to the United States, or any Territory or district thereof, under inhumane or unhealthful conditions or in violation of such requirements. In any criminal prosecution for violation of this subsection and in any administrative proceeding for the suspension of the issuance of further permits—

"(1) The condition of any vessel or conveyance, or the enclosures in which wild animals or birds are confined therein, upon its arrival in the United States, or any Territory or district thereof, shall constitute relevant evidence in determining whether the provisions of this subsection have been violated; and

"(2) The presence in such vessel or conveyance at such time of a substantial ratio or animal is imported, release thereof to the importer shall be refused and immediate exportation or destruction shall be required. The species of birds and animals declared by the Secretary of the Interior to be injurious to agriculture or horticulture are published in 50 CFR 9.1.[12a]

(1) Bird species of the genus Acridotheres classified as (i) tristis (commonly known as Common Myna, Indian Myna, or Common Ceylon Myna); (ii) cristatellus (sometimes referred to as Acridotheres grandis or Acridotheres fuscus and commonly known as Chinese crested Myna, Siamese Yellow-billed Jungle Myna, Assam Yellow-billed Myna, Indian Jungle Myna, Jungle Myna, Malay Jungle Myna, and Buffalo Myna); (iii) gingianus (commonly known as Bank Myna); (iv) albocinctus (commonly known as Collared Myna) are prohibited importation under 50 CFR 9.1 (a), except for scientific purposes under permits issued by the Director, Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior, or for exhibition in public zoological parks.

(2) All other wild birds are prohibited importation under 50 CFR 9.1 (b), except:

(i) Game birds imported for propagating, stocking, or scientific purposes, or for exhibition in zoological parks.

(ii) Non-game birds (other than those listed in paragraph (a) (1) of this section) for scientific purposes, exhibition in public zoological parks, confinement in cages or otherwise, or for introduction by State or Territorial wildlife conservation agencies when such agencies have obtained written permission from the Director, Fish and Wildlife Service.

(3) European rabbits (Lepus cuniculus) and European hares (Lepus europaeus) are prohibited importation under 50 CFR 9.1 (c), unless imported for fur farming or other agricultural purposes or for scientific purposes and such animals are to be kept in confinement.

(4) If any of the birds or animals referred to in the preceding three subparagraphs are imported for the purposes permitted, the importer and, in the case of a zoological park, the director or other principal officer thereof, shall file a declaration with the collector of customs stating the purpose of the importation and, in the case of non-game birds, rabbits, and hares, that such birds and animals will be kept in confinement.

(b) No permit is required for the importation of live wild animals and birds, except as follows:

(1) Wild birds protected by the Migratory Bird Treaty Act (16 U. S. C. 703–711) and the regulations promulgated thereunder (50 CFR Part 6), may be imported from foreign countries for scientific, propagating, or other limited purposes only under permits issued by Fish and Wildlife Service, United States Department of the Interior, Washington 25, D. C. No such permit is required of State or municipal game farms or city parks to import live migratory waterfowl. Public museums, zoological parks and societies, and public scientific and educational institutions may import migratory birds without a permit. Such migratory birds, when imported from Mexico, must be accompanied by Mexican export permits (50 CFR 6.8).

(2) Game mammals (antelope, mountain sheep, deer, bears, peccaries, squirrels, rabbits, and hares), protected by the Migratory Bird Treaty Act (16 U. S. C. 703–711), when imported from Mexico, must be accompanied by Mexican export permits. (50 CFR 16.7 (b).)

(3) Wild ruminants (all animals which chew the cud, such as cattle, buffaloes, sheep, goats, deer antelopes, camels, llamas, and giraffes) and swine (various varieties of wild hogs), except from Canada and certain northern States of Mexico may be imported only under a permit from the Animal Inspection and Quarantine Division, Agricultural Research Service, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D.C. Such permits must be obtained before the animals are shipped from the country of exportation.[13] All wild ruminants and swine must be inspected at designated ports of entry by veterinarians of the Animal Inspection and Quarantine Division, Agricultural Research Service, United States Department of Agriculture.

(4) Psittacine birds, which include all birds commonly known as parrots, Amazons, African grays cockatoos, macaws, parrakeets, lovebirds, lories, lorikeets, and all other birds of the order Psittaciformes, when destined for a zoological park or medical research institution, or psittacine birds taken out of the United States but which are not admissable under paragraph (c) of this section, may be imported only under a permit from the Surgeon General (Division of Foreign Quarantine), United States Public Health Service, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Washington 25, D. C. Such permits must be obtained prior to importation.[13a]

(5) Ducks, geese, swans, turkeys, pigeons, doves, pheasants, grouse, partridges, quail, guinea fowl, and pea fowl, except from Canada, may be imported only under a permit from the Animal Inspection and Quarantine Division, Agricultural Research Service, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D.C.[13] Such permits must be obtained before the birds are shipped from the country of origin. Such birds from Canada must be accompanied by a certificate issued by a Canadian Government veterinarian. All such birds must be inspected at designated ports of entry by veterinarians of the Animal Inspection and Quarantine Division, Agricultural Research Service, United States Department of Agriculture.

(c) Parrots and all other birds of the order Psittaciformes, when not exceeding two in number, may be imported by the owner under certain conditions and upon compliance with the Foreign Quarantine Regulations of the United States Public Health Service.[13a] This provision also covers such birds taken out of the United States and returned to this country. However, a permit is necessary when three or more such birds are to be taken out of the United States and returned at a later date. A permit is also required in the case of one or two birds taken out of the country for subsequent return, if such birds were purchased within 4 months before their exportation. Such birds shall not be released until the Public Health regulations are complied with by the importer.

(d) Cats, dogs, and monkeys are subject to the Foreign Quarantine Regulations of the United States Public Health Service, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Washington, D. C.[13b] Such animals shall not be released until the Public Health regulations are complied with by the importer.

(e) If a shipment contains migratory birds for which a permit is required by the Fish and Wildlife Service of the Department of the Interior, and such permit is not at hand when the birds arrive, an examination thereof shall be made at once by the examiner and any duties estimated to be due shall be collected. A stipulation shall be filed with the collector within 24 hours of the entry to produce the necessary permit within 30 days from the date of entry, whereupon final liquidation shall be suspended until the permit is produced or the 30-day period expires. Meanwhile, the property may be released to the importer, consignee, or agent for proper care upon the giving of a bond conditioned upon the return of the birds to customs custody upon demand of the collector of customs at any time. Such bond shall be on customs Form 7551, 7553, or other appropriate form in an amount equal to the sum of the entered value plus any estimated duties and shall be filed with the collector of customs who, in the case of default, shall take appropriate action to effect the collection of liquidated damages equal to the entered value of the merchandise not returned plus any estimated duty thereon; or if the importer, consignee, or agent shall so elect, the property may be retained in customs custody at the expense of the importer pending the issuance of the permit.

(f) If the permit referred to in paragraph (e) of this section is refused by the Fish and Wildlife Service, or if the permit is not produced within the said 30 days, the collector shall promptly recall the property, if delivered under bond, and shall require its immediate exportation at the expense of the importer or consignee.

(g) In case of doubt as to whether the animals or birds belong to prohibited species, or of suspicion on the part of the officers of the customs that the species sought to be entered are proof dead, crippled, diseased, or starving wild animals or birds shall be deemed prima facie evidence of the violation of the provisions of this subsection." (18 U. S. C. 42) hibited animals or birds imported under other names, such animals or birds shall be retained in customs custody at the expense and risk of the importer pending the determination of the true nature of the species, to the satisfaction of the collector. Where there is doubt as to whether a shipment may contain species declared prohibited by the Secretary of the Interior under 18 U. S. C. 42 or migratory birds coming under the jurisdiction of his Department, such species shall be examined by a special inspector of the Department of the Interior. In case of refusal or neglect of the importer, consignee, or agent to have the identity so established, release of the importation shall be refused and immediate exportation required.

(h) All invoices of animals and birds shall specify the species covered thereby and the number of each species. In the event of the return to the collector of any importation under the bond given under paragraph (e) of this section, if the number and species of birds does not correspond with the description stated in the invoice and if no satisfactory explanation of any discrepancy is furnished, the bond shall be forfeited.

(i) The privilege of entry for immediate transportation granted by section 552, Tariff Act of 1930, shall not be allowed for animals or birds the importation of which is prohibited or which require permits issued prior to their importation or are subject to quarantine regulations at the port of first arrival or at a designated port (see paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section).

(j) Wild animals and birds shall be imported under humane and healthful conditions, due regard being given to the accommodations and facilities necessary for the species transported.

(k) When any customs officer has good reason to believe that wild animals or birds have been imported under inhumane or unhealthful conditions in violation of 18 U. S. C. 42, an immediate investigation shall be made to ascertain whether they have in fact been transported under such conditions. The investigation shall determine the provisions made on the vessel or other conveyance for the accommodation of the animals or birds, the suitability of the boxes, cages, stalls, etc., the space, ventilation, and protection from the elements accorded the animals or birds, the facilities for cleaning, feeding, watering, bedding, and such other services as may be required for the species imported. The investigation shall also determine the physical condition of such animals or birds and the ratio of dead, crippled, diseased, or starving animals or birds. If necessary, officers of the Animal Inspection and Quarantine Division, Agricultural Research Service, or Fish and Wildlife Service, or other officers or experts, may be called upon to assist customs officers in the matter.

(l) Unless the collector of customs is satisfied that the provisions of 18 U. S. C. 42 have not been violated, he shall report the matter to the United States attorney for appropriate action.

(Sec. 1, 62 Stat. 687, as amended; 18 U. S. C. 42)

§ 12.27 Importation or exportation of wild animals or birds, or the dead bodies thereof illegally captured or killed, etc.

Certain statutory provisions prohibit or restrict the importation or exportation of wild animals or birds, or the dead bodies thereof, or the eggs or such birds, killed, captured, taken, transported, etc., contrary to law.[14] Customs officers shall perform all duties required of them under such laws.

§ 12.28 Importation of wild mammals and birds in violation of foreign law.

(a) No imported wild mammal or bird, or part or product thereof, shall be released from customs custody under bond or otherwise if the collector has knowledge of a foreign law or regulation that brings the importation within the purview of section 527 (a), Tariff Act of 1930,[15] unless it is accompanied by the required consular certificate or entitled to entry under the provisions of section 527 (c) of the tariff act.

(b) When the collector seizes articles for violation of such section 527, he shall proceed under the provisions of the tariff act applicable to seizure and forfeiture of merchandise valued at less than $2,500, except that perishable articles or canned-food articles shall be destroyed if the importer assents in writing to the forfeiture, or, if the importer does not assent to the forfeiture, such articles shall be sent to a cold-storage warehouse at the expense of the importer pending instructions from the Bureau as to their disposition.

NOTE: T. D. 50950, Oct. 23, 1943, 8 F. R. 14603, provides in part as follows:

The Bureau has ascertained from reliable sources of information that South American alpacas are domesticated, and not wild animals.

Accordingly, since section 527 of the Tariff Act of 1930 refers only to wild mammals and birds, T. D. 50260, as amended by T. D. 50329, is hereby further amended so as to exclude from its operation live alpacas from Bolivia.

§ 12.29 Plumage and eggs of wild birds.

(a) The provisions of paragraph 1518, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[16] relating to the plumage of any bird, apply to all such plumage, whether imported separately or upon the bird itself, except (1) the feathers of birds specifically excepted by said paragraph 1518, (2) plumage imported for scientific or educational purposes, (3) fully-manufactured artificial flies used for fishing, (4) plumage on game birds killed in foreign countries by residents of the United States and not imported for sale or other commercial purposes, and (5) plumage on live wild birds.

(b) The feathers or skins of certain birds may be imported for use in the manufacture of artificial flies used for fishing or for millinery purposes only under a permit issued by the Fish and Wildlife Service, United States Department of Interior, Washington 25, D. C.[16a] No feathers or skins of the species provided for by paragraph 1518 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, shall be permitted to be entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption, unless the requisite permit is presented with the entry or withdrawal.

(c) The eggs of game birds may be entered for propagating purposes upon the filing of a declaration with the collector of customs that they are being imported for propagation and will be so used.[16a] The eggs of migratory birds may be imported for propagating purposes under permits issued by the Fish and Wildlife Service, United States Department of the Interior, Washington 25, D. C. Eggs of migratory birds may also be imported under permits issued by the Fish and Wildlife Service for scientific and other limited purposes. Public museums, zoological parks and societies, and public scientific and educational institutions may import the eggs of migratory birds without a permit. (See 50 CFR 10.8.) The eggs of certain game or migratory birds imported for hatching, such as ducks, geese, swans, turkeys, pigeons, doves, pheasants, grouse, partridges, quail, guinea fowl, and pea fowl, are subject to the regulations of the Animal Inspection and Quarantine Division, Agricultural Research Service, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D.C.[16b] Such regulations require that permits, except for eggs from Canada, must be obtained before the eggs are shipped from the country of origin and that all eggs shall be accompanied by a certificate issued by a government veterinarian of the country of origin and inspected at a designated port of entry.

(d) Upon the attempted importation of eggs of wild birds, the importation of which is prohibited by paragraph 1671, Tariff Act of 1930,[17] the eggs shall be seized and the importer accorded an opportunity to assent to forfeiture. In the event the importer refuses or fails to assent to the forfeiture of the prohibited eggs, the collector shall proceed to forfeit them under the provisions of the tariff act applicable to seizure and forfeiture of merchandise valued at less than $2,500.

§ 12.30 Whaling.

The importation and exportation of whales or whale products taken or processed in violation of the International Convention for the Regulation of Whaling signed at Washington under date of December 2, 1946,[17a] or of the Whaling Convention Act of 1949,[17b] or of any regulation issued under the said act,[17c] is unlawful. Customs officers and employees shall perform all functions required of them by the above-mentioned convention, law, and regulations.

§ 12.31 Injurious insects.

The importation in a live state of insects which are injurious to cultivated crops, including vegetables, field crops, bush fruits, and orchard, forest or shade trees, and of the eggs, pupae, or larvae of such insects, except for scientific purposes under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Agriculture, is prohibited.[18]

[15] "(a) Importation prohibited. If the laws or regulations of any country, dependency, province, or other subdivision of government restrict the taking, killing, possession, or exportation to the United States, of any wild mammal or bird, alive or dead, or restrict the exportation to the United States of any part or product of any wild mammal or bird, whether raw or manufactured, no such mammal or bird, or part or product thereof, shall, after the expiration of ninety days after the enactment of this Act, be imported into the United States from such country, dependency, province, or other subdivision of government, directly or indirectly, unless accompanied by a certification of the United States consul, for the consular district in which is located the port or place from which such mammal or bird, or part or product thereof, was exported from such country, dependency, province, or other subdivision of government, that such mammal or bird, or part or product thereof, has not been acquired or exported in violation of the laws or regulations of such country, dependency, province, or other subdivision of government.

"(b) Forfeiture. Any mammal or bird, alive or dead, or any part or product thereof, whether raw or manufactured, imported into the United States in violation of the provisions of the preceding subdivision shall be subject to seizure and forfeiture under the customs laws. Any such article so forfeited may, in the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury and under such regulations as he may prescribe, be placed with the departments or bureaus of the Federal or State Governments, or with societies or museums, for exhibition or scientific or educational purposes, or destroyed, or (except in the case of heads or horns of wild mammals) sold in the manner provided by law.

"(c) Section not to apply in certain cases. The provisions of this section shall not apply in the case of—

"(1) Prohibited importations. Articles, the importation of which is prohibited under the provisions of this Act, or of section 241 of the Criminal Code, or of any other law;

"(2) Scientific or educational purposes. Wild mammals or birds, alive or dead, or parts or products thereof, whether raw or manufactured, imported for scientific or educational purposes;

"(3) Certain migratory game birds. Migratory game birds (for which an open season is provided by the laws of the United States and any foreign country which is a party to a treaty with the United States, in effect on the date of importation, relating to the protection of such migratory game birds) brought into the United States by bona fide sportsmen returning from hunting trips in such country, if at the time of importation the possession of such birds is not prohibited by the laws of such country or of the United States." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 527; 19 U. S. C. 1527)

[16] "(b) Except as provided in paragraphs (c) and (d), the importation of the feathers or skin of any bird is hereby prohibited. Such prohibition shall apply to the feathers or skin of any bird—

(1) Whether raw or processed;

(2) Whether the whole plumage or skin or any part of either;

(3) Whether or not attached to a whole bird or any part thereof; and

(4) Whether or not forming part of another article.

"(c) Paragraph (b) shall not apply—

(1) In respect of any of the following birds (other than any such bird which, whether or not raised in captivity, is a wild bird): Chickens (including hens and roosters), turkeys, guinea fowl, geese, ducks, pigeons, ostriches, rheas, English ringnecked pheasants, and pea fowl;

(2) To any importation for scientific or educational purposes;

(3) To the importation of fully manufactured artificial flies used for fishing;

(4) To the importation of birds which are classifiable under paragraph 1682; and

(5) To the importation of live birds.

"(d) Notwithstanding paragraph (b), there may be entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption in each calendar year the following quotas of skins bearing feathers:

(1) For use in the manufacture of artificial flies used for fishing:

(A) Not more than 5,000 skins of grey jungle fowl (Gallus sonneratii), and (B) not more than 1,000 skins of mandarin duck (Dendronessa galericulata); and

(2) For use in the manufacture of artificial flies used for fishing, or for millinery purposes, not more than 45,000 skins, in the aggregate, of the following species of pheasant: Lady Amherst pheasant (Chrysolophus amherstiae), golden pheasant (Chrysolophus pictus), silver pheasant (Lophura nycthemera), Reeves pheasant (Syrmaticus reevesii), blue-eared pheasant (Crossoptilon auritum), and brown-eared pheasant (Crossoptilon mantchuricum). For the purposes of this subparagraph any part of a skin which has been severed shall be considered to be a whole skin.

"(e) No article specified in paragraph (d) shall be entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption except under a permit issued by the Secretary of the Interior. * * *

"(f) Any article of a kind the importation of which is prohibited or subjected to a quota by paragraphs (b), (c), and (d) and which is in the United States shall be presumed for the purposes of seizure and forfeiture to have been imported in violation of law and shall be seized and forfeited under the customs laws unless such presumption is satisfactorily rebutted; except that such presumption shall not apply to articles in actual use for personal adornment or for scientific or educational purposes. * * *." Tea

§ 12.33 Importation of tea; entry; examination for customs purposes.

(a) The importation of any merchandise as tea which is inferior in purity, quality, and fitness for consumption to the standards prescribed by the Act of March 2, 1897, as amended (21 U.S.C. 41–50), is prohibited.[20] Customs officers and employees shall perform all duties required of them by the said act and regulations.

(b) The importation of tea is subject also to the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and the regulations thereunder. See §§ 12.2 to 12.6.

(c) All entries of tea shall be on regular forms, and the regular serial numbers for both bonds and entries shall be used.

(d) The collector may order such an examination of packages containing tea as will satisfy him that no dutiable goods are packed therein. For this purpose the customary designation shall be made of packages for examination in public stores.

(e) If the special customs invoice has not been received, the importer may use an additional copy of the chop list and release permit required by the regulations of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare as a pro forma invoice, marking "Pro forma invoice" across the face thereof.

White Phosphorus Matches

§ 12.34 Importation prohibited; certificate of inspection; importer's declaration.

(a) The importation into the United States of white phosphorus matches is prohibited.[21]

---

[20] See Appendix XV, Customs Regulations of 1943.

[21] "White phosphorus matches, manufactured wholly or in part in any foreign country, shall not be entitled to entry at any of the ports of the United States, and the importation thereof is prohibited. All matches imported into the United States shall be accompanied by such certificate of official inspection by the government of the country in which such matches were manufactured as shall satisfy the Secretary [of the Treasury] that they are not white phosphorus matches. The Secretary [of the Treasury] is authorized and directed to prescribe such regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of the provisions of this section." (26 U. S. C. 2654)

"For the purposes of this chapter the words 'white phosphorus' shall be understood to mean the common poisonous white or yellow phosphorus used in the manufacture of matches and not to include the nonpoisonous forms or the nonpoisonous compounds of white or yellow phosphorus." (26 U. S. C. 2650)

"• • • in accordance with section 10 of 'An Act to provide for a tax upon white phosphorus matches, and for other purposes,' approved April 9, 1912, white phosphorus matches manufactured wholly or in part in any foreign country shall not be entitled to enter at any of the ports of the United States, and the importation thereof is hereby prohibited: Provided further, That nothing in this Act contained shall be held to repeal or modify said Act to provide for a tax upon white phosphorus matches, and for other purposes, approved April 9, 1912." (Par. 1516; Tariff Act of 1930; 19 U. S. C. 1001)

(b) Invoices covering matches imported into the United States shall be accompanied by a certificate of official inspection of the Government of the country of manufacture in the following form:

CERTIFICATE OF OFFICIAL INSPECTION OF MATCHES

I, _____ (Name), do hereby certify that I am the _____ (Official title), according to the chemical analysis made by me the matches described below do not contain white or yellow phosphorus and that therefore they are not white phosphorus matches as defined in the Act of Congress of the United States of America approved April 9, 1912;

Number of case and mark	Description of matches	Name and address of manufacturer	Name of consignee and address, vessel, and date of shipment

(Signature)

(Official title)

(c) In the absence of such certificate, the matches shall be detained until a certificate is produced or the importer submits satisfactory evidence to show that the matches were not in fact manufactured with the use of poisonous white or yellow phosphorus.

(d) The production of the above certificate shall not be required on the entry of matches manufactured in countries which prohibit the use of white or yellow phosphorus in the manufacture of matches.

(e) At the time of filing an entry for imported matches, the importer shall make a declaration that to the best of his knowledge and belief no matches included in the invoice and entry are white phosphorus matches.

(Par. 1516, sec. 1, 46 Stat. 661, 53 Stat. 284, 285; 19 U. S. C. 1001, par. 1516, 26 U. S. C. 2650, 2654)

§ 12.35 Exportation.

(a) The exportation from the United States of white phosphorus matches is unlawful.[22]

(b) The shipper, owner, or agent of matches intended for exportation from the United States shall file with the collector at least 6 hours before such matches are laden for exportation a manifest, in duplicate, signed by the shipper, which shall state the date of exportation, the name of the exporting carrier, the marks and numbers of the packages, and the specific descriptions of the matches. There shall be attached to the manifest an affidavit of the shipper that no white phosphorus matches are included in the shipment.

(c) The collector may cause any matches offered for exportation to be opened and inspected. If any such matches are found to be white phosphorus matches, the collector shall detain them and report the facts to the Bureau for instructions.

Narcotic Drugs

§ 12.36 Regulations of Bureau of Narcotics.

The importation and exportation of narcotic drugs are governed by regulations of the Bureau of Narcotics.[23] Customs officers and employees shall perform all duties imposed upon them by such regulations and the laws under which they are issued. Such regulations are in addition to, and not in lieu of, the customs, internal-revenue, and other pertinent laws and regulations.

[22] "It shall be unlawful to export from the United States any white phosphorus matches. The Secretary [of the Treasury] shall have power to issue such regulations to customs officers as are necessary to the enforcement of this section." (26 U.S.C. 2655)

Liquors

§ 12.37 Restricted importations.

(a) The basic permit requirements prescribed by the act of August 29, 1935 (27 U. S. C. 203),[24] shall not be deemed applicable when the collector is satisfied that the liquor is for personal use or for experimental purposes in the making of analyses, tests, or comparisons.

(b) The production of a basic permit shall not be required when spirits are withdrawn from warehouse under any form of withdrawal entry.

(c) Blending or rectifying of wines or distilled spirits in class 6 manufacturing warehouses, or the bottling of imported distilled spirits in class 8 manipulation warehouses, shall not be permitted unless the proprietor has obtained an appropriate permit from the Alcohol Tax Unit, Internal Revenue Service.

(Sec. 3, 49 Stat. 978, as amended; 27 U. S. C. 203)

§ 12.38 Labeling requirements; packages.

All packages of liquor not labeled as required by 18 U.S.C. 1263[25] and any vessel or vehicle, other than a common carrier, used in the transportation of such liquor shall be seized and disposed of in accordance with 18 U. S. C. 3615[26] (see § 23.25 (c) of this chapter).

(Sec. 1, 62 Stat. 840, 18 U.S.C. 3615)

Unfair Competition

§ 12.39 Exclusion from entry; entry under bond.

(a) No entry of merchandise with respect to which the President, under section 337, Tariff Act of 1936,[27] has found unfair methods of competition or unfair acts in the importation to exist shall be accepted. No entry of merchandise of which the President has requested the Secretary to forbid entry pending the completion of an investigation shall be accepted unless there is presented with such entry the special bond provided for in subdivision (f) of said section 337 or unless such other condition as the President may specify has been complied with.

(b) The bond to be used in connection with the release of merchandise pursuant to such section 337 (f) of the tariff act shall be in an amount equal to the domestic value defined in section 340, Tariff Act of 1930, as ascertained by the appraising officer, and shall be conditioned upon the exportation of the merchandise if it is finally determined that such merchandise should be excluded from entry into the United States.

(c) In the event the President directs the exclusion of merchandise which has been released under bond pursuant to the authority contained in section 337 (f), Tariff Act of 1930, the collector of customs shall notify each importer concerned to export the prohibited merchandise under customs supervision unless the entry of the merchandise is permitted under license and an appropriate license is presented. In lieu of exportation, the merchandise may be destroyed under customs supervision upon receipt of a written request of the importer. Unless any such prohibited merchandise which has been released under bond is exported or destroyed under customs supervision, or an appropriate license is presented within 30 days after notice is given the importer concerned, demand shall be made upon the principal and the sureties on the bond for payment of the penal sum thereof as liquidated damages. If the conditions of any bond taken in such a case have been met, or the President determines that the entry of the merchandise did not violate the provisions of section 337 of the tariff act, the bond shall be canceled.

(Sec. 337, 46 Stat. 703; 19 U. S. C. 1337)

Immoral Articles

§ 12.40 Seizure; disposition of seized articles; reports to United States attorney.

(a) Any book, pamphlet, paper, writing, advertisement, circular, print, picture, or drawing containing any matter advocating or urging treason or insurrection against the United States or forcible resistance to any law of the United States, or containing any threat to take the life of or inflict bodily harm upon any person in the United States, seized under section 305, Tariff Act of 1930,[27] shall be

[24] "(a) It shall be unlawful, except pursuant to a basic permit issued under this chapter by the Secretary of the Treasury—

• • • • •

"(1) to engage in the business of importing into the United States distilled spirits, wine, or malt beverages; • • •

"(b) It shall be unlawful, except pursuant to a basic permit issued under this chapter by the Secretary of the Treasury—

"(1) to engage in the business of distilling distilled spirits, producing wine, rectifying or blending distilled spirits or wine, or bottling, or warehousing and bottling, distilled spirits; • • •

"• • • This section shall not apply to any agency of a State or political subdivision thereof or any officer or employee of any such agency, and no such agency or officer or employee shall be required to obtain a basic permit under this chapter." (27 U. S. C. 203)

[25] "Whoever knowingly ships into any place within the United States, any package of or package containing any spirituous, vinous, malted, or other fermented liquor, or any compound containing any spirituous, vinous, malted, or other fermented liquor fit for use for beverage purposes, unless such package is so labeled on the outside cover as to plainly show the name of the consignee, the nature of its contents, and the quantity contained therein, shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both." (18 U. S. C. 1263)

"All liquor involved in any violation of sections 1261–1265 of this title, the containers of such liquor, and every vehicle or vessel used in the transportation thereof, shall be seized and forfeited and such property or its proceeds disposed of in accordance with the laws relating to seizures, forfeitures, and dispositions of property or proceeds, for violation of the internal-revenue laws." (18 U. S. C. 3615)

[26] "(a) Unfair methods of competition declared unlawful. Unfair methods of competition and unfair acts in the importation of articles into the United States, or in their sale by the owner, importer, consignee, or agent of either, the effect or tendency of which is to destroy or substantially injure an industry, efficiently and economically operated, in the United States, or to prevent the establishment of such an industry, or to restrain or monopolize trade and commerce in the United States, are hereby declared unlawful, and when found by the President to exist shall be dealt with, in addition to any other provisions of law, as hereinafter provided.

"(e) Exclusion of articles from entry. Whenever the existence of any such unfair method or act shall be established to the satisfaction of the President he shall direct that the articles concerned in such unfair methods or acts, imported by any person violating the provisions of this Act, shall be excluded from entry into the United States, and upon information of such action by the President, the Secretary of the Treasury shall, through the proper officers, refuse such entry. The decision of the President shall be conclusive.

"(f) Entry under bond. Whenever the President has reason to believe that any article is offered or sought to be offered for entry into the United States in violation of this section but has not information sufficient to satisfy him thereof, the Secretary of the Treasury shall, upon his request in writing, forbid entry thereof until such investigation as the President may deem necessary shall be completed; except that such articles shall be entitled to entry under bond prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

"(g) Continuance of exclusion. Any refusal of entry under this section shall continue in effect until the President shall find and instruct the Secretary of the Treasury that the conditions which led to such refusal of entry no longer exist. • • •." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 337; 19 U. S. C. 1337)

[27] "(a) Prohibition of importation.—All persons are prohibited from importing into the United States from any foreign country any book, pamphlet, paper, writing, advertisement, circular, print, picture, or drawing containing any matter advocating or urging treason or insurrection against the United States, or forcible resistance to any law of the United States, or containing any threat to take the life of or inflict bodily harm upon any person in the United States, or any obscene book, pamphlet, paper, writing, advertisement, circular, print, picture, drawing, or other representation, figure, or image on or of paper or other material, or any cast, instrument, or other article which is obscene or immoral, or any drug or medicine or any article whatever for the prevention of conception or for causing unlawful abortion, or any lottery ticket, or any printed paper that may be used as a lottery ticket, or any advertisement of any lottery. No such articles, whether imported separately or contained in packages with other goods entitled to entry, shall be admitted to entry; and all such articles and, unless it appears to the satisfaction of the collector that the obscene or other prohibited articles contained in the package were inclosed therein without the knowledge or consent of the importer, owner, agent, or consignee, the entire contents of the package in which such articles are contained, shall be subject to seizure and forfeiture as hereinafter provided: Provided, That the drugs hereinbefore mentioned, when imported in bulk and not put up for any of the purposes hereinbefore specified, are excepted from the operation of this subdivision: Provided further, That the Secretary of the Treasury may, transmitted to the United States attorney for his consideration and action.

(b) Upon the seizure of articles or matter prohibited entry by section 305, Tariff Act of 1930 (with the exception of the matter described in paragraph (a) of this section), a notice of the seizure of such articles or matter shall be sent to the consignee or addressee.

(c) When articles of the class covered by paragraph (b) of this section are of small value and no criminal intent is apparent, a blank assent to forfeiture, customs Form 4609, shall be sent with the notice of seizure. Upon receipt of the assent to forfeiture duly executed, the articles shall be destroyed if not needed for official use and the case closed.

(d) In the case of a repeated offender or when the facts indicate that the importation was made deliberately with intent to evade the law, the facts and evidence shall be submitted to the United States attorney for consideration of prosecution of the offender as well as an action in rem under section 305 for condemnation of the articles.

(e) If the importer declines to execute an assent to forfeiture of the articles other than those mentioned in paragraph (a) of this section and fails to submit, within 30 days after being notified of his privilege so to do, a petition under section 618, Tariff Act of 1930, for the remission of the forfeiture and permission to export the seized merchandise, information concerning the seizure shall be submitted to the United States attorney in accordance with the provisions of the second paragraph of section 305 (a), Tariff Act of 1930, for the institution of condemnation proceedings.

(f) If seizure is made of books or other articles which do not contain obscene matter but contain information or advertisements relative to the prevention of conception or to means of causing abortion, the procedure outlined in paragraphs (b), (c), (d), and (e) of this section shall be followed.[28]

(g) In any case when a book is seized as being obscene and the importer declines to execute an assent to forfeiture on the ground that the book is a classic, or of recognized and established literary or scientific merit, a petition addressed to the Secretary of the Treasury with evidence to support the claim may be filed by the importer for release of the book. Mere unsupported statements or allegations will not be considered. If the ruling is favorable, release of such book shall be made only to the ultimate consignee.

(h) Whenever it clearly appears from information, instructions, advertisements enclosed with or appearing on any drug or medicine or its immediate or other container, or otherwise that such drug or medicine is intended for preventing conception or inducing abortion, such drug or medicine shall be detained or seized. The mere fact that it may be capable of contraceptive use is not conclusive on the question of intent.

(i) Contraceptive devices imported by or for a particular physician shall not be detained under the provisions of section 305, Tariff Act of 1930, if the collector of customs concerned is satisfied that the ultimate consignee is a reputable physician, and if there is filed with such collector a declaration of the ultimate consignee stating that the devices are to be used only to protect the health of his patients.

(j) When an importer contends that he may lawfully import contraceptive articles and the collector is not satisfied that the importation is within the purview of paragraph (i) of this section, he shall be advised to file with the collector a communication addressed to the Commissioner of Customs setting forth his claims in detail to be transmitted by the collector to the Bureau together with a full report of the facts. Pending the Bureau's decision in such cases, any article consigned to the claimant and believed by the collector to be prohibited from importation shall be detained but not seized.

(a) Importers of films, shall certify on customs Form 3291 that the imported films contain no obscene or immoral matter, nor any matter advocating or urging treason or insurrection against the United States or forcible resistance to any law of the United States, nor any threat to take the life or inflict bodily harm upon any person in the United States. When imported films are claimed to be free of duty as American goods returned, this certification may be made on customs Form 3311 in the space designated "Remarks" in lieu of on Form 3291.

(b) Films exposed abroad by a foreign concern or individual shall be previewed by a qualified employee of the Customs Service before release. In case such films are imported as undeveloped negatives exposed abroad, the approximate number of feet shall be ascertained by weighing before they are allowed to be developed and printed and such film shall be previewed by a qualified employee of the Customs Service after having been developed and printed.

(c) Any objectionable film shall be detained pending instructions from the Bureau or a decision of the court as to its final disposition.

(Sec. 305, 46 Stat. 688, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1305)

Merchandise Produced By Convict, Forced, or Indentured Labor

§ 12.42 Findings of Commissioner of Customs.

(a) If any appraiser or other principal customs officer has reason to believe that any class of merchandise which is being, or is likely to be, imported into the United States is being produced, whether by mining, manufacture, or other means, in any foreign locality with the use of convict labor, forced labor, or indentured labor under penal sanctions so as to come within the purview of the first sentence of section 307, Tariff Act of 1930,[29] he shall communicate his belief to the Commissioner of Customs. Every such communication shall contain or be accompanied by a statement of substantially the same information as is required in paragraph (b) of this section, if in the possession of the appraiser or other officer or readily available to him.

(b) Any person outside the Customs Service who has reason to believe that merchandise produced in the circumstances mentioned in paragraph (a) of this section is being, or is likely to be, imported into the United States and, if the production is with the use of forced labor or indentured labor under penal sanctions, that merchandise of the same

[28] Section 305, Tariff Act of 1930, prohibits the importation of articles for the prevention of conception or causing abortion but does not prohibit the importation of articles containing information or advertisements relative thereto. Sections 1461 and 1462, title 18, United States Code, contain provisions which apply to information and advertisements on these subjects.

[29] "All goods, wares, articles, and merchandise mined, produced, or manufactured wholly or in part in any foreign country by convict labor or/and forced labor or/and indentured labor under penal sanctions shall not be entitled to enter at any of the ports of the United States, and the importation thereof is hereby prohibited, and the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized and directed to prescribe such regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of this provision. The provisions of this section relating to goods, wares, articles, and merchandise mined, produced, or manufactured by forced labor or/and indentured labor, shall take effect on January 1, 1932; but in no case shall such provisions be applicable to goods, wares, articles, or merchandise so mined, produced, or manufactured which are not mined, produced, or manufactured in such quantities in the United States as to meet the consumptive demands of the United States.

" 'Forced labor,' as herein used, shall mean all work or service which is exacted from any person under the menace of any penalty for its nonperformance and for which the worker does not offer himself voluntarily." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 307; 19 U. S. C. 1307.)

in his discretion, admit the so-called classics or books of recognized and established literary or scientific merit, but may, in his discretion, admit such classics or books only when imported for noncommercial purposes.

"Upon the appearance of any such book or matter at any customs office, the same shall be seized and held by the collector to await the judgment of the district court as hereinafter provided; and no protest shall be taken to the United States Customs Court from the decision of the collector. Upon the seizure of such book or matter the collector shall transmit information thereof to the district attorney of the district in which is situated the office at which such seizure has taken place, who shall institute proceedings in the district court for the forfeiture, confiscation, and destruction of the book or matter seized. Upon the adjudication that such book or matter thus seized is of the character the entry of which is by this section prohibited, it shall be ordered destroyed and shall be destroyed. Upon adjudication that such book or matter thus seized is not of the character the entry of which is by this section prohibited, it shall not be excluded from entry under the provisions of this section.

"In any such proceeding any party in interest may upon demand have the facts at issue determined by a jury and any party may have an appeal or the right of review as in the case of ordinary actions or suits. (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 305; 19 U. S. C. 1305)

"Whoever, being an officer, agent, or employee of the United States, knowingly aids or abets any person engaged in any violation of any of the provisions of law prohibiting importing, advertising, dealing in, exhibiting, or sending or receiving by mail obscene or indecent publications or representations, or books, pamphlets, papers, writings, advertisements, circulars, prints, pictures, or drawings containing any matter advocating or urging treason or insurrection against the United States or forcible resistance to any law of the United States, or containing any threat to take the life of or inflict bodily harm upon any person in the United States, or means for preventing conception or procuring abortion, or other articles of indecent or immoral use or tendency, shall be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both." (18 U. S. C. 552) class is being produced in the United States in such quantities as to meet the consumptive demands of the United States may communicate his belief to any appraiser or the Commissioner of Customs. Every such communication shall contain, or be accompanied by, (1) a full statement of the reasons for the belief, (2) a detailed description or sample of the merchandise, and (3) all pertinent facts obtainable as to the production of the merchandise abroad. If the foreign merchandise is believed to be mined, produced, or manufactured with the use of forced labor or indentured labor under penal sanctions, such communication shall also contain (4) detailed information as to the production and consumption of the particular class of merchandise in the United States and the names and addresses of domestic producers likely to be interested in the matter.

(c) If any information filed with an appraiser pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section does not conform with the requirements of that paragraph, the communication shall be returned promptly to the person who submitted it with detailed written advice as to the respects in which it does not conform. If such information is found to comply with the requirements, it shall be transmitted by the appraiser within 10 days to the Commissioner of Customs, together with all pertinent additional information available to the appraiser.

(d) Upon receipt by the Commissioner of Customs of any communication submitted pursuant to paragraph (a) or (b) of this section and found to comply with the requirements of the pertinent paragraph, the Commissioner will cause such investigation to be made as appears to be warranted by the circumstances of the case and the Commissioner or his designated representative will consider any representations offered by foreign interests, importers, domestic producers, or other interested persons.

(e) If the Commissioner of Customs finds at any time that information available reasonably but not conclusively indicates that merchandise within the purview of section 307 is being, or is likely to be, imported, he will promptly advise all collectors of customs accordingly and the collectors shall thereupon withhold release of any such merchandise pending instructions from the Commissioner as to whether the merchandise may be released otherwise than for exportation.

(f) If it is determined on the basis of the foregoing that the merchandise is subject to the provisions of the said section 307, the Commissioner of Customs, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, will publish a finding to that effect in a weekly issue of the Treasury Decisions and in the Federal Register.

(g) Any merchandise of a class specified in a finding made under paragraph (f) of this section, which is imported directly or indirectly from the locality specified in the finding and has not been released from customs custody before the date of publication of such finding in the Federal Register shall be considered and treated as an importation prohibited by section 307, Tariff Act of 1930, unless the importer establishes by satisfactory evidence that the merchandise was not mined, produced, or manufactured in any part with the use of a class of labor specified in the finding.

(h) The following findings made under the authority of section 307, Tariff Act of 1930 are currently in effect with respect to the merchandise listed below:

Merchandise	Country	T. D.
Canned crabmeat	Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.	52655
Furniture, clothes hampers, and palm leaf bags.	Ciudad Victoria, Tamaulipas, Mexico.	53408, 54725

§ 12.43 Proof of admissibility.

(a) If an importer of any article detained under § 12.42 (e) or (g) desires to contend that the article was not mined, produced, or manufactured in any part with the use of a class of labor specified in section 307, Tariff Act of 1930, he shall submit to the Commissioner of Customs within 3 months after the date the article was imported a certificate of origin in the form set forth below, signed by the foreign seller or owner of the article. If the article was mined, produced, or manufactured wholly or in part in a country other than that from which it was exported to the United States, an additional certificate in such form and signed by the last owner or seller in such other country, substituting the facts of transportation from such other country for the statements with respect to shipment from the country of exportation, shall be so submitted.

Certificate of Origin

I, _____, foreign seller or owner of the merchandise hereinafter described, certify that such merchandise, consisting of _____ (Quantity) of _____ (Description) in _____ (Number and kind of packages) bearing the following marks and numbers _____ was mined, produced, or manufactured by _____ (Name) at or near _____, and was laden on board _____ (Carrier to the United States) at _____ (Place of lading) which departed from (Place of final departure from country of exportation) on _____ (Date); and that _____ (Class of labor specified in finding) was not employed in any stage of the mining, production, or manufacture of the merchandise or of any component thereof.

(b) The importer shall also submit to the Commissioner of Customs within such 3-month period a statement of the ultimate consignee of the merchandise, showing in detail that he had made every reasonable effort to determine the source of the merchandise and of every component thereof and to ascertain the character of labor used in the production of the merchandise and each of its components, the full results of his investigation, and his belief with respect to the use of the class of labor specified in the finding in any stage of the production of the merchandise or of any of its components.

(c) If the certificate or certificates and statement specified in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section are submitted within the time prescribed and the Commissioner finds that the merchandise is admissible, the collector of customs concerned will be advised to that effect, whereupon he shall release the merchandise upon compliance with the usual entry requirements.

§ 12.44 Disposition.

Merchandise detained pursuant to § 12.42 may be exported at any time before it is deemed to have been abandoned as hereinafter provided for. If it has not been exported within 3 months after the date of importation, the collector shall ascertain whether the proof specified in § 12.43 has been submitted within the time prescribed in that section. If the proof has not been so submitted, or if the Commissioner of Customs advises the collector that the proof furnished does not establish the admissibility of the merchandise, the collector shall promptly advise the importer in writing that the merchandise is excluded from entry. Upon the expiration of 60 days after the delivery or mailing of such advice by the collector, the merchandise shall be deemed to have been abandoned and shall be destroyed, unless it has been exported or a protest has been filed as provided for in section 514, Tariff Act of 1930.

(Sec. 307, 46 Stat. 689; 19 U. S. C. 1307)

article comes to the attention of a collector of customs, he shall detain the article and report the facts to the appropriate United States attorney. If the United States attorney advises the collector that action should be taken against the article, it shall be seized and held pending the receipt of further instructions from the United States attorney or the court.

COUNTERFEIT COINS, OBLIGATIONS, AND OTHER SECURITIES; ILLUSTRATIONS OR REPRODUCTIONS OF COINS OR STAMPS

§ 12.48 Importation prohibited; exceptions to prohibition of importation; procedure.

(a) In accordance with Chapter 25, Title 18, United States Code, any token, disk, or device in the likeness or similitude of any coin of the United States or of a foreign country; counterfeits of coins in circulation in the United States; counterfeited, forged, or altered obligations or other securities of the United States [21] or of any foreign government; or plates, dies, or other apparatus which may be used in making any of the foregoing, when brought into the United States, shall be seized, and delivered to the nearest representative of the United States Secret Service, together with a report of the facts, for appropriate disposition.

(b) In accordance with section 504 of title 18, United States Code, the printing, publishing, or importation or the making or importation of the necessary plates for such printing or publishing for philatelic, numismatic, educational, historical, or newsworthy purposes in articles, books, journals, newspapers, or albums (but not for advertising purposes, except illustrations of stamps and paper money in philatelic or numismatic advertising of legitimate numismatists and dealers in stamps or publishers of or dealers in philatelic or numismatic articles, books, journals, newspapers, or albums) of black and white illustrations of canceled and uncanceled United States postage stamps shall be permitted.

(c) The importation (but not for advertising purposes except philatelic advertising) of motion-picture films, microfilms, or slides, for projection upon a screen or for use in telecasting, of postage and revenue stamps and other obligations and securities of the United States and postage and revenue stamps, notes, bonds, and other obligations or securities of any foreign government, bank, or corporation shall be permitted.

(d) Printed matter of the character described in section 504, title 18, United States Code,[22] containing reproductions of postage or revenue stamps, executed in accordance with any exception stated in section 504, or colored reproductions of canceled foreign postage stamps may be admitted to entry. Printed matter containing illustrations or reproductions not executed in accordance with such exceptions shall be treated as prohibited importations. If no application for exportation or assent to forfeiture and destruction is received by the collector within 30 days from the date of notification to the importer that the articles are prohibited, the articles shall be reported to the United States attorney for forfeiture.

MERCHANDISE SUBJECT TO QUOTA PROVISIONS

§ 12.49 Proclamations establishing import quotas.

The provisions of Presidential proclamations establishing tariff-rate quotas [23] or absolute import quotas are published in the Treasury decisions.

§ 12.50 Quota priority.

(a) Merchandise shall not be regarded as entered for purposes of quota priority until an entry therefor has been filed in proper form. Except as otherwise provided for in § 8.59(g) of this chapter, consumption entries and withdrawals for consumption covering quota commodities shall be accepted only during the official office hours when the customhouse is fully staffed and open for the transaction of all customs business. A quota status will not attach to merchandise in any quota period by reason of the presentation of an entry or withdrawal in any prior period.

(b) Merchandise covered by a mail entry or other informal entry shall be regarded as presented for purposes of quota priority when all requirements have been met for the preparation of such an entry.

(c) Merchandise entered for warehouse for which a withdrawal for consumption has been made in the manner stated in § 8.4 (g) of this chapter prior to the opening of any quota period may not be accorded any quota benefit which may become effective after the time of such withdrawal, even though the permit of delivery for the withdrawn merchandise is not delivered to the customs warehouse officer until after the effective date of the quota benefit.

(d) When it is anticipated that entries or withdrawals, or both, covering quantities sufficient to fill a quota will be presented at the opening of the quota period, no entry for consumption or withdrawal for consumption shall be accepted before 12 noon eastern standard time at any port in the eastern standard time belt, 11 a. m. central standard time in the central standard time belt, 10 a. m. mountain standard time in the mountain standard time belt, or 9 a. m. Pacific standard time in the Pacific standard time belt. All importers who are present to file entries or withdrawals when the quota opens shall be given equal opportunity to do so and, if necessary, special arrangements shall be made so that all such entries may be presented at the exact moment of the opening of the quota. No importer shall be permitted to present entries or withdrawals for a quantity in excess of the quota quantity. All entries and withdrawals so presented in proper form shall be considered to have been presented simultaneously even though some time may be required for checking purposes.

(e) When any tariff-rate quota is nearing fulfillment, the exact date, hour, and minute of official acceptance shall be noted on each entry and withdrawal and reported to the Bureau. When any absolute quota is nearing fulfillment and it is necessary to secure Bureau approval before accepting entries or withdrawals thereunder, the time of presentation of each entry or withdrawal shall be reported to the Bureau.

(f) If quota-class merchandise is the subject of an application for release under an immediate delivery permit, the time of presentation of entry shall not precede the time when the importing carrier reaches the limits of the port where entry is to be made. See §§ 8.4 and 8.59 of this chapter.

§ 12.51 Mail importations of merchandise for which an absolute quota has been established.

The following procedure is prescribed for the handling of mail importations of any merchandise for which an absolute quota has been established:

(a) In the absence of other arrangements, when the addressee is located at another port of entry, the importation, regardless of the value, shall be returned to the postmaster for dispatch to the collector of customs in care of the postmaster at the port of destination with customs Form 3511. If the importation exceeds $250 in value, notice on customs Form 3509 to make formal entry shall be sent to the addressee.

(b) If, because of quota restrictions, an entire importation cannot be released at one time, the collector of customs at the port at which such merchandise is to be entered shall so inform the addressee. An Acknowledgment of Delivery by Post Office Department shall be sent to the addressee and he shall be advised that if he desires to secure release of a portion of the merchandise the acknowledgment must be signed by him and returned to the collector of customs. The remainder of the importation, or any portion thereof, shall be released from time to time as it becomes admissible under the quota. Such Acknowledgment of Delivery by Post Office shall be in the following form:

ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF DELIVERY BY POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT

In consideration of the fact that certain articles in a mail importation consisting of ---------- (state number) parcels, mailed to me by ---------- ---------- (name of sender) of ---------- ---------- (address), on ---------- (date of mailing), are subject to quota restrictions under which only a portion of such articles may be admitted to entry at one time, and that the Post Office Department permits no division of the importation before delivery thereof, and since I am desirous of receiving a portion of such articles as they become admissible to entry from time to time under the quota administered by the United States Customs, I hereby agree and acknowledge that delivery of the parcel or parcels to the United States Customs shall be regarded as delivery by the Post Office Department to me.

(Signature of Addressee)

This form may be mimeographed in the quantities needed.

(c) If, in any case, the sender of a mail article has indicated his agreement to the delivery of less than the entire importation at one time, an Acknowledgment of Delivery by Post Office Department need not be secured from the addressee.

(d) The collector may require a deposit of an amount sufficient to defray the expenses of repacking each portion of the merchandise for shipment by mail to the addressee as it becomes admissible to entry under the quota. The shipment shall be under Government frank without new postage. Unless a formal entry or entry by appraisement is required, a mail entry on customs Form 3419 shall be issued and forwarded with the parcel to the postmaster for delivery to the addressee and collection of any duties in the same manner as for any other mail article subject to customs treatment.

(e) If formal entry or entry by appraisement is required, and the addressee is not located in the city where such entry is to be filed, the notice to the addressee shall be accompanied by appropriate entry forms for execution and return to the collector of customs.

(f) If within a reasonable time, but not to exceed 30 days, the addressee fails to indicate to the collector of customs an intention to receive delivery of the articles or a portion thereof in accordance with the notice sent to him by the collector of customs, the importation shall be treated in the same manner as other undeliverable mail.

(g) When any such articles imported in the mails, subject to classification under paragraph 1798, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, but subject to quota restrictions, are declared in writing by a resident of the United States upon his return to this country, and a certified copy of such declaration is on file or is presented, the same procedure shall be followed, except that the articles may be released for delivery by the postmaster without the requirement of any other entry under a quota allocation obtained from the Bureau, unless duty is assessable and is to be collected at the time of delivery by mail, in which case a mail entry shall be issued.

FUR-SEAL OR SEA-OTTER SKINS

§ 12.60 Importation prohibited.

The transportation, importation, sale, or possession of the skins of fur seals or sea otters is prohibited if such skins were taken contrary to the provisions of section 2 of the act of February 26, 1944 (58 Stat. 100–104) [24] or, in the case of such skins taken under the authority of the act or any fur-seal agreement, if the skins are not officially marked and certified as required by section 2 of the act. Section 16 [25] makes the act inapplicable to skins taken for scientific purposes under a special permit.

(Secs. 1–17, 58 Stat. 100, 101, as amended, 102–104; 16 U.S.C. 631a–631q)

§ 12.61 Fur-seal or sea-otter skins permitted entry.

(a) Fur-seal or sea-otter skins taken by Indians, Aleuts, or other aborigines under the authority of section 3 of the act,[26] fur-seal skins taken under the authority of the Canadian Government, and fur-seal skins taken on the Pribilof Islands and other specified areas under the authority of section 4 of the act [27]

[21] "The term 'obligations or other security of the United States' includes all bonds, certificates of indebtedness, national bank currency, Federal Reserve notes, Federal Reserve bank notes, coupons, United States notes, Treasury notes, gold certificates, silver certificates, fractional notes, certificates of deposit, bills, checks, or drafts for money, drawn by or upon authorized officers of the United States, stamps and other representatives of value, of whatever denomination, issued under any act of Congress, and canceled United States stamps." (18 U. S. C. 8)

[22] Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, the following are permitted:

(1) the printing, publishing, or importation, or the making or importation of the necessary plates for such printing or publishing, of black and white illustrations of postage and revenue stamps and other obligations and securities of the United States, and postage and revenue stamps, notes, bonds, and other obligations or securities of any foreign government, bank, or corporation for philatelic, numismatic, educational, historical or newsworthy purposes in articles, books, journals, newspapers, or albums (but not for advertising purposes, except illustrations of stamps and paper money in philatelic or numismatic advertising of legitimate numismatists and dealers in stamps or publishers of or dealers in philatelic or numismatic articles, books, journals, newspapers, or albums). Such illustrations, except those of stamps, shall be of a size less than three-fourths or more than one and one-half, in linear dimension, of each part of such obligation or security. The negatives and plates used in making the illustrations shall be destroyed after their final use for the purpose for which they were made.

(2) the making or importation, but not for advertising purposes except philatelic advertising, of motion-picture films, microfilms, or slides, for projection upon a screen or for use in telecasting, of postage and revenue stamps and other obligations and securities of the United States, and postage and revenue stamps, notes, bonds, and other obligations or securities of any foreign government, bank, or, corporation. No prints or other reproductions shall be made from such films or slides, except for the purpose of paragraph (1), without the permission of the Secretary of the Treasury. (18 U.S.C. 504.)

[23] Modified duty rates under tariff-rate quotas established pursuant to section 350 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended and extended, are not applicable to imports from the countries or areas listed on page 1 of United States Import Duties (1952), as amended.

[24] "It shall be unlawful, except as hereinafter provided, for any citizen or national of the United States, or person owing duty of obedience to the laws or treaties of the United States, or any vessel of the United States, or person belonging to or on such vessel, to engage in pelagic sealing or sea otter hunting in or on the waters of the North Pacific Ocean; or for any person or vessel to engage in sealing; or for any person or vessel to use any port or harbor or other place subject to the jurisdiction of the United States for any purpose connected in any way with the operation of pelagic sealing, sea otter hunting, or sealing; or for any person to transport, import, offer for sale, or have in possession at any port, place, or on any vessel subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, raw, dressed, or dyed skins of sea otters taken contrary to the provisions of this section or, where taken pursuant to section 3 of this Act, not officially marked and certified as having been so taken, or raw, dressed, or dyed skins of fur seals taken in or on the waters of the North Pacific Ocean or on lands subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, except seal skins which have been taken under the authority of this Act or under the authority of the respective parties to any fur-seal agreement and which have been officially marked and certified as having been so taken." (Sec. 2, 58 Stat. 101)

[25] "Nothing contained in this act shall apply to the killing, capturing, pursuing, transportation, importation, offering for sale, or possession of fur seals or sea otters, or the skins thereof, for scientific purposes under special permit issued therefor by the Secretary." (Sec. 16, 58 Stat. 104)

[26] "Indians, Aleuts, or other aborigines dwelling on the American coasts of the waters of the North Pacific Ocean shall be permitted to carry on pelagic sealing or sea otter hunting without the use of firearms from canoes or undecked boats, propelled wholly by paddles, oars, or sails, and not transported by or used in connection with other vessels, and manned by not more than five persons each, in the way heretofore practiced by said Indians, Aleuts, or other aborigines, and shall be permitted to dispose of the skins of fur seals or sea otters so taken as they see fit, but only after such skins have been officially marked and certified as provided in section 2 of this act. The exception made in this section shall not apply to Indians, Aleuts, or other aborigines in the employment of other persons or who shall engage in pelagic sealing or sea otter hunting under contract to deliver the skins to any person." (Sec. 3, 58 Stat. 101)

[27] "In order to continue the proper utilization of the fur-seal herd of the North Pacific Ocean and to carry out the purposes of this Act, the Secretary is authorized to permit sealing on the Pribilof and other islands and on the shores of waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, by officers and employees of the Fish and Wildlife Service designated by him and by the natives of the Territory of Alaska, and to adopt suitable regulations governing the same whenever he shall determine that such sealing is necessary or desirable and not inconsistent with preservation of the fur seals of the North Pacific Ocean. The Secretary is also authorized to permit pelagic sealing in the event of emergency circumstances by officers, employees and agents of the United States and by the natives of the Territory of Alaska under such conditions and for such periods as may be agreed upon by consultation between the Government of the United States and the Government of Canada in accord-shall be admitted to entry if officially marked and certified as having been lawfully taken and if accompanied by a declaration of the shipper identifying the skins by marks and numbers as those covered by the official certificate.

(b) Fur-seal or sea-otter skins taken in waters or on land not specified in the act or in the fur-seal agreement with Canada [40] or other fur-seal agreement shall be admitted to entry upon the production of evidence satisfactory to the collector that they have been so taken.

§ 12.62 Enforcement; duties of customs officers.

(a) In accordance with the authority contained in sections 10 and 12 [41] of the act, customs officers shall arrest or cause to be arrested persons violating the provisions of the act or of any regulation made pursuant thereto; shall search vessels when there is reasonable cause to believe that such vessels are subject to seizure under the act; shall seize any vessel used or employed or which it appears has been or is about to be used or employed in violation of the act or any regulation made pursuant thereto; and shall seize fur seals and sea otters, or the skins thereof, killed, captured, transported, imported, offered for sale, or possessed by any person contrary to the provisions of the act or of any regulation made pursuant thereto.

(b) All articles, including vessels and equipment, seized by customs officers for violation of the act shall be turned over to the nearest officer or agent of the Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior, for appropriate disposition under the act, receipts to be taken in duplicate therefor. One copy of each such receipt shall be transmitted to the Bureau with a detailed report of the facts in the particular case involved.

§ 12.63 Seal-skin or sea-otter-skin waste.

Seal-skin or sea-otter-skin waste composed of small pieces not large enough to be sewed together and utilized as dressed fur shall not be subject to the requirements of the regulations in this part.

(Secs. 1–17, 58 Stat. 100, 101, as amended, 102–104; 16 U.S.C. 631a–631q)

[41] "Any officer or employee of the Department of the Interior authorized by the Secretary, any naval or other officer designated by the President, any marshal or deputy marshal, any collector or deputy collector of customs, and any other person authorized by law to enforce the provisions of this act shall have power, without warrant, to arrest any person committing a violation of this act or any regulation made pursuant thereto in his presence or view, and to take such person immediately for examination or trial before an officer or court of competent jurisdiction; and shall have power, without warrant, to search any vessel within any of the territorial waters of the United States, or any vessel of the United States on the high seas, when he has reasonable cause to believe that such vessel is subject to seizure under this section. Any officer, employee, or other person authorized to enforce the provisions of this act shall have power to execute any warrant or process issued by an officer or court of competent jurisdiction for the enforcement of the provisions of this act; and shall have power with a search warrant to search any person, vessel, or place at any time. The judges of the courts established under the laws of the United States, and the United States commissioners, may, within their respective jurisdictions, upon proper oath or affirmation showing probable cause, issue warrants in all such cases. All fur seals and sea otters, or the skins thereof, killed, captured, transported, imported, offered for sale, or possessed contrary to the provisions of this act or of any regulation made pursuant thereto, and any vessel used or employed contrary to the provisions of this act or of any regulation made pursuant thereto, or which it reasonably appears has been or is about to be used or employed in or in aid of the performance of any act forbidden by the provisions of this act or of any regulation made pursuant thereto, together with its tackle, apparel, furniture, appurtenances, and cargo, may, whenever and wherever lawfully found, be seized by any such officer, employee, or other person." SUGARS, SIRUPS, AND MOLASSES

§ 13.1 Raw sugar; estimated duties; allowance for moisture.

(a) Estimated duties shall be taken on raw sugar on the basis of not less than 96% polariscopic test,[1] unless the invoice shows that the sugar is of a lower grade than that of the ordinary commercial shipment.

(b) Inasmuch as the absorption of sea water or moisture reduces the polariscopic test of sugar, there shall be no allowance on account of increased weight of sugar importations due to unusual absorption of sea water or other moisture while on the voyage of importation. Any portion of the cargo claimed by the importer to have absorbed sea water or moisture on the voyage of importation shall be weighed, sampled, and tested separately. No such claim shall be considered if made after the sugar claimed to have been damaged has been weighed.

§ 13.2 Weighing, gauging, and sampling.

(a) Sugar and sugar products requiring either weighing or sampling shall be weighed or sampled at the time of unlading. When such merchandise requires both weighing and sampling, these operations shall be performed simultaneously. When dutiable sugar is to be imported in bulk, a full description of the facilities to be used in unlading the sugar shall be submitted to the Bureau as far as possible in advance of the date of importation, and special instructions will be issued as to the methods to be applied in weighing and sampling such sugar.

(b) All dutiable raw sugar shall be weighed without regard to mark. All such sugar in bags shall be conveyed to scales in drafts of uniform size or of a uniform number of bags. Trucks and slings, if weighed, shall be maintained at a uniform weight so that the tare may be accurately established.

(c) In order to permit the taking of a representative general sample, the packages shall be so placed in unlading that the sampler can readily obtain a sample from any package.

(d) No expense incidental to the unlading, transporting, handling, sorting, or arranging of sugar or molasses for convenient weighing, gauging, measuring, sampling, or marking shall be borne by the Government.

(e) Sugar transported from the place of original discharge before samples have been taken shall not be removed from the transporting conveyance until notice of the time of the proposed removal has been given by the inspector to the examiner or sampler in charge.

§ 13.3 Molasses in tank cars.

When molasses is imported in tank cars, the importer shall file with the collector a certificate showing whether there is any substantial difference either in the total sugar [2] or the character of the molasses in the different cars.

§ 13.4 Molasses not for extraction of sugar nor for human consumption.

(a) Pursuant to the last sentence of paragraph 502, Tariff Act of 1930,[3] molasses not imported to be used commercially for the extraction of sugar for human consumption [4] may be released upon the deposit of estimated duties at the appropriate rate and liquidation of the covering entry shall be suspended until proof of use is furnished or the time allowed for the production thereof has expired, provided there is filed with the entry or withdrawal a declaration of the person making the entry or withdrawal that the molasses was not imported to be used commercially for the extraction of sugar or for human consumption and that it will not be so used.

(b) Within 3 years from the date of entry (in the case of warehouse entries as well as consumption entries) the importer shall submit a certificate of the superintendent or manager of the manufacturing plant stating the use to which the molasses has been put. If the collector is satisfied that the molasses has not been used in a manufacturing plant but was sold as molasses to the ultimate user, he may accept as proof of the nature of such use a certificate of the wholesaler or other person making the final sale of the product. Such certificate shall state the quantity sold and the purpose for which the seller understood the purchase to be made. All certificates as to use provided for in this paragraph shall identify the molasses with the related customs entry, shall show the number of gallons and the sugar content of the molasses used, and shall state affirmatively the particular use, or alternative uses, each of which is a use other than for human consumption or for the extraction of sugar. If the molasses has not been used in the United States, evidence of exportation or destruction satisfactory to the collector shall be furnished. Certificates as to use and certificates or other documents showing exportation or destruction shall be filed in duplicate and one copy shall be forwarded to the comptroller of customs.

(c) Upon satisfactory proof of use of the molasses for purposes other than for the extraction of sugar or for human consumption or of the exportation or destruction thereof, the entry may be liquidated at the appropriate rate under the last sentence of paragraph 502, Tariff Act of 1930, as modified. When such proof of use or other disposition of the molasses is not made within 3 years from the date of the entry, or the use shown does not warrant the classification claimed, the entry shall be liquidated at the higher rate applicable under the first sentence of such paragraph 502, as modified.

(d) Entries covering blackstrap molasses, as hereinafter defined, may be accepted and liquidated with duty at the lower rate after the filing of the declaration prescribed in paragraph (a) of this section without compliance with the special requirements of paragraph (b) of this section. For the purposes of the regulations in this part, blackstrap molasses is defined as "final" molasses practically free from sugar crystals, containing not over 58 percent total sugars and having a ratio of not in excess of 71. In the event of doubt, an ash determination may be made. An ash content of not less than 7 percent indicates a blackstrap molasses within the meaning of the regulations in this part.

§ 13.5 Gauging of molasses and sirups; storage tanks.

(a) When molasses or sirup is imported in bulk in tank vessels and is to be pumped or discharged into storage tanks, before the discharging is permitted there shall be filed in the customhouse a certified copy of the plans and gauge table of the storage tank showing all inlets and outlets and stating accurately the capacity in United States gallons per inch of height of the tank from an indicated starting point.

(b) After the discharge is completed, all inlets to the tank shall be carefully sealed and the molasses or sirups left undisturbed for a period not to exceed 20 days to allow for settling before being gauged. When a request for immediate gauging is made in writing by the importer, it shall be allowed by the collector.

§ 13.6 Taring of sugar containers.

(a) In general, there shall be allowed a schedule tare of 2½ pounds per bag for sugar imported in standard bags. When sugar is in other containers, actual tare should be taken. When the collector has reason to doubt the applicability of the schedule tare, he shall verify such schedule tare by taking actual tare. A sugar bag having an area of 1,392 square inches when laid flat (29 inches in width by 48 inches in length) shall be the standard sugar bag for tare purposes. When the area of sugar bags varies by more than 2 percent from the standard area of 1,392 square inches, or the bag is not of the usual textile, the schedule tare shall be increased or diminished in proportion to the amount the area or the weight of the bag varies from that of the standard bag. When the bags bearing any mark differ in size, the tare allowed shall be based upon the average dimensions of the entire number of bags bearing such mark.

(b) If the importer files a written application representing that there is an excessive number of damaged bags in a given importation, giving the approximate percentage of the damaged and sound bags and requesting that actual tare be taken, the collector, if satisfied that the facts are as stated, shall determine the actual tare on the importation. Whenever the actual tare determined on any importation differs from the schedule tare by not more than 5 percent, the schedule tare shall be allowed on such importation. In the event that the actual tare differs from the schedule tare by more than 5 percent, the actual tare shall be the accepted tare.

§ 13.7 Sugar closets.

Sugar closets for samples shall be substantially built and secured by locks furnished by the Bureau. They shall be conveniently located as near as possible to the points of discharge they are intended to serve. They shall be provided by the owner of the premises on which they are located and shall be so situated that sugar, sirup, and molasses stored therein shall not be subjected to extremes of temperature or humidity.

§ 13.8 Retests of sugar, molasses, and sirup.

(a) When the test of the sugar has been determined, the appraiser shall immediately notify the importer on customs Form 6463 of the average test of the importation and also the quantity and test of each lot from which such average test is obtained. If the importer, within 2 official days after such notice has been sent to him by the appraiser, claims an error in the test so reported and requests a retest, such retest may be granted if, on evidence furnished, such claim shall appear to the appraiser to be well founded. Before granting a retest, the appraiser shall require the importer to furnish the settlement tests of the sugar in question, together with any information the appraiser may deem desirable relating to the samples and polarizations used in the settlement tests. In no instance shall a retest be granted when the difference between the appraiser's average test and the settlement test is less than 0.4° S.

(b) In case of retest, the polariscopic test shall be reported on the basis of the average of the test and the retest, unless it can be shown to the satisfaction of the appraiser that either the test or the retest is in error, in which event the test not in error shall be taken as the basis of the report.

(c) In the case of molasses and sirup, a retest shall be granted by the appraiser only when the information in his possession indicates a strong probability of an error. In general, the rules governing the granting of a retest shall be those given above, with the exception that the difference between the appraiser's test and the settlement test shall be shown to be not less than 2 percent total sugars.

[2] The expression "total sugars," occurring in the tariff act, is construed to mean the sum of the sucrose (clerget), the raffinose, and the reducing sugars.

[3] "* * * Molasses not imported to be commercially used for the extraction of sugar or for human consumption, three one-hundredths of 1 cent per pound of total sugars." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 502; 19 U. S. C. 1001)

[4] For the purpose of the regulations in this part, the phrase "molasses not imported to be commercially used for the extraction of sugar, or for human consumption" is construed to include, in addition to molasses used in animal feed and other products not for human consumption, molasses utilized in the production of articles such as yeast, vinegar, alcohol, rum gin, or whisky, in such manner that fermentation or other chemical change alters its character and chemical composition so that molasses or sugar does not appear in the final product. The phrase does not include molasses used for the extraction of sugar or used either in its condition as imported or after undergoing purifying or blending processes, or both, for table purposes or as a sweetening, coloring, or flavoring agent in the production of articles for human consumption.

§ 13.9 Mixing classes of sugar.

No regulations relative to the weighing, taring, sampling, classifying, and testing of imported sugar shall be so construed as to permit mixing together sugar of different classes, such as centrifugal, beet, molasses, or any sugar different in character from those mentioned, for the purpose of weighing, taring, sampling, or testing.

PETROLEUM PRODUCTS

§ 13.10 Importation of petroleum products in bulk.

(a) When petroleum products taxable under I.R.C. section 4521, are imported in bulk in tank vessels and are to be pumped or discharged into storage tanks, the plans of each tank showing all outlets and inlets and the gauge table for each tank showing its capacity in United States gallons per inch or fraction of an inch of height shall be filed at the customhouse. Such plans and tables shall be certified as correct by the proprietor of the tank. An inspector gauger shall verify the measurements and calibrations shown on the gauge table. One set of such plans and gauge tables thus certified and verified shall be kept on file at the plant of the oil company and shall be available at all times to customs officers. Another verified and certified set shall be filed in the customhouse for use in verifying the inspector's reports. The collector may require such additional sets of plans and gauge tables as he may deem necessary.

(b) On entry for a petroleum product in bulk, the importer shall show the API gravity at 60° Fahrenheit, and the group to which the product belongs, in accordance with the Petroleum Measurement Tables (American Edition), published by the American Society for Testing Materials (1952). The abridged table (Table No. 7) shall be used in the reduction of volume to 60° F. If the exact quantity cannot be determined in advance, entry may be made for "_____ United States gallons, more or less." The information required by this paragraph shall also be shown on the permit and summary sheet.

(c) Tanks for the storage of imported petroleum products in bulk may be bonded as warehouses of class 2 if to be used exclusively for the storage of petroleum products belonging or consigned to the proprietor or lessee of the tank. In addition to the documents and bonds required to be filed with the application, the certified plans and gauge tables mentioned above shall be filed.

(d) If a bonded tank is not empty at the time the first importation of bonded petroleum products is to be stored therein, the amount of "free" petroleum products in the tank shall be withdrawn by the proprietor as soon as possible. The request to withdraw shall be in the form of a letter and no formal withdrawal need be filed. "Free" or duty-paid petroleum products shall not thereafter be stored in the tank as long as the tank remains bonded.

(e) Warehouse withdrawals of petroleum products from bonded tanks shall show the API gravity at 60° Fahrenheit, the group to which the product belongs, and the designation of the tank from which it is to be withdrawn. Such withdrawals may be made for "_____ United States gallons, more or less."

(f) Allowance for excessive moisture or other impurities may be made in accordance with § 15.7 of this chapter, if it be established that the quantity of water in the importation is excessive and that the noncombustible elements are impurities not usually found in such merchandise.

WOOL AND HAIR

§ 13.11 Definitions.

(a) For the purposes of §§ 13.11 to 13.16:

(1) The words "clean content" shall mean all that portion of the wool or hair which consists exclusively of wool or hair free of all vegetable and other foreign material, containing 12 percent by weight of moisture and 1½ percent by weight of material removable from the wool or hair by extraction with alcohol, and having an ash content not exceeding one-half of 1 percent by weight. "Clean content", as defined in this subparagraph, shall not include the quantity of any wool or hair fibers ordinarily lost during commercial cleaning operations.

(2) The words "percentage clean content" shall mean the clean content, as defined above, expressed as a percentage of the net weight of the wool.

(3) The word "owner" means an actual owner in whose name the entry is filed or whose declaration has been filed as provided for in section 485 (d), Tariff Act of 1930.

(4) The word "transferee" means a person who has acquired the right to withdraw merchandise in accordance with section 557 (b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

(b) The words "clean yield" in paragraph 1101 (c) (2), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, shall mean the clean content of the wool or hair.[8]

(Pars. 1101–1104, sec. 1, 46 Stat. 646, as amended, 647; 19 U. S. C. 1001, pars. 1101–1104)

§ 13.12 Invoices.

Invoices of wool or hair provided for in paragraph 1101 or 1102 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, shall show the following detailed information in addition to other information required:

(a) Condition, that is, whether in the grease, washed, pulled, on the skin, scoured, carbonized, burr-picked, willowed, handshaken, or beaten;

(b) Whether free of vegetable matter, practically free, slightly burry, medium burry, heavy burry;

(c) Whether in the fleece, skirted, matchings, or sorted;

(d) Length, that is, whether super combing, ordinary combing, clothing, or filling;

(e) Country of origin, and, if possible, the province, section, or locality of production;

(f) If wool, the type symbol by which it is bought and sold in the country of origin and the grade of each lot covered by the invoice, specifying the standard or basis used, that is, whether United States Official Standards or the commercial term to designate grade in the country of shipment;

(g) Net weight of each lot of wool or hair covered by the invoice in the condition in which it is shipped, and the shipper's estimate of the clean content of each such lot by weight or by percentage.

(Pars. 1101–1104, secs. 1, 481, 46 Stat. 646, as amended, 647, 719; 19 U.S.C. 1001, pars. 1101–1104, 1481)

§ 13.13 Entry; certificate of clean content; duties; sampling by importer.

(a) Each entry covering wool or hair subject to duty under paragraph 1101 or 1102, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[9]

[8] "For the purpose of this schedule:

"(1) Wools and hair in the grease shall be considered such as are in their natural condition as shorn from the animal, and not cleansed otherwise than by shaking, willowing, or burr-picking;

"(2) Washed wools and hair shall be considered such as have been washed, with water only, on the animal's back or on the skin, and all wool and hair, not scoured, with a higher clean yield than 77 per centum shall be considered as washed;

"(3) Scoured wools and hair shall be considered such as have been otherwise cleansed (not including shaking, willowing, burr-picking, or carbonizing);

"(4) Sorted wools or hair, or matchings, shall be wools and hair (other than skirtings) wherein the identity of individual fleeces has been destroyed, except that skirted fleeces shall not be considered sorted wools or hair, or matchings, unless the backs have been removed; * * *." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1101 (c), as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1001, par. 1101 (c))

[9] "(a) Wools: Donskoi, Smyrna, Cordova, Valparaiso, Ecuadorean, Syrian, Aleppo, Georgian, Turkestan, Arabian, Bagdad, Persian, Sistan, East Indian, Thibetan, Chinese, Manchurian, Mongolian, Egyptian, Sudan, Cyprus, Sardinian, Pyrenean, Oporto, Iceland, Scotch Blackface, Black Spanish, Kerry, Haslock, and Welsh Mountain; similar wools without merino or English blood; all other wools of whatever blood or origin not finer than 40s; and hair of the camel; all the foregoing, in the grease or washed, 24 cents per pound of clean content; scoured, 27 cents per pound of clean content; on the skin, 22 cents per pound of clean content; sorted, or matchings, if not scoured, 25 cents per pound of clean content: Provided, That a tolerance of not more than 10 per centum of wools not finer than 44s may be allowed in each bale or package of wools imported as not finer than 40s. * * *." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1101 (a), as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1001, par. 1101 (a))

"(a) Wools, not specially provided for, not finer than 44s, in the grease or washed, 29 cents per pound of clean content; scoured, 32 cents per pound of clean content; on the skin, 27 cents per pound of clean content; sorted, or matchings, if not scoured, 30 cents per pound of clean content: Provided, That a tolerance of not more than 10 per centum of wools not finer than 46s may be allowed in each bale or package of wools imported as not finer than 44s.

"(b) Wools, not specially provided for, and hair of the Angora goat, Cashmere goat, alpaca, and other like animals, in the grease or washed, 34 cents per pound of clean content; scoured, 37 cents per pound of clean content; on the skin, 32 cents per pound of clean content; sorted, or matchings, if not scoured, 35 cents per pound of clean content." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1102; 19 U. S. C. 1001, par. 1102)

"If any bale or package contains wools, hairs, wool wastes, or wool waste material, subject to different rates of duty, the highest rate applicable to any part shall apply to the entire contents of such bale or package, except as provided in paragraphs 1101 and 1102." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1103; 19 U. S. C. 1001, par. 1103)

"The Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized and directed to prescribe methods and regulations for carrying out the provisions of this schedule relating to the duties on wool and hair. The Secretary of the Treasury is further authorized and directed to procure from the Secretary of Agriculture, and deposit in such customhouses and other places in the United States or elsewhere, as he may designate, sets of the Official Standards of the United States for grades of wool. He is further authorized to display, in the customhouses of the United States, or elsewhere, numbered, but not otherwise identifiable, samples of imported wool and hair, to which are attached data as to clean content and other pertinent facts, for the information of the trade and of customs officers." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1104; 19 U. S. C. 1001, par. 1104) shall show as to each lot of wool or hair covered thereby, in addition to other information required, the total estimated or actual net weight of the wool or hair in its condition as imported, its total estimated clean content in pounds, and the estimated percentage clean content. Two copies of each entry covering wool or hair classifiable under paragraph 1101, as amended, or paragraph 1102 shall be filed in addition to the copies otherwise required.

(b) Duties on wool or hair classifiable under paragraph 1101, as amended, or paragraph 1102 may be estimated at the time of entry on the basis of the clean content shown on the entry if the collector is satisfied that the revenue will be properly protected. Liquidated duties shall be determined on the basis of the appraiser's final report of clean content. Estimated and liquidated duties on wool or hair tested for clean content pursuant to the provisions of § 13.14, and withdrawn for consumption without a change in condition which affects the duties and in a quantity less than an entire sampling unit as defined in § 13.14 (a) (1) shall be determined on the basis of an appropriate adjustment of the estimated percentage clean content shown on the entry for the wool or hair included in each of the lots covered by the withdrawal. This adjustment shall be made by increasing or decreasing such estimated percentage clean content of each lot by the difference between the percentage clean content of the related sampling unit, as reported by the appraiser, and the weighted average percentage clean content for the sampling unit, as computed from the estimated percentages clean content and net weights shown on the entry for the lots included in the sampling unit.

(c) Pursuant to the provisions of sections 509 and 510, Tariff Act of 1930, either the collector or the appraiser may require, in connection with any or all lots of wool or hair included in the importation, that the owner or his representative file in duplicate a properly and fully executed certificate on customs Form 6449 after opportunity is given to inspect the importation. If in his judgment it will aid in a more accurate determination of the amount of duty, the appraiser or the collector shall direct the importer to furnish such additional information and documents pertaining to the lot or lots as may be necessary. The release of the wool or hair may be withheld until the certificate and any other required information are received by the officer who directed its production.

(d) The importer of record, the owner, or the transferee, as the case may be, may be permitted after entry to draw samples under customs supervision in reasonable quantities from the packages of wool or hair designated for examination, provided the bales or bags are properly repacked and repaired by such person. Any samples so withdrawn shall be weighed and a record showing the quantities thereof shall be made and filed with the related entry.

(e) Duty shall be assessed and collected on samples taken pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (d) of this section or §§ 13.14, 13.15, or 13.16, unless an exemption or remission is obtained by compliance with an applicable provision of the law or regulations. The duty shall be assessed upon the samples in accordance with their condition at the time of importation, except as provided for in section 562, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended. The collection of duty on the samples may be postponed when the importation concerned is not entered for consumption until the withdrawal of the merchandise from which the samples are taken, or until an application for the destruction or abandonment of such merchandise has been accepted pursuant to an appropriate provision of the law or regulations.

§ 13.14 Weighing, sampling, and laboratory testing for clean content.

(a) When used in this section, the terms:

(1) "Sampling unit" means all the similar packages covered by one entry or withdrawal containing wool or hair of the same kind or same general condition and character, produced in the same country, packed in substantially the same manner, and entered as or found to be subject to the same rate of duty.

(2) "General sample" means the composite of the individual portions of wool or hair drawn from a sampling unit.

(b) The following shall be weighed, sampled, and tested for clean content, as prescribed in this section, unless such sampling or testing is not feasible: (1) All importations of wool or hair classifiable under the provisions of paragraph 1102, Tariff Act of 1930, except importations entered directly for manipulation under the provisions of section 562, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, or for manufacture under the provisions of section 311, Tariff Act of 1930; (2) all imported wool or hair manipulated under the provisions of such section 562 and classifiable after manipulation under the provisions of such paragraph 1102; and (3) such other imported wool or hair as the collector may designate. When an original sampling unit has been weighed, sampled, and tested in accordance with this section and a part of such unit is covered by a transfer made pursuant to section 557 (b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, the percentages clean content of the part covered by the transfer and of the part not so covered shall be computed on the basis of the original customs weights and test, and the invoice data related to the respective parts. When part of such an original sampling unit is exported from continuous customs custody without having been manipulated as provided for in section 562, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, the percentage clean content of the part not exported shall be determined, in the discretion of the collector of customs, either on the basis of a new determination by reweighing, resampling, and retesting, or by a computation as described in the preceding sentence, for either the exported or the remaining part.

(c) A general sample shall be taken from each sampling unit, unless it is not feasible to obtain a representative general sample of the wool or hair in a sampling unit or to test such a sample in accordance with the provisions of this section, in which case the clean content of the wool or hair in such sampling unit shall be estimated as provided for in § 13.15. At the request of the importer of record, the owner, or the transferee, as the case may be, two general samples may be taken from a sampling unit if the taking and testing of a second general sample is feasible. If two general samples are taken, one general sample shall be held for use in making a second test to determine the clean content of the wool or hair if such a test is requested in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (e) of this section, or if a second test is found desirable by the appraiser or the chief chemist.

(d) The clean content of all general samples taken in accordance with this section shall be determined by test in a customs laboratory, unless it is found that it is not feasible to test such a sample and obtain a proper finding of percentage clean content. A report of the percentage clean content of each general sample as established by the test or a statement of the reason for not testing a general sample shall be forwarded to the appraiser. If the report is not received by the appraiser within 1 month after the date of entry, the clean content of the wool or hair shall be estimated as provided for in § 13.15 except that in the case of wool or hair received under an entry for immediate transportation, an estimate of clean content, as provided for in § 13.15 shall be made if the laboratory report of clean content is not received by the appraiser within 1 month from the date on which the last of the merchandise is received. However, the appraiser may withhold his finding of clean content until the laboratory report is received and predicate his finding on that report if so requested in writing by the importer of record, the owner, or the transferee, as the case may be. An estimate of clean content shall be made pursuant to the provisions of this paragraph only when an adequate quantity of the wool or hair is available for examination.

(e) The appraiser shall promptly notify the importer of record, the owner, or the transferee, as the case may be, by mail of the percentage clean content found by him. If such person is dissatisfied with the appraiser's finding, he may file with the appraiser a written request in duplicate for another laboratory test for percentage clean content. Such request shall be filed within 14 calendar days after the date of mailing of the notice of the appraiser's finding of clean content and shall be supported by a certificate in duplicate on customs Form 6449 when such a certificate has not been filed previously. The request shall be granted if it appears to the appraiser to be made in good faith and if a second general sample, as provided for in paragraph (c) of this section is available for testing, or if all packages, or, in the opinion of the Bureau, an adequate number of the packages, represented by the general sample are available and in their original imported condition. The second test shall be made upon the second general sample, if such a sample is available. If the second general sample is not available, the packages shall be reweighed, resampled, and tested in accordance with the provisions of this section. All costs and expenses of such operations, exclusive of the compensation of customs officers, shall be borne by the person who requested the further test. Such person may be present during such resampling and testing. If he is dissatisfied with the results of the second laboratory test, or if a second laboratory test is not feasible, the wool or hair may be retested subject to the conditions and in the manner provided for in § 13.15 (c).

(f) Except as provided in paragraph (g) of this section, in the determination of the clean content of any general sample taken in accordance with this section, an allowance in weight shall be made for wool or hair fibers which it is estimated will be lost ordinarily during commercial cleaning operations. For each general sample the scoured yield of the imported wool or hair and the quantity of vegetable matter present in the general sample shall be ascertained. The weight of the vegetable matter shall be subtracted from the weight of the scoured yield, and the difference shall be considered the weight of the clean fibers present in the imported wool or hair. The allowance for the quantity of wool or hair fibers estimated to be lost ordinarily during commercial cleaning operations shall be computed by making a base allowance of five one-thousandths (0.005) of the ascertained weight of the clean fibers present in the imported wool or hair and an additional allowance of six-tenths (0.6) of a pound for each pound of ascertained vegetable matter: Provided, That the combined allowance for such estimated commercial cleaning loss of fibers shall not exceed 15 per centum of the ascertained weight of the clean wool or hair fibers.

(g) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, an allowance equal to the actual irrecoverable loss in weight of wool or hair fibers resulting from commercial cleaning processes to which a particular sampling unit of wool or hair is subjected shall be made if the importer at the time of entry, or withdrawal from warehouse, for consumption notifies the collector of his intention to furnish evidence establishing such actual irrecoverable loss and produce such evidence within three years from the date of entry or withdrawal. In such cases (1) absolute segregation of such wool or hair shall be maintained until the importer has been notified by the collector that he has accepted evidence showing such actual irrecoverable loss; (2) such evidence shall not be based on samples or estimates, but shall include manufacturer's records showing in detail the actual irrecoverable losses, if any, in wool or hair fibers resulting from commercial cleaning processes to which the whole of the segregated wool or hair has been subjected; (3) such wool or hair and records relating thereto, which are pertinent in this connection, shall be kept available for such inspection as the collector may from time to time deem appropriate; (4) liquidation of the entry covering such wool or hair shall be suspended pending acceptance by the collector of evidence of actual irrecoverable loss, unless such evidence is not furnished within 3 years from the date of entry or withdrawal; and (5) if such evidence is not furnished within that time, it shall be presumed that no such loss has occurred and in those cases, no allowance for any loss of wool or hair fibers after importation shall be made in the determination of the clean content of the sampling unit, notwithstanding any other provision of this part: Provided, That as to wool or hair which has not been entered for warehouse an importer may abandon his intention to furnish evidence of actual irrecoverable losses by filing written notice of such abandonment with the collector within 60 days after entry. If such notice of abandonment is filed, the provisions of paragraph (f) of this section shall apply as if no notification under this paragraph had been filed.

§ 13.15 Examination for clean content by nonlaboratory method.

(a) Importations of wool or hair classified under the provisions of paragraph 1101 or 1102, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, including all imported wool or hair withdrawn for consumption after being manipulated under the provisions of section 562, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and classified under the provisions of paragraph 1101, as amended, or paragraph 1102 after such manipulation, when not tested under the provisions of § 13.14, shall be examined by the appropriate customs officer, who shall estimate and report the percentage clean content of each lot.

(b) The appraiser shall promptly notify the importer of record, the owner, or the transferee, as the case may be, by mail of the percentage clean content estimated by the appropriate customs officer. If such person is dissatisfied with the estimate and, within the time and under the conditions prescribed in § 13.14 (e), files a request for a new examination of the wool or hair and a reestimation of its percentage clean content, such request shall be granted, provided the request appears to the appraiser to be made in good faith. The aforementioned importer, owner, or transferee shall be given an opportunity to inspect those of the packages which are in dispute.

(c) If the person who requested reestimation of the percentage clean content is dissatisfied with such reestimation, he may, within 14 calendar days after the date of mailing of the notice of the appraiser's findings upon reexamination, file a written request that a test be made to determine the percentage clean content of the wool or hair. The appraiser shall then cause a representative quantity of the wool or hair in dispute to be selected and tested by a commercial method approved by the Bureau. The yield, as determined by such commercial test, shall be suitably adjusted to coincide with the definition of clean content in § 13.11 (a). Such test shall be made under the supervision and direction of the appraiser at an establishment approved by him, and the expense thereof, including the actual expense of travel and subsistence of customs officers but not their compensation, shall be paid by the person who requested the test.

(d) If the appraiser is not satisfied with the results of any test provided for in § 13.14 (e) or in paragraph (c) of this section, he may, within 14 calendar days after receiving the report of the results of such test, proceed to have another test made upon a suitable sample of the wool or hair at the expense of the Government. When the appraiser is proceeding to have another test made, he shall, within the 14-day period provided for in this paragraph, notify the importer of record, owner, or transferee, as the case may be, by mail of that fact. The appraiser shall base his final report of clean content upon a consideration of all of the tests and examinations made in connection with the wool or hair concerned.

§ 13.16 Grades of wool, standards, reconsideration of.

The appraiser shall cause wool provided for in paragraph 1101 or 1102 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, to be examined for grade.[7] If classification of the wool at the grade or grades determined on the basis of this examination will result in the assessment of duty at a rate higher than the rate provided for wool of the grade or grades stated in the entry, the appraiser

[7] "The standards for determining grades of wools shall be those which are established from time to time by the Secretary of Agriculture pursuant to law and which are in effect on the date of importation of the wools." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 1101(c)(5), as amended, 19 U.S.C. 1001, par. 1101(c)(5).)

shall promptly notify, by mail, the importer of record, the owner, or the transferee, as the case may be. If such importer of record, owner, or transferee is dissatisfied with the appraiser's findings as to the grade or grades of the wool, he may, within 14 calendar days after the date of mailing of the notice of the appraiser's findings, file in duplicate a written request for another determination of grade or grades, stating the reason for the request. Notice of the appraiser's findings on the basis of the reexamination of the wool shall be mailed to the person who requested the reexamination.

(Pars. 1101–1104, sec. 1, 46 Stat. 646, as amended, 647; 19 U. S. C. 1001, pars. 1101–1104)

COTTON

§ 13.17 Invoices.

Invoices of cotton provided for in paragraph 783 or 1662, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, shall show the following detailed information in addition to other required information:

(a) One of the following statements regardmg each lot of cotton covered by the invoice:

(1) This is harsh or rough cotton under ¾ inch in staple length.

(2) The staple length of this cotton is under 1⅛ inches. (This statement is not to be used if subparagraph (1) of this paragraph is applicable.)

(3) The staple length of this cotton is 1⅛ inches or more and under 1⅜ inches.

(4) This cotton is harsh or rough cotton (other than cotton of perished staple, grabbots, and cotton pickings), white in color, and has a staple length of 1$\frac{15}{32}$ inches or more and under 1⅜ inches.

(5) The staple length of this cotton is 1⅜ inches or more and under 1$\frac{11}{16}$ inches.

(6) The staple length of this cotton is 1$\frac{11}{16}$ inches or more.

(b) The name of the country of origin and, if practicable, the name of the province or other subdivision of the country of origin in which the cotton was grown.

(c) The variety of the cotton, such as Karnak, Gisha, Pima, Tanguis, etc.

§ 13.18 Sampling and stapling.

(a) For the purposes of this section and § 13.17, "staple length" means the length of the fibers in a particular quantity of cotton designated in terms expressing the measurement by the inch or fraction thereof of a representative portion of the quantity in accordance with the Official Cotton Standards of the United States for length of staple, as established by the Secretary of Agriculture.

(b) For determining the staple length of any lot of cotton for any customs purposes, samples of the lot shall be taken in accordance with commercial practice.

(c) The appraiser shall have one or more samples of each sampled bale of cotton stapled by a qualified examiner (including any employee of the Department of Agriculture properly designated by the Bureau for the purpose), and shall promptly transmit by mail to the person who would be liable for duties, if any are or might be payable, a notice of the results determined.

(d) If the person notified is dissatisfied with the appraiser's determination, he may file with the appraiser, within 14 calendar days after the date of mailing of the notice, a written request in duplicate for a redetermination of the staple length. Each such request shall include a statement of the claimed staple length for the cotton in question and a clear statement of the basis for the claim. The request shall be granted if it appears to the appraiser to be made in good faith. In making the redetermination of staple length, the appraiser may obtain an opinion of a board of cotton examiners of the United States Department of Agriculture, if he deems such action advisable. All expenses occasioned by any redetermination of staple length, exclusive of the compensation of customs officers, shall be reimbursed to the Government by the person requesting the redetermination.

§ 14.1 Order of appraisement; designation of packages for examination.

(a) The designation of packages or quantities of merchandise for examination shall be deemed an order of appraisement for the purposes of section 488, Tariff Act of 1930.[1]

(b) Not less than 1 package of every 10 packages of merchandise shall be designated by the collector to be examined for the purpose of appraisement, unless a special regulation permits a less number of packages to be examined.[2] Collectors of customs are specially authorized to designate for examination a less number of packages than one package of every ten packages, but not less than one package of every invoice, in the case of any merchandise which is (1) imported in packages the contents and values of which are uniform, or (2) imported in packages the contents of which are identical as to character although differing as to quantity and value per package.

(c) This section shall not be construed to preclude the examination of packages in addition to the minimum number hereby permitted to be examined if the collector or the appraiser shall deem it necessary that a greater number of packages be examined.

§ 14.2 Examination of merchandise; procedure.

(a) The appraiser shall cause to be examined all merchandise designated by the collector and such additional quantities, packages, or parts thereof as he may deem necessary.[3] Such mer-

[1] "The collector within whose district any merchandise is entered shall cause such merchandise to be appraised." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 488; 19 U. S. C. 1488)

[2] "• • • The collector shall designate the packages or quantities covered by any invoice or entry which are to be opened and examined for the purpose of appraisement or otherwise and shall order such packages or quantities to be sent to the public stores or other places for such purpose. Not less than one package of every ten packages of merchandise shall be so designated unless the Secretary of the Treasury, from the character and description of the merchandise, is of the opinion that the examination of a less proportion of packages will amply protect the revenue and by special regulation or instruction, the application of which may be restricted to one or more individual ports or to one or more importations or one or more classes of merchandise, permit a less number of packages to be examined. All such special regulations or instructions shall be published in the weekly Treasury Decisions within fifteen days after issuance and before the liquidation of any entries affected thereby. The collector or the appraiser may require such additional packages or quantities as either of them may deem necessary. • • •" (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 499, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1499)

[3] "It shall be the duty of the appraiser under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe—

"(1) To appraise the merchandise in the unit of quantity in which the merchandise is usually bought and sold by ascertaining or estimating the value thereof by all reasonable ways and means in his power, any statement of cost or cost of production in any invoice, affidavit, declaration, or other document to the contrary notwithstanding;

"(2) To ascertain the number of yards, parcels, or quantities of the merchandise ordered or designated for examination;

"(3) To ascertain whether the merchandise has been truly and correctly invoiced;

"(4) To describe the merchandise in order that the collector may determine the dutiable classification thereof; and

"(5) To report his decisions to the collector." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 500 (a); 19 U. S. C. 1500 (a))

"• • • If any package is found by the appraiser to contain any article not specified in the invoice and he reports to the collector

chandise shall be examined at the public stores, except as hereinafter provided for. With the consent of the appraiser, merchandise which cannot conveniently be examined at the public stores may be examined on the wharf, at the importer's premises, or at any other suitable place. Matches and other inflammable, explosive, or dangerous articles shall be examined at the importer's premises or other suitable place, but not at the public stores.

(b) When, upon the request of the importer, merchandise is examined elsewhere than at the public stores, or at a place other than a port of entry or a customs station at which a customs officer is permanently located, any additional expense, including actual expenses of travel and subsistence but not the salary of the examining officer, shall be paid by the importer, except that no collection need be made if the total amount chargeable against one importer for one day amounts to less than 50 cents. If the total amount chargeable amounts to 50 cents or more, but less than $1, a minimum charge of $1 shall be made.

(c) Before permitting the removal of merchandise for examination elsewhere than at the public stores, wharf, or other place in charge of a customs officer, the collector shall require the importer to execute a bond on customs Form 7551, 7553, or other appropriate form, containing a condition for the return of the merchandise if demand for return is made after its release from customs custody upon the completion of final examination for purposes of appraisement. The bond shall contain added conditions that the importer shall hold the merchandise at the place to which it has been removed for examination until it has been released from customs custody; that, if such merchandise has been corded and sealed, the cords and seals shall be kept intact until removed by customs officers; and that the importer shall transfer the merchandise at any time before such release to such place as the collector may direct.

(d) If the collector deems it necessary, the packages shall be corded and sealed by a customs officer before being removed from the place of unlading and a caution notice, customs Form 6087, shall be securely affixed thereto. The packages shall be opened only in the presence of a customs officer authorized to examine their contents, and the opening and closing of the packages shall be done by labor furnished by the importer.

(e) Upon application by the importer or owner, machinery, altars, shrines, and other articles which must be set up or assembled prior to examination may be examined and appraised at the mill, factory, or other suitable place after being set up or assembled. In all such cases a bond on customs Form 7551, 7553, or other appropriate form shall be taken; the collector also may require that a deposit be made of the estimated additional expense. The packages need not be corded and sealed, but the appraiser may make such preliminary examination as he deems necessary to identify the merchandise with the invoice. After the bond has been filed and any necessary preliminary examination has been made, the collector may permit the merchandise to be removed to the place at which it is to be set up or assembled for examination. Within 90 days after such removal, unless an extension has been applied for and granted by the collector, the importer shall notify the collector or appraiser that the machinery or other articles have been set up or assembled and are ready for examination, whereupon final examination shall be made and the appraisement completed.

(f) When merchandise covered by an immediate transportation entry has been authorized by the collector to be delivered to a place outside a port of entry, as provided for in § 18.11 (c) of this chapter, the provisions of paragraphs (a) to (e), inclusive, of this section shall be complied with to the same extent as would have been required if the merchandise had been delivered to the port of entry designated in the transportation entry and then authorized to be examined elsewhere than at the public stores, wharf, or other place where a customs officer is regularly stationed.

(g) When deemed sufficient for the purposes, samples of merchandise may be used for examination and appraisement. Representative samples shall be selected by a customs sampler or other authorized customs officer from the merchandise or packages designated by the collector for examination, and shall be properly marked to insure identification and retained as long as the appraiser shall deem necessary.

(h) If the appraiser requires samples from packages not designated for examination, he shall request the importer, on customs Form 6525, to submit them and execute the certificate on the reverse side of customs Form 6525.

(i) Tobacco examination districts and, in the case of each district, the tobacco examiner who shall have general supervision of the examination of all Cuban leaf tobacco imported in such district, are hereby designated as follows:

District No. 1. To include all the ports in the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, and South Carolina, the District of Columbia, and the Island of Puerto Rico. The tobacco examiner stationed at the port of New York.

District No. 2. To include all the ports in the States of Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, and Texas. The tobacco examiner stationed at the port of Tampa.

District No. 3. To include all the ports in the States of Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, and Colorado. The tobacco examiner stationed at the port of Chicago.

District No. 4. To include all the ports in the States of Washington, Oregon, California, Idaho, Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico, and Utah. The tobacco examiner stationed at the port of San Francisco.

§ 14.3 Appraisement of merchandise; determination of value.

(a) Except as otherwise herein provided for, the value of imported merchandise for appraisement purposes shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of new section 402, Tariff Act of 1930, added by section 2 (a) of the Customs Simplification Act of 1956.[4] The value of imported articles specified in the final list published pursuant to section 6(a) of that act [4a] shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of section 402a, Tariff Act of 1930, as redesignated and amended.[4b] With respect to any article described on the final list in terms of unit values, the unit value is to be computed in accordance with section that in his opinion such article was omitted from the invoice with fraudulent intent on the part of the seller, shipper, owner, or agent, the contents of the entire package in which such article is found shall be liable to seizure, but if the appraiser reports that no such fraudulent intent is apparent then the value of said article shall be added to the entry and the duties thereon paid accordingly. If a deficiency is found in quantity, weight, or measure in the examination of any package, report thereof shall be made to the collector, * * *." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 499, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1499)

[4] (a) Basis—Except as otherwise specifically provided for in this act, the value of imported merchandise for the purposes of this act shall be—

(1) The export value, or

(2) If the export value cannot be determined satisfactorily, then the United States value, or

(3) If neither the export value nor the United States value can be determined satisfactorily, then the constructed value;

except that, in the case on an imported article subject to a rate of duty based on the American selling price of a domestic article, such value shall be—

(4) The American selling price of such domestic article.

(b) Export value. For the purposes of this section, the export value of imported merchandise shall be the price, at the time of exportation to the United States of the merchandise undergoing appraisement, at which such or similar merchandise is freely sold or, in the absence of sales, offered for sale in the principal markets of the country of exportation, in the usual wholesale quantities and in the ordinary course of trade, for exportation to the United States, plus, when not included in such price, the cost of all containers and coverings of whatever nature and all other expenses incidental to placing the merchandise in condition, packed ready for shipment to the United States.

(c) United States value. For the purposes of this section, the United States value of imported merchandise shall be the price, at the time of exportation to the United States of the merchandise undergoing appraisement, at which such or similar merchandise is freely sold or, in the absence of sales, offered for sale in the principal market of the United States for domestic consumption, packed ready for delivery, in the usual wholesale quantities and in the ordinary course of trade, with allowances made for—

(1) Any commission usually paid or agreed to be paid, or the addition for profit and general expenses usually made, in connection with sales in such market of imported merchandise of the same class or kind as the merchandise undergoing appraisement;

(2) The usual costs of transportation and insurance and other usual expenses incurred with respect to such or similar merchandise from the place of shipment to the place of delivery, not including any expense provided for in subdivision (1); and

(3) The ordinary customs duties and other Federal taxes currently payable on such or similar merchandise by reason of its importation, and any Federal excise taxes on, or measured by the value of, such or similar merchandise, for which vendors at wholesale in the United States are ordinarily liable.

If such or similar merchandise was not so sold or offered at the time of exportation of the merchandise undergoing appraisement, the United States value shall be determined, subject to the foregoing specifications of this subsection, from the price at which such or similar merchandise is so sold or offered at the earliest date after such time of exportation but before the expiration of ninety days after the importation of the merchandise undergoing appraisement.

(d) Constructed value. For the purposes of this section, the constructed value of imported merchandise shall be the sum of—

(1) The cost of materials (exclusive of any internal tax applicable in the country of exportation directly to such materials or their disposition, but remitted or refunded upon the exportation of the article in the production of which such materials are used) and of fabrication or other processing of any kind employed in producing such or similar merchandise, at a time preceding the date of exportation of the merchandise undergoing appraisement which would ordinarily permit the production of that particular merchandise in the ordinary course of business;

(2) An amount for general expenses and profit equal to that usually reflected in sales of merchandise of the same general class or kind as the merchandise undergoing appraisement which are made by producers in the country of exportation, in the usual wholesale quantities and in the ordinary course of trade, for shipment to the United States; and

(3) The cost of all containers and coverings of whatever nature, and all other expenses incidental to placing the merchandise undergoing appraisement in condition, packed ready for shipment to the United States.

(e) American Selling Price. For the purposes of this section, the American selling price of any article produced in the United States shall be the price, including the cost of all containers and coverings of whatever nature and all other expenses incidental to placing the article in condition packed ready for delivery, at which such article is freely sold or, in the absence of sales, offered for sale for domestic consumption in the principal market of the United States, in the ordinary course of trade and in the usual wholesale quantities, or the price that the manufacturer, producer, or owner would have received or was willing to receive for such article when sold for domestic consumption in the ordinary course of trade and in the usual wholesale quantities, at the time of exportation of the imported article.

(f) Definitions. For the purposes of this section—

(1) The term "freely sold or, in the absence of sales, offered for sale" means sold or, in the absence of sales, offered—

(A) To all purchasers at wholesale, or

(B) In the ordinary course of trade to one or more selected purchasers at wholesale at a price which fairly reflects the market value of the merchandise, without restrictions as to the disposition or use of the merchandise by the purchaser, except restrictions as to such disposition or use which (i) are imposed or required by law, (ii) limit the price at which or the territory in which the merchandise may be resold, or (iii) do not substantially affect the value of the merchandise to usual purchasers at wholesale.

(2) The term "ordinary course of trade" means the conditions and practices which, for a reasonable time prior to the exportation of the merchandise undergoing appraisement, have been normal in the trade under consideration with respect to merchandise of the same class or kind as the merchandise undergoing appraisement.

(3) The term "purchasers at wholesale" means purchasers who buy in the usual wholesale quantities for industrial use or for resale otherwise than at retail; or, if there are no such purchasers, then all other purchasers for resale who buy in the usual wholesale quantities; or, if there are no purchasers in either of the foregoing categories, then all other purchasers who buy in the usual wholesale quantities.

(4) The term "such or similar merchandise" means merchandise in the first of the following categories in respect of which export value, United States value, or constructed value, as the case may be, can be satisfactorily determined:

(A) The merchandise undergoing appraisement and other merchandise which is identical in physical characteristics with, and was produced in the same country by the same person as, the merchandise undergoing appraisement.

(B) Merchandise which is identical in physical characteristics with, and was produced by another person in the same country as, the merchandise undergoing appraisement.

(C) Merchandise (i) produced in the same country and by the same person as the merchandise undergoing appraisement, (ii) like the merchandise undergoing appraisement in component material or materials and in the purposes for which used, and (iii) approximately equal in commercial value to the merchandise undergoing appraisement.

(D) Merchandise which satisfies all the requirements of subdivision (C) except that it was produced by another person.

(5) The term "usual wholesale quantities", in any case in which the merchandise in respect of which value is being determined is sold in the market under consideration at different prices for different quantities, means the quantities in which such merchandise is there sold at the price or prices for one quantity in an aggregate volume which is greater than the aggregate volume sold at the price or prices for any other quantity.

(g) Transactions Between Related Persons.

(1) For the purposes of subsection (c) (1) or (d), as the case may be, a transaction directly or indirectly between persons specified in any one of the subdivisions in paragraph (2) of this subsection may be disregarded if, in the case of any element of value required to be considered, the amount representing that element does not fairly reflect the amount usually reflected in sales in the market under consideration of merchandise of the same general class or kind as the merchandise undergoing appraisement. If a transaction is disregarded under the preceding sentence and there are no other transactions available for consideration, then, for the purposes of subsection (d), the determination of the amount required to be considered shall be based on the best evidence available as to what the amount would have been if the transaction had occurred between persons not specified in any one of the subdivisions in paragraph (2).

(2) The persons referred to in paragraph (1) are:

(A) Members of a family, including brothers and sisters (whether by the whole or half blood), spouse, ancestors, and lineal descendants;

(B) Any officer or director of an organization and such organization;

(C) Partners;

(D) Employer and employee;

(E) Any person directly or indirectly owning, controlling, or holding with power to vote, 5 per centum or more of the outstanding voting stock or shares of any organization and such organization; and

(F) Two or more persons directly or indirectly controlling, controlled by, or under common control with, any person. (Section 402, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1401a.)

[4a] Sec. 6. (a) The Secretary of the Treasury shall determine and make public a list of the articles which shall be valued in accordance with section 402a, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended by this act, as follows:

As soon as practicable after the enactment of this act the Secretary shall make public a preliminary list of the imported articles which he shall have determined, after such investigation as he deems necessary, would have been appraised in accordance with section 402 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended by this act, at average values for each article which are 95 (or less) per centum of the average values at which such article was actually appraised during the fiscal year 1954. If within sixty days after the publication of such preliminary list any manufacturer, producer, or wholesaler in the United States presents to the Secretary his reason for belief that any imported articles not specified in such list and like or similar to articles manufactured, produced, or sold at wholesale by him would have been appraised in accordance with such section 402 at average values which are 95 (or less) per centum of the average values at which they were or would have been appraised under section 402a, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended by this act, the Secretary shall cause such investigation of the matter to be made as he deems necessary. If in the opinion of the Secretary the reason for belief is substantiated by the investigation, the articles involved shall be added to the preliminary list and such list, including any additions so made thereto, shall be published as a final list. Every article so specified in the final list which is entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption on or after the thirtieth day following the date of publication of the final list shall be appraised in accordance with the provisions of section 402a, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended by this act. (Sec. 6 (a) 70 Stat. 948.)

[4b] "(a) BASIS. For the purposes of this Act the value of imported articles designated by the Secretary of the Treasury as provided for in section 6 (a) of the Customs Simplification Act of 1956 shall be—

"(1) The foreign value or the export value, whichever is higher;

"(2) If the appraiser determines that neither the foreign value nor the export value can be satisfactorily ascertained, then the United States value;

"(3) If the appraiser determines that neither the foreign value, the export value, nor the United States value can be satisfactorily ascertained, then the cost of production;

"(4) In the case of an article with respect to which there is in effect under section 336 a rate of duty based upon the American selling price of a domestic article, then the American selling price of such article.

* * * * *

"(c) Foreign value. The foreign value of imported merchandise shall be the market value or the price at the time of exportation of such merchandise to the United States, 402a for the purpose of ascertaining whether the article undergoing appraisement is included on the list. If the value so computed brings the article within the scope of the value on the final list, such article must be appraised in accordance with section 402a and classified at the rate applicable to the appraised value. If the value so computed places the article outside the scope of the value on the final list, the article must be appraised in accordance with section 402 and classified at the rate applicable to the appraised value.

(b) The time of exportation referred to in section 402 and section 402a of the tariff act, as amended, is the date on which the merchandise actually leaves the country of exportation for the United States.[4] However, if the merchandise is not exported directly by water and no positive evidence is at hand as to the date of exportation, the date of the special customs or commercial invoice shall be considered to be the date of exportation unless the invoice appears to be dated after the date the merchandise actually left the country of exportation. If such invoice covers several individual bills of different dates, the latest of such dates, unless it appears to be later than the actual date of export, shall be considered to be the date of exportation. In the case of indirect shipments exported from one country through another, if the invoice is post dated, the date of the bill of lading may be considered to be the date of exportation in the absence of other evidence if the bill of lading was issued in the country of exportation. A bill of lading showing the date of shipment shall be accepted as evidence of the date of exportation, if such bill has been certified in accordance with the provisions of section 2904, Revised Statutes (19 U. S. C. 240).

(c) The appraiser shall determine the amount and dutiability of any costs, charges, and expenses which are incident to making the merchandise ready for shipment to this country within the meaning of sections 402 or 402a, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.[5]

(d) Merchandise imported from one country,[7] being the growth, production, or manufacture of another country, shall be appraised at its value in the principal markets of the country from which it is immediately imported unless it appears by the invoice, bill of lading, or other evidence that the merchandise was destined for the United States at the time of original shipment, in which case it shall be appraised at its value in the principal markets of the country from which it was originally exported.

(e) The report of the appraiser as to value shall not be reconsidered or modified by him after the appraised invoice and report of appraisement has been lodged with the collector, but within 60 days thereafter an appeal for reappraisement may be filed by the collector if he believes the appraisement is incorrect.[8]

(f) Instructions for appraisement of merchandise in cases involving the conversion of foreign currencies for which two or more rates of exchange have been certified by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York are contained in § 16.4 of this chapter.

(Secs. 402, 488, 500, 46 Stat. 708, as amended, 714, 729, as amended, sec. 402, 70 Stat. 943; 19 U.S.C. 1401a, 1402, 1488, 1500)

§ 14.4 Furnishing information as to values.

The appraiser shall furnish to importers the latest information as to values in his possession, subject to the following conditions:

(a) Such information shall be given before appraisement only as provided for in § 8.29 (c) and (d) of this chapter, or in response to a specific oral or written request therefor by an importer or his representative, supported by an adequate reason for the request, and in no case shall be volunteered by a customs employee.

(b) The information shall be given only in regard to merchandise to be appraised by, or under the jurisdiction of, the appraiser who receives the request, and only after the merchandise has arrived at the port of entry or upon satisfactory evidence that it has been exported and is en route to the United States.

(c) Each request shall be accompanied by the latest information as to the values in question which the importer has or reasonably can obtain.

(d) Information shall be given only with an understanding and agreement in each case that the information is in no sense an appraisement and is not binding upon the appraiser's action when he appraises the goods.

(e) The appraiser shall not be required to reply to a written request for value information after a value for the merchandise has been declared on entry unless he has information indicating a probable appraised value different from such entered value.

§ 14.5 Coal-tar products.

(a) Subject to the conditions of § 8.5(b) of this chapter, prior to entry an importer shall be permitted to take samples under proper supervision from his own importation of articles dutiable under paragraph 27 or 28, Tariff Act of 1930.

(b) When an importer seeks information from the appraising officer prior to entry or formal entry is withheld for the importer's convenience as provided for in paragraph (e) of this section, the importer shall furnish to the appraising officer such relevant information as he may request.

(c) Importers may be furnished information as to the American selling price or United States value of coal-tar products upon compliance with the provisions of § 14.4.

(d) The appraiser at New York shall from time to time issue lists of coal-tar products which he believes to be competitive and noncompetitive within the contemplation of subparagraphs (c) and (d) of paragraph 27 or 28 of the tariff act,[9] and add articles thereto or remove articles therefrom as investigation shall justify. This list is advisory only and in no manner relieves appraising officers from the duty of independent appraisement required by law. The appraiser shall furnish copies of such lists and amendments thereof to the Customs Information Exchange for circulation among other appraising officers and the public upon request.

(e) The appraiser at New York, upon application of an importer having an invoice of an article not named on either the competitive or the noncompetitive list, shall proceed immediately to ascertain to which list the article belongs and, upon such ascertainment shall add the article to such list. The importer may withhold formal entry pending addition of the article to either list. The appraiser shall inform the importer of his action.

(f) When an imported article is of different strength from a similar competitive article manufactured or produced in the United States, the value of the imported article shall be adjusted in relation to the selling price of the domestic article in the proportion which the strength of the imported article bears to that of the domestic article.[10]

(g) When an article is a similar competitive article, the value of such article shall be that portion of the American selling price of the domestic article freely offered for sale which bears the same ratio to such price as the value of the domestic article not freely offered for sale has to the value of the article in the manufacture of which it is used.

(h) When the appraising officer shall be satisfied after investigation that a similar competitive domestic article is offered for sale at an arbitrary and unreasonable price not intended to secure bona fide sales and which does not secure bona fide sales, such price shall not be considered as the American selling price, and such officer shall use all reasonable ways and means to ascertain the price that the manufacturer, producer, or owner would have received, within the meaning of sections 402 (e) or 402a (g), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

(i) Where two or more domestic articles are considered similar to and competitive with an imported article, the American selling price of the domestic article which accomplishes results most nearly equal to those of the imported article shall be taken as the basis for the assessment of the ad valorem rate.[11]

(j) In the ascertainment of United States value, the allowances permitted under sections 402 (c) or 402a (e), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, shall be made on the basis of the amounts of the factors enumerated therein which actually entered into the price at which such or similar imported merchandise was being sold in the principal market of the United States at the time of exportation, subject to the limitations as to profits, general expenses, or commission.

(k) Tests which are necessary in the appraisement of an imported coal-tar product shall be made under conditions approximating as closely as practicable the conditions in which the articles will be actually used in trade or manufacture.

(l) When a coal-tar product is found to be noncompetitive and no United States value can be ascertained, the article shall be appraised in accordance with section 402 (a) or section 402a (a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

(m) Standards of strength for coal-tar products adopted by the Secretary of the Treasury will be published from time to time and such standards heretofore adopted and published shall continue in force until changed or revoked.[12]

(n) The Chief Chemist, Customs Laboratory, 201 Varick Street, New York, is hereby authorized to receive from domestic manufacturers samples of those coal-tar products they produce and offer and which are more specifically de-

at which such or similar merchandise is freely offered for sale for home consumption to all purchasers in the principal markets of the country from which exported, in the usual wholesale quantities and in the ordinary course of trade, including the cost of all containers and coverings of whatever nature, and all other costs, charges, and expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition, packed ready for shipment to the United States.

"(d) Export value. The export value of imported merchandise shall be the market value or the price at the time of exportation of such merchandise to the United States, at which such or similar merchandise is freely offered for sale to all purchasers in the principal markets of the country from which exported, in the usual wholesale quantities and in the ordinary course of trade, for exportation to the United States, plus, when not included in such price, the cost of all containers and coverings of whatever nature, and all other costs, charges, and expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition, packed ready for shipment to the United States.

"(e) United States value. The United States value of imported merchandise shall be the price at which such or similar imported merchandise is freely offered for sale, for domestic consumption, packed ready for delivery, in the principal market of the United States to all purchasers, at the time of exportation of the imported merchandise, in the usual wholesale quantities and in the ordinary course of trade, with allowance made for duty, cost of transportation and insurance, and other necessary expenses from the place of shipment to the place of delivery, a commission not exceeding 6 per centum, if any had been paid or contracted to be paid on goods secured otherwise than by purchase, or profits not to exceed 8 per centum and a reasonable allowance for general expenses, not to exceed 8 per centum on purchased goods.

"(f) Cost of production. For the purpose of this title the cost of production of imported merchandise shall be the sum of—

"(1) The cost of materials of, and of fabrication, manipulation, or other process employed in manufacturing or producing such or similar merchandise, at a time preceding the date of exportation of the particular merchandise under consideration which would ordinarily permit the manufacture or production of the particular merchandise under consideration in the usual course of business;

"(2) The usual general expenses (not less than 10 per centum of such cost) in the case of such or similar merchandise;

"(3) The cost of all containers and coverings of whatever nature, and all other costs, charges, and expenses incident to placing the particular merchandise under consideration in condition, packed ready for shipment to the United States; and

"(4) An addition for profit (not less than 8 per centum of the sum of the amounts found under paragraphs (1) and (2) of this subdivision) equal to the profit which ordinarily is added, in the case of merchandise of the same general character as the particular merchandise under consideration, by manufacturers or producers in the country of manufacture or production who are engaged in the production or manufacture of merchandise of the same class or kind.

"(g) American selling price. The American selling price of any article manufactured or produced in the United States shall be the price, including the cost of all containers and coverings of whatever nature and all other costs, charges, and expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition packed ready for delivery, at which such article is freely offered for sale for domestic consumption to all purchasers in the principal market of the United States, in the ordinary course of trade and in the usual wholesale quantities in such market, or the price that the manufacturer, producer, or owner would have received or was willing to receive for such merchandise when sold for domestic consumption in the ordinary course of trade and in the usual wholesale quantities, at the time of exportation of the imported article." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 402a, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1402)

[4] If the merchandise is shipped directly by water from the country of export, the date of the sailing of the vessel is the date of exportation. Since the act of exportation is not complete until the merchandise finally leaves the jurisdiction of the exporting country, if a vessel with merchandise on board sails from two or more ports, or more than once from the same port, of the exporting country, whether or not stopping on the intervening voyage at a port of another jurisdiction, or if the merchandise is transhipped in another jurisdiction and subsequently reenters the jurisdiction of the exporting country on another vessel, or if the merchandise is transshipped to another vessel in the same jurisdiction, the date the vessel on which the merchandise finally leaves the exporting country sails from the last port thereof is the date of exportation. When the merchandise is shipped from an interior country through the ports of another country or from a country contiguous to the United States, the date of exportation is the date on which the merchandise crosses the border of the country of exportation and passes beyond the control of the government of such country. These provisions apply also to merchandise shipped directly by air.

[5] Dutiable charges are such costs and other expenses as are incidental to placing the merchandise in condition, packed ready for shipment to the United States. Such charges must represent the actual cost and be confined solely to merchandise exported to the United States. Any expenses which enter into the value of the merchandise when sold in the ordinary course of trade for domestic consumption in the country of exportation are not charges but become a part of the value of the merchandise.

Nondutiable charges are such items of cost and expense as constitute no part of the value of the merchandise when sold in the ordinary course of trade in the country of exportation, and are no part of the expense of placing it in condition, packed ready for shipment to the United States.

[7] The term "country" is to be regarded for the purposes of this section as embracing all the possessions of a nation, however widely separated, which are subject to the same supreme executive and legislative authority and control.

[8] See Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 501, as amended (19 U. S. C. 1501), relating to appeals for reappraisement by collector or importer.

[9] "(c) The ad valorem rates provided in this paragraph shall be based upon the American selling price of any similar competitive article manufactured or produced in the United States. If there is no similar competitive article manufactured or produced in the United States then the ad valorem shall be based upon the United States value.

"(d) For the purposes of this paragraph any coal-tar product provided for in this Act shall be considered similar to or competitive with any imported coal-tar product which accomplishes results substantially equal to those accomplished by the domestic product when used in substantially the same manner." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 27 (c), (d) and par. 28 (c), (d); 19 U. S. C. 1001, par 27 (c), (d) and par. 28 (c), (d))

[10] "(e) The specific duties provided for in this paragraph on colors, dyes, or strain, whether soluble or not in water, color acids, color bases, color lakes, leuco compounds, indoxyl, and indoxyl compounds, shall be based on standards of strength which shall be established by the Secretary of the Treasury, and upon all importations of such articles which exceed such standards of strength the specific duty shall be computed on the weight which the article would have if it were diluted to the standard strength, but in no case shall any such articles of whatever strength be subject to a less specific duty than that provided in subparagraph (a) or (b), as the case may be. • • •

"(h) In the enforcement of the foregoing provisions of this paragraph the Secretary of the Treasury shall adopt a standard of strength for each dye or other article which shall conform as nearly as practicable to the commercial strength in ordinary use in the United States prior to July 1, 1914. If a dye or other article has been introduced into commercial use since said date then the standard of strength for such dye or other article shall conform as nearly as practicable to the commercial strength in ordinary use. If a dye or other article was or is ordinarily used in more than one commercial strength, then the lowest commercial strength shall be adopted as the standard of strength for such dye or other article." (Tariff Act of 1930 par. 28 (e), (h); 19 U. S. C. 1001, par. 28 (e), (h))

[11] In determining the value of imported articles classifiable under par. 27 or 28 of the tariff act, the words "similar competitive articles" in subpar. (c) of such paragraphs shall not be construed as relating exclusively to domestic articles actually derived or obtained from coal tar. No domestic article otherwise within the scope of the quoted words shall be excluded therefrom because not derived from coal tar if such an article, if imported, would be subject to classification as a "coal-tar product" under par. 27, 28, or 1651 of the tariff act.

[12] The following Treasury Decisions contain standards of strength for coal-tar products to which U.S. Standard numbers have been assigned and which have been adopted by the Secretary of the Treasury, under par. 28, Tariff Act of 1922, and par. 28, Tariff Act of 1930:

scribed as a coal-tar color, dye, stain, color acid, color base, color lake, leuco-compound, or indoxyl or indoxyl compound. Each sample so received shall be accompanied by specifications setting forth all the information called for by Schedule A below. It is essential that the specifications accompanying the sample be set forth in the order and manner specified because the information will be used for comparison with similar data required on importations of foreign coal-tar products. The samples and specifications shall be examined and appropriately filed by the chief chemist. Samples and specifications shall be removed from, replaced, or added to the file as may be necessary. The chief chemist shall advise the appraiser at New York of those products removed from or added to the file. The appraiser shall from time to time prepare a list, identifying each such product by the invoice name and, if different, the trade name as described in items Nos. 1 and 2 of Schedule A. The color index number, item No. 8 of Schedule A, shall appear in the list opposite the name of the product. These lists, which are advisory only, shall be furnished to the Customs Information Exchange for circularization among other appraising officers and the public upon request. Other information in respect of the specifications shall be treated as confidential, except for the purpose for which they are submitted (sec § 26.4 (a) of this chapter).

SCHEDULE A

COAL-TAR COLORS, DYES, STAINS, COLOR ACIDS, COLOR, BASES, COLOR LAKES, LEUCO AND INDOXYL COMPOUNDS

1. Invoice name of product ----------
2. Trade name of product ----------
3. Name of manufacturer ----------
4. List other U. S. manufacturers and names under which sold, if known ----------
5. List foreign manufacturers and names under which sold, if known ----------
6. Percentage of active ingredient----------
7. Schultz number (if none, so state) ----
8. Colour index number (if none, so state)-
9. U. S. standard number (if none, so state)
10. Foreign prototype number (if none or unknown, so state) ----------
11. Method of application (state whether acid, basic, direct, direct and developed, mordant, mordant acid, neutral, oil, oil and spirit, printing, spirit soluble, vat (soluble), vat (insoluble), or other (describe); and state nature of pre-treatment or after-treatment, if any) ----------
12. Material to which applied (name the material or materials for which the color or dye is primarily designed).
    A. Fibrous Materials:
    (1) Natural: Cotton; Silk; Wool; Hemp; Flax (Linen); Jute; Ramie; Straw and Grass; Sisal; Other Animal or Vegetable Fibers.
    (2) Synthetic (including regenerated and modified cellulose): Acetate (Celanese, Acele, Koda); Rayon-Cuprammonium (Bemberg, Matesa); Viscose (Avisco, Delray); Polyamide (Nylon, Perlon); Acrylic (Dynel, Acrilan, Orlon); Vinylidene Chloride (Saran, Velon); Polyethylene (Wynene, Reevon); Polyester (Dacron, Terylene); Protein (Azlon, Lanital, Aralac); Glass; Other.
    B. Non-Fibrous Materials:
    Plastics; Leather; Paper; Cellophane; Photographic sensitizers, desensitizers, light filters and tinting film; Foodstuffs; Biological materials; Solutions, analytical; Oils, fats, and waxes; Soap; Gasoline; Paints, lacquers, stains, and inks; Smoke (signals); Aluminum; Earthenware; Other.
13. Chemical Classification: Acridine; Aminoketone; Anthraquinone; Azine; Azo, mono-; Azo, dis-; Azo, tris-; Azo, tetrakis-; Azo, poly-; Azo, metal complex; Azo, pigment; Azoic; Color acid; Color base; Color lake; Cyanine; Esters of leuco indigoid; Esters of leuco thioindigoid; Esters of leuco anthraquinone; Fluorescent; Hydroxyketone; Indamine; Indigoid; Indoaniline; Indophenol; Indoxyl; Indoxyl Compound; Ketol; Ketonimine; Lactone; Leuco Compound; Methane, diphenylnaphthyl-; Methane, triphenyl-; Methine, aza-; Methine, poly-; Nitro; Nitroso; Oxazine; Phthalocyanine; Quinoline; Quinonoid; Sulfur or sulfide; Thiazine; Thiazole; Thioindigoid; Xanthene; Other
    A. Describe the class or classes and subclass to which the product belongs.
    Example (1):
    Monoazo.
    Gamma-acid coupling.
    Example (2):
    Xanthen—Basic.
    Oxy-carboxy rhodamines.
    B. Give any other information which you consider may be helpful in classifying the product.
    Example (1):
    Insoluble azo dye on the fiber. Mixtures of stabilized diazo amino compounds and coupling components for preparation of the dye on the fiber.
    Example (2):
    Anthraquinone—Disperson type.
    Amino-oxy-anthraquinones.
14. If the product consists of a mixture of two or more active ingredients, the information required by the preceding numbered paragraphs shall be given for each active ingredient in the mixture, together with the proportion of each active ingredient in the mixture.
15. In addition to the above specifications, there shall be furnished a color pattern or card showing typical small specimens of the material to which the product has been applied with an indication of the strength and the method of application. However, in those cases where a suitable color card has been filed previously with the New York Customs Laboratory, or where a color card is not used commercially and it is not practical to submit one, it will be considered satisfactory to furnish a statement setting forth the date the previous pattern or card was filed and its identification number, or the reason why one is not submitted.

(o) Whenever a sample taken from an imported coal-tar product referred to in § 8.13 (h) of this chapter, is received in the customs laboratory for test to determine its comparability with any domestic coal-tar product, the file of domestic samples and specifications referred to in paragraph (n) of this section shall be searched. If after searching the file and making any necessary tests, no comparable domestic product is found, the chief chemist shall prepare and submit his laboratory report accordingly.

(Secs. 1 (pars. 27, 28), 402, 46 Stat. 592–594, as amended, 708, as amended, sec. 402, 70 Stat. 943; 19 U. S. C. 1001 (pars. 27, 28), 1401a, 1402)

PROCEDURE UNDER ANTIDUMPING ACT

§ 14.6 Suspected dumping.

(a) If any appraiser or other principal customs officer has knowledge of any grounds for a reason to believe or suspect that any merchandise is being, or is likely to be, imported into the United States at a purchase price or exporter's sales price less than the foreign market value (or, in the absence of such value, than the constructed value), as contemplated by section 201(b), Antidumping Act, 1921, as amended [14] (19 U.S.C. 160(b)), or at less than its "fair value" as that term is defined in § 14.7, he shall communicate his belief or suspicion promptly to the Commissioner of Customs. Every such communication shall contain or be accompanied by a statement of substantially the same information as required in paragraph (b) of this section, if in the possession of the appraiser or other officer or readily available to him.

(b) Any person outside the Customs Service who has reason to believe or suspect that merchandise is being, or is likely to be, imported into the United States under such circumstances as to bring it within the purview of the Antidumping Act, 1921, as amended,[14a] may [14] See footnote 14a.

[14a] SEC. 201. (a) Whenever the Secretary of the Treasury (hereinafter called the "Secretary") determines that a class or kind of foreign merchandise is being, or is likely to be, sold in the United States or elsewhere at less than its fair value, he shall so advise the United States Tariff Commission, and the said Commission shall determine within three months thereafter whether an industry in the United States is being or is likely to be injured, or is prevented from being established, by reason of the importation of such merchandise into the United States. The said Commission, after such investigation as it deems necessary, shall notify the Secretary of its determination, and, if that determination is in the affirmative, the Secretary shall make public a notice (hereinafter in this Act called a "finding") of his determination and the determination of the said Commission. For the purposes of this subsection, the said Commission shall be deemed to have made an affirmative determination if the Commissioners of the said Commission voting are evenly divided as to whether its determination should be in the affirmative or in the negative. The Secretary's finding shall include a description of the class or kind of merchandise to which it applies in such detail as he shall deem necessary for the guidance of customs officers.

(b) Whenever, in the case of any imported merchandise of a class or kind as to which the Secretary has not so made public a finding, the Secretary has reason to believe or suspect, from the invoice or other papers or from information presented to him or to any person to whom authority under this section has been delegated, that the purchase price is less, or that the exporter's sales price is less or likely to be less, than the foreign market value (or, in the absence of such value, than the constructed value), he shall forthwith publish notice of that fact in the FEDERAL REGISTER and shall authorize, under such regulations as he may prescribe, the withholding of appraisement reports as to such merchandise entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption, not more than one hundred and twenty days before the question of dumping has been raised by or presented to him or any person to whom authority under this section has been delegated, until the further order of the Secretary, or until the Secretary has made public a finding as provided for in subdivision (a) in regard to such merchandise.

(c) The Secretary, upon determining whether foreign merchandise is being, or is likely to be, sold in the United States at less than its fair value, and the United States Tariff Commission, upon making its determination under subsection (a) of this section, shall each publish such determination in the FEDERAL REGISTER, with a statement of the reasons therefor, whether such determination is in the affirmative or in the negative.

SEC. 202. (a) In the case of all imported merchandise, whether dutiable or free of duty, of a class or kind as to which the Secretary of the Treasury has made public a finding as provided for in section 201, entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption, not more than one hundred and twenty days before the question of dumping was raised by or presented to the Secretary or any person to whom authority under section 201 has been delegated, and as to which no appraisement report has been made before such finding has been so made public, if the purchase price or the exporter's sales price is less than the foreign market value (or, in the absence of such value, than the constructed value) there shall be levied, collected, and paid, in addition to any other duties imposed thereon by law, a special dumping duty in an amount equal to such difference.

(b) In determining the foreign market value for the purposes of subsection (a), if it is established to the satisfaction of the Secretary or his delegate that the amount of any difference between the purchase price and the foreign market value (or that the fact that the purchase price is the same as the foreign market value) is wholly or partly due to—

(1) The fact that the wholesale quantities in which such or similar merchandise is sold or, in the absence of sales, offered for sale for exportation to the United States in the ordinary course of trade, are less or are greater than the wholesale quantities in which such or similar merchandise is sold or, in the absence of sales, offered for sale in the principal markets of the country of exportation in the ordinary course of trade for home consumption (or, if not so sold or offered for sale for home consumption, then for exportation to countries other than the United States),

(2) Other differences in circumstances of sale, or

(3) The fact that merchandise described in subdivision (C), (D), (E), or (F) of section 212(3) is used in determining foreign market value, then due allowance shall be made therefor.

(c) In determining the foreign market value for the purposes of subsection (a), if it is established to the satisfaction of the Secretary or his delegate that the amount of any difference between the exporter's sales price and the foreign market value (or that the fact that the exporter's sales price is the same as the foreign market value) is wholly or partly due to—

(1) The fact that the wholesale quantities in which such or similar merchandise is sold or, in the absence of sales, offered for sale in the principal markets of the United States in the ordinary course of trade, are less or are greater than the wholesale quantities in which such or similar merchandise is sold or, in the absence of sales, offered for sale in the principal markets of the country of exportation in the ordinary course of trade for home consumption (or, if not so sold or offered for sale for home consumption, then for exportation to countries other than the United States),

(2) Other differences in circumstances of sale, or

(3) The fact that merchandise described in subdivision (C), (D), (E), or (F) of section 212(3) is used in determining foreign market value,

then due allowance shall be made therefor.

SEC. 203. That for the purposes of this title, the purchase price of imported merchandise shall be the price at which such merchandise has been purchased or agreed to be purchased, prior to the time of exportation, by the person by whom or for whose account the merchandise is imported, plus, when not included in such price, the cost of all containers and coverings and all other costs, charges, and expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition, packed ready for shipment to the United States, less the amount, if any, included in such price, attributable to any additional costs, charges, and expenses, and United States import duties, incident to bringing the merchandise from the place of shipment in the country of exportation to the place of delivery in the United States; and plus the amount, if not included in such price, of any export tax imposed by the country of exportation on the exportation of the merchandise to the United States; and plus the amount of any import duties imposed by the country of exportation which have been rebated, or which have not been collected, by reason of the exportation of the merchandise to the United States; and plus the amount of any taxes imposed in the country of exportation upon the manufacturer, producer, or seller, in respect to the manufacture, production or sale of the merchandise, which have been rebated, or which have not been collected, by reason of the exportation of the merchandise to the United States.

SEC. 204. That for the purpose of this title the exporter's sales price of imported merchandise shall be the price at which such merchandise is sold or agreed to be sold in the United States, before or after the time of importation, by or for the account of the exporter, plus, when not included in such price, the cost of all containers and coverings and all other costs, charges, and expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition, packed ready for shipment to the United States, less (1) the amount, if any, included in such price, attributable to any additional costs, charges, and expenses, and United States import duties, incident to bringing the merchandise from the place of shipment in the country of exportation to the place of delivery in the United States, (2) the amount of the commissions, if any, for selling in the United States the particular merchandise under consideration, (3) an amount equal to the expenses, if any, generally incurred by or for the account of the exporter in the United States in selling identical or substantially identical merchandise, and (4) the amount of any export tax imposed by the country of exportation on the exportation of the merchandise to the United States; and plus the amount of any import duties imposed by the country of exportation which have been rebated, or which have not been collected, by reason of the exportation of the merchandise to the United States; and plus the amount of any taxes imposed in the country of exportation upon the manufacturer, producer, or seller in respect to the manufacture, production, or sale of the merchandise, which have been rebated, or which have not been collected, by reason of the exportation of the merchandise to the United States.

SEC. 205. For the purposes of this title, the foreign market value of imported merchandise shall be the price, at the time of exportation of such merchandise to the United States, at which such or similar merchandise is sold or, in the absence of sales, offered for sale in the principal markets of the country from which exported, in the usual wholesale quantities and in the ordinary course of trade for home consumption (or, if not so sold or offered for sale for home consumption, or if the Secretary determines that the quantity sold for home consumption is so small in relation to the quantity sold for exportation to countries other than the United States as to form an inadequate basis for comparison, then the price at which so sold or offered for sale for exportation to countries other than the United States), plus, when not included in such price, the cost of all containers and coverings and all other costs, charges, and expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition packed ready for shipment to the United States, except that in the case of merchandise purchased or agreed to be purchased by the person by whom or for whose account the merchandise is imported, prior to the time of exportation, the foreign market value shall be ascertained as of the date of such purchase or agreement to purchase. In the ascertainment of foreign market value for the purposes of this title no pretended sale or offer for sale, and no sale or offer for sale intended to establish a fictitious market, shall be taken into account. If such or similar merchandise is sold or, in the absence of sales, offered for sale through a sales agency or other organization related to the seller in any of the respects described in section 207, the prices at which such or similar merchandise is sold or, in the absence of sales, offered for sale by such sales agency or other organization may be used in determining the foreign market value.

SEC. 206. (a) For the purposes of this title, the constructed value of imported merchandise shall be the sum of—

(1) The cost of materials (exclusive of any internal tax applicable in the country of exportation directly to such materials or their disposition, but remitted or refunded upon the exportation of the article in the production of which such materials are used) and of fabrication or other processing of any kind employed in producing such or similar merchandise, at a time preceding the date of exportation of the merchandise under consideration which would ordinarily permit the production of that particular merchandise in the ordinary course of business;

(2) An amount for general expenses and profit equal to that usually reflected in sales of merchandise of the same general class or kind as the merchandise under consideration which are made by producers in the country of exportation, in the usual wholesale quantities and in the ordinary course of trade, except that (A) the amount for general expenses shall not be less than 10 per centum of the cost as defined in paragraph (1), and (B) the amount for profit shall not be less than 8 per centum of the sum of such general expenses and cost; and

(3) The cost of all containers and coverings of whatever nature, and all other expenses incidental to placing the merchandise under consideration in condition, packed ready for shipment to the United States.

(b) For the purposes of this section, a transaction directly or indirectly between persons specified in any one of the paragraphs in subsection (c) of this section may be disregarded if, in the case of any element of value required to be considered, the amount representing that element does not fairly reflect the amount usually reflected in sales in the market under consideration of merchandise of the same general class or kind as the merchandise under consideration. If a transaction is disregarded under the preceding sentence and there are no other transactions available for consideration, then the determination of the amount required to be considered shall be based on the best evidence available as to what the amount would have been if the transaction had occurred between persons not specified in any one of the paragraphs in subsection (c).

(c) The persons referred to in subsection (b) are:

(1) Members of a family, including brothers and sisters (whether by the whole or half blood), spouse, ancestors, and lineal descendants;

(2) Any officer or director of an organization and such organization;

(3) Partners;

(4) Employer and employee;

(5) Any person directly or indirectly owning, controlling, or holding with power to vote, 5 per centum or more of the outstanding voting stock or shares of any organization and such organization; and

(6) Two or more persons directly or indirectly controlling, controlled by, or under common control with, any person.

SEC. 207. That for the purposes of this title the exporter of imported merchandise shall be the person by whom or for whose account the merchandise is imported into the United States:

(1) If such person is the agent or principal of the exporter, manufacturer, or producer; or

(2) If such person owns or controls, directly or indirectly, through stock ownership or control or otherwise, any interest in the business of the exporter, manufacturer, or producer; or

(3) If the exporter, manufacturer, or producer owns or controls, directly or indirectly, through stock ownership or control or otherwise, any interest in any business conducted by such persons; or

(4) If any person or persons, jointly or severally, directly or indirectly, through stock ownership or control or otherwise, own or control in the aggregate 20 per centum or more of the voting power or control in the business carried on by the person by whom or for whose account the merchandise is imported into the United States, and also 20 per centum or more of such power or control in the business of the exporter, manufacturer, or producer.

SEC. 208. That in the case of all imported merchandise, whether dutiable or free of duty, of a class or kind as to which the Secretary has made public a finding as provided in section 201, and delivery of which has not been made by the collector before such finding has been so made public, unless the person by whom or for whose account such merchandise is imported makes oath before the collector, under regulations prescribed by the Secretary, that he is not an exporter, or unless such person declares under oath at the time of entry, under regulations prescribed by the Secretary, the exporter's sales prices of such merchandise, it shall be unlawful for the collector to deliver the merchandise until such person has made oath before the collector, under regulations prescribed by the said Secretary, that the merchandise has not been sold or agreed to be sold by such person, and has given bond to the collector, under regulations prescribed by the Secretary, with sureties approved by the collector, in an amount equal to the estimated value of the merchandise, conditioned: (1) that he will report to the collector the exporter's sales price of the merchandise within 30 days after such merchandise has been sold or agreed to be sold in the United States; (2) that he will pay on demand from the collector the amount of special dumping duty, if any, imposed by this title upon such merchandise; and (3) that he will furnish to the collector such information as may be in his possession and as may be necessary for the ascertainment of such duty, and will keep such records as to the sale of such merchandise as the Secretary may by regulation prescribe.

SEC. 209. That in the case of all imported merchandise, whether dutiable or free of duty, of a class or kind as to which the Secretary has made public a finding as provided in section 201, and as to which the appraiser or person acting as appraiser has made no appraisement report to the collector before such finding has been so made public, it shall be the duty of each appraiser or person acting as appraiser, by all reasonable ways and means to ascertain, estimate, and appraise (any invoice or affidavit thereto or statement of constructed value to the contrary notwithstanding) and report to the collector the foreign market value or the constructed value, as the case may be, the purchase price, and the exporter's sales price, and any other facts which the Secretary may deem necessary for the purposes of this title.

SEC. 210. That for the purposes of this title the determination of the appraiser or person acting as appraiser as to the foreign market value or the constructed value, as the case may be, the purchase price, and the exporter's sales price, and the action of the collector in assessing special dumping duty, shall have the same force and effect and be subject to the same right of appeal and protest, under the same conditions and subject to the same limitations; and the general appraisers, the United States Customs Court, and the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals shall have the same jurisdiction, powers, and duties in connection with such appeals and protests as in the case of appeals and protests relating to customs duties under existing law.

SEC. 211. That the special dumping duty imposed by this title shall be treated in all respects as regular customs duties within the meaning of all laws relating to the drawback of customs duties.

SEC. 212. For the purposes of this title—

(1) The term "sold or, in the absence of sales, offered for sale" means sold or, in the absence of sales, offered—

(A) to all purchasers at wholesale, or

(B) in the ordinary course of trade to one or more selected purchasers at wholesale at a price which fairly reflects the market value of the merchandise, without regard to restrictions as to the disposition or use of the merchandise by the purchaser except that, where such restrictions are found to affect the market value of the merchandise, adjustment shall be made therefor in calculating the price at which the merchandise is sold or offered for sale.

(2) The term "ordinary course of trade" means the conditions and practices which, for a reasonable time prior to the exportation of the merchandise under consideration, have been normal in the trade under consideration with respect to merchandise of the same class or kind as the merchandise under consideration.

(3) The term "such or similar merchandise" means merchandise in the first of the following categories in respect of which a determination for the purposes of this title can be satisfactorily made:

(A) The merchandise under consideration and other merchandise which is identical in physical characteristics with, and was produced in the same country by the same person as, the merchandise under consideration.

(B) Merchandise which is identical in physical characteristics with, and was produced by another person in the same country as, the merchandise under consideration.

(C) Merchandise (i) produced in the same country and by the same person as the merchandise under consideration, (ii) like the merchandise under consideration in component material or materials and in the purposes for which used, and (iii) approximately equal in commercial value to the merchandise under consideration.

(D) Merchandise which satisfies all the requirements of subdivision (C) except that it was produced by another person.

(E) Merchandise (i) produced in the same country and by the same person and of the same general class or kind as the merchandise under consideration, (ii) like the merchandise under consideration in the purposes for which used, and (iii) which the Secretary or his delegate determines may reasonably be compared for the purposes of this title with the merchandise under consideration.

(F) Merchandise which satisfies all the requirements of subdivision (E) except that it was produced by another person.

(4) The term "usual wholesale quantities", in any case in which the merchandise in respect of which value is being determined is sold in the market under consideration at different prices for different quantities, means the quantities in which such merchandise is there sold at the price or prices for one quantity in an aggregate volume which is greater than the aggregate volume sold at the price or prices for any other quantity.

SEC. 213. That this title may be cited as the "Antidumping Act, 1921."

SEC. 406. That when used in Title II * * *—

The term "person" includes individuals, partnerships, corporations, and associations; and

The term "United States" includes all Territories and possessions subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, except the Virgin Islands, the islands of Guam and Tutuila, and the Canal Zone.

SEC. 407. That the Secretary shall make rules and regulations necessary for the enforcement of this Act. (Antidumping Act, 1921, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 160–173.)

communicate his belief or suspicion and the reasons therefor in writing to any appraiser of merchandise or the Commissioner of Customs. Every such communication shall contain or be accompanied by the following:

(1) A detailed description or sample of the merchandise; the name of the country from which it is being, or is likely to be, imported; and the ports or probable ports of importation into the United States. If no sample is furnished, the appraiser concerned in appropriate cases may call upon the person who furnished the information to furnish samples of the imported and competitive domestic articles, or either.

(2) Such detailed data as to values and prices as is reasonably available to the person furnishing the information and is relied upon by him to support his belief or suspicion, including information as to any differences between the foreign market value or constructed value and the import purchase price or exporter's sales price which may be accounted for by any difference in taxes, discounts, incidental costs such as those for packing or freight, or other items.

(3) Such information as is reasonably available to the person furnishing the information as to the total value and volume of domestic production of the merchandise in question.

(c) If any information filed with an appraiser or the Commissioner pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section does not conform with the requirements of that paragraph, the communication shall be returned promptly to the person who submitted it with detailed written advice as to the respects in which it does not conform. If such information filed with an appraiser is found to comply with the requirements, it shall be transmitted by the appraiser within 10 days to the Commissioner of Customs, together with all pertinent additional information obtainable by the appraiser. Before making such transmittal, or as soon thereafter as possible, the appraiser shall make such inquiry regarding the matter among importers, domestic producers and distributors, or others as he may deem appropriate and report the results to the Commissioner together with his comments thereon.

(d) (1) Upon receipt pursuant to paragraph (a), (b), or (c) of this section of information in proper form, the Commissioner will proceed promptly to decide whether or not reasonable grounds exist to believe or suspect that the merchandise is being, or is likely to be, sold at less than its foreign market value (or, in the absence of such value, than its constructed value). To assist him in making such decision the Commissioner, in his discretion, may conduct a brief preliminary investigation into such matters, in addition to the invoice or other papers or information presented to him, as he may deem necessary.

(2) If the Commissioner decides, after such preliminary investigation, if any, that reasonable grounds do exist to believe or suspect that the merchandise is being, or is likely to be, sold at less than its foreign market value (or, in the absence of such value, than its constructed value) he will thereafter proceed, by a full-scale investigation, or otherwise, to obtain such additional information, if any, as may be necessary to enable the Secretary to reach a determination as provided by § 14.8(a).

(3) If the Commissioner decides, after such preliminary investigation, if any that reasonable grounds do not exist to believe or suspect that the merchandise is being, or is likely to be, sold at less than its foreign market value (or, in the absence of such value, than its constructed value), he will thereafter

(i) Proceed, by a full-scale investigation, or otherwise to obtain such additional information, if any, as may be necessary to enable the Secretary to reach a determination as provided by § 14.8(a), or

(ii) Recommend to the Secretary that a full-scale investigation is not warranted by the facts of the case and that the case be closed by a finding of no sales at less than fair value.

(e) If the Commissioner determines pursuant to paragraph (d)(1) of this section, or in the course of an investigation under paragraph (d)(3)(i) of this section, that there are reasonable grounds to believe or suspect that any merchandise is being, or is likely to be, sold at less than its foreign market value (or, in the absence of such value, than its constructed value) under the Antidumping Act, he shall publish notice of that fact in the FEDERAL REGISTER, furnishing an adequate description of the merchandise and the name of each country of exportation, and shall advise all appraisers of his action and of the date when the question of dumping was raised by or presented to the Secretary or his delegate. Upon receipt of such advice, the appraisers shall proceed in accordance with the pertinent provisions of § 14.9.

§ 14.7 Fair value.

(a) Definition.[15] For the purposes of section 201(a) of the Antidumping Act, 1921, as amended (19 U.S.C. 160(a)), the fair value of imported merchandise shall be determined as follows:

(1) Fair value based on price in country of exportation—the usual test. Merchandise imported into the United States will ordinarily be considered to have been sold, or to be likely to be sold, at less than fair value if the purchase price or exporter's sales price (as defined in sections

[15] The definition of fair value does not in any way modify or affect definitions of foreign market value given in section 205 of the Antidumping Act, 1921, as amended (19 U.S.C. 164), or of constructed value given in section 206 (19 U.S.C. 165) or the application of a foreign market value (or, in the absence of such value, constructed value) as defined in the Antidumping Act, 1921, as amended, as a basis for determining whether or not to withhold appraisement under section 201(b) (19 U.S.C. 160(b)) or for imposition of duty under section 202 (19 U.S.C. 161).

An industry in the United States which considers that it is being injured by sales of merchandise at less than fair value will ordinarily have insufficient information on which to submit proof either of fair value as herein defined, or foreign market value or constructed value as defined in said sections 205 and 206 (19 U.S.C. 164 and 165). The industry may, however, submit, and appraisers will consider, such material as is available to it, including information indicating the market price for similar merchandise in the country of exportation and in any third countries in which merchandise of the producer complained of is known to be sold. Information submitted by an industry and information submitted by the foreign producer and others will be of value in assisting the Treasury to establish the basis for fair value, foreign market value, or constructed value.

Fair value is computed on the basis of sales for consumption in the country of exportation or for exportation otherwise than to the United States at or about the date of the purchase or agreement to purchase of the merchandise to be imported into the United States, or the date of exportation. However, in cases where it may be important to determine either the stability of the market or its trend, as well as to determine whether there has been a fictitious sale as described in § 14.7(b)(6) of these regulations, it will be helpful to the Secretary to have information as to sales made for consumption in the country of exportation or for exportation otherwise than to the United States over a significant period of time immediately preceding the date of purchase or agreement to purchase, or exportation.

EXAMPLES FOR PURPOSES OF ILLUSTRATION

A few examples of what would and what would not be considered sales at less than fair value are given below. Unless otherwise indicated, it is assumed that individual sales are in the same average quantities and that they are also made under the same circumstances of sale.

It must be understood that these examples of necessity oversimplify for purposes of illustration. Each actual case of alleged sales at less than fair value must be considered in the light of all relevant facts, and it may be seldom that cases will be presented for consideration which are as free of complications as are the cases cited in these examples. The tentative conclusions set forth below cannot, therefore, be considered as decisions which are binding upon the Secretary of the Treasury. They are in particular subject to the qualification that there may be other factors present, not here stated, or not sufficiently emphasized for the purposes of an actual case, which would lead to different or opposite results.

As is the case in respect of other laws administered in whole or in part by him, the Commissioner of Customs stands ready to answer specific inquiries arising under the Antidumping Act, 1921, as amended, which relate to contemplated transactions, to the best of his ability, notably those involving questions as to whether § 14.7(a) (1) or (2) of those regulations applies, and questions as to the method of computation which may be used in connection with § 14.7(b)(7) hereof.

Example 1. A foreign producer has made the following sales of a particular product over a representative period:

Sales for consumption in country of exportation	Sales for exportation to countries other than the United States	Sales to the United States
75,000 units @ $1.00	25,000 units @ $0.85	15,000 units @ $0.90

The quantity of sales of this product in the country of exportation, amounting to 75,000 units, is sufficiently large in relation to the total of 25,000 units sold for exportation to countries other than the United States to constitute an adequate basis for comparison with sales to the United States. (See § 14.7(a) (1) and (2) of these regulations.) The price for sale to the United States is less than the price in the country of exportation. The foreign producer is therefore selling in the United States at less than fair value.

Home market sales will form the basis of comparison whether or not they are restricted. This example concerns home market prices which are either free of restrictions or accompanied by restrictions that do not affect the value of the merchandise. If there should be restrictions which affect the value of the merchandise, appropriate adjustment of the home market price will be made. Third country prices, even though unrestricted, will not be resorted to in this set of circumstances.

Example 2. A foreign producer has made the following sales of a particular product:

Sales for consumption in country of exportation	Sales for exportation to countries other than the United States	Sales to the United States
25,000 units @ $0.95	75,000 units @ $0.90	15,000 units @ $0.90

The foreign producer can show that the quantity of sales of this product in the country of exportation, amounting to 25,000 units, is so small in relation to the total of 75,000 units sold for exportation to countries other than the United States, as to be an inadequate basis for comparison with sales to the United States. Determination of fair value will therefore be based on the selling price for exportation to countries other than the United States, pursuant to § 14.7(a)(2) of these regulations. In the absence of special circumstances, it would appear that the sales for exportation to the United States were not below fair value.

Third country sales will form the basis of comparison whether or not they are restricted. This example concerns third country sales which are either free of restrictions or accompanied by restrictions which do not affect the value of the merchandise. If there should be restrictions which affect the value of the merchandise, appropriate adjustment of the third country

203 and 204, respectively, of the Antidumping Act, 1921, as amended (19 U.S.C. 162, 163)), as the case may be, is, or is likely to be, less than the price (as defined in section 205, after adjustment as provided for in section 202 of the Antidumping Act, 1921, as amended (19 U.S.C. 164, 161)), at which such or similar merchandise (as defined in section 212(3) of the Antidumping Act, 1921, as amended (19 U.S.C. 170a(3)) is sold for consumption in the country of exportation on or about the date of purchase or agreement to purchase, of the merchandise imported into the United States if purchase price applies, or on or about the date of exportation thereof if exporter's sales price applies.

(2) Fair value based on sales for exportation to countries other than the United States. If, however, it is demonstrated that during a representative period the quantity of such or similar merchandise sold for consumption in the country of exportation is so small, in relation to the quantity sold for exportation to countries other than the United States, as to be an inadequate basis for comparison, then merchandise imported into the United States will ordinarily be deemed to have been sold, and to be likely to be sold, at less than fair value if the purchase price or the exporter's sales price (as defined in sections 203 and 204, respectively, of the Antidumping Act, 1921, as amended (19 U.S.C. 162, 163)), as the case may be, is, or is likely to be, less than the price (as defined in section 205, after adjustment as provided for in section 202 of the Antidumping Act, 1921, as amended (19 U.S.C. 164, 161)), at which such or similar merchandise (as defined in section 212(3) of the Antidumping Act, 1921, as amended (19 U.S.C. 170a(3))) is sold for exportation to countries other than the United States on or about the date of purchase or agreement to purchase of the merchandise imported into the United States if purchase price applies, or on or about the date of exportation thereof if exporter's sales price applies.

(3) Fair value based on constructed value. If the information available is deemed by the Secretary insufficient or inadequate for a determination under subparagraph (1) or (2) of this paragraph, he will determine fair value on the basis of the constructed value as defined in section 206 of the Antidumping Act, 1921, as amended (19 U.S.C. 165).

(b) Calculation of fair value. In calculating fair value under section 201(a), Antidumping Act, 1921, as amended (19 U.S.C. 160(a)), the following criteria shall be applicable:

(1) Quantities. In comparing the purchase price or exporter's sales price, as the case may be, with the sales, or other criteria applicable, on which a determination of fair value is to be based, reasonable allowances will be made for differences in quantities if it is established to the satisfaction of the Secretary that the amount of any price differential is wholly or partly due to such differences. In determining the question of allowances for differences in quantity, consideration will be given, among other things, to the practice of the industry in the country of exportation with respect to affording in the home market (or third country markets, where sales to third countries are the basis for comparison) discounts for quantity sales which are freely available to those who purchase in the ordinary course of trade. Where sales are not made in the home market (or third country markets, where applicable) in quantities comparable to the quantities sold in the United States, consideration may also be given to the practice of the industry in other countries (including the United States) with respect to affording discounts for quantity sales which are freely available to those who purchase in the ordinary course of trade.

(2) Circumstances of sale. (i) In comparing the purchase price or exporter's sales price, as the case may be, with the sales, or other criteria applicable, on which a determination of fair value is to be based, reasonable allowances will be made for bona fide differences in circumstances of sale if it is established to the satisfaction of the Secretary that the amount of any price differential is wholly or partly due to such differences.

(ii) Differences in circumstances of sale for which such allowances will be made are limited, in general, to those circumstances which bear a reasonably direct relationship to the sales which are under consideration. Examples of differences in circumstances of sale for which reasonable allowances generally will be made are those involving differences in credit terms, guarantees, warranties, technical assistance, servicing, and assumption by a seller of a purchaser's advertising or other selling costs. Reasonable allowances will also generally be made for differences in commissions. Except in those instances where it is clearly established that the differences in circumstances of sale bear a reasonably direct relationship to the sales which are under consideration, allowances generally will not be made for differences in research and development costs, production costs, and advertising and other selling costs of a seller unless such costs are attributable to a later sale of merchandise by a purchaser; provided that reasonable allowances for selling expenses generally will be made in cases where a reasonable allowance is made for commissions in one of the markets under consideration and no commission is paid in the other market under consideration, the amount of such allowance being limited to the actual selling expense incurred in the one market or the total amount of the commission allowed in such other market, whichever is less.

(iii) In determining the amount of the reasonable allowances for any differences in circumstances of sale, the Secretary will be guided primarily by the effect of such differences upon the market value of the merchandise but, where appropriate, may also consider the cost of such differences to the seller, as contributing to an estimate of market value.

(3) Similar merchandise. In comparing the purchase price or exporter's sales price, as the case may be, with the selling price in the home market, or for exportation to countries other than the United States, in the case of similar merchandise described in subdivisions (C), (D), (E), or (F) of section 212(3), Antidumping Act, 1921, as amended (19 U.S.C. 170a(3)), due allowance shall be made for differences in cost of manufacture, if it is established to the satisfaction of the Secretary that the amount of any price differential is wholly or partly due to such differences.

(4) Offering price. In the determination of fair value, offers will be considered in the absence of sales.

(5) Sales agency. If such or similar merchandise is sold or, in the absence of sales, offered for sale through a sales agency or other organization related to the seller in any of the respects described in section 207 of the Antidumping Act, 1921, as amended (19 U.S.C. 166), the price at which such or similar merchandise is sold or, in the absence of sales, offered for sale by such sales agency or other organization may be used in the determination of fair value.

(6) Fictitious sales. In the determination of fair value, no pretended sale or offer for sale, and no sale or offer for sale intended to establish a fictitious market, shall be taken into account.

(7) Sales at varying prices. Where the prices in the sales which are being examined for a determination of fair value vary (after allowances provided for in subparagraphs (1), (2), and (3) of this paragraph), determination of fair value will take into account the prices of a preponderance of the merchandise thus sold or weighted averages of the prices of the merchandise thus sold.

(8) Quantities involved and differences in price. Merchandise will not be deemed to have been sold at less than fair value unless the quantity involved in the sale or sales to the United States, or the difference between the purchase price or exporter's sales price, as the case may be, and the fair value, is more than insignificant.

§ 14.8 Determination of fact or likelihood of sales at less than fair value; determination of injury; finding of dumping.

(a) Upon receipt from the Commissioner of Customs of the information referred to in § 14.6(d), the Secretary of the Treasury will proceed as promptly as possible to determine whether the merchandise in question is in fact being, or is likely to be, sold in the United States or elsewhere at less than its fair value. If the determination is affirmative, the Secretary will advise the United States Tariff Commission accordingly.

(b) If the Tariff Commission determines that there is, or is likely to be, the injury contemplated by the statute, the Secretary of the Treasury will make the finding contemplated by section 201(a) of the Antidumping Act, 1921, as amended (19 U.S.C. 160(a)), with respect to the involved merchandise.

§ 14.9 Action by the appraiser.

(a) Upon receipt of advice from the Commissioner of Customs pursuant to § 14.6(e), the appraiser shall withhold appraisement as to such merchandise entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption, not more than 120 days before the question of dumping was raised by or presented to the Secretary of the Treasury or his delegate and shall notify the collector and importer immediately of each lot of merchandise with respect to which appraisement is so withheld. Upon advice of a finding made in accordance with § 14.8(b), the appraiser shall give immediate notice thereof to the collector and the importer when any shipment subject thereto is imported after the date of the finding and information is not on hand for completion of appraisement of such shipment. Customs Form 6459 shall be used to notify the collector and importer whenever appraisement is withheld under this paragraph.

(b) If, before a finding of dumping has been made, or before a case has been closed without a finding of dumping, the appraiser is satisfied by information furnished by the importer or otherwise that the purchase price or exporter's sales price, in respect of any shipment, is not less than foreign market value (or, in the absence of such value, than the constructed value), he shall so advise the Commissioner and request authorization to proceed with his appraisement of that shipment in the usual manner.

(c) If a finding of dumping has been made, the appraiser shall require the importer or his agent to file a certificate of the importer on the appropriate one of the following forms. A separate certificate shall be required for each shipment.

I certify that I am the exporter as defined in section 207, Antidumping Act, 1921, of the merchandise covered by the aforesaid entry, and that I have no knowledge as to any price at which such merchandise will be sold in the United States. I hereby agree that I will keep a record of the sales and will furnish the appraiser within 30 days after the sale of any of such merchandise a statement of each selling price. I further agree that, if any of the merchandise has not been sold before the expiration of 6 months from the date of entry, I will so report to the appraiser upon such expiration date.

The merchandise was acquired by me in the following manner:

price will be made. Home market prices, even though unrestricted, will not be resorted to in this set of circumstances.

Example 3. A foreign producer has sold his merchandise for consumption in the country of exportation at or about the date of the sale or exportation to the United States at the following prices:

2,000 tons @ $32.80 ton.
1,000 tons @ $32.85 ton.
2,000 tons @ $33.00 ton.
1,000 tons @ $33.10 ton.

It is conceded that the price depends upon the bargaining of the parties rather than upon quantity purchased. Sales to the United States have been made by this supplier in the same average quantities at a uniform price of $32.90 per ton during the period. The difference in price between the producer's home market sales or any average thereof and his sales to the United States is so slight that it will not be regarded as more than insignificant unless unusual market conditions in the United States or the quantities involved as compared to United States production justify a contrary conclusion.

Example 4. A foreign producer makes all of his sales, other than those to the United States, for consumption in the country of exportation. The majority of the merchandise thus sold by him is sold at list prices, net. However, a discount of 5 percent is granted on sales of more than 500 tons. Sales to the United States are at list prices less 10 percent and have been in quantities of 10,000 tons or more. There have been no other sales by this producer in such quantities. However, if the 10 percent discount is determined to be reasonable in the particular trade under consideration for the quantities involved, and to be due to the differences in such quantities, it will be allowed in calculating home market price. Accordingly, the sales will not be considered to have been made at less than fair value.

The same result could obtain if the pricing pattern showed a differential because of quantity even though there were no list prices, or the list prices did not specify quantity discounts. This is shown in Example 5.

Example 5. A foreign producer has the following record of sales at or about the date of sale or exportation to the United States:

Sales for consumption in country of exportation	Quantity for each sale	Sales to United States	Quantity for each sale
200,000 lbs. @ $0.85	Units of 100 lbs.	100,000 lbs. @ $0.80	Units of 1,000 lbs.
100,000 lbs. @ $0.80	Units of 1,000 lbs.

Although the preponderance of sales during the period (200,000 lbs.) was at a price of $0.85 as opposed to the United States price of $0.80, the lower United States price is justified on the ground that the home price pattern shows that to be the prevailing price for units of 1,000 pounds, which were the units involved in the United States sales. On the other hand, if the record of sales were to show 100,000 pounds sold for consumption in the country of exportation in units of 1,000 pounds at $0.85 instead of $0.80, the sales to the United States would be deemed to have been made at less than fair value.

Example 6. A foreign producer sells for consumption in the country of exportation at $12 a unit, regardless of quantities and regardless of whether the sales are to wholesalers or retailers. He sells to retail purchasers in the United States at $12 a unit and wholesale purchasers in the United States at $10 a unit, in each case regardless of quantities.

The circumstances in this case indicate that the foreign producer will be deemed to have been selling to wholesalers in the United States at less than fair value. Should, however, his record of sales for consumption in the country of exportation show that he sells, regardless of quantities, at $10 a unit to wholesalers and at $12 a unit to retailers, then, making allowances for the circumstances of sale, the sales in the United States will not be deemed to be sales at less than fair value.

Example 7. A foreign producer sells for consumption in the country of exportation at $105 a unit, delivered anywhere within the country of exportation. He has no f.o.b. factory price for home consumption. He sells to the United States f.o.b. factory for $100 a unit. Evidence indicates that it costs the producer on the average $0.50 a unit to deliver on home consumption sales.

Giving due consideration to the circumstances of sale, the sales to United States purchasers at $100 a unit will be deemed to be sales at less than fair value. Should the delivery cost on home consumption sales average $5 a unit instead of $0.50, the sales to United States purchasers at $100 a unit will not be deemed to be sales at less than fair value.

(d) If an unqualified certificate on Form 4 is filed and the appraiser is satisfied that no evidence can be obtained to contradict it, he shall notify the collector promptly that the shipment will be appraised without regard to the Antidumping Act and proceed to appraise the merchandise in the usual manner.

(e) If the importer fails to file an appropriate certificate within 30 days following notification by the appraiser that a certificate is required under paragraph (c) of this section, the appraiser shall proceed upon the basis of the best information available.

(Secs. 201, 202, 208, 407, 42 Stat. 11, as amended, 14, 18; sec. 486, 46 Stat. 725, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 160, 161, 167, 173, 1486)

§ 14.10 Release of merchandise; bond.

(a) When the collector has received a notice of withheld appraisement provided for in § 14.9(a), or when he has been advised of a finding provided for in § 14.8(b), and so long as such notice or finding is in effect, he shall withhold release of any merchandise of a class or kind covered by such notice or finding which is then in his custody or is thereafter imported, unless an appropriate bond is filed or is on file, as specified hereafter in this section, or unless he is advised by the appraiser that the merchandise covered by a specified entry will be appraised without regard to the Antidumping Act.

(b) If the merchandise is of a class or kind covered by a notice of withheld appraisement provided for in § 14.9(a) or by a finding provided for in § 14.8(b), a single consumption entry bond covering the shipment, in addition to any other required bond, shall be furnished by the person making the entry or withdrawal, unless

(1) A bond is required under paragraph (c) of this section, or

(2) In cases in which there is no such requirement the collector is satisfied that the bond under which the entry was filed is sufficient. The penalty of any additional bond required under this paragraph shall be in such amount as will assure payment of any special duty that may accrue by reason of the Antidumping Act, but in no case less than $100.

(c) If the merchandise is of a class or kind covered by a finding provided for in § 14.8(b) and the importer or his agent has filed a certificate on Form 3 (§ 14.9(c)), the bond required by section 208 of the Antidumping Act, 1921, as amended (19 U.S.C. 167), shall be on customs Form 7591. In such case, a separate bond shall be required for each entry or withdrawal, and such bond shall be in addition to any other bond required by law or regulation. The record of sales required under the conditions of the bond on customs Form 7591 shall identify the entry covering the merchandise and show the name and address of each purchaser, each selling price, and the date of each sale. The penalty of such bond shall be in an amount equal to the estimated value of the merchandise covered by the finding.

§ 14.11 Conversion of currencies.

In determining the existence and amount of any difference between the purchase price or exporter's sales price and the foreign market value (or, in the absence of such value, the constructed value) for the purposes of § 14.7, or of 201(b) or 202(a) of the Antidumping Act, 1921, as amended (19 U.S.C. 160(b), 161(a)), any necessary conversion of a foreign currency into its equivalent in United States currency shall be made in accordance with the provisions of section 522, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (31 U.S.C. 372) and § 16.4 of this chapter, (a) as of the date of purchase or agreement to purchase, if the purchase price is an element of the comparison, or (b) as of the date of exportation, if the exporter's sales price is an element of the comparison.

§ 14.12 Modification or revocation of finding.

An application for the modification or revocation of any finding made as provided for in § 14.8(b) will receive due consideration if submitted in writing to the Commissioner of Customs together with detailed information concerning any change in circumstances or practice which has obtained for a substantial period of time, or other reasons, which the applicant believes will establish that the basis for the finding no longer exists with respect to all or any part of the merchandise covered thereby. Notice of intent to modify or revoke a finding will be published by the Secretary in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Comments received from interested parties within 30 days following date of publication will be given consideration.

§ 14.13 Publication of findings.

(a) Each determination made in accordance with § 14.8(a), whether such determination is in the affirmative or in the negative, and each finding made in accordance with § 14.8(b), will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, together with a statement of the reasons therefor. Findings made in accordance with § 14.8 (b) will be published also in a weekly issue of the Treasury Decisions.

(b) The following findings of dumping are currently in effect:

Sec.

15.1 Casualty, loss or theft, abatement or refund of duty for; application; evidence; allowance.
15.2 Perishable merchandise condemned; allowance.
15.3 Abandonment of merchandise under section 506 (1), Tariff Act of 1930.
15.4 Abandonment or destruction of merchandise in bond.
15.5 Destruction of prohibited articles.
15.6 Disposition of abandoned merchandise and proceeds of sale.
15.7 Excessive moisture and other impurities; application for allowance; procedure.
15.8 Shortages; lost packages; deficiencies in contents of packages.
15.10 Articles damaged and worthless at the time of importation.

AUTHORITY: §§ 15.1 to 15.10 issued under R. S. 251, sec. 624, 46 Stat. 759; 19 U. S. C. 66, 1624. Statutory provisions interpreted or applied and special rule making authority are cited to text in parentheses.

§ 15.1 Casualty, loss or theft, abatement or refund of duty for; application; evidence; allowance.[1]

(a) No abatement or refund will be made under section 563(a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[2] unless the importer or his agent shall file within 30 days from the date of his discovery of the loss, theft, injury, or destruction an application in duplicate on customs Form 4315, and within 90 days from the said date the evidence of such loss, theft, injury, or destruction hereinafter required is submitted.

(b) The application and evidence shall be filed with the collector of customs at the port where the loss, theft, injury, or destruction occurred. In the case of total loss by fire or other casualty of merchandise while in transportation under bond, the application and evidence shall be filed at the port at which the transportation entry was made. In the case of partial destruction of or injury to such merchandise, the application and evidence shall be filed with the collector at the port of destination, unless the merchandise is returned to the port at which the transportation entry was made, in which case the application shall be filed at that port. In the case of partial destruction or injury, no application shall be entertained unless the appraiser shall have had an opportunity to examine the merchandise or the remainder thereof for the purpose of fixing the percentage of injury or destruction. Whether the duty involved is ad valorem, specific, or compound, the percentage of injury for the purpose of the allowance shall be determined by comparing the market value of comparable sound merchandise with the net salvage value of the injured merchandise computed on the basis of the market value of comparable injured merchandise, such comparison to be made as of the time and place of examination.

(c) In the case of alleged loss or theft while the merchandise is in the appraiser's stores, there shall be filed a declaration of the importer, owner, or ultimate consignee that he did not receive the merchandise and that to the best of his knowledge and belief it was lost or stolen as alleged in the application. In case the alleged loss or theft consisted of only a part of an examination package and was discovered after the release of the package from customs custody, the following evidence shall be submitted:

(1) A declaration of each cartman, lighterman, or other carrier handling the package between the appraiser's stores and the place of delivery, setting forth the condition of the package at the time of receipt and delivery by him and whether or not there was any abstraction of the merchandise while the package was in his possession.

(2) A declaration of the person who first received the package for the importer, owner, or consignee as to whether or not he examined the package at the time of receipt, and, if so, as to its condition at that time.

(3) A declaration of the person who opened the package after release from customs custody that the alleged missing merchandise was not found by him in the said package or elsewhere.

(d) In the case of injury or destruction by accidental fire or other casualty, the following evidence shall be submitted by the applicant:

(1) A declaration of the master of the vessel, the conductor or driver of the vehicle, the proprietor of the warehouse, or other person (except a customs officer) having charge of the merchandise at the time of the casualty, stating the time, place, and nature of such casualty; that the merchandise was on board the vessel or vehicle, in the warehouse, or otherwise in his charge, as the case may be, at the time of the casualty; and that it was totally destroyed and there is no probability of recovering or saving any part thereof, or that it was injured as the result of the casualty.

(2) The bill of lading, the entry, and the invoice covering the merchandise, or certified copies of the foregoing, unless such documents are already in the possession of the collector at the port where the claim is filed.

(3) A copy of the insurance appraiser's report, if any.

(e) When the application and evidence specified in this section have been received and examined by the collector of customs, he shall determine whether the desired abatement or refund shall be made and notify the applicant of his decision.

(f) The applicant may file with the collector of customs a petition addressed to the Commissioner of Customs for a review of the collector's decision. Such petition shall be filed in duplicate within 30 days from the date of the notice of the collector's decision, shall completely identify the case, and shall set forth in detail the objections to the collector's decision. When such a petition has been filed, the collector shall promptly transmit both copies thereof and the entire file to the Bureau, together with a full statement of his views. When the Bureau's decision has been received, the collector shall proceed in conformity therewith.

(g) The collector may waive the production of any of the evidence above required if the validity of the claim is otherwise established to his satisfaction.

§ 15.2 Perishable merchandise condemned; allowance.

When fruit or other perishable merchandise has been condemned within 10 days after landing,[3] and the notice has been filed pursuant to section 506(2),

[1] This procedure is not applicable in the case of merchandise missing or found worthless by the appraiser and so reported in his appraisement report. See §§ 15.8, 15.10, and 18.6 of this chapter.

[2] "In no case shall there be any abatement or allowance made in the duties for any injury, deterioration, loss, or damage sustained by any merchandise while remaining in customs custody, except that the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized, upon production of proof satisfactory to him of the loss or theft of any merchandise while in the appraiser's stores, or of the actual injury or destruction, in whole or in part, of any merchandise by accidental fire or other casualty, while in bonded warehouse, or in the appraiser's stores, or while in transportation under bond, or while in the custody of the officers of the customs, although not in bond, or while within the limits of any port of entry and before having been landed under the supervision of the officers of the customs, to abate or refund, as the case may be, the duties upon such merchandise, in whole or in part, and to pay any such refund out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, and to cancel any warehouse bond or bonds, or enter satisfaction thereon in whole or in part, as the case may be, but no abatement or refund shall be made in respect of injury or destruction of any merchandise in bonded warehouse occuring after the expiration of three years from the date of importation. The decision of the Secretary of the Treasury as to the abatement or refund of the duties on any such merchandise shall be final and conclusive upon all persons.

"The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to prescribe such regulations as he may deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this subdivision and he may by such regulations limit the time within which proof of loss, theft, injury, or destruction shall be submitted, and may provide for the abatement or refund of duties, as authorized herein, by collectors of customs in cases in which the amount of the abatement or refund claimed is less than $25 and in which the importer has agreed to abide by the decision of the collector. The decision of the collector in any such case shall be final and conclusive upon all persons.

"Any case pending before the United States Customs Court upon the effective date of this Act, under the provisions of section 563 of the Tariff Act of 1922, may, with the consent of the parties and the permission of the court, be transferred to the Secretary of the Treasury, or to the collector, for consideration and final determination in accordance with the provisions of this subdivision." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 563 (a) as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1563 (a))

[3] The date of landing in the case of merchandise forwarded in bond without appraisement is the date of arrival at the port of destination.

Tariff Act of 1930,[4] an investigation shall be conducted before an allowance may be made in the liquidation of the entry in order to determine whether the conditions of the statute have been satisfied. Such allowance shall be limited to perishable goods condemned by the health officers or authorities in the original package, unless segregation of the goods was under constant customs supervision at the importer's expense.

(a) A written notice of any abandonment under section 506 (1), Tariff Act of 1930,[5] shall be filed with the collector of customs at the port where the entry is filed within 30 days after the date of entry[6] or, in the case of examination packages, within 30 days after release, whether or not delivery is taken by the importer immediately after entry or release as the case may be.

(b) The party abandoning the merchandise shall identify it with that described in the invoice used in making entry to the satisfaction of the collector, who shall cause such examination thereof to be made as may be necessary to verify such identification. When repacking is necessary to segregate the abandoned merchandise from the remainder of the shipment, such repacking shall be done at the expense of the party in interest and under customs supervision.

§ 15.4 Abandonment or destruction of merchandise in bond.

(a) Applications for the abandonment or destruction of merchandise in bond pursuant to section 563(b) or 557(c), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[7] shall be filed with the collector by the consignee or his duly qualified representative on customs Form 3499, with the title modified to read "Application and Permit To Abandon (or Destroy) Goods in Bond." When an application is for permission to destroy, the proposed method of destruction shall be stated in the application and be subject to the approval of the collector. No application to abandon or destroy warehoused merchandise shall be approved unless concurred in by the warehouse proprietor.

(b) A person in whom the right to withdraw merchandise entered for warehousing is vested in accordance with § 8.39 or § 18.16 (a) of this chapter is entitled exclusively to the rights and privileges initially held by the consignee in respect of abandonment or destruction of such merchandise.

(c) When in the opinion of the collector the abandonment of merchandise under section 563 (b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, will involve any expense or cost to the Government, or the merchandise is worthless or unsalable, or cannot be sold for a sum sufficient to pay the expenses of sale, abandonment under such section 563 (b) shall not be permitted unless the applicant deposits a sum which in the opinion of the collector will be sufficient to save the Government harmless from any expense or cost resulting from such abandonment. The sum so advanced shall be placed in a special deposit account and expended to cover the cost of destruction or to meet any deficit should the merchandise be sold and the proceeds of sale be less than the expenses of such sale. After meeting such expenses or deficit, any balance remaining shall be refunded to the applicant. However, the applicant may elect to destroy such merchandise under customs supervision, pursuant to the provisions of section 557, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

(d) Where the conditions specified in paragraphs (a)–(c) of this section are met, collectors of customs may grant applications, but in any case where doubt exists the case shall be referred to the Bureau.

(Secs. 557 (c), 563 (b), 46 Stat. 744, as amended, 746; 19 U. S. C. 1557 (c), 1563 (b))

§ 15.5 Destruction of prohibited articles.

Merchandise regularly entered in good faith and denied admission into the United States by any Government agency after its release from customs custody, pursuant to a law or regulation in force on the date of entry or withdrawal, may be destroyed under government supervision. In such cases the destroyed merchandise is exempt from duty and any duties collected thereon shall be refunded.[8] (See § 8.49 (b) of this chapter.)

(Sec. 558 (a), 46 Stat. 744, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1558(a))

(a) The disposition of merchandise abandoned pursuant to section 506(1) or 563(b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and not retained for official use, shall be governed by the regulations of the General Services Administration applicable to the Bureau of Customs. If the merchandise is cleared for sale, it shall be sold in accordance with the applicable provisions of Part 20 of this chapter, unless it is worthless or it shall appear probable that the expenses of sale will exceed the proceeds. If the merchandise is sold, no part of the proceeds shall be returned to the importer.

(b) If the merchandise or any part thereof is worthless or it appears probable that the expenses of its sale would exceed the proceeds, it shall be destroyed or otherwise disposed of as the collector may direct. No credit for abandonment of such merchandise shall be given unless a customs officer, who has satisfied himself as to the quantity of the abandoned portion of the shipment and as to the destruction or removal from the control of the applicant of the entire quantity of the goods covered by the collector's instructions as to disposition, shall certify on customs Form 4613 to those facts to avoid the possibility of any part of the same goods being made the subject of another application.

[4] Allowance shall be made in the estimation and liquidation of duties under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury in the following cases:

• • • • •

"(2) Perishable merchandise, condemned.—Where fruit or other perishable merchandise has been condemned at the port of entry, within ten days after landing, by the health officers or other legally constituted authorities, and the consignee, within five days after such condemnation, files with the collector written notice thereof, an invoiced description and the location thereof and the name of the vessel or vehicle in which imported." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 506 (2); 19 U. S. C. 1506 (2))

[5] "Allowance shall be made in the estimation and liquidation of duties under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury in the following cases:

"(1) Abandonment within thirty days.—Where the importer abandons to the United States within thirty days after entry in the case of merchandise not sent to the appraiser's stores for examination, or within thirty days after the release of the examination packages or quantities of merchandise in the case of merchandise sent to the appraiser's stores for examination, any imported merchandise representing 5 per centum or more of the total value of all the merchandise of the same class or kind entered in the invoice in which the item appears, and delivers, within the applicable thirty-day period, the portion so abandoned to such place as the collector directs unless the collector is satisfied that the merchandise is so far destroyed as to be nondeliverable." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 506 (1); 19 U. S. C. 1506 (1))

[6] The date of entry is the date the entry is made as stated in § 8.4 (d), (e), or (f) of this chapter.

[7] "Under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe and subject to any conditions imposed thereby the consignee may at any time within three years from the date of original importation, abandon to the Government any merchandise in bonded warehouse, whereupon any duties on such merchandise may be remitted or refunded as the case may be, but any merchandise so abandoned shall not be less than an entire package and shall be abandoned in the original package without having been repacked while in a bonded warehouse (other than a bonded manipulating warehouse)." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 563 (b), as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1563 (b))

"Merchandise entered under bond, under any provision of law, may, upon payment of all charges other than duty on the merchandise, be destroyed, at the request and at the expense of the consignee, within the bonded period under customs supervision, in lieu of exportation, and upon such destruction the entry of such merchandise shall be liquidated without payment of duty and any duties collected shall be refunded." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 557 (c), as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1557 (c))

[8] "No remission, abatement, refund, or drawback of estimated or liquidated duty shall be allowed because of the exportation or destruction of any merchandise after its release from the custody of the Government, except in the following cases:

• • • • • •

"(2) When prohibited articles have been regularly entered in good faith and are subsequently exported or destroyed pursuant to a law of the United States and under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe; • • •." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 558 (a), as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1558 (a))

§ 15.7 Excessive moisture and other impurities; application for allowance; procedure.

(a) Application for an allowance for excessive moisture or other impurities under section 507, Tariff Act of 1930,[9] shall be made on customs Form 4317 and filed with the collector of customs within 10 days after the report of weight has been received by him.

(b) The collector shall cause such investigation to be made as may be necessary to determine whether or not the merchandise contains excessive moisture or other impurities not usually found in or upon such or similar merchandise, together with the amount thereof, and, if necessary, may refer the application to the appraiser for such determination.

(c) If the collector is satisfied from the reports received that the claim is valid, due allowance shall be made in the liquidation of the entry.

§ 15.8 Shortages; lost packages; deficiencies in contents of packages.

(a) Allowance shall be made in the assessment of duties for lost or missing merchandise included in the entry whenever it is established to the satisfaction of the collector of customs before the liquidation of the entry becomes final that the merchandise claimed to be lost or missing was not imported. The foregoing shall not apply in the case of merchandise arriving under an I. T. entry.[10]

(b) Allowance for deficiency in any package reported to the collector by the appraiser or other customs officer shall be made in the liquidation of the entry; but no customs officer except an appraiser or other customs officer making an examination contemplated by section 499, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, shall report a supposed deficiency to the collector unless it is established to the satisfaction of the reporting officer that the merchandise was not imported.

§ 15.10 Articles damaged and worthless at the time of importation.

(a) When a shipment of nonperishable merchandise, or any portion thereof which shall have been segregated from the remainder of the shipment under customs supervision at the expense of the importer, is found by the appraising officer to be entirely without commercial value by reason of damage or deterioration and is so reported to the collector by the appraiser, an allowance in duties on such merchandise on the ground of nonimportation shall be made in the liquidation of the entry.

(b) A similar allowance may be made in the case of perishable merchandise in accordance with the following procedure and subject to the conditions set forth therein:

(1) An application for such allowance shall be filed with the collector on customs Form 4373, in duplicate, within 96 hours after the unlading of the merchandise and before any of the shipment involved has been removed from the pier pursuant to the entry permit.

(2) Should an application filed in accordance with subparagraph (1) of this paragraph be withdrawn, the merchandise involved shall thereafter be released only after a permit on customs Form 4381 has been issued by the collector.

(3) Allowance in duty shall be made in the liquidation of the entry on such of the merchandise covered by the application as is reported by the appraiser to be entirely without commercial value by reason of damage or deterioration.

[9] "The Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized to prescribe and issue regulations for the ascertainment of tare upon imported merchandise, including the establishment of reasonable and just schedule tares therefor, but in no case shall there by any allowance for draft or for impurities, other than excessive moisture and impurities not usually found in or upon such or similar merchandise." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 507; 19 U. S. C. 1507)

§ 16.1 Liquidation required.[1]

All entries covering imported merchandise, except those for transportation in bond or for immediate exportation, shall be liquidated.[2]

(Sec. 505, 46 Stat. 732; 19 U.S.C. 1505)

§ 16.2 Procedure; notice of liquidation.

(a) In the computation of duty on entries, ad valorem rates shall be applied to the values in even dollars, fractional parts of a dollar less than 50 cents being disregarded and 50 cents or more being considered as $1, all merchandise in the same invoice subject to the same rate of duty to be treated as a unit. When necessary, fractional parts of a dollar, whether more or less than 50 cents, shall be dropped or taken up as whole dollars in order not to increase or decrease the total dutiable value of the invoice. If in such cases it is necessary to drop fractional parts of a dollar amounting to 50 cents or more, the lower fractions shall be dropped, and if it is necessary to take up as whole dollars fractional parts less than 50 cents, the larger fractions shall be taken. In the case of two equal fractions, the one subject to the lower rate of duty shall be dropped or taken up, as the case may be. In determining a rate of duty dependent upon value, fractional parts of a dollar shall be considered. Except as specified in paragraph (b) of this section, if a rate of duty is specific and $1 or less per unit, fractional quantities, if less than one-half, shall be disregarded, and if one-half or more shall be treated as a whole unit. Subject to the same exception, if a specific rate is more than $1 per unit, duty shall be assessed upon the exact quantity with any fraction part expressed in the form of a decimal extended to two places.

(b) In the computation of internal-revenue taxes on distilled spirits imported in barrels, kegs, or similar containers, the quantity shall be ascertained in accordance with the internal-revenue regulations. Where distilled spirits are imported in bottles, jugs, or similar containers, the internal-revenue taxes shall be collected on the exact quantity contained in each case or other outer container, fractional parts of a gallon being carried to three decimal places. The procedure for collecting internal-revenue taxes on wines shall be on the basis of a wine gallon of liquid measure equivalent to 231 cubic inches and shall be paid proportionately on all fractional parts of a wine gallon; fractions of less than one-tenth gallon being converted to the nearest one-tenth gallon, and five-hundredths gallon being converted to the next full one-tenth gallon. Internal-revenue taxes on beer, ale, porter, stout, and other similar fermented beverages, including sake, of any name or description containing one-half of 1 per centum or more of alcohol by volume, brewed or produced from malt, wholly or in part, or from any substitute therefor, shall be collected in accordance with I. R. C. section 5051 (a). In the computation of duties on alcoholic beverages provided for in Schedule 8, Tariff Act of 1930, which are also subject to internal-revenue taxes, the methods prescribed for the computation of internal-revenue taxes on such beverages shall be followed.

[1] "The consignee shall deposit with the collector, at the time of making entry, unless the merchandise is entered for warehouse or transportation, or under bond, the amount of duty estimated to be payable thereon. Upon receipt of the appraiser's report and of the various reports of landing, weight, gauge, or measurement the collector shall ascertain, fix, and liquidate the rate and amount of duties to be paid on such merchandise as provided by law and shall give notice of such liquidation in the form and manner prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, and collect any increased or additional duties due or refund any excess of duties deposited as determined on such liquidation." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 505; 19 U.S.C. 1505.)

(c) When the amount of duty assessed by the collector in the liquidation of an entry (other than informal entry on customs Form 5119 or 5119–A, a mail entry on customs Form 3419 or 3420, or a baggage entry on customs Form 5123, 6059, or 6063) does not differ by so much as $3 from the total estimated duties, including any supplemental estimated duties, deposited, the liquidator shall endorse the entry "as entered" [3] over his initials in red ink. If there is a difference of $3 or more between the duties so assessed and the total estimated duties deposited, the liquidator shall make a new statement of duties over his initials in red ink. The same procedure shall be followed with respect to internal-revenue taxes, but the assessments of duties and internal-revenue taxes shall be separately stated when both accrue on the same entry. In the case of each informal, mail, or baggage entry excepted above, the amount or amounts of duties and taxes computed by a customs officer when the entry is prepared by, or filed with, him shall be the liquidated assessment by the collector. In the event of a reliquidation of a mail or baggage entry for any reason, the reliquidated duties shall be exactly assessed, if the importer so requests, even though the difference between the liquidated and reliquidated amounts is less than $3; otherwise, any difference under $3 shall be disregarded.

(d) After liquidation by the collector, formal entries, except free consumption entries liquidated "As Entered", shall be scheduled promptly on a bulletin notice of liquidation, customs Form 4333. Free consumption entries liquidated "As Entered" shall be scheduled promptly on a bulletin notice of liquidation, customs Form 4335. When free consumption entries in an unbroken series of numbers are liquidated free on the same day, the first and last entry numbers may be shown on the bulletin notice, e. g., "567/863," instead of listing every number in the unbroken series. For the notice of liquidations of appraisement, baggage, informal, and mail entries, see § 16.12. The bulletin notice of liquidation shall be posted as soon as possible in a conspicuous place in the customhouse for the information of importers or lodged at some other suitable place in the customhouse in such a manner that it can readily be located and consulted by all interested persons, who shall be directed to that place by a notice maintained in a conspicuous place in the customhouse stating where notices of liquidations of entries are to be found. The bulletin notice of liquidation shall be dated with the date of posting or, if not posted, with the date it is lodged in the above-described place for the information of importers. The entries for which the bulletin notice of liquidation has been prepared shall be stamped "Liquidated," with the date of liquidation, which shall be the same as the date of the bulletin notice of liquidation. Such stamping shall be deemed the legal evidence of liquidation.

(e) Warehouse withdrawals for consumption covering merchandise manipulated under section 562, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, after liquidation of the warehouse entry, or byproducts and wastes withdrawn from class 6 warehouses, shall be liquidated and notice thereof on customs Form 4333 posted or lodged as specified in paragraph (d) of this section.

(f) Notices on customs Form 4333 of all liquidations of drawback entries or refusals to pay drawback claims shall be posted or lodged in the same manner as the notices of liquidation of import entries.

(g) The bulletin notice of liquidations, customs Form 4333 or 4335, shall be posted or lodged at the port of entry (or customs station, when the entries listed were filed at a customs station outside the limits of a port of entry).

(Sec. 505, 46 Stat. 732, sec. 321, 52 Stat. 1081, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1321, 1505)

§ 16.3 Suspension of liquidation.

(a) The liquidation of entries involved in reappraisement or on which bonds are open for the production of documents affecting the rate of duty shall be suspended pending a final decision on the reappraisement or a performance or nonperformance under the bond.

(b) The liquidation of entries covering articles entered at a conditionally reduced rate under paragraph 502, 1530, or 1551, Tariff Act of 1930, or conditionally free of duty under paragraph 1691, or 1752, shall be suspended pending the production of the proof of use required by §§ 10.84 to 10.89 and 13.4 of this chapter. Upon the production of such proof, or upon failure to produce the proof within the required time, the entries shall be liquidated accordingly.

(c) Liquidation of each warehouse or rewarehouse entry covering any tariff-rate quota commodity shall be suspended until all such merchandise covered by the entry has been accounted for within the bonded period by withdrawal, abandonment, or destruction, or until the bonded period has expired if the merchandise has not been so accounted for before that time. When the entry is liquidated, such of the merchandise as has been withdrawn for transportation to another port shall be excluded from the liquidation. This same procedure shall be followed in the case of alcoholic beverages provided for in Schedule 8, Tariff Act of 1930, and subject to internal-revenue taxes, and in the case of wool or hair. The liability for duty or tax with respect to any such quota merchandise or alcoholic beverage which has been withdrawn for transportation and delivered into customs custody at the port of destination shall be determined by a liquidation of the rewarehouse entry made in the district where the merchandise is withdrawn for consumption or for exportation.

§ 16.4 Conversion of currency.

(a) In determining the percentage of variation between the rate proclaimed by the Secretary of the Treasury and the Federal reserve rate,[4] the difference between the two rates shall be divided by the Federal reserve rate.

[3] "(a) The Secretary of the Treasury, in order to avoid expense and inconvenience to the Government disproportionate to the amount of revenue that would otherwise be collected, is hereby authorized, under such regulations as he shall prescribe, to—

"(1) disregard a difference of less than $3 between the total estimated duties or taxes deposited, or the total duties or taxes tentatively assessed, with respect to any entry of merchandise and the total amount of duties or taxes actually accruing thereon; • • •." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 321, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1321)

[4] "(b) Proclaimed value basis of conversion. For the purpose of the assessment and collection of duties upon merchandise imported into the United States on or after the day of the enactment of this Act, wherever it is necessary to convert foreign currency into currency of the United States, such conversion, except as provided in subdivision (c), shall be made at the values proclaimed by the Secretary of the Treasury under the provisions of section 25 of such Act of August 27, 1894, as amended, for the quarter in which the merchandise was exported.

"(c) Market rate when no proclamation. (1) If no value has been proclaimed under subsection (a) for the quarter in which the merchandise was exported, or if the value so proclaimed varies by 5 per centum or more from a value measured by the buying rate at noon on the day of exportation, then conversion of the foreign currency involved shall be made—

"(A) At a value measured by such buying rate, or

"(B) If the Secretary of the Treasury shall by regulation so prescribe with respect to the particular foreign currency, at a value measured by the buying rate first certified under this subsection for a day in the quarter in which the day of exportation falls (but only if the buying rate at noon on the day of exportation does not vary by 5 per centum or more from such first-certified buying rate).

"(2) For the purposes of this subsection, the term "buying rate" means the buying rate in the New York market for cable transfers payable in the foreign currency so to be converted. Such rate shall be determined by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and certified to the Secretary of the Treasury, who shall make it public at such times and to such extent as he deems necessary. In ascertaining such buying rate, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York may, in its discretion—

"(A) Take into consideration the last ascertainable transactions and quotations,

(b) The date of exportation for currency conversion shall be fixed in accordance with § 14.3 of this chapter.

(c) Whenever the Federal Reserve Bank of New York advises that its certification of rates for a currency is being suspended pending determination of the question whether it will certify multiple rates for that currency, the customs field officers will be so informed. In any case where for the purpose of the assessment and collection of duties it is necessary to determine the proper rate or rates for that currency for a date during the period of suspension of certification by the Federal Reserve Bank, appraisement shall be withheld and liquidation suspended. When certification is resumed by the Bank, the rate or rates certified will be published either in the Treasury Decisions or in Customs Information Exchange circulars. Currency information received from the Bank, or otherwise available, which might be helpful in calculating estimated duties and in appraisement and liquidation will be furnished to the customs field officers. For purposes of calculating estimated duties by the Bank, the rate or rates certified by the Bank, the collector shall use the rate or rates appearing to be applicable under the instructions in this section to the type of merchandise involved; and when it is not yet known what certified rate or rates are applicable or no rate has been certified, he shall use the highest rate or combination of rates (i. e., the rate or combination of rates showing the highest amount of United States money), certified or uncertified as the case may be, which could be applicable.

(d) For the currency of each foreign country listed at the end of this paragraph, there will be published in the Treasury Decisions, for the quarter beginning January 1, 1957, and for each quarter thereafter, the rate or rates first certified by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York for such foreign currency for a day in that quarter. The rate or rates of exchange to be used for customs purposes for any day of exportation within the quarter shall be the rate or rates so certified and published, unless the rate or rates certified by the Federal Reserve Bank for the day of exportation (1) vary by 5 per centum or more from such first certified and published rate or rates in which case notice of such variance and the rate or rates certified for such day shall be published in the Treasury Decisions and such rate or rates shall be used for customs purposes in connection with merchandise exported on such day; or (2) vary by less than 5 per centum from the proclaimed value in which case notice of such variance shall be published in the Treasury Decisions and the proclaimed value shall be used for customs purposes in connection with merchandise exported on such day.

(e) When the Federal Reserve Bank of New York certifies two or more rates of exchange for the currency of any country, those rates will be published as provided in paragraphs (c) and (d) of this section. Thereafter when the appraiser and collector are in possession of sufficient information to apply the instructions in this section, they shall proceed, respectively, with the appraisement and liquidation in the case of any importation of merchandise exported on a date for which the Federal Reserve Bank of New York certifies such multiple rates, according to the following procedure:

(1) Except as prescribed in this section, no rate of exchange shall be used for customs purposes under this section other than a rate or rates certified by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. If there is a proclaimed value of the currency involved which varies by less than 5 per cent from any certified rate otherwise applicable, such proclaimed value shall be used in lieu of such certified rate.

(2) Whenever appraisement is made in a multiple-rate currency, or the use of rates of exchange for a multiple-rate currency has been necessary in connection with the determination whether the foreign or export value is the higher, or the use of rates for a multiple-rate currency appears involved in any other manner in the process of appraisement or liquidation, the appraiser shall include in his report to the collector an advisory statement of his views as to what type of certified rate or combination of types of certified rates is applicable to the merchandise involved. If there is disagreement, which cannot be resolved locally, between the collector and appraiser as to what type of certified rate or combination of types of certified rates is applicable in a particular case, a detailed report shall be submitted to the Bureau so that appropriate instructions may be issued.

(3) For all purposes of appraisement and assessment of duties, the type of rate used for any value expressed in a currency for which two or more rates have been certified shall be the type of certified rate, designated by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, which the appraiser or collector is satisfied, from information in his own files, information obtained and presented to him by the importer, or information obtained from other sources, is uniformly applicable under the laws and regulations of the country of exportation to the particular class of commodity on the date of exportation. In cases where two or more types of certified rates are uniformly applicable on a percentage basis, each type of certified rate shall be used for the percentage of the value to which it is applicable. The percentages used shall be those which reflect realistically the percentage for which each type of rate is uniformly applicable under the laws and regulations of the country of exportation on the date of exportation.

(4) If the appraiser or collector has credible information that the type of rate or combination of types of rates which would otherwise be applicable under subparagraph (3) of this paragraph was not required or permitted, as the case may be, under the laws and regulations of the country of exportation to be used uniformly during any period in connection with the payment for all merchandise of the type involved, appraisement shall be withheld and liquidation shall be suspended as to all merchandise of the type involved exported to the United States during the period involved.

(5) If the appraiser or collector has credible information that a type of rate or combination of types of rates not applicable to payment for the merchandise was required or permitted in payment of costs, charges, or expenses, the currency conversions for the exchange covering payment for the merchandise and for the exchange covering such costs, charges, or expenses shall be calculated separately. If the costs, charges, or expenses are dutiable, they shall be calculated according to the rules stated above in this section, and in the event that any type of rate uniformly applicable to payment of dutiable costs, charges, or expenses for merchandise of the type involved was a type of rate not certified by the Federal Reserve Bank, appraisement shall be withheld and liquidation suspended. In deducting nondutiable costs, charges, or expenses, the foreign exchange shall be at the rate or rates actually used in payment of such costs, charges, or expenses, whether or not certified by the Federal Reserve Bank.

(f) Whenever appraisement is withheld or liquidation suspended, under paragraph (e) (4) or (5) of this section, a detailed report shall be transmited immediately to the Board.

§ 16.5 Weight, gauge, or measure.

(a) If any merchandise covered by a warehouse entry has been cleaned, sorted, repacked, or otherwise changed in condition under section 562, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, before liquidation of the warehouse entry, such entry shall be liquidated and withdrawals passed on the basis of the weight, gauge, or measure of such merchandise in its manipulated condition with an appropriate notation in the duty statement that the duties are assessed on the basis of the manipulated condition of the merchandise. If the covering entry is liquidated prior to any manipulation of the merchandise, each subsequent warehouse withdrawal of manipulated merchandise

"(B) If there is no market buying rate for such cable transfers, calculate such rate (i) from actual transactions and quotations in demand or time bills of exchange, or (ii) from the last ascertainable transactions and quotations outside the United States in or for exchange payable in United States currency or other currency.

"(3) For the purposes of this subsection, if the day of exportation is one on which banks are generally closed in New York City, then the buying rate at noon on the last preceding business day shall be considered the buying rate at noon on the day of exportation."

shall be liquidated on the basis of the condition, quantity, and weight of the merchandise at the time of withdrawal. (See § 16.2 (e))

(b) When the amount of duty is governed in any way by the net weight of the merchandise, liquidation may be made on the net weight shown on the invoice if it is impracticable to obtain actual net weight without injury to the goods.

(c) If weighable merchandise is subject to an ad valorem rate of duty, liquidation shall be made on the basis upon which appraisement was made, as indicated by the appraiser's report.

(d) Duties and internal-revenue taxes on imported alcoholic beverages provided for in Schedule 8, Tariff Act of 1930, and subject to internal-revenue taxes shall be collected only on the number of proof gallons (or wine gallons if below proof), and fractional parts thereof, entered or withdrawn for consumption.[7]

(Secs. 315, 500 (a), 505, 46 Stat. 695, as amended, 729, 732; 19 U. S. C. 1315, 1500 (a), 1505)

§ 16.6 Tare.

(a) The net weight of merchandise dutiable by net weight, or upon a value dependent on net weight,[8] shall be determined insofar as possible by deducting the actual or schedule tare from the gross weight. Actual tare may be determined on the basis of tests when the tares of the packages in a shipment are reasonably uniform.

(b) When the actual tare cannot reasonably be determined and no schedule tare is applicable, the invoice tare may be used in ascertaining the net weight of the merchandise.

(c) The following tares which, from experience, have proved to be the average weight of coverings of certain classes of merchandise shall be known as schedule tares and shall be applied, except as provided in paragraph (d) of this section:

Apple boxes. Eight pounds per box. This schedule tare includes the paper wrappers, if any, on the apples.

Cheese with inedible, but not readily removable, coverings. Asiago, Cremonese, Parmesan, Parmigiano, Reggiano, Reggianito, and Traboliano, 1 percent; Cotrone, Moliterno, Moliterno type, and Palmese, 2 percent; all others, 2½ percent.

China clay in so-called half-ton casks. Seventy-two pounds per cask.

Figs in skeleton cases. Actual tare for outer containers plus 13 percent of the gross weight of the inside wooden boxes and figs.

Fresh tomatoes. Four ounces per 100 paper wrappings.

Lemons and oranges. Ten ounces per box and 5 ounces per half box for paper wrappings, and actual tare for outer containers.

Ocher, dry, in casks. Eight percent of the gross weight; in oil in casks: 12 percent of the gross weight.

Sugar. (See § 13.6 of this chapter.)

Tobacco, leaf not stemmed. Thirteen pounds per bale; Sumatra: actual tare for outside coverings, plus 4¼ pounds for the inside matting and, if a certificate be attached to the consular invoice certifying that the bales contain paper wrappings and specifying whether light or heavy paper has been used, either 4 or 8 ounces for the paper wrapping according to the thickness of paper used.

(d) If the importer is not satisfied with the invoice tare or with the schedule tare, or if the collector is of the opinion that the invoice or schedule tare does not correctly represent the tare of the merchandise, or if the weigher has reason to believe that the invoice or schedule tare is greater than the real tare, the actual tare shall be ascertained and in so doing the weigher shall empty and weigh as many casks, boxes, and other coverings as he may deem necessary.

(e) When it is impracticable to ascertain the actual tare, the weigher shall state in his report what, in his judgment, constitutes a fair tare allowance.

§ 16.7 Articles in examination packages not specified in the invoice.

When any article not corresponding with the description given in the invoice is found by the appraiser and is reported to the collector in accordance with section 499, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, duties shall be assessed on the goods actually found, and, if the discrepancy appears conclusively to be the result of a mistake and not of any intent to defraud, no proceedings for forfeiture shall be taken. When the entire shipment does not agree with the invoice and there is no evidence of any intent to defraud, a new entry shall be required and the estimated duty paid on the original entry shall be refunded on liquidation as in the case of a nonimportation.

§ 16.9 Commingling of goods.

(a) Commingled merchandise shall be assessed with duty at the highest rate or rates applicable to any one kind of merchandise included in the commingling, unless the quantity and value of each of the kinds so included can be readily ascertained by the usual method of customs examination or by one or more of the methods specified in section 508 (a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[9] or unless the conditions specified in section 508 (b), (c), or (d), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, are satisfied. Evidence specified in such section 508 (a) (3) shall be

[7] "Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, the duties imposed on beverages in this schedule (Schedule 8, Tariff Act of 1930) which are subject also to internal-revenue taxes shall be imposed only on the quantities subject to such taxes." (Tariff Act of 1930, par. 813, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1001, par. 813)

For application for refund of internal-revenue taxes paid on imported distilled spirits or wines in excess of the quantity actually withdrawn from warehouse for consumption, see § 24.36 of this chapter.

NOTE: The amended paragraph 813, Tariff Act of 1930, quoted in note 7 is effective as to merchandise entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption on or after June 9, 1948, and applies also to merchandise entered or withdrawn before that day with respect to which the liquidation of the entry or withdrawal, the exaction, or the decision as to dutiable quantity has not become final by reason of section 514, Tariff Act of 1930. (Pub. Law 612, 80th Cong.)

[8] "The Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized to prescribe and issue regulations for the ascertainment of tare upon imported merchandise, including the establishment of reasonable and just schedule tares therefor, but in no case shall there be any allowance for draft or for impurities, other than excessive moisture and impurities not usually found in or upon such or similar merchandise." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 507; 19 U. S. C. 1507)

[9] "(a) Whenever dutiable merchandise and merchandise which is free of duty or merchandise subject to different rates of duty are so packed together or mingled that the quantity or value of each class of such merchandise cannot be readily ascertained by the customs officers (without physical segregation of the shipment or the contents of any entire package thereof), by one or more of the following means: (1) Examination of a representative sample, (2) occasional verification of packing lists or other documents filed at the time of entry, or (3) evidence showing performance of commercial settlement tests generally accepted in the trade and filed in such time and manner as may be prescribed by regulations of the Secretary of the Treasury, and if the consignee or his agent shall not segregate the merchandise pursuant to subsection (b), then the whole of such merchandise shall be subject to the highest rate of duty applicable to any part thereof.

"(b) Every segregation of merchandise made pursuant to this section shall be accomplished by the consignee or his agent at the risk and expense of the consignee within thirty days after the date of personal delivery or mailing, by such employee as the Secretary of the Treasury shall designate, of written notice to the consignee that the merchandise is commingled, unless the Secretary authorizes in writing a longer time. Every such segregation shall be accomplished under customs supervision, and the compensation and expenses of the supervising customs officers shall be reimbursed to the Government by the consignee under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe.

"(c) The foregoing provisions of this section shall not apply with respect to any part of a shipment if the consignee or his agent shall furnish, in such time and manner as may be prescribed by regulations of the Secretary of the Treasury, satisfactory proof (1) that such part (A) is commercially negligible, (B) is not capable of segregation without excessive cost, and (C) will not be segregated prior to its use in a manufacturing process or otherwise, and (2) that the commingling was not intended to avoid the payment of lawful duties or any part thereof. Any merchandise with respect to which such proof is furnished shall be considered for all customs purposes as a part of the merchandise, subject to the next lower rate of duty (including a free rate), with which it is commingled.

"(d) The foregoing provisions of this section shall not apply with respect to any shipment if the consignee or his agent shall furnish, in such time and manner as may be prescribed by regulations of the Secretary of the Treasury, satisfactory proof (1) that the value of the commingled merchandise is less than the aggregate value would be if the shipment were segregated; (2) that the shipment is not capable of segregation without excessive cost and will not be segregated prior to its use in a manufacturing process or otherwise; and (3) that the commingling was not intended to avoid the payment of lawful duties or any part thereof. Any merchandise with respect to which such proof is furnished shall be considered for all customs purposes to be dutiable at the rate (including a free rate) applicable to the material present in greater quantity than any other material." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 508, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1508) considered only if it is filed in the collector's office within 30 days after the date of delivery or mailing of the notice provided for in paragraph (b) of this section, except that the collector may extend such 30-day period for additional periods of 30 days each, but not beyond 6 months from the date of delivery or mailing of the notice, provided the importer or his agent makes written application for each extension and gives satisfactory reasons for its allowance.

(b) The collector shall give written notice to the consignee as promptly as possible after any commingling is discovered.

(c) If a consignee or his agent desires to avail himself of the privileges of such section 508 (c) or (d), he shall file with the collector within 30 days after the date of delivery or mailing of the notice provided for in paragraph (b) of this section documentary proof which will satisfy the collector that the merchandise is entitled to the lower rate of duty.

(Sec. 508, 46 Stat. 732, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1508)

§ 16.10 Change in classification or value; higher or lower rate; effective date.

(a) If there is an established and uniform practice at the various ports, a change in classification resulting in a higher rate of duty, except as the result of a court decision, shall be made only upon the Bureau's instructions and shall be applicable only to merchandise entered for consumption after the expiration of 90 days after the date of the publication of the Bureau's instructions in the Treasury Decisions. In the case of merchandise entered for warehouse, such change shall apply to goods withdrawn for consumption after the expiration of such 90-day period, provided the warehouse entry is unliquidated or can be reliquidated within 60 days after the date of liquidation.[10]

(b) If there is not an established and uniform practice at the various ports, a change in classification resulting in a higher rate of duty shall be applicable immediately to all merchandise covered by unliquidated entries, whether for consumption or warehouse, and also to merchandise covered by liquidated warehouse entries if the merchandise has remained in warehouse after the date the change in classification is established, provided reliquidation can be completed within 60 days after the date of liquidation.

(c) A change in classification resulting in a lower rate of duty, except as the result of a court decision, shall be made only upon the Bureau's instructions or upon the receipt of a Customs Information Exchange report showing the higher classification to be clearly erroneous and contrary to the current practice at the various ports. A change to a lower rate of duty, when decided upon, shall be applicable to all unliquidated entries and to all protested entries involving the same issue which have not been forwarded to the United States Customs Court.

(d) The principles of decisions of the United States Customs Court or the United States Court of Customs and Patent Appeals favorable to the Government shall be applied to merchandise identical with that passed on by the court, if such merchandise is covered by unliquidated entries, whether for consumption or warehouse, or by liquidated warehouse entries which can be reliquidated within 60 days from the date of liquidation, provided that in the latter case the merchandise remains in warehouse after the date of the publication of the decision in the weekly Treasury Decisions.

(e) The principle of any such favorable decision shall be applied to merchandise, though not identical with the merchandise the subject of the court's decision, if its classification is affected by such principle, provided that it has been entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption after 30 days from the date of publication of the court's decision in the weekly Treasury Decisions, and that, in the case of liquidated warehouse entries, the reliquidation can be completed within 60 days from the date of liquidation.

(f) If the overruling of a protest is accompanied by a definite statement that a higher rate than that assessed by the collector was properly chargeable, such higher rate, when applicable, shall be made effective as to merchandise entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption after 30 days from the date of the publication of the court's decision in the weekly Treasury Decisions, provided that, in the case of liquidated warehouse entries, reliquidation thereof can be completed within 60 days from the date of liquidation.

(g) Unless the Bureau otherwise directs, the principle of any decision of the United States Customs Court or the United States Court of Customs and Patent Appeals adverse to the Government shall be applied to unliquidated entries and protested entries which have not been forwarded to the Customs Court and in which the same issue is involved as soon as the time within which an application for a rehearing or review may be filed has expired without such application having been made.

(h) When a rate of duty or a rate of internal-revenue tax imposed upon or by reason of importation is changed by an act of Congress or by a proclamation of the President,[10a] the new rate shall be applied in accordance with the provisions of section 315 (a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[11] subject in appropriate cases

[10] "(d) No administrative ruling resulting in the imposition of a higher rate of duty or charge than the Secretary of the Treasury shall find to have been applicable to imported merchandise under an established and uniform practice shall be effective with respect to articles entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption prior to the expiration of thirty days after the date of publication in the weekly Treasury Decisions of notice of such ruling; but this provision shall not apply with respect to the imposition of antidumping duties." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 315 (d), as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1315 (d))

[10a] "(a) For the purpose of expanding foreign markets for the products of the United States (as a means of assisting in the present emergency in restoring the American standard of living, in overcoming domestic unemployment and the present economic depression, in increasing the purchasing power of the American public, and in establishing and maintaining a better relationship among various branches of American agriculture, industry, mining, and commerce) by regulating the admission of foreign goods into the United States in accordance with the characteristics and needs of various branches of American production so that foreign markets will be made available to those branches of American production which require and are capable of developing such outlets by affording corresponding market opportunities for foreign products in the United States, the President, whenever he finds as a fact that any existing duties or other import restrictions of the United States or any foreign country are unduly burdening and restricting the foreign trade of the United States and that the purpose above declared will be promoted by the means hereinafter specified, is authorized from time to time—

"(1) To enter into foreign trade agreements with foreign governments or instrumentalities thereof; and

"(2) To proclaim such modifications of existing duties and other import restrictions, or such additional import restrictions, or such continuance, and such minimum periods, of existing customs or excise treatment of any article covered by foreign trade agreements, as are required or appropriate to carry out any foreign trade agreement that the President has entered into hereunder. No proclamation shall be made increasing or decreasing by more than 50 per centum any existing rate of duty or transferring any article between the dutiable and free lists. The proclaimed duties and other import restrictions shall apply to articles the growth, produce, or manufacture of all foreign countries, whether imported directly, or indirectly: Provided, That the President may suspend the application to articles the growth, produce, or manufacture of any country because of its discriminatory treatment of American commerce or because of other acts or policies which in his opinion tend to defeat the purposes set forth in this section; and the proclaimed duties and other import restrictions shall be in effect from and after such time as is specified in the proclamation. The President may at any time terminate any such proclamation in whole or in part.

* * * * *

"(c) As used in this section, the term 'duties and other import restrictions' includes (1) rate and form of import duties and classification of articles, and (2) limitations, prohibitions, charges, and exactions other than duties, imposed on importation or imposed for the regulation of imports." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 350; 19 U. S. C. 1351)

"(c) Proclamation by the President. The President shall by proclamation approve the rates of duty and changes in classification and in basis of values specified in any report of the commission under this section, if in his judgment such rates of duty and changes are shown by such investigation of the commission to be necessary to equalize such differences in costs of production.

"(d) Effective date of rates and changes. Commencing thirty days after the date of any presidential proclamation of approval the increased or decreased rates of duty and changes in classification or in basis of value specified in the report of the commission shall take effect." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 336 (c) and (d); 19 U. S. C. 1336)

[11] "(a) Except as otherwise specially provided for, the rate or rates of duty imposed to the provisions of subsection (b) of such section 315. Any reliquidation of duty or tax on merchandise covered by a rewarehouse entry which may be required by reason of a change in rate within the purview of this paragraph shall be made in the district in which the merchandise is held in customs custody on the effective date of the change.

§ 16.10a Tariff classification of prospective imports.

(a) Any prospective importer or foreign exporter may apply in writing to the Commissioner of Customs, Washington 25, D.C., for a ruling as to the tariff classification of any article which he intends to import into or ship to the United States in commercial quantities. The application shall contain a full description of each article. The application shall also give the following information, unless it is clear that it will be of no value in determining the tariff classification of the article: (1) The respective quantities and values of the component materials of which the article is composed; (2) information as to its chief use and commercial designation in the United States; and (3) any specifications, analyses, or other information deemed necessary to a tariff classification of the article. Whenever practicable, a sample of the article should be submitted with the application.

(b) If the Commissioner is satisfied (1) that the application is made in good faith by an importer or foreign exporter who is properly and directly concerned with the tariff classification of the article described; (2) that the information submitted or otherwise available is adequate for a considered decision; and (3) that the ruling applied for is not already covered by a controlling published decision, the Commissioner will rule on the tariff classification of the article. A copy of the decision will be mailed to the applicant. The decision will be published in the weekly Treasury Decisions if it will affect a substantial volume of imports or if it is for any other reason of sufficient importance to justify such publication.

(c) Any decision published pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section shall be deemed to establish a uniform practice within the meaning of section 315 (d), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended. The decision will not be changed by a further ruling of the Commissioner to impose higher duties on such an article unless the prior decision should prove to be clearly wrong. When it appears to the Commissioner that a correct interpretation of the law may require such a ruling, notice that the prior ruling is under review will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER so that the parties in interest will have an opportunity to make such written submissions as they desire, within a period which will be specified in the notice, with respect to the correctness of the contemplated action. If after the consideration of such submissions as may be received the Commissioner issues a ruling imposing higher duties, it will be effective only as to merchandise entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption on or after the expiration of 90 days after the date of publication of such ruling in the weekly Treasury Decisions.[11a]

(d) The notice procedure outlined in paragraph (c) of this section will be applied also in any other case in which the Commissioner believes that a correct interpretation of the law may require the issuance of an administrative ruling imposing higher duties on an imported article than has been assessed under an established and uniform practice.

§ 16.11 Warehouse entries.

Warehouse entries shall be liquidated by single packages when necessary for the purpose of withdrawal.

(Sec. 505, 46 Stat. 732; 19 U. S. C. 1505)

§ 16.12 Appraisement, baggage, informal, and mail entries.

(a) After the liquidation of appraisement entries, a carbon copy of the schedule on customs Form 5171 or 5187 covering such entries shall be posted or lodged as the notice of liquidation, in the place and manner specified in § 16.2(d) for customs Form 4333, after a line has been drawn through the data relating to any entry listed thereon which has not been liquidated as entered. When any such entry is liquidated otherwise than as entered, or is liquidated after the copy of Form 5171 or 5187 on which it was scheduled has already been posted or lodged as a notice of liquidation, notice of the liquidation shall be posted or lodged on customs Form 4333. All such entries ready for liquidation during any one month may be liquidated on any convenient day during that month. The notice of liquidation shall be dated with the date of posting or lodging and the entries covered thereby shall be stamped "Liquidated," with the date of liquidation, which shall be the same as the notice of liquidation. Such stamping shall be deemed the legal evidence of liquidation.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in this paragraph, the effective date of liquidation of informal, mail, and baggage entries[11b] shall be:

(1) The date of payment by the importer of duties and any internal-revenue taxes thereon;

(2) The date of release by customs or the postmaster when the articles are released under such an entry free of duty and tax;

(3) The date a free entry is accepted for articles released under an immediate delivery permit under § 8.59 of this chapter.

When the proper rate or amount of duty cannot be determined at the time of entry because the articles are subject to a tariff rate quota, because of a missing document which, if for free entry, is not produced prior to the release of the articles to the importer, or because of any other reason, the printed notice of liquidation appearing on the receipt issued for any money collected on such entry shall be voided. When the tariff status of the articles either as dutiable or free is finally ascertained it shall be noted on the entry. The effective date of liquidation shall be the date of posting or lodging of the notice of liquidation as required in paragraph (c) of this section.

(c) Notice of liquidation is furnished under paragraph (b) (1) of this section by a suitable printed statement appearing on the receipt issued for duties and any internal-revenue taxes collected. No other notice of liquidation shall be given but notice of reliquidation of any such entry shall be given on customs Form 4333 posted or lodged in the place and manner specified in § 16.2 (d) except when a refund of the full amount of duties and internal-revenue taxes paid is due the importer. In such case, the notice of refund shall constitute the notice of reliquidation. The date of the notice of refund in such case shall be the same as the date of reliquidation. Notice of liquidation is furnished under paragraph (b) (2) of this section by release of the article free of duty and tax and under paragraph (b) (3) of this section by the acceptance of the entry. No further notice of the liquidation of such entries shall be given. When the proper rate or amount of duty cannot be determined at the time of entry un-by or pursuant to this act or any other law on any article entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption shall be the rate or rates in effect when the documents comprising the entry for consumption or withdrawal from warehouse for consumption and any estimated or liquidated duties then required to be paid have been deposited with the appropriate customs officer in the form and manner prescribed by regulations of the Secretary of the Treasury, except that—

"(1) Any article released under an informal mail entry shall be subject to duty at the rate or rates in effect when the preparation of the entry is completed; and

"(2) Any article which is not subject to a quantitative or tariff-rate quota and which is covered by an entry for immediate transportation made at the port of original importation under section 552 of this act, if entered for consumption at the port designated by the consignee, or his agent, in such transportation entry without having been taken into the custody of the collector under section 490 of this act, shall be subject to the rate or rates in effect when the transportation entry was accepted at the port of original importation.

"(b) Any article which has been entered for consumption but which, before release from customs custody, is removed from the port or other place of intended release because of inaccessibility, overcarriage, strike, act of God, or unforeseen contingency, shall be subject to duty at the rate or rates in effect when the entry for consumption and any required duties were deposited in accordance with subsection (a) of this section, but only if the article is returned to such port or place within ninety days after the date of removal and the identity of the article as that covered by the entry is established in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 315 (a), (b), as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1315 (a), (b))

[11a] The procedure outlined in this paragraph is not applicable to changes required by statutory enactment, judicial decision, or Presidential proclamation.

[11b] Baggage entries include entries on customs Form 3351, on the duplicate copy of customs Form 3419, and on customs Forms 5128, 6059, 6063, and 6064.

der paragraph (b) of this section, notice of liquidation shall be given by scheduling the entry on customs Form 4333 or 4335, as applicable, and posting or lodging the form in the place and manner specified in § 16.2 (d) for formal entries. The form shall bear the date of such posting or lodging.

§ 16.13 Errors, mistakes and inadvertencies, correction of.

(a) Collectors of customs have broad responsibility and authority, independent of section 520(c)(1), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, to take appropriate action to insure that the rate and amount of duty assessed on imported merchandise is correct and that the transaction is otherwise in accordance with law. Such action may be taken in connection with (1) the liquidation of an entry, (2) a voluntary reliquidation completed within 60 days after liquidation, (3) a voluntary correction of an exaction within 60 days after the exaction was made, (4) a reliquidation made pursuant to a valid protest covering the particular merchandise as to which a change or adjustment is in order, or (5) the adjustment, pursuant to valid protest, of a transaction or decision which is neither a liquidation nor a reliquidation. The authority extends to errors in the construction of a law and to errors adverse to the Government as well as the importer. In exercising that authority collectors cannot consider errors in appraisement. The extent of the collector's authority with respect to appraisement errors is set forth in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section.

(b) Pursuant to section 520(c)(1), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, notwithstanding a valid protest was not filed, the collector may correct by reliquidation or other appropriate action a clerical error, mistake of fact, or other inadvertence in any entry, liquidation, appraisement (subject to paragraph (c) of this section), or other customs transaction if the error, mistake of fact, or other inadvertence:

(1) Does not amount to an error in the construction of a law;

(2) Is adverse to the importer;

(3) Is manifest from the record or established by documentary evidence; and

(4) Is brought to the attention of the Customs Service:

(i) Within 1 year after the date of entry, appraisement, or other transaction (including a liquidation, reliquidation, or exaction) if the error, mistake of fact or other inadvertence is in the entry, appraisement, or other transaction (including a liquidation, reliquidation, or exaction), or

(ii) Except in cases where the error is in liquidation, reliquidation, or exaction in which case subdivision (i) of this subparagraph shall apply, within 60 days after liquidation or exaction when the liquidation or exaction is made more than ten months after the date of entry, appraisement or other transaction.

(c) If the alleged error, mistake of fact or other inadvertence to be considered under paragraph (b) of this section is in an appraisement, the appraiser shall submit a report and recommendation to the collector. If the collector believes that action different from that recommended by the appraiser should be taken and the difference cannot be resolved locally, the matter shall be submitted to the Bureau for decision.

§ 16.14 Limitation upon reliquidation.

(a) In the absence of a protest, no entry shall be reliquidated after the expiration of the protest period, except as provided for in section 520(c), as amended, or section 521, Tariff Act of 1930,[12] or § 16.10(h).

(b) An error in the liquidation of an entry covering household or personal effects may be corrected by the collector of customs without reference to the Bureau, notwithstanding a timely protest was not filed, if an application for refund is filed with the collector within 1 year after the date of entry and no waiver of compliance with applicable regulations is involved other than a waiver which the collector has authority to grant.

§ 16.15 Taxes; applicability of laws relating to customs duties.

(a) Import taxes imposed by I.R.C. sections 4501, 4521, 4531, 4541, 4551, 4561, 4571, and 4581 shall be construed to be customs duties subject to the limitations specified in I.R.C. sections 4504 and 4601 and in the liquidation of entries such taxes shall be treated in the same manner as duties imposed by the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended

(b) Provisions of law (including preferences and exemptions) relating only to customs duties shall not be applied to taxes or other charges which are not construed to be customs duties,[13] notwithstanding such taxes or charges may be collected on imported merchandise in customs custody by collectors of customs.

(Sec. 20, 52 Stat. 1087, 53 Stat. 268, 416, 428; 19 U. S. C. 1528, 26 U. S. C. 2494, 3431, 3500)

§ 16.16 Taxes on imported oils and other products.

(a) In the liquidation of an entry, taxes imposed by I.R.C. sections 4501, 4521, 4531, 4541, 4551, 4561, 4571, and 4581 shall be treated in the same manner as duties imposed by the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

(b) In the case of any article, merchandise, or combination subject to a tax under I.R.C. section 4581 not less than 10 percent of the quantity by weight of which consists of or is derived directly or indirectly from one or more of the products (except seeds) specified in the said section or in I.R.C. section 4511, the report of the appraising officer on the invoice shall indicate the percentage of the total net weight of the imported article which consists of or is derived directly or indirectly from each of the products above mentioned. If the facts for the assessment of duty cannot be determined from an examination of the imported article or from other available sources, the maximum tax likely to be due shall be collected and the liquidation of the entry suspended for a reasonable time to enable the importer to furnish the necessary information. If a claim shall be filed in connection with the entry that, in view of I.R.C. section 4582, an article or part thereof is not taxable under I.R.C. section 4561, 4571, or 4581, because such article or part thereof was derived directly or indirectly from a waste not named in I.R.C. section 4561, 4571, or 4581, the collector may require such additional evidence, in the form of affidavits or otherwise, as may be necessary and suitable to determine the facts on which the claim is based.

"(2) Any assessment of duty on household or personal effects in respect of which an application for refund has been filed, with such employee as the Secretary of the Treasury shall designate, within one year after the date of entry." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 520 (c), as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1520 (c))

"If the collector finds probable cause to believe there is fraud in the case, he may reliquidate an entry within two years (exclusive of the time during which a protest is pending) after the date of liquidation or last reliquidation." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 521; 19 U. S. C. 1521)

[13] "No tax or other charge imposed by or pursuant to any law of the United States shall be construed to be a customs duty for the purpose of any statute relating to the customs revenue, unless the law imposing such tax or charge designates it as a customs duty or contains a provision to the effect that it shall be treated as a duty imposed under the customs laws. * * *" (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 528, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1528)

[15] "If at the time of importation any article (or its container, as provided in subsection (b) hereof) is not marked in accordance with the requirements of this section, and if such article is not exported or destroyed or the article (or its container, as provided in subsection (b) hereof) marked after importation in accordance with the requirements of this section (such exportation, destruction, or marking to be accomplished under customs supervision prior to the liquidation of the entry covering the article, and to be allowed whether or not the article has remained in continuous customs custody), there shall be levied, collected, and paid upon such article value as defined in section 503, Tariff Act of 1930.

(b) The liquidation of entries, other than warehouse entries, shall not be suspended merely because the merchandise covered thereby is reported to be not legally marked, but, upon special application by the importer, the liquidation may be deferred for a reasonable time to permit the marking, destruction, or exportation of the merchandise. Warehouse entries covering merchandise not legally marked shall not be liquidated prior to the withdrawal of the merchandise from warehouse for consumption, exportation, or destruction.

§ 16.19 Discriminating duties.

The discriminating duties provided for in subsection 1 of paragraph J, section IV, Tariff Act of 1913, as amended by the act of March 4, 1915 (19 U.S.C. 128, 131), and the discriminating duties and penalties provided for in section 338, Tariff Act of 1930, shall be imposed only in pursuance of specific instructions from the Commissioner of Customs.

§ 16.20 Duties contingent upon foreign export duties, charges, or restrictions.

Paragraph 1401, Tariff Act of 1930, provides in part for the imposition under certain conditions of additional duties on articles covered thereby. The assessment of these additional duties is dependent upon action by the President, and notice of such action, if taken, will be published in the weekly Treasury Decisions.

(Par. 1401, sec. 1, 46 Stat. 590; 19 U. S. C. 1001, par. 1401)

§ 16.21 Dumping duty; notice to importer.

(a) Special dumping duty shall be assessed on all importations of merchandise, whether dutiable or free, as to which the Secretary of the Treasury has made public a finding of dumping, entered or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption, not more than 120 days before the question of dumping was raised by or presented to the Secretary or his delegate, provided the particular importation has not been appraised prior to the publication of such finding, and the appraiser reports that the purchase price or exporter's sales price is less than the foreign market value or constructed value, as the case may be.[16]

(b) Before dumping duty is assessed the collector shall notify the importer of the appraiser's report, as in the case of an advance in value. If the importer files an appeal for reappraisement, liquidation shall be suspended until the appeal for reappraisement is finally decided.

(c) If the necessary conditions are present, special dumping duty shall be assessed on samples imported for the purpose of taking orders and making sales in this country.

§ 16.22 Method of computing dumping duty.

If it appears that the merchandise has been purchased by a person not the exporter within the meaning of section 207, Antidumping Act, 1921, as amended (19 U.S.C. 166), the special dumping duty shall equal the difference between the purchase price and the foreign market value on the date of purchase, or, if there is no foreign market value, between the purchase price and the constructed value, any foreign currency involved being converted into United States money as of the date of purchase or agreement to purchase. If it appears that the merchandise is imported by a person who is the exporter within the meaning of such section 207, the special dumping duty shall equal the difference between the exporter's sales price and the foreign market value on the date of exportation, or, if there is no foreign market value, between the exporter's sales price and the constructed value, any foreign currency involved being converted into United States money as of the date of exportation.

§ 16.23 Cuban preference.

(a) The total and partial exemptions from duty provided for in the trade agreement with the Republic of Cuba of October 30, 1947,[17] shall be deemed to apply only to direct shipments from Cuba and to shipments via other countries for which there is furnished proof that the merchandise was destined to the United States at the time of exportation from Cuba and also a certificate of the proper customs officer of each foreign country in which the merchandise was landed while en route to the United States showing continuous customs custody of the shipment while in such foreign country.

(b) No evidence of origin shall be required for any Cuban merchandise which is unconditionally free of duty. Special customs invoices shall be required for merchandise of Cuban origin embraced within the classes enumerated in § 8.15 (b) or (c) of this chapter, if the right of the merchandise to any total or partial exemption from duty is dependent upon its Cuban origin and the value of the shipment exceeds $500. In the case of every shipment of Cuban articles for which any total or partial exemption from duty is sought under the provisions of the Cuban Trade Agreement, except as stated in the next sentence, there shall be filed in connection with the entry, preferably on the invoice filed with the entry, a declaration of the shipper, or other person having actual knowledge of the facts, that the articles for which the exemption is sought are of the growth, produce, or manufacture of Cuba. Production of the declaration may be waived in connection with direct shipments claimed to be of Cuban origin, valued not over $250, in those cases where the collector is satisfied from the character of the articles or otherwise that they are in fact of Cuban origin.

(c) Duties assessed on imports on special occasions, such as marking duties (sec. 304, Tariff Act of 1930), internal-revenue taxes imposed on imported articles, and other special exactions (as distinguished from the ordinary customs duties such as are imposed under the provisions of the dutiable list of the tariff act and I.R.C. sections 4521, 4531, 4541, 4551, 4561, 4571, 4581 are not subject to any reduction under the trade agreement.

§ 16.24 Countervailing duties.

(a) Any appraiser or other principal customs officer who obtains any information that any bounty or grant is being paid or bestowed with respect to dutiable merchandise imported into the United States, so as to require action under section 303, Tariff Act of 1930,[18] shall communicate such information promptly to the Commissioner of Customs. Every such communication shall contain or be accompanied by a statement of substantially the same information as is required in paragraph (b) of this section, if in the possession of the appraiser or other officer or readily available to him.

(b) Any person outside the Customs Service who has reason to believe that any bounty or grant is being paid or bestowed with respect to dutiable merchandise imported into the United States may communicate his belief to any appraiser or the Commissioner of Customs. Every such communication shall contain, or be accompanied by, (1) a full statement of the reasons for the belief, (2) a detailed description or sample of the merchandise, (3) all pertinent facts obtainable as to any bounty or grant being paid or bestowed with respect to such merchandise.

(c) If any information filed with an appraiser pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section does not conform with the requirements of that paragraph, the communication shall be returned promptly to the person who submitted it with detailed written advice as to the respects in which it does not conform. If such information is found to comply with the requirements, it shall be transmitted by the appraiser within 10 days to the Commissioner of Customs, together with all pertinent additional information available to the appraiser.

(d) Upon receipt by the Commissioner of Customs of any communication submitted pursuant to paragraph (a), (b), or (c), of this section and found to comply with the requirements of the pertinent paragraph, the Commissioner will cause such investigation to be made as appears to be warranted by the circumstances of the case and the Commissioner or his designated representative will consider any representations offered by foreign interests, importers, domestic producers, or other interested persons.

(e) If it is determined that the application of the said section 303 is required, the Commissioner of Customs, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, will issue a countervailing duty order describing the merchandise, designating the country or area in which it is produced or from which it is exported, and declaring the ascertained or estimated amount of the bounty or grant or a rule for calculating or estimating such amount.

(f) Each order issued pursuant to paragraph (e) of this section will be published in a weekly issue of Treasury Decisions and in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Orders or notices issued under section 303, Tariff Act of 1930, or a corresponding provision of a prior act, are currently in effect with respect to the merchandise listed below:

§ 16.25 Special duties on articles imported under agreements in restraint of trade.

Whenever it appears that imported articles may be subject to the special duties provided for in section 802, act of Sept. 8, 1916, 15 U.S.C. 73,[19] the collector shall report the matter to the Commissioner of Customs and await instructions with respect to the imposition of such duties.

§ 16.26 Philippine trade.

(a) The total or partial exemptions of "Philippine articles"[20] entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption during the period beginning January 1, 1956, which are authorized by the Philippine Trade Agreement Revision Act of 1955 and Presidential Proclamation of October 26, 1955, made pursuant thereto (T.D. 53965), apply to "Philippine articles" imported from any foreign country.

(b) No evidence of origin shall be required for any Philippine merchandise which is unconditionally free of duty.

(c) When any total or partial exemption from duty is claimed on the ground

a duty of 10 per centum ad valorem, which shall be deemed to have accrued at the time of importation, shall not be construed to be penal, and shall not be remitted wholly or in part nor shall payment thereof be avoidable for any cause. Such duty shall be levied, collected, and paid in addition to any other duty imposed by law and whether or not the article is exempt from the payment of ordinary customs duties. * * *" (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 304 (c), as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1304 (c))

[16] See § 14.13 of this chapter.

For regulations regarding finding of dumping by the Secretary and procedure under the Antidumping Act, 1921, see §§ 14.6–14.13.

The fact that the importer has added on entry the difference between the purchase price or the exporter's sales price and the foreign market value or constructed value and the appraiser has approved the resulting entered value shall not prevent the assessment of the special dumping duty. However, a mere difference between the purchase price or exporter's sales price and the foreign market value or constructed value, without a finding by the Secretary of the Treasury, as above referred to, is not sufficient for the assessment of the special dumping duty.

[17] The operation of the Convention of Commercial Reciprocity between the United States and Cuba signed December 11, 1902 (T. D. 24836), and the operation of the trade agreement with Cuba of August 24, 1934 (T. D. 47232), as amended by the supplementary trade agreements of December 16, 1939 (T. D. 50050), and of December 23, 1941 (T. D. 50541), are suspended for such time as the United States and Cuba are both contracting parties to the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade concluded at Geneva on October 30, 1947.

[18] "Whenever any country, dependency, colony, province, or other political subdivision of government, person, partnership, association, cartel, or corporation shall pay or bestow, directly or indirectly, any bounty or grant upon the manufacture or production or export of any article or merchandise manufactured or produced in such country, dependency, colony, province, or other political subdivision of government, and such article or merchandise is dutiable under the provisions of this act, then upon the importation of any such article or merchandise into the United States, whether the same shall be imported directly from the country of production or otherwise, and whether such article or merchandise is imported in the same condition as when exported from the country of production or has been changed in condition by remanufacture or otherwise, there shall be levied and paid, in all such cases, in addition to the duties otherwise imposed by this act, an additional duty equal to the net amount of such bounty or grant, however the same be paid or bestowed. The Secretary of the Treasury shall from time to time ascertain and determine, or estimate, the net amount of each such bounty or grant, and shall declare the net amount so determined or estimated. The Secretary of the Treasury shall make all regulations he may deem necessary for the identification of such articles and merchandise and for the assessment and collection of such additional duties." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 303; 19 U. S. C. 1303.)

[19] "If any article produced in a foreign country is imported into the United States under any agreement, understanding, or condition that the importer thereof or any other person in the United States shall not use, purchase, or deal in, or shall be restricted in his using, purchasing, or dealing in, the articles of any other person, there shall be levied, collected, and paid thereon, in addition to the duty otherwise imposed by law, a special duty equal to double the amount of such duty: Provided, That the above shall not be interpreted to prevent the establishing in this country on the part of a foreign producer of an exclusive agency for the sale in the United States of the products of said foreign producer or merchant, nor to prevent such exclusive agent from agreeing not to use, purchase, or deal in the article of any other person, but this proviso shall not be construed to exempt from the provisions of this section any article imported by such exclusive agent if such agent is required by the foreign producer or if it is agreed between such agent and such foreign producer that any agreement, understanding, or condition set out in this section shall be imposed by such agent upon the sale or other disposition of such article to any person in the United States." (15 U. S. C. 73)

[20] The term "Philippine articles" means articles which are products of the Philippines, but does not include any article produced with the use of materials imported into the Philippines which are products of any country other than the Philippines or the United States if the aggregate value of such imported materials when landed at the Philippine port of entry, exclusive of any landing cost and Philippine duty, was more than 20 per centum of the appraised customs value of the article imported into the United States (22 U.S.C. 1360(a)(4)).

that an importation consists of "Philippine articles," the claim shall be allowed only if it is established to the satisfaction of the collector of customs concerned. The collector may accept as satisfactory evidence that an article is "Philippine article" a certificate in the appropriate form specified in paragraph (d) of this section, subject to any verification he may deem necessary, or he may satisfy himself of such fact by other reasonable ways and means if, taking into consideration the kind and value of the goods and the circumstances of importation, he deems a certificate unnecessary.

(d) (1) When no material which is not the growth, product, or manufacture of the Philippines or of the United States was used at any stage in the production of the imported article, a certificate in the following form may be accepted as evidence that the commodity is a "Philippine article":

The product covered by the ----------

(Describe above the invoice, bill of lading, or other document or statement identifying the shipment)
annexed or appended to this certificate of Philippine origin at the time it was subscribed is the growth, product, or manufacture of the Philippines. No foreign materials (other than those which are of the growth, product, or manufacture of the United States) were used at any stage in the production of this product, i. e., either in its immediate production or in the production of any intermediate product used at any stage in the chain of production in the Philippines which resulted in this product.

(2) When any material which is not the growth, product, or manufacture of the Philippines or of the United States was used at any stage in the manufacture of the imported article, a certificate in the following form may be accepted as evidence that the commodity is nevertheless a "Philippine article":

The product covered by the ----------

(Describe above the invoice, bill of lading, or other document or statement identifying the shipment)
annexed or appended to this certificate of Philippine origin at the time it was subscribed is the product of the Philippines. There were used in its production in the Philippines ----
---
(Number of units and description) of foreign materials (other than those which are of the growth, product, or manufacture of the United States), valued by the Philippine customs officers for the purpose of the Philippine customs laws at ----------
---
(Official Philippine customs value at the time of importation into the Philippines, in terms of pounds, yards, or other applicable unit) plus, if not included in such unit value, ----------, the cost per unit of bringing such foreign materials to the Philippines.

(3) If the collector shall be satisfied that the revenue will be protected adequately thereby, he may accept in lieu of the certificate specified in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph a certificate in the following form:

The product covered by the----------

(Describe above the invoice, bill of lading, or other document or statement identifying the shipment)
annexed or appended to this certificate of Philippine origin at the time it was subscribed is the product of the Philippines. There were or may have been used in its production in the Philippines foreign materials (other than those which are of the growth, product, or manufacture of the United States).

It is impracticable to ascertain the exact number of units of foreign material, if any, used in its production or the customs valuation of such material, but to the best of (my) (our) (its) knowledge and belief such foreign materials as were or may have been used would not exceed 20 per centum of the selling price or invoice value of the product covered by this certificate.

(4) If more than one kind of article is covered by a certificate provided for in subparagraphs (1), (2), or (3) of this paragraph, the required information shall be shown with respect to each kind. When more than one kind of material of other than Philippine or United States origin is used in the production of an article covered by such a certificate, the certificate shall state the number of units, description, and Philippine customs valuation per unit of each such kind of material.

(5) A certificate conforming to subparagraphs (1), (2), or (3) of this paragraph shall be accepted as evidence of the facts alleged therein only if (i) there is annexed thereto a copy of the commercial invoice or bill of lading covering the articles or other documentary matter which identifies the articles to which the certificate pertains, (ii) the certificate is signed by the manufacturer or producer of the articles to which it pertains, or by the person who exported the articles from the Philippines, and (iii) it clearly appears that such copy or other documentary matter was annexed to the certificate when it was signed.

PROTESTS

§ 17.1 Protest; form of.

(a) Protests (except protests by American manufacturers, producers, and wholesalers) filed against decisions of the collector shall be in the form and filed within the time prescribed by section 514, Tariff Act of 1930.[1]

(b) Each protest shall be in triplicate, addressed to the collector, and signed by the person protesting or his agent or attorney. Each protest shall show the address of the protestant and the address of his agent or attorney, if signed by one of these, the number and date of the entry, the name of the importing carrier, the date of importation, and the date of the liquidation of the entry, and it shall set forth distinctly and specifically with respect to each entry, payment, claim, decision, or refusal the reasons for the objection, stating the rate or rates of duty claimed to be applicable and the paragraph or section of the law, if any, under which relief is claimed.

(c) The date of liquidation for the purpose of computing the time for filing a protest under section 514, Tariff Act of 1930, shall be the date of posting or lodging a notice of the liquidation in accordance with § 16.2 (d) or § 16.12 (a) of this chapter, except that, in the case of baggage, informal, and mail entries, the date of liquidation shall be the date the liquidation becomes effective as determined in accordance with § 16.12(b) of this chapter.

(d) The date of the decision of the collector excluding any merchandise from entry or delivery under any provision of the customs revenue laws shall be the date of his written notice to the importer that entry or delivery will not be allowed. The action of the collector or other customs officer in seizing or directing the seizure of merchandise shall not constitute a notice of exclusion for the purpose of this paragraph.

§ 17.2 Power of attorney to file protest.

(a) Except as hereinafter provided in this paragraph, no protest signed by an agent or attorney shall be granted or denied by the collector unless there has been filed or is filed with the protest in the collector's office a power of attorney on customs Form 5295 or 5295–A or other form as explicit in its terms as is the prescribed customs form, authorizing such agent or attorney to make, sign, and file the protest. Such powers of attorney issued by a partnership shall be limited to a period not to exceed two years from the date of receipt thereof by the collector. All other powers of attorney may be granted for an unlimited period. Any power of attorney shall be subject to revocation at any time by written notice given to and received by the collector. When a protest is filed by an agent or attorney not named in a power of attorney as required by this section, it shall be numbered and stamped with the date of receipt in order to establish whether it was filed within the period prescribed by section 514, Tariff Act of 1930. All information customarily furnished to the United States Customs Court and the Assistant Attorney General in the case of a valid protest should be supplied in the usual manner in connection with the merits of the purported protest together with a request to the Assistant Attorney General to move the United States Customs Court to dismiss the purported protest because of the lack of timely authority of the agent or attorney to file the protest in behalf of the principal. The purported protest shall not be granted or denied by the collector but shall be transmitted, together with the entry and accompanying papers and all exhibits connected therewith, to the United States Customs Court, with a communication explaining to the court that the agent or attorney who filed the purported protest was not named in a power of attorney, and that the collector has not reviewed and modified or affirmed the protested decision as required by section 515, Tariff Act of 1930, for the reason that it has not been established that the protest was filed by a person authorized by section 514, Tariff Act of 1930.

(b) A partnership power of attorney to file protests may be executed by one member in the name of the partnership, provided the power recites the names of all the members. A corporate power of attorney to file protests shall be signed by a duly authorized officer or employee of the corporation and, if the collector is otherwise satisfied as to the authority of such corporate officer or employee to grant such power of attorney, compliance with the requirements of § 8.19(e) of this chapter may be waived with respect to such power.

§ 17.3 Collector's review on protest; transmission of protests and samples to the United States Customs Court.

(a) The collector, after reviewing so much of his liquidation as is covered by the protest, may reliquidate the entry involved, assessing the duties believed by him at that time to be correct.[2]

(b) Samples shall not be required when the question involved is one of law which does not necessitate an inspection of the merchandise by the court, or when the merchandise is heavy, bulky, or otherwise of such character as to make the retention of samples impracticable. When no samples have been retained by the appraiser, they shall be furnished to the collector by the protestant in ap-

[1] "Except as provided in subdivision (b) of section 516 of this Act (relating to the protests by American manufacturers, producers, and wholesalers), all decisions of the collector, including the legality of all orders and findings entering into the same, as to the rate and amount of duties chargeable, and as to all exactions of whatever character (within the jurisdiction of the Secretary of the Treasury), and his decisions excluding any merchandise from entry or delivery, under any provision of the customs laws, and his liquidation or reliquidation of any entry, or refusal to pay any claim for drawback or his refusal to reliquidate any entry for a clerical error discovered within one year after the date of entry, or within sixty days after liquidation or reliquidation when such liquidation or reliquidation is made more than ten months after the date of entry, shall, upon the expiration of sixty days after the date of such liquidation, reliquidation, decision, or refusal, be final and conclusive upon all persons (including the United States and any officer thereof), unless the importer, consignee, or agent of the person paying such charge or exaction, or filing such claim for drawback, or seeking such entry or delivery, shall, within sixty days after, but not before such liquidation, reliquidation, decision, or refusal, as the case may be, as well in cases of merchandise entered in bond as for consumption, file a protest in writing with the collector setting forth distinctly and specifically, and in respect to each entry, payment, claim, decision, or refusal, the reasons for the objection thereto. The reliquidation of an entry shall not open such entry so that a protest may be filed against the decision of the collector upon any question not involved in such liquidation." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 514, 19 U. S. C. 1514)

[2] "Upon the filing of such protest the collector shall within ninety days thereafter review his decision, and may modify the same in whole or in part and thereafter remit or refund any duties, charge, or exaction found to have been assessed or collected in excess, or pay any drawback found due, of which notice shall be given as in the case of the original liquidation, and against which protest may be filed within the same time and in the same manner and under the same conditions as against the original liquidation or decision. If the collector shall, upon such review, affirm his original decision, or if a protest shall be filed against his modification of any decision, and, in the case of merchandise entered for consumption, if all duties and charges shall be paid, then the collector shall forthwith transmit the entry and the accompanying papers, and all the exhibits connected herewith, to the United States Customs Court for due assignment and determination, as provided by law. Such determination shall be final and conclusive upon all persons, and the papers transmitted shall be returned, with the decision and judgment order thereon, to the collector, who shall take action accordingly, except in cases in which an appeal shall be filed in the United States Court of Customs and Patent Appeals within the time and in the manner provided by law." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 515; 19 U. S. C. 1515) propriate cases and transmitted to the appraiser for verification. If samples are sent to the court at the importer's request, the transportation charges shall be paid by him. If samples are needed to sustain the Government's case, they shall be sent by mail, if possible, under Government frank; otherwise under Government bill of lading.

§ 17.4 Decisions of United States Customs Court; appeals; reliquidation; refunds.

(a) An entry which is the subject of a decision of the United States Customs Court shall be reliquidated in harmony with the judgment order thereon at the expiration of 60 days from the date of the decision, or 90 days in the case of entries covering merchandise imported into Alaska or the insular possessions of the United States, unless an appeal or motion for a rehearing is filed,[3] except that entries the subject of decisions of the court, which follow a decision of the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals involving the same issue, may ordinarily be reliquidated immediately upon receipt of the judgment orders from the United States Customs Court.

(b) An entry covering merchandise the subject of a decision of the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals shall be reliquidated only upon receipt of the judgment order from the United States Customs Court, but no such entry shall be liquidated pursuant to such order if an appeal is taken to the Supreme Court.[4]

(c) Refund of duties on reliquidation by reason of any ruling or decision of the Bureau, the United States Customs Court, or the United States Court of Customs and Patent Appeals shall be made in accordance with § 24.36 of this chapter.

§ 17.5 Stipulations.

(a) Each stipulation, whether following a decision of the Customs Court or the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals or embracing an agreed statement of facts, which is to be certified by a customs employee, shall be presented in triplicate to the office of the Assistant Attorney General, Civil Division, Customs section, 201 Varick Street, New York 14, N.Y., from which it will be forwarded for certification to the appraiser or collector for the district in which the related protest or appeal for reappraisement was filed. The said Customs Section will forward with the stipulation the pertinent entry papers and other documents.

(b) Each item or class of merchandise mentioned in the body of the stipulation shall be identified by a separate capital letter and by the initials of the certifying officer, but in no case shall the letter or symbol "X" be used for such identification purposes. The stipulation shall indicate that the merchandise is so marked on the invoice by a statement in substantially the following form:

It is hereby stipulated and agreed by and between counsel for the plaintiff and the Assistant Attorney General, attorney for the United States, that the merchandise_____, covered by the protests
(Give description)
enumerated in Schedule A, attached, and represented by the items marked "A," "B," "C," etc., on the invoice(s), and checked by _____ (The examiner will here insert his initials and his full name thereafter)
_____, assessed with duty at the rate of _____ under paragraph _____, Tariff Act of_____, as _____, is the same in all material respects as the merchandise passed upon in the case of_____ (Insert title and Abstract, T. D., C. D., or C. A. D. number) and therein held dutiable at the rate of_____ _____ under paragraph_____ _____, Tariff Act of _____.

The conclusion of the stipulation shall contain a declaration that the protests are limited to the items of merchandise indicated by the examiner by means of a symbol letter and his initials, and abandoned as to any other merchandise mentioned in the protest. There shall also be a waiver of future amendment to the protests and a statement that "the protests are deemed submitted on this stipulation."

(c) At the end of each stipulation there shall be added a certificate in one of the following forms: [5]

(Form 1)

I have read the foregoing stipulation and am familiar with the merchandise covered by the decisions therein. I have personally passed the items covered by the foregoing stipulation and have seen samples of said items.

It is my opinion that the items covered by the stipulation are similar in all material respects to the merchandise covered by the test case, and I do so certify.

(d) If any protest number or entry number is to be deleted from a schedule of protest numbers or entry numbers attached to or embodied in a stipulation, a line shall be drawn through the number and the change shall be initialed by the attorney for the importer and the customs officers making and approving the certificate.

(e) No stipulation which does not conform to the requirements of these regulations, or with respect to which there is doubt, shall be certified unless it is approved by an authorized representative of the Assistant Attorney General's office.

[3] Any party to a proceeding before the Customs Court who is dissatisfied with the decision of such court as to the construction of the law and the facts respecting the classification of imported merchandise and the rate of duty imposed thereon under such classification, or with any other appealable decision of such court, may, not later than sixty days after the entry of the decision, apply to the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals for a review of all questions of law and fact. In cases arising in the Territories and Possessions ninety days shall be allowed for making such application.

"The application shall be made by filing in the office of the clerk of the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals a concise statement of errors of law and fact complained of; and a copy of such statement shall be served on the collector, or on the importer, owner, consignee, or agent, as the case may be. Thereupon the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals shall immediately order the Customs Court to transmit the record and evidence taken, together with a certified statement of the facts involved in the case and the decision thereon; and all the evidence taken by and before the Customs Court shall be competent evidence before the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals. The decision of the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals shall be final unless set aside or modified by the Supreme Court, and the case shall be remanded to the Customs Court for further proceedings to be taken in pursuance of such decision." (28 U. S. C. 2601)

[4] "The Court of Customs and Patent Appeals shall have jurisdiction to review by appeal final decision of the Customs Court in all cases as to the construction of the law and the facts respecting the classification of merchandise, the rate of duty imposed thereon under such classifications, and the fees and charges connected therewith, and all appealable questions as to the jurisdiction of the Customs Court and as to the laws and regulations governing the collection of the customs revenues." (28 U. S. C. 1541)

"Cases in the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals may be reviewed by the Supreme Court by writ of certiorari." (28 U. S. C. 1256)

[5] Form 1 shall be used when the examiner who examined the merchandise is still in the Service and shall be executed by such officer. Form 2 shall be used when the examiner who examined the merchandise is no longer in the Service or is incapacitated. It shall be executed by the examiner to whom the examination of merchandise of the kind covered by the stipulation has been assigned officially.

REAPPRAISEMENT AND REVIEW

§ 17.6 Notice of advance.

The collector at the headquarters port, or the deputy collector in charge at any other port, shall promptly give notice of appraisement on customs Form 4301 when such notice is required by section 501, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.[6] The notice shall be prepared in duplicate and the retained copy, with the date of mailing or delivery noted thereon, shall be securely attached to the invoice.

(Sec. 501, 46 Stat. 730, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1501)

§ 17.7 Appeal for reappraisement; form; samples; certification of documents.

(a) When the collector appeals for reappraisement he shall use customs Form 4305 and at once forward a copy of the appeal to the consignee or his agent or attorney. Such appeal shall specify the particular items in the invoice affected if it does not apply to all.

(b) The appeal of a consignee or his agent shall be filed with the collector in triplicate.[7] Customs Form 4305 may be used for this purpose. The post office address of the consignee or his agent shall be set forth in each appeal.

(c) When an appeal for reappraisement by the collector or by the consignee or his agent has been completed, the collector shall transmit the invoices and all papers pertaining to reappraisement (except advance reports, customs Form 6445, and documentary evidence attached thereto) with customs Form 3085 to the United States Customs Court, 201 Varick Street, New York, N. Y.[8]

(d) When samples are sent to the court at the importer's request, the transportation charges shall be paid by him.

(e) The director of the Customs Information Exchange, New York, N. Y., the person authorized to act in that capacity during the absence or disability of the director, and any other official designated by the Commissioner of Customs, shall certify copies of official documents for the purpose set forth in section 2633, 28 U. S. Code.[8a]

(Sec. 1, 62 Stat. 980; 28 U.S.C. 2633)

§ 17.8 Review of reappraisement decision; filing application for.

Any application by or on behalf of the consignee for a review of a reappraisement decision shall be filed with collector in duplicate.[9] Customs Form 4307 may be used for this purpose.

(Sec. 1, 62 Stat. 981; 28 U.S.C. 2636)

ANTIDUMPING PROTESTS AND APPEALS; AMERICAN PRODUCERS' APPEALS AND PROTESTS

§ 17.9 Antidumping; protests and appeals; procedure.

(a) Appeals for reappraisement, applications for reviews of reappraisements, and protests relating to the Antidumping Act, 1921, shall be made in the same manner as appeals, applications for review, and protests relating to ordinary customs duties.[10]

(b) Notice of appraiser's reports which require the assessment of dumping duties shall be sent by the collector to the importer, consignee, or agent. (See § 17.6.)

(Sec. 210, 42 Stat. 15, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 169)

§ 17.11 American producers' appeals and protests; procedure.

"In finding the value of merchandise, in reappraisement proceeding before a single judge of the Customs Court, affidavits and depositions of persons whose attendance cannot reasonably be had, price lists and catalogues, reports or depositions of consuls, customs agents, collectors, appraisers, assistant appraisers, examiners, and other officers of the Government may be admitted in evidence. Copies of official documents, when certified by an official duly authorized by the Secretary of the Treasury, may be admitted in evidence with the same force and effect as original documents.

"The value found by the appraiser shall be presumed to be the value of the merchandise. The burden shall rest upon the party who challenges its correctness to prove otherwise." (28 U.S.C. 2633)

"The judge assigned to hear an appeal for reappraisement of merchandise shall render his decision in writing, together with a statement of the reasons therefor and of the facts on which his decision is based." (28 U.S.C. 2635)

"(a) The decision of a single judge in a reappraisement proceeding shall be final and conclusive upon all parties unless within 30 days from the date it is filed with the collector of customs an application for its review is filed with or mailed to the Customs Court by the collector or other person authorized by the Secretary of the Treasury, and a copy of such application mailed to the consignee, or his agent or attorney, or filed by the consignee, or his agent or attorney, with the collector, by whom the same shall be forwarded forthwith to such court." (28 U.S.C. 2636(a))

"The decision of a division of the Customs Court, in any matter within its jurisdiction shall be the decisions of such court, and shall be final and conclusive upon all parties, unless a party to such proceeding takes an appeal to the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals within the time and manner provided in section 2601 of this title, but if the decision relates to a reappraisement of merchandise, such appeal to the Court of Customs and Patent Apeals shall be upon questions of law only." (19 U. S. C. 169)

[11] "(a) Value. Whenever an American manufacturer, producer, or wholesaler believes that the appraised value of any imported merchandise of a class or kind manufactured, produced, or sold at wholesale by him is too low, he may file with the Secretary of the Treasury a complaint setting forth the value at which he believes the merchandise should be appraised and the facts upon which he bases his belief. The Secretary shall thereupon transmit a copy of such complaint to the appraiser at each port of entry where the merchandise is usually imported. Until otherwise directed by the Secretary, the appraiser shall report each subsequent importation of the merchandise giving the entry number, the name of the importer, the appraised value, and his reasons for the appraisement. If the Secretary does not agree with the action of the appraiser, he shall instruct the collector to file an appeal for a reappraisement as provided in section 501 of this Act, and such manufacturer, producer, or wholesaler shall have the right to appear and to be heard as a party in interest under such rules as the United States Customs Court may prescribe. The Secretary shall notify such manufacturer, producer, or wholesaler of the action taken by such appraiser, giving the port of entry, the entry number, and the appraised value of such merchandise and the action he has taken thereon. If the appraiser advances the entered value of merchandise upon the information furnished by the American manufacturer, producer, or wholesaler, and an appeal is taken by the consignee, such manu-quests for information as to classifications and rates of duty under subdivision (b) thereof, shall be submitted to the Commissioner of Customs in triplicate. Complaints may be filed by complainants themselves or by duly authorized attorneys or agents on their behalf. A complaint filed by a corporation shall be signed by an officer thereof, and a complaint filed by a copartnership shall be signed by a member thereof. The name of the complainant, his principal place of business, and the fact that he is an American manufacturer, producer, or wholesaler shall be shown. The complaint shall present in detail the information required by section 516, as amended; shall show the class or kind of merchandise manufactured, produced, or sold which is claimed to be similar to the imported merchandise in such detail as will permit the Commissioner to establish the similarity between the domestic and foreign merchandise; and shall contain such information as the complainant may have as to the port or ports at which such merchandise is being imported into the United States. The complaint shall be itemized as to each class or kind of merchandise involved.

(b) All information secured by the collector as to the character and description of merchandise of the kind covered by a complaint, entered after publication by the Commissioner of his decision as to the proper classification and rate of duty, and samples of such merchandise, shall be made available to the complainant upon application by him to the collector.

(c) Notice of the liquidation of the first of the entries to be liquidated, covering merchandise of a class or kind which would enable the complainant to present the issue desired, shall be given to the complainant by the collector, as required by section 516 (b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended. If, upon examination of the information secured by the collector as to this entry and inspection of the sample, if any, the complainant believes and the collector agrees that the merchandise or the facts surrounding this importation are not sufficient to raise the issue involved in the complaint, the collector shall then give the complainant notice of the first liquidation thereafter of such an entry as will permit the framing of the issue covered by the complaint, and shall, under the same condition, continue to give such notices for so long as he is of the opinion that the complainant is sincere in his desire to protest.

(d) A complainant shall not be permitted in any case to inspect any documents or papers of the consignee or importer lodged in the customhouse, except upon instructions of the Commissioner.

(e) All appeals for reappraisement and protests filed under section 516, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, shall be in triplicate.

(Sec. 516, 46 Stat. 735, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1516)

facturer, producer, or wholesaler shall have the right to appear and to be heard as a party in interest, under such rules as the United States Customs Court may prescribe. If the American manufacturer, producer, or wholesaler is not satisfied with the action of the Secretary, or the action of the appraiser thereon, he may file, within thirty days after the date of the mailing of the Secretary's notice, an appeal for a reappraisement in the same manner and with the same effect as an appeal by a consignee under the provisions of section 501 of this Act.

"(b) Classification. The Secretary of the Treasury shall, upon written request by an American manufacturer, producer, or wholesaler, furnish the classification of, and the rate of duty, if any, imposed upon, designated imported merchandise of a class or kind manufactured, produced, or sold at wholesale by him. If such manufacturer, producer, or wholesaler believes that the proper rate of duty is not being assessed, he may file a complaint with the Secretary, setting forth a description of the merchandise, the classification, and the rate or rates of duty he believes proper, and the reasons for his belief. If the Secretary decides that the classification of, or rate of duty assessed upon, the merchandise is not correct, he shall notify the collectors as to the proper classification and rate of duty and shall so inform the complainant, and such rate of duty shall be assessed upon all such merchandise entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption after thirty days after the date such notice to the collectors is published in the weekly Treasury Decisions. If the Secretary decides that the classification and rate of duty are correct, he shall so inform the complainant. If dissatisfied with the decision of the Secretary, the complainant may file with the Secretary, not later than thirty days after the date of such decision, notice that he desires to protest the classification of, or rate of duty assessed upon, the merchandise. Upon receipt of such notice from the complainant, the Secretary shall cause publication to be made of his decision as to the proper classification and rate of duty and of the complainant's desire to protest, and shall thereafter furnish the complainant with such information as to the entries and consignees of such merchandise, entered after the publication of the decision of the Secretary at the port of entry designated by the complainant in his notice of desire to protest, as will enable the complainant to protest the classification of, or rate of duty imposed upon, such merchandise in the liquidation of such an entry at such port. The Secretary shall direct the collector at such port to notify such complainant immediately when the first of such entries is liquidated. Within thirty days after the date of mailing to the complainant of notice of such liquidation, the complainant may file with the collector at such port a protest in writing setting forth a description of the merchandise and the classification and rate of duty he believes proper. Notwithstanding such protest is filed, merchandise of the character covered by the published decision of the Secretary, when entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption on or before the date of publication of a decision of the United States Customs Court or of the United States Court of Customs and Patent Appeals, rendered under the provisions of subsection (c) of this section, not in harmony with the published decision of the Secretary, shall be classified and the entries liquidated in accordance with such decision of the Secretary, and, except as otherwise provided in this Act, the liquidations of such entries shall be final and conclusive upon all parties. * * *

"(c) Hearing and determination. A copy of every appeal and every protest filed by an American manufacturer, producer, or wholesaler under the provisions of this section shall be mailed by the collector to the consignee or his agent within five days after the filing thereof, and such consignee or his agent shall have the right to appear and to be heard as a party in interest before the United States Customs Court. The collector shall transmit the entry and all papers and exhibits accompanying or connected therewith to the United States Customs Court for due assignment and determination of the proper value or of the proper classification and rate of duty." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 516, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1516)

"In reappraisement or classification proceedings instituted under section 1516 of Title 19, an American manufacturer, producer, or wholesaler shall not have the right to inspect any documents or papers of the consignee or importer disclosing any information which the Customs Court or any judge or division thereof deems unnecessary or improper to be disclosed to him." GENERAL PROVISIONS

§ 18.1 Carriers; application to bond.

(a) Merchandise to be transported from one port to another in the United States in bond, except as provided for in paragraph (b) of this section, shall be delivered to a common carrier bonded for that purpose, but such merchandise may be transported with the use of the facilities of other bonded or nonbonded carriers.[1] For the purposes of this section, the term "common carrier" means a common carrier of merchandise owning or operating a railroad, steamship, or other transportation line or route or a freight forwarder as defined in section 402 of part IV of the Interstate Commerce Act, as amended (49 U. S. C. 1002 (a) (5).

(b) Pursuant to Public Resolution 108, of June 19, 1936,[2] and subject to compliance with all other applicable provisions of this part, the collector of customs at New York, upon the request of the party in interest, may permit merchandise entered and examined for customs purposes to be transported in bond between the ports named in the resolution by bonded cartmen or lightermen duly qualified in accordance with the provisions of Part 21 of this chapter, if the collector is satisfied that the transportation of such merchandise in this manner will not endanger the revenue.

(c) A common carrier desiring to receive merchandise for transportation in bond shall file with the collector of customs a bond on customs Form 3587 in a sum to be recommended by the collector, accompanied by the fee of $35 prescribed by § 24.12 of this chapter, a certified extract of its charter showing that it is authorized to engage in common carriage, and a statement that it is operating or intends to operate as a common carrier and that it undertakes to carry for such as choose to employ it and does not limit its carriage to specific individuals or firms. In addition to the foregoing a freight forwarder shall submit a certificate issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission showing that it is operating as a freight forwarder as defined in section 402 of part IV of the Interstate Commerce Act. The extract and statement need not be submitted in the case of railroad or steamship companies generally known to be engaged in common carriage.

(d) In the case of motor carrier bonds submitted for consideration, the following shall be filed in addition to the requirements mentioned above:

(1) A detailed description of the equipment to be used, showing whether the trucks are open or closed and whether they can be secured with customs seals, the number of trucks operated, and whether such trucks are owned or leased by the proposed bonded motor carrier, and, if leased, whether the trucks are operated by employees of the lessee or lessor.

(2) A list of the lines or routes over which the principal operates or will operate, setting out the cities or towns at which the trucks stop or lay over en route and where and in whose custody the trucks remain during such stops or layovers.

(3) A definite statement as to whether the principal transports merchandise according to schedule over each of the lines or routes named or performs carriage only when a shipment is secured for transportation.

(4) A detailed description of the terminal facilities employed by the principal at the points of origin and destination shown on the list of lines or routes.

(5) A statement showing that facilities are available for the segregation and safeguarding of the packages designated by the collector for examination from a particular shipment until such packages are called for by the public store cartman and removed to the public stores for examination.

(e) Canadian and Mexican common carriers by motor vehicles may be bonded for the transportation of merchandise between two ports in Canada or Mexico through the United States. (See § 5.11 of this chapter.)

(f) Common carrier bonds may be discontinued at any time by the Bureau or the collector of customs at the headquarters port where the bond is filed. Bonded carriers desiring to discontinue such bonds shall make application therefor to such collector.

(Sec. 551, 46 Stat. 742, as amended, 49 Stat. 1538; 19 U.S.C. 1551, 1551a)

§ 18.2 Receipt by carrier; manifest.

(a) When merchandise is delivered to a bonded carrier for transportation in bond, the carrier's receipt shall be given immediately to the lading inspector on the customs in-bond manifest covering the merchandise. The merchandise shall be laden on the convey-

---

[1] "Under such regulations and subject to such terms and conditions as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe, any common carrier of merchandise owning or operating a railroad, steamship, or other transportation line or route for the transportation of merchandise in the United States, or any freight forwarder, as defined in section 402 of part IV of the Interstate Commerce Act (U. S. C., title 49, sec. 1002 (5)), upon application, may, in the discretion of the Secretary, be designated as a carrier of bonded merchandise for the final release of which from customs custody a permit has not been issued." (19 U. S. C. 1551)

[2] "The Secretary of the Treasury be, and he is hereby, authorized, when it appears to him to be in the interest of commerce, and notwithstanding any provision of law or regulation requiring that the transportation of imported merchandise be by a bonded common carrier, to permit such merchandise which has been entered and examined for customs purposes to be transported by bonded cartmen or bonded lightermen between the ports of New York, Newark, and Perth Amboy, which are all included in Customs Collection District Numbered 10 (New York): Provided, That this resolution shall not be construed to deprive any of the ports affected of its rights and privileges as a port of entry." (19 U. S. C. 1551a) ance under the supervision of a customs officer, unless the transporting conveyance is not to be sealed with customs seals or the lading inspector accepts the check of the carrier as to the merchandise laden thereon.

(b) A manifest, customs Form 7512, containing a description of the merchandise shall be prepared by the carrier or shipper and signed by the agent of the carrier. Except as prescribed in § 5.11 of this chapter, relating to merchandise in transit through the United States between ports in contiguous foreign territory, a separate set shall be prepared for each entry and, if the consignment is contained in more than one conveyance, a separate set shall be prepared for each conveyance.

(c) The manifest shall be filed in duplicate and, after the goods have been laden and the carrier has receipted all copies, one copy shall be delivered to the conductor, master, or person in charge to accompany the conveyance and be delivered to the collector at destination for his record. An extra copy of customs Form 7512 may be required for use as a permit to the inspector or customs warehouse officer at the point where the merchandise is to be laden. When a copy of the carrier's manifest is lost or cannot be produced, a copy shall be made of whichever manifest is available.

§ 18.3 Transshipment;[3] transfer by bonded cartman.

(a) When bonded merchandise in one conveyance is to be transshipped under customs supervision to another single conveyance while en route to the port of destination or departure from the United States, the copy of the manifest on customs Form 7512 accompanying the merchandise to each such place of transshipment shall be surrendered to the collector of customs at that place for execution of a certificate of transfer thereon and for return to the carrier to accompany the merchandise to such port of destination or departure.

(b) When bonded merchandise is to be transshipped in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section into more than one conveyance, there shall be prepared by the carrier, agent of the shipper, or forwarder for each such conveyance on each transshipment one additional copy of the carrier's manifest on customs Form 7512 which accompanies the merchandise to that place. The Form 7512 which accompanies the shipment to the place of transshipment shall be surrendered to the collector of customs there. After the execution by the customs officer supervising the transshipment of a certificate of transfer on each such additional copy, it shall be delivered to the conductor, master, or person in charge of the conveyance in which the merchandise is forwarded, for delivery to the collector of customs at the port of destination or departure from the United States for his record.

(c) If it becomes necessary at any point in transit to remove the customs seals from a conveyance containing bonded merchandise for the purpose of transferring its contents to another conveyance or to gain access to the shipment because of casualty or other good reason, and it cannot be done under customs supervision because of the element of time involved or because there is no customs officer stationed at such point, a responsible agent of the carrier may remove the seals, supervise the transfer or handling of the merchandise, seal the conveyance in which the shipment goes forward, and make appropriate notation on the conductor's or master's copy of the manifest of his action, including the date, serial number of the new seals applied, and the reason therefor. This authorization shall not apply in any case not involving a real emergency.

(d) All transfers to or from the conveyance or warehouse of merchandise undergoing transportation in bond shall be made under the provisions of Part 21 and at the expense of the parties in interest, unless the carrier's bond is liable for the safekeeping and delivery of the merchandise while it is being transferred.

§ 18.4 Sealing conveyances and compartments; labeling packages; warning cards.

(a) Conveyances or compartments in which bonded merchandise is transported shall be sealed with red in-bond customs seals (except as otherwise provided for by § 5.11 (b) of this chapter) under customs supervision, except that when the compartment or conveyance cannot be effectively sealed, as in the case of merchandise shipped in open cars or barges, or on the decks of vessels, or when it is known that any seals would necessarily be removed outside the jurisdiction of the United States for the purpose of discharging or taking on cargo, or when it is known that the breaking of the seals will be necessary to ventilate the hatches, or in other similar circumstances, such sealing may be waived with the consent of the carrier and an appropriate notation of such waiver shall be made on the manifest. The Commissioner of Customs may authorize the waiver of sealing of conveyances or compartments in which bonded merchandise is transported in other cases when in his opinion the sealing thereof is unnecessary to protect the revenue or to prevent violations of the customs laws and regulations.

(b) Ports at which the facilities are insufficient to maintain continuous customs supervision over vessels arriving with bonded cargo while the bonded merchandise is not under customs seals shall permit the vessels to proceed to destination without further sealing and notation to this effect shall be made on the manifest.

(c) Merchandise not under bond may be transported in sealed conveyances or compartments containing bonded goods when destined for the same place or places beyond, but not when intended for intermediate places.

(d) The seals to be used in sealing conveyances, compartments, or packages are prescribed by the Department and may be obtained in accordance with § 24.13 of this chapter.

(e) Except as otherwise provided for in this paragraph, packages shipped in bond or by a carrier permitted to transport articles under the last sentence of section 553 of the tariff act, as amended, shall be corded and sealed or, in lieu thereof, the carriers shall furnish and attach to each such package a warning label on bright red paper, not less than 5 by 8 inches in size, containing the following legend in black type of a conspicuous size:

U. S. CUSTOMS

Transportation Entry No. _____.
From _____ To _____.
This package is under bond and must be delivered intact to the chief officer of the customs at _____.

WARNING

Two years' imprisonment or $5,000 fine or both, is the penalty for unlawful removal of this package or any of its contents.

Such cording and sealing or labeling of the packages so shipped is not required either when the packages are transported in a conveyance or compartment sealed with customs seals, or when the sealing of the conveyance or compartment in which the packages are transported is waived under paragraph (a) or (b) of this section. When the packages are shipped in a railroad car the sealing of which is practicable but which is not sealed because merchandise not being transported in bond is or may be carried in the same car, the packages being transported in bond shall be corded and sealed or labeled.

(f) The warning label, when used, shall be pasted securely on the package under customs supervision as close as practicable to the mark or number on the package. Additional labels may be required by the collector in such places on the package as he shall specify in any case where he is of the opinion that one is not adequate.

(g) When, in the case of crates and similar packages, it is impossible to attach the warning labels by pasting, bright red shipping tags of convenient size, large enough to be conspicuous and containing the same legend as the labels, shall be used in lieu of labels. Such tags shall be wired or otherwise securely fastened to the packages in such manner as not to injure the merchandise.

(h) Bonded carriers shall furnish and securely attach to the side doors of cars, to the doors of compartments, and on vehicles carrying bonded merchandise which are secured with customs seals, bright red cards, 8 by 10¼ inches in size, which shall be attached near such seals and on which shall be printed in large, clear, black letters the following:

United States Customs. Two years' imprisonment, or $5,000 fine, or both, is the penalty for the unlawful removal of United States customs seals on this car, vehicle, or compartment. United States customs officers only are authorized to break these seals.

§ 18.5 Diversion.

(a) Collectors of customs at ports of first arrival may permit merchandise forwarded under any class of transportation entry to be diverted to any other port than the port named in the entry upon application of the consignee or agent. An application to divert made under this section shall be furnished in the number of copies required for the puposes of local administration.

(b) The collector at an intermediate port may permit merchandise in transit under bond under any class of transportation entry to be entered at his port for consumption, warehouse, exportation, further transportation in bond, or under any bond provision of the tariff laws.

(c) Merchandise received at the port of original destination under any class of transportation entry may be forwarded to another port or returned to the port of origin on the same transportation entry, unless the merchandise has been placed in general order in which case a new transportation entry shall be required.

(d) If it is desirable to split a shipment at a port of destination and to enter a portion for consumption or warehouse and forwarded the balance in bond, or to divert the entire shipment or a part thereof to more than one port, the collector at the port where such diversion takes place shall complete the original transaction, notify the port of origin, and require the filing of a new transportation entry or entries for the portion or portions forwarded.

(e) The diversion of shipments in bond which are subject on importation to restriction or prohibition under quarantines and regulations administered by the Bureau of Animal Industry or the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine shall be allowed only upon written permission or under regulations issued by the agency concerned.

§ 18.6 Short shipments; shortages; entry and allowance.

(a) When there has been a short shipment and the short-shipped packages are subsequently received, they may be forwarded under a proper supplemental transportation entry bearing the original entry number or, if a new bill of lading has been issued therefor, under a new transportation entry.

(b) When there is a shortage of one or more packages or nondelivery of an entire shipment, and inquiry discloses that the merchandise has been delivered directly to the consignee, entry therefor may be accepted if the merchandise can be recovered intact without any of the packages having been opened. In such cases, any shortage from the invoice quantity shall be presumed to have occurred while the merchandise was in the possession of the bonded carrier.

(c) If the merchandise cannot be recovered intact, as specified in paragraph (b) of this section, entry shall not be accepted and a copy of the collector's report on customs Form 3861, showing the amount of duty or any internal-revenue tax due, shall be sent to the initial carrier for its information, investigation, and report within 90 days.

(d) An allowance in duty on merchandise reported short at destination, including merchandise found by the appraising officer to be damaged and worthless, and animals and birds found by the discharging officer to be dead on arrival at destination, shall be made in the liquidation of the entry.

(e) In the case of shipments arriving in the United States by rail or seatrain which are forwarded under customs in-bond seals under the provisions of § 5.11 of this chapter, and §§ 18.11, 18.20, or 18.29, a notation shall be made by the carrier or shipper on the in-bond manifest, customs Form 7512, to show whether the shipment was transferred to the car designated in the manifest or whether it was laden in the car in the foreign country, which shall be named.

§ 18.7 Lading for exportation, verification of.

(a) When merchandise (including baggage) covered by an entry or withdrawal for transportation and exportation is delivered to the exporting carrier at the port of destination, the delivering carrier's copy of the in-bond manifest shall be promptly delivered to the customs lading officer.

(b) The collector shall require only such supervision of the lading for exportation of merchandise covered by an entry or withdrawal for exportation or for transportation and exportation as is reasonably necessary to satisfy him that the merchandise has been laden on the exporting conveyance.

(c) Whenever the circumstances warrant, and occasionally in any event, collectors shall request the Customs Agency Service to check export entries and withdrawals against the records of the exporting carriers. Such check or verification shall include an examination of the carrier's records of claims and settlement of export freight charges, and any other records which may relate to the transaction.

(Secs. 553, 557, 46 Stat. 742, as amended, 744, as amended, sec. 646, 67 Stat. 520; 19 U. S. C. 1553, 1557, 1646a)

§ 18.8 Liability of carrier for shortage, irregular delivery, or nondelivery; penalties.

(a) The initial bonded carrier shall be responsible for shortage, irregular delivery, or nondelivery at destination or port of exit of bonded merchandise, rereceived by it for carriage. When sealing is waived, any loss found to exist at destination shall be presumed to have occurred while the merchandise was in the possession of the carrier, unless conclusive evidence to the contrary is produced.

(b) Penalties imposed as liquidated damages under the common carrier's bond for shortage, failure to deliver, or irregular delivery shall be as follows:

(1) In the case of shortage, failure to deliver, or delivery direct to the consignee or other person of any merchandise free of duty, an amount equal to the value of the missing merchandise, not to exceed in any one shipment the sum of $25.

(2) In the case of shortages or failure to deliver merchandise subject to duty, an amount equal to the duties on the missing merchandise or, if the duties cannot be estimated promptly, an amount equal to 70 per centum of the value shown on the manifest.

(3) In the case of unauthorized delivery directly to the consignee or other person of merchandise subject to duty, an amount equal to one and one-quarter times the estimated duty thereon, or, if the duties cannot be estimated promptly, an amount equal to 70 per centum of the value shown on the manifest.

(c) In addition to the penalties described in paragraph (b) of this section, the carrier shall pay any internal-revenue taxes or other taxes accruing to the United States on the missing merchandise, together with all costs, charges, and expenses caused by the failure to make the required transportation, report, and delivery.

(d) In any case in which liquidated damages imposed in accordance with this section do not aggregate over $20,000 and the collector is satisfied by evidence submitted to him with an application for relief from the payment thereof that any shortage, irregular delivery, nondelivery, or any failure to obtain customs supervision was without any intent to evade any law or regulation, the collector may cancel such claim upon the payment of any lesser amount or without the payment of any amount, as he may deem appropriate under the law and in view of the circumstances.

(Sec. 551, 623, 46 Stat. 742, as amended, 759, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1551, 1623)

§ 18.9 Examination by inspectors of trunk line associations or agents of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

(a) Upon presentation of proper credentials showing the applicant to be a representative of the Trunk Line Association, the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Joint Rate Inspection Bureau of Chicago, or the Southern Weighing and Inspection Bureau of Atlanta, inspectors of customs in charge shall permit such applicant to open and examine packages containing in-bond merchandise described in the manifest in general terms for the purpose of ascertaining whether the merchandise is properly classified under the interstate commerce laws.

(b) The opening and examination of such packages shall be without expense to the Customs Service or the owner of the goods and shall be done in the presence of a customs officer. The contents of the cases shall not be removed or disturbed further than is necessary to ascertain the character thereof. The customs officer shall require the packages to be securely closed, and shall note on the manifest the packages so inspected, the date, and by whom inspected.

(Sec. 551, 46 Stat. 742, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1551)

§ 18.10 Kinds of entry.

(a) The following entries and withdrawals may be made for merchandise to be transported in bond:[4]

(1) Entry for immediate transportation without appraisement.

(2) Warehouse or rewarehouse withdrawal for transportation.

(3) Warehouse or rewarehouse withdrawal for exportation or for transportation and exportation.

(4) Entry for transportation and exportation.

(5) Entry for exportation.

(b) The copy of each entry or withdrawal made in any of the classes named in paragraph (a) of this section which is retained in the office of the forwarding collector shall be signed by the party making the entry or withdrawal. In the case of shipments to the Virgin Islands (U.S.) under paragraph (a), (3), (4), or (5) of this section, one additional copy of the entry or withdrawal on customs Form 7512 shall be filed and shall be mailed by the receiving collector to the collector of customs, Charlotte Amalie, St. Thomas, Virgin Islands (U.S.).

§ 18.10a Special manifest.

Merchandise for which no other type of bonded movement is appropriate may be shipped in bond from one port to another when such shipment is authorized by the collector of customs having custody of the merchandise. For this purpose customs Form 7512 prepared in quadruplicate shall be used as a special manifest.

[4] Before shipping merchandise in bond to another port for the purpose of warehousing or rewarehousing, the shipper should ascertain whether warehouse facilities are available at the intended port of destination.

IMMEDIATE TRANSPORTATION WITHOUT APPRAISEMENT

§ 18.11 Entry; classes of goods for which entry is authorized; form used.

(a) Entry for immediate transportation without appraisement may be made under section 552, Tariff Act of 1930,[5] for merchandise in general-order warehouse at any time within 1 year from the date of importation.

(b) The carrier bringing the merchandise to the port of arrival, the carrier who is to accept the merchandise on its bond for transportation to the port of destination, or any person shown by the bill of lading or manifest, by a certificate of the importing carrier, or by any other document satisfactory to the collector to have a sufficient interest in the merchandise for that purpose may make entry for immediate transportation without appraisement.

(c) Before a shipment covered by an entry for immediate transportation or a manifest of baggage shipped in bond (other than baggage to be forwarded in bond to a customs station—see § 18.13 (a)), shall be allowed to be transported directly to a place of deposit outside a port of entry for examination and release as contemplated by section 484 (f), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[6] the consent of the collector and appraiser for the port of entry designated in the transportation entry or baggage manifest must first be secured. The importer must furnish such collector with a stipulation that, promptly upon the arrival of any part of the merchandise or baggage at the place of deposit, he will file an entry for the shipment at the port of entry designated in the transportation entry or baggage manifest and comply with the provisions of § 14.2 (f) of this chapter.

(d) Carload shipments of livestock shall not be entered for immediate transportation without appraisement unless they will arrive at destination before it becomes necessary to remove the seals for the purpose of watering and feeding the animals, or unless the route be such that the removal of the seals and the watering, feeding, and reloading of the stock may be done under customs supervision.

(e) Entries for immediate transportation without appraisement covering merchandise subject to detention of supervision by any Federal agency shall contain a sufficient description of the merchandise to enable the representative of the agency concerned to determine the contents of the shipment. Such merchandise covered by quarantines and regulations adminstered by the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine shall be forwarded under such entries only upon written permission of or under regulations issued by that Bureau.[7]

(f) One or more entire packages of merchandise covered by an invoice from one consignor to one consignee may be entered for consumption or warehouse at the port of first arrival, and the remainder for immediate transportation without appraisement, provided all the merchandise covered by the invoice is entered simultaneously.

(g) Several importations may be consolidated in one immediate transportation without appraisement entry when the bills of lading or carrier's certificates name only one consignee at the port of first arrival.

(h) Customs Form 7512 shall be used as a combined entry, invoice, and manifest, and six copies shall be required at the port of origin. However, the collector at such port may require an extra copy or copies to be furnished for use in connection with the delivery of the merchandise to the bonded common carrier named in the entry. The merchandise shall be described on this form in such detail as to enable the collector to make an estimate of the duties due thereon. The collector may require evidence to satisfy him of the approximate correctness of the value or quantity stated in the entry. The value stated on entry at the port of first arrival is not binding on the ultimate consignee making entry at the port of destination.

§ 18.12 Entry at port of destination.

(a) Merchandise received under an immediate transportation without appraisement entry may be entered for transportation and exportation or for immediate exportation, or under any other form of entry, and shall be subject to all the conditions pertaining to merchandise entered at a port of first arrival if not more than 1 year has elapsed from the date of original importation. If more than 1 year has elapsed, only an entry for consumption shall be accepted. Such entry shall show the name of the port of first arrival, the transporting carrier, and the number of the immediate transportation entry. (See § 20.2 of this chapter.)

(b) The right to make entry at the port of destination shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of § 8.6 of this chapter.

(c) When a portion of a shipment is entered at the port of first arrival and the remainder is entered for consumption or warehouse at one or more subsequent ports, the entry at each subsequent port may be made on an extract of the invoice as provided for in § 8.11 (b) of this chapter.

(d) All importations forwarded under immediate transportation without appraisement entries shall be held by the bonded carrier at the port of destination until released by the collector of customs.

(e) All the merchandise included in an immediate transportation without appraisement entry not entered within 5 days, exclusive of Sundays and holidays, after delivery of the manifest to the collector at the port of destination shall be treated as unclaimed unless the

SHIPMENT OF BAGGAGE IN BOND

§ 18.13 Procedure; manifest.

(a) Baggage may be forwarded in bond to another port of entry, or to a customs station listed in § 1.2 of this chapter, at the request of the passenger, the transportation company, or the agent of either, with the use of a baggage manifest described in paragraph (b) of this section without examination or assessment of duty at the port or station of first arrival. For this purpose, the carrier shall furnish cards of bright red cardboard not less than 2½ by 4 inches in size with the following printed text, for attachment (by wire or cord) to the baggage:

UNITED STATES CUSTOMS

Check No. _____
Baggage in bond:
Carrier _____
From _____

TO COLLECTOR OF CUSTOMS

At (destination) _____
This baggage must be delivered by carrier to the collector of customs at destination. Failure to do so renders the carrier liable to a fine.

(b) A customs manifest for baggage shipped in bond, customs Form 7520, shall be prepared in quadruplicate for each shipment. One copy shall be delivered to the carrier to accompany the baggage and shall be delivered by the carrier to the collector of customs at destination as a notice of arrival.

(c) Baggage arriving in bond or otherwise at a port on the Atlantic or Pacific coast, destined to a port on the opposite coast, may be laden under customs supervision, without examination and without being placed in bond, on a vessel proceeding to the opposite coast, provided the vessel will proceed to the opposite coast without stopping at any other port on the first coast.

(d) Checked baggage may be shipped in bond from places in contiguous foreign territory at which United States customs officers are stationed. The procedure shall be the same as though the shipment originated at a port of entry in the United States and no customs formalities shall be required at the place of actual first arrival in the United States, unless such place is the final destination.

§ 18.14 Shipment of baggage in transit to foreign countries.

The baggage of any person in transit through the United States from one foreign country to another may be shipped over a bonded route for exportation. Such baggage shall be shipped under the regulations prescribed in § 18.13, except that the card or paster shall be printed on yellow paper and shall read "Baggage in bond for export." See § 5.11 of this chapter for the regulations applicable to baggage shipped in transit through the United States between points in Canada or Mexico.

§ 18.15 Domestic baggage and accompanied commercial travelers' samples through foreign territory.

(a) Upon the request of the carrier, a special manifest on white cardboard not less than 2½ x 4½ inches in size furnished by the carrier may be completed and attached by wire or cord, under customs supervision, to each piece of checked baggage of domestic origin transported from port to port in the United States via a foreign port or through foreign territory. This special manifest shall be in substantially the following form:

UNITED STATES CUSTOMS
IN-TRANSIT BAGGAGE MANIFEST

CARRIER'S BAGGAGEMAN: Destroy this tag if owner has access to baggage before its return to United States.

Check No. _____
This baggage is in transit from _____, (Port of exit) through foreign territory to _____, (Port of entry) in the United States.
This baggage laden for transportation as above stated.
Date _____
_____,
U.S. Customs Officer.

(b) The removal of the special tag manifest described in paragraph (a) of this section may be done only by a customs officer. The tag manifest shall be removed by the customs officer at the final port of re-entry into the United States. If the officer finds the special tag manifest missing or not intact or for any other reason believes that the baggage has been tampered with while outside the United States, he shall detain it for examination. Otherwise, it may be passed without examination.

(c) In lieu of attaching a special in-transit manifest to each piece as set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, the baggage may be forwarded in a car or compartment sealed with in-transit seals in harmony with § 5.8(g) of this chapter and manifested as in the case of other merchandise in transit through foreign territory.

(d) Except as otherwise provided for in paragraph (e) of this section the provisions of this section shall not apply to domestic hand baggage crossing foreign territory which, upon reentry into the United States, shall be examined in the same manner as baggage of foreign origin.

(e) If a commercial traveler arriving at a United States frontier port with his samples wishes to carry them in his own automobile through Canada to another place in the United States without displaying them in Canada and the outer containers of the samples may be readily and effectively corded and sealed, the containers may be corded and sealed with yellow automatic metal intransit seals by a United States customs officer upon compliance with the following conditions. The traveler shall furnish a list, in duplicate, of all the articles in the containers with the approximate values of the articles shown. The customs officer shall check the list with the articles and satisfy himself that the values shown for the articles appear to be approximately correct. The original of the list, signed by the customs officer over his title and showing that the articles on the list have been checked by the officer against those in the containers, shall be returned to the traveler for submission by him to the Canadian customs upon his arrival in Canada. The traveler shall also be required to execute and file customs Form 7533–B, in original only, at the port of his departure from the United States, as an intransit manifest covering the movement of the samples to the United States port through which the traveler will return to this country. After this form has been signed and dated by the customs officer, it shall be returned to the traveler for submission by him to the collector of customs at the United States port where the samples are returned to this country. In preparing customs Form 7533–B for commercial travelers' samples, descriptions and quantities may be shown thereon by merely noting "Commercial Samples" and the number of the corded and sealed containers. The traveler may be required to assist the customs officer in the cording and sealing.

(Sec. 554, 46 Stat. 743; 19 U.S.C. 1554)

WAREHOUSE AND REWAREHOUSE WITHDRAWALS FOR TRANSPORTATION

§ 18.16 Forms of withdrawal; time.

(a) Merchandise may be withdrawn from warehouse for transportation to another port of entry if withdrawal for consumption or exportation can be accomplished at the port of destination before the expiration of the warehousing period, including any lawful extension thereof. The withdrawal document in such a case shall be executed on customs Form 7512, seven copies of which shall be required at the port of origin. However, the collector at such port may require an extra copy or copies to be furnished for use in connection with the delivery of the merchandise to the bonded common carrier named in the withdrawal document. In the case of alcoholic beverages, two extra copies will be required for use in furnishing the duty statement to the collector at destination. A person in whom the right to withdraw the merchandise to be so transported has not previously been vested in accordance with § 8.39 of the chapter may make such withdrawal by (1) depositing a withdrawal for transportation on which is endorsed an assent to the withdrawal by the person in whom the right of withdrawal is then vested and (2) filing with such endorsed withdrawal the bond provided for in § 8.39 (a) of this chapter.

(b) All withdrawals for transportation shall show the original warehouse entry number, date of entry, and the port at which filed, and shall name a consignee at the port of destination or exportation. When the withdrawal is made from a rewarehouse entry, the number and date of the rewarehouse entry, as well as the number and date of the original warehouse entry and the port at which the original warehouse entry was filed, shall be shown on such withdrawal. Each withdrawal for transportation shall contain the statement prescribed for withdrawals in § 8.37 (b) of this chapter.

(Sec. 557, 46 Stat. 744, as amended: 19 U. S. C. 1557)

§ 18.17 Withdrawal procedure.

(a) Merchandise may be withdrawn for transportation prior to liquidation of the warehouse entry. In such cases the transportation entry, customs Form 7512, shall show any ascertained weight, gauge, or measure, the entered value of the particular merchandise covered by the withdrawal, and the estimated duty.

(b) All or any part of the merchandise covered by a warehouse entry may be withdrawn for transportation without deposit in a bonded warehouse and before liquidation, and may be permitted to remain on the vessel or other vehicle or on the pier in a constructive warehouse status pending examination and appraisement. When any such merchandise not deposited in warehouse is not forwarded under the withdrawal for transportation on account of damage or other cause, the importer shall be required to withdraw such merchandise immediately for consumption or exportation, or designate a warehouse to which it may be sent, and, upon his failure to do so, it shall be treated as unclaimed.

(c) The duty on any samples withdrawn at the original port from a shipment covered by a withdrawal for transportation shall be collected at such port and a notation thereof made on the transportation entry. No separate invoice or extract from the original invoice shall be required to cover such samples.

(Sec. 557, 46 Stat. 744, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1557)

§ 18.18 Forwarding procedure; procedure at destination.

(a) The merchandise shall be forwarded in accordance with the general provisions for transportation in bond §§ 18.1–18.8.

(b) On arrival at destination, the merchandise may be entered for rewarehouse in accordance with §§ 8.33 and 8.34 of this chapter; for rewarehouse and withdrawal for consumption in accordance with § 8.35 of this chapter; or for exportation in accordance with § 8.36 of this chapter; or may be diverted to another port or returned to the port of origin in accordance with § 18.5 (c) and (d).

(c) The liquidation of the original warehouse entry shall be followed except in cases provided for in § 16.3 (c) or 16.10 (h) of this chapter in cases involving shortage, irregular delivery, or nondelivery under the warehouse withdrawal for transportation, and in cases where the collector at destination is of the opinion that circumstances make it inadvisable to follow such liquidation. When the merchandise has been withdrawn for consumption prior to the receipt of the notice of liquidation from the original port, differences of less than $3 between the estimated duty collected and the liquidated duty shall be disregarded. This procedure is likewise applicable to internal-revenue taxes.

(Sec. 7, 52 Stat. 1081, as amended, sec. 557, 46 Stat. 744, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1321, 1557)

WAREHOUSE WITHDRAWALS FOR EXPORTATION OR FOR TRANSPORTATION AND EXPORTATION

§ 18.19 Procedure.

(a) Direct exportation. When merchandise is withdrawn from warehouse for direct exportation without transportation in bond to another port, an entry and manifest, Customs Form 7512, shall be filed in quintuple. However, the collector may require an extra copy or copies to be furnished for use in connection with the delivery of the merchandise to the carrier named in the withdrawal document.

(b) Indirect exportation. (1) When merchandise is withdrawn from warehouse for transportation and exportation, seven copies of Customs Form 7512 shall be required at the port of withdrawal. However, the collector may require an extra copy or copies to be furnished for use in connection with the delivery of the merchandise to the bonded common carrier named in the withdrawal document.

(2) The merchandise shall be forwarded in accordance with the general provisions for transportation in bond, §§ 18.1–18.8.

(3) If any part of a shipment is not exported or when a shipment is divided at the port of exportation, extracts in duplicate from the manifest on file in the customhouse shall be made on Customs Form 7512 for each part, one copy to be sent to the discharging inspector and the other to the lading inspector to be used as a report of exportation. The splitting up for exportation of shipments arriving under warehouse withdrawals for transportation and exportation shall be permitted only when various portions of a shipment are destined to different destinations, when the export vessel cannot properly accommodate the entire quantity, or in other similar circumstances. The provisions of §§ 18.23 and 18.24 shall also be followed in applicable cases.

(c) Withdrawal statement required. Each withdrawal for exportation or withdrawal for transportation and exportation shall contain the summary statement prescribed for withdrawals in § 8.37 (b) of this chapter.

(Sec. 557, 46 Stat. 744, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1557)

MERCHANDISE IN TRANSIT THROUGH THE UNITED STATES TO FOREIGN COUNTRIES

§ 18.20 Entry procedure; forwarding.

(a) When an importation is entered for transportation through the United States and exportation to a foreign country,[8] except as provided for in § 5.11 of this chapter (relating to merchandise in transit through the United States between two points in contiguous foreign territory), six copies of Customs Form 7512 shall be required. However, the collector may require an extra copy or copies to be furnished for use in connection with the delivery of the merchandise to the bonded common carrier or other carrier named in the entry.

(b) In places where no bonded common-carrier facilities are reasonably available and merchandise is permitted to be transported otherwise than by a bonded common carrier, the collecter may permit entry in accordance with the procedure outlined in paragraph (a) of this section, if he is satisfied that the revenue will not be endangered thereby. The entries in such cases shall be under a separate series of numbers. A bond on customs Form 7557 in an amount equal to double the estimated duty shall be required when the collector deems such action necessary for the protection of the revenue. (See § 25.15 of this chapter for cancellation of export bonds.)

(c) The merchandise shall be forwarded in accordance with the general provisions for transportation in bond, §§ 18.1–18.8. If the merchandise is not forwarded within 30 days from the date the entry is filed, the entry shall be canceled and the merchandise treated as unclaimed as of the date of original arrival.

§ 18.21 Restricted and prohibited merchandise.

(a) Merchandise subject upon importation to examination, disinfection, or further treatment under quarantines and Quarantine Division, Agricultural Research Service, Department of Agriculture, shall be released for transportation or exportation only upon written permission of, or under regulations issued by, that Bureau. (See §§ 12.10 to 12.15 of this chapter.)

(b) Narcotics and other articles prohibited admission into the commerce of the United States shall not be entered for transportation and exportation and any such merchandise offered for entry for that purpose shall be seized, except that exportation or transportation and exportation may be permitted upon written authority from the proper governmental agency and on compliance with the regulations of such agency.

(c) Articles in transit manifested merely as drugs, medicines, or chemicals, without evidence to satisfy the collector that they are non-narcotic, shall be detained and subjected, at the carrier's risk and expense, to such examination as may be necessary to satisfy the collector whether or not they are of a narcotic character. A properly verified certificate of the shipper, specifying the items in the shipment and stating whether narcotic or not, may be accepted by the collector to establish the character of such a shipment.

§ 18.22 Procedure at port of exit.

(a) If transfer is necessary, the procedure shall be as prescribed in § 18.3(d).

(b) Upon the arrival at the port of exit of express shipments of articles shown by the manifest, customs Form 7512, to be baggage and to be deliverable to the owner on board the exporting vessel, such articles may be transferred by the express company, without a permit from the collector and without the use of a transfer ticket or other customs formality, from its terminal to the exporting vessel for lading under customs supervision, if the express company is bonded as a common carrier and is responsible under its bond for the delivery of the articles to the customs officer in charge of the exporting vessel. The manifest shall show the name of the owner of the baggage and the name of the vessel on which he intends to sail.

§ 18.23 Change of destination; change of entry.

(a) The foreign destination of such merchandise may be changed by the parties in interest upon notice to the collector at the port of exit from the United States. The collector at the port of exit, in his discretion, may report the application for a change of foreign destination to the collector at the port of entry.

(b) Such merchandise may be entered for consumption or warehouse or under any other form of entry. If the merchandise is subject on importation to quarantine and regulations administered by the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, it shall be entered for consumption or warehouse only upon written permission of, or under regulations issued by, that Bureau. (See §§ 12.10 to 12.15 of this chapter.)

§ 18.24 Retention of goods on dock; splitting of shipments.

Upon written application of a party in interest and the written consent of the owner of the dock, the collector, in his discretion, may allow in-transit merchandise to remain on the dock under the supervision of a customs officer without extra expense to the Government for any period not exceeding 90 days. Upon further application, additional extensions of 90 days or less, but not to exceed 1 year from the date of importation, may likewise be granted by the collector.[9] The splitting up of shipments for exportation shall be permitted only when the exportation of a shipment in its entirety is not possible by reason of the different destinations to which portions of the shipment are destined, when the exporting vessel cannot properly accommodate the entire quantity, or in other similar circumstances. The collector may take possession of the merchandise at any time.

EXPORTATION[10] FROM CUSTOMS CUSTODY OF MERCHANDISE UNENTERED OR COVERED BY AN UNLIQUIDATED CONSUMPTION ENTRY, OR MERCHANDISE DENIED ADMISSION BY THE GOVERNMENT

§ 18.25 Direct exportation.

(a) Except as otherwise provided for in § 9.11(a) of this chapter, relating to exportation by mail, when no entry has been made or completed for merchandise in customs custody, or when the merchandise is covered by an unliquidated consumption entry, or when merchandise which has been entered in good faith is found to be prohibited under any law of the United States, and such merchandise is to be exported directly without transportation to another port, an entry on customs Form 7512 shall be filed in quadruplicate. However, the collector may require an extra copy or copies to be furnished for use in connection with the delivery of the merchandise to the carrier named in the entry.

(b) An exportation bond on customs Form 7557, 7559, or other appropriate form shall be required with the entry, provided a consumption entry bond on customs Form 7551 or 7553 or other appropriate form was not previously given. (See also § 8.49 of this chapter.)

(c) If the merchandise has been landed or is transferred from one vessel to another and has not been entered for consumption or, in the case of goods entered for consumption and rejected, if the statistical copy of the consumption entry has not been sent to the New York Office, Foreign Trade Division, Bureau of the Census, customs Form 7513 shall be used as the export declaration.

(d) If the merchandise is exported in the importing vessel without landing, a representative of the exporting carrier who has knowledge of the facts shall certify that the merchandise entered for exportation was not discharged during the carrier's stay in port. A charge shall be made against the vessel term bond, customs Form 7569, if on file, or a vessel bond on customs Form 7567 shall be given as in the case of residue cargo for foreign ports.

(e) Gunpowder and other explosive substances, the deposit of which in any public store or bonded warehouse is prohibited by law, may be entered on arrival from a foreign port for immediate exportation in bond by sea, but shall be transferred directly from the importing to the exporting vessel.

§ 18.26 Indirect exportation.

(a) When merchandise of the character enumerated in § 18.25(a) is to be transported in bond to another port for exportation, it may be entered for transportation and exportation in accordance with the procedure in § 18.20. No bond on customs Form 7557 or 7559 shall be required as the common carrier's bond is sufficient to insure the safekeeping of the merchandise pending its exportation. In the case of merchandise prohibited entry by any Government agency, that fact shall be prominently noted on customs Form 7512 for the information of the collector at the port of exportation.

(b) The merchandise shall be forwarded in accordance with the general provisions for transportation in bond, §§ 18.1–18.8.

(c) If the merchandise is to be transferred after arrival at the selected port of exportation, the procedure prescribed in § 18.3 (d) shall be followed. The provisions of §§ 18.23 and 18.24 shall also be followed in applicable cases.

§ 18.27 Port marks.

Port marks may be added by authority of the collector and under the supervision of a customs officer. The original marks and the port marks shall appear in all papers pertaining to the exportation.

FINAL PORT OF EXPORTATION OF MERCHANDISE CROSSING CONTIGUOUS FOREIGN TERRITORY

§ 18.28 Port of exportation; cancellation of charge against bond.

Merchandise which leaves the United States at one frontier port, crosses contiguous foreign territory, and reenters the United States at another frontier port before final exportation to a contiguous country shall be treated as exported when it has passed through the last frontier port. This section shall control whether or not the merchandise to be exported is domestic or foreign and whether or not it is exported with benefit of drawback. The manifest, shipper's export declaration, and the notice of intent, if any, shall be filed at the last port of exit from the United States.

[8] "Any merchandise, other than explosives and merchandise the importation of which is prohibited, shown by the manifest, bill of lading, shipping receipt, or other document to be destined to a foreign country, may be entered for transportation in bond through the United States by a bonded carrier without appraisement or the payment of duties and exported under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe, and any baggage or personal effects not containing merchandise the importation of which is prohibited arriving in the United States destined to a foreign country may, upon the request of the owner or carrier having the same in possession for transportation, be entered for transportation in bond through the United States by a bonded carrier without appraisement or the payment of duty, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe. In places where no bonded common-carrier facilities are reasonably available, such merchandise may be so transported otherwise than by a bonded common carrier under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 553, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1553)

[9] "Any entered or unentered merchandise (except merchandise entered under section 557 of this Act, but including merchandise entered for transportation in bond or for exportation) which shall remain in customs custody for one year from the date of importation thereof, without all estimated duties and storage or other charges thereon having been paid, shall be considered unclaimed and abandoned to the Government • • •." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 491, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1491)

[10] "If any merchandise entered or withdrawn for exportation without payment of the duties thereon, or with intent to obtain a drawback of the duties paid, or of any other allowances given by law on the exportation thereof, is relanded at any place in the United States without entry therefor having been made, the same shall be considered and treated as having been imported into the United States contrary to law, and all persons concerned therein and such merchandise shall be liable to the same penalties as are prescribed by section 593 of this Act." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 589; 19 U. S. C. 1589)

MERCHANDISE ARRIVING FROM A CONTIGUOUS COUNTRY IN SEALED VESSELS OR VEHICLES

§ 18.29 Sealed shipment authorized.

(a) Except to the extent that it is modified by §§ 18.30 and 18.31, the procedure in connection with merchandise arriving from a contiguous country in sealed vessels or vehicles under the provision of section 463, Tariff Act of 1930,[11] shall be the same as that applicable to similar classes of shipments entered at the port of first arrival for transportation in bond.

(b) Plants and plant products, unless specifically exempted from inspection by the Department of Agriculture, shall not be forwarded in sealed vessels or vehicles under the provisions of section 463 of the tariff act unless previously inspected and released by a representative of the Department of Agriculture. This restriction also applies to purebred animals for which free entry is to be claimed, which are required to be inspected at the border for identification purposes.

§ 18.30 Procedure; documents required.

(a) The master of the vessel or the person in charge of the vehicle shall present to the customs officer at the place of shipment a manifest on customs Form 7512, seven copies of which shall be required.

(b) The declaration of the "importer" on customs Form 7512 shall be executed by the shipper who shall sign it as shipper.

(c) Upon receipt of the manifest, the customs officer, after comparing the contents of the vessel or vehicle with the manifest, shall cause the said vessel or vehicle to be closed and sealed. The expense of sealing vessels and vehicles, exclusive of the compensation of the customs officer, shall be paid by the carrier.

(d) The customs officer shall deliver three copies of the manifest in a sealed envelope to the conductor or person in charge of the vessel or vehicle for transmittal to the collector of customs at the port of first arrival in the United States and shall deliver another copy to such conductor or person to accompany the shipment to destination.

(e) The carrier to whom the merchandise is released at the port of first arrival shall be bonded and the agent of such carrier shall execute the receipt on the collector's copy of the manifest.

(f) On arrival of the vessel or vehicle at the port of destination, the master of the vessel or person in charge of the vehicle shall deliver immediately the vessel or vehicle[12] and manifest covering the shipment to the collector of customs at the port.[13]

(Sec. 463, 46 Stat. 718; 19 U. S. C. 1463)

§ 18.31 Merchandise in less-than-carload lots.

Merchandise in less-than-carload lots originating at a point in a contiguous country at which there is a United States customs officer may be forwarded from that place under a manifest on customs Form 7512. The procedure to be followed shall be the same in all respects as that governing the forwarding of merchandise in sealed vessels or vehicles, except that the packages need not be sealed and the carrier shall furnish and attach to each package the warning labels required in the case of other bonded merchandise shipped in less-than-carload lots.

[11] "To avoid unnecessary inspection of merchandise imported from a contiguous country at the first port of arrival, the master of the vessel or the person in charge of the vehicle in which such merchandise is imported may apply to the customs officer of the United States stationed in the place from which such merchandise is shipped, and such officer may seal such vessel or vehicle. Any vessel or vehicle so sealed may proceed with such merchandise to the port of destination under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 463; 19 U. S. C. 1463)

[12] "If the master of such vessel or the person in charge of any such vehicle fails to proceed with reasonable promptness to the port of destination and to deliver such vessel or vehicle to the proper officers of the customs, or fails to proceed in accordance with such regulations of the Secretary of the Treasury, or unlades such merchandise or any part thereof at other than such port of destination, or disposes of any such merchandise by sale or otherwise, he shall be guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned for not more than five years, or both; and any such vessel or vehicle, with its contents, shall be subject to forfeiture." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 464; 19 U. S. C. 1464)

§ 19.1 Classes of customs warehouses.

(a) Customs warehouses shall be designated according to the following classifications:

(1) Class 1. Premises owned or leased by the Government and used for the storage of merchandise undergoing examination by the appraiser, under seizure, or pending final release from customs custody.[1] Unclaimed merchandise stored in such premises shall be held under "general order."[2]

[1] "Any premises owned or leased by the Government and used for the storage of merchandise for the final release of which from customs custody a permit has not been issued shall be known as a 'public storage.'" (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 561; 19 U. S. C. 1561)

[2] "The Secretary of the Treasury may cause to be set aside any available space in a building used as a customhouse for the storage of bonded merchandise or may lease premises for the storage of unclaimed merchandise or other imported merchandise required to be stored by the Government, and set aside a portion of such leased premises for the storage of bonded merchandise: Provided, That no part of any premises owned or leased by the Government may be used for the storage of bonded merchandise at any port at which a public bonded warehouse has been established and is in operation. All the premises so leased shall be leased on public account and the storage and other charges shall be deposited and accounted for as customs receipts, and the rates therefor shall not be less than the charges for storage and similar services made at such port of entry by commercial concerns for the storage and handling of merchandise. No collector or other officer of the customs shall own, in whole or in part, any bonded warehouse or

When such premises are not sufficient or available for the storage of seized and unclaimed goods, such goods may be stored in a warehouse of class 3, 4, or 5. So far as such warehouses are used for this purpose, they shall be designated "bonded stores." If there are no warehouses of these classes available, the collector may, with the approval of the Bureau, rent suitable premises for the storage of seized and unclaimed goods.[3]

(2) Class 2. Importers' private bonded warehouses used exclusively for the storage of merchandise belonging or consigned to the proprietor thereof. A warehouse of class 4 or 5 may be bonded exclusively for the storage of goods imported by the proprietor thereof, in which case it shall be known as a private bonded warehouse.

(3) Class 3. Public bonded warehouses used exclusively for the storage of imported merchandise.

(4) Class 4. Bonded yards or sheds for the storage of heavy and bulky imported merchandise; stables, feeding pens, corrals, or other similar buildings or limited enclosures for the storage of imported animals; and tanks for the storage of imported liquid merchandise in bulk. If the collector deems it necessary, the yards shall be enclosed by substantial fences with entrance and exit gates capable of being secured by customs locks. The inlets and outlets to tanks shall be secured by means of seals or customs locks in combination with steel chains.

(5) Class 5. Bonded bins or parts of buildings or of elevators to be used for the storage of grain. The bonded portions shall be effectively separated from the rest of the building.

(6) Class 6. Warehouses for the manufacture in bond, solely for exportation, of articles made in whole or in part of imported materials or of materials subject to internal-revenue tax; and for the manufacture for home consumption or exportation of cigars in whole of tobacco imported from one country.[4]

(7) Class 7. Warehouses bonded for smelting and refining imported ores and crude metals for exportation or domestic consumption.[5]

(8) Class 8. Bonded warehouses established for the purpose of cleaning, sorting, repacking, or otherwise changing in condition, but not manufacturing, imported merchandise, under customs enter into any contract or agreement for the lease or use of any building to be thereafter erected as a public store or warehouse. No lease of any building to be so used shall be taken for a longer period than three years, nor shall rent for any such premises be paid, in whole or in part, in advance." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 560; 19 U. S. C. 1560)

[3] "Buildings or parts of buildings and other inclosures may be designated by the Secretary of the Treasury [Commissioner of Customs] as bonded warehouses for the storage of imported merchandise entered for warehousing, or taken possession of by the collector, or under seizure, or for the manufacture of merchandise in bond, or for the repacking, sorting, or cleaning of imported merchandise. Such warehouses may be bonded for the storing of such merchandise only as shall belong or be consigned to the owners or proprietors thereof and be known as private bonded warehouses, or for the storage of imported merchandise generally and be known as public bonded warehouses. * * *" (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 555; 19 U. S. C. 1555)

[4] "All articles manufactured in whole or in part of imported materials, or of materials subject to internal-revenue tax, and intended for exportation without being charged with duty, and without having an internal-revenue stamp affixed thereto, shall, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, in order to be so manufactured and exported, be made and manufactured in bonded warehouses similar to those known and designated in Treasury Regulations as bonded warehouses, class six: Provided, That the manufacturer of such articles shall first give satisfactory bonds for the faithful observance of all the provisions of law and of such regulations as shall be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury: Provided, further, That the manufacture of distilled spirits from grain, starch, molasses, or sugar, including all dilutions or mixtures of them or either of them shall not be permitted in such manufacturing warehouses.

"Whenever goods manufactured in any bonded warehouse established under the provisions of the preceding paragraph shall be duly laden for transportation and immediate exportation under the supervision of the proper officer who shall be duly designated for that purpose, such goods shall be exempt from duty and from the requirements relating to revenue stamps.

"No flour, manufactured in a bonded manufacturing warehouse from wheat imported after ninety days from the date of the enactment of this Act shall be withdrawn from such warehouse for exportation without payment of a duty on such imported wheat equal to any reduction in duty which by treaty will apply in respect of such flour in the country to which it is to be exported.

"Any materials used in the manufacture of such goods, and any packages, coverings, vessels, brands, and labels used in putting up the same may, under the regulations of the Secretary of the Treasury, be conveyed without the payment of revenue tax or duty into any bonded manufacturing warehouse, and imported goods may, under the aforesaid regulations, be transferred without the exaction of duty from any bonded warehouse into any bonded manufacturing warehouse; but this privilege shall not be held to apply to implements, machinery, or apparatus to be used in the construction or repair of any bonded manufacturing warehouse or for the prosecution of the business carried on therein.

"Articles or materials received into such bonded manufacturing warehouse or articles manufactured therefrom may be withdrawn or removed therefrom for direct shipment and exportation or for transportation and immediate exportation in bond to foreign countries or to the Philippine Islands under the supervision of the officer duly designated therefor by the collector of the port, who shall certify to such shipment and exportation, or ladening for transportation, as the case may be, describing the articles by their mark or otherwise, the quantity, the date of exportation, and the name of the vessel: Provided, That the by-products incident to the processes of manufacture, including waste derived from cleaning rice in bonded warehouses under the Act of March 24, 1874, in said bonded warehouses may be withdrawn for domestic consumption on the payment of duty equal to the duty which would be assessed and collected by law if such waste or by-products were imported from a foreign country: Provided, That all waste material may be destroyed under Government supervision. All labor performed and services rendered under these provisions shall be under the supervision of a duly designated officer of the customs and at the expense of the manufacturer.

"A careful account shall be kept by the collector of all merchandise delivered by him to any bonded manufacturing warehouse, and a sworn monthly return, verified by the customs officers in charge, shall be made by the manufacturer containing a detailed statement of all imported merchandise used by him in the manufacture of exported articles.

"Before commencing business the proprietor of any manufacturing warehouse shall file with the Secretary of the Treasury a list of all the articles intended to be manufactured in such warehouse, and state the formula of manufacture and the names and quantities of the ingredients to be used therein.

"Articles manufactured under these provisions may be withdrawn under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe for transportation and delivery into any bonded warehouse at an exterior port for the sole purpose of immediate export therefrom: Provided, That cigars manufactured in whole of tobacco imported from any one country, made and manufactured in such bonded manufacturing warehouses, may be withdrawn for home consumption upon the payment of the duties on such tobacco in its condition as imported under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe and the payment of the internal-revenue tax accruing on such cigars in their condition as withdrawn, and the boxes or packages containing such cigars shall be stamped to indicate their character, origin of tobacco from which made, and place of manufacture.

"The provisions of section 3433 of the Revised Statutes shall, so far as may be practicable, apply to any bonded manufacturing warehouse established under this Act and to the merchandise conveyed therein.

"Distilled spirits and wines which are rectified in bonded manufacturing warehouses, class six, and distilled spirits which are reduced in proof and bottled in such warehouses, shall be deemed to have been manufactured within the meaning of this section, and may be withdrawn as hereinbefore provided, and likewise for shipment in bond to Puerto Rico, subject to the provisions of this section, and under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, there to be withdrawn for consumption or be rewarehoused and subsequently withdrawn for consumption: Provided, That upon withdrawal in Puerto Rico for consumption, the duties imposed by the customs laws of the United States shall be collected on all imported merchandise (in its condition as imported) and imported containers used in the manufacture and putting up of such spirits and wines in such warehouses: Provided further, That no internal-revenue tax shall be imposed on distilled spirits and wines rectified in class six warehouses if such distilled spirits and wines are exported or shipped in accordance with the provisions of this section, and that no person rectifying distilled spirits or wines in such warehouses shall be subject by reason of such rectification to the payment of special tax as a rectifier." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 311, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1311)

[5] "The works of manufacturers engaged in smelting or refining, or both, of ores and crude metals, may, upon the giving of satisfactory bonds, be designated as bonded smelting warehouses. * * *" (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 312; 19 U. S. C. 1312)

toms supervision and at the expense of the proprietor.[6]

(b) The whole or a part of any warehouse of class 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, or 7 may be designated a constructive manipulation (class 8) warehouse when the exigencies of the service so require.

(c) When parts of buildings are used as customs bonded warehouses, the bonded and nonbonded portions thereof shall be effectively separated by partitions of substantial materials and construction erected in such a manner as to render it impossible to enter the premises in the absence of the customs warehouse officer without such violence as to make the entry easy of detection. So-called poultry wire, wood lattice or palings, plasterboard, beaverboard, or other materials of a light or flimsy nature, or materials of a substantial nature but which are insecurely installed are not acceptable for use as partitions. Where partitions consist of wire mesh or expanded metal panels, the wire shall be not less than No. 6 gauge (of a diameter of .192 inch) or equivalent cross sectional area with mesh openings not to exceed 2 inches in the larger dimension, and with the panel material riveted or welded into channel-iron or T-iron frames or secured with through hairpin bolts to 2 x 4 inch wood stud partition framing. Wood partitions shall be constructed of not less than 1-inch boards (dressed if desired) of uniform length between supports, nailed with not less than ten penny nails to not less than 2 x 4 inch stud framing and for additional security held in place by ⅛ x 1 inch metal cover-strips secured crosswise of the boards, preferably over the nailed ends, with carriage bolts through the boards and partition framing.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

§ 19.2 Application to bond; bond; renewal of.

(a) An owner or lessee desiring to establish a bonded warehouse shall make written application to the collector, describing the premises, giving their location, and stating the class of warehouse and shall transmit therewith the fee of $50 prescribed by § 24.12 of this chapter. Except in the case of a class 2 or class 7 warehouse, the application shall state whether the warehouse is to be operated only for the storage or treatment of merchandise belonging to the applicant or whether it is to be operated as a public bonded warehouse. If the warehouse is to be operated as a private bonded warehouse, the application shall also state the general character of the merchandise to be stored therein, with an estimate of the maximum duties and taxes which will be due on such merchandise at any one time.[7] All storage warehouses operated by one proprietor in the same customs district may be included in one bond.

(b) The application shall be accompanied by a certificate signed by the president or secretary of a board of fire underwriters, and at ports where no such board exists by an officer or agent of each of two or more insurance companies, stating that the building is a suitable warehouse and acceptable for fire-insurance purposes. The application shall also be accompanied by a blueprint showing measurements, openings, etc., of the building or space to be bonded. If the warehouse to be bonded is a tank, the blueprint shall show all outlets, inlets, and pipe lines and shall be certified as correct by the proprietor of the tank. A gauge table showing the capacity of the tank in United States gallons per inch or fraction of an inch of height, certified by the proprietor to be correct, shall accompany the application. When a part or parts of a building are to be used as the warehouse, there shall be given a detailed description of the materials and construction of all partitions. When the proprietor is the lessee of the premises covered by the application and bond, he shall furnish a stipulation concurred in by the sureties, agreeing that, prior to the expiration of the lease covering the premises without renewal thereof, he will (1) transfer any merchandise remaining in the bonded warehouse to an approved bonded warehouse, (2) pay all duties, charges, or exactions due on such merchandise, or (3) otherwise dispose of such merchandise in accordance with the customs laws and regulations.

(c) On approval of the application to bond a warehouse of class 2, 3, 4, 5, or 8, a bond shall be executed on customs Form 3581.[8]

(d) On approval of the application to bond a proprietor's manufacturing warehouse, class 6, a bond shall be executed in duplicate on customs Form 3583. In the case of a bonded smelting and refining warehouse, class 7, the bond shall be executed with the required number of copies and in the form prescribed in T. D. 50267, as amended by T. D. 52403. All documents referred to in paragraph (b) of this section as may relate to proprietor's warehouse bonds, class 6 or 7, shall be submitted in duplicate.

(e) Any proprietor of a bonded warehouse may be required on 10 days' notice from the collector to furnish a new proprietor's warehouse bond; and if he fails to do so, no more goods shall be sent to the warehouse and those therein shall be removed at the expense of such proprietor. A new bond is required if the bonded warehouse is substantially altered or rebuilt.

§ 19.3 Bonded warehouses; alterations; suspensions; discontinuance.

(a) Alterations in bonded warehouses, class 6 or 7, may be made by permission of the collector, unless they constitute a material change in the premises, in which case the approval of the Bureau is required. All alterations to warehouses of class 2, 3, 4, 5, or 8, or combinations thereof, may be made by permission of the collector without approval of the Bureau.

(b) The use of all or part of a bonded warehouse or bonded floor or space may be temporarily suspended by the collector on written application of the proprietor if there are no bonded goods in the area concerned. Upon the removal of all free goods, if any, the premises may again be used for the storage of bonded goods upon written application of the proprietor. In each case the collector of customs shall indicate his action by endorsement on the application. Rebonding will not be necessary.

(c) The Bureau may discontinue the bonded status of a warehouse at any time for reasonable cause. The collector may take similar action in the case of a warehouse of class 2, 3, 4, 5, or 8. When the proprietor desires to discontinue the bonded status of his warehouse, he shall make written application therefor to the collector. If the application is approved by the collector, he shall require all goods in such warehouse upon which the duty has not been paid to be transferred to another bonded warehouse without expense to the Government. The number of warehouses covered by a general bond may be reduced by discontinuance without necessitating a new bond unless the proprietor so desires.

§ 19.4 Offices; safety and sanitary requirements; supervision.

(a) Suitable accommodations for the customs warehouse officer shall be provided by the proprietor of the warehouse. An office for the accommodation of the warehouseman may be allowed in the bonded premises if separated by a partition from the space used for the storage of bonded goods.

(b) Fires shall not be permitted in any warehouse, other than warehouses of classes 6, 7, and 8, except in the office of the customs warehouse officer and warehouseman. When lights are required, only safety lanterns or electric lights shall be used.

(c) All the doors and other entrances of bonded warehouses shall be secured by customs locks.

(d) In the case of merchandise subject to the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act particular care shall be exercised by the warehouseman to keep the premises clean and free of rodents, insect infestation, trash, or other insanitary conditions.

(e) The character and extent of the customs supervision to be exercised in connection with any warehouse or transaction provided for in this part shall be in accordance with § 23.35 of this chapter.

§ 19.5 Customs warehouse officer; compensation of.

(a) The collector shall, when necessary, designate one or more employees to act as customs warehouse officers of each bonded warehouse or public store.[9]

(b) The charge to be made for the services of a customs warehouse officer or a customs employee temporarily assigned to act as a customs warehouse officer at a bonded warehouse on a regular workday during his basic 40-hour workweek shall be computed at a rate per hour equal to $\frac{1}{1704}$ of the annual rate of regular pay of the particular employee with an addition equal to any night pay differential actually payable under section 301 of the Federal Employees Pay Act of 1945, as amended (5 U.S.C. 921). The charge to be made for the services of a customs warehouse officer or a customs employee temporarily assigned to act as a customs warehouse officer at a bonded warehouse on a holiday or outside his established basic workweek shall be the amount actually payable to the employee for such services under the Federal Employees Pay Act of 1945 as amended (5 U.S.C. 911, 922) or the customs overtime laws (19 U.S.C. 267, 1451), or both, as the case may be. The time charged shall include any time within the regular working hours of the employee required for travel between the duty assignment and the place where the employee is regularly employed, and shall be not less than one hour for each visit with time after the first hour, excluding lunch periods, charged in multiples of one hour, fractional parts of an hour of less than 30 minutes being disregarded and those of 30 minutes or more being charged as one hour. In no case shall the charge be less than one dollar.

(c) The necessary transportation expenses and any authorized per diem expenses of a customs employee assigned to perform services at a warehouse at which he is not regularly assigned shall be reimbursed by the warehouse proprietor.

(d) When a customs officer is regularly assigned to duty at more than one warehouse, the charge for his compensation and transportation expenses in going from one bonded warehouse to another shall be equitably apportioned among the respective warehouse proprietors concerned. However, no charge shall be made for transportation expenses when a customs employee is reporting to as a first assignment, or leaving from as a last assignment, a place where he is regularly assigned to duty.

(e) Upon the failure of the warehousemen to pay such charges when due, or to comply with the laws and regulations applicable to bonded warehouses, the collector shall refuse entry of merchandise for such warehouse and report the facts to the Bureau.

(Secs. 201, 301, 302, 604, 59 Stat. 296, 298, as amended, 303, 304, as amended, sec. 603, 63 Stat. 965, as amended, secs. 203, 204, 65 Stat. 679, as amended, 681, sec. 5, 36 Stat. 901, as amended, secs. 451, 555, 556, 46 Stat. 715, as amended, 743; 5 U.S.C. 911, 921, 922, 944, 1113, 2062, 2063, 19 U.S.C. 267, 1451, 1555, 1556)

§ 19.6 Permits; releases.

(a) Upon the receipt of a permit signed by the collector, or other customs officer designated for such purpose, the customs warehouse officer shall release the merchandising covered thereby to the warehouse proprietor, unless the proprietor furnishes a delivery order authorizing release to some other person, in which case the merchandise shall be released to the person designated by the proprietor.[10] If the permit bears the endorsement provided for in § 8.38 of this chapter, release in accordance with the foregoing shall be withheld, subject to the provisions of § 20.3 (c) of this chapter, pending the lodging of an order to release on customs Form 7505–B.

(b) Before delivery is permitted, the permit shall be endorsed to show that storage, cartage, labor, and other charges due the Government have been paid.

(c) Merchandise covered by a notice of lien filed by the carrier shall not be released until the lien has been satisfied or discharged.[11]

(Secs. 484 (j), 555, 556, 46 Stat. 723, 743; 19 U.S.C. 1484(j), 1555, 1556)

§ 19.7 Expenses of labor and storage.

(a) All merchandise deposited in public stores or in bonded warehouses shall be held liable for the expenses of labor and storage chargeable thereon at the customary rates and for all other expenses accruing upon the goods.

(b) The rates of storage and labor shall be agreed upon between the importer and the warehouse proprietor, but in case of disagreement the collector may, with the consent of all parties in interest, determine the rates to be charged.

(c) Except in cases provided for by § 8.28 (c) of this chapter, when merchandise is stored in a public store under a warehouse entry, general order, or otherwise, the charges for storage due the Government shall be paid before the packages are delivered. The charges shall be based upon the existing bonded warehouse tariff of the port for storage and labor.

§ 19.8 Examination of goods by importer; sampling; repacking; examination of merchandise by prospective purchasers.

Importers may, upon application approved by the collector on customs Form 3499 and under the supervision of the customs warehouse officer, examine, sample, and repack[12] or transfer mer-

[6] "Unless by special authority of the Secretary of the Treasury, no merchandise shall be withdrawn from bonded warehouse in less quantity than an entire bale, cask, box, or other package; or, if in bulk, in the entire quantity imported or in a quantity not less than one ton weight. All merchandise so withdrawn shall be withdrawn in the original packages in which imported unless, upon the application of the importer, it appears to the collector that it is necessary to the safety or preservation of the merchandise to repack or transfer the same: Provided, That upon permission therefor being granted by the Secretary of the Treasury, and under customs supervision, at the expense of the proprietor, merchandise may be cleaned, sorted, repacked, or otherwise changed in condition, but not manufactured, in bonded warehouses established for that purpose and be withdrawn therefrom for exportation to a foreign country or for shipment to the Virgin Islands, American Samoa, Wake Island, Midway Islands, Kingman Reef, Johnston Island, or the island of Guam, without payment of the duties, or for consumption, upon payment of the duties accruing thereon, in its condition and quantity, and at its weight, at the time of withdrawal from warehouse, with such additions to or deductions from the final appraised value as may be necessary by reason of change in condition. The basis for the assessment of duties on such merchandise so withdrawn for consumption shall be the adjusted final appraised value, and if the rate of duty is based upon or regulated in any manner by the value of the merchandise, such rate shall be based upon or regulated by such adjusted final appraised value. The scouring or carbonizing of wool shall not be considered a process of manufacture within the provisions of this section. Under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe imported merchandise which has been entered and which has remained in continuous customs custody may be manipulated in accordance with the provisions of this section under customs supervision and at the risk and expense of the consignee, but elsewhere than in a bonded warehouse, in cases where neither the protection of the revenue nor the proper conduct of customs business requires that such manipulation be done in a bonded warehouse." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 562, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1562)

[7] "If any merchandise is fraudulently concealed in, removed from, or repacked in any bonded warehouse, or if any marks or numbers placed upon packages deposited in such a warehouse be fraudulently altered, defaced, or obliterated, such merchandise and packages shall be subject to forfeiture, and all persons convicted of the fraudulent concealment, repacking, or removal of such merchandise, or of altering, defacing, or obliterating such marks and numbers thereon, and all persons aiding and abetting therein shall be liable to the same penalties as are imposed by section 593 of this Act." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 597; 19 U. S. C. 1597)

[8] "* * * Before any imported merchandise not finally released from customs custody shall be stored in any such premises, the owner or lessee thereof shall give a bond in such sum and with such sureties as may be approved by the Secretary of the Treasury [Commissioner of Customs] to secure the Government against any loss or expense connected with or arising from the deposit, storage, or manipulation of merchandise in such warehouse. * * *" (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 555; 19 U. S. C. 1555)

[9] "* * * Except as otherwise provided in this Act, bonded warehouses shall be used solely for the storage of imported merchandise and shall be placed in charge of a proper officer of the customs, who, together with the proprietor thereof, shall have joint custody of all merchandise store in the warehouse; and all labor on the merchandise so stored shall be performed by the owner or proprietor of the warehouse, under supervision of the officer of the customs in charge of the same, at the expense of the owner or proprietor. The compensation of such officer of the customs and other customs employees appointed to supervise the receipt of merchandise into any such warehouse and deliveries therefrom shall be reimbursed to the Government by the proprietor of such warehouse." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 555; 19 U.S.C. 1555)

[10] "* * * merchandise in a bonded warehouse shall be released from customs custody only to or upon the order of the proprietor of the warehouse. * * *" (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 484 (j); 19 U. S. C. 1484 (j))

The Government will not compel a warehouseman to deliver bonded goods as the interest of the Government is in the collection of the duty on the merchandise or its exportation, and any question of infringement of private rights by the warehouseman must be left to the parties in interest.

[11] Imported goods in bonded warehouse are exempt from taxation or judicial process of any State or subdivision thereof. (See T. D. 50200)

[12] Repacking shall be considered a manipulation within the purview of sec. 562, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

chandise in bonded warehouse. Where there will be no interference with the orderly conduct of customs business and no danger to the revenue, prospective purchasers may be permitted to examine merchandise in bonded warehouses upon the written request of the owner, importer, consignee, or transferee.

(Secs. 555, 556, 562, 46 Stat. 743, 745, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1555, 1556, 1562)

§ 19.9 Transfer to another warehouse.

(a) With the concurrence of the proprietors of the delivering and receiving warehouses, merchandise may be transferred under customs supervision and at the expense of the party requesting it from one bonded warehouse to another in the same port upon the written request of the importer or transferee to the collector, who shall issue an order for such transfer on customs Form 7500–A.[12]

(b) All charges shall be paid before goods are transferred from a warehouse of class 1.

§ 19.10 Examination packages.

Merchandise sent from a bonded warehouse to the appraiser's stores for examination shall be returned by the collector to the warehouse for delivery unless the warehouseman shall endorse on the duty-paid permit that the merchandise may be otherwise released.

(Secs. 555, 556, 46 Stat. 743; 19 U. S. C. 1555, 1556)

Manipulation in Bonded Warehouses and Elsewhere

§ 19.11 Manipulation in bonded warehouses and elsewhere.

(a) So far as applicable, the general provisions of the regulations governing warehouses bonded for the storage of imported merchandise shall apply to bonded manipulation warehouses and to other designated places of manipulation.[14]

(b) Merchandise to be manipulated under section 562, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[15] may be entered on customs Form 7502 and sent directly to a storage-manipulation warehouse.

(c) Merchandise entered for warehouse may be transferred to a storage-manipulation warehouse; or merchandise entered for storage-manipulation warehouse may be transferred after manipulation to the storage portion of the same warehouse, to another storage warehouse, or to a manufacturing warehouse of class 6.

(d) The application to manipulate, which shall be filed on customs Form 3499 with the collector having jurisdiction of the warehouse or other designated place of manipulation, shall describe the contemplated manipulation in sufficient detail to enable the collector to determine whether the imported merchandise is to be cleaned, sorted, repacked, or otherwise changed in condition, but not manufactured, within the meaning of section 562, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended. If the collector is satisfied that the merchandise is to be so manipulated, he may issue a permit on customs Form 3499, making any necessary modification in such form. Manipulation resulting in a change in condition of the merchandise, which will make it subject to a lower rate of duty or free of duty upon withdrawal for consumption, is not precluded by the provisions of such section 562.

(e) No merchandise shall be manipulated elsewhere than in a bonded warehouse unless the merchandise has been regularly entered for consumption or warehouse and is of a class entitled to the warehousing privilege under section 557, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

(f) Upon compliance with the provisions of paragraph (d) of this section, manipulated merchandise may be further manipulated before withdrawal in cases where the collector is satisfied that this will not endanger the revenue or interfere with the efficient conduct of customs business. The merchandise remaining in the warehouse shall be properly repacked after each manipulation.

(g) Manipulated merchandise may be withdrawn under any form of withdrawal, but no withdrawal shall be accepted for less than an entire repacked package. Each type of withdrawal filed shall contain a summary statement indicating the quantity in the warehouse account after manipulation and immediately before the withdrawal, the quantity withdrawn on the particular withdrawal, and the quantity remaining in the warehouse after the withdrawal. When merchandise covered by a consumption entry is manipulated elsewhere than in a bonded warehouse and thereafter withdrawn for consumption, the withdrawal shall be on customs Form 7505 and shall be liquidated in accordance with § 16.2(e) of this chapter.

Accounts

§ 19.12 Certification of customs warehouse officer's reports.

Before transmittal to the collector, the customs warehouse officer's report of merchandise received, delivered, released, withdrawn, or transferred shall be certified by the proprietor of the warehouse to be correct.

(Sec. 556, 46 Stat. 743; 19 U.S.C. 1556)

Manufacturing Warehouses

§ 19.13 Requirements for establishment of warehouse.

(a) Buildings or parts of buildings and other enclosures may be designated as bonded manufacturing warehouses if the Bureau is satisfied that their location, construction, and arrangement afford adequate protection to the revenue.[16] Such warehouses shall be used solely and exclusively for the purpose for which they are bonded. The general provisions pertaining to warehouses for the storage of bonded merchandise shall, so far as relevant, apply to bonded manufacturing warehouses.

(b) Application for the establishment of such a warehouse shall be made to the collector of customs for the port where the premises are situated, setting forth the size, construction, and location of the premises, the manufacture proposed to be carried on, and the kinds of materials intended to be stored and used therein.

(c) The procedure outlined in § 19.2 with respect to the application to bond the premises and the execution of the bond shall be followed.

(d) A list of all articles intended to be manufactured in the warehouse shall be filed in duplicate with the collector of customs, who shall transmit one copy to the Bureau. Such list shall set forth the specific names under which the articles are to be exported and under which they will be known to the trade, and shall show the names of all the ingredients entering into the manufacture of such articles, with the quantities of such ingredients or materials as may be dutiable or taxable.[17]

(e) Proprietors of such warehouses are required to conform strictly to the formulas filed with the bond, or subsequently, and in no instance shall an article be permitted to be manufactured in or withdrawn from the warehouse which does not contain all the ingredients and in the quantities specified in the formula for the manufacture of such article, or which contains any ingredient not specified in the formula.

(f) Manufactured articles shall be marked with the trade name of the goods and may be marked, in addition, with the formulas and with such insignia or name as may be indicated or desired by the purchaser, if such additional marking will in no manner conflict with the requirements of the formula or present or create a false or misleading statement or impression.

(g) Each bonded manufacturing warehouse shall have a portion separated from the remainder of the premises and secured by customs locks to be used exclusively for the storage of all imported merchandise, domestic spirits, or other materials subject to internal-revenue tax transferred into such warehouse for manufacture. A like compartment shall be provided to be used exclusively for the storage of products manufactured in the warehouse. The premises shall be so secured as to prevent any person from having access thereto in the absence of the customs warehouse officer in charge, and the goods stored therein shall be so arranged as to give all practicable convenience to such officer in making the required examination or taking samples for analysis.

§ 19.14 Materials for use in manufacturing warehouse.

(a) Imported merchandise to be used in a bonded manufacturing warehouse shall be entered on customs Form 7521 at the port at which such warehouse is located. Such form shall be prepared in quintuple. If the merchandise is not to be taken immediately to the manufacturing warehouse, a warehouse or rewarehouse entry, as the case may be, shall be made and customs Form 7521 used as a combined withdrawal and entry for manufacturing warehouse. If the merchandise has been imported or entered for warehouse at another port, it may be forwarded to the port at which the manufacturing warehouse is located under an immediate transportation without appraisement entry or warehouse withdrawal for transportation, whichever is applicable.

(b) Before the transfer of the merchandise to the manufacturing warehouse is permitted, a bond on customs Form 7571 in an amount equal to double the estimated duties shall be required unless a general bond on customs Form 3583 has been given.

(c) When the proprietor of any bonded manufacturing warehouse desires to receive therein any domestic merchandise, except merchandise subject to internal-revenue tax, to be used in connection with the manufacture of articles permitted to be manufactured in such warehouse, including packages, coverings, vessels, and labels used in putting up such articles, an application shall be executed in duplicate in the following form, one copy to be filed with the collector and the other with the customs warehouse officer in charge of the warehouse:

APPLICATION TO RECEIVE FREE MATERIALS

Collector

(d) For the transfer of domestic spirits from an internal-revenue bonded warehouse to a bonded manufacturing warehouse, or for the transfer of domestic wines from internal-revenue bonded winery or bonded wine storeroom to a bonded manufacturing warehouse, a bond on customs Form 7571 shall be required unless the warehouse is covered by a bond on customs Form 3583.

(Sec. 311, 46 Stat. 691, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1311)

§ 19.15 Withdrawal for exportation of articles manufactured in bond; waste or byproducts for consumption.

(a) Except cigars manufactured in bond and supplies for vessels, no articles or materials received into a bonded manufacturing warehouse or articles manufactured therefrom shall be withdrawn or removed therefrom except for direct exportation or transportation and exportation in bond to a foreign country. The exportation or shipment shall in every case be under the supervision of a customs officer.[18]

(b) The coverings or containers of imported articles or materials, whether or not subject to duty apart from their contents, are not "articles or materials" within the meaning of section 311, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and need not be exported, but may be withdrawn from the warehouse for consumption under customs Form 7505 upon payment of the duties applicable to such coverings or containers in their condition as withdrawn.

(c) Labels, coverings, and empty containers imported to be used in putting up the manufactured articles, if subject to duty or tax, constitute "articles or materials" within the meaning of section 311, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, but may be withdrawn for consumption upon payment of all applicable duties and taxes.

(d) When waste or a byproduct is withdrawn for consumption, customs Form 7505 shall be used, modified as necessary and describing in detail the waste or byproduct and the imported material from which it was produced. Such waste or byproduct shall be appraised at its wholesale value at the time of withdrawal in the principal markets of the country from which the material was imported, determined in accordance with the provisions of section 402, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended. Upon payment of the duty, the withdrawal permit shall be issued for delivery and a proper credit given upon the manufacturer's bond.

(e) Each withdrawal covering the items which are permitted to be withdrawn for consumption shall contain a summary statement thereon, showing for each class of merchandise the quantity on hand in the account, the quantity covered by the withdrawal presented, and the quantity remaining in the warehouse account, if any.

(f) The general procedure covering warehouse withdrawals for exportation shall be followed in the case of articles withdrawn for exportation from a bonded manufacturing warehouse, except that in the case of flour each copy of customs Form 7512 shall bear the following legend:

Produced from wheat imported after September 15, 1930, without payment of duty thereon. Must not be exported to Cuba without permission from the collector at the port of withdrawal.[19]

(g) Articles may be withdrawn for transportation and delivery to a bonded storage warehouse at an exterior port under the provisions of section 311, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[20] for the sole purpose of immediate export or may be withdrawn pursuant to section 309 (a) of the tariff act, as amended, or I. R. C. section 3451. Such withdrawal shall be effected on customs Form 7512 as provided for in § 18.16 of this chapter. A rewarehouse entry shall be made at the exterior port in accordance with § 8.33 of this chapter supported by a bond on custom Form 7555 in an amount equal to the aggregate sum of double the estimated amount of ordinary customs duties on the merchandise (including any taxes imposed thereon which are required by law to be treated as duty imposed by the Tariff Act of 1930), plus the estimated amount of any other tax or taxes on the merchandise collectible by the collector of customs. The recital clause of such bond shall be modified to show that the merchandise is the product of a bonded manufacturing warehouse, class 6, and that it has been rewarehoused at the exterior port for the sole purpose of immediate export or withdrawal pursuant to section 309(a) of the tariff act, as amended, or I.R.C. section 3451. The following new condition shall be added to the bond: "And if said articles shall be exported or withdrawn in accordance with the provisions of section 311 or 309(a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, or in accordance with I.R.C. section 3451, in the manner prescribed by the regulations; or, in default thereof, if the obligors shall pay to the collector as liquidated damages an amount equal to the aggregate sum of double the duties assessable on such part of the shipment as shall not have been so exported or withdrawn, plus the amount of any internal-revenue tax assessable thereon".

(h) No merchandise manufactured in a bonded manufacturing warehouse may be withdrawn by a person other than the manufacturer either from the manufacturing warehouse or from a warehouse where the merchandise is stored awaiting direct exportation, unless an authorization of the manufacturer is endorsed on the face of the withdrawal, or the manufacturer previously and in writing has transferred the right of withdrawal.

(i) When spirits and wines are withdrawn for shipment to Puerto Rico under section 311, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, the procedure outlined in § 7.1 of this chapter shall be followed.

(j) As proof of manufacture and exportation, the manufacturer shall file in the case of each transaction or period of manufacture a statement verified by the customs warehouse officer in charge of the warehouse, showing the date and number of the bond, the quantity and identity of the dutiable or taxable merchandise used, and the quantity and description of the articles into which it has been manufactured, together with the quantities of any byproducts and waste produced. In the case of articles manufacturer with the use of distilled spirits, the statement shall also be verified by the foreman or chemist of the factory and shall show the number of packages of spirits used, the marks and numbers, the number of wine, proof and taxable gallons, and the degree of proof.

(k) The same proofs of exportation shall be required as in the case of other warehouse withdrawals for exportation.

(l) When the fact of exportation of all the products has been established by such proofs and any byproducts and waste have been exported or released for consumption, the bond given by the manufacturer, or the charges against his general bond, shall be canceled.

(m) Shortage, irregular delivery, and nondelivery occurring with respect to merchandise withdrawn from bonded manufacturing warehouse while it is under transportation in bond shall be charged against the bonded carrier.

(Sec. 311, 46 Stat. 691, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1311)

§ 19.16 Cigar-manufacturing warehouses.

(a) Tobacco to be used in the manufacture of cigars in bond under the provisions of section 311, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[21] shall be entered for warehouse but may be transferred directly from the importing vessel or from a bonded warehouse of class 2 or 3 into a bonded manufacturing warehouse of class 6 and stored in separate compartments therein under customs locks pending its withdrawal for use in the manufacture of cigars. Before any such tobacco may be transferred to the manufacturing department in such premises for use in the manufacture of cigars, it shall be withdrawn in original packages and duty paid thereon in the same manner and under the same regulations as govern the withdrawal of merchandise for consumption from warehouses of class 3.

(b) Cigars manufactured in a bonded warehouse for home consumption shall not be removed therefrom until customs stamps have been affixed to each package containing such cigars. Upon removal of cigars, the customs officer shall make appropriate entry in his records of the quantity and class of such cigars. Upon preparation of Form 2135 in accordance with 26 CFR 270.220 and 270.221, the proprietor shall present it to the customs officer for verification on the form that the quantities of cigars by class shown on such return as removed subject to tax are correct.

(c) A record of all tobacco received in a bonded manufacturing warehouse and delivered from storage compartments to the manufacturing department shall be kept on customs Form 5215.

(d) Cigars may be exported from a bonded manufacturing warehouse without payment of duty or internal-revenue tax under the laws and regulations governing the withdrawal of merchandise from other warehouses of class 6.

(e) Before removal of cigars from the bonded premises for consumption, there shall be affixed to each box thereof the stamp provided by the Government indicating their character according to the method of manufacture, origin of tobacco, place of manufacture, and that they were manufactured in bond. These stamps shall be sold to the manufacturer by the collector of customs. The manufacturer will be advised of the price by the collector of customs upon request.

(f) Before the removal of cigars from the bonded premises, the customs stamps shall be canceled in a legible manner by means of a rubber stamp or perforation showing the name of the manufacturer, the place where the factory is located, and the date of cancellation.

(g) Before removal from the bonded premises for consumption, each package of cigars must be marked by legibly imprinting or branding thereon or on a label securely affixed thereto the statement (for customs purposes) "Made in No. ------, customs bonded manufacturing warehouse, class 6", and (as required in regulations of the Internal Revenue Service) a statement of the quantity and classification or class designation (for large cigars) of the cigars contained therein.

(h) Proprietors of premises bonded for the manufacture of cigars may remove therefrom scraps, cuttings, and clippings of tobacco produced in the premises for transfer to cigar or tobacco manufacturers operating under the internal-revenue laws. Such proprietors shall keep a record of each transfer of scraps, cuttings, and clippings, and application for permission for such transfer shall be in the following form:

APPLICATION AND PERMIT FOR TRANSFER OF SCRAPS, CUTTINGS, AND CLIPPINGS

Port of ----------,
----------, 19-----.

The Collector of Customs,

SIR: Application is hereby made to transfer ---------- pounds of scraps, cuttings, and clippings of tobacco upon which duty has been paid from our bonded manufacturing warehouse, class 6, to ----------, factory No. ----------, district ----------, State of ----------.

Proprietor of Bonded Manufacturing Warehouse, Class 6

Port of ----------,

SMELTING AND REFINING WAREHOUSES

§ 19.17 Application to establish warehouse; bond.

(a) Application for the bonding of a plant of a manufacturer engaged in the smelting or refining, or both, of ores and crude metals as provided for in section 312, Tariff Act of 1930,[22] shall be made by the manufacturer, through the collector of the district in which such plant is situated, giving the location of the premises and setting forth the work proposed to be carried on therein.

(b) Upon 10 days' notice from the collector, the manufacturer shall be required to renew his bond and if he fails to do so no further permits shall be granted for removals from or transfers to his warehouse.

(c) At the request of the proprietor the bonded status of the warehouse may be discontinued at any time, provided the Bureau approves such discontinuance and the proprietor complies with directions of the collector with respect to such merchandise as may remain in the warehouse.

(d) Upon the importation at any seaboard or frontier port of the United States of ores or crude metals in any form intended for a bonded smelting or refining warehouse situated at some other port of entry, they may be forwarded under an immediate transportation without appraisement entry.

(e) Upon the arrival of imported ores or crude metals in any form for the purpose of being smelted or refined, or both, in bond at a port where a bonded smelting or refining warehouse is established, they shall be entered for warehouse. A bond on customs Form 7555 shall be filed with each warehouse entry unless a blanket smelting and refining bond in the form authorized in T. D. 50267, as amended by T. D. 52403, has been filed. The collector shall thereupon issue a permit to the inspector to send such ores or metals from the importing vessel or vehicle by designated bonded vessels or vehicles to the smelting and refining warehouse named in the entry.

(f) Bonded ores or metals shall be kept separate and distinct from nonbonded material until they have been sampled and weighed.

§ 19.18 Smelting and refining; allowance for wastage; withdrawal for consumption.

The allowance to be made for wastage in smelting or refining, or both, of imported ores and crude metals in any form shall be ascertained and fixed by the collector of customs for each smelting warehouse, for each refining warehouse, and for each combined smelting and refining warehouse. The full dutiable contents of such ores or crude metals, as ascertained by commercial assay made by the Government chemist, less the wastage allowance (including dutiable metals entirely lost in smelting or refining, or both), shall constitute the quantity of metal producible (metal subject to duty or import tax which is actually recovered) from such ores or crude metals, and the quantity which must be either exported, duty paid, or transferred to another bonded warehouse in order to secure the cancelation of the charge made against the proprietor's bond as shown by the warehouse or rewarehouse entry account. Upon the withdrawal for consumption of metal so smelted or refined, or both, duty shall be collected thereon without the allowance for wastage, except that provided for lead in copper, gold, tin, or silver ores and copper mattes, and for zinc in lead, tin, or copper ores entirely lost in smelting or refining, or both. However, duty-paid warehouse withdrawals for consumption may be filed with regard to metal which will be physically withdrawn in the form of smelted or refined products whether at the time of the filing of the withdrawal papers the dutiable metal covered by the bond charge being cancelled by the withdrawal is in the form of ores, concentrates, crude metals, or intermediate products. If the warehouse withdrawal for consumption covers a product which does not sustain the full wastage applicable (see § 19.22) prior to being physically released from customs custody, a proportionate part only of such wastage may be allowed. The warehouse withdrawal and delivery permit shall (1) describe the smelted or refined products to be withdrawn in terms of the condition in which they will be when released from customs custody upon presentation of the delivery permit; (2) state the estimated amount of the dutiable metal contained in the products; and (3) the warehouse withdrawal shall specify the applicable wastage. A quantity of dutiable metal equivalent to the smelted or refined products covered by each withdrawal for consumption must be actually on hand at the plant at the time of filing the withdrawals; but neither the actual ability to withdraw smelted or refined products from the warehouse nor the actual physical condition described in the withdrawal will be required as of the time of filing the withdrawal. However, duty-paid warehouse withdrawals for consumption may be filed with regard to metal which will be physically withdrawn in the form of smelted or refined products whether at the time of the filing of the withdrawal papers the dutiable metal covered by the bond charge being cancelled by the withdrawal is in the form of ores, concentrates, crude metals, or intermediate products. If the warehouse withdrawal for consumption covers a product which does not sustain the full wastage applicable (see § 19.22) prior to being physically released from customs custody, a proportionate part only of such wastage may be allowed. The warehouse withdrawal and delivery permit shall (1) describe the smelted or refined products to be withdrawn in terms of the condition in which they will be when released from customs custody upon presentation of the delivery permit; (2) state the estimated amount of the dutiable metal contained in the products; and (3) the warehouse withdrawal shall specify the applicable wastage. A quantity of dutiable metal equivalent to the smelted or refined products covered by each withdrawal for consumption must be actually on hand at the plant at the time of filing the withdrawals; but neither the actual ability to withdraw smelted or refined products from the warehouse nor the actual physical condition described in the withdrawal will be required as of the time of filing the withdrawal.

§ 19.19 Manufacturers' statements.

(a) Every manufacturer engaged in smelting or refining, or both, shall immediately notify the collector of the district in which his plant is located of any material change in the character of the ores or crude metals smelted or refined and of any change in the methods of smelting or refining, and shall file with the collector an annual statement not later than 60 days after the termination of the manufacturer's fiscal year. No specific form is prescribed in which such statement shall be prepared. As basic information, the statement shall show the quantities of ore and crude metal on hand at the beginning of the period, and the dutiable contents thereof;[23] quantities of ore and crude metal received during the period, and the dutiable contents thereof; total ore and crude metal to be accounted for, and the dutiable contents thereof; quantities of ore and crude

[22] "* * * Ores or crude metals may be removed from the vessel or other vehicle in which imported, or from a bonded warehouse, into a bonded smelting warehouse without the payment of duties thereon, and there smelted or refined, or both, together with ores or crude metals of home or foreign production: Provided, That the bonds shall be charged with a sum equal in amount to the regular duties which would have been payable on such ores and crude metals if entered for consumption at the time of their importation, and the several charges against such bonds shall be canceled upon the exportation or delivery to a bonded manufacturing warehouse established under section 1311 of this title of a quantity of the same kind of metal equal to the quantity of metal producible from the smelting or refining, or both, of the dutiable metal contained in such ores or crude metals, due allowance being made of the smelter wastage as ascertained from time to time by the Secretary of the Treasury: Provided further, That the said metal so producible, or any portion thereof, may be withdrawn for domestic consumption or transferred to a bonded customs warehouse and withdrawn therefrom and the several charges against the bonds canceled upon the payment of the duties chargeable against an equivalent amount of ores or crude metals from which said metal would be producible in their condition as imported: Provided further, That on the arrival of the ores and crude metals at such establishments they shall be sampled and assayed according to commercial methods under the supervision of Government officers: Provided further, That all labor performed and services rendered pursuant to this section shall be under the supervision of an officer of the customs, to be appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury and at the expense of the manufacturer: Provided further, That all regulations for the carrying out of this section shall be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury: * * *" (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 312; 19 U. S. C. 1312)

[23] By "dutiable contents" is meant the quantity of each metal of a kind subject to duty contained in the material treated.

metal on hand at the end of the period, and the dutiable contents thereof; and the quantities of ore and crude metal worked during the period, and the dutiable contents thereof. The statement of the quantity of ore and crude metal worked during the period shall show the quantity of foreign material and the quantity of domestic material put in process during the smelting operations. The statement shall contain such further information concerning the quantities and kinds of metals and intermediary products produced at the plant as will show the wastage sustained in the smelting and refining operation.

(b) Complete smelting and refining records shall be kept from which the annual statement shall be prepared. These records shall be retained for a period of 5 years from the date of the related annual statement, and shall be made available to the collector of customs for such verification of the manufacturer's statement as the collector shall deem advisable.

§ 19.20 Withdrawal of products from bonded smelting or refining warehouses.

(a) For exportation. The general procedure governing warehouse withdrawals for exportation shall be followed in the case of the withdrawal for exportation of metal producible from a bonded smelting or refining warehouse.

(b) For transfer to another bonded warehouse. (1) Withdrawal for transfer to another bonded warehouse shall be at the risk and expense of the applicant, and the general regulations governing the transfer of bonded merchandise from one warehouse to another or the transfer of imported materials from a bonded storage warehouse to a bonded manufacturing warehouse shall be followed so far as applicable.

(2) In the case of transportation to another port, the transportation entry shall show the quantity of metal withdrawn, the wastage applicable thereto, and the imported material from which such metal was produced, together with any dutiable metal charged on entry.

(Sec. 312, 46 Stat. 692; 19 U.S.C. 1312)

§ 19.21 Smelting and refining in separate establishments.

(a) If the operations of smelting and refining are not carried on in the same establishment, the smelted and unrefined products obtained from the smelting of imported materials in a bonded smelting warehouse may be removed therefrom for shipment to a bonded refining warehouse located at the same or another port under the general procedure for transfer from one bonded warehouse to another.

(b) When the transfer is to a bonded refining warehouse located at another port, the smelted and unrefined products or bullion obtained from the smelting of the imported material shall be weighed, sampled, and assayed before withdrawal, the sampling to be performed under Government supervision in accordance with the commercial practice in effect at the plant.

(d) The rewarehouse entry covering the smelted and unrefined products at the bonded refining warehouse to which they are transferred shall be made out in accordance with the weights and duties shown on the withdrawal for transportation.

(e) Upon withdrawal of the metal from the bonded refining warehouse for export, the warehouse account of the refining warehouse shall be credited with the amount of metal so withdrawn, plus the refining wastage prescribed for said refining warehouse, plus the smelting wastage prescribed for the bonded smelting warehouse in which the smelted and unrefined products were produced, together with the amount of any dutiable metals entirely lost in the smelting or refining, or both. However, when the metal is withdrawn for consumption, duty shall be collected on an amount of ore or crude metals in their condition as imported equivalent to that from which such metal would be producible. No allowance for either smelting or refining wastage shall be permitted, except that allowance shall be made for zinc in lead, tin, or copper ores, and lead in copper, gold, tin, or silver ores or copper mattes to the extent that such zinc or lead has actually been lost in smelting or refining, or both.

§ 19.22 Withdrawal of metal refined in part from imported crude metal and in part from crude metal produced from imported materials.

Upon withdrawal for exportation of metal from a bonded warehouse engaged in refining, or smelting and refining, part of which metal was obtained from imported crude metal and part from crude metal produced by smelting imported materials, the warehouse account shall be credited with the quantity of metal so withdrawn, plus (a) the refining wastage allowance prescribed for that establishment, and (b) the smelting wastage allowance prescribed for the establishment in which the imported materials were smelted, and (c) any dutiable metals shown on the warehouse entry or the rewarehouse entry filed at the first-mentioned warehouse which have been lost and are attributable to the exported product. However, upon withdrawal of such refined metal for consumption, no allowance shall be made for wastage except that allowance shall be made for zinc contained in lead, tin, or copper ores, and for lead contained in copper, gold, tin, or silver ores, or copper mattes when such zinc or lead has actually been lost in smelting or refining, or both.

§ 19.23 Withdrawal for exportation from one port to be credited on warehouse entry account at another port.

On exportation of metal in excess of that covered by open bonds under the last proviso to section 312, Tariff Act of 1930,[34] the general procedure governing warehouse withdrawals for exportation shall be followed. The proprietor of the plant from which the withdrawal is made shall prepare a sufficient number of copies of withdrawals on customs Form 7512, in addition to any other copies required by the regulations, to enable the collector of customs at the port of withdrawal to forward a copy to the collector of customs for each district where credit is to be applied and to each comptroller of customs concerned. Such withdrawals shall designate the plant or plants which are to receive the credit, shall specify the warehouse entry number or numbers to which the credit is to be applied, and shall state the quantity of metal producible which is to be applied to each warehouse entry specified, and when any of the credits specified represent the last withdrawal against a particular warehouse entry, the words "final withdrawal" shall be shown on the withdrawal. When two or more plants in a given collection district are designated to receive credit, sufficient copies of the withdrawals shall be prepared to cover each such plant and entry. If at the time of withdrawal the warehouse proprietor does not know the plants or warehouse entry numbers which are to be credited with the withdrawal, or the metallic content of the metal producible being exported, the preparation of the before-mentioned copies of customs Form 7512 may be postponed for a period of not longer than 30 days from the date of the movement of the metal producible from the plant. In such cases, a so-called memorandum withdrawal, in the number of copies provided for in § 18.19 of this chapter, may be used in the first instance for the purpose of obtaining the required customs record of the exportation of the metal producible under customs supervision. All memorandum withdrawals shall be conspicuously endorsed "Memorandum Withdrawal."

(Sec. 312, 46 Stat. 692; 19 U.S.C. 1312)

§ 19.24 Theoretical transfer without physical shipment of metal producible.

(a) Transfer may be made from one port of entry to another by a withdrawal for transportation and rewarehouse executed in regular form without physical shipment of the metal, provided enough like metal (metal in ores, crude metals, or metals producible, including products partly smelted or refined) is on hand at the establishment to which the theoretical transfer is made to satisfy the new bond obligations.

[34] "* * * the several charges against the bonds of any smelting warehouse established under the provisions of this section may be canceled upon the exportation or transfer to a bonded manufacturing warehouse from any other bonded smelting warehouse established under this section of a quantity of the same kind of metal, in excess of that covered by open bonds, equal to the amount of metal producible from the smelting or refining, or both, of the dutiable metal contained in the imported ores and crude metals, due allowance being made of the smelter wastage as ascertained from time to time by the Secretary of the Treasury." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 312; 19 U.S.C. 1312)

(b) The wastage allowance established for the plant from which the original withdrawal for transportation was made shall be shown on the transfer withdrawal and set up as a part of the charge against the bond at the plant to which the metal was theoretically transferred. Such wastage shall govern and be the basis for allowance when metal is withdrawn from the plant where the theoretical rewarehousing was effected.

(Sec. 312, 46 Stat. 692; 19 U.S.C. 1312)

§ 19.25 Credit to be applied under various forms of withdrawals.

(a) The warehouse entry account of the plant designated in the withdrawal to receive credit for the exportation shall be credited with the following:

(1) The quantity of metal producible exported.

(2) The wastage in effect on the date of withdrawal at the plant receiving the credit.

(3) The proportion of any other dutiable metals in the importation being credited which were lost at the said plant in the production of a quantity of metal producible equal to that exported.

(b) If credit is being applied to a charge set up by a theoretical transfer under § 19.24 at the plant designated in the withdrawal to receive the credit, the wastages to be applied shall be those set up at such plant in connection with the theoretical transfer, irrespective of the date of the withdrawal.

(c) On the transfer of metal producible to a bonded storage warehouse, credit shall be applied at the plant designated in the withdrawal to receive the credit in the manner provided for in paragraph (a) of this section with respect to withdrawals for exportation. The charge so credited at the plant shall be set up on the warehouse entry account of the storage warehouse to which the metal producible has been transferred. In the case of the withdrawal of metal producible for transfer to a bonded manufacturing warehouse, credit shall be applied in the same manner at the plant designated in the withdrawal to receive the credit, but the charge set upon the warehouse entry account of the bonded manufacturing warehouse shall be limited to the quantity of metal producible transferred to such warehouse.

§ 19.26 Certificates as to dutiable metals entirely lost.

In the foregoing sections, where reference is made to allowance for dutiable metals entirely lost in smelting or refining, or both, such allowance shall be made only upon certificate of the manufacturer furnished with his annual statement that no such dutiable metals were recovered. The annual wastage allowance established by the collector shall be accepted as showing the recoverable lead in copper mattes or copper, gold, tin, or silver ores, and the blanket certificate of wastage showing the total destruction of zinc in lead, tin, or copper ores shall be accepted for the purpose of making allowances in assessments of duty.

(Sec. 312, 46 Stat. 692; 19 U.S.C. 1312)

§ 19.27 Copper-bearing ores and concentrates and copper-bearing materials to be smelted or refined in bond.

(a) Except as hereinafter prescribed, §§ 19.22–19.26 shall, so far as applicable, be followed with respect to importations in bond of copper-bearing materials classifiable under I.R.C. section 4541 or 4542 which are to be smelted or refined, or both.

(b) Samples of imported ores, concentrates, or other materials to be smelted or converted or refined shall be taken under customs supervision in accordance with the commercial method in effect at the plant and shall be forwarded to the customs laboratory for assay. In the case of material to be smelted or converted, a deduction of 1.3 units from the copper content shall be shown on the laboratory report and made by the collector in the liquidation of the entry, but in the case of material to be refined only, no deduction shall be made.

(c) When the assay of the customs laboratory differs materially from the plant assay, a copy of which shall be furnished to the collector, the collector, upon the request of the importer if the plant assay is lower than the customs assay, or on his own motion if the plant assay is higher, shall call upon the customs laboratory for a reassay.

§ 19.28 Allowances for smelting and refining losses; dutiable zinc.

(a) In the case of material to be smelted or converted, there shall be allowed a smelting loss of 7/10 of 1 percent of the net copper content of such material, as shown by the customs laboratory assay provided for in § 19.27 (b).

(b) In the case of material to be electrolytically refined, whether ready for such refining when imported or produced in a bonded smelting warehouse, there shall be allowed a refining loss of 4/10 of 1 percent of the net copper content of such material.

(c) In the case of material to be furnace or fire refined, whether ready for such refining when imported or produced in a bonded smelting warehouse, there shall be allowed a refining loss of 2/10 of 1 percent of the net copper content of such material.

(d) A statement shall be filed in connection with the entry showing whether such material is to be smelted or converted and electrolytically refined, smelted or converted and furnace refined, electrolytically refined, or furnace refined.

(e) The entry shall be liquidated in accordance with the net quantity of copper shown by the customs laboratory report, less the metallurgical losses.[35] The charge against the bond shall be the liquidated quantity of copper and may be canceled in any manner authorized under the general smelting and refining regulations, except that wastage allowances as provided for above shall be allowed on withdrawals for consumption.

(f) When the charge against the bond is to be canceled by the exportation or transfer to a bonded warehouse of the product of a smelting or converting operation, the quantity of such product which must be exported or transferred to a bonded warehouse to cancel the charge against the bond shall contain a quantity of copper equal to the liquidated quantity charged against the bond plus the refining loss.[*]

(g) If the assay shows zinc in gold or silver ores in addition to lead and copper and it is desired to transfer the lead and the copper to different bonded refining warehouses, separate transportation withdrawals shall be issued for the lead and the copper, and the transfer of the charges for the zinc duty shall be determined by prorating the zinc content of the ore to the lead and the copper contained therein in accordance with the ratios which the lead content and the copper contained therein in accordance with the ratios which the lead content and the copper content, respectively, bear to the combined lead and copper content. For example, if an importation of material has 1,000 pounds of copper, 500 pounds of lead, and 150 pounds of zinc subject to duty, the transportation withdrawal to the copper refinery shall show 1,000 pounds of copper and 100 pounds of zinc, and that to the lead refinery 500 pounds of lead and 50 pounds of zinc.

SPACE BONDED FOR THE STORAGE OF WHEAT

§ 19.29 Sealing of bins or other bonded space.

The outlets to all bins or other space bonded for the storage of imported wheat shall be sealed by customs officers by affixing customs locks or customs tyden seals to the rope or chain which controls the gear mechanism for opening the outlets, or such other method as will effectively prevent the removal of the wheat from, or access to the wheat in, the bonded space except under customs supervision.

§ 19.30 Domestic wheat not to be allowed in bonded space.

The presence of domestic wheat in space bonded for the storage of imported wheat shall not be permitted.

(Secs. 555, 556, 46 Stat. 743; 19 U. S. C. 1555, 1556)

§ 19.31 Bulk wheat of different classes and grades not to be commingled in storage.

All wheat shall be stored by class and grade according to the Official Grain Standards of the United States or the official standards of the Canadian Board of Grain Commissioners, in bins, compartments, or other enclosed spaces identified by clearly distinguishable insignia securely affixed thereto, so as to facilitate the maintenance of identity of the wheat. There shall be no mixing or commingling of different classes or grades of wheat in the same bin, battery of bins, or other bonded space. If the wheat is stored in bags or other transportation containers, such bags or containers shall be so marked and so placed in the warehouse that the identity of the wheat will not be lost while in storage, to permit easy access to all lots, and to facilitate inspecting, sampling, and the identification of each lot.

CROSS REFERENCE: For regulations respecting Official Grain Standards of the United States, see 7 CFR, Part 26.

§ 19.32 Wheat manipulation; reconditioning.

(a) The mixing, blending, or commingling of imported wheat and domestic wheat, or of imported wheat of different classes and grades, as an incident of transportation or as an incident of exportation under transportation and exportation entries, direct export entries, or withdrawals for exportation shall not be permitted. Applications for permission to manipulate wheat under the provisions of section 562, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, shall be approved only after the concurrence of all interested Federal agencies has been furnished by the applicant.

(b) Where it is found that elevating, screening, blowing, fumigating, or drying of the wheat is essential to keep it in condition, the proprietor of the warehouse shall submit an application in writing to the collector. All such operations shall be performed under customs supervision adequate to preclude unauthorized access to the wheat.

§ 19.33 General order; transportation in bond.

The provisions of §§ 19.29 through 19.32 shall be applicable to those parts of any premises in which imported wheat is stored in a general-order status, or stored pending exportation under an entry for exportation or for transportation and exportation.

§ 19.34 Customs supervision.

Collectors of customs shall exercise such supervision and control over the transactions covered by §§ 19.29 through 19.32 as will insure that there will be no unauthorized access to the imported wheat and no unauthorized mixing, blending, or commingling of such imported wheat. Importers, exporters, proprietors of customs bonded warehouses, bonded common carriers, and others handling imported wheat in continuous customs custody shall maintain such records as will enable customs officers to verify the handling to which the imported wheat has been subjected, and to establish whether there has been a proper accounting to customs for any increase in the quantity of the wheat or shortages resulting from shrinkage or other factors. These records shall be retained for a period of 2 years after the date of the transaction. Collectors of customs shall from time to time request the supervising customs agent for the district concerned to examine such records of importers, exporters, warehouse proprietors, bonded common carriers, and others handling such wheat in continuous customs custody as may be deemed necessary to ascertain whether there has been any failure to comply with the applicable customs laws and regulations.

[*] Example:

Liquidated quantity of copper (charge against bond) pounds- 567.702

To cancel this charge there must be exported or transferred to a bonded warehouse products of smelting or converting operations containing 569.982 pounds copper by commercial assay; that is, 567.702 pounds plus 2.280 pounds refining loss, or 567.702 divided by 0.996 (100 percent less 4/10 of 1 percent).

PART 20—DISPOSITION OF UNCLAIMED AND ABANDONED MERCHANDISE

Sec.

20.1 Storage of unclaimed and abandoned merchandise.
20.2 Withdrawal from general order for entry.
20.3 Merchandise remaining in customs custody or in bonded warehouse beyond the time fixed by law.
20.4 Articles subject to internal-revenue tax.
20.5 Sale of unclaimed and abandoned merchandise.
20.6 Proceeds of sale; payment of charges and expenses; surplus; deficit.

AUTHORITY: §§ 20.1 to 20.6 issued under R. S. 161, 251, sec. 624, 46 Stat. 759; 5 U. S. C. 22, 19 U. S. C. 66, 1624. Statutory provisions interpreted or applied and special rule making authority are cited to text in parentheses.

§ 20.1 Storage of unclaimed and abandoned merchandise.

(a) Unclaimed and abandoned merchandise,[1] including merchandise formally abandoned to the Government, shall be sent under a permit to a suitable warehouse of class 2, 3, 4, or 5 specially designated for the purpose by the collector (see § 19.1(a)(2), (3), (4), and (5) of this chapter), or to a public store.

(b) Whenever, pursuant to section 457 or 490, Tariff Act of 1930, the collector shall take possession of a cargo which is unclaimed and not unladen, he shall require, as a condition for granting a permit to discharge, that the vessel be removed at the expense of the owner to the wharf, pier, or other place most convenient to the general-order stores.

(c) Storage at the ordinary rates and all other expenses shall be paid by the owner or consignee of the merchandise upon entry thereof; but if the goods are sold, such charges shall be paid from the proceeds of sale to the extent that proceeds are available.

§ 20.2 Withdrawal from general order for entry.

(a) Merchandise in general order may be exported without examination or appraisement if the merchandise is delivered to the exporting carrier within 1 year from the date of importation. Such merchandise may be entered within 1 year from the date of importation for immediate transportation without appraisement to any port of entry designated by the consignee. Any imported merchandise, including merchandise entered for transportation, for which entry for consumption or warehouse or delivery to a carrier for exportation has not been completed prior to the expiration of 1 year from the date of original arrival shall be treated as abandoned. Entry for immediate transportation without appraisement shall be permitted after the expiration of the 1-year period only for the purpose of filing an entry for consumption at the port of destination.

(b) The withdrawal from general order of less than a single general-order lot shall not be permitted except as provided for in § 8.8 of this chapter.

§ 20.3 Merchandise remaining in customs custody or in bonded warehouse beyond the time fixed by law.

(a) If storage or other charges due the United States have not been paid on merchandise remaining in customs custody after the expiration of the bond period in the case of merchandise entered for warehouse, or after the expiration of 1 year from the date of importation in any other case, even though any duties due have been paid, such merchandise shall be sold as provided for in § 20.5 unless entered or withdrawn for consumption in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Merchandise subject to sale (except merchandise abandoned under section 506 (1) or 563 (b), Tariff Act of 1930) may be entered or withdrawn for consumption at any time prior to sale upon payment of the duties, any internal-revenue tax, and all charges and expenses that may have accrued thereon. Such merchandise may not be exported without payment of duty nor entered for warehouse.[2]

(c) Duty paid merchandise for which a permit to release has been issued but which remains in warehouse beyond the bond period[3] shall be released to the warehouse proprietor. Free and duty-paid merchandise not entered for warehouse for which permits to release have been issued, remaining in bonded warehouse at the expiration of 1 year from the date of importation, shall be released to the warehouse proprietor.

§ 20.4 Articles subject to internal-revenue tax.

Articles subject to internal-revenue tax (except forfeited distilled spirits[4] and except voluntarily abandoned merchandise which has not been cleared by the General Services Administration) may be sold for domestic consumption, but only if they will bring an amount sufficient to pay the internal-revenue tax and, in the case of tobacco "articles" and "tobacco materials," as defined in 26 U.S.C. 5702 (j), (k),[5] only if they will bring an amount sufficient to pay the expenses of sale as well as the internal-revenue tax. If such articles cannot be sold for domestic consumption in accordance with the foregoing conditions, they shall be destroyed unless they can be advantageously sold for export from continuous customs custody or unless the Bureau has authorized other disposition to be made under the law.[6] Such articles may be sold for domestic consumption even though the proceeds of sale will not cover the duties due.

§ 20.5 Sale of unclaimed and abandoned merchandise.

(a) All unclaimed and abandoned merchandise shall be sold at the first regular sale held after the merchandise becomes subject to sale, unless a deferment of its sale is authorized by the Commissioner of Customs. Regular sales of unclaimed and abandoned merchandise on hand and subject to sale shall be made

[1] "Any entered or unentered merchandise (except merchandise entered under section 557 of this Act, but including merchandise entered for transportation in bond or for exportation) which shall remain in customs custody for one year from the date of importation thereof, without all estimated duties and storage or other charges thereon having been paid, shall be considered unclaimed and abandoned to the Government and shall be appraised by the appraiser of merchandise and sold by the collector at public auction under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe. * * *" (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 491, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1491)

"Merchandise upon which any duties or charges are unpaid, remaining in bonded warehouse beyond three years from the date of importation, shall be regarded as abandoned to the Government and shall be sold under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe, and the proceeds of sale paid into the Treasury, as in the case of unclaimed merchandise covered by section 493 of this Act, subject to the payment to the owner or consignee of such amount, if any, as shall remain after deduction of duties, charges, and expenses. * * *" (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 550, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1559)

[2] "* * * Merchandise subject to sale hereunder or under section 559 of this Act may be entered or withdrawn for consumption at any time prior to such sale upon payment of all duties, storage, and other charges, and expenses that may have accrued thereon, but such merchandise after becoming subject to sale may not be exported prior to sale without the payment of such duties, charges, and expenses nor may it be entered for warehouse. The computation of duties for the purposes of this section and sections 493 and 559 of this Act shall be at the rate or rates applicable at the time the merchandise becomes subject to sale." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 491, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1491)

[3] "* * * Merchandise upon which all duties and charges have been paid, remaining in bonded warehouse beyond three years from the date of importation, shall be held to be no longer in the custody or control of the officers of the customs." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 559, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1559)

[4] All distilled spirits, wine, and malt beverages forfeited, summarily or by order of court, under any law of the United States, shall be disposed of in accordance with the internal-revenue law and regulations.

[5] "(a) Manufactured tobacco.

"'Manufactured tobacco' means all tobacco, other than cigars and cigarettes, prepared, processed, manipulated, or packaged for consumption my smoking or for use in the mouth or nose. * * *." 26 U. S. C. 5702 (a).

"(j) Articles.

"'Articles' means manufactured tobacco, cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes.

"(k) Tobacco materials.

"'Tobacco materials' means tobacco in process, leaf tobacco, and tobacco scraps, cuttings, clippings, siftings, dust, stems, and waste." 26 U. S. C. 5702 (j), (k).

[6] Except as provided in section 3369 of the Revised Statutes, as amended (relating to tobacco and snuff), and in section 901 of the Revenue Act of 1926 (relating to distilled spirits), any merchandise abandoned or forfeited to the Government under the preceding or any other provision of the customs laws, which is subject to internal-revenue tax and which the collector shall be satisfied will not sell for a sufficient amount to pay such taxes, shall be forthwith destroyed under regulations to be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, instead of being sold at auction." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 492; 19 U. S. C. 1492) once in every year, or more often at the discretion of the collector. Such sales may be conducted by the collector, any employee designated by him, or by a public auctioneer.

(b) Before unclaimed merchandise is offered for sale, it shall be appraised in accordance with section 402, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.[5a] Such merchandise shall also be appraised at its actual domestic value in its condition at the time and place of examination, whether or not it has depreciated or appreciated in value since the date of exportation. The quantity of merchandise in each lot appraised shall be reported.

(c) Before drugs, insecticides, seeds, plants, nursery stock, and other articles required to be inspected by the Department of Agriculture are advertised, they shall be inspected by a representative of the Department of Agriculture to ascertain whether they comply with the requirements of the law and regulations of that Department. If found not to comply with such requirements, they shall be forthwith destroyed.

(d) All merchandise at ports other than a headquarters port which becomes subject to sale, including explosives, perishable articles, and articles liable to depreciation, shall be promptly reported to the headquarters port for disposition. The collector, in his discretion, may sell such merchandise, as well as merchandise at the headquarters port which is subject to sale, at the headquarters port or at any other port within the district.

(e) Except as prescribed in paragraphs (f), (g), and (h) of this section, a brief notice of the time and place of sale shall be given for 3 successive weeks immediately preceding the sale in one newspaper of extensive circulation published at the port where the sale is to be held. The newspaper shall be selected by the collector and publication of the notice shall be authorized on the standard form provided for that purpose. Such notice shall designate the place where catalogs may be obtained and reasonable opportunity to inspect the merchandise shall be afforded prospective purchasers.

(f) Unclaimed explosives and other dangerous articles and fruit and other perishable articles shall be sold on 3 days' public notice.[6]

(g) Other unclaimed merchandise shall be sold at public auction upon public notice of not less than 6 nor more than 10 days, as the collector may determine, if, in the opinion of the collector, such merchandise, because of depreciation in value by reason of damage, leakage, or other cause, will sell for an amount insufficient to pay the duties, storage, and other charges if allowed to remain in general order for 1 year. Unclaimed merchandise remaining on the dock which, in the opinion of the collector, will not sell for enough to pay the cost of cartage and storage shall be sold in the same manner.[7]

(h) If the collector is satisfied that the proceeds of sale will not be sufficient to pay the expenses and duties, a written or printed notice of the sale in lieu of the advertisement shall be conspicuously posted in the customhouse, and, if deemed necessary, at some other proper place for the time above specified.

(i) The catalogs, if used, shall specify the marks, numbers, and description of packages, the description and quantities of their contents, the appraised value thereof and also the domestic value at the time and place of the examination of the merchandise. The catalogs shall be distributed at the sale and announcement made that the Government does not guarantee quality or value and that no allowance will be made for any deficiency found after sale.

(j) When the name and address of the consignee can be ascertained, notice of the date of sale shall be mailed to him. When unclaimed merchandise was consigned to order or for other reason the name of a consignee cannot be obtained, the collector, where practicable, shall notify the shipper or his representative or the agent of the carrier of the date when and place where the goods are to be sold.

(k) Merchandise offered for sale but not sold shall be included in the next regular sale of unclaimed and abandoned merchandise. If the collector is satisfied that such merchandise is unsalable or of no commercial value, it shall be destroyed.

(Secs. 491, 559, 46 Stat. 726, as amended 744, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1491, 1559)

§ 20.6 Proceeds of sale; payment of charges and expenses; surplus; deficit.

(a) From the proceeds of sale of merchandise remaining in public stores or in bonded warehouse beyond the time fixed by law, the following charges shall be paid in the order named:

(1) Internal revenue taxes.

(2) Expenses of advertising and sale.

(3) Expenses of cartage, storage and labor. When the proceeds are insufficient to pay such charges fully, they shall be paid pro rata. (For merchandise entered for warehousing, see paragraph (b) of this section.)

(4) Duties.

(5) Any other charges due the United States in connection with the merchandise.

(6) Any sum due to satisfy a lien for freight, charges, or contributions in general average, of which due notice shall have been given in the manner prescribed by law.

(b) The expenses of cartage, storage, and labor for merchandise entered for warehousing shall be paid in the following order:

(1) When such merchandise was warehoused in public stores, expenses of storage and labor shall be paid after expenses of sale (prorated when proceeds are insufficient to pay them fully) and any cartage charges shall be paid last.

(2) When such merchandise was warehoused in a bonded warehouse, expenses of storage, cartage, and labor shall be paid last (prorated when proceeds are insufficient to pay them fully).

(c) The duties chargeable on any merchandise within the purview of this section shall be assessed on the appraised dutiable value at the rate of duty chargeable at the time the merchandise became subject to sale.[8]

(d) The duties of the auctioneer shall be confined to selling the merchandise and his charge for such service shall in no case exceed the commissions usual at the port. Such commissions shall be allowed only on the gross sum actually realized on the sale.

(e) Accounts for the auctioneer's charges and all other expenses of sale which may be properly chargeable on the merchandise shall be presented to the collector for payment within 10 days from the date of sale. Such expenses shall be apportioned pro rata on the amounts received for the different lots sold.

(f) If a claim of the owner of unclaimed merchandise for the surplus proceeds of sale is properly established in accordance with § 24.25 of this chapter, such proceeds of sale shall be paid to him pursuant to section 493, Tariff Act of 1930.[9] Any doubtful claim shall be forwarded to the Bureau with all pertinent documents and information available to the collector for the instructions of the Bureau or for reference by it to the General Accounting Office for direct settlement.

(g) Claims of the owner or consignee for the surplus proceeds of a sale made pursuant to section 559, Tariff Act of 1930, shall be paid in the manner and subject to the conditions stated in paragraph (f) of this section.

(h) If the proceeds of sale of merchandise in warehouse beyond 3 years are insufficient to pay the duties after payment of all charges having priority, the deficiency shall be collected under the warehouse entry bond, by suit if necessary.

(i) When the proceeds of sale of unclaimed merchandise are insufficient to pay the charges and duties, the consignee shall be liable for the deficiency unless the merchandise was shipped to him without his consent. If no entry for the merchandise has been filed and no other attempt to control the merchandise has been made, the merchandise shall be regarded as shipped to the consignee without his consent and no effort shall be made to collect any deficiency of duties or charges from such consignee.

[5a] "The function of determining values of unclaimed and abandoned merchandise in any case where the aggregate appraised value of the lot will not exceed $250 has been transferred from the appraiser to the collector. (T.D. 54430.)"

[7] "* * * All gunpowder and other explosive substances and merchandise liable to depreciation in value by damage, leakage, or other cause to such extent that the proceeds of sale thereof may be insufficient to pay the duties, storage, and other charges, if permitted to remain in public store or bonded warehouse for a period of one year, may be sold forthwith, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe. * * *" (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 491, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1491)

[8] Household and personal effects of the character provided for in paragraph 1798, as amended, or paragraph 1632, Tariff Act of 1930, which belong to persons who have not arrived in this country before the effects become subject to sale are dutiable at the rates in effect when the effects become subject to sale, even though such persons arrive and make entry for the effects before they are sold.

[9] "The surplus of the proceeds of sales under section 491 of this Act, after the payment of storage charges, expenses, duties, and the satisfaction of any lien for freight, charges, or contribution in general average, shall be deposited by the collector in the Treasury of the United States, if claim therefor shall not be filed with the collector within ten days from the date of sale, and the sale of such merchandise shall exonerate the master of any vessel in which the merchandise was imported from all claims of the owner thereof, who shall, nevertheless, on due proof of his interest, be entitled to receive from the Treasury the amount of any surplus of the proceeds of sale." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 493; 19 U. S. C. 1493)

PART 21—CARTAGE AND LIGHTERAGE

Sec.
21.1 Licensing of cartmen and lightermen; marking of vehicles and lighters.
21.2 Employees' identification cards.
21.3 Classes of cartage.
21.4 Government cartage.
21.5 Importers' cartage.
21.6 Suspension or revocation of license of cartman or lighterman.
21.7 Supervision of cartage and lighterage.
21.8 Liability; reports of loss or damage.
21.9 Tickets for goods carted or lightered.
21.10 Inability to deliver merchandise.

AUTHORITY: §§ 21.1 to 21.10 issued under secs. 565, 624, 46 Stat. 747, 759; 19 U. S. C. 1565, 1624.

§ 21.1 Licensing of cartmen and lightermen; marking of vehicles and lighters.

(a) Except as provided for in § 18.3 (d) of this chapter and § 21.4(b), customs cartage and lighterage shall be done by cartmen and lightermen licensed by the collector or specifically authorized by the Commissioner of Customs for that purpose. Customhouse cartage and lighterage licenses, customs Form 3857, shall be issued by the collector of customs. Before such a license is issued, the cartman or lighterman shall be required to execute a bond on customs Form 3855 in an amount to be fixed by the collector[1] and pay the fee of $35 prescribed by § 24.12 of this chapter. The collector may appoint or license as a customs cartman or lighterman any common carrier who has executed and filed a carrier's bond, customs Form 3587. The license shall remain in force and effect as long as the required bond is considered sufficient or until the license is suspended or terminated. Before customhouse licenses are issued for bonded lighters or other such vessels, the vessel's marine documents, if any have been issued, shall be presented to the collector and such documents shall be returned by the collector following his examination thereof. The collector may require the applicant for a license to furnish a list showing the names and addresses of the managing officers and members of the organization or of the persons who will receive or transport imported merchandise which has not been released from customs, or a list of all such persons and their addresses. An applicant shall be required in each case to undertake to surrender promptly to the collector the identification cards of persons no longer employed by the applicant or give reasons satisfactory to the collector why such cards cannot be surrendered. The collector may also require an applicant to undertake to furnish, at such times and intervals as the collector deems necessary, a current list showing the names and addresses of the managing officers and members of the organization or of the persons who will receive or transport imported merchandise which has not been released from customs, or a list of all such persons and their addresses. A license shall be subject to suspension for failure to comply with the requirements of the two preceding sentences, or it may be revoked for sufficiently good cause.

(b) Any cartman licensed by the city or State authorities who produces evidence of good moral character and his city or State license may be licensed as a customhouse cartman.

(c) Every licensed vehicle used for customs cartage and every licensed barge, scow, or other lighter used for customs lighterage shall be conspicuously marked with the legend "Customhouse License No. _____" and the name of the person or firm to whom the license has been issued. The abbreviated legend "C.H.L. No._____" may be used if so desired.

(d) The markings prescribed by this section shall appear in letters and figures not less than 3 inches high and in the case of carts, trucks, drays, and other vehicles, such markings shall be placed on each side by painting directly onto the vehicle or by the attachment of signs bearing the required marking.

[1] "The cartage of merchandise entered for warehouse shall be done by cartmen to be appointed and licensed by the collector of customs and who shall give a bond in a penal sum to be fixed by such collector, for the protection of the Government against any loss of, or damage to, such merchandise while being so carted. The cartage of merchandise designated for examination at the appraiser's stores and of merchandise taken into custody by the collector as unclaimed shall be performed by such persons as may be designated, under contract or otherwise, by the Secretary of the Treasury, and under such regulations for the protection of the owners thereof and of the revenue as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 565; 19 U. S. C. 1565)

However, in the case of vehicles, if such marking is not found to be practicable by the collector, he may designate some other conspicuous place upon the vehicle where the number shall appear.

(e) These markings shall be removed upon termination of the license in accordance with the provisions of the bond, customs Form 3855, or the cartman or lighterman shall be liable for the payment of liquidated damages as provided for in such bond.

(f) Customs officers shall not deliver any bonded goods to vehicles or lighters which are not properly marked.

§ 21.2 Employees' identification cards.

When required for purposes of local administration, each licensed cartman or lighterman and each employee thereof who receives or transports imported merchandise which has not been released from customs shall possess an identification card, customs Form 3873, with his photograph securely affixed thereto with glue or other adhesive substance. The card shall also bear his signature in the space provided. Such identification card shall be issued by the collector only upon application on customs Form 3078 of the licensed cartman or lighterman. The application shall be filed personally at the customhouse by the person for whom the application for the identification card is made, together with a photograph (or two if required for purposes of local administration) of such person in addition to the one to be affixed to the application. If required for purposes of local administration, the fingerprints of such person shall be taken on customs Form 3872 and at the time of the filing of the application. The identification card shall become valid when the United States customs seal has been impressed thereon, which seal shall not be impressed until after the card has been otherwise completed. If required for purposes of local administration, the identification card shall be prepared in duplicate. The original, after having impressed thereon the customs seal, shall be presented to the person in whose name the card is issued and shall be in his possession at all times when he is engaged in receiving or transporting imported merchandise. The duplicate, when required, shall be retained as an office record. It shall be the responsibility of each person to whom an identification card is issued to protect it with an appropriate transparent cover so that the face and back of the card are visible without removing the cover. Whenever the employment of the holder of an identification card is changed to another licensed cartman or lighterman, the card, supported by an application in proper form, shall be submitted promptly to the collector so that the change may be made officially on the card and on the customhouse records. The collector may authorize such exceptions to the requirements of the preceding sentence as he deems necessary and advisable when the employment of the holder of an identification card is changed only temporarily to another licensed cartman or lighterman. The card shall be submitted promptly to the collector when there is a change of address of the holder. New cards shall be issued when necessary. Should an identification card be presented by a person other than the one to whom it was issued, such card shall be forthwith confiscated. The identification card shall be surrendered when the holder thereof leaves the employment of a licensed cartman or lighterman for employment of some other character. All outstanding identification cards issued to a licensed cartman or lighterman and to the employees thereof, shall be taken up by the collector upon the suspension or termination of the license of the cartman or lighterman. An identification card shall not be issued to any person whose employment in connection with the transportation of bonded merchandise will, in the judgment of the collector, endanger the revenue.

§ 21.3 Classes of cartage.

The cartage of merchandise in customs custody is of two kinds: "government cartage," which must be done by a licensed customhouse cartman under contract or other specific authority for that purpose (except as provided for in § 21.4 (b)), and "importers' cartage," which may be done by any licensed customhouse cartman.

§ 21.4 Government cartage.

(a) The cartage of packages designated for examination at the appraiser's stores shall be done by a cartman under contract or other specific authority for that purpose. Contracts for government cartage shall be let annually after invitations to bid have been mailed to at least 3 representative cartage companies and posted in public places. At least 30 days shall be allowed for submission of such bids. If the collector of customs deems it necessary, notice of the invitation to bid may be published in one or more local newspapers. Bids for such cartage shall be supported by bid bonds and shall be submitted to the collector who has solicited such bids. The contract will be let by the Commissioner of Customs on customs Form 3083 upon execution of the bond provided as a part of such contract in a sum to be fixed by the Commissioner for the faithful performance of the contract. Such contract cartman shall be licensed as a customhouse cartman. The cartage will be paid by the Government through the collector of customs for the district in which the service is rendered from the appropriation "Salaries and Expenses, Bureau of Customs."

(b) Merchandise designated for examination at an importer's premises or other place not in charge of a customs officer may be carted, lightered, or carried to any such place by the importer without a cartman's or lighterman's license, when in the judgment of the collector the revenue will not be endangered. Otherwise, such transfer shall be done by a licensed cartman, who shall be the contract cartman whenever practicable.

(c) Merchandise withdrawn from general order for regular entry shall be conveyed under such contract at the expense of the importer to the place designated by the collector for appraisement.

(d) Unclaimed merchandise shall be carted to the public stores or bonded warehouse by bonded cartmen designated by the Commissioner and under contract for that purpose. Bond on customs Form 3083, in a sum to be approved by the Commissioner, shall be required for the faithful performance of the work. The cost of such cartage shall be charged against the merchandise and collected prior to delivery under a regular entry or paid from the proceeds of sale.

(e) Seized merchandise shall be delivered to the custody of the collector by the most practicable means available to the seizing officer.

§ 21.5 Importers' cartage.

(a) Any licensed customhouse cartman may transfer merchandise at the expense of the importer or other party in interest from the importing vessel or other conveyance to bonded warehouse, from one vessel or conveyance to another, from one bonded warehouse to another, from the public stores to a bonded warehouse, from warehouse for transportation or for exportation, and from an internal-revenue warehouse for exportation under the internal-revenue laws without payment of tax.

(b) The collector may license any importer as a customhouse cartman for the purpose of carting his own imported merchandise.

(c) Importers and exporters shall designate on the entry and permit of bonded merchandise the bonded cartman or lighterman by whom they wish their merchandise to be conveyed and approval of such designation shall be indicated on the entry papers by the initials of the appropriate customs officer placed in close proximity to the designation.

(d) If an importer does not cart his merchandise or designate a licensed customhouse cartman for the purpose, it shall be carted by a public-store cartman authorized by contract or designated by the collector for that purpose, the cost thereof to be paid by the importer or owner of the merchandise before its release from customs custody.

(e) Nothing in this section shall apply to the cartage of examination packages to the place of examination, which shall be done only by the contract cartman, except as provided for in § 21.4 (b).

§ 21.6 Suspension or revocation of license of cartman or lighterman.

Inspectors or other customs officers may demand of any person claiming to be a customhouse cartman or lighterman, or employee thereof, his license or identification card for inspection. If it is not produced, or if the vehicle is not properly marked, or if the cartman or lighterman refuses or neglects to obey any proper order of the inspector or any customs order, rule, or regulation relative to the cartage or lighterage of merchandise, the collector may suspend or revoke the license of the cartman or lighterman chargeable with the offense. Such customs order or rule may include a requirement by the collector that customs licensed cartmen and lightermen shall make, keep, and promptly submit for customs inspection and examination upon request therefor such current written records relating to cartage and lighterage as may be needed for purposes of local customs administration.

§ 21.7 Supervision of cartage and lighterage.

(a) All licensed vehicles or lighters shall be subject to the control and direction of the officer having charge of the merchandise being carried.

(b) The vehicles or lighters designated for the purpose shall be present to take the merchandise when the customs officer in charge is ready to send it; otherwise, after waiting a reasonable time, such officer shall send the merchandise by any licensed vehicle or lighter available.

§ 21.8 Liability; reports of loss or damage.

(a) The cartman or lighterman conveying the merchandise shall be held liable under his bond for its prompt delivery in sound condition, or in no worse than the damaged condition noted on the cartage or lighterage ticket, customs Form 6043–A, Elliott Fisher ticket or customs Form 7502–A, 7506, or 7512, if damage is so noted. Any negligence or carelessness shall be cause for revocation of the license.

(b) Any loss or detention of bonded goods and any accident happening to a licensed vehicle or lighter while carrying them shall be immediately reported by the cartman or lighterman to the collector.

(c) The collector may cancel liquidated damages not in excess of $20,000 incurred under a cartman's bond or a lighterman's bond upon the payment of such lesser amount, or without the payment of any amount, as he may deem appropriate under the circumstances.

(Interprets or applies sec. 623, 46 Stat. 759, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1623)

§ 21.9 Tickets for goods carted or lightered.

(a) When merchandise is carted or lightered and received in a bonded store or bonded warehouse, the representative of the proprietor shall check the goods against the ticket, customs Form 6043–A, or copy of warehouse or rewarehouse permits, customs Form 7502–A, used in lieu of a ticket, and countersign such ticket or copy of the permit. A receipt shall be taken for all goods delivered from public store or bonded store. Such receipt may be taken on the permit to release, customs Form 7500–B, on the appraiser's release ticket at the time delivery is made, or on customs Form 6043–C. Customs Form 6043–C may also be used as a receipt for goods delivered from customs custody in any other case where the collector deems such receipt necessary. In the case of withdrawals from bonded warehouse for consumption, the merchandise shall be released only to or upon the order of the proprietor of the warehouse who shall acknowledge such release on customs Forms 7505–A or 7505–B. If a receipt is taken on customs Form 6043–C for goods delivered from public store or bonded store, it shall be disposed of as if a receipt were taken on the permit to release, customs Form 7500–B, or on the appraiser's release ticket.

(b) The cartman or lighterman shall countersign the ticket, receipts, extra copy of warehouse or rewarehouse permit, or the copy of the entry or withdrawal document, used in lieu of a cartage or lighterage ticket for goods carted or lightered, customs Form 6043–A, 6043–C, 7502–A, 7506, or 7512, in the space provided as a receipt for the goods, noting any bad order or discrepancy. When available, the importing carrier's tally slip for the merchandise shall be attached to the cartage or lighterage ticket, customs Form 6043–A, or the copy of customs Form 7502–A, 7506, or 7512 used in lieu of a cartage or lighterage ticket, which accompanies the merchandise while it is being so carted or lightered in bond, for the use of customs officers only at destination.

§ 21.10 Inability to deliver merchandise.

If the warehouse is closed or the warehouseman refuses to receive the merchandise, it shall be returned to the sending inspector or deposited in the public store for safekeeping, unless otherwise ordered by the collector. The cartman shall notify such inspector of his inability to deliver the merchandise and the reason therefor. The inspector shall promptly report the facts to the collector (to the surveyor at New York) for instructions.

ARTICLES MANUFACTURED OR PRODUCED WHOLLY OR IN PART FROM IMPORTED OR SUBSTITUTED MERCHANDISE

§ 22.1 Drawback allowance.

Drawback of duties shall be allowed as provided for in section 313, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[1] on articles manufactured or produced in the United States wholly or in part with the use of

[1] "(a) Articles made from imported merchandise. Upon the exportation of articles manufactured or produced in the United States with the use of imported merchandise, the full amount of the duties paid upon the merchandise so used shall be refunded as drawback, less 1 per centum of such duties, except that such duties shall not be so refunded upon the exportation of flour or by-products produced from wheat imported after ninety days after the date of the enactment of this act. • • •

"(b) substitution for drawback purposes. If imported duty-paid merchandise and duty free or domestic merchandise of the same kind and quality are used in the manufacture or production of articles within a period not to exceed three years from the receipt of such imported merchandise by the manufacturer or producer of such articles, there shall be allowed upon the exportation of imported or substituted merchandise, on meats cured with imported salt, and on vessels and aircraft built and equipped in the United States for foreign account and ownership,[1] subject to compliance with the regulations in this part.

any such articles, notwithstanding the fact that none of the imported merchandise may actually have been used in the manufacture or production of the exported articles, an amount of drawback equal to that which would have been allowable had the merchandise used therein been imported; but the total amount of drawback allowed upon the exportation of such articles, together with the total amount of drawback allowed in respect of such imported merchandise under any other provision of law, shall not exceed 99 per centum of the duty paid on such imported merchandise.

* * * * * *

"(f) Exportation of meats cured with imported salt. Upon the exportation of meats, whether packed or smoked, which have been cured in the United States with imported salt, there shall be refunded, upon satisfactory proof that such meats have been cured with imported salt, the duties paid on the salt so used in curing such exported meats, in amounts not less than $100.

"(g) Materials for construction and equipment of vessels built for foreigners. The provisions of this section shall apply to materials imported and used in the construction and equipment of vessels built for foreign account and ownership, or for the government of any foreign country, notwithstanding that such vessels may not within the strict meaning of the term be articles exported.

"(h) Time limitation on exportation. No drawback shall be allowed under the provisions of this section unless the completed article is exported within five years after importation of the imported merchandise.

"(i) Regulations. Allowance of the privileges provided for in this section shall be subject to compliance with such rules and regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe, which may include, but need not be limited to, the fixing of a time limit within which drawback entries or entries for refund under any of the provisions of this section or section 309(b) of this Act shall be filed and completed, and the designation of the person to whom any refund or payment of drawback shall be made.

"(j) Source of payment. Any drawback of duties that may be authorized under the provisions of this Act shall be paid from the customs receipts of Puerto Rico, if the duties were originally paid into the Treasury of Puerto Rico." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 313, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1313)

[1] Section 313 (g), Tariff Act of 1930, applies only to materials used in the original construction and equipment of the vessels or aircraft and not to materials used for alteration or repair. The term "foreign account and ownership" contemplates only vessels or aircraft built and equipped for the account of an owner or owners residing in a foreign country and having a bona fide intention that the vessel or aircraft shall, when completed, be owned and operated under the flag of a foreign country.

[2] There is no authority of law for the allowance of drawback of customs duty on articles manufactured or produced in the United States and shipped to Alaska, Puerto Rico, Hawaii, the Virginia Islands, American Samoa, Wake Island, Midway Islands, Kingman Reef, the island of Guam, Canton Island, Enderbury Island, Johnston Island, or Palmyra Island.

§ 22.2 Canal Zone and Guantanamo Bay.

The Panama Canal Zone and Guantanamo Bay Naval Station shall be considered foreign territory for drawback purposes.[2]

§ 22.3 Application for establishment of drawback rate.

(a) Each manufacturer or producer of articles intended for exportation with benefit of drawback (whether he is a primary, intermediate, or final manufacturer or producer of the articles, and whether or not the articles are of a character covered by a general drawback rate) shall make application prior to the exportation of such articles for the establishment of a rate of drawback. The application shall be made on customs Form 4477 or in a substantially similar form and shall be filed with the collector or deputy collector of customs in charge at any port of entry. When it is desired to export articles before an application in such form can be delivered in the regular course of the mails, a telegraphic application will be accepted, provided it shows the name of the manufacturer or producer, the name of the merchandise used, the name of the articles being exported, and the location of the factory at which the articles are manufactured or produced, and provided it is followed promptly by an application in the form prescribed herein.

(b) In the case of a vessel or aircraft on which drawback is to be claimed under section 313 (g), Tariff Act of 1930, the application prescribed in paragraph (a) of this section shall be made by the builder of the vessel or aircraft.

(c) The manufacturer or producer may abandon his application for the establishment of a rate of drawback by filing a written statement to that effect addressed to the collector or deputy collector of customs with whom the application was filed or to the investigating officer. An abandoned application may not be revived to give an earlier effective date to a rate of drawback established as the result of a subsequent application.

§ 22.4 Identification of imported merchandise and ascertainment of quantities for allowance of drawback; establishment of drawback rates.

(a) Each manufacturer or producer shall keep records which will establish, as to all articles manufactured or produced for exportation with benefit of drawback, the date or inclusive dates of manufacture or production, the quantity and identity of the imported duty-paid merchandise or of articles manufactured or produced under drawback regulations (referred to hereafter in this part as drawback products) used, the quantity and description of the articles manufactured or produced, and the quantity of waste incurred. If claim for waste is waived, the manufacturer or producer shall keep records which will establish the quantity and identity of the imported duty-paid merchandise or drawback products appearing in the articles manufactured or produced, in which case records need not be kept of either the quantity of waste incurred or of the quantity imported duty-paid merchandise or drawback products used, unless such records are necessary to enable the manufacturer or producer to establish the quantity of imported duty-paid merchandise or drawback products appearing in the articles. When the waste has a value and the manufacturer or producer has not limited his claims to the quantity of imported duty-paid merchandise or drawback, products appearing in the articles, the records shall show the factory value of the imported duty-paid merchandise or drawback products used and the factory value of the waste in order that in the liquidation of the drawback entry the quantity of imported duty-paid merchandise or drawback products used may be reduced by the quantity thereof which the value of the waste will replace. The records of the manufacturer or producer shall also show the quantity, if any, of duty-free or domestic merchandise used when such records are necessary to the determination of the quantity of imported duty-paid merchandise or drawback products used in the manufacture or production of the articles or appearing therein. In cases where two or more products result from the manipulation of the imported duty-paid merchandise, records shall be kept which will show the values of such products at the time of separation. An abstract of the records kept by the manufacturer or producer shall be filed with the drawback entry.

(b) The imported duty-paid merchandise or drawback products shall be stored in a manner which will enable the manufacturer or producer to determine, in conjunction with his storage records, the import entry, certificate of delivery, or certificate of manufacture and delivery number or numbers under which they were received, and to identify with respect to such import entry, certificate of delivery, or certificate of manufacture and delivery number or numbers the imported duty-paid merchandise or drawback products used in the manufacture or production of the articles, and to establish whether such articles were exported within 5 years after the importation of the duty-paid merchandise.

(c) The articles manufactured or produced shall be stored or marked in a manner which will preserve the identification established by means of the storage records and the records of manufacture or production.

(d) Each person required by §§ 22.15 and 22.16 (c) to certify to the delivery of imported merchandise or drawback products shall store such merchandise or products while they are in his possession and keep records which will enable him to show the quantity, identity, and description of such merchandise or products, the date on which they were received by him, the person from whom they were received, the date on which they were delivered by him to other persons, and the persons to whom such deliveries were made. These records shall be the basis of the certificates or endorsements required under § § 22.15 and 22.16 (c).

(e) Where it appears to the satisfaction of the Bureau, or of the collector in appropriate cases, that it is impracticable for the manufacturer or producer to keep records of all the information required for the determination of the drawback which may accrue to the products manufactured or produced by him, complementary records covering the information not available to the manufacturer or producer may be kept by the persons in the United States for whose account the products are manufactured or produced, and abstracts of such records shall be filed with the drawback entry.

(f) When identification is made against two or more lots of imported merchandise of different dutiable values or subject to different rates of duty, or against two or more lots of drawback products subject to different allowances of drawback, the drawback shall be based first upon the lot or lots of the lowest dutiable value, rate of duty, or drawback allowance, as the case may be, then upon the lot or lots of the next higher dutiable value, rate of duty, or drawback allowance, and so on from lower to higher until all the lots have been accounted for. The same principle shall apply in cases where the articles are commingled in storage after manufacture or production. If two or more lots of a fungible product are commingled in storage and quantities thereof are withdrawn for domestic consumption as well as for exportation with benefit of drawback, the withdrawals for domestic consumption shall be accounted for in the order in which the several lots of such product were placed in storage, exclusive of any lots in respect of which drawback has been allowed; and, in the case of the withdrawals for exportation, the drawback allowance thereon shall be based on the lot carrying the lowest allowance of drawback of any of the lots shown by the customs records to be unaccounted for at the time of withdrawal.

(g) The builder of a vessel or aircraft upon which drawback is to be claimed under section 313 (g), Tariff Act of 1930, shall keep the records provided for in this section so far as applicable. An abstract of such records shall be filed with the collector of customs at the headquarters port of the collection district in which the vessel or aircraft is built in ample time prior to the first departure of the vessel or aircraft from the United States to enable that officer to have the abstract verified by examination of the vessel or aircraft and the builder's records pertaining thereto.

(h) Each manufacturer or producer shall submit to the collector of customs at the port where his drawback entries will be filed a statement in duplicate describing the methods which he will follow and the records which he will keep for the purpose of establishing that the articles upon which drawback will be claimed have been manufactured or produced in the United States with the use of imported duty-paid merchandise within the meaning of section 313(a), Tariff Act of 1930, and that the records of identification, manufacture, or production, and storage prescribed in this section have been maintained. The statement shall be submitted to the collector through the supervising customs agent who assisted in its preparation. In the case of operations under section 313 (b), (d), or (g), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, the statement in triplicate shall be submitted through the supervising customs agent to the Commissioner of Customs. The statement shall contain an agreement to follow the methods and keep the records described therein with respect to all articles manufactured or produced for exportation with benefit of drawback. Provision for the use of duty-paid merchandise or drawback products, the manufacture or production af articles not specified in the application for the rate, or the use of factories not named therein may be included in the statement prepared as a result of such application.

(i) If drawback entries are to be liquidated at more than one headquarters port, two additional copies of the statement and of the investigating officer's report shall be required for each additional port. The procedure outlined in this and the preceding paragraph shall be followed, so far as applicable, when applications for amendments of drawback rates or supplemental statements or schedules or supplemental advisory schedules are filed in accordance with paragraph (o), (p), or (q) of this section.

(j) If the statement shows that the methods and records described therein enable the manufacturer or producer to comply with the law and regulations and if the facts developed by the investigation warrant such action, the collector in a case under section 313(a), Tariff Act of 1930, or the Bureau in a case under section 313 (b), (d), or (g), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, will issue the rate of drawback on the articles described in the statement, except that in cases under § 22.6 the procedure in paragraphs (a) and (b) of that section shall be followed. When the statement in a case under section 313 (a), Tariff Act of 1930, shows that entries are to be filed at more than one port, the collector at the port first listed shall issue the rate, if that action is warranted.

(k) Each person who keeps complementary records as provided for in paragraph (e) of this section shall file a statement describing such records in accordance with the procedure prescribed for manufacturers and producers in paragraph (h) of this section. Such statement shall be subject to the provisions of paragraphs (i) and (j) of this section.

(l) Drawback entries may be filed covering articles exported on or after the date on which the application for establishment of the drawback rate was received by the collector or deputy collector of customs, but such entries shall not be liquidated until the rate has been established or in cases under § 22.6 the statement has been approved.

(m) When the rate has been established or the statement approved under § 22.6, drawback may be allowed on articles manufactured or produced in accordance therewith and exported on or after the effective date named therein provided all pertinent regulations have been complied with.

(n) In no case shall drawback be allowed on articles which were exported before the date of receipt by the collector or deputy collector of the application which resulted in the preparation of the statement on which the rate or collector's letter of approval was based.

(o) When a manufacturer or producer in whose behalf a rate of drawback has been established desires to have his rate amended under section 313(a), Tariff Act of 1930, or to change his statement filed under § 22.6 to cover additional articles, to include additional factories, to permit the use of other kinds of imported duty-paid merchandise or drawback products, to provide for a different basis for the liquidation of the drawback entries, or to cover different methods of identification, manufacture, or other changes, he shall file an application therefor with the collector or deputy collector of customs. The supplemental statement prepared as a result of such application shall be submitted through the supervising customs agent who assisted in its preparation to the collector of customs at the port where drawback entries filed under the existing rate of drawback are liquidated who shall issue the amendment, if that action is warranted. If entries are liquidated at more than one port, the supplemental statement shall identify all such ports and the collector at the port first listed shall issue the amendment. The foregoing procedure shall also apply to applications for amendments under section 313 (b), (d), or (g), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, but the supplemental statement in such case shall be submitted through the supervising customs agent to the Commissioner of Customs, except as provided in subparagraph (1), of this paragraph. No drawback shall be allowed on articles exported before the date on which the application was received by the collector or deputy collector unless specifically authorized by the Bureau, or by the collector in cases within the provisions of § 22.6 or of this paragraph.

(1) Supplemental statements covering operations under section 313 (b), (d), or (g), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, which are limited to (i) a change in location of the factory of the manufacturer or producer; (ii) an additional factory at which the methods followed and records maintained are the same as those at another factory operating under an existing drawback rate of the manufacturer or producer; (iii) a change in name of the manufacturer or producer; (iv) the succession by a sole proprietorship, partnership, or corporation to the drawback operations of a manufacturer or producer; or (v) any combination of the foregoing changes, shall be processed in the manner provided in this paragraph (o) for supplemental statements covering amendments under section 313(a), Tariff Act of 1930.

(p) When a rate of drawback provides that the drawback allowance shall be determined on the basis of a schedule filed by the manufacturer or producer showing the quantity of imported material used or appearing in each unit of finished articles, and the rate authorizes the filing of supplemental schedules showing changes in the quantity of imported materials used or appearing in each unit, or different styles or capacities of containers, such supplemental schedules shall be filed with the collector or deputy collector of customs. Drawback may be allowed on the articles covered by a supplemental schedule after it has been verified by an investigating officer and approved by the collector.

(q) In cases where the drawback allowance is determined on a quantity-used or appearing-in basis, collectors of customs may request, for the information of liquidating officers in addition to the information required to be filed with the drawback entry, a supplemental advisory schedule showing the quantity of importing merchandise used or appearing in each unit of finished articles. Such schedules shall be filed with the collector or deputy collector of customs. Drawback may be allowed on articles covered by a supplemental advisory schedule after it has been verified by an investigating officer and approved by the collector.

(R.S. 251; 19 U.S.C. 66)

§ 22.5 Identification of imported merchandise and ascertainment of quantities for allowance of drawback when substituted merchandise is used.

(a) Articles manufactured or produced in accordance with section 313(b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, shall be subject to the applicable provision of this part and the records of the manufacturer or producer shall show:

(1) The quantity, identity, kind, and quality of the duty-paid merchandise or of other articles manufactured or produced under drawback regulations (all of the foregoing hereinafter referred to as designated merchandise) designated as the basis for the allowance of drawback on the exported articles;

(2) That such designated merchandise was used in the manufacture or production of articles by the manufacturer or producer of the exported articles within 3 years after the date on which it was received by such manufacturer or producer;

(3) That the exported articles on which drawback is claimed were manufactured or produced either with the use of (i) the designated merchandise, (ii) other merchandise of the same kind and quality as the designated merchandise, or (iii) any combination of the foregoing;

(4) That the exported articles were manufactured or produced within 3 years after the date on which the designated merchandise was received by the manufacturer or producer of the exported articles;

(5) That duty-free or domestic merchandise of the same kind and quality as the designated merchandise was used by the manufacturer or producer of the exported articles within 3 years after the date on which the designated merchandise was received by such manufacturer or producer; and

(6) The quantity of merchandise of the same kind and quality as designated merchandise, used in the manufacture or production of the exported articles.

(b) When valuable wastes are incurred in manufacture or production and the manufacturer or producer has not limited his claims to the quantity of merchandise apearing in the articles manufactured or produced for exportation with benefit of drawback, the records shall show the quantity and value of the merchandise used in the manufacture or production of the articles and the quantity and value of the waste incurred in order that the deduction provided for in § 22.4(a) may be made in liquidation.

(c) Duty-paid merchandise or articles manufactured or produced under drawback regulations which have been used at one plant of a manufacturer or producer within 3 years after the date on which such material was received by such manufacturer or producer may be designated as the basis for the allowance of drawback on articles manufactured or produced in accordance with the regulations in this part at other plants of the same manufacturer or producer.

(d) Drawback shall be allowed although the exported articles are not of the same kind and quality as the articles which were manufactured or produced with the use of the designated merchandise, provided such exported articles were manufactured or produced with the use of merchandise of the same kind and quality as the designated merchandise.

§ 22.6 General drawback rates in effect; approval of drawback statements by collectors.

(a) Drawback statements; filing and approval at one port. Each manufacturer or producer of articles covered by a drawback rate in this section shall submit through the supervising customs agents to the collector of customs at the port where drawback entries will be filed a statement in duplicate describing the methods used in the manufacturing or production of the products involved and setting forth the records it agrees to keep for the purpose of complying with the drawback law and regulations and for providing all the data required for the proper liquidation of certificates of manufacture and drawback entries filed hereunder. If the statement shows that the methods and records described therein enable the manufacturer or producer to comply with the law and regulations and if the facts developed by the investigation so warrant, the collector shall approve the statement and promptly notify the applicant, in writing, of such action.

(b) Drawback statements; filing and approval at more than one port. In cases where the statement provides for the filing of drawback entries at two or more ports, the statement in duplicate shall be submitted through the supervising customs agents to the collector at each of the ports named. In such case the collector at the port first listed in the statement shall approve the statement, if that action is warranted and is concurred in by the collectors at the other ports named, and shall promptly notify the applicant, in writing, of such action.

(c) Drawback statements; supplemental. Supplemental statements covering changes in statements filed under this section shall be handled in accordance with the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

(d) Applicability of other drawback provisions to general rates. The allowance of drawback on articles covered by a drawback rate in this section shall be subject to compliance with the applicable provisions of this part.

(e) Bags and meat wrappers. Drawback may be allowed on the exportation of bags or meat wrappers manufactured with the use of imported burlap or other textile material, subject to the following special regulations:

(1) Each lot of imported material received by a manufacturer shall be given a lot number and kept separate from other lots until used. The records of the manufacturer shall show, as to each manufacturing lot or period of manufacture, the quantity of material used from each import lot and the number of each kind and size of bags or meat wrappers obtained. A certificate of manufacture shall be filed covering each manufacturing lot or period of manufacture.

(2) All bags or meat wrappers manufactured for the account of the same exporter during a specified period may be designated as one manufacturing lot and covered by one certificate of manufacture and delivery. All exported bags or meat wrappers shall be identified by the exporter with the certificate of manufacture covering their manufacture.

(3) The drawback allowance shall not exceed 99 percent of the duty paid on the imported material appearing in the exported bags or meat wrappers, unless the manufacturer desires an allowance for waste and so specifies in his statement. In such cases the records of the manufacturer shall show, in addition to the above requirements, the value of the imported material, the quantity of waste incurred in the manufacture of each lot of bags or meat wrappers, or during each period of manufacture, and the value of such waste, if any; and in liquidation the quantity of imported material which may be used as the basis for the allowance of drawback shall be reduced by the quantity of imported material which the value of the waste will replace.

(f) Sugar and sirups; substitution Drawback may be allowed under the provisions of section 313 (b), Tariff Act of 1930, upon the exportation of hard or soft refined sugars and sirups manufactured from raw sugar, subject to the following special regulations:

(1) The drawback allowance shall not exceed 99 percent of the duty paid on a quantity of raw sugar designated by the refiner which contains a quantity of sucrose not in excess of the quantity required to manufacture the exported sugar or sirup, ascertained in the manner hereinafter set forth.

(2) The refined sugars and sirups shall have been manufactured with the use of duty-paid, duty-free, or domestic sugar, or combinations thereof, within 3 years after the date on which the designated sugar was received by the refiner, and shall have been exported within 5 years from the date of importation of the designated sugar.

(3) All granulated sugar testing by the polariscope 99.5° and over shall be deemed hard refined sugar. All refined sugar testing by the polariscope less than 99.5° shall be deemed soft refined sugar. All "blackstrap," "unfiltered sirup," and "final molasses" shall be deemed sirup.

(4) The imported duty-paid sugar selected by the refiner as the basis for the drawback claim (designated sugar) shall be of the same kind and quality as that used in the manufacture of the exported refined sugar or sirup and shall have been used within 3 years after the date on which it was received by the refiner. Duty-paid sugar which has been used at a plant of a refiner within 3 years after the date on which it was received by such refiner may be designated as the basis for the allowance of drawback on refined sugars or sirups manufactured at another plant of the same refiner.

(5) For the purpose of distributing the drawback in accordance with the provisions of section 313, Tariff Act of 1930, relative values shall be established between hard refined (granulated) sugar, soft refined (various grades) sugar, and sirups at the time of separation. The entire period covered by an abstract shall be deemed the time of separation of the sugars and sirups covered by such abstract.

(6) The sucrose allowance per pound on hard refined (granulated) sugar established by the liquidation of an abstract shall be applied to hard refined sugar commercially known as loaf, cut loaf, cube, pressed, crushed, or powdered sugar manufactured from the granulated sugar covered by the abstract.

(7) The sucrose allowance per gallon on sirup established by the liquidation of an abstract shall be applied to sirup further advanced in value by filtration or otherwise, unless such sirup is the subject of a special drawback rate.

(8) As to each lot of imported or domestic sugar used in the manufacture of refined sugar or sirup on which drawback is to be claimed, the raw stock records shall show the refiner's raw lot number, the number and character of the packages, the settlement weight in pounds, and the settlement polarization. Such records covering imported sugar shall show, in addition to the foregoing, the import entry number, date of importation, name of importing carrier, country of origin, the Government weight, and the Government polarization.

(9) The melt records shall show the date of melting, the number of pounds of each lot of raw sugar melted, and the full analysis at melting.

(10) There shall be kept a daily record of final products boiled showing the date of the melt, the date of boiling, the magma filling serial number, the number of the vacuum pan or crystallizer filling, the date worked off, and the sirup filling serial number.

(11) The sirup manufacture records shall show the date of boiling, the period of the melt, the sirup filling serial number, the number of barrels in the filling, the magma filling serial number, the quantity of sirup, its disposition in tanks or barrels, and the refinery serial manufacture number.

(12) The refined sugar stock records shall show the refinery serial manufacture number, the period of the melt, the date of manufacture, the grade of sugar produced, its polarization, the number and kind of packages, and the net weight. When soft sugars are manufactured, the commercial grade number and quantity of each shall be shown.

(13) Each lot of hard or soft refined sugar and each lot of sirup manufactured, regardless of the character of the containers or vessels in which it is packed or stored, shall be marked immediately with the date of manufacture and the refinery manufacture number applied to it in the refinery records hereinbefore provided for and shown in the abstract from such records filed in the customhouse. If all the sugar or sirup contained in any lot manufactured is not intended for exportation, only such of the packages as are intended for exportation need be marked as prescribed above, provided there is filed with the collector of customs immediately after such marking a statement showing the date of manufacture, the refinery manufacture number, the number of packages marked, and the quantity of sugar or sirup contained therein. No drawback shall be allowed in such case on any sugar or sirup in excess of the quantity shown on the statement as having been marked. If any packages of sugar or sirup so marked are repacked into other containers, the new containers shall be marked with the marks which appeared on the original containers and a supplemental statement covering such repacking and remarking shall be filed with the collector. If sirups from more than one lot are stored in the same tank, the refinery records shall show the refinery manufacture number and the quantity of sirup from each lot contained in such tank.

(14) An abstract from the foregoing records covering manufacturing periods of not less than 28 nor more than 35 days, unless a different period shall have been authorized, shall be filed when drawback is to be claimed on any part of the refined sugar or sirup manufactured during such period. Such abstract shall be filed by each refiner with the collector of customs at New York, except as to refineries located in California, Louisiana, Puerto Rico, or Hawaii, for which the abstracts shall be filed respectively with the collectors at San Francisco, New Orleans, San Juan, or Honolulu. The collectors at the ports mentioned shall liquidate the abstracts filed with them and shall keep full and complete records of the kinds and quantities of refined sugars and sirups entitled to drawback on exportation and, upon proper request, shall issue extracts therefrom for use at other ports where drawback entries are filed covering exportations made of such refined sugars and sirups, and shall debit such records with the quantities covered by such extracts. The abstracts filed by each refinery shall be consecutively numbered by the refiner, shall be signed by the head refiner or superintendent or his first assistant, and shall be in the following form:

Total market value of production (column 1 times column 3), $3,596,049.50. Sucrose used (70,598,997 pounds) divided by market value ($3,596,049.50) equals pounds sucrose allowable per $1 of market value, or 19,632,382 pounds sucrose; this factor multiplied by the market values in column 3 will produce the factors in column 4, which are the pounds of sucrose to be allowed per pound of sugar or gallon of sirup manufactured under this abstract, less 1 percent thereof. Quantities in column 1 multiplied by the quantities in column 4 should equal the quantities in column 5.

(22) In cases where the sugar designated on the certificate of delivery has been imported at the port where the extract is issued, the collector at that port shall issue a certificate of importation for the designated sugar on customs Form 5265 and forward it to the collector of customs at the port where the extract from the refinery abstract is to be used.

(g) Linseed oil, linseed oil cake, and linseed oil meal. Drawback may be allowed under the provisions of section 313 (a), Tariff Act of 1930, upon the exportation of linseed oil, linseed oil cake, and linseed oil meal, manufactured with the use of imported flaxseed, subject to the following special regulations:

(1) The mill zones hereinafter referred to embrace:

New York Mill Zone: Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York (except Buffalo), New Jersey, Pennsylvania (except Pittsburgh), Delaware, Maryland, and Rhode Island.

Buffalo Mill Zone: Buffalo, N. Y., Pittsburgh, Pa., West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, and Kentucky.

Chicago Mill Zone: Minnesota, South Dakota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, and Kansas.

West Coast Mill Zone: Washington, Idaho, Oregon, California, Nevada, Utah, and Arizona.

(2) Except as provided for in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, the manufacturing period (hereinafter referred to as the abstract period) of each crusher shall be coextensive with the withdrawal of one or more entire lots or cargoes of imported flaxseed, from the storage tanks and the manufacture into oil and cake of the flaxseed so withdrawn. A cut-off shall be made at the storage tanks after the withdrawal of one or more complete lots or cargoes, and all the seed from such lots or cargoes in process or contained in bins, screens, conveyors, cookers, presses, expellers, etc., shall be manufactured during the abstract period in order that there may be no overlapping of seed and product from one abstract period to another. If any seed withdrawn from the storage tanks during any abstract period is disposed of without being manufactured into the products specified in this paragraph, it shall be reported on the certificate of manufacture provided for in subparagraph (4) of this paragraph. The quantity of seed so withdrawn shall be stated according to its condition as imported.

(3) Should it become necessary for a crusher to terminate an abstract period before the complete withdrawal from the storage tanks of any lot or cargo of imported flaxseed contained therein, a cut-off shall be made at the storage tanks and the quantity of imported flaxseed remaining in the tanks after the cut-off shall be determined by weighing, gauging, or measuring under the supervision of a customs officer. Upon application to the collector of customs in whose district the plant of the crusher is located, a customs officer shall be assigned for this purpose. All flaxseed withdrawn from storage before the cut-off shall be manufactured into oil and cake or otherwise disposed of before a new abstract period is begun.

(4) At the conclusion of each abstract period during which a crusher manufactures oil, cake, or meal for exportation with benefit of drawback, such crusher shall file a certificate of manufacture, constituting an abstract of his manufacturing records, with the collector of customs at any one of the following ports: New York, N. Y.; Philadelphia, Pa.; Chicago, Ill.; Cleveland, Ohio; San Francisco, Calif.; or Seattle, Wash.

(5) Such certificate shall show the inclusive dates of manufacture; the quantity, identity, and value (if valuable wastes occur) of the imported flaxseed or screenings, scalpings, chaff, or scourings used; the quantity by actual weight and value, if any, of the material removed from the foregoing by screening prior to crushing; the quantity and kind of domestic merchandise added, if any; the quantity by actual weight or gauge and value of the oil, cake, and meal obtained; and the quantity and value, if any, of the waste incurred. The quantity of imported flaxseed, screenings, scalpings, chaff, or scourings used or of material removed shall not be estimated nor computed on the basis of the quantity of finished products obtained, but shall be determined by actually weighing the said flaxseed, screenings, scalpings, chaff, scourings, or other material; or, at the option of the crusher, the quantities of imported materials used may be determined from customs weights, as shown by the import entry covering such imported materials, and the Government weight certificate and certificate of analysis issued at the time of entry. The entire period covered by an abstract shall be deemed the time of separation of the oil and cake covered thereby.

(6) The drawback allowance shall not exceed 99 percent of the duty paid on the quantity of imported flaxseed, screenings, scalpings, chaff, or scourings used in the manufacture of the exported products, less the quantity of such imported materials which the value of the waste will replace, as shown by the abstract of the manufacturing records provided for above.

(7) The drawback allowance shall be distributed to the oil and cake in accordance with their relative values at the time of separation, and the drawback allowance on the processed oil and on the oil meal shall be the drawback accruing to the raw oil and to the cake from which the processed oil and the meal, respectively, were produced.

(8) In order that the relative values may be determined for use as the bases for the distribution of the drawback to the several products as prescribed in section 313 (a), Tariff Act of 1930, each crusher operating under the provisions of this paragraph shall file with the collector of customs, New York, N. Y., within 10 days after the 1st and 15th days of each month a statement in duplicate showing the quantity of oil in barrels of 375 pounds each and the quantity of cake or meal in tons of 2,000 pounds delivered each day from the mill during the preceding period (that is, 1st to 15th or 16th to the last day of the month) to points in the zone in which the mill is located. The total daily quantity and value of such products delivered with drawback not reserved by the crusher and the total daily quantity of such products delivered with drawback reserved by the crusher shall be stated separately. The value of oil shall be shown on the carload raw basis in barreled condition, that is, if the oil was processed, the processing differential shall be deducted, or, if it was delivered in tank wagons or tank cars, the barreling differential shall be added. The values of cake and meal shall be shown on the carload basis in bags. The values of oil cake, and meal, as outlined above, shall be reported on the basis of the invoices of sale, without deduction for the cost of containers and other charges.

(9) Upon receipt of the statements from the crushers concerned, the collector of customs at New York shall determine and declare the daily average values of the raw linseed oil and linseed cake manufactured by the crushers in each mill zone. Such daily average values shall be ascertained in the following manner:

(i) The total quantity of oil delivered on a certain day by all crushers in a given mill zone to points within that zone, with drawback not reserved by the crushers, divided into the amount of money received by the crushers for such oil (the quotient to be extended to 6 decimal places), less the amount deducted for the cost of packing and other charges incurred after separation, shall be the daily average value of such oil.

(ii) The total quantity of cake delivered on a certain day by all crushers in a given mill zone to points within that zone, with drawback not reserved by the crushers, divided into the amount of money received by the crushers for such cake (the quotient to be extended to 6 decimal places), less the amount deducted for the cost of packing and other charges incurred after separation, shall be the daily average value of such cake.

(iii) The total quantity of meal delivered on a certain day by all crushers in a given mill zone to points within that zone, with drawback not reserved by the crushers, divided into the amount of money received by the crushers for such meal (the quotient to be extended to 6 decimal places), less the amount deducted for the cost of packing, grinding, and other charges necessary to reduce such meal to a cake basis, shall be the daily average value of the cake from which such meal was ground.

(iv) The weighted average of the two values determined in accordance with subdivisions (ii) and (iii) of this subparagraph shall be the daily average value of the cake concerned.

(v) If no deliveries of oil, cake or meal are made to a point in the mill zone on a certain day, the last daily average value established by the collector at New York for that product shall be used as the value thereof for the day on which no deliveries were made.

(vi) The amount to be deducted from the delivered value of oil cake, or meal by the collector at New York to make relative value at the point of separation shall be an average amount for each zone obtained by averaging the cost of packing and other charges of all crushers within the zone concerned. In order that this deduction may be made, each crusher shall furnish the collector at New York, from time to time as the collector may request, a statement showing such costs and charges.

(10) After the close of each calendar month the collector at New York shall prepare for each mill zone a statement showing the daily average values of cake and oil ascertained as above, and shall transmit to the collectors at Philadelphia, Chicago, Cleveland, San Francisco, and Seattle copies of such statements as cover zones in which crushers who file abstracts at the respective ports are located.

(11) To ascertain the relative values of the cake and oil for the period covered by an abstract, the collector of customs concerned shall add the daily average values for his zone of cake and oil, respectively, as furnished by the collector at New York, for each day of the period covered by the abstract and shall divide the totals thus obtained by the number of such daily average values.

(12) Upon the application of any crusher operating under this paragraph, the collector of customs at any of the above-mentioned ports is authorized to advise such crusher of the daily average values of cake and oil established by the collector of customs at New York for the zone in which the crusher is located, and of the relative values of such products as determined for the period covered by an abstract filed by such crusher with the collector to whom application has been made.

(13) If a crusher desires to file his abstract at one of the above-enumerated ports not located within the mill zone in which his plant is situated, the daily average values of the oil and cake for the zone in which the plant of the crusher is situated shall be certified by the collector at New York to the collector at the port where such abstract is to be filed, on the request of such crusher; and the collector at such port shall ascertain the relative values of the products for the period covered by the abstract in the manner prescribed in subparagraph (11) of this paragraph.

(14) If the records of the manufacturer do not show the quantity of oil cake used in the manufacture of the exported oil meal and the quantity of oil meal obtained, the net weight of the oil meal exported shall be regarded in liquidation as the weight of the oil cake used in the manufacture thereof.

(15) If various tanks are used for the storage of imported flaxseed, the mill records shall show by a definite designation the tank or tanks in which each lot or cargo is stored.

(16) If raw or processed oil manufactured during different periods of manufacture is intermixed in storage, a record shall be maintained showing the quantity, identity, and kind of oil so intermixed. Identification shall be made in accordance with § 22.4 (f). If oil so intermixed is delivered to manufacturers who use the oil in the manufacture of articles to be exported, the certificate of delivery shall show the certificates of manufacture from which such oil may have originated.

(17) If linseed cake or meal is placed in storage, it shall be segregated by abstract periods or marked to show the period in which it was manufactured.

(h) Piece goods. Drawback may be allowed under the provisions of section 313 (a), Tariff Act of 1930, upon the exportation of bleached, mercerized, printed, dyed, or redyed piece goods manufactured or produced by any one or a combination of the foregoing processes with the use of imported or drawback woven piece goods, subject to the following special regulations:

(1) The records of the manufacturer or producer shall show, as to each lot of piece goods manufactured or produced for exportation with benefit of drawback, the lot number and the date or inclusive dates of manufacture or production, the quantity, identity, and value of the imported or drawback piece goods used, the condition in which imported or received (whether in the gray, bleached, dyed, or mercerized), the working allowance specified in the contract under which they are received, the process or processes applied thereto, and the quantity and description of the piece goods obtained.

(2) The records also shall show the yardage lost by shrinkage or gained by stretching during manufacture, and the quantity of remnants resulting and of spoilage incurred.

(3) Further, the records shall show the quantity of rag waste incurred and its value. In instances where it is impracticable to account for the actual quantity of rag waste incurred, it shall be assumed in liquidation that such rag waste constituted 2 percent of the piece goods put into process.

(4) The piece goods manufactured or produced hereunder may also be subjected to one or more finishing processes.

(5) An abstract of the manufacturing or production records shall be filed with the drawback entry.

(6) The quantity of piece goods upon which drawback may be allowed shall be computed as follows: Deduct from the quantity of piece goods received the quantity of remnants and spoilage, if any, incurred, the proper allowance to be made for shrinkage or stretch, of any, occurring during manufacture or production. Reduce the remaining quantity by the quantity thereof which the value of the rag waste will replace. When necessary for the purposes of liquidation, the value of the imported or drawback piece goods used shall be furnished by the owner.

(7) The drawback allowance shall not exceed the duty paid, less 1 per centum thereof, on the net quantity of finished piece goods exported, determined as above, as shown by the abstract of the manufacturing or production records; or, in the case of piece goods manufactured or produced hereunder with the use of drawback piece goods, the drawback accruing to such net quantity, as established by the abstract of the manufacturing or production records and the certificates of manufacture and delivery covering the drawback piece goods concerned.

(8) Drawback shall not be allowed hereunder when the process performed results only in the restoration of the articles to their condition at the time of importation.

(i) Fur skins and fur skin articles. Drawback may be allowed under the provisions of section 313 (a), Tariff Act of 1930, upon the exportation of dressed, redressed, dyed, redyed, bleached, blended, or striped fur skins or fur skin articles manufactured or produced by any one or a combination of the foregoing processes with the use of fur skins or fur skin articles, such as plates, mats, sacs, strips, and crosses, imported in a raw, dressed, or dyed condition, subject to the following special regulations:

(1) The records of the manufacturer or producer shall show, as to each lot of fur skins and fur skin articles manufactured or produced for exportation with benefit of drawback, the lot number and the date or inclusive dates of manufacture or production, the quantity, identity, and description of the imported merchandise used, the condition in which imported, the process or processes applied thereto, the quantity and description of the finished articles obtained, and the quantity of imported pieces rejected, if any, or spoiled in manufacture or production.

(2) An abstract of the manufacturing or production records shall be filed with the drawback entry.

(3) The drawback allowance shall not exceed the duty paid, less 1 per centum thereof, on the quantity of imported merchandise used in the manufacture or production of the exported articles, as shown by the abstract of the manufacturing or production records. The quantity of imported merchandise used shall be determined by deducting from the quantity of fur skins or fur skin articles put into manufacture or production the quantity of rejects and spoilage incurred, if any.

(4) Drawback shall not be allowed hereunder when the process performed results only in the restoration of the articles to their condition at the time of importation.

§ 22.7 Notice of exportation.

(a) A notice of exportation in triplicate,[4] on customs Form 7511, for each shipment of merchandise on which drawback is to be claimed shall be filed by the exporter or his agent with the collector of customs at the port at which the shipment is to be exported from the United States. Such notice shall show the name of the exporting vessel or other carrier, the number and kind of packages and their marks and numbers, the description of the merchandise and its weight (gross and net), gauge, measure, or number, the name of the exporter, and the name of the port where the drawback entry is to be filed. If the merchandise is to be exported in railroad cars, a notice of exportation shall be filed for each car.

(b) Except as provided for in §§ 22.8 and 22.9, the notice of exportation shall be filed with the shipper's export declaration, or, if filed subsequently, it shall be filed within 3 years after exportation and shall state the number, if any, and date of the shipper's export declaration. One shipper's export declaration may cover several notices of exportation. A notice of exportation not filed in the time and manner herein specified shall not be accepted unless its acceptance is specifically authorized by the Bureau.

(c) Upon receipt of the notice of exportation, the collector shall assign a number thereto which shall be stamped or endorsed on the original and each copy of the notice. If a number has been assigned to the corresponding shipper's export declaration, the same number shall be assigned to the notice of exportation. If a shipper's export declaration covers more than one notice of exportation, one of the notices shall be assigned the same number as that assigned to the shipper's export declaration; the remaining notices shall also be assigned the same number but each notice shall be further identified by the addition of an alphabetic designation beginning with the letter "A". However, if no number has been assigned to the shipper's export declaration, each notice of exportation shall be separately numbered. On one of the copies of the notice, the collector shall certify (1) as to the exportation of the merchandise as shown by the records of his office, and (2) as to the name of the exporter as shown by the shipper's export declaration covering the merchandise. The collector shall return such copy and one uncertified copy to the exporter, or to the person designated by the exporter, for subsequent filing with the drawback entry. Whenever the collector is unable to certify to the exportation of the merchandise covered by the notice of exportation, he shall return two copies of the notice to the exporter or to the person designated by the exporter, with a statement of the facts in the case.

(d) When drawback is to be claimed under section 313 (a), (b), or (g), Tariff Act of 1930, on an aircraft departing under its own power from the United States, or on merchandise exported by aircraft, the notice of exportation shall be filed in the manner prescribed herein at the port where the shipper's export declaration is filed.

(e) When merchandise is laden on a vessel for transshipment at a domestic port outside the continental United States,[5] the notice of exportation shall be filed with the collector of customs at the port where the merchandise was last transshipped for its foreign destination (the place where the shipper's export declaration is filed).

§ 22.8 Notice of exportation; mail shipments.

(a) If the merchandise on which drawback is to be claimed is to be exported by mail or parcel post, the notice of exportation shall be prepared in quadruplicate. Three copies shall be filed with the postmaster at the place of mailing, and the merchandise shall be delivered to the postmaster at the same time and mailed under his supervision. The fourth copy shall be retained by the exporter for subsequent filing with the drawback entry. Such notices shall be numbered by the exporter in accordance with § 22.10.

(b) Each package to be exported shall have stamped or written thereon a waiver of the right to withdraw the package from the mails, signed by the exporter, on customs Form 3413, or in a substantially similar form.

(c) After the packages have been mailed, the postmaster will execute his certificate on one of the copies of the notice of exportation and return such copy to the person who presented the notice, for subsequent filing with the drawback entry. One copy of the notice will be postmarked by the postmaster and mailed by him to the collector of customs at the port where the notice shows the drawback entry is to be filed, and the other copy will be retained by the postmaster as his record of the transaction.

§ 22.9 Notice of exportation; government shipments.

(a) In the case of a shipment by a department, branch, or agency of the United States Government, if no shipper's export declaration is required, the notice of exportation for such a shipment shall be prepared in quadruplicate, whether the drawback is to be claimed by such department, branch, or agency, or by the supplier of the merchandise. Three copies shall be filed by the exporter or his agent with the government officer in charge of transportation at the port of exportation. The fourth copy shall be retained by the exporter for subsequent filing with the drawback entry. Such notices shall be numbered by the exporter in accordance with § 22.10.

(b) The notice of exportation shall bear an endorsement in the following form, to be placed thereon by the exporter, for execution by the government transportation officer at the port of exportation:

CERTIFICATE OF EXPORTATION

This is to certify that the merchandise described herein was laden at the port of ----------, for ----------;
(foreign destination—actual or code) that the exporting conveyance departed from the above-named port on ----------;
(Date)
and that ---------- was
(Name)
the actual shipper of the merchandise.

(Name)

(Rank, organization, title)

(Date)

[4] If the exporter desires, he may file an extra copy of the notice of exportation with the collector for numbering and return to him for use for reference or other purposes in pursuing his claim.

[5] Such as San Juan, P. R., or Honolulu, Hawaii.

(c) After the exporting vessel or other conveyance has departed, the government transportation officer at the port of exportation will execute his certificate on one of the copies of the notice of exportation and return such copy to the exporter, or to the person designated by the exporter, for subsequent filing with the drawback entry. One copy of the notice of exportation will also be signed by the government transportation officer to indicate its official status and mailed by him to the collector of customs at the port where the notice shows the drawback entry is to be filed, and the other copy will be retained by the government transportation officer as his record of the transaction.

§ 22.10 Numbering notices of exportation for mail or government shipments.

Notices of exportation covering government shipments or shipments by mail shall be given, for identification purposes, a number by the exporter in a series beginning with No. 1 for each 12-month period commencing on July 1 of each year. One series of numbers shall be used by each exporter to cover both types of shipments made by him.

§ 22.11 Amendment of notices of exportation.

At any time within the 3-year period prescribed for the completion of the drawback claim, a notice of exportation may be amended if the collector is satisfied as to the correctness of the amendment. Every application for amendment and its supporting evidence shall be in writing and submitted to the collector of customs at the port where the drawback entry is filed.

§ 22.12 Examination of merchandise.

The collector may examine any merchandise being exported with benefit of drawback if he is not satisfied as to the bona fides of the shipment.

§ 22.13 Completion of drawback claims.

(a) A drawback entry and certificate of manufacture shall be filed within 3 years after the date the articles are exported. Such entry and certificate shall be filed on customs Form 7575 except in cases covered by paragraph (c) or (e) of this section. If such entry and certificate are filed on customs Form 7575, such form shall be filed in duplicate; and, if the entry is filed on customs Form 7573, only one copy (the original) need be filed, provided that an additional copy of either form may be required by the collector of customs if he deems such additional copy necessary for administrative use in his office. The copy of the notice of exportation certified by the collector and one uncertified copy shall be filed with the entry. The certified copy of the notice of exportation shall show that the merchandise was shipped by the person making the drawback entry, or shall bear an endorsement of the person in whose name the merchandise was shipped, showing that the person making entry is authorized to make it and to receive the drawback. One entry may cover several shipments. All documents necessary to the liquidation of the entry, including those issued by one customs officer to another, shall be filed or applied for, as the case may require, within the 3-year period prescribed above, except that any required landing certificate shall be filed within the time prescribed in § 22.17 (c). Claims not completed within the 3-year period prescribed above shall be treated as abandoned and no extension will be granted, unless it is established that failure to complete the claim within 3 years was occasioned by action of a responsible customs officer.

(b) A statement in duplicate of the papers filed, showing the dates on which official documents were applied for, may be presented with the drawback entry. When such statement has been verified as to the papers filed, one copy shall be receipted and returned to the claimant and the other copy attached to the drawback entry. When a landing certificate is required, it shall be furnished prior to the liquidation of the entry.

(c) If certificates of manufacture are filed prior to the filing of the entry, they shall be referred to in the entry by the official number in lieu of the particulars of importation and manufacture. In such cases the entry shall be on customs Form 7573.

(d) If the drawback entry is filed at a port other than that at which the certificate of manufacture is on file, the collector at the port where the certificate is on file, after liquidation and at the request of the person filing the certificate or the person to whom such merchandise was delivered, as shown by said certificate, shall issue an extract therefrom on customs Form 4537 for use at the port where the entry is filed. Such extract shall be transmitted to the collector at the latter port and, for the purpose of identification, reference may be made thereto as in the case of an original certificate.

(e) When completely manufactured articles are purchased for exportation and the drawback is to be paid to the purchaser, the entry shall be on customs Form 7573 and be accompanied by a certificate of manufacture and delivery on customs Form 7577, if such a certificate is not already on file.

(f) In the case of a vessel, or aircraft upon which drawback is to be claimed under section 313 (g), Tariff Act of 1930, there shall be filed with the drawback entry a copy of the contract under which the vessel or aircraft was built or the pertinent part thereof showing that it was built for foreign account and ownership. In the case of a vessel, except a warship, there shall also be filed a certificate of clearance for the foreign port, if the vessel is cleared from a port other than that at which the entry is filed, and a certified copy of the registry certificate or, in lieu thereof, a certificate of the consul of the foreign nation to which the vessel belongs, showing that the said vessel has been documented under the flag of that country. In the case of warships, the certificates of clearance and foreign documentation shall not be required.

(g) A drawback entry may be corrected, or a timely supplemental entry filed, only when permission is granted by the collector. Corrections or amendments permitted must be certified by the appropriate parties.

§ 22.14 Certificates of importation and extracts.

(a) If the merchandise identified in the drawback entry or certificate of manufacture was not imported at a port within the customs collection district where the entry or certificate of manufacture is filed, the collector of customs of the district where the merchandise was imported shall upon application by the importer or the party to whom the delivery of such merchandise has been certified, issue to the collector at the port named a certificate of importation on customs Form 5265 bearing a notation showing the date on which the application for the issuance of the certificate was filed. Such application shall be made on customs Form 5263 or in a substantially similar form.

(b) If any portion of the merchandise covered by the certificate of importation is used in the manufacture of articles covered by a drawback entry or certificate of manufacture on file at a port other than that at which the certificate is on file, the collector holding the certificate, on written request, shall issue an extract on customs Form 5267 for use at such other port and transmit it to the collector at that port.

(c) In the case of articles manufactured with the use of metals withdrawn from a bonded smelting or refining establishment, the collector at the port of withdrawal shall issue, in lieu of certificates of importation, certificates showing the date of importation, date of withdrawal, name of person making the withdrawal, quantity and character of the metal, and rate and amount of duty paid.

(d) No certificate of importation shall be issued until the import entry covering the merchandise to be certified shall have been liquidated, the liquidated duties have been paid, and such liquidation shall have been made final by operation of law or by acceptance in writing by the importer. Such certificate and any extract therefrom shall show the name of the person to whom delivery has been certified and the date of delivery in case a certificate of delivery has been filed with the collector issuing such certificate or extract.

(e) When a certificate of manufacture covering bags or meat wrappers is filed showing transfer of the bags or meat wrappers after manufacture, the exporter may present an application addressed to the collector of customs at the port where the burlap or other textile material was imported, requesting the issuance of a certificate of importation, and the collector of customs at the port where the certificate of manufacture is filed shall indicate on the application, before forwarding it to the collector at the port of importation, that the proper certificate of delivery is endorsed on the certificate of manufacture to the person requesting the certificate of importation, thus obviating the necessity of filing further certificates of delivery with the collector of customs who issues the certificate of importation.

§ 22.15 Certificates of delivery of imported merchandise.

(a) When the merchandise used in the manufacture of the exported articles was not imported by the manufacturer of the articles, no drawback shall be allowed until there has been filed with the collector at the port where the drawback entry is filed a certificate of delivery in duplicate on customs Form 7543 or official evidence of the existence of such a certificate filed at another port, fully describing the merchandise delivered and tracing it from the custody of the importer to the custody of the manufacturer. Reference may be made to this certificate by the manufacturer in his certificate of manufacture in lieu of the particulars of importation, provided the certificate covers but one importation.

(b) If the merchandise was not delivered directly from the importer to the manufacturer, each intermediate transfer shall be shown on the certificate of delivery by a certificate of the person through whose possession the merchandise passed.

(c) When the imported merchandise is covered by a consumption entry and the consignee named therein has declared another person to be the actual owner, such consignee shall be considered the importer for drawback purposes irrespective of whether an owner's declaration was filed in accordance with section 485 (d), Tariff Act of 1930, and a certificate of delivery from such consignee to the person to whom delivery was made shall be required.

(d) The person in whose name merchandise is withdrawn from bonded warehouse shall be considered the importer for drawback purposes, and certificates of delivery covering prior transfers of such merchandise while in bonded warehouse shall not be required.

§ 22.16 Certificates of manufacture and delivery; manufactured or partly manufactured articles.

(a) When the imported merchandise used has passed through some process of manufacture before delivery and the wholly or partly manufactured article is used in the manufacture of some other article for exportation, or when completely manufactured articles are purchased for exportation without further manipulation, a certificate of manufacture and delivery shall be filed on customs Form 7577. Such certificate shall be required whether the drawback is claimed by the exporter or has been reserved by the manufacturer.

(b) In drawback entries covering the exported articles, reference may be made to such certificates in lieu of stating the particulars of importation and manufacture, except when the article or merchandise has been further manipulated before exportation, in which event such additional manufacturing steps shall be covered by a proper certificate of manufacture.

(c) Any intermediate transfer of such manufactured articles shall be certified on the certificate of manufacture and delivery.

(d) If the drawback entry is filed at a port other than that at which the certificate of manufacture and delivery is on file, an extract may be issued on customs Form 4537.

§ 22.17 Landing certificates.

(a) A landing certificate shall be required (1) whenever the collector at the port of exportation or at the port where the drawback entry is filed shall have reason to believe that the shipment is not a bona fide exportation, (2) when the Bureau specifically directs that a landing certificate shall be produced, (3) when a landing certificate is otherwise required by law or regulation, and (4) for every aircraft which departs from the United States under its own power if drawback is claimed on the aircraft or any part thereof. Landing certificates for aircraft shall show the exact time of landing of the aircraft in the foreign country and describe the aircraft or parts thereof on which drawback is claimed in sufficient detail to enable the collector to identify them with the notice of exportation.

(b) Whenever a landing certificate is required, it shall be signed by a revenue officer of the foreign country to which the merchandise is exported, unless it is shown that such country has no customs administration, in which case the certificate may be signed by the consignee or by the vessel's agent at the place of unlading.

(c) When a landing certificate is specially required by the collector or the Bureau, but not otherwise, reasonable notice in writing of such requirement shall be given by the collector to the exporter or his agent. The landing certificate shall be filed within 1 year from the date of the notice unless an extension of such period is specifically authorized by the Bureau.

(d) When a landing certificate is required by the collector, other satisfactory evidence of the foreign landing may be accepted in lieu of the landing certificate.

(e) When a landing certificate is required and cannot be produced, an application for its waiver may be made to the Bureau through the collector within the time required for filing the certificate, accompanied by such evidence of exportation and landing abroad as may be available. Such application will be granted if the Bureau is satisfied by the evidence submitted that the merchandise has been exported.

§ 22.18 Supplies for certain vessels and aircraft.

(a) Drawback of duties and taxes shall be allowed on articles laden on certain vessels or aircraft as supplies or for use as equipment or in the maintenance or repair of certain foreign vessels or aircraft, as provided for in section 309, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[6] and I.R.C. section 3451[7] subject to the requirements of this section.

(b) The procedure prescribed in this part as to the filing of an application for a rate of drawback and other required documents shall be followed, so far as applicable, in filing claims for drawback under this section, except that notices of lading on customs Form 7515 shall be filed in lieu of notices of exportation on customs Form 7511.

[6] "(a) Exemption from duties and taxes. Articles of foreign or domestic origin may be withdrawn, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, from any customs bonded warehouse, from continuous customs custody elsewhere than in a bonded warehouse, or from a foreign-trade zone free of duty and internal-revenue tax, or from any internal-revenue bonded warehouse, from any brewery, or from any winery premises or bonded premises for the storage of wine, free of internal-revenue tax—

"(1) For supplies (not including equipment) of (A) vessels or aircraft operated by the United States, (B) vessels of the United States employed in the fisheries or in the whaling business, or actually engaged in foreign trade or trade between the Atlantic and Pacific ports of the United States or between the United States and any of its possessions, or (C) aircraft registered in the United States and actually engaged in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions; or

"(2) For supplies (including equipment) or repair of (A) vessels of war of any foreign nation, or (B) foreign vessels employed in the fisheries or in the whaling business, or actually engaged in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions, where such trade by foreign vessels is permitted; or

"(3) For supplies (including equipment), ground equipment, maintenance, or repair of aircraft registered in any foreign country and actually engaged in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions, where trade by foreign aircraft is permitted. With respect to articles for ground equipment, the exemption hereunder shall apply only to duties and to taxes imposed upon or by reason of importation.

"(b) Drawback. Articles withdrawn from bonded warehouses, bonded manufacturing warehouses, continuous customs custody elsewhere than in a bonded warehouse, or from a foreign-trade zone, and articles of domestic manufacture or production, laden as supplies upon any such vessel or aircraft of the United States or laden as supplies (including equipment) upon, or used in the maintenance or repair of, any such foreign vessel or aircraft, shall be considered to be exported within the meaning of the drawback provisions of this Act.

"(c) Articles removed in, or returned to, the United States. Any article exempted from duty or tax, or in respect of which drawback has been allowed, under this section or section 317 of this Act and thereafter removed in the United States from any vessel or aircraft, or otherwise returned to the United States, shall be treated as an importation from a foreign country.

"(d) Reciprocal privileges. The privileges granted by this section and section 317 of this Act in respect of aircraft registered in a foreign country shall be allowed only if the Secretary of the Treasury shall have been advised by the Secretary of Commerce that he has found that such foreign country allows, or will allow, substantially reciprocal privileges in respect of aircraft registered in the United States. If the Secretary of Commerce shall advise the Secretary of the Treasury that he has found that a foreign country has discontinued, or will discontinue, the allowance of such privileges, the privileges granted by this section and such section 317 shall not apply thereafter in respect of aircraft registered in that foreign country." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 309, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1309)

(c) A notice of lading on customs Form 7515 shall be filed in quadruplicate with the collector of customs at the port of lading. Such notice shall show the name of the vessel or identity of the aircraft on which the articles were, or are to be, laden, the number and kind of packages and their marks and numbers, the description of the articles and their weight (net), gauge, measure, or number, the name of the exporter, and the name of the port where the drawback entry is to be filed. The notice of the lading may be filed before or after lading of the articles but, if filed after lading, it shall be filed within 3 years after exportation and shall show the date of clearance or departure of the vessel or aircraft. The collector shall assign a number to each notice of lading. After numbering, one copy of the notice shall be returned to the exporter for delivery to the master or an authorized officer of the vessel or aircraft for certification thereon as to the receipt of the articles and the quantity laden. This copy shall be filed by the claimant with the drawback entry, except that, in cases where the notice of lading was filed after the lading of the articles, a separate receipt of the master or authorized officer of the vessel or aircraft may be filed with the drawback entry.

(d) After the vessel has cleared or obtained a permit to proceed, the collector at the port of lading shall execute his certification on one of the copies of the notice of lading and return it, with one uncertified copy, to the exporter, or the person designated by the exporter, for subsequent filing with the drawback entry. If the vessel is not required to clear or obtain a permit to proceed to another port, the collector shall return two copies of the notice to the exporter, or to the person designated by the exporter, with a statement of the facts in the case for subsequent filing with the drawback entry. In such cases, the collector at the port where the drawback entry is filed shall require the claimant to furnish an itinerary of the vessel for the immediate voyage to determine whether the vessel is engaged in a class of business or trade which warrants the allowance of drawback.

(e) Paragraphs (f) to (i), of this section, insofar as applicable, shall apply with respect to aircraft registered in the United States and actually engaged in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions and aircraft registered in any foreign country and actually engaged in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions, where such trade by foreign aircraft is permitted.

(f) Upon the lading of supplies upon an American vessel, they shall be entered by a representative of the vessel in a special bound stores log book of the vessel in ink or indelible pencil. The stores log book shall be kept on board the vessel available for customs inspection and use at any time, and shall contain the following information with respect to such supplies: port where laden; date of lading; notice of lading number; quantity and description.

(g) In any case in which it is desired to land in the United States articles covered by a notice of lading, the master shall make application for a permit to land such articles under customs supervision. Except when transfer is made under the original notice of lading to another vessel entitled to the drawback privilege, the articles landed shall be treated as imported merchandise under section 309 (c), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

(h) If the supplies were laden on an American vessel, a declaration of the master or other officer of the vessel who has knowledge of the facts, showing the class of business or trade in which the vessel on which the articles were laden as supplies was engaged at the time of lading and whether the supplies were entered in the stores log book as required by paragraph (f) of this section, shall be furnished in support of the drawback entry. Such declaration may be executed on the copy of the "notice of lading" on which the master or other officer certifies as to the receipt and quantity of the articles laden, or be separately furnished, and shall be in substantially the following form :

I, _____ of the (Master or other officer)

4. Trade between the United States and any of its possessions.
5. Foreign trade.

(Name and title)

(i) If the notice of lading is filed subsequent to the lading of the supplies on an American vessel or if the declaration required under paragraph (h) of this section does not show that the supplies were entered in the stores log book, drawback shall not be allowed until proof has been presented in the form of a certificate of the master, or other officer of the vessel on which the supplies were laden having knowledge of the facts, that the supplies have been used on board the vessel and that no portion thereof has been landed in the United States or any of its possessions.

(j) In the case of articles laden or installed on aircraft as equipment or claimed to have been used in the maintenance or repair of aircraft, the collector shall require such certificates or other evidence as will satisfy him concerning the facts.

(k) Drawback entries shall be filed on customs Form 7573 or 7575, as applicable, modified to read "lade" (or "use"), "laden" (or "used"), or "lading" (or "using") instead of "export," "exported," or "exporting," and the "Declaration of exportation" shall be amended to read as follows:

§ 22.19 Meats cured with imported salt.

(a) All provisions of the regulations in this part relating to the allowance of drawback on articles manufactured with the use of imported merchandise, including the application for a rate of drawback and the filing of a statement, shall apply to the refund of duty on salt used in curing meats, except that the duty to be refunded is not subject to the retention of 1 percent and that no refund shall be made in an amount less than $100. Claims amounting to less than $100 shall be permitted to accumulate until the sum due reaches that amount.

(b) The prescribed forms shall be modified to show that the claim is being sels employed in the fisheries or in the whaling business, or actually engaged in foreign trade or trade between the Atlantic and Pacific ports of the United States or between the United States and any of its possessions. Articles manufactured or produced with the use of articles upon the importation of which tax has been paid under this chapter, if laden for use as supplies on such vessels, shall be held to be exported for the purposes of section 3430. The term 'vessels' as used in this section includes civil aircraft employed in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions, and the term 'vessels of war of the United States or of any foreign nation' includes aircraft owned by the United States or by any foreign nation and constituting a part of the armed forces thereof. The privileges granted under this section in respect of civil aircraft employed in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions, in respect of aircraft registered in a foreign country, shall be allowed only if the Secretary of the Treasury has been advised by the Secretary of Commerce that he has found that such foreign country allows, or will allow, substantially reciprocal privileges in respect of aircraft registered in the United States. If the Secretary of the Treasury is advised by the Secretary of Commerce that he has found that a foreign country has discontinued or will discontinue the allowance of such privileges, the privileges granted under this section shall not apply thereafter in respect of civil aircraft registered in that foreign country and employed in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions." (I. R. C. sec. 3451; 26 U. S. C. 3451)

Import taxes collected under I. R. C. secs. 4561, 4571, and 4581 are not subject to drawback under I.R.S. sec. 3451, but drawback of such taxes may be allowed under sec. 309 or 313, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

made for refund of duties paid on salt used in curing meats.

§ 22.20 Liquidation of drawback entries.

(a) No drawback on exported articles manufactured with the use of imported merchandise shall be allowed until the import entries covering such merchandise shall have been liquidated, the liquidated duties have been paid, and such liquidation shall have been made final by operation of law or by acceptance in writing by the importer.

(b) When the drawback claim has been completed by the filing of the entry, notices of exportation, and other documents required by the regulations in this part, the landing certificate has been produced where required, and clearance of the exporting conveyance has been established by the record of clearance in the case of direct exportation or by certificate in the case of exportation at another port, the collector shall ascertain the drawback due by reference to the records of importation and the drawback rate under which the drawback claimed is allowable.

(c) Import entries, certificates of importation, and extracts from such certificates shall constitute the records from which the amount of duty paid on the merchandise used shall be determined. In order to guard against errors of identification and overallowance, all merchandise identified in certificates of manufacture and drawback entries which have been liquidated and all merchandise covered by certificates of importation and extracts from such certificates shall be charged against the records of importation to which they respectively refer.

(d) The values to be used in computing the distribution of drawback where two or more products result from the manipulation of the imported merchandise, pursuant to section 313 (a), Tariff Act of 1930,[8] shall be market values unless the special regulations under which drawback is claimed provide otherwise.

(e) The amount of drawback due having been ascertained, the collector shall certify such amount for payment to the person making the entry or to the person to whom the maker on the face of the entry directs that such payment be made.

§ 22.21 To whom payable.

(a) The person named as exporter in the collector's certification on the notice of exportation shall be held to be the exporter and entitled to the drawback, unless the manufacturer or producer, on the sale or consignment of such articles, shall have reserved to himself the right to claim the drawback, in which case such manufacturer or producer may make entry for such drawback and it shall be paid to him upon the production of satisfactory evidence that such reservation was made with the knowledge and consent of the exporter.

(b) The drawback may alternatively be paid to the agent of the manufacturer, producer, or exporter, as the case may be, or to the person to whom such manufacturer, producer, exporter, or agent shall direct in writing that such drawback be paid.

FLAVORING EXTRACTS AND MEDICINAL OR TOILET PREPARATIONS (INCLUDING PERFUMERY) MANUFACTURED FROM DOMESTIC TAX-PAID ALCOHOL

§ 22.22 Drawback allowance.

(a) Upon the exportation of flavoring extracts and medicinal or toilet preparations (including perfumery) manufactured or produced in the United States in part from domestic tax-paid alcohol, a drawback of the internal-revenue tax paid shall be allowed in accordance with the provisions of section 313 (d), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.[9]

(b) Drawback of internal-revenue tax shall be allowed on such articles when shipped to the Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico, Guam, or American Samoa, in accordance with the provisions of I. R. C. section 7563.[10]

(c) The Panama Canal Zone shall be considered foreign territory for the purpose [11] of allowing drawback under this section.

(33 Stat. 843; 19 U.S.C. 126)

§ 22.23 Procedure.

(a) In the allowance of drawback of internal-revenue tax under the preceding section, the regulations in this part relating to the allowance of drawback on articles manufactured with the use of imported merchandise shall be followed so far as applicable and except as otherwise specified in this section and §§ 22.24, 22.25, and 22.26. The 3-year period for the completion of drawback claims prescribed in § 22.13 (a) shall be applicable to claims for drawback under section 313 (d), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

(b) The statement of the manufacturer shall set forth the quantity of domestic tax-paid alcohol contained in each of the various products covered thereby.

(c) The notice of exportation shall be filed on customs Form 7511. When it covers duty-paid imported merchandise, in addition to the tax-paid alcohol, two sets of drawback entries shall be filed, one set for customs drawback and the other for internal-revenue drawback.

(d) The following forms shall be used in lieu of the corresponding forms used in the case of articles manufactured with the use of imported merchandise:

Drawback entry, customs Form 7579.
Drawback entry and certificate of manufacture, customs Form 7583.
Certificate of manufacture and delivery, customs Form 7585.
Certificate of delivery of tax-paid alcohol, customs Form 7545.

(e) In the case of medicinal preparations and flavoring extracts there shall be filed with the drawback entry, or indorsed on the entry or certificate of manufacture, a declaration of the manufacturer showing whether claim has been, or will be, made by the manufacturer for domestic drawback allowable on the involved alcohol under the provisions of sections 5131, 5132, 5133, and 5134, Internal Revenue Code, as amended. If no claim has been or will be filed with the Internal Revenue Service for the domestic drawback, the manufacturer shall submit a statement, in duplicate, setting forth that fact to the Assistant Regional Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax, for the region in which the manufacturer's factory is located. The statement shall show the quantity and description of the exported products, the identity of the alcohol used by serial number of package or tank car, the name and registry number of the warehouse from which the alcohol was withdrawn, the date of the withdrawal, the serial number of the tax-paid stamp or certificate, and the port where the drawback claim will be filed. The Assistant Regional Commissioner will verify the statement, forward the original of the document to the port designated, and retain the copy. Such declarations and statements shall not be required in the case of toilet preparations (including perfumery).

(f) In cases where the percentage of alcohol contained in a medicinal preparation, flavoring extract, or toilet preparation varies from the quantity of alcohol shown by a previously approved statement or schedule to be contained in the said exported product in an amount equal to more than 5 percent of the total volume of the product, the procedure set forth in § 22.4 (o) applicable to the amendment of rates of drawback to cover additional articles shall be followed. Changes of 5 percent, or less, of the volume of the product shall be reported to the collector of customs at the port where the drawback entries are liquidated, which officer may allow drawback on such articles without specific Bureau authorization.

§ 22.24 Manufacturing record.

The description of the alcohol required to be stated in the entry may be obtained from the package containing the tax-paid alcohol. There shall be kept by the manufacturer of the flavor-

[9] "Upon the exportation of flavoring extracts, medicinal or toilet preparations (including perfumery) manufactured or produced in the United States in part from domestic alcohol on which an internal-revenue tax has been paid, there shall be allowed a drawback equal in amount to the tax found to have been paid on the alcohol so used. • • •." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 313 (d), as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1313 (d))

[10] "All provisions of law for the allowance of drawback of internal revenue tax on articles exported from the United States are, so far as applicable, extended to like articles upon which an internal revenue tax has been paid when shipped from the United States to Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, or American Samoa." (I.R.C. sec. 7653(c); 26 U.S.C. 7653(c).)

[11] "There is no authority of law for the allowance of drawback of internal-revenue tax on flavoring extracts or medicinal or toilet preparations (including perfumery) manufactured or produced in the United States and shipped to Alaska, Hawaii, Wake Island, Midway Islands, Kingman Reef, Canton Island, Enderbury Island, Johnston Island, or Palmyra Island.

ing extracts or medicinal or toilet preparations on which drawback is claimed a record of all such preparations manufactured, the quantity of wastage, if any, and a full description of the alcohol. This record shall be open at all times to the inspection of customs officers.

§ 22.25 Internal Revenue certificates and extracts from such certificates.

(a) The drawback claimant or manufacturer shall submit an application in writing to the Assistant Regional Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax, for the region in which the alcohol used in manufacture was withdrawn, for the issuance of a tax-paid certificate on internal-revenue Form 646 to the collector of customs with whom the drawback claim will be filed. The application shall state the quantity of alcohol in taxable gallons, the serial number of each package, the serial number of the stamp, the amount of tax paid on the alcohol, the name, registry number, and location of the warehouse, the date of withdrawal, the name of the manufacturer using the alcohol in producing the exported articles, the address of the manufacturer and of his manufacturing plant, and the port where the drawback claim will be filed. If the application is accompanied by customs Form 7545, showing any of such data, the data so shown need not be repeated in the application.

(b) When drawback is claimed on flavoring extracts or medicinal or toilet preparations manufactured with the use of rectified or redistilled alcohol, the certificate, internal-revenue Form 646, shall show, in addition to the data called for therein, the name of the rectifier, the quantity in wine gallons of rectified alcohol produced, the proof thereof, the quantity in proof gallons produced, the amount of tax paid, the date of withdrawal, and the serial numbers of the rectifier's stamps covering the alcohol.

(c) If a certification as to any portion of the alcohol described in a certificate on internal revenue Form 646 should be required for the liquidation of drawback entries filed at another port, the collector, on written application of the person who requested its issuance, shall transmit an extract from the certificate for use at such port. The extract shall be made on customs Form 4541 and shall show the Internal Revenue Service certificate number on the original certificate.

§ 22.26 Collector's statement of drawback due.

(a) When the drawback claim has been completed by the filing of the entry, notice of exportation, etc., as required by the regulations in this part, any required landing certificate has been produced, and clearance of the exporting conveyance has been established by the records of clearance in the case of direct exportation or by a certificate when the merchandise was exported at another port, the collector shall proceed to ascertain the amount of drawback due by reference to the certificate of manufacture and the drawback rate under which the drawback claimed is allowable.

(b) If the declaration required by § 22.23 (e) shows that claim has been, or will be, made for the domestic drawback referred to in that section, the allowance of drawback under the provisions of section 313 (d), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, shall be limited to the difference between the amount of tax paid and the amount of domestic drawback claimed. If the declaration and verified statement required by § 22.23(e) show that no claim has been, or will be, made by the manufacturer for the domestic drawback, the drawback allowed shall be the full amount of the tax paid on the alcohol used.

(c) The amount of drawback due having been ascertained, the collector shall, in accordance with § 22.20(e), certify such amount for payment.

(d) No deduction of 1 per centum shall be made in allowing drawback claims under section 313 (d), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

MERCHANDISE EXPORTED FROM CONTINUOUS CUSTOMS CUSTODY

§ 22.27 Drawback allowed.

(a) Merchandise on which the duties have been paid and which has remained continuously in bonded warehouse or otherwise in customs custody since importation may be entered or withdrawn at any time within 3 years after the date of importation for exportation or for shipment to the Virgin Islands, American Samoa, Wake Island, Midway Islands, Kingman Reef, Johnston Island, or Guam, and upon such exportation or shipment the duties shall be refunded in accordance with the provisions of section 557(a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.[12]

(b) The Panama Canal Zone and Guantanamo Bay Naval Station shall be considered foreign territory for the purpose of allowing drawback under this section.[13]

(Sec. 557, 46 Stat. 744, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1557)

§ 22.28 Continuous custody.

(a) No remission, abatement, refund, or drawback of duty shall be allowed on account of the exportation of any merchandise after its release from the custody of the Government, except as specified in section 558, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.[14]

[12] "* * * Merchandise upon which the duties have been paid and which shall have remained continuously in bonded warehouse or otherwise in the custody and under the control of customs officers, may be entered or withdrawn at any time within three years after the date of importation for exportation or for transportation and exportation to a foreign country, or for shipment or for transportation and shipment to the Virgin Islands, American Samoa, Wake Island, Midway Islands, Kingman Reef, Johnston Island, or the island of Guam, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe, and upon such entry or withdrawal, and exportation or shipment, the duties thereon shall be refunded." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 557(a), as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1557(a))

[13] Imported merchandise which has remained continuously in bonded warehouse or otherwise in customs custody since importation is not entitled to drawback of duty when shipped to Alaska, Puerto Rico, Hawaii, Canton Island, Enderbury Island, or Palmyra Island.

[14] "(a) No remission, abatement, refund, or drawback of estimated or liquidated duty shall be allowed because of the exportation or destruction of any merchandise after its release from the custody of the Government, except in the following cases:

"(1) When articles are exported with respect to which a drawback of duties is expressly provided for by law;

"(2) When prohibited articles have been regularly entered in good faith and are subsequently exported or destroyed pursuant to a law of the United States and under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe; and

* * * * * *

"(b) When articles are exported or destroyed under customs supervision after once having been released from customs custody, as provided for in subsection (c) of section 304 of this Act, such exportation or destruction shall not exempt such articles from the payment of duties other than the marking duty provided for in such subsection (c)." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 558, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1558)

(b) Merchandise which has been released to an importer under the bond prescribed by § 8.28 of this chapter and returned to the appraiser's stores upon requisition of the collector, and merchandise released under a temporary importation bond as provided for in section 308, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, shall not be deemed to have been in the continuous custody of customs officers.

(c) Merchandise which remains upon the wharf by permission of the collector shall be held to be in customs custody. This custody shall be deemed to cease when the permit has been accepted by the customs officer in charge, and there is nothing further to be done by him in the way of measuring, weighing, gauging, etc.

(d) In the case of merchandise entered for warehouse, customs custody shall be deemed to cease when the customs warehouse officer with whom a delivery permit has been lodged has released the merchandise to or upon the order of the proprietor of the warehouse, as provided for in §§ 8.38 and 19.6 of this chapter.

(e) Except as stated in paragraph (c) of this section, merchandise examined elsewhere than at the public stores in accordance with the provisions of § 14.2 of this chapter shall be considered released from customs custody when final examination for purposes of appraisement has been completed.

§ 22.29 Entry and completion thereof.

(a) At least 6 hours before the lading of any merchandise on which drawback is claimed, the importer or whomever he may designate in writing shall file with the collector an entry in duplicate on customs Form 7541.

(b) When the merchandise is to be transported to another port for exportation, the entry shall be filed in triplicate and shall name the transporting conveyence, the route, and the port of exit. One copy of the entry shall be certified by the collector and forwarded by him to the collector at the port of exit. The merchandise shall be transported by a bonded carrier in accordance with the regulations covering transportation in bond, and manifests shall be prepared and filed in the manner prescribed in § 18.19 of this chapter.

(c) The regulations in Part 18 as to supervision of lading and certification of exportation of merchandise withdrawn from warehouse for exportation without payment of duty shall be followed so far as applicable.

(d) In order to complete the drawback entry, a bill of lading issued by the proper representative of the exporting carrier and covering the merchandise described in the entry shall be filed within 2 years after the date the merchandise is exported. The bill of lading shall show that the merchandise was shipped by the person making the drawback entry, or shall bear an endorsement of the person in whose name the merchandise was shipped showing that the person making entry is authorized to make it and to receive the drawback. The terms of the bill of lading may limit and define its use by declaring it to be for customs purposes only and not negotiable. If a copy of the original bill of lading is filed, it shall bear the signature of the person issuing it.

(e) Neither a memorandum copy of the bill of lading issued by the transportation company nor a bill of lading bearing merely the initials of the representative of the transportation company shall be accepted in lieu of the bill of lading described above.

(f) Collectors of customs may issue on customs Form 4475 extracts from bills of lading filed with drawback entries.

(g) If the person making the drawback entry cannot produce the required bill of lading, he may submit in lieu thereof, through the collector to the Bureau, a statement showing the cause of failure with such evidence of exportation and of his right to make the drawback entry as may be obtainable.

(h) A landing certificate, when required, shall be filed within the time prescribed in § 22.17 (c).

(Sec. 557, 46 Stat. 744, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1557)

§ 22.30 Ascertainment of drawback.

(a) When the drawback entry has been completed and the bill of lading filed, together with the landing certificate when required, the reports of inspection and lading made, and the clearance of the exporting conveyance established by the record of clearance in the case of direct exportation or by certificate in the case of transportation and exportation, the collector with whom such entry and proofs are lodged shall verify the facts of importation by reference to the records in his office and ascertain the amount of duty paid on the merchandise exported. The drawback found due shall be allowed in accordance with the regulations covering manufactured articles, but there shall be no deduction of 1 percent.

(b) No drawback shall be allowed until the import entry covering the merchandise shall have been liquidated, the liquidated duties have been paid, and such liquidation has been made final by operation of law or by acceptance in writing by the importer.

(Sec. 557, 46 Stat. 744, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1557)

REJECTED MERCHANDISE

§ 22.31 Drawback allowance.

Upon the exportation of imported merchandise not conforming to sample or specifications or shipped without the consent of the consignee, the duties paid thereon, less 1 percent, shall be refunded as drawback in accordance with the provisions of section 313(c), Tariff Act of 1930,[15] as amended, subject to compliance with the regulations in §§ 22.32 to 22.35.

§ 22.32 Drawback entry.

(a) An importer of merchandise claimed not to conform to sample or specifications or to have been shipped to him without his consent, who desires to export such merchandise with benefit of drawback, shall file with the collector of customs at the port where the merchandise was entered or at any other port a drawback entry in duplicate on customs Form 7539, stating the quantity and description of the merchandise and identifying it with the import entry. The drawback entry shall also specify the place where the merchandise is to be deposited in customs custody. If the collector is of the opinion that the place specified is not suitable for the proper examination of the merchandise and any necessary repacking, he shall require the merchandise to be delivered to a suitable place at the expense of the applicant.

(b) Each drawback entry covering merchandise not conforming to sample or specifications or shipped without the consent of the consignee shall be executed in the name of the importer of record, unless another person has been named in the import entry as the actual owner and the declaration of such owner has been timely filed, in which case the drawback entry may be filed in the name of either such owner or the importer of record. If the goods are claimed to be not in accordance with sample or specifications, the drawback entry shall be accompanied by a copy of the order for the merchandise, copies of any preliminary correspondence, and the samples or specifications on which the merchandise was ordered, together with a certificate of the actual owner that the sample or specifications submitted are those on which the merchandise was ordered, showing in detail in what manner the merchandise does not conform to sample or specifications. If no written order was placed and no sample or specifications are available, a certificate of the actual owner setting forth the specifications of his order and the method by which they were communicated to the seller may be accepted. If the merchandise was shipped to the importer without his consent, a clear statement of that fact shall be submitted, together with all information in the possession of the importer as to the reason for the shipment. In doubtful cases the collector may decline to allow the claim unless there is produced corroboration by the shipper of the specifications or circumstances, or other evidence sufficient in the opinion of the collector to establish the claim. If the merchandise is returned to customs custody at a port other than at the port at which it was originally entered, and the drawback entry is to be filed at such other port, the collector of customs at that port shall request the collector of customs at the port where the merchandise was originally entered to furnish the date on which the merchandise was released from customs custody, a certified copy of the invoice, and a certificate of importation.

§ 22.33 Return of merchandise to customs custody.

(a) Upon receipt of the drawback entry, the collector shall assign a number thereto, by appropriate notation on all copies, approve the place of deposit of the merchandise specified by the person making the entry or designate another place if that one is not deemed suitable, and return the original to the entrant for presentation with the merchandise to the customs officer at the place of deposit. The merchandise shall be delivered into customs custody at such place within 90 days after the date on which it was originally released from customs custody unless, either before or after the return of the merchandise, a longer time is specially authorized by the Bureau, or by the collector under the authority of this paragraph. The collector, upon written application, may extend the period in those cases where he is satisfied that the importer has been or will be prevented by circumstances beyond his control from returning the merchandise within the 90-day period, and that the importer proposes to return, or has returned, the merchandise within a reasonable time. Applications for extension of time shall be filed with, and acted upon by, the collector of customs at the port where the drawback entry will be filed. If the merchandise is to be exported otherwise than by mail, one copy of the entry shall be returned to the entrant, for resubmission to the collector in accordance with paragraph (e) of this section. A receipt showing the fact and date of such delivery shall be furnished to the applicant if he requests it. If the report of the receiving officer shows that the merchandise was not returned to customs custody within the time required by law, the drawback shall be denied.

(b) If the merchandise is to be exported through the mails, it shall be deposited with the postmaster for delivery

[15] "Upon the exportation of merchandise not conforming to sample or specifications or shipped without the consent of the consignee upon which the duties have been paid and which have been entered or withdrawn for consumption and, within ninety days after release from customs custody, unless the Secretary authorizes in writing a longer time, returned to customs custody for exportation, the full amount of the duties paid upon such merchandise shall be refunded as drawback, less 1 per centum of such duties." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 313 (c), as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1313 (c))

to the collector of customs at the port where the merchandise was originally entered. The parcel in which the merchandise is packed shall be properly wrapped, stamped, and addressed for mailing to the foreign destination, and shall be enclosed in a wrapper addressed to the collector of customs at the port where such merchandise was originally entered. A waiver on customs Form 3413, or in a substantially similar form, of the right to withdraw the merchandise from the mails, signed by the exporter, shall be affixed, stamped, or written on both the inner and outer wrappers. The outside wrapper shall bear an appropriate notation to the effect that the contents are intended for examination and exportation under section 313 (c), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended. If the parcel is to be insured or registered to cover transportation from the port of original entry to the foreign destination, the exporter shall deposit with the collector of customs at such port the necessary funds to cover the charges for insurance or registry.

(c) The drawback entry, fully executed in duplicate on customs Form 7539, shall accompany or be mailed simultaneously with the parcel, unless such form is not available to the exporter, or unless the information necessary to complete the entry is not available at the time of mailing, in either of which cases the merchandise may be submitted without the entry to the postmaster for delivery to the collector of customs. When the returned merchandise is received by the collector without the related drawback entry, he shall immediately furnish the exporter with the proper number of copies of Form 7539 for prompt execution and return. The dates of the delivery of the merchandise from the post office on importation and the return thereto for exportation shall be considered the dates of release from and return to customs custody, respectively, within the meaning of section 313 (c), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended. Drawback shall be refused if the merchandise was not returned to custody within 90 days after its release therefrom, or within a longer period authorized by the Bureau or by the collector of customs pursuant to authority in paragraph (a) of this section.

(d) The applicant shall submit for the information of the collector of customs the parcel post or registered mail receipt or other evidence from the postmaster at the depositing office showing the date on which the merchandise was returned to the postmaster, together with evidence of the date of delivery of the incoming package from the post office.

(e) The entrant shall be advised of the approval of his entry and mailing of the merchandise or of the disapproval of his entry. If the entry has been approved and the merchandise is to be exported otherwise than by mail, the importer or whoever shall have been designated by the importer in writing shall file with the collector, at least 6 hours before lading of the merchandise, a copy of the entry with the name of the exporting carrier and the place of lading shown thereon and the exporter's declaration thereon fully executed. The export procedure and liquidation of the entry shall be the same, so far as applicable, as in the case of an exportation of merchandise from continuous customs custody with benefit of drawback. If the drawback is denied, the entrant shall advise the collector as to the disposition to be made of the merchandise.

(f) In order to complete the drawback entry, a bill of lading and a landing certificate, when required under § 22.17 (a), shall be filed in the manner and within the time prescribed in § 22.29 in the case of merchandise exported from continuous customs custody.

§ 22.34 Acceptance of merchandise at importer's risk and expense; time limit for exportation.

Merchandise returned to customs custody under section 313(c), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, shall be accepted only at the risk and expense of the party in interest. If the merchandise is not exported within 90 days from the date of notification of approval of the drawback entry, it shall be treated as unclaimed, except that the 90-day period may be extended for not more than 90 days by the collector upon written request by the original applicant.

§ 22.35 Waiver of proof where the duty is less than $50.

With the exception of the drawback entry, the above provisions relative to proof of non-conformity to sample or specifications, or of shipment without the consent of the consignee, may be waived in whole or in part if the duty on the merchandise to be exported is less than $50 and the collector is otherwise satisfied that the claim is well founded.

Merchandise Transferred to a Foreign-Trade Zone From Customs Territory

§ 22.36 Drawback allowance.

(a) Drawback of duties and taxes shall be allowed on merchandise transferred to a foreign-trade zone from customs territory for the sole purpose of exportation, destruction (except destruction of distilled spirits, wines, and fermented malt liquors), or storage under the fourth proviso to section 3 of the act of June 18, 1934, as amended (19 U.S.C. 81c),[16] subject to compliance with §§ 22.37 to 22.40, inclusive.

(b) Such merchandise shall be given status as zone-restricted merchandise on proper application as prescribed in § 30.10 of this chapter.

§ 22.37 Articles manufactured or produced in the United States.

(a) The procedure prescribed in this part as to the filing of an application for a rate of drawback and other required documents shall be followed, so far as applicable, in filing claims for drawback under the fourth proviso to section 3 of the act of June 18, 1934, as amended (19 U. S. C. 81c), on articles manufactured or produced in the United States with the use of imported or substituted merchandise, and on flavoring extracts and medicinal or toilet preparations (including perfumery) manufactured or produced with the use of domestic tax-paid alcohol, except that notices of transfer on customs Form 7513 shall be filed in lieu of notices of exportation on customs Form 7511.

(b) Notices of transfer on customs Form 7513 shall be filed in triplicate with the collector of customs at the port where the foreign-trade zone is located. Each notice shall show the number and location of the foreign-trade zone to which the articles are to be transferred, the number and kind of packages and their marks and numbers, the description of the articles and their weight (gross and net), gauge, measure, or number, the name of the transferor, and the name of the port where the drawback entry is to be filed.

(c) The notice of transfer shall be filed with the collector prior to the transfer of the articles to the zone, or within 3 years after receipt of the articles in the zone and, if filed after the transfer, shall state the foreign-trade zone lot number.

(d) The collector shall assign a number to each notice of transfer. After numbering, one copy of the notice shall be returned to the transferor for subsequent filing with the drawback entry. After the articles have been received in the zone, the customs officer at the zone shall certify on the copy of the notice of transfer received from the collector as to the receipt of the articles in the zone and forward the notice to the transferor, or the person designated by the transferor, for subsequent filing with the drawback entry. Prior to filing such certified copy with the drawback entry, the transferor shall obtain thereon the foreign-trade zone operator's certification as to the receipt of the articles in the zone.

[16] "* * * Provided further, That under the rules and regulations of the controlling Federal agencies, articles which have been taken into a zone from customs territory for the sole purpose of exportation, destruction (except destruction of distilled spirits, wines, and fermented malt liquors), or storage shall be considered to be exported for the purpose of:

"(a) The drawback, warehousing, and bonding, or any other provisions of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and the regulations thereunder; and

"(b) The statutes and bonds exacted for the payment of drawback, refund, or exemption from liability for internal-revenue taxes and for the purposes of the internal-revenue laws generally and the regulations thereunder.

"Such a transfer may also be considered an exportation for the purposes of other Federal laws insofar as Federal agencies charged with the enforcement of those laws deem it advisable. Such articles may not be returned to customs territory for domestic consumption except where the Foreign-Trade Zones Board deems such return to be in the public interest, in which event the articles shall be subject to the provisions of paragraph 1615 (f) of section 1201 of this title: * * *" (19 U. S. C. 81c.)

(e) Drawback entries shall be filed on customs Forms 7573, 7575–A, 7575–B, 7579, or 7583, as applicable, modified to indicate that the merchandise was transferred to a foreign-trade zone and the "Declaration of Exportation" shall be amended to read as follows:

§ 22.38 Merchandise transferred to a foreign-trade zone from continuous customs custody.

(a) The procedure prescribed in §§ 22.27 to 22.30, inclusive, shall be followed, so far as applicable, in filing claims for drawback on merchandise transferred to a foreign-trade zone from continuous customs custody. Prior to the transfer of such merchandise, the importer, or a person designated in writing by the importer for the purpose, shall file with the collector an entry in duplicate on customs Form 7541. After the merchandise has been received in the zone, the customs officer at the zone shall certify on the copy of Form 7541 received from the collector as to the receipt of the merchandise in the zone and forward it to the transferor, or the person designated by the transferor, to obtain thereon the foreign-trade zone operator's certification as to the receipt of the articles in the zone, in lieu of the bill of lading required by § 22.29 (d), and resubmit the copy to the collector.

(b) Customs Form 7541 shall be modified to indicate that the merchandise is to be transferred to a foreign-trade zone and shall bear an endorsement in the following form, to be placed thereon by the transferor, for execution by the foreign-trade zone operator:

Receipt of Foreign-Trade Zone Operator

§ 22.39 Rejected merchandise.

(a) The procedure prescribed in §§ 22.31 to 22.35, inclusive, shall be followed, so far as applicable. The importer or a person designated in writing by the importer for the purpose shall file with the collector, prior to the transfer of any merchandise to a foreign-trade zone, an entry in duplicate on customs Form 7539. The procedure shall be the same, so far as applicable, as that governing the transfer of merchandise to a foreign-trade zone from continuous custody (§ 22.38).

(b) Customs Form 7539 shall be modified to indicate that the merchandise is to be transferred to a foreign-trade zone and shall bear an endorsement, to be executed by the foreign-trade zone operator, of a receipt as provided for in § 22.38 (b). The "Exporter's Declaration" on Form 7539 shall be amended to read as follows:

Transferor's Declaration

I, _____, one of the firm of _____, declare that the merchandise described in the within entry was duly entered at the customhouse on arrival at this port; that the duties thereon have been paid as specified in this entry; and that it is to be transferred to Foreign-Trade Zone No. ____, located at _____

§ 22.40 To whom payable.

The person named in the foreign-trade zone operator's receipt on the notice of transfer or the drawback entry, as the case may be, shall be held to be the transferor. The drawback shall be paid to the transferor or to the person to whom the transferor shall direct in writing that such drawback be paid.

General Regulations Applicable to All Drawback Claims[17]

§ 22.41 Duties subject to drawback.

The duties subject to drawback include all ordinary customs duties, including import taxes assessed under sections 4521, 4531, 4541, 4551, 4561, 4571, and 4581, Internal Revenue Code; dumping duties assessed under the Antidumping Act, 1921; countervailing duties assessed under section 303, Tariff Act of 1930; and marking duties assessed under section 304 (c), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

§ 22.42 Merchandise sold to United States Government.

In connection with each drawback entry, except under section 313(c), Tariff Act of 1930, the claimant shall furnish a certificate showing whether or not the merchandise concerned was sold to any department, branch, or agency of the United States Government. If the merchandise was so sold, drawback shall be allowed only when claimed by the department, branch, or agency of the United States Government or when the entry is supported by a certificate signed by a proper officer of the department, branch, or agency concerned stating that the right to drawback was reserved by the supplier with the knowledge and consent of the said department, branch, or agency. A Government instrumentality operating with nonappropriated funds is not to be considered a Government agency within the meaning of this section.

§ 22.43 Verification of drawback claims by Customs Agency Service.

Collectors shall cause drawback documents to be referred to the Customs Agency Service for verification whenever such reference is believed to be required for orderly and efficient administration of the drawback law and regulations, and occasionally in any case. Such verification shall include an examination of not only the manufacturing records but also the sales and financial records relating to the transaction.

§ 22.44 Protests.

The decision of the collector of customs refusing to pay a drawback claim is final and conclusive upon all persons unless the person filing the drawback claim or his agent, within 60 days after but not before such decision, shall file a protest in writing with the collector in the manner required in the case of protests against the liquidation of import entries.

(Sec. 514, 46 Stat. 734; 19 U.S.C. 1514)

§ 22.45 Signing of documents; powers of attorney.

Powers of attorney, in accordance with § 8.19, of this chapter, shall be required

[17] "Whoever knowingly and willfully files any false or fraudulent entry or claim for the payment of drawback, allowance, or refund of duties upon the exportation of merchandise, or knowingly or willfully makes or files any false affidavit, abstract, record, certificate, or other document, with a view to securing the payment to himself or others of any drawback, allowance, or refund of duties, on the exportation of merchandise greater than that legally due thereon, shall be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than two years, or both, and such merchandise or the value thereof shall be forfeited." (Pub. Law 772, 80th Cong.; 62 Stat. 683)

AUTHORITY: §§ 23.1 to 23.35 issued under R. S. 161, 251, sec. 624, 46 Stat. 759; 5 U. S. C. 22, 19 U. S. C. 66, 1624. Statutory provisions interpreted or applied and special rule making authority are cited to text in parentheses.

§ 23.1 Boarding of vessels or vehicles and inspection, examination, and search of persons, baggage, and merchandise discharged from vessels.

(a) For the purpose of examining the manifest or inspecting and searching the vessel or vehicle, any customs officer [1] at any time may go on board of:

(1) Any vessel at any place in the United States [2] or within the customs waters of the United States;

[1] "The term 'officer of the customs' means any officer of the Customs Service or any commissioned, warrant, or petty officer of the Coast Guard, or agent or other person authorized by law or by the Secretary of the Treasury, or appointed in writing by a collector, to perform the duties of an officer of the Customs Service." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 401 (1), as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1401 (1))

"The keepers of Coast Guard stations and houses of refuge shall have the powers of inspectors of customs, but shall receive no additional compensation for duties performed as such: * * *" (14 U. S. C. 104)

[2] "Any of the officers or persons authorized to board or search vessels may stop, search, and examine, as well without as within their respective districts, any vehicle, beast, or person, on which or whom he or they shall suspect there is merchandise which is subject to duty, or shall have been introduced into the United States in any manner contrary to law, whether by the person in possession or charge, or by, in, or upon such vehicle or beast, or otherwise, and to search any trunk or envelope, wherever found, in which he may have a reasonable cause to suspect there is merchandise which was imported contrary to law; and if any such officer or other person so authorized shall find any merchandise on or about any such vehicle, beast, or person, or in any such trunk or envelope, which he shall have reasonable cause to believe is subject to duty, or to have been unlawfully introduced into the United States, whether by the person in possession or charge, or by, in, or upon such vehicle, beast, or otherwise, he shall seize and secure the same for trial." (19 U. S. C. 482)

"The collector for the district in which any vessel or vehicle arrives from a foreign port

(2) Any American vessel on the high seas, when there is probable cause to believe that such vessel is violating or has violated the laws of the United States; or

(3) Any vessel within a customs-enforcement area,[3] but customs officers shall not board a foreign vessel upon the high seas in contravention of any treaty with a foreign government, or in the absence of a special arrangement with the foreign government concerned.

(b) Customs officers may search vessels for letters which may be on board or may have been conveyed contrary to law on board any vessel or on any post route, and shall seize such letters and deliver them to the nearest post office or detain them subject to orders of the postal authorities.

(c) If the collector believes that sufficient grounds exist to justify a search of any Army or Navy transport, the facts shall be reported to the commanding officer or master of such transport with a request that he cause a full search to be made and advise the collector of the result of such search. If, after the cargo has been discharged, passengers and their baggage landed, and the baggage of officers and crew members examined and passed, the collector believes that sufficient grounds exist to justify the continuance of customs supervision of the vessel, the commanding officer of the vessel shall be advised accordingly.

(d) A customs officer may stop any vehicle arriving in the United States from a foreign country for the purpose of examining the manifest or inspecting and searching the vehicle and may stop, search, and examine any vehicle or person within the limits of the United States on which or on whom he may have reasonable cause to believe there is merchandise subject to duty or which has been introduced into the United States contrary to law.

(e) Collectors of customs are hereby authorized to cause inspection, examination, and search to be made under section 467, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended [4] of persons, baggage, or merchandise discharged from vessels or vehicles in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(f) Customs officers may stop, search, and examine, as well without as within their districts, any vehicle, beast, or person, on which or whom they shall suspect there is merchandise which is subject to duty, or which has been introduced into the United States in any manner contrary to law, whether by the person in possession or charge, or by, in, or upon such vehicle or beast, or otherwise, and to search any trunk or envelope, wherever found, in which they may have a reasonable cause to suspect there is merchandise which was imported contrary to law; and if any such officer finds any merchandise on or about any such vehicle, beast, or person, or in any such trunk or envelope, which he has reasonable cause to believe is subject to duty, or to have been unlawfully introduced into the United States, whether by the person in possession or charge, or by, in, or upon such vehicle, beast, or otherwise, he shall seize and secure the same for trial.

(g) Customs officers may board any vessel at any time for the purpose of preventing, by search or otherwise, the unlawful introduction into the United States of any merchandise, and may arrest any person who shall become liable to arrest, by virtue of any law respecting the revenue, as well without as within their respective districts, and may use all necessary force to seize or arrest the same.

(h) Customs officers may board any vessel at any time for the purpose of preventing, by search or otherwise, the unlawful introduction into the United States of any merchandise which is being, or has been, unlawfully introduced into the United States by means of any boat belonging to, or owned, controlled, or managed in common with, said vessel, and may arrest any person who shall become liable to arrest, by virtue of any law respecting the revenue, as well without as within their respective districts, and may use all necessary force to seize or arrest the same.

(i) Any vessel, within or without the customs waters, from which any merchandise is being, or has been, unlawfully introduced into the United States by means of any boat belonging to, or owned, controlled, or managed in common with, said vessel, shall be deemed to be employed within the United States and, as such, subject to the provisions of this section.

(j) The provisions of this section shall not be construed to authorize or require any officer of the United States to enforce any law of the United States upon the high seas upon a foreign vessel in contravention of any treaty with a foreign government enabling or permitting the authorities of the United States to board, examine, search, seize, or otherwise to enforce upon said vessel upon the high seas the laws of the United States except as such authorities are or may otherwise be enabled or permitted under special arrangement with such foreign government." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 581, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1581)

"Section 1. Transfer of Functions of Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation.

"As provided in Sections 2 and 3 of this order, there are transferred to the Bureau of Customs and the United States Coast Guard all functions of: the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation, the office of the director thereof, the offices of supervising inspectors, principal traveling inspectors, traveling inspectors, local inspectors, assistant inspectors, shipping commissioners, deputy shipping commissioners, and the Board of Supervising Inspectors, the Boards of Local Inspectors, the Marine Casualty Investigation Board, the Marine Boards, and those functions of the Secretary of Commerce which pertain thereto.

"Section 2. Functions Transferred to Bureau of Customs.

"Those functions of the Bureau, Offices and Boards specified in Section 1, and of the Secretary of Commerce, pertaining to registry, enrollment, and licensing of vessels, including the issuance of commissions to yachts, the assignment of signal letters, and the preparation of all reports and publications in connection therewith; measurement of vessels, administration of tonnage duties, and collection of tolls; entrance and clearance of vessels and aircraft, regulation of vessels in the coasting and fishing trades, and limitation of the use of foreign vessels in waters under the jurisdiction of the United States; recording of sales, conveyances, and mortgages of vessels; protection of steerage passengers; all other functions of such Bureau, Offices and Boards which are now performed by the Bureau of Customs on behalf thereof; and the power to remit and mitigate fines, penalties and forfeitures incurred under the laws governing these functions, are transferred to the Commissioner of Customs, to be exercised by him under the direction and supervision of the Secretary of the Treasury." (Sec. 102, Reorg. Plan No. 3 of 1946; 3 CFR, 1946 Supp., Ch. IV)

or place may put on board of such vessel or vehicle while within such district, and if necessary while going from one district to another, one or more inspectors or other customs officers to examine the cargo and contents of such vessel or vehicle and superintend the unlading thereof, and to perform such other duties as may be required by law or the customs regulations for the protection of the revenue. Such inspector or other customs officer may, if he shall deem the same necessary for the protection of the revenue, secure the hatches or other communications or outlets of such vessel or vehicle with customs seals or other proper fastenings while such vessel is not in the act of unlading and such fastenings shall not be removed without permission of the inspector or other customs officer. Such inspector or other customs officer may require any vessel or vehicle to discontinue or suspend unlading during the continuance of unfavorable weather or any conditions rendering the discharge of cargo dangerous or detrimental to the revenue. Any officer, owner, agent of the owner, or member of the crew of any such vessel who obstructs or hinders any such inspector or other customs officer in the performance of his duties, shall be liable to a penalty of not more than $500." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 455; 19 U. S. C. 1455)

"Any master of any vessel and any person in charge of any vehicle bound to the United States who does not produce the manifest to the officer demanding the same shall be liable to a penalty of $500, and if any merchandise, including sea stores, is found on board of or after having been unladen from such vessel or vehicle which is not included or described in said manifest or does not agree therewith, the master of such vessel or the person in charge of such vehicle or the owner of such vessel or vehicles shall be liable to a penalty equal to the value of the merchandise so found or unladen, and any such merchandise belonging or consigned to the master or other officer or to any of the crew of such vessel, or to the owner or person in charge of such vehicle, shall be subject to forfeiture, and if any merchandise described in such manifest is not found on board the vessel or vehicle the master or other person in charge or the owner of such vessel or vehicle shall be subject to a penalty of $500; Provided, That if the collector shall be satisfied that the manifest was lost or mislaid without intentional fraud, or was defaced by accident, or is incorrect by reason of clerical error or other mistake and that no part of the merchandise not found on board was unshipped or discharged except as specified in the report of the master, said penalties shall not be incurred. * * *" (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 584; 19 U. S. C. 1584)

[3] "(a) Any officer of the customs may at any time go on board of any vessel or vehicle at any place in the United States or within the customs waters or, as he may be authorized, within a customs-enforcement area established under the Anti-Smuggling Act, or at any other authorized place, without as well as within his district, and examine the manifest and other documents and papers and examine, inspect, and search the vessel or vehicle and every part thereof and any person, trunk, package or cargo on board, and to this end may hail and stop such vessel or vehicle, and use all necessary force to compel compliance.

"(b) Officers of the Department of Commerce and other persons authorized by such department may go on board of any vessel at any place in the United States or within the customs waters and hail, stop, and board such vessel in the enforcement of the navigation laws and arrest or, in case of escape or attempted escape, pursue and arrest any person engaged in the breach or violation of the navigation laws.

"(c) Any master of a vessel being examined as herein provided, who presents any forged, altered, or false document or paper to the examining officer, knowing the same to be forged, altered, or false and without revealing the fact shall, in addition to any forfeiture to which in consequence the vessel may be subject, be liable to a fine of not more than $5,000 nor less than $500.

"(d) Any vessel or vehicle which, at any authorized place, is directed to come to a stop by any officer of the customs, or is directed to come to a stop by signal made by any vessel employed in the service of the customs and displaying proper insignia, shall come to a stop, and upon failure to comply a vessel or vehicle so directed to come to a stop shall become subject to pursuit and the master, owner, operator, or person in charge thereof shall be liable to a penalty of not more than $5,000 nor less than $1,000."

"(e) If upon the examination of any vessel or vehicle it shall appear that a breach of the laws of the United States is being or has been committed so as to render such vessel or vehicle or the merchandise, or any part thereof, on board of, or brought into the United States by, such vessel or vehicle, liable to forfeiture or to secure any fine or penalty, the same shall be seized and any person who has engaged in such breach shall be arrested.

"(f) It shall be the duty of the several officers of the customs to seize and secure any vessel, vehicle, or merchandise which chandise, even though such persons, baggage, or merchandise were inspected, examined, searched, or taken on board the vessel at another port in the United States or the Virgin Islands, if such action is deemed necessary or appropriate.

(Sec. 1, 62 Stat. 717, R. S. 3061, as amended, sec. 11, 52 Stat. 1083, secs. 1, 3–8, 49 Stat. 517, 518, 519, as amended, 520; 18 U. S. C. 546, 19 U.S.C. 482, 1467, 1701, 1703–1708)

§ 23.2 Licensing of vessels of less than 30 net tons.

(a) The application for a license to import merchandise in a vessel of less than 30 net tons in accordance with section 6, Anti-Smuggling Act of August 5, 1935,[8] shall be addressed to the Secretary of the Treasury and delivered to the collector of customs in the district in which are located the ports where foreign merchandise is to be imported in such vessel.

(b) The application shall contain the following information:

(1) Name of the vessel, rig, motive power, and home port.
(2) Name and address of the owner.
(3) Name and address of the master.
(4) Net tonnage of the vessel.
(5) Kind of merchandise to be imported.
(6) Country or countries of exportation.
(7) Ports of the United States where the merchandise will be imported.
(8) Whether the vessel will be used to transport and import merchandise from a hovering vessel.
(9) Kind of document under which the vessel is operating.

(c) If the collector finds that the applicant is a reputable person and that the revenue would not be jeopardized by the issuance of a license, he may issue the license for a period not to exceed 12 months, incorporating therein any special conditions he believes to be necessary or desirable, and deliver it to the licensee.

(d) The master or owner shall keep the license on board the vessel at all times and exhibit it upon demand of any duly authorized officer of the United States. This license is personal to the licensee and is not transferable.

(e) The Secretary of the Treasury or the collector of customs in whose office the license was issued may revoke the license if any of its terms have been wilfully or intentionally violated or for any other cause which may be considered prejudicial to the revenue or otherwise against the interest of the United States.

(Sec. 6, 49 Stat. 519; 19 U.S.C. 1706)

§ 23.3 Seizure of vessels, vehicles, aircraft, and other conveyances; penalties.

(a) If it shall appear to any officer authorized to board conveyances and make seizures that there has been a violation of a law of the United States whereby a vessel, vehicle, aircraft, or other conveyance, or any merchandise on board of or imported by such vessel, vehicle, aircraft, or other conveyance is liable to forfeiture, such officer shall seize the vessel, vehicle, aircraft, or other conveyance, or merchandise and arrest any person engaged in such violation.

(b) Every vessel, vehicle, animal, aircraft, or other thing which is being or has been used in, or to aid or facilitate, the importation, bringing in, unlading, landing, removal, concealing, harboring, or subsequent transportation of any article which is being, or has been, introduced or attempted to be introduced into the United States contrary to law shall be seized and held subject to forfeiture,[9] and any person who directs, assists financially or otherwise, or is in any way concerned in any such unlawful activity shall be liable to a penalty equal to the value of the article or articles involved.

(c) Unless specifically authorized by law, clearance of vessels within the common carrier exception of section 594, Tariff Act of 1930,[7] shall not be refused for the purpose of collecting a fine imposed upon the master or owner, unless either of them was a party to the illegal act. The Government's remedy in such cases is limited to an action against the master or owner.

(d) If a penalty is incurred under section 460, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, by a person in charge of a vessel or vehicle and the vessel or vehicle is not subject to seizure, such vessel or vehicle may be held by the collector of customs under section 594, Tariff Act of 1930, until the penalty incurred by the person in charge has been settled.[6]

(Sec. 1, 62 Stat. 717, secs. 459, 460, 46 Stat. 717, as amended; secs. 1, 3–8, 49 Stat. 517, 518, 519, as amended, 520; 18 U. S. C. 546, 19 U.S.C. 1459, 1460, 1701, 1703–1708)

Treasury may prescribe and for the purpose of assuring compliance with any law, regulation, or instruction which the Secretary of the Treasury or the Customs Service is authorized to enforce, cause inspection, examination, and search to be made of the persons, baggage, and merchandise discharged or unladen from such vessel, whether or not any or all such persons, baggage, or merchandise has previously been inspected, examined, or searched by officers of the customs." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 467, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1467)

[8] "Except into the districts adjoining to the Dominion of Canada, or into the districts adjacent to Mexico, no merchandise of foreign growth or manufacture subject to the payment of duties shall be brought into the United States from any foreign port or place, or from any hovering vessel, in any vessel of less than thirty net tons burden without special license granted by the Secretary of the Treasury under such conditions as he may prescribe, nor in any other manner than by sea, except by aircraft duly licensed in accordance with law, or landed or unladen at any other port than is directed by law, under the penalty of seizure and forfeiture of all such unlicensed vessels or aircraft and of the merchandise imported therein, landed or unladen in any manner. Marks, labels, brands, or stamp, indicative of foreign origin, upon or accompanying merchandise or containers of merchandise found upon any such vessel or aircraft, shall be prima facie evidence of the foreign origin of such merchandise." (19 U. S. C. 1706)

[9] "(a) Except as specified in the proviso to section 594 of this act, every vessel, vehicle, animal, aircraft, or other thing used in, to aid in, or to facilitate, by obtaining information or in any other way, the importation, bringing in, unlading, landing, removal, concealing, harboring, or subsequent transportation of any article which is being or has been introduced, or attempted to be introduced, into the United States contrary to law, whether upon such vessel, vehicle, animal, aircraft, or other thing or otherwise, shall be seized and forfeited together with its tackle, apparel, furniture, harness, or equipment.

"(b) Every person who directs, assists financially or otherwise, or is in any way concerned in any unlawful activity mentioned in the preceding subsection shall be liable to a penalty equal to the value of the article or articles introduced or attempted to be introduced." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 596, as amended, 19 U. S. C. 1595a)

"All property taken or detained under any revenue law of the United States shall not be repleviable, but shall be deemed to be in the custody of the law and subject only to the orders and decrees of the courts of the United States having jurisdiction thereof." (28 U. S. C. 2463)

It is not necessary that proceedings shall have been instituted against the master or owner personally before proceedings are instituted by libel against the vessel or vehicle.

It is immaterial whether the owner or driver of a domestic vehicle used wholly within the United States in the transportation of smuggled merchandise had or had not knowledge of its illegal use. If, however, the smuggled merchandise or the vehicle or property illegally used has been stolen, the rightful owner may interpose that fact as a defense to forfeiture.

[7] "Whenever a vessel or vehicle, or the owner or master, conductor, driver, or other person in charge thereof, has become subject to a penalty for violation of the customs revenue laws of the United States, such vessel or vehicle shall be held for the payment of such penalty and may be seized and proceeded against summarily by libel to recover the same: Provided, That no vessel or vehicle used by any person as a common carrier in the transaction of business as such common carrier shall be so held or subject to seizure or forfeiture under the customs laws, unless it shall appear that the owner or master of such vessel or the conductor, driver, or other person in charge of such vehicle was at the time of the alleged illegal act a consenting party or privy thereto." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 594; 19 U. S. C. 1594)

The immunity from seizure of vessels used as common carriers does not extend to fines imposed for the carriage of smoking opium.

[6] "The master of any vessel of less than five net tons carrying merchandise and the person in charge of any vehicle arriving in the United States from contiguous country, shall immediately report his arrival to the customs officer at the port of entry or customhouse which shall be nearest to the place at which such vessel or vehicle shall cross the boundary line or shall enter the territorial waters of the United States, and if such vessel or vehicle have on board any merchandise, shall produce to such customs officer a manifest as required by law, and no such vessel or vehicle shall proceed farther inland nor shall discharge or land any merchandise, passengers, or baggage without receiving a permit therefor from such customs officer. Any person importing or bringing merchandise into the United States from a contiguous country otherwise than in a vessel or vehicle shall immediately report his arrival to the customs officer at the port of entry or customhouse which shall be nearest to the place at which he shall cross the boundary line and shall present such merchandise to such customs officer for inspection." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 459, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1459)

"The master of any vessel or the person in charge of any vehicle who fails to report arrival in the United States as required by the § 23.4 Articles landed by seamen.

(a) Except as provided for in paragraph (c) of this section, any article which is to be taken ashore by a seaman or officer of a vessel shall be declared and any article landed without having been properly declared as provided for hereinafter in this section shall be considered as having been unladen without a permit, subjecting the offender and the master to the penalties provided for in section 453, Tariff Act of 1930.[5] When practicable, the clearance of articles through customs shall be made and permission to unlade obtained before they are taken from the vessel but, if at any port or landing place the situation is such that no danger to the revenue will result therefrom, they may be submitted for examination and clearance at the customs office on the pier under a Declaration and Entry of Crew Member for Imported Articles, customs Form 5123, prepared by the crew member in accordance with § 10.22 (a) of this chapter. In the latter case, however, if the circumstances under which the articles are landed indicate an attempt to avoid customs inspection, the penalties prescribed in such section 453 shall be assessed.

(b) Articles taken ashore by an officer or seaman permanently leaving his vessel without intention to reship shall be cleared through customs on the vessel or at the customs office on the pier and any duty found due shall be collected as in the case of an arriving passenger. (See § 10.22 of this chapter.) If the declaration does not include all the articles landed, the officer or seaman shall be subject to the penalties prescribed in section 497, Tariff Act of 1930, with respect to the articles omitted. If a declaration is not made, the articles shall be considered as having been unladen without a permit and the penalties prescribed in section 453, Tariff Act of 1930, shall be assessed. Except as provided for in the last sentence of paragraph (a) of this section, section 453 shall not be applied if any, though not all, of the articles are declared.

(c) Articles in the possession of and exclusively for use by any officer or seaman during the voyage, such as necessary clothing, toiletries, and purely personal effects, may be brought ashore by such officer or seaman on temporary shore leave for use while in port without a written entry or declaration and without payment of duty or internal-revenue tax, provided the collector is satisfied that the articles so landed are necessary and appropriate for the officer's or seaman's accommodation while on temporary shore leave; that they will be devoted solely to his bona fide personal use; that the quantities are reasonable, depending upon the circumstances of each particular case; and that in the case of tobacco products and alcoholic beverages, the containers shall have been opened and the total quantity brought ashore while the vessel is in port shall not exceed 50 cigars, 300 cigarettes, or 3 pounds of smoking tobacco, or a proportionate amount of each, and 1 quart of alcoholic beverages. In the case of articles possessing substantial commercial value, such as cameras, watches, razors, and other articles not consumed through use, the customs officer concerned, before passing the article free of duty, shall assure himself beyond doubt that the article brought ashore is for the actual bona fide personal use of the seaman while on shore leave and is to be returned to the vessel.[10]

§ 23.5 Baggage of passengers from foreign countries.

(a) Except as provided for in paragraph (b) of this section any article in the baggage of a passenger arriving from a foreign country which is not declared as required by § 10.19 of this chapter shall be seized if it is available for seizure at the time the violation is detected and the personal penalty prescribed by section 497, Tariff Act of 1930,[11] shall be demanded from the passenger. If the article is not seized, the Government is limited to a claim for the personal penalty against the person who imported the merchandise without declaration, since section 497 does not provide for the collection of value in lieu of seizure. Since undeclared articles are treated as smuggled, no duty shall be collected.

(b) When an article not declared in accordance with § 10.19 of this chapter is found in the baggage of a person arriving in the United States and it is satisfactorily established that (1) the article would have been free of duty and internal-revenue tax if it had been properly declared, (2) that its importation is not prohibited or restricted, and (3) that the failure to declare was not due to wilful negligence or fraudulent intent, the personal penalty incurred is hereby remitted pursuant to the authority of section 618, Tariff Act of 1930. In any such case, when the article would have been free of duty only because of the provisions of paragraph 1798 or section 321 (a)(2)(B), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, the forfeiture incurred is hereby mitigated pursuant to the authority of the said section 618 to a sum equal to the duty and any internal-revenue tax which would have accrued upon the article had it been imported for commercial purposes, and when the article would otherwise have been free of duty and internal-revenue tax, the forfeiture incurred is hereby remitted pursuant to the same authority.

(c) A passenger who makes any false or fraudulent statement or is guilty of other conduct within the purview of section 592, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, whereby a customs officer is or may be induced to pass an article free of duty under paragraph 1798 or section 321 (a)(2)(B) of the said act, as amended, or at less than the proper amount of duty, or who attempts to enter under the said paragraph 1798 or section 321(a)(2)(B) any article which in fact does not belong to him and a returning resident who, in connection with his return to the United States, claims the benefit of the $200 or $300 exemption provided for in said paragraph 1798 within the respective period during which taking advantage of the claimed exemption is prohibited, shall be deemed to have violated the said section 592. In any such case the article involved shall be seized, if it is available for seizure at the time the violation is detected and such seizure is otherwise practicable, unless the article is in the possession of an innocent holder for value who has full right to possession as against any party to the customs violation. If the article is not available for seizure or is in the hands of such an innocent holder, or if seizure is impracticable, the domestic value of the article, determined in accordance with section 606, Tariff Act of 1930, shall be demanded from the passenger. Whether the article is seized or the domestic value thereof is demanded in lieu of seizure, preceding section, or if so reporting proceeds farther inland without a permit from the proper customs officer, shall be subject to a penalty of $100 for each offense. If any merchandise is imported or brought into the United States in any vessel or vehicle, or by any person otherwise than in a vessel or vehicle, from a contiguous country, which vessel, vehicle, or merchandise is not so reported to the proper customs officers; or if the master of such vessel or the person in charge of such vehicle fails to file a manifest for the merchandise carried therein, or discharges or lands such merchandise without a permit; such merchandise and the vessel or vehicle, if any, in which it was imported or brought into the United States shall be subject to forfeiture; and the master of such vessel or the person in charge of such vehicle, or the person importing or bringing in merchandise otherwise than in a vessel or vehicle, shall, in addition to any other penalty, be liable to a penalty equal to the value of the merchandise which was not reported, or not included in the manifest, or which was discharged or landed without a permit. If any vessel or vehicle not so reported carries any passenger; or if any passenger is discharged or landed from any such vessel or vehicle before it is so reported, or after such report but without a permit; the master of the vessel or the person in charge of the vehicle shall, in addition to any other penalty, be liable to a penalty of $500 for each passenger so carried, discharged, or landed." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 460, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1460)

[5] "If any merchandise or baggage is laden on, or unladen from, any vessel or vehicle without a special license or permit therefor issued by the collector, the master of such vessel or the person in charge of such vehicle and every other person who knowingly is concerned, or who aids therein, or in removing or otherwise securing such merchandise or baggage, shall each be liable to a penalty equal to the value of the merchandise or baggage so laden or unladen, and such merchandise or baggage shall be subject to forfeiture, and if the value thereof is $500 or more, the vessel or vehicle on or from which the same shall be laden or unladen shall be subject to forfeiture." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 453; 19 U. S. C. 1453)

[10] The fact that any such article shows no evidence of use would be sufficient in most cases to raise a reasonable doubt, particularly if the article is of foreign origin.

[11] "Any article not included in the declaration and entry as made, and, before examination of the baggage was begun, not mentioned in writing by such person, if written declaration and entry was required, or orally if written declaration and entry was not required, shall be subject to forfeiture and such person shall be liable to a penalty equal to the value of such article." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 497; 19 U. S. C. 1497) the duty estimated to be due thereon shall be demanded of the passenger as soon as possible after the discovery of the violation. Any applicable internal-revenue tax shall also be demanded unless the merchandise is to be, or has been, forfeited.

§ 23.6 Entry by false invoice, declaration, other document, or statement; forfeiture incurred; liability for duties unaffected.

(a) When merchandise or the value thereof is subject to forfeiture under section 592, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[11] the collector may elect to proceed against the merchandise or its domestic value. If the merchandise is in the possession of an innocent purchaser, it shall not be seized. In such cases, or when the merchandise is not available for seizure, the collector shall proceed to recover the domestic value.

(b) If a claim for forfeiture value is made by the collector and is not paid or settled as prescribed in this part, the claim shall be forwarded to the United States attorney for appropriate action.

(c) When any article is seized under the provisions of section 499, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[12] it shall be subject to forfeiture under section 592 of the tariff act, as amended.

(d) An entry covering merchandise subject to the provisions of such section 592 shall be liquidated and the duties collected as though no forfeiture had been incurred. Appraisement of the merchandise or liquidation of the entry shall not be withheld merely because of the pending forfeiture proceedings. When merchandise not covered by an entry is subject to such section 592, a demand shall be made on the importer for payment of the duty estimated to be due on such merchandise in addition to the seizure of the merchandise or the demand for forfeiture value. Any applicable internal-revenue tax shall also be demanded unless the merchandise is to be, or has been, forfeited.

(Sec. 592, 46 Stat. 750, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1592)

§ 23.8 Merchandise imported contrary to law.

Action shall be taken under section 545, title 18, United States Code,[13] only when there is clear indication of a violation of some specific provision of law.[14]

(Sec. 1, 62 Stat. 716; 18 U. S. C. 545)

§ 23.9 Narcotic drugs and marihuana.

(a) The penalties prescribed in section 584, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[15] shall be assessed with respect to any unmanifested narcotic drug found on board of, or after having been unladen from, a vessel or vehicle. This rule is without exception and shall be applied without regard to any opinion of a customs officer as to any question of negligence or responsibility.

(b) When a package of regular cargo or a passenger's baggage otherwise properly manifested is found to contain any narcotic drug or marihuana imported for sale or other commercial purpose and not shown as such on the manifest, the penalties prescribed in such section 584 shall be assessed with respect to such narcotic drug or marihuana.

(c) The penalties prescribed in section 453, Tariff Act of 1930, shall be assessed in every case where a narcotic drug or marihuana is unladen without a permit.

(d) When a package of regular cargo or a passenger's baggage otherwise covered by a permit to unlade is found to contain any narcotic drug or marihuana imported for sale or other commercial purpose and not specifically covered by a permit to unlade, the penalties prescribed by such section 453 shall be assessed with respect to such narcotic drug or marihuana.

(e) Where a penalty has been incurred under section 584, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, for failure to manifest

[11] "If any consignor, seller, owner, importer, consignee, agent, or other person or persons enters or introduces or attempts to enter or introduce, into the commerce of the United States any imported merchandise by means of any fraudulent or false invoice, declaration, affidavit, letter, paper, or by means of any false statement, written or verbal, or by means of any false or fraudulent practice or appliance whatsoever, or makes any false statement in any declaration under the provisions of section 485 of this Act (relating to declaration on entry) without reasonable cause to believe the truth of such statement, or aids or procures the making of any such false statement as to any matter material thereto without reasonable cause to believe the truth of such statement, whether or not the United States shall or may be deprived of the lawful duties, or any portion thereof, accruing upon the merchandise, or any portion thereof, embraced or referred to in such invoice, declaration, affidavit, letter, paper, or statement; or is guilty of any willful act or omission by means whereof the United States is or may be deprived of the lawful duties or any portion thereof accruing upon the merchandise or any portion thereof, embraced or referred to in such invoice, declaration, affidavit, letter, paper, or statement, or affected by such act or omission, such merchandise or the value thereof, to be recovered from such person or persons, shall be subject to forfeiture, which forfeiture shall only apply to the whole of the merchandise or the value thereof in the case or package containing the particular article or articles of merchandise to which such fraud or false paper or statement relates. The arrival within the territorial limits of the United States of any merchandise consigned for sale and remaining the property of the shipper or consignor and the acceptance of a false or fraudulent invoice thereof by the consignee or the agent of the consignor, or the existence of any other facts constituting an attempted fraud, shall be deemed, for the purposes of this section, to be an attempt to enter such merchandise notwithstanding no actual entry has been made or offered." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 592, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1592)

Acts or omissions which constitute grounds for forfeiture under section 592 may also justify criminal prosecution under 18 U. S. C. 542, in addition to the forfeiture incurred under section 592.

[12] "* * * If any package is found by the appraiser to contain any article not specified in the invoice and he reports to the collector that in his opinion such article was omitted from the invoice with fraudulent intent on the part of the seller, shipper, owner, or agent, the contents of the entire package in which such article is found shall be liable to seizure, but if the appraiser reports that no such fraudulent intent is apparent then the value of said article shall be added to the entry and the duties thereon paid accordingly. * * *" (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 499, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1499)

[13] "Whoever knowingly and willfully, with intent to defraud the United States, smuggles, or clandestinely introduces into the United States any merchandise which should have been invoiced, or makes out or passes, or attempts to pass, through the customhouse any false, forged, or fraudulent invoice, or other document or paper; or

"Whoever fraudulently or knowingly imports or brings into the United States, any merchandise contrary to law, or receives, conceals, buys, sells, or in any manner facilitates the transportation, concealment, or sale of such merchandise after importation, knowing the same to have been imported or brought into the United States contrary to law—

"Shall be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than two years, or both.

"Proof of defendant's possession of such goods, unless explained to the satisfaction of the jury, shall be deemed evidence sufficient to authorize conviction for violation of this section.

"Merchandise introduced into the United States in violation of this section, or the value thereof, to be recovered from any person described in the first or second paragraph of this section, shall be forfeited to the United States."

"The term 'United States', as used in this section, shall not include the Philippine Islands, Virgin Islands, American Samoa, Wake Island, Midway Islands, Kingman Reef, Johnston Island, or Guam." (18 U. S. C. 545)

[14] It is not necessary that the Government shall have been deprived of duty to warrant a conviction of forfeiture under 18 U. S. C. 545; it need only be established that merchandise has been fraudulently or knowingly introduced into the United States contrary to law.

"Contrary to law" is not confined to the customs laws but means any law. See Callahan v. United States, 285 U. S. 515.

[15] "* * * If any of such merchandise so found consists of heroin, morphine, or cocaine, the master of such vessel or person in charge of such vehicle or the owner of such vessel or vehicle shall be liable to a penalty of $50 for each ounce thereof so found. If any of such merchandise so found consists of smoking opium or opium prepared for smoking, the master of such vessel or person in charge of such vehicle or the owner of such vessel or vehicle shall be liable to a penalty of $25 for each ounce thereof so found. If any of such merchandise so found consists of crude opium, the master of such vessel or person in charge of such vehicle or the owner of such vessel or vehicle shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each ounce thereof so found. Such penalties shall, notwithstanding the proviso in section 594 of this act (relating to the immunity of vessels or vehicles used as common carriers), constitute a lien upon such vessel which may be enforced by a libel in rem; except that the master or owner of a vessel used by any person as a common carrier in the transaction of business as such common carrier shall not be liable to such penalties and the vessel shall not be held subject to the lien if it appears to the satisfaction of the court that neither the master nor any of the officers (including licensed and unlicensed officers and petty officers) nor the owner of the vessel knew, and could not, by the exercise of the highest degree of care and diligence, have known, that such narcotic drugs were on board. Clearance of any such vessel may be withheld until such penalties are paid or until a bond, satisfactory to the collector, is given for the payment thereof. The provisions of this paragraph shall not prevent the forfeiture of any such vessel or vehicle under any other provision of law. * * *" (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 584, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1584)

narcotic drugs, clearance of the vessel involved shall be withheld until the penalty is paid or a bond satisfactory to the collector is given for the payment thereof, unless (1) the narcotics were discovered in a passenger's baggage and the collector is satisfied that neither the master nor any of the officers nor the owner of the vessel knew or had any reason to know or suspect that the narcotics had been on board the vessel, or (2) prior authority for the clearance without payment of the penalty or the furnishing of the bond is obtained from the Bureau.

(f) A written notice and demand for payment of the penalty incurred under section 584, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, together with a copy of such section 584, shall be sent to the master of the vessel or the person in charge of the vehicle and to the owner of such vessel or vehicle. In the case of a vessel, if bond has been given, such notice shall be sent also to each surety. If the penalty is not paid or a petition filed under section 618, Tariff Act of 1930, for relief from such penalty, the collector shall refer the case to the United States attorney for appropriate action.

(g) When a petition has been filed and a decision made thereon, the collector shall send notice of such decision to the interested persons together with a demand for any payment required under the terms of such decision. If payment is not made, the collector shall refer the case to the United States attorney for collection of the full statutory penalty.

(h) Collectors may permit narcotic drugs (not including any smoking opium or opium prepared for smoking) in reasonable quantity and properly listed as medical stores of a vessel to remain on such vessel if satisfied that such drugs are adequately safeguarded and intended to be used only for medical purposes.

(i) All smoking opium or opium prepared for smoking shall be seized whenever and wherever found and shall stand forfeited without forfeiture proceedings of any character.[16]

(j) Except as provided for in this paragraph, all narcotic drugs seized under the Narcotic Drugs Import and Export Act by any Federal officer other than a customs officer shall be delivered immediately into the custody of the collector of customs in whose district the seizure is made, together with a full report of the circumstances of the seizure. When the seizure is made by a Federal narcotic inspector or agent in connection with an investigation which such inspector or agent considers may result in criminal prosecution under any Federal narcotic law, the drugs so seized shall not be delivered into the custody of the collector of customs until it is determined that they will not, or will no longer, be required as evidence.

(k) The exportation of smoking opium and opium prepared for smoking is absolutely prohibited. Other narcotic drugs or marihuana may be exported only under a permit issued by the Commissioner of Narcotics.[17]

(l) Arrests and seizures under the narcotic laws, except as specified above, shall be handled in the same manner as other customs arrests and seizures.

(m) The functions relating to the notice and demand to produce order forms for marihuana under section 4744 of the Internal Revenue Code (26 U. S. C. 4744) may be performed by collectors of customs, supervising customs agents, and other officers of the customs.

(Sec. 584, 46 Stat. 748, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1584)

§ 23.9a Narcotic addicts and violators; border crossings.

Any United States citizen who is addicted to or uses narcotic drugs as defined in section 4731 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended (except in those cases where the narcotic drug is lawfully prescribed by a duly licensed physician in attendance upon such person) or who has been convicted of a violation of any of the narcotic or marihuana laws of the United States or of any State thereof, the penalty for which is imprisonment for more than one year, shall register his departure from the United States with the collector of customs at the port of departure on customs Form 3231, Registration Certificate of Narcotic User or Violator. The original shall be given to the registrant who, upon his return to the United States, shall register with the collector of customs at the port of arrival by signing before a customs officer and in the space provided for this purpose on the original and by surrendering the completed form to the customs officer. Any United States citizen subject to the registration requirements of the Narcotic Control Act of 1956[18a] who had departed from the United States prior to July 19, 1956, the effective date of said act, shall register his return to the United States with the collector of customs at the port of arrival on customs Form 3231. (Sec. 201, 70 Stat. 574; 18 U. S. C. 1407.)

(Sec. 1407, 70 Stat. 574; 18 U. S. C. 1407)

§ 23.10 Maritime Administration vessels; exemption from penalty.

(a) When a vessel owned or chartered under bareboat charter by the Maritime Administration and operated for its account becomes liable for the payment of a penalty incurred for violation of the customs revenue or navigation laws, clearance of the vessel shall not be withheld nor shall any proceedings be taken against the vessel itself looking to the enforcement of such liability.

(b) This exemption shall not in any way be considered to relieve the master of any such vessel or other person incurring such penalties from personal liability for payment.

[16] territory under its control or jurisdiction; except that such amounts of crude opium and coca leaves as the Commissioner of Narcotics finds to be necessary to provide for medical and legitimate uses only may be imported and brought into the United States or such territory under such regulations as the Commissioner of Narcotics shall prescribe, but no crude opium may be imported or brought in for the purpose of manufacturing heroin. All narcotic drugs imported under such regulations shall be subject to the duties which are now or may hereafter be imposed upon such drugs when imported.

"Any narcotic drug imported or brought into the United States or any territory under its control or jurisdiction, contrary to law, shall (1) if smoking opium or opium prepared for smoking, be seized and summarily forfeited to the United States Government without the necessity of instituting forfeiture proceedings of any character; or (2) if any other narcotic drug be seized and forfeited to the United States Government, without regard to its value, in the manner provided by sections 514 and 515 of Title 19, or the provisions of law hereafter enacted which are amendatory of, or in substitution for, such sections. Any narcotic drug which is forfeited in a proceeding for condemnation or not claimed under such sections, or which is summarily forfeited as provided in this subdivision, shall be placed in the custody of the Commissioner of Narcotics and in his discretion be destroyed or delivered to some agency of the United States Government for use for medical or scientific purposes." (21 U. S. C. 173)

[17] "It shall be unlawful for any person subject to the jurisdiction of the United States Government to export or cause to be exported from the United States, or from territory under its control or jurisdiction, or from countries in which the United States exercises extraterritorial jurisdiction, any narcotic drug to any other country. Narcotic drugs (except smoking opium * * *) may be exported to a country only which has * * * become a party of the convention * * * commonly known as the International Opium Convention of 1912, * * *." (21 U. S. C. 182 (a))

[18a] "(a) * * * no citizen of the United States who is addicted to or uses narcotic drugs, as defined in section 4731 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended (except a person using such narcotic drugs as a result of sickness or accident or injury and to whom such narcotic drug is being furnished, prescribed, or administered in good faith by a duly licensed physician in attendance upon such person, in the course of his professional practice) or who has been convicted of a violation of any of the narcotic or marihuana laws of the United States, or of any State thereof, the penalty for which is imprisonment for more than one year, shall depart from or enter into or attempt to depart from or enter into the United States, unless such person registers, under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury with a customs official, agent, or employee at a point of entry or a border customs station. Unless otherwise prohibited by law or Federal regulation such customs official, agent, or employee shall issue a certificate to any such person departing from the United States; and such person shall, upon returning to the United States, surrender such certificate to the customs official, agent, or employee present at the port of entry or border customs station.

"(b) Whoever violates any of the provisions of this section shall be punished for each such violation by a fine of not more than $1,000 or imprisonment for not less than one nor more than three years, or both." (18 U. S. C. 1407.)

§ 23.11 Seizures,[21] who may make; search warrants.

(a) Any customs officer having reasonable cause to believe that a violation has been committed of any law, the enforcement of which is within the jurisdiction of the Customs Service, by reason of which any property has become subject to forfeiture, shall seize such property if available. A receipt for seized property shall be given at the time of seizure to the person from whom the property is seized. A collector of customs may adopt a seizure made by a person[22] other than a customs officer if such collector has reasonable cause to believe that the property is subject to forfeiture under the customs laws.

(b) If the duly constituted officials of a State have seized any merchandise, vessel, or vehicle under the provisions of the statutes of such State, such property shall not be seized by customs officers unless it is voluntarily turned over to them to be proceeded against under the Federal statutes.

(c) A customs officer to whom a warrant is issued to search for and seize merchandise is without authority to remove letters and other documents and records, unless they themselves are instruments of crime and are seized as an incident to a lawful arrest.[23]

(d) When acting under a warrant to search the rooms in a building occupied by persons named or described in the warrant, no search shall be made of any rooms in such building which are not described in the warrant as occupied by such persons.

(e) The warrant shall be served in person by the officer to whom it is issued and addressed.

(f) In serving a search warrant, the officer shall leave a copy of the warrant with the person in charge or possession of the premises, together with a receipt for the property seized thereunder. In the absence of any person, the copy and receipt shall be left in some conspicuous place on the premises searched.

(g) A customs officer who is lawfully on any premises and is able to identify merchandise which has been imported contrary to law may seize such merchandise without a warrant.

(h) This section shall be applicable to the search of buildings on the international boundary line. (See § 5.15 of this chapter.)

§ 23.12 Appraisement of property subject to forfeiture; determination of penalties measured by value.

(a) Seized property shall be appraised as required by section 606, Tariff Act of 1930.[24]

(b) The term "domestic value," applied with respect to such section 606, shall be the price at which such or similar property is freely offered for sale at the time and place of appraisement, in the same quantity or quantities as seized, and in the ordinary course of trade. If there is no market for the seized property at the place of appraisement, such value in the principal market nearest to the place of appraisement shall be reported.

(c) Seized merchandise the importation of which is absolutely prohibited shall be appraised at its foreign-market value, since such merchandise has no domestic value.

(d) For the purpose of condemnation or forfeiture only,[25] the value of all seized merchandise the importation of which is prohibited shall be held not to exceed $2,500.

(e) With respect to property not under seizure, the value to be used as the basis of a claim for forfeiture value or for the assessment of a penalty is the domestic value, which shall be determined or estimated in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section, except that the value shall be fixed as of the date of the violation. In the case of entered merchandise, the date of the violation shall be the date of the entry or the date of the filing of the document or the commission of the act forming the basis of the claim, whichever is later.

§ 23.13 Claims for seized property valued at not over $2,500; bond for costs.

(a) The bond required by section 608, Tariff Act of 1930,[26] to be filed with a claim for any seized property valued at not over $2,500 and subject to summary forfeiture shall be on customs Form 4615 and there shall be endorsed thereon a list or schedule which shall in every case be signed by the claimant in the presence of the witnesses to the bond, and attested by the witnesses. The list or schedule shall be substantially as follows:

List or schedule containing a particular description of seized articles, claim for which is covered by the within bond, to-wit:

The foregoing list is correct.

----------, Claimant.

Attest:

(b) The giving of a bond covering seized property, pursuant to such section 608, shall not be construed to entitle the claimant to possession of the property, but only to stop the summary forfeiture proceedings. (See § 23.21 (c).)

(Sec. 608, 46 Stat. 755; 19 U. S. C. 1608)

§ 23.14 Release on payment of appraised value.

(a) When the appraised domestic value of property seized under the customs laws does not exceed $50,000 and the collector is satisfied that a claimant making a written offer to pay such value pursuant to section 614, Tariff Act of 1930,[27] has, in fact, a substantial interest therein, the collector is hereby authorized to accept such offer and to release such property, provided its entry into the commerce of the United States is not prohibited by law and the claimant or his attorney shall have executed an assent to forfeiture and a waiver of further proceedings on customs Form 4607. In any case where the collector is not satisfied that the proponent has a substantial interest in the seized property or for any other reason believes that it would not be to the interest of the United States to accept the offer, the procedure outlined in paragraph (b) of this section shall be followed.

(b) Any application not covered by paragraph (a) of this section shall be in writing, addressed to the Commissioner of Customs, signed by the claimant or his attorney, and shall contain an assent to forfeiture and a waiver of further proceedings. It shall be submitted in duplicate to the collector for the district in which the property was seized. Proof of ownership shall be submitted with the application if the facts in the case make such action necessary.

§ 23.16 Notice of seizure and sale; value not exceeding $2,500; advertisement.

(a) The notice required by section 607, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[27] of seizure and intention to forfeit and sell or otherwise dispose of according to law property not exceeding $2,500 in value shall (1) describe the property seized; (2) state the time, cause, and place of seizure; and (3) state that any person desiring to claim the property must appear at a designated place and file with the collector within 20 days from the date of the first publication of the notice a claim to such property and a bond in the sum of $250, in default of which the property will be disposed of in accordance with the law. When the appraised value of the property involved in one seizure from one person exceeds $250, the notice shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the customs collection district and the judicial district in which the property was seized. When the appraised value does not exceed $250, the notice shall be published by posting in a conspicuous place accessible to the public in the customhouse nearest the place of seizure and in the customhouse at the headquarters port for the customs collection district, with the date of posting noted thereon, and shall be kept posted for at least 3 successive weeks.

(b) Before seized drugs, insecticides, seeds, plants, nursery stock, and other articles required to be inspected by other Government agencies are sold, they shall be inspected by a representative of such agency to ascertain whether or not they meet the requirements of the law and the regulations of that agency, and, if found not to meet such requirements, they shall be destroyed forthwith.

§ 23.17 Disposition of goods after summary forfeiture; value not exceeding $2,500.

(a) When property has been forfeited pursuant to section 609, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[28] the declaration of forfeiture shall be noted on the report of seizure, customs Form 5955. If no petition for relief from the forfeiture is filed or if a petition was filed and has been denied, and the property is not retained for official use, it shall be disposed of in accordance with the regulations of the General Services Administration applicable to the Bureau of Customs.

(b) If the forfeited property is cleared for sale, it shall be sold in accordance with the applicable provisions of Part 20 of this chapter.

(c) The collector may postpone the sale of small seizures until he believes the proceeds of a consolidated sale will pay all expenses.

(d) If a seizure is made under a statute which provides that the property may be seized and proceeded against by libel,[29] the summary forfeiture proceedings set forth in this section and the proceedings set forth in §§ 23.13 and 23.16 do not apply. Such cases shall be referred to the United States attorney.

(Sec. 609, 46 Stat. 755, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1609)

§ 23.18 Summary sale of seized property.

Seized property of the kinds enumerated in section 612, Tariff Act of 1930,[30] which has not been delivered under bond and is valued at not over $2,500 shall be advertised for sale and sold at public auction at the earliest possible date. Within 24 hours after receipt of the appraiser's report the collector shall proceed to give notice by advertisement of the summary sale for such time as he considers reasonable. This notice shall be of sale only and not the notice of seizure and intention to forfeit and sell provided for in § 23.16. The proceeds of the sale shall be held subject to the claims of parties in interest in the same manner as the seized property would have been subject to such claims.

[21] To constitute a valid seizure there must be an open visible possession claimed and authority exercised by the seizing officer. The parties must understand that they are dispossessed and that they are no longer at liberty to exercise any control over the property. A superior physical force is not necessary to be employed if there is voluntary acquiescence in the seizure and dispossession. A seizure once made, if voluntarily abandoned by the seizing officer, loses its validity.

[22] A person other than a customs officer who makes a seizure does so on his own responsibility if the seizure is not adopted by a collector of customs.

[23] "It shall be the duty of any officer, agent, or other person authorized by law to make seizures of merchandise or baggage subject to seizure for violation of the customs laws, to report every such seizure immediately to the collector for the district in which such violation occurred, and to turn over and deliver to such collector any vessel, merchandise, or baggage seized by him, and to report immediately to such collector every violation of the customs laws." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 602; 19 U. S. C. 1602)

[24] "(a) Warrant. If any collector of customs or other officer or person authorized to make searches and seizures shall have cause to suspect the presence in any dwelling house, store, or other building or place of any merchandise upon which the duties have not been paid, or which has been otherwise brought into the United States contrary to law, he may make application, under oath, to any justice of the peace, to any municipal, county, State, or Federal judge, or to any United States commissioner, and shall thereupon be entitled to a warrant to enter such dwelling house in the daytime only, or such store or other place at night or by day, and to search for and seize such merchandise: * * *

"(b) Entry upon property of others. Any person authorized by this Act to make searches and seizures, or any person assisting him or acting under his directions, may, if deemed necessary by him or them, enter into or upon or pass through the lands, inclosures, and buildings, other than the dwelling house, of any person whomsoever, in the discharge of his official duties." (Tariff Act of 1930, section 595; 19 U. S. C. 1595)

"Whoever, being an officer, agent, or employee of the United States or any department or agency thereof, engaged in the enforcement of any law of the United States, searches any private dwelling used and occupied as such dwelling without a warrant directing such search, or maliciously and without reasonable cause searches any other building or property without a search warrant, shall be fined for a first offense not more than $1,000; and, for a subsequent offense, shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both.

"This section shall not apply to any person—

"(a) serving a warrant of arrest; or

"(b) arresting or attempting to arrest a person committing or attempting to commit an offense in his presence, or who has committed or is suspected on reasonable grounds of having committed a felony; or

"(c) making a search at the request or invitation or with the consent of the occupant of the premises." (18 U. S. C. 2236)

"Whoever falsely represents himself to be an officer, agent, or employee of the United States, and in such assumed character arrests or detains any person or in any manner searches the person, buildings, or other property of any person, shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than three years, or both." (18 U. S. C. 913)

[25] "The collector shall require the appraiser to determine the domestic value, at the time and place of appraisement, of any vessel, vehicle, merchandise, or baggage seized under the customs laws." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 606; 19 U. S. C. 1606)

The function of determining the domestic value of seized property under section 606, Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1606), in any case where the aggregate value of the seizure is not more than $500 has been transferred from the appraiser to the collector. (T.D. 54949)

[26] See sec. 607, as amended, and secs. 610 and 612, Tariff Act of 1930.

[27] "Any person claiming such vessel, vehicle, merchandise, or baggage may at any time within twenty days from the date of the first publication of the notice of seizure file with the collector a claim stating his interest therein. Upon the filing of such claim, and the giving of a bond to the United States in the penal sum of $250, with sureties to be approved by the collector, conditioned that in case of condemnation of the articles so claimed the obligor shall pay all the costs and expenses of the proceedings to obtain such condemnation, the collector shall transmit such claim and bond, with a duplicate list and description of the articles seized, to the United States attorney for the district in which seizure was made, who shall proceed to a condemnation of the merchandise or other property in the manner prescribed by law." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 608; 19 U. S. C. 1608)

The costs and expenses secured by the bond are such as are incurred after the filing of the bond, including storage costs, safeguarding, court fees, marshal's costs, etc.

[28] "If any person claiming an interest in any vessel, vehicle, merchandise, or baggage seized under the provisions of this Act offers to pay the value of such vessel, vehicle, merchandise, or baggage, as determined under section 606 of this Act, and it appears that such person has in fact a substantial interest therein, the collector may, subject to the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury if under the customs laws, or the Secretary of Commerce if under the navigation laws, accept such offer and release the vessel, vehicle, merchandise, or baggage seized upon the payment of such value thereof, which shall be distributed in the order provided in section 613 of this Act." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 614; 19 U. S. C. 1614)

[29] "If such value of such vessel, vehicle, merchandise, or baggage returned by the appraiser, does not exceed $2,500, the collector shall cause a notice of the seizure of such articles and the intention to forfeit and sell or otherwise dispose of the same according to law to be published for at least three successive weeks in such manner as the Secretary of the Treasury may direct. For the purposes of this section and sections 610 and 612 of this Act merchandise the importation of which is prohibited shall be held not to exceed $2,500 in value." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 607, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1607)

[30] "If no such claim is filed or bond given within the twenty days hereinbefore specified, the collector shall declare the vessel, vehicle, merchandise or baggage forfeited, and shall sell the same at public auction in the same manner as merchandise abandoned to the United States is sold, or otherwise dispose of the same according to law and shall deposit the proceeds of sale, after deducting the actual expenses of seizure, publication and sale in the Treasury of the United States." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 609, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1609).

[31] For example: The Insecticide Act, 7 U. S. C. 133; the Federal Caustic Poison Act, 15 U. S. C. 404; the Food and Drugs Act, 21 U. S. C. 14. See Part 12 of this chapter.

[32] "Whenever it appears to the collector that any vessel, vehicle, merchandise, or baggage seized under the customs laws is liable to perish or to waste or to be greatly reduced in value by keeping, or that the expense of keeping the same is disproportionate to the value thereof, and the value of such vessel, vehicle, merchandise, or baggage as determined by the appraiser under section 606 of this Act, does not exceed $2,500, and such vessel, vehicle, merchandise, or baggage has not been delivered under bond, the collector shall, within twenty-four hours after the receipt by him of the appraiser's return proceed forthwith to advertise and sell the same at auction under regulations to be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury. If such value of such vessel, vehicle, merchandise, or baggage exceeds $2,500 the collector shall forthwith transmit the appraiser's return and his report of the seizure to the United States district attorney, who shall petition the court to order an immediate sale of such vessel, vehicle, merchandise, or baggage, and if the ends of justice require it the court shall order such immediate sale, the proceeds thereof to be deposited with the court to await the final determination of the condemnation proceedings. Whether such sale be made by the collector or by order of the court, the proceeds thereof shall be held subject to claims of parties in interest to the same extent as the vessel, vehicle, merchandise, or baggage so sold would have been subject to such claim." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 612; 19 U. S. C. 1612)

§ 23.19 Transfer of forfeited property to other districts for sale; destruction of forfeited property.

(a) Pursuant to the provisions of section 611, Tariff Act of 1930,[31] if the laws of a State in which property is seized and forfeited prohibit the sale of such property, or if the Commissioner is of the opinion that the sale of forfeited property may be made more advantageously in another customs district, the property shall be moved to and sold in such other customs district as the Commissioner may direct provided it has been cleared for sale pursuant to the regulations of the General Services Administration applicable to the Bureau of Customs.

(b) If, after the summary forfeiture of property is completed, it appears that the proceeds of sale will not be sufficient to pay the costs of sale, the collector may order the destruction of the property. Similarly, property forfeited under a decree of any court may be destroyed if it is provided in the decree of forfeiture that the property shall be delivered to the Secretary of the Treasury for disposition in accordance with section 611, Tariff Act of 1930.

[31] "If the sale of any vessel, vehicle, merchandise, or baggage forfeited under the customs laws in the district in which seizure thereof was made be prohibited by the laws of the State in which such district is located, or if a sale may be made more advantageously in any other district, the Secretary of the Treasury may order such vessel, vehicle, merchandise, or baggage to be transferred for sale in any customs district in which the sale thereof may be permitted. Upon the request of the Secretary of the Treasury, any court may, in proceedings for the forfeiture of any vessel, vehicle, merchandise, or baggage under the customs laws, provide in its decree of forfeiture that the vessel, vehicle, merchandise, or baggage so forfeited, shall be delivered to the Secretary of the Treasury for disposition in accordance with the provisions of this section. If the Secretary of the Treasury is satisfied that the proceeds of any sale will not be sufficient to pay the costs thereof, he may order a destruction by the customs officers: Provided, That any merchandise forfeited under the customs laws, the sale or use of which is prohibited under any law of the United States or of any State, may, in the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury, be destroyed, or remanufactured into an article that is not prohibited, the resulting article to be disposed of to the profit of the United States only." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 611; 19 U.S.C. 1611)

(c) Any vessel or vehicle summarily forfeited for violation of any law respecting the customs revenue may be destroyed in lieu of the sale thereof when such destruction is authorized by the Commissioner of Customs to protect the revenue.[31a] Any such property forfeited under a decree of any court may be destroyed under the same condition if it is provided in the decree of forfeiture that the property shall be delivered to the Secretary of the Treasury for disposition under 19 U. S. C. 1705.

§ 23.20 Disposition of proceeds of sale.

(a) Expenses incurred by customs officers in connection with seizures and forfeitures shall be paid from the customs appropriation. In the event that the forfeiture property has been authorized for transfer to another Federal agency for official use, the receiving agency shall reimburse the customs appropriation for the costs incurred for moving and storing such property from the date of seizure to the date of delivery. If the property is cleared for sale, the customs appropriation shall be reimbursed from the proceeds of the sale for all expenses paid from such appropriation in connection with the seizure and forfeiture of such property.

(b) If the forfeiture and sale of property is pursuant to court proceedings, or the imposition of a fine or penalty results from a prosecution instituted in a civil or criminal case under the customs laws, the sum recovered, after deducting all proper charges for marshal's fees, court costs, etc., is payable to the collector of customs. Upon receipt of such sum, the collector shall distribute it without delay in accordance with section 613, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.[32]

(Sec. 613, 46 Stat. 756, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1613)

[31a] "Any vessel or vehicle forfeited to the United States, whether summarily or by a decree of any court, for violation of any law respecting the revenue, may, in the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury, if he deems it necessary to protect the revenue of the United States, be destroyed in lieu of the sale thereof under existing law." (19 U. S. C. 1705.)

[32] "* * * If no application for such remission of restoration is made within three months after such sale, or if the application be denied by the Secretary of the Treasury or the Secretary of Commerce, the proceeds of sale shall be disposed of as follows:

"(1) For the payment of all proper expenses of the proceedings of forfeiture and sale, including expenses of seizure, maintaining the custody of the property, advertising and sale, and if condemned by a decree of a district court and a bond for such costs was not given, the costs as taxed by the court;

"(2) For the satisfaction of liens for freight, charges, and contributions in general average, notice of which has been filed with the collector according to law; and

"(3) The residue shall be deposited with the Treasurer of the United States as a customs or navigation fine." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 613, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1613)

§ 23.21 Forfeiture by court decree; reports to United States attorneys.

(a) When it is necessary to institute legal proceedings in order to forfeit seized property, or to forfeit the value of property subject to forfeiture, or to prosecute by a civil or criminal action for any violation of the customs laws, the collector or the principal local officer of the Customs Agency Service shall furnish a report to the United States attorney,[33]

[33] Judicial proceedings for the forfeiture of seized merchandise must be instituted within the judicial district in which the seizure was made.

Such proceedings for forfeiture under any law of the United States of a seizure made on the high seas may be prosecuted in any judicial district in which the property so seized is brought and proceedings instituted.

The trial of offenses in criminal cases takes place in the judicial district in which the crime was committed, but when the offense is begun in one district and completed in another, it may be tried in either district.

Offenses committed upon the high seas, or elsewhere out of the jurisdiction of any particular state or judicial district, are tried in the judicial district in which the offender is found, or into which he is first brought.

"No suit or action to recover any pecuniary penalty or forfeiture of property accruing under the customs laws shall be instituted unless such suit or action is commenced within five years after the time when the alleged offense was discovered: Provided, That the time of the absence from the United States of the person subject to such penalty or forfeiture, or of any concealment or absence of the property, shall not be reckoned within this period of limitation." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 621, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1621)

"In all suits or actions brought for the forfeiture of any vessel, vehicle, merchandise, or baggage seized under the provisions of (Footnote 33—Continued)

any law relating to the collection of duties on imports or tonnage, where the property is claimed by any person, the burden of proof shall lie upon such claimant; and in all suits or actions brought for the recovery of the value of any vessel, vehicle, merchandise, or baggage, because of violation of any such law, the burden of proof shall be upon the defendant: Provided, That probable cause shall be first shown for the institution of such suit or action, to be judged of by the court, subject to the following rules of proof:

"(1) The testimony or deposition of the officer of the customs who has boarded or required to come to a stop or seized a vessel or vehicle, or has arrested a person, shall be prima facie evidence of the place where the act in question occurred.

"(2) Marks, labels, brands, or stamps, indicative of foreign origin, upon or accompanying merchandise or containers of merchandise, shall be prima facie evidence of the foreign origin of such merchandise.

"(3) The fact that a vessel of any description is found, or discovered to have been, in the vicinity of any hovering vessel and under any circumstances indicating contact or communication therewith, whether by proceeding to or from such vessel, or by coming to in the vicinity of such vessel, or by delivering to or receiving from such vessel any merchandise, person, or communication, or by any other means effecting contact or communication therewith, shall be prima facie evidence that the vessel in question has visited such hovering vessel." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 615, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1615)

"Upon the entry of judgment for the claimant in any proceeding to condemn or forfeit property seized under any Act of Congress, such property shall be returned forthwith to the claimant or his agent; but if it appears that there was reasonable cause for the seizure, the court shall cause a proper certificate thereof to be entered and the claimant shall not, in such case, be entitled to costs, nor shall the person who made the seizure, nor the prosecutor, be liable to suit or judgment on account of such suit or prosecution." (28 U. S. C. 2465)

"Execution shall not issue against a collector or other revenue officer on a final judgment in any proceeding against him for any of his acts, or for the recovery of any money exacted by or paid to him and subsequently paid into the Treasury, in performing his official duties, if the court certifies that:

(1) probable cause existed; or

(2) the officer acted under the directions of the Secretary of the Treasury or other proper Government officer.

"When such certificate has been issued, the amount of the judgment shall be paid out of the proper appropriation by the Treasury." (28 U.S.C. 2006)

in accordance with the provisions of section 603, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.[34]

(b) When the appraised value of seized property exceeds $2,500 and neither an application to the Bureau for relief nor an offer to pay the domestic value thereof, as provided for in § 23.14, is made within a reasonable time, the collector shall report the facts to the United States attorney for the judicial district in which the seizure was made.[35]

(c) If the appraised value of seized property is less than $2,500 and the claimant gives a bond on customs Form 4615, as provided for in § 23.13, within the statutory period, the collector shall likewise report the case to the United States attorney.

(Secs. 603, 610, 46 Stat. 754, as amended, 755; 19 U.S.C. 1603, 1610)

§ 23.22 Bonding of seized property; petition to the court.

When a claimant desires to file a bond for the release of seized property which is the subject of a court proceeding [36] he shall be referred to the United States attorney.

[34] "Whenever a seizure of merchandise for violation of the customs laws is made, or a violation of the customs laws is discovered, and legal proceedings by the United States attorney in connection with such seizure or discovery are required, it shall be the duty of the collector or the principal local officer of the Customs Agency Service to report such seizure or violation to the United States attorney for the district in which such violation has occurred, or in which such seizure was made, and to include in such report a statement of all the facts and circumstances of the case within his knowledge, with the names of the witnesses and a citation to the statute or statutes believed to have been violated, and on which reliance may be had for forfeiture or conviction." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 603, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1603)

[35] "If the value returned by the appraiser or any vessel, vehicle, merchandise, or baggage so seized is greater than $2,500, the collector shall transmit a report of the case, with the names of available witnesses, to the United States attorney for the district in which the seizure was made for the institution of the proper proceedings for the condemnation of such property." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 610; 19 U. S. C. 1610)

[36] "Notwithstanding any provisions of law relating to the return on bond of any vessel or vehicle seized for the violation of any law of the United States the court having jurisdiction of the subject matter, may, in its discretion and upon good cause shown by the United States, refuse to order such return of any such vessel or vehicle to the claimant thereof. * * *" (Internal Revenue Code, sec. 3173 (d); 26 U. S. C. 3173 (d))

§ 23.23 Fines, penalties, and forfeitures; remission of.

(a) Every offender under the customs or navigation laws shall be advised of any fine or penalty incurred by him as well as any liability to forfeiture. Whenever possible, customs officers shall inform each interested person of his right to apply for relief under section 618, Tariff Act of 1930 [37] or any other applicable statute authorizing mitigation or remission of penalties.

(b) In the case of smuggling of articles of small value, demand shall be made for an immediate deposit on account of the penalty incurred in an amount equivalent to the domestic value of the articles whether or not a petition for relief is filed. Such demand need not be made in connection with any liability incurred by the master of a vessel under the provisions of section 453, Tariff Act of 1930.

(c) Except as provided for in § 23.21 (b), if the person liable for any violation of the customs or navigation laws fails to petition for relief or pay the penalty within 60 days from the date of mailing of the notice of violation as provided for in paragraph (a) of this section, the case shall be referred immediately to the United States attorney for appropriate action, unless it appears that the person liable for the penalty is absent from the United States or during the said period was absent for more than 30 days, in which event the collector may withhold such action for a further reasonable time, or unless other action is expressly authorized by the Bureau. When a penalty is mitigated or a forfeiture remitted upon condition that a stated amount be paid, and the mitigated penalty or stated amount is not paid or a supplemental petition filed within 60 days from the date a notice of the settlement is mailed to the petitioner, the matter shall be referred immediately to the United States attorney for appropriate attention, unless other action has been directed by the Bureau.

(d) No action looking to the remission or mitigation of a fine, penalty, or forfeiture shall be taken on any petition, irrespective of the amount involved, if the case has been referred to the Department of Justice for the institution of legal proceedings.

(e) In the case of vessels or vehicles awarded for official use, a petition shall not be considered unless filed before final disposition of the property is made.

(Sec. 618, 46 Stat. 757; 19 U.S.C. 1618)

§ 23.24 Petitions for the remission or mitigation of fines, penalties, and forfeitures, and restoration of proceeds of sale.

(a) Any petition for the remission or mitigation of a fine, penalty, or forfeiture incurred under any law administered by the Bureau of Customs or for the restoration of the proceeds of a sale of property forfeited under the customs laws shall be addressed to the Commissioner of Customs, unless final action thereon may be taken by the collector of customs, in which event it shall be addressed to the collector concerned, and shall be signed by the petitioner and filed with the collector of customs of the district in which the property was seized or the fine or penalty imposed. It shall be filed in duplicate or in triplicate, as required by the collector, and shall set forth a description of the property involved; the date and place of violation or seizure; and the facts relied upon by the petitioner to justify the remission or mitigation. In addition, when the petition is for relief from forfeiture or for the restoration of the proceeds of a sale, it shall show the interest of the petitioner in the property and in appropriate cases shall be supported by bills of sale, contracts, mortgages, or other satisfactory documentary evidence. If the property was in the possession of another person who was responsible for the act which caused the fine, penalty, or forfeiture, evidence shall be produced as to the manner in which the property came into the possession of such other person. Evidence of any investigation made by the petitioner prior to parting with the property shall also be produced, or the reason for the lack of such investigation given.

(b) A petitioner holding a chattel mortgage or conditional sale contract covering seized property shall submit with his petition evidence showing whether, prior to extending credit, he made a thorough investigation of the moral character and financial responsibility of the mortgagor or purchaser of the property and, if so, whether such investigation showed that the mortgagor or purchaser was a good credit risk or disclosed any facts indicating a probability that the property would be used in violation of law.

(c) When the petition is for the restoration of the proceeds of sale under section 613, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[38] it shall be filed within 3

The bond prescribed by this section is a substitute for and in lieu of the property released, and the Government, if forfeiture is decreed, is entitled to recover the penal sum of the bond. See U. S. v. Two Trunks, Fed. Cas. 16592.

[37] "Whenever any person interested in any vessel, vehicle, merchandise, or baggage seized under the provisions of this Act, or who has incurred, or is alleged to have incurred, any fine or penalty thereunder, files with the Secretary of the Treasury if under the customs laws, and with the Secretary of Commerce if under the navigation laws, before the sale of such vessel, vehicle, merchandise, or baggage a petition for the remission or mitigation of such fine, penalty, or forfeiture, the Secretary of the Treasury, or the Secretary of Commerce, if he finds that such fine, penalty, or forfeiture, was incurred without willful negligence or without any intention on the part of the petitioner to defraud the revenue or to violate the law, or finds the existence of such mitigating circumstances as to justify the remission or mitigation of such fine, penalty, or forfeiture, may remit or mitigate the same upon such terms and conditions as he deems reasonable and just, or order discontinuance of any prosecution relating thereto. In order to enable him to ascertain the facts, the Secretary of the Treasury may issue a commission to any customs agent, collector, judge of the United States Customs Court, or nothing in this section shall be construed United States commissioner, to take testimony upon such petition: Provided, That to deprive any person of an award of compensation made before the filing of such petition." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 618; 19 U. S. C. 1618)

[38] "Any person claiming any vessel, vehicle, merchandise, or baggage, or any interest therein, which has been forfeited and sold under the provisions of this Act, may at any time within three months after the date of sale apply to the Secretary of the Treasury if the forfeiture and sale was under the customs laws, or to the Secretary of Commerce if the forfeiture and sale was under the navigation laws, for a remission of the forfeiture and restoration of the proceeds of such sale, or such part thereof as may be claimed by him. Upon the production of satisfactory proof that the applicant did not know of the seizure prior to the declaration or condemnation of forfeiture, and was in such circum-months after the date of sale and shall be supported by satisfactory proof that the petitioner did not know of the seizure prior to the declaration or decree of forfeiture and was in such circumstances as prevented him from knowing it.

(d) If forfeited property the subject of a claim under such section 613 has been authorized for official use, retention or delivery shall be regarded as the sale thereof for the purposes of the abovementioned section, and the appropriation available to the receiving agency for the purchase, hire, operation, maintenance, and repair of property of the kind so received is available for the granting of relief to the claimant and for the satisfaction of liens for freight, charges, and contributions in general average that may have been filed.[39]

stances as prevented him from knowing of the same, and that such forfeiture was incurred without any willful negligence or intention to defraud on the part of the applicant, the Secretary of the Treasury or the Secretary of Commerce may order the proceeds of the sale, or any part thereof, restored to the applicant, after deducting the cost of seizure and of sale, the duties, if any, accruing on the merchandise or baggage, and any sum due on a lien for freight, charges, or contribution in general average that may have been filed. * * *" (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 613, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1613)

[39] "The appropriation available to any agency for the purchase, hire, operation, maintenance, and repair of property of any kind shall be available for the payment of expenses of operation, maintenance, and repair of property of the same kind received by it under any provision of sections 304g to 304i of this title for official use; for the payment of any lien recognized and allowed pursuant to law, and for the payment of all moneys found to be due any person upon the duly authorized remission or mitigation of any forfeiture; and for reimbursement of other agencies as hereafter provided. The costs of hauling, transporting, towing, and storage of such property shall be paid by the agency which has seized such property or to which it has been abandoned; and, if such property is later delivered to another agency or official under section 304g, 304h, or 304i of this title, the latter shall make reimbursement for all such costs incurred prior to the date of delivery to it of such property." (40 U. S. C. 304j)

"Retention or delivery of forfeited or abandoned property under sections 304g to 304i of this title shall be regarded as the sale thereof for the purpose of laws providing for informer's fees or remission or mitigation of any forfeiture. Any property so acquired when no longer needed for official use shall be disposed of in the same manner as other surplus property." (40 U. S. C. 304k)

[39a] As to remission or mitigation of fines, penalties, and forfeitures in cases of the seizure of unendorsed mail parcels and articles in passengers' baggage, see §§ 9.5 (b) and (c) of this chapter and 23.5 (b), respectively.

§ 23.25 Remission, mitigation, or cancellation by collectors.

(a) Fines, penalties, and forfeitures incurred under any law administered by the Bureau of Customs may be mitigated or remitted by the collector of customs concerned in the following cases on such terms and conditions as, under the law and in view of the circumstances, he shall deem appropriate[39a]:

(1) Fines and other pecuniary penalties aggregating less than $100 in respect of any one offense.

(2) Penalties of $500 each imposed under the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 for failure to manifest merchandise or for landing merchandise without a permit (see § 6.11 of this chapter), provided the value of the merchandise is under $500.

(3) When imported merchandise or the value thereof has become subject to forfeiture and the duty is $100 or less, or the merchandise is nondutiable and valued at $500 or less.

(4) When merchandise, other than imported merchandise, has become subject to forfeiture, is valued at $500 or less, and no liability outside the purview of any subdivision of this paragraph has been incurred in connection with the same offense.

(5) Except as hereinafter provided for, penalties under $500 each imposed against the offender under section 453 or 584, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and the penalty of $500 each imposed by section 584 if merchandise described in the manifest is not found on board. The collector of customs at the port of New York may remit or mitigate penalties incurred in his district under section 453 or 584, Tariff Act of 1930, provided the aggregate of the penalties incurred under either or both sections by the offender in the case under consideration does not exceed $1,000.

(6) Fines or other pecuniary penalties, aggregating not more than $2,000 in respect of any one offense, as follows:

319	Fishing or trading coastwise without license	Owner; $30 each arrival.
323	Alteration of vessel papers	Violator; $500.
493	Failure to mark steam vessel name on pilot house	Owner; $10 each name omitted.

(7) Forfeitures of merchandise under section 883, title 46, United States Code, illegally transported coastwise, when the merchandise subject to forfeiture is valued at not more than $2,000, or without regard to value if the violation occurred as the direct result of an arrival of the transporting vessel in distress.

(8) Penalties and forfeitures, aggregating under $20,000 in any one case and incurred under section 460, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, for failure to report as required by section 459, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, in the following cases:

(i) Violations due to ignorance of the reporting requirements or to inadvertence and either no merchandise, or only typical personal or souvenir merchandise which would have been free of duty, if entered, is carried in the vessel or vehicle, or

(ii) Where the violation is the first offense, although not due to ignorance or inadvertence, and no intended commercial use or threat to the revenue is involved, or

(iii) Pedestrians carrying merchandise of nominal value and no intended commercial use is involved.

(b) When the collector is satisfied that a failure to obtain advance permission to land an aircraft elsewhere than at an airport of entry, or a failure to furnish advance notice of the intended arrival of an aircraft, was due to circumstances entirely beyond the control of the violator, and there are no other violations of the customs aircraft regulations, the penalty of $500 imposed for each such offense under the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 is hereby remitted. If any such failure, although not due to circumstances entirely beyond the control of the violator, occurred without intent to violate the law, the penalty incurred for failure to obtain advance permission to land elsewhere than at an airport of entry is hereby mitigated to $10 if advance notice of intended arrival was given; the penalty incurred for failure to give advance notice of arrival, when arrival is made at a designated airport of entry, is hereby mitigated to $25; and the total penalties incurred for failure to obtain advance permission to land elsewhere than at a designated airport of entry and to furnish advance notice of arrival are hereby mitigated to the sum of $25.

(c) When any imported liquor or compound or any vessel or vehicle in which the same has been transported has become subject to forfeiture for noncompliance with section 1263, title 18, United States Code (see § 12.38 of this chapter), and the United States attorney has advised the collector that there is not sufficient evidence of intent to violate the law to warrant criminal prosecution thereunder, the forfeitures incurred are hereby remitted pursuant to the authority of section 7327, Internal Revenue Code and section 618, Tariff Act of 1930, upon the condition that the expenses of seizure, if any, shall be paid.

(d) If the interested party is not satisfied with the collector's decision, he may file a supplemental petition with the collector to be forwarded to the Bureau for reconsideration of the case. A statement to that effect shall be contained in each notification to an interested party of the collector's action on any petition for relief.

(e) If it is definitely determined that the act or omission forming the basis of a penalty or forfeiture claim did not in fact occur, the claim shall be canceled by the collector and appropriate notations shall be made on customs Forms 5211 and 5955, or 5955–A, if the transaction has already been recorded thereon. When the determination of whether or not the claim was erroneously made depends upon a construction of law, the claim shall not be canceled without Bureau approval, unless there is in force a Bureau ruling decisive of the issue. Bureau instructions shall be requested in all doubtful cases.

§ 23.26 Compromise of claims.

(a) No offer pursuant to section 617, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[40] in which a specific sum of money is tendered in compromise of a Government claim arising under the customs laws, will be considered by the Bureau until it has received due notice that such sum has been properly deposited with the Treasurer of the United States or a Federal reserve bank.[41] If the offer is rejected, the money will be returned to the proponent.

(b) The offer and the terms upon which it is made shall be stated in writing and shall be limited to the civil liability of the proponent in the matter which is the subject of the Government's claim.

(c) The amount offered shall be deposited in the name of the person submitting the offer.

(Sec. 617, 46 Stat. 757, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1617)

§ 23.27 Claims for compensation to informers.

(a) Any person not an officer of the United States[42] who furnishes information in accordance with the provisions of section 619, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[43] may file a claim for an award of compensation.

(b) Such claim shall be in duplicate on customs Form 4623 and shall be filed with the collector. Any customs officer may receive such a claim for transmittal to the collector. Any additional copies required by the collector to complete his files shall be furnished on demand.

(c) No claim for compensation shall be forwarded to the Bureau unless a sum not less than $5 is available for an award.

(d) No claim under such section 619 shall be paid until the amount recovered has been deposited in the proper account. No such claim shall be paid out of the proceeds of a sale.

(e) Any person whose claim has not for any reason been transmitted by the collector to the Bureau may apply directly to the Commissioner of Customs.

(Sec. 619, 46 Stat. 758, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1619)

§ 23.28 Inspection of importer's books, records, etc.

Before demanding an inspection of an importer's books, correspondence, or records pursuant to section 511, Tariff Act of 1930,[44] the investigating officer shall present a written request for such inspection signed by the Commissioner of Customs, appraiser, person acting as appraiser, collector, or judge of the United States Customs Court.

(Sec. 511, 46 Stat. 733; 19 U.S.C. 1511)

§ 23.29 Examination of importer and others.

The citation of a person pursuant to section 509, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[45] to appear and testify shall be

---

[40] "Upon a report by a collector, district attorney, or any special attorney or customs agent, having charge of any claim arising under the customs laws, showing the facts upon which such claim is based, the probabilities of a recovery and the terms upon which the same may be compromised, the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized to compromise such claim, if such action shall be recommended by the General Counsel for the Department of the Treasury." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 617, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1617)

[41] A proponent at a distance from a Federal reserve bank may perfect his offer by tendering a bank draft for the amount of the offer payable to the Secretary of the Treasury for collection and deposit.

[42] "Any officer of the United States who directly or indirectly receives, accepts, or contracts for any portion of the money which may accrue to any person making such detection and seizure, or furnishing such information, shall be guilty of a felony and, upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10,000, or by imprisonment for not more than two years, or both, and shall be thereafter ineligible to any office of honor, trust, or emolument. Any such person who pays to any such officer, or to any person for the use of such officer, any portion of such money, or anything of value for or because of such money, shall have a right of action against such officer, or his legal representatives, or against such person, or his legal representatives, and shall be entitled to recover the money so paid or the thing of value so given." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 620; 19 U. S. C. 1620)

[43] Any person not an officer of the United States who detects and seizes any vessel, vehicle, merchandise, or baggage subject to seizure and forfeiture under the customs laws or the navigation laws, and who reports the same to an officer of the customs, or who furnishes to a district attorney, to the Secretary of the Treasury, or to any customs officer original information concerning any fraud upon the customs revenue, or a violation of the customs laws or the navigation laws perpetrated or contemplated, which detection and seizure or information leads to a recovery of any duties withheld, or of any fine, penalty, or forfeiture incurred, may be awarded and paid by the Secretary of the Treasury a compensation of 25 per centum of the net amount recovered, but not to exceed $50,000 in any case, which shall be paid out of any appropriations available for the collection of the revenue from customs. For the purposes of this section, an amount recovered under a bail bond shall be deemed a recovery of a fine incurred. If any vessel, vehicle, merchandise, or baggage is forfeited to the United States, and is thereafter, in lieu of sale, destroyed under the customs or navigation laws or delivered to any governmental agency for official use, compensation of 25 per centum of the appraised value thereof may be awarded and paid by the Secretary of the Treasury under the provisions of this section, but not to exceed $50,000 in any case." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 619, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1619)

The term "in any case," as used in the statute, has reference to the information furnished and not to the recoveries growing out of such information.

The payment of the award for information furnished concerning violations of the Narcotic Drugs Import and Export Act, as amended, will be made by the court exercising jurisdiction in cases involving violations of that law.

[44] "If any person importing merchandise into the United States or dealing in imported merchandise fails, at the request of the Secretary of the Treasury, or an appraiser, or person acting as appraiser, or a collector, or the United States Customs Court, or a judge of such court, as the case may be, to permit a duly accredited officer of the United States to inspect his books, papers, records, accounts, documents, or correspondence, pertaining to the value or classification of such merchandise, then while such failure continues the Secretary of the Treasury under regulations prescribed by him, (1) shall prohibit the importation of merchandise into the United States by or for the account of such person and (2) shall instruct the collectors to withhold delivery of merchandise imported by or for the account of such person. If such failure continues for a period of one year from the date of such instructions the collector shall cause the merchandise, unless previously exported, to be sold at public auction as in the case of forfeited merchandise." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 511; 19 U. S. C. 1511)

[45] "Collectors and appraisers may cite to appear before them or any of them and to examine upon oath, which said officers or any of them are hereby authorized to administer, any owner, importer, consignee, agent, or other person upon any matter or thing which they, or any of them, may deem material respecting any imported merchandise in writing and signed by the proper official. It shall indicate clearly the merchandise or entries concerning which the examination will be held and the documents required to be presented. It shall be addressed to the person to be examined and shall state the specific time when and place where his personal appearance is required. Such citation shall be served in person or by registered mail.

(Sec. 509, 46 Stat. 733, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1509)

§ 23.30 Bribery of customs officers and employees.

If, upon investigation, it is determined that money or anything of value was given, offered, or promised to a customs officer or employee with a view to controlling or influencing such officer or employee in the performance of his official duties, the matter shall be referred to the United States attorney for prosecution under section 212, Title 18, United States Code.[45]

(Sec. 1, 62 Stat. 698; 18 U.S.C. 212)

§ 23.31 Export controls.

(a) Importations and exportations of arms, ammunition, implements of war, helium gas, and other munitions of war are governed by laws administered by the Department of State, those of narcotic drugs and gold are governed by laws administered by the Treasury Department, and those of atomic energy source material, fissionable material, and equipment and devices for utilizing or producing fissionable material are subject to laws administered by the Atomic Energy Commission.

(b) The exportation of articles, other than those previously mentioned herein, are subject to requirements of laws administered by the Department of Commerce.

(c) All the laws above mentioned are enforced, in whole or in part, by the Customs Service for the administering agencies.

(d) When articles are imported, or are intended to be, are being, or have been, exported from the United States in violation of law, such articles and any vessel, vehicle, or aircraft knowingly used in their transportation shall be seized and proceeded against.

(Sec. 5 (b), 40 Stat. 415, as amended, 62 Stat. 716, 748, R. S. 3062, as amended, sec. 2, 35 Stat. 614, as amended, secs. 4, 5, 6, 8, 38 Stat. 275, as amended, 277, as amended, sec. 1, 40 Stat. 223, as amended, sec. 12, 54 Stat. 10, as amended, sec. 4, 48 Stat. 340, secs. 4, 7, 60 Stat. 759, 764, sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1111, as amended; 12 U. S. C. 95a, 18 U. S. C. 545, 968, 19 U. S. C. 483, 21 U. S. C. 173, 177, 178, 180, 182, 184, 22 U. S. C. 401, 452, 31 U. S. C. 443, 42 U. S. C. 1804, 1807, 50 U. S. C. 165)

§ 23.32 Pollution of coastal and navigable waters.

(a) When any customs officer has reason to believe that any refuse matter is being or has been deposited in navigable waters in violation of section 13 of the act of March 3, 1899 (33 U.S.C. 407) or that oil is being or has been discharged into or upon the coastal navigable waters of the United States in violation of the Oil Pollution Act of 1924 (33 U.S.C. 431–437),[45a] he shall promptly furnish to the collector a full report of the incident, together with the names of the witnesses, and, when practicable, a sample of the material discharged from the vessel in question.

(b) The collector shall forward this report immediately, without recommendation, to the District Engineer of the Department of the Army (at New York to the Supervisor of New York Harbor) for his decision as to prosecution and a copy of each such report shall be furnished to the Bureau.

(c) If the vessel involved is of American registry, a copy of the report shall be furnished also to the District Commander of the Coast Guard District concerned.

(Sec. 13, 30 Stat. 1152, sec. 7, 43 Stat. 605; 33 U.S.C. 407, 436)

§ 23.33 Identification cards.

(a) Each customs employee, other than an officer of the Customs Agency Service, who needs identification in the performance of his official duties shall be furnished an identification card on customs Form 3133 if the employee is required to carry weapons regularly or from time to time. In all other cases customs Form 3135 shall be used.

(b) The Commissioner will issue identification cards in appropriate cases to principal field officers. Each principal field officer shall be the issuing officer for the employees under his jurisdiction.

(c) Special identification cards, bearing the facsimile signature of the Secretary of the Treasury and countersigned by the Commissioner, shall be issued to officers of the Customs Agency Service. All officers of the Customs Agency Service are authorized to carry weapons in the performance of their official duties, and specific authorization is therefore omitted from their identification cards.

(Sec. 581, 46 Stat. 747, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1581)

§ 23.34 Return of property stolen in Canada.

(a) Any person claiming to be the owner of property stolen in Canada, brought into the United States, and seized by customs authorities for violation of law may file with the collector of customs having custody of the property a petition, addressed to the Secretary of the Treasury, for the release thereof. The petition shall be supported by evidence of ownership in the claimant and shall contain a waiver and release of all possible claims against the United States or any officer thereof for compensation or damages incident to the seizure and detention of the property.

(b) If the collector is satisfied that the claimant is the owner of the property and that it was brought into the United States without collusion on the part of the claimant, the collector may release the property for return to Canada upon the payment of all expenses incident to the seizure and detention thereof. In the event of conflicting claims for the property or any doubt as to the claimant's interest in or right to the property, the collector shall submit the matter to the Commissioner of Customs for decision.

§ 23.35 Customs supervision.[47]

Except as otherwise prescribed in the regulations of this chapter or by instructions from the office of the Secretary of the Treasury or the Bureau in particular cases, whenever any action or thing is required by the regulations of this chapter or by any provision of the customs or navigation laws to be done or maintained under the supervision of customs officers, such supervision shall be direct and continuous or, if the principal customs field officer shall determine that less intensive supervision will assure proper enforcement of the law and protection of the revenue, by such occasional verification as such officer shall direct. Nothing in this section shall be deemed to warrant any failure to direct and furnish a required supervision or to excuse any failure of a party in interest to comply with the prescribed procedures for obtaining any required supervision.

then under consideration or previously imported within one year, in ascertaining the classification or the value thereof or the rate or amount of duty; and they, or any of them, may require the production of any letters, accounts, contracts, invoices, or other documents relating to said merchandise, and may require such testimony to be reduced to writing, and when so taken it shall be filed and preserved, under such rules as the United States Customs Court may prescribe, and such evidence may be given consideration in subsequent proceedings relating to such merchandise." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 509; 19 U. S. C. 1509)

"If any person so cited to appear shall neglect or refuse to attend, or shall decline to answer or shall refuse to answer in writing any interrogatories, and subscribe his name to his deposition, or to produce such papers when so required by a judge of the United States Customs Court, or a division of such court, or an appraiser, or a collector, he shall be liable to a penalty of not less than $20 nor more than $500; and if such person be the owner, importer, or consignee, the appraisement last made of such merchandise, whether made by an appraiser, a judge of the United States Customs Court, or a division of such court, shall be final and conclusive against such person; and any person who shall willfully and corruptly swear falsely on an examination before any judge of the United States Customs Court, or division of such court, or appraiser or collector, shall be deemed guilty of perjury; and if he is the owner, importer, or consignee, the merchandise shall be forfeited or the value thereof may be recovered from him." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 510; 19 U. S. C. 1510)

[45] "Whoever gives, offers, or promises any money or thing of value, directly or indirectly, to any officer or employee of the United States in consideration of or for any act or omission contrary to law in connection with or pertaining to the importation, appraisement, entry, examination, or inspection of merchandise or baggage, or of the liquidation of the entry thereof, or by threats or demands or promises of any character attempts improperly to influence or control any such officer or employee of the United States as to the performance of his official duties, shall be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than two years, or both.

"Evidence, satisfactory to the court, of such giving, offering, or promising to give, or attempting to influence or control, shall be prima facie evidence that the same was contrary to law." (18 U. S. C. 212)

"Moneys received or tendered in evidence in any United States Court, or before any officer thereof, which have been paid to or received by any official as a bribe, shall, after the final disposition of the case, proceeding or investigation, be deposited in the registry of the court to be disposed of in accordance with the order of the court, to be subject, however, to the provisions of section 852 [now 2042] of Title 28." (18 U. S. C. 3612)

[45a] See Appendix VII, Customs Regulations.

[47] "Wherever in this Act any action or thing is required to be done or maintained under the supervision of customs officers, such supervision may be direct and continuous or by occasional verification as may be required by regulations of the Secretary of the Treasury, or, in the absence of such regulations for a particular case, as the principal customs officer concerned shall direct." (Sec. 646, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1646)

PART 24—CUSTOMS FINANCIAL AND ACCOUNTING PROCEDURE

Sec.
24.1 Checks receivable for duties.

24.13 Car, compartment, and package seals; kind, procurement.
24.14 Salable customs forms.
24.16 Overtime services; overtime compensation; rate of compensation.
24.17 Other services of officers; reimbursable.
24.25 Claims for surplus proceeds of sale of unclaimed merchandise.
24.32 Claims; unpaid compensation of deceased employees and death benefits.
24.34 Vouchers; vendors' bills of sale; invoices.
24.36 Refunds of excessive duties, taxes, etc.
24.70 Claims; deceased or incompetent public creditors.
24.71 Claims for personal injury or damages to or loss of privately owned property.
24.72 Claims; set-off.
24.73 Miscellaneous claims.

AUTHORITY: §§ 24.1 to 24.73 issued under R.S. 161, 251, sec. 624, 46 Stat. 759; sec. 501, 65 Stat. 290; 5 U.S.C. 22, 140, U.S.C. 66, 1624. Statutory provisions interpreted or applied and special rule making authority are cited to text in parentheses.

§ 24.1 Checks receivable for duties.

(a) (1) Any bank draft, cashier's check, or certified check drawn on a national or state bank or trust company of the United States which can be cashed without cost to the Government shall be accepted in payment of duties or charges.

(2) A domestic traveler's check or a United States postal, bank, express, or telegraph money order shall be accepted in payment of duties or charges only when it can be cashed without expense to the Government.

(b) An uncertified check drawn by an interested party on a national or state bank or trust company of the United States which can be cashed without expense to the Government shall be accepted by the collector of customs in payment of duties or other charges if there is on file with the collector of customs a customs entry bond or other bond to secure the payment of such duties or other charges, or if a bond has not been filed, the organization or individual drawing and tendering the uncertified check has been approved by the collector to make payment in such manner. In determining whether an uncertified check shall be accepted in the absence of a bond, the collector shall use available credit data obtainable without cost to the Government, such as that furnished by banks, local business firms, better business bureaus, or local credit exchanges, sufficient to satisfy him of the credit standing or reliability of the drawer of the check. The collector may refuse to accept an uncertified check in any case if in his discretion he deems such acceptance inadvisable.

(c) Checks on foreign banks, foreign travelers' checks, and commercial drafts or bills of exchange subject to acceptance by the drawees shall not be accepted.

(Sec. 1, 36 Stat. 965, as amended, sec. 648, 46 Stat. 762; 19 U.S.C. 198, 1648)

§ 24.2 Persons authorized to receive customs collections.

Deputy collectors of customs in charge of ports of entry, customs cashiers, customs inspectors, customs dock tellers, and such other officers and employees as the collector shall designate shall receive customs collections.

§ 24.3 Bills and accounts; receipts.

(a) Any bill or account for money due the United States shall be rendered by an authorized customs officer or employee on an official form.

(b) Any payor desiring an official receipt shall submit the original bill with his payment. If an official receipt form is provided, the receipt shall be prepared and issued on such form. When no official receipt form is provided, the original bill shall be stamped with the fact and date of payment, initialed or signed by the customs officer to whom the payment is made, and returned to the payor.

(c) If an importer desires a receipt for duties or taxes paid on a formal or appraisement entry, such receipt shall be given on a copy of customs Form 5101 or on a copy of the entry, whichever is presented for that purpose by the person making the entry.

(d) Every payment which is not made in person shall be accompanied by the original bill or by a communication containing sufficient information to identify the account or accounts to which it is to be applied.

(e) A bill for duties, taxes, or other charges is due and payable upon receipt thereof by the debtor.

§ 24.11 Increased or additional duties or taxes; notice to importer.

(a) Any increased or additional duties or taxes found due upon liquidation shall be billed on customs Form 5107 to the importer of record or to the actual owner when there shall have been filed:

(1) A declaration of the actual owner on customs Form 3347 in accordance with section 485(d), Tariff Act of 1930, and the regulations in this part; and

(2) The superseding bond of the actual owner on customs Form 7601, as provided for in §§ 8.18(d) and 25.4(a)(32) of this chapter.

(b) In any case in which a timely owner's declaration, but not a timely superseding bond, has been filed, and the collector of customs is of the opinion that because of special circumstances the collection of the increased or additional duties should be effected under the timely owner's declaration, he shall report the facts to the Bureau and await instructions.

(Secs. 483, 485(d), 46 Stat. 721, 724; 19 U.S.C. 1483, 1485(d))

§ 24.12 Customs fees; charges for storage.

(a) A table of the rates of fees prescribed by law or hereafter in this paragraph shall be kept posted in each collector's, surveyor's, and comptroller's office. When payment of such fee is received by any customs employee a receipt therefor shall be issued.

(1) A customs fee in the amount indicated shall be collected for each application for the following actions whether the action requested is granted or denied:

(i) Recording a trademark, trade name, or copyright, $75; recording a renewal or change of ownership of a trademark or copyright, $25. (See §§ 11.15, 11.16, and 11.19 of this chapter.)

(ii) Designating a common carrier as a carrier of customs bonded merchandise, $35. (See § 18.1 of this chapter.)

(iii) Establishment of a customs bonded warehouse, $50. (See § 19.2 of this chapter.)

(iv) Issuance of a customs cartage or lighterage license, $35. (See § 21.1 of this chapter.)

(v) Issuance of a customhouse broker's license, $100.

The fee in subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph shall be assessed and collected for an application requesting the initial establishment of a customs bonded warehouse or for the rebonding of a warehouse after its discontinuance. Such fee shall not be collected for action in connection with the discontinuance or alteration of a customs bonded warehouse or the reactivation of such a warehouse after its temporary suspension.

(2) Unless otherwise prescribed by law, a fee of 20 cents shall be collected for each official certification.

(3) A customs fee of $100 shall be collected for each application for the furnishing, for a period of 60 days, the names and addresses of importers of articles appearing to infringe a registered patent. Where this information is furnished for a second period of 60 days, an additional fee of $100 shall be collected.

(4) A charge of $4.20 shall be made for an annual subscription to the Monthly Supplement to "Merchant Vessels of the United States." Subscriptions shall be addressed to the Bureau of Customs and shall be accompanied by a remittance in that amount.

(b) Except for services within the purview of section 1 of the act of June 9, 1886, as amended (46 U. S. C. 331), or subsection I of the Ship Mortgage Act of 1920 (46 U. S. C. 927),[28] the following charges shall be made:

(1) Whenever files are searched to obtain records for private parties, whether for copying by them or for examination, a charge shall be made, based upon the actual time and salary of the employee, computed in multiples of 1 minute based on an hourly rate computed in accordance with § 19.5 (b) of this chapter, but no charge shall be made for such service where the amount, so computed, is less than 50 cents. Where the amount, so computed, is 50 cents or more, but less than $1, a minimum charge of $1 shall be made. There shall be included in computing the cost of such labor any amount actually payable to the employee for performing such service outside his basic 40-hour workweek. However, no charge shall be made under this subparagraph for any service rendered in making an entry and related documents available for examination by authorized persons prior to liquidation of the entry or during any period thereafter in which a timely protest may be filed against the liquidation or reliquidation of the entry.

(2) If any copy of a customs record is made by a customs employee for a party in interest, such party shall reimburse the Government for the actual cost of material, labor, including that used in searching for the record, and any required postage. The charge for labor shall be computed as prescribed in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, but a minimum total charge of $1 shall be imposed for each order. For copying by mechanical methods the charge shall be based on the prevailing rates established by private concerns in the locality, provided that such charge shall not be less than an amount computed according to the following minimum scale of charges with a minimum total charge of $1 for each order:

Photocopy paper negatives and prints (including photostat prints):
Up to 9 x 12	20 cents each	15 cents each.
12 x 18 (two 9 x 12 units).	30 cents each	25 cents each.
18 x 24 (four 9 x 12 units).	50 cents each	45 cents each.
Photographic film negatives and prints (single Weight paper): Approximately 8 x 10½.	$1.90 (incl. negative).	50 cents each.

(3) In any case where a search of the files is necessary to verify the correctness of a document which is to be certified by a customs employee, and for which a fee of 20 cents is charged, a separate charge for the time required for searching shall be made. This charge shall be computed as prescribed in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, but shall not be imposed if the amount is less than 50 cents. If the amount, so computed, is 50 cents or more, but less than $1, a minimum charge of $1 shall be made.

[28] For fees under 46 U. S. C. 927, see § 4.98 of this chapter.

(c) The rates charged for storage in Government-owned or rented buildings shall not be less than the charges made at the port by commercial concerns for the storage and handling of merchandise. Except as to an examination package covered by an application for an entry by appraisement, storage shall be charged on any examination package for any period it remains in the appraiser's store after 2 full working days following the day on which the permit to release or transfer was issued. As to an examination package covered by an application for an entry by appraisement, storage shall be charged for any period it remains in the appraiser's store after 2 full working days following the day of issuance to the importer of oral or written notice of the amount of duties or taxes required to be deposited or that the package is ready for delivery. In computing the 2 working days, (1) the day on which the permit to release or transfer is issued, or the day on which the notice is issued of the amount of duties or taxes that shall be deposited or that the package is ready for delivery, whichever is applicable, (2) Saturdays, (3) Sundays, and (4) National holidays, shall be excluded.

§ 24.13 Car, compartment, and package seals; kind, procurement.

(a) Tyden seals, manufactured by the International Seal and Lock Co., Hastings, Mich., and automatic metal seals, manufactured by the International Seal & Knot Protector Co., 109 Spring Street, New York, N.Y., shall be used in sealing openings, packages, or articles requiring the security provided by such sealing.

(b) In-bond seals used for sealing imported merchandise shipped between ports in the United States shall be colored red and stamped "U.S. Customs in Bond." except that (1) bright green seals shall be used to seal carload or truckload shipments of merchandise and (2) uncolored seals shall be used to seal containers of commercial travelers' samples moving in-transit between Canadian ports through the United States in bond as provided for by § 5.11 (b) and (c) of this chapter. Such green seals used on railroad cars shall be stamped

CAN. CUSTOMS,
U.S. TRANSIT

those used on trucks stamped H.W.

CAN. CUSTOMS,
U.S. TRANSIT

and the uncolored seals used on containers of commercial travelers' samples stamped CANADA-UNITED STATES CUSTOMS. In-transit seals used for sealing merchandise shipped from one port in the United States through foreign territory or waters to another port in the United States shall be colored blue and stamped "U.S. Customs In-Transit," except that in-transit seals used on carload or truckload shipments of merchandise or on containers of commercial travelers' samples moving in transit between United States ports via Canada shall be colored yellow. Such yellow seals used on railroad cars shall be stamped [U. S. Customs / Can. Transit], those used on trucks stamped [H. W. U.S. Customs, / Can. Transit] and those used on containers of commercial travelers' samples stamped "United States-Canada Customs." Seals used for sealing merchandise for customs purposes other than for (1) shipping in bond, (2) shipping by other than a bonded common carrier in accordance with section 553, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, or (3) shipping in transit shall be uncolored and stamped "U.S. Customs." All seals (except green in-transit seals for use on trucks and uncolored in-transit seals on containers of commercial travelers' samples) shall be stamped with the name of the port for which they are ordered. Each Tyden seal shall be stamped with a serial number. Each automatic metal seal shall be stamped with a symbol number and, when required, with a serial number. These numbers will be assigned by the collector of customs when the orders therefor are approved.

(c) Carriers of merchandise or their commercial associations or comparable representatives approved by the collector (see paragraph (f) of this section) shall purchase quantity supplies of in-bond and in-transit seals from the manufacturers of approved seals, but their orders for said seals (except the aforesaid green and uncolored in-transit seals) shall be submitted to the collector of customs at the headquarters port of the customs district for authorization, assignment of numbers and symbols, and forwarding to the manufacturer. The order shall be prepared by the purchaser and shall be confined to seals for use at one port, and shall specify the kind and quantity of seals desired, the name of the port at which they are to be used, and the name and address of the consignee to whom they are to be shipped. Carriers may purchase small emergency supplies of in-bond and intransit seals from collectors of customs, who will keep a supply of such seals for this purpose. An order for green or uncolored in-transit seals shall be submitted to the office of the Director of Customs-Excise Inspection, Ottawa, Canada, for approval and forwarding to the manufacturer. An order for green Tyden in-bond seals for use on railroad cars must stipulate that the seals are to be consigned to the collector of customs and excise in Canada at the port indicated on the seals for entry purposes and storage under customs lock and key.

(d) The manufacturer shall ship the seals to the consignee named in the order and shall advise the collector of customs for the customs district to which the seals are shipped as to the kind and quantity of seals shipped, the name of the port and the serial numbers or symbol number stamped thereon, the name and address of the consignee, and the date of shipment. When a shipment of seals is received, the consignee, if other than a collector of customs, shall immediately deliver it intact into customs custody.

(e) Except as hereinafter provided, only such quantities of seals as are required for the immediate use of a carrier shall be issued from the stock in customs custody. Where the needs of a port justify the issuance of larger quantities of red Tyden in-bond or blue Tyden in-transit seals and the collector is satisfied that a larger quantity may be safely issued upon the carrier's undertaking to account for the use made of the seals, he may, upon written application of the carrier, approve the issuance of a quantity sufficient to meet the carrier's needs for such period as he deems reasonable and proper. In such application the carrier shall agree to store the seals in a well-protected place approved by the collector and to keep and provide information, in the form, time, and manner prescribed by the collector, showing the use of the seals issued to it. As used in this regulation, the term "carrier" does not include an association or other entity of which the carrier is a member.

(f) In-bond seals may be purchased only by a customs bonded carrier, by a nonbonded carrier permitted to transport articles in accordance with section 553 of the tariff act, as amended, or in the case of red in-bond seals, by the carrier's commercial association or comparable representative approved by the collector. In-transit seals may be purchased by a bonded or other carrier of merchandise or, in the case of blue in-transit seals, by the carrier's commercial association or comparable representative approved by the collector. Except for uncolored in-transit seals, uncolored customs seals may not be purchased by private interests and shall be furnished by collectors of customs for authorized use without charge. In-bond and in-transit seals sold by collectors of customs shall be charged for at the rate of 10 cents per seal.

§ 24.14 Salable customs forms.

(a) Customs forms for sale to the general public shall be designated by the Commissioner of Customs. Customs forms which are designated as salable shall meet the following conditions: (1) The form is distributed to private parties for use in completing customs transactions; (2) the quantity used nationwide annually is sufficient to justify the administrative costs involved in selling the form and accounting for the collections involved therein, or the form is primarily for the use of a special group; (3) distribution is or can generally be made in lots of 100 or more; (4) the form is normally distributed to commercial concerns (customhouse brokers, freight forwarders, vessel agents, carriers, regular commercial importers, etc.) rather than to or for the use of individuals or others (tourists, churches, schools, occasional importers, etc.) for noncommercial purposes.

(b) The price of each salable customs form shall be established by the Commissioner of Customs and shall be adjusted periodically as the varying costs of printing and distribution require. A list of salable customs forms showing the price at which each is sold shall be prominently posted in each customhouse in a location accessible to the general public.

(c) Customs forms for sale to the general public, except unusually large or otherwise unsuitable forms, shall normally be prepared in units containing 100 copies. If a completely prepared bill or receipt is presented by the purchaser at the time of the purchase, the collector's paid stamp shall be impressed thereon; otherwise, no receipt shall be given.

(Sec. 1, 37 Stat. 434; 19 U.S.C. 1)

§ 24.16 Overtime services; overtime compensation; rate of compensation.

(a) General. Customs services for which overtime compensation is provided for by section 5 of the Act of February 13, 1911, as amended (19 U. S. C. 267),[29] or

[29] "The Secretary of the Treasury shall fix a reasonable rate of extra compensation for overtime services of inspectors, storekeepers, weighers, and other customs officers and employees who may be required to remain on duty between the hours of five o'clock postmeridian and eight o'clock antemeridian, or on Sundays or holidays, to perform services in connection with the lading or unlading of cargo, or the lading of cargo or merchandise for transportation in bond or for exportation in bond or for exportation with benefit of drawback, or in connection with the receiving or delivery of cargo on or from the wharf, or in connection with the unlading, receiving, or examination of passengers' baggage, such rates to be fixed on the basis of one-half day's additional pay for each two hours or fraction thereof of at least one hour that the overtime extends beyond five o'clock postmeridian (but not to exceed two and one-half days' pay for the full period from five o'clock postmeridian to eight o'clock antemeridian), and two additional days' pay for Sunday or holiday duty. The said extra compensation shall be paid by the master, owner, agent, or consignee of such vessel or other conveyance whenever such special license or permit for immediate lading or unlading or for lading or unlading at night or on Sundays or holidays shall be granted to the collector of customs, who shall pay the same to the several customs officers and employees entitled thereto according to the rates fixed therefor by the Secretary of the Treasury. Such extra compensation shall be paid if such officers or employees have been ordered to report for duty and have so reported, whether the actual lading, unlading, receiving, delivery, or examination takes place or not. In those ports where customary working hours are other than those hereinabove mentioned, the collector of customs section 451, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,[4] shall be furnished only upon compliance with the requirements of those statutes for applying for such services and giving security for the reimbursement of the overtime compensation, unless the compensation is nonreimbursable under the said section 451. Reimbursements of overtime compensation shall be collected by the collectors from the applicants for the services. Customs employees shall not receive overtime compensation for services performed on regular tours of duty at night, but no regular tour of duty shall embrace any part of a Sunday or holiday if the services performed are such that extra compensation would be payable if performed at the request of a private interest. Reimbursable overtime services shall not be furnished to an applicant who fails to cooperate with the Customs Service by filing a seasonable application therefor during regular hours of business when the need for the services can reasonably be foreseen, nor in any case until the maximum probable reimbursement is adequately secured.

(b) Night, Sunday, and holiday defined. For the purposes of this section the word "night" shall mean the time between 5 p. m. of any day and 8 a. m. of the following day, or between the corresponding hours at ports or stations where regular hours for the transaction of the general class of customs business involved other than those from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. have been established to agree with local prevailing working hours, but shall not include any such time within the 24 hours of a Sunday or holiday. The night hours at the end of the regular workday immediately preceding a Sunday or holiday and the night hours at the beginning of the next regular workday shall be considered for the purposes of this section as parts of a single night. For such purpose the term "holiday" shall include only days on which customs employees generally are not required to work and which are usually observed as national holidays.[5] The time accounted for as overtime shall be computed on the basis of the regular hours for the performance of the particular work of the assignment, even though such hours differ from the regular working hours of the employee assigned,[5a] but no extra compensation shall be paid pursuant to this section for any services performed by an employee at his regular post or elsewhere during a regular tour of duty of such employee.

(c) Application and bond. (1) Except as provided for in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, an application for services of customs employees at night or on a Sunday or holiday, customs Form 3171, or 3853, supported by the required cash deposit or bond, shall be filed in the office of the collector before the assignment of such employees for reimbursable overtime services. The cash deposit to secure reimbursement shall be fixed by the collector or his authorized representative in an amount sufficient to pay the maximum probable compensation and expenses of the customs employees in connection with the particular services requested. The bond to secure reimbursement shall be on customs Form 7597 or 7599 and in an amount to be fixed by the collector, unless another bond containing a provision to secure reimbursement is on file.

(2) Prior to the expected arrival of a pleasure vessel or private aircraft the collector may designate a customs employee to proceed to the place of expected arrival to receive an application for night, Sunday, or holiday services in connection with the arrival of such vessel or aircraft, together with the required cash deposit or bond. In each such case the assignment to perform services shall be conditional upon the receipt of the appropriate application and security.

(3) An application on customs Form 3853 for overtime services of customs employees, when supported by the required cash deposit or bond on customs Form 7599, may be granted for any period not longer than for 1 year nor longer than the period of the supporting bond. In such a case, the application must show the exact times when the overtime services will be needed, unless arrangements are made so that the proper customs officer will be seasonably notified during official hours in advance of the services requested as to the exact times that the services will be needed.

(d) Assignment. Customs employees may be ordered to report for any overtime duty sufficiently in advance of the time specified by the applicant to avoid unnecessary delay, but in no case more than 1 hour in advance of the time so specified unless the specified time is subject to change without reasonable notice as in the case of some aircraft arrivals. If no time can be specified for the services to begin, the employees required and is vested with authority to regulate the hours of customs employees so as to agree with prevailing working hours in said ports, but nothing contained in this section shall be construed in any manner to affect or alter the length of a working day for customs employees or the overtime pay herein fixed." (19 U. S. C. 267)

[4] "Before any such special license to unlade shall be granted, the master, owner, or agent of such vessel or vehicle, or the person in charge of such vehicle, shall be required to deposit sufficient money to pay, or to give a bond in an amount to be fixed by the Secretary conditioned to pay, the compensation and expenses of the customs officers and employees assigned to duty in connection with such unlading at night or on Sunday or a holiday, in accordance with the provisions of section 5 of the Act of February 13, 1911, as amended (U. S. C., 1952 edition, title 19, sec. 267). In lieu of such deposit or bond the owner or agent of any vessel or vehicle or line of vessels or vehicles may execute a bond in an amount to be fixed by the Secretary of the Treasury to cover and include the issuance of special licenses for the unlading of such vessels or vehicles for a period not to exceed one year. Upon a request made by the owner, master, or person in charge of a vessel or vehicle, or by or on behalf of a common carrier or by or on behalf of the owner or consignee of any merchandise or baggage, for overtime services of customs officers or employees at night or on a Sunday or holiday, the collector shall assign sufficient customs officers or employees if available to perform any such services which may lawfully be performed by them during regular hours of business, but only if the person requesting such services deposits sufficient money to pay, or gives a bond in an amount to be fixed by the collector, conditioned to pay the compensation and expenses of such customs officers and employees, who shall be entitled to rates of compensation fixed on the same basis and payable in the same manner and upon the same terms and conditions as in the case of customs officers and employees assigned to duty in connection with lading or unlading at night or on Sunday or a holiday. Nothing in this section shall be construed to impair the existing authority of the Treasury Department to assign customs officers or employees to regular tours of duty at nights or on Sundays or holidays when such assignments are in the public interest: Provided, That the provisions of this section, sections 450 and 452 of this Act, and the provisions of section 5 of the Act of February 13, 1911, as amended (U. S. C., title 19, sec. 267), insofar as such section 5 requires payment of compensation by the master, owner, agent, or consignee of a vessel or conveyance, shall not apply to the owner, operator, or agent of a highway vehicle, bridge, tunnel, or ferry, between the United States and Canada or between the United States and Mexico, nor to the lading or unlading of merchandise, baggage, or persons arriving in or departing from the United States by motor vehicle, trolley car, on foot, or by other means of highway travel upon, over, or through any highway, bridge, tunnel, or ferry. At ports of entry and customs stations where any merchandise, baggage, or persons shall arrive in or depart from the United States by motor vehicle, trolley car, on foot, or by other means of highway travel upon, over, or through any highway, bridge, tunnel, or ferry, between the United States and Canada or between the United States and Mexico, the collector, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, shall assign customs officers and employees to duty at such times during the twenty-four hours of each day, including Sundays and holidays, as the Secretary of the Treasury in his discretion may determine to be necessary to facilitate the inspection and passage of such merchandise, baggage, or persons. Officers and employees assigned to such duty at night or on Sunday or a holiday shall be paid compensation in accordance with existing law as interpreted by the United States Supreme Court in the case of the United States v. Howard C. Myers (320 U. S. 561); but all compensation payable to such customs officers and employees shall be paid by the United States without requiring any license, bond, obligation, financial undertaking, or payment in connection therewith on the part of any owner, operator, or agent of any such highway vehicle, bridge, tunnel, or ferry, or other person. As used in this section, the term 'ferry' shall mean a passenger service operated with the use of vessels which arrive in the United States on regular schedules at intervals of at least once each hour during any period in which customs service is to be furnished without reimbursement as above provided." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 451, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1451)

[5] The days usually observed as national holidays are: January 1, February 22, May 30, July 4, the first Monday in September, November 11, Thanksgiving Day, and December 25.

[5a] For example: At a port where the regular hours of business have been fixed at 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. for the inside force and 7 a. m. to 4 p. m. for the outside force, a clerk whose regular working hours are 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. is not entitled to reimbursable extra compensation if assigned to inspectional work from 7 a. m. to 8 a. m. on a week day, since he works within the regular hours for the service to which he is assigned.

available shall be assigned to the overtime duty as soon as practicable. Customs employees shall not be deemed available to perform reimbursable overtime services at night unless the total time of service, including waiting time, will be at least one hour, but nothing in this section shall prohibit the collector or other administrative officer from requiring an employee to perform, before he leaves his duty status and without extra compensation under the act of February 13, 1911, as amended, any work which is pending at the beginning of the night and can be completed in less than 1 hour. No customs employee shall be assigned on a weekday, or for more than an aggregate of 8 hours on a Sunday or holiday, to any overtime service for which nonreimbursable extra compensation is payable, except under special authorization from the Commissioner of Customs.

(e) Nonperformance of requested services. If services which have been requested and for which employees have reported are not performed by reason of circumstances beyond the control of the employees concerned, extra compensation shall be paid and collected on the same basis as though the services had actually been performed during the period between the time the employees were ordered to report for duty and did so report and the time they were notified that their services would not be required, and in any case as though actual performance had continued for at least 1 hour.

(f) Broken periods. When overtime services at night or on a Sunday or holiday are rendered in broken periods and less than 2 hours intervene between such broken periods, the intervening waiting time, including any time required for travel between posts of overtime duty but not including any periods for meals or other time not spent at the post of duty, shall be included in the computation of overtime compensation as though the services had been continuous. If 2 hours or more intervene between periods during which services are actually performed, the collector shall determine according to the circumstances of the case whether the service shall be treated as continuous with compensable waiting time or as two or more distinct assignments with compensation to be computed separately for each assignment in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (g) of this section. In no case shall any employee be entitled to receive more than 2½ days' pay by reason of the fact that he is given two or more assignments during one night.

(g) Rate for night service. The reasonable rate of extra compensation for authorized overtime services performed by customs employees at night on any weekday is hereby fixed at one-half of the gross daily rate of regular pay of the employee who performs the service for each 2 hours of compensable time, any fraction of 2 hours amounting to at least 1 hour to be counted as 2 hours. The compensable time shall be the period between the beginning of the night and the conclusion of the services if the employee is assigned and reports for duty before the expiration of the first 4 hours of the night; the period between the time the employee is assigned and reports for duty and the conclusion of the services, plus 4 hours, if the time of assignment is after the expiration of the first 4 and before the beginning of the last 2 hours of the night; or 2 hours if the employee is assigned and reports for duty 2 hours or less before the end of the night. However, if an employee performs Sunday or holiday services which are in continuation of an assignment to overtime services begun during the last 2 night hours at the end of the regular workday preceding such Sunday or holiday, the compensable time for the overtime services preceding the Sunday or holiday shall be 2 hours; or if an employee performs overtime services during the night hours at the beginning of the next regular workday following a Sunday or holiday which overtime services are in continuation of an assignment begun on the Sunday or holiday immediately preceding such regular workday, the compensable time for the overtime services following such Sunday or holiday shall be the period between midnight of such Sunday or holiday and the conclusion of the overtime services. The compensable time for overtime service performed by a customs employee assigned to a regular tour of duty covering any part of a night shall be computed in accordance with this night rate as though the beginning of the regular tour of duty of such employee marked the end of a night period and the close of such tour marked the beginning of another night period, but extra compensation is not payable in accordance with this section for overtime services performed by any customs employee on a regular workday during other than the night hours of the port or station. The total extra compensation paid pursuant to this section to a customs employee for overtime services performed during one night shall not exceed 2½ times the gross daily rate of his regular pay.

(h) Rate for Sunday or holiday service. The reasonable rate of extra compensation for Sunday or holiday services is hereby fixed at twice the gross daily rate of regular pay of the employee who performs the service for any and all services totaling an aggregate of not more than 8 hours during the 24 hours from midnight to midnight of the Sunday or holiday, including actual waiting time and time required for travel between posts of duty but not including any periods for meals or other time not spent at the post of duty. This rate shall apply regardless of the length of time served within the aggregate of 8 hours, whether it is served continuously or in broken periods, and whether it is served for one or more applicants. Services in excess of an aggregate of 8 hours performed during the 24 hours of a Sunday or holiday shall be compensated on the same basis as overtime services performed at night on a weekday, the time between the completion of the aggregate of 8 hours and midnight being considered as the hours of a night.

(i) Part-time employees. The extra compensation for overtime services performed by a permanent part-time employee at night or on a Sunday or holiday shall be computed on the basis of the gross daily rate of regular pay the part-time employee would receive for full-time service in the position held by him. Customs employees who are paid on a per-diem-when-employed basis shall be paid the overtime rate but not the per-diem rate when assigned to perform overtime services on a Sunday or holiday.

(j) Proration of charges. If services are performed for two or more applicants during one continuous tour of overtime duty, the charge for the extra compensation earned shall be prorated equitably according to the time attributable to the services performed for each applicant. For the purpose of this paragraph the Government shall be considered the applicant for nonreimbursable overtime services.

(k) Participation in overtime work. In general, services for which extra compensation is payable in accordance with this section, or for which reimbursement is required in accordance with § 24.17, shall be performed by employees who are regularly assigned to perform the same class of work during their regular tours of duty, but when the collector or other administrative field officer concerned finds that the needs of the service so require he is hereby authorized to assign any other available and competent employee to perform such services and such employees while so assigned shall be deemed acting inspectors, acting customs warehouse officers, etc., as the case may be.

(Sec. 5, 36 Stat. 901, as amended, secs. 450, 451, 452, 46 Stat. 715, as amended, sec. 6, 49 Stat. 1385, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 261, 267, 1450, 1451, 1452, 46 U.S.C. 382b)

§ 24.17 Other services of officers; reimbursable.

(a) Amounts chargeable to private interests in connection with services rendered by customs officers or employees under one or more of the following circumstances shall be collected from such private interests and deposited by collectors of customs as repayments to the appropriations from which paid.

(1) When a customs officer or employee is assigned on board a vessel or vehicle under authority of section 457, Tariff Act of 1930, to protect the revenue, the owner or master of such vessel or vehicle shall be charged the full compensation and authorized travel and subsistence expenses of such officer or employee from the time he leaves his official station until he returns thereto.

(2) When a customs officer or employee is assigned on board a vessel under authority of section 458, Tariff Act of 1930, to supervise the unlading of such vessel, the master or owner of such vessel shall be charged the full compensation of such officer or employee for every day consumed in unlading after the expiration of 25 days after the date of the vessel's entry.

(3) When a customs officer or employee is assigned under authority of section 304, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, to supervise the exportation, destruction, or marking to exempt arti-

cies from the duty provided for in such section, the importer of such merchandise shall be charged the full compensation and authorized travel and subsistence expenses of such officer or employee from the time he leaves his official station until he returns thereto.

(4) When a customs officer or employee is assigned pursuant to § 1.2 of this chapter to a customs station or other place which is not a port of entry for service in connection with the entry or clearance of a vessel, the owner, master, or agent of the vessel shall be charged the full compensation and authorized travel and subsistence expenses of such officer or employee from the time he leaves his official station until he returns. When a customs officer or employee is so assigned to render service in connection with the entry or delivery of merchandise only, the private interest shall be charged only for the authorized travel and subsistence expenses incurred by such officer or employee from the time he leaves his official station until he returns thereto except that no collection need be made if the total amount chargeable against one importer for one day amounts to less than 50 cents (see § 1.2 (c) of this chapter). Where the amount chargeable is 50 cents or more, but less than $1, a minimum charge of $1 shall be made.

(5) When a customs officer or employee is assigned under authority of section 447, Tariff Act of 1930, to make entry of a vessel at a place other than a port of entry or to supervise the unlading of cargo, the private interest shall be charged the full compensation and authorized travel and subsistence expenses of such officer or employee from the time he leaves his official station until he returns thereto.

(6) When a customs officer or employee is assigned under authority of section 19 (a) of the Customs Administrative Act of June 25, 1938 (46 U. S. C. 331), to measure or certify the tonnage of a vessel at the request of the owner thereof at a place other than a port of entry or a customs station, such owner shall be charged the full compensation and authorized travel and subsistence expenses of such officer or employee from the time he leaves his official station until he returns thereto.

(7) When a customs officer or employee is assigned on any vessel or vehicle, under authority of section 456, Tariff Act of 1930, while proceeding from one port to another, the master or owner of such vessel or vehicle shall be charged the full compensation and authorized travel and subsistence expenses of such officer or employee from the time he leaves his official station until he returns thereto, or, in lieu of such expenses, the master or owner may furnish such officer or employee the accommodations usually supplied to passengers.

(8) When a customs officer or employee[see] is assigned under authority of section 562, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, to supervise the manipulation of merchandise at a place other than a bonded warehouse, the compensation and expenses of such officer or employee shall be reimbursed to the Government by the party in interest.

(9) When a customs officer or employee is assigned to supervise the destruction of merchandise pursuant to section 557 (c), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, at a place where a customs employee is not regularly assigned, the full compensation and expenses of such officer or employee shall be reimbursed to the Government by the party in interest.

(10) When fur or wool products are labeled under customs supervision in accordance with §§ 11.12 (b) and 11.12a (b) of this chapter, the compensation and expenses of customs officers and employees assigned to supervise the labeling shall be reimbursed to the Government by the party in interest.

(11) When a customs officer or employee is assigned to supervise examination, sampling, weighing, repacking, segregation, or other operation on merchandise in accordance with §§ 8.5(b), 15.2, 15.3(b) and 15.10 of this chapter, the compensation and other expenses of such officer or employee shall be reimbursed to the Government by the party-in-interest except when a warehouse proprietor is liable therefor.

(b) When a customs officer or employee is assigned to render services the nature of which is such that the private interest is required to reimburse the Government for his compensation and on the same assignment performs services for which compensation is not reimbursable, a charge shall be made to the private interest for the full compensation of the customs employee unless the time devoted to each class of service can be clearly segregated.

(c) The charge for any service enumerated in this section for which expenses are required to be reimbursed shall include actual transportation expenses and any authorized per diem expenses of a customs employee whether the services are performed within or without the port limits, except that no charge shall be made for transportation expenses when a customs employee is reporting to, as a first assignment, or leaving from as a last assignment, a place where he is regularly assigned to duty.

(d) The reimbursable compensation charge shall be computed in accordance with § 19.5 (b) of this chapter.

(Secs. 456, 524, 557, 562, 46 Stat. 716, 741, as amended, 744, as amended, 745, as amended, sec. 1, 24 Stat. 79, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1456, 1524, 1557, 1562, 46 U.S.C. 331)

§ 24.25 Claims for surplus proceeds of sale of unclaimed merchandise.

Claims for the surplus proceeds of the sale of unclaimed merchandise shall be filed with the collector of customs at whose direction the merchandise was sold. Such claims shall be supported by the original bill of lading. If only a part of a shipment is involved, either a photostatic or a certified copy of the original bill of lading may be submitted in lieu of the original bill of lading.

(Secs. 491, 493, 46 Stat. 726, as amended, 727; 19 U.S.C. 1491, 1493)

§ 24.32 Claims; unpaid compensation of deceased employees and death benefits.

(a) A claim made by a designated beneficiary or a surviving spouse for unpaid compensation due an officer or employee at the time of his death shall be executed on standard Form 1153, Claim of Designated Beneficiary and/or Surviving Spouse for Unpaid Compensation of Deceased Civilian Employee. A claim made by anyone other than a designated beneficiary or surviving spouse for unpaid compensation due an officer or employee at the time of his death shall be executed on standard Form 1155, Claim for Unpaid Compensation of Deceased Civilian Employee. The claims shall be forwarded to the customs office where the deceased was employed.

(b) Claims for death benefits, either in the form of an annuity or lump-sum payment of the amount to the credit of the deceased officer or employee in the Retirement and Disability Fund shall be executed on standard Form 100, Application for Death Benefit, and forwarded together with a certified copy of the public record of death directly to the Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

(Secs. 1, 3, 64 Stat. 395, 396, sec. 11, 41 Stat. 619, as amended; 5 U. S. C. 61f, 61h, 724)

§ 24.34 Vouchers; vendors' bills of sale; invoices.

(a) Vouchers or invoices for transportation and related services which are intended for payment from official funds shall contain the following certification signed by the claimant:

I certify that the above bill is correct and just and that payment has not been received.

Vouchers, vendors' bills of sale, or invoices for purchases or services other than personal do not require the foregoing certification.

(b) Every voucher shall be in the name of the person or persons furnishing the service or supplies, except in the case of a service or supplies paid for in an emergency by a customs officer or employee, in which case the voucher may be in the name of the officer or employee who made the payment.

(c) The signature of a claimant made by a mark shall be attested in each case by a disinterested witness.

(d) The dates appearing on vouchers and on receipts filed in support thereof shall always be the actual dates of the transactions recorded or action taken thereon. As many copies in memorandum form, duly authenticated if desired, may be prepared as administrative or other requirements demand.

(e) When an erasure, interlineation, or change of any kind is made in a voucher after it has been certified by the claimant, such correction or change shall be initialed and dated by the claimant.

(f) (1) Vouchers for passenger transportation furnished customs officers or employees on Government transportation requests, standard Form 1169, and vouchers for transportation of freight and express furnished on Government bills of lading, standard Form 1103, issued by customs officers or employees shall be rendered on Public Voucher for Transportation Charges, standard Form 1171 or 1113, respectively, to the customs office to be billed as indicated on the transportation request or bill of lading.

(2) Charges for freight or express must not be included on the same vouchers with charges for passenger transportation. The words "Passenger," "Freight," or "Express," as the case may be, should be printed or otherwise placed by the carrier immediately above the title of the voucher form. Original Government bills of lading, standard Form 1103, or transportation requests, standard Form 1169, or certificates in lieu thereof, standard Forms 1108 or 1172, respectively, shall be attached to these vouchers.

(Sec. 22, 28 Stat. 210, R.S. 4179, secs. 2, 3, 23 Stat. 118, as amended, 119, as amended, secs. 1–3, 41 Stat. 436, as amended, 437, as amended; 41 U.S.C. 21, 46 U.S.C. 2, 3, 50–53)

§ 24.36 Refunds of excessive duties, taxes, etc.*

(a) When it is found on liquidation or reliquidation of an entry that a refund of excessive duties or taxes, or both, is due, a notice of refund on customs Form 5269 shall be prepared at the headquarters port in the name of the person to whom the refund is due, as determined by paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section. If an authority to mail checks to someone other than the payee, customs Form 4811, is on file with the collector, the address of the payee shall be shown as in care of the address of the authorized person. If a power of attorney is on file with the collector, the address of the payee may be shown as in care of the address of such attorney if requested.

(b) Refunds of excessive duties or taxes shall be certified for payment to the importer of record unless a transferee of the right to withdraw merchandise from bonded warehouse is entitled to receive the refund under section 557 (b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, or an owner's declaration has been filed in accordance with section 485 (d), Tariff Act of 1930. The certification of a refund for payment to a nominal consignee may be made prior to the expiration of the 90-day period within which an owner's declaration may be filed as prescribed in section 485 (d) of the tariff act, provided the nominal consignee waives in writing his right to file such declaration. If an owner's declaration has been duly filed, the refund shall be certified for payment to the actual owner who executed the declaration, except that, whether or not an owner's declaration has been filed refunds shall be certified for payment to a transferee provided for in section 557 (b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, if the moneys with respect to which the refund was allowed were paid by such transferee.

(c) If the nominal consignee has become bankrupt, refunds of duties or internal revenue taxes on merchandise entered in the name of such nominal consignee for the account of the actual owner shall be withheld from payment pending the receipt of a claim therefor and the establishment of rights thereto, unless the declaration of the actual owner has been filed with the collector under section 485 (d), Tariff Act of 1930.

(d) The authority of collectors of customs to make refunds pursuant to paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of this section of excessive deposits of alcohol or tobacco taxes, as defined in section 6423(e)(1), Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (26 U.S.C. 6423(e)(1)),[†] is confined to cases of the types which are excepted from the application of section 6423, Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (26 U.S.C. 6423). The excepted types of cases and, therefore, the types in which the collector of customs is authorized to make refunds of such taxes are those in which:

(1) The tax was paid or collected on an article imported for the personal or household use of the importer;

(2) The refund is made pursuant to provisions of laws and regulations for drawback;

(3) The tax was paid or collected on an imported article withdrawn from the market, returned to bond, or lost or destroyed, when any law expressly provides for refund in such case;

(4) The tax was paid or collected on an imported article which has been lost, where a suit or proceeding was instituted before June 15, 1957;

(5) The refund of tax is pursuant to a claim based solely on errors of computation of the quantity of the imported article, or on mathematical errors in computation of the tax due;

(6) The tax was paid or collected on an imported article seized and forfeited, or destroyed, as contraband;

(7) The tax was paid or collected on an imported article refused admission to customs territory and exported or destroyed in accordance with section 558, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended;

(8) The refund of tax is pursuant to a reliquidation of an entry under section 520(c)(1), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and does not involve a rate of tax applicable to an imported article; or

(9) The tax was paid or collected on a greater quantity of imported articles than that actually imported and the fact of the deficiency is established to the collector of customs' satisfaction before liquidation of the entry becomes final.

(e) In any instance in which a refund of internal-revenue tax on imported distilled spirits, wines, and beer, is not of a type covered by paragraph (d) of this section the following procedure shall apply:

(1) The collector shall issue a notice of refund for duty only and shall place the following statement on the notice of refund issued for duty: "Claim for refund of any overpayment of internal-revenue tax on this entry must be executed and filed with the assistant regional commissioner (alcohol and tobacco tax) of the internal revenue region in which the claimant is located, in accordance with internal revenue regulations (Title 26 of the Code of Federal Regulations)." On request of the claimant, the collector shall issue a certified statement on customs letterhead identifying the entry, showing the amount of internal revenue tax deposited with respect to each entry for which a claim on internal revenue Form 843 is to be made, and showing the date of issuance of the notice of refund of duty.

(2) The claim shall be executed on internal revenue Form 843 (original only) which may be procured from offices of the Internal Revenue Service and shall be filed with the assistant regional commissioner (alcohol and tobacco tax) of the internal revenue region in which the claimant is located. The certified statement shall be attached to and filed in support of such claim which may include refunds under more than one entry but shall be limited to refunds under entries filed in the same customs collection district and the same internal revenue region. The data to be shown on the claim shall be as prescribed in internal revenue regulations, with the exception that any data on the certified statement also required to be shown in the claim need not be restated in the claim.

(3) The date of allowance of refund or credit in respect of such tax for the purposes of section 6407, Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (26 U.S.C. 6407) shall be that date on which a claim is perfected and the refund is authorized for scheduling under the applicable internal revenue regulations.

(72 Stat. 9; 26 U.S.C. 6423)

* "(a) The Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized to refund duties or other receipts in the following cases:

"(1) Excess deposits. Whenever it is ascertained on liquidation or reliquidation of an entry that more money has been deposited or paid as duties than was required by law to be so deposited or paid;

"(2) Fees, charges, and exactions. Whenever it is determined in the manner required by law that any fees, charges, or exactions, other than duties and taxes, have been erroneously or excessively collected; and

"(3) Fines, penalties, and forfeitures. Whenever money has been deposited in the Treasury on account of a fine, penalty, or forfeiture which did not accrue, or which is finally determined to have accrued in an amount less than that so deposited, or which is mitigated to an amount less than that so deposited or is remitted." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 520(a), as amended; 10 U.S.C. 1520(a)).

The refunding of moneys in compliance with any ruling or decision of the Customs Court is the function of the Secretary of the Treasury, and there is no foundation for a suit against the collector of customs to restrain him from disposal of such moneys.

Payment of costs and interest upon refunds in customs cases is not allowed.

† "(e) Meaning of terms. For purposes of this section—

(1) Alcohol or Tobacco Tax. The term 'alcohol or tobacco tax' means—

(A) Any tax imposed by chapter 51 (other than part II of subchapter A, relating to occupational taxes) or by chapter 52 or by any corresponding provision of prior internal revenue laws, and

(B) In the case of any commodity of a kind subject to a tax described in subparagraph (A), any tax equal to any such tax, any additional tax, or any floor stocks tax." (26 U.S.C. 6423(e)(1)).

§ 24.70 Claims; deceased or incompetent public creditors.

(a) Claims for amounts due individual deceased public creditors of the United States (except civilian officers and employees subject to the provisions of section 61f–61k, title 5, United States Code), should be made on standard Form No. 1055—Revised. Such claims include claims for payments due deceased contractors for articles furnished or services performed, and claims for payments due deceased importers or owners of merchandise on account of refunds of excessive duties, or taxes, or for payment of drawback, etc. Claims for payment of Government checks drawn on the Treasurer of the United States or other authorized Government depositary to the order of such public creditors, which cannot be paid because of the death of the payee, should be stated on standard Form 1055—Revised. Information should be furnished regarding the disposition of these checks in case they are not in possession of the claimant, otherwise they should accompany the claim.

(b) No form is prescribed for use of a guardian or committee of an estate of an incompetent in making claim for sums due from the United States. Such guardian or committee may submit in letter form, over his address and signature, an application for amounts due an estate of an incompetent, setting forth the incompetent's connection with the Bureau of Customs. This application should be supported by a short certificate of the court showing the appointment and qualification of the claimant as guardian or committee. In case the total amount due the estate of the incompetent is small, and no guardian or committee of the estate has been or will be appointed, the application may be submitted by the person or persons having care or custody of the incompetent, or by close relatives who will hold any amount found due for the use and benefit of the incompetent. Applications for recurring payments need not be accompanied by an additional certificate of the court. but should be supported by a statement that the appointment is still in full force and effect. All Government checks drawn on the Treasurer of the United States or other authorized Government depositary to the order of individuals which cannot be paid because of incompetency of the payee should accompany the claim, otherwise an explanation should be given as to the disposition of the check.

(c) Claims for payments due deceased or incompetent contractors should be submitted to the customs field officer at whose order the articles were furnished or services performed. Claims for refunds of excessive duties, or taxes, or for payment of drawback, etc., due deceased or incompetent public creditors should be submitted to the appropriate collector of customs. The customs field officer may grant necessary assistance to claimants to insure proper execution of standard Form 1055—Revised in the case of deceased public creditors, and in the case of incompetent public creditors to insure submission of the application in proper form. The customs field officer should forward the claim, with his recommendation in duplicate, together with the originals or certified copies of all documents and papers necessary to establish the claimant's right to the moneys due, to the Bureau of Customs, Attention: Fiscal Section, for administrative examination and transmission to the General Accounting Office for direct settlement.

§ 24.71 Claims for personal injury or damages to or loss of privately owned property.

Procedures for the settlement of claims arising from actions of Treasury Department employees are published in 31 CFR Part 3.

§ 24.72 Claims; set-off.

When an importer of record has a judgment or other claim allowed by legal authority against the United States, and he is indebted to the United States either as principal or surety, the collector shall not certify for payment so much of such judgment or claim as will equal the amount of the debt due the Government and shall report the facts to the Bureau for instructions.

§ 24.73 Miscellaneous claims.

Every claim of whatever nature arising under the customs laws which is not otherwise provided for shall be forwarded directly to the Bureau, together with all supporting documents and information available.

25.19 Cancellation of erroneous charges.

AUTHORITY: §§ 25.1 to 25.19 issued under R.S. 161, 251, secs. 623, 624, 46 Stat. 759; 5 U.S.C. 22, 19 U.S.C. 66, 1623, 1624. Statutory provisions interpreted or applied and other special rule making authority are cited to text in parentheses.

§ 25.1 Classes of bonds.

All bonds required to be given under the customs statutes or regulations shall be known as customs bonds and shall consist of two classes. Those approved by the Bureau and those approved by collectors of customs.[1]

[1] "(a) In any case in which bond or other security is not specifically required by law, the Secretary of the Treasury may by regulation or specific instruction require, or authorize collectors of customs to require, such bonds or other security as he, or they, may deem necessary for the protection of the revenue or to assure compliance with any provision of law, regulation, or instruction which the Secretary of the Treasury or the Customs Service may be authorized to enforce.

"(b) Whenever a bond is required or authorized by a law, regulation, or instruction which the Secretary of the Treasury or the Customs Service is authorized to enforce, the Secretary of the Treasury may—

"(1) Except as otherwise specifically provided by law, prescribe the conditions and form of such bond, and fix the amount of penalty thereof, whether for the payment of liquidated damages or of a penal sum: Provided, That when a consolidated bond authorized by paragraph 4 of this subsection is taken, the Secretary of the Treasury may fix the penalty of such bond without regard to any other provision of law, regulation, or instruction.

"(2) Provide for the approval of the sureties on such bond, without regard to any general provision of law.

"(3) Authorize the execution of a term bond the conditions of which shall extend to and cover similar cases of importations over such period of time, not to exceed one year, or such longer period as he may fix when in his opinion special circumstances existing in a particular instance require such longer period.

"(4) Authorize, to the extent that he may deem necessary, the taking of a consolidated bond (single entry or term) in lieu of separate bonds to assure compliance with two or more provisions of law, regulations, or instructions which the Secretary of the Treasury or the Customs Service is authorized to enforce. A consolidated bond taken pursuant to the authority contained in this subsection shall have the same force and effect in respect of every provision of law, regulation, or instruction for the purposes for which it is required as though separate bonds had been taken to assure compliance with each such provision.

"(c) The Secretary of the Treasury may authorize the cancellation of any bond provided for in this section, or of any charge that may have been made against such bond, in the event of a breach of any condition of the bond, upon the payment of such lesser amount or penalty or upon such other terms and conditions as he may deem sufficient.

"(d) No condition in any bond taken to assure compliance with any law, regulation, or instruction which the Secretary of the Treasury or the Customs Service is authorized to enforce shall be held invalid on the ground that such condition is not specified in the law, regulation, or instruction authorizing or requiring the taking of such bonds. * * *." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 623, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1623)

§ 25.3 Bonds approved by Bureau; form and execution.

(a) The following bonds, after execution by the principals and sureties shall be forwarded to the Bureau for approval:

(1) Proprietor's manufacturing warehouse bond, class 6, customs Form 3583, in an amount to be recommended by the collector, but not less than $5,000 on each building or area and not more than $50,000 on all buildings or areas, unless the Bureau believes additional security necessary. Buildings connected by loading platforms or sheds shall be considered as separate buildings. It shall be prepared in duplicate and, after execution by the principal and surety, delivered to the collector of customs to be forwarded to the Bureau with his recommendation, together with all reports, documents, and drawings filed in connection therewith.

(2) Cartage contract bond, customs Form 3083, in an amount to be recommended in each case by the collector. The cartage contract and bond shall be executed in quadruplicate.

(3) Blanket smelting and refining bond in the form prescribed by T.D. 50267, as amended by T.D. 52403, in an amount to be recommended by the collector and fixed by the Bureau.

(b) A blanket term bond shall be accompanied by a sufficient number of copies for transmittal, through the Bureau, to each port at which the principal seeks to conduct business.

§ 25.4 Bonds approved by collectors; form and execution.

(a) The following bonds shall be approved by the collector and remain on file in his office, except customs Form 4615, which shall be transmitted to the United States attorney:

(1) Carrier's bond, custom Form 3587, in an amount to be determined by the collector.

(2) Proprietor's warehouse bond, customs Form 3581, in the amount of $5,000 on each building or area covered, but not to exceed $50,000 on all buildings or areas unless the collector believes additional security necessary. Buildings connected by loading platforms or sheds shall be considered as separate buildings. All reports, documents, and drawings submitted in connection with the bonding of the warehouse shall be filed with the bond.

(3) Bond of customs cartman or lighterman, customs Form 3855, in such amount as the collector deems, necessary, but not less than $5,000, and not more than $50,000, unless the collector deems the latter amount insufficient and reports the matter to the Bureau for action, in which case the bond shall be in the amount specified by the Bureau.

(4) Bond of claimant of seized goods for costs of judicial condemnation, customs Form 4615, in the amount of $250.

(5) Bond to produce shipper's export declaration for goods exported to Canada by rail, customs Form 7303, in such amount as the collector may deem necessary.

(6) Term bond to produce shipper's export declaration for goods exported to Canada by rail, in such amount as the collector may deem necessary.

(7) Special single entry carpet wool and camel's hair bond, customs Form 7547, in an amount equal to the value of the wool or hair involved plus double the estimated duty, as determined at the time of entry.

(8) Special term carpet wool and camel's hair bond, customs Form 7549, in the amount of $10,000, or such larger amount as the collector may deem necessary.

(9) Immediate delivery and consumption entry bond (single entry), customs Form 7551, in an amount equal to the value of the articles, as set forth in the entry, plus the estimated duty[2] (including any taxes required by law to be treated as duties) and the estimated amount of any other taxes imposed upon or by reason of importation, as determined at the time of entry except:

(i) When the merchandise involved will remain in customs custody until (a) examination has been completed, (b) it is found to be truly and correctly invoiced, and (c) it is determined that its release is not precluded by law or regulation and it is entitled to admission into the commerce of the United States, the bond shall be in an amount equal to the aggregate sum of double the estimated amount of ordinary customs duty on the merchandise (including any taxes required by law to be treated as duties) plus the estimated amount of any other tax or taxes on the merchandise collectible by the collector.

(ii) When the merchandise appears to the satisfaction of the collector to be unconditionally free of duty and not prohibited from admission into the commerce of the United States, the amount of the bond may be in such lesser amount (disregarding the value of the articles) as, in the opinion of the collector, will be sufficient to accomplish the purpose for which the bond is given, but in no case less than $100.

(iii) When the bond relates to an application for immediate delivery prior to entry, the amount shall be fixed as above set forth on the basis of the information shown in the application.

(10) Immediate delivery and consumption entry bond (term), customs Form 7553, in the amount of $10,000, or such larger amount as the collector may deem necessary. This bond shall be taken to cover only entries to be made at a single port and shall not be modified to cover more than one port. The rules prescribed in subparagraph (9) of this paragraph for determining the amount of the single immediate delivery and consumption entry bond shall be applied in making charges against immediate delivery and consumption entry term bonds.

(11) Warehouse entry bond, customs, Form 7555, in an amount equal to the aggregate sum of double the estimated amount of ordinary customs duty[2] on the merchandise (including any taxes required by law to be treated as duties) plus the estimated amount of any other tax or taxes on the merchandise collectible by the collector of customs.

(12) Single entry bond for exportation, or for transportation, or for transportation and exportation, customs Form 7557, in an amount equal to double the estimated duty.

(13) Term bond for exportation, or for transportation, or for transportation and exportation, customs Form 7559, in the amount of $10,000, or such larger amount as the collector may deem necessary to afford ample security to the revenue.

(14) Bond for articles entered or withdrawn from warehouse conditionally free of duty, customs Form 7561, in an amount equal to the aggregate sum of double the estimated amount of ordinary customs duty[2] on the merchandise (including any taxes required by law to be treated as duties) plus the estimated amount of any other tax or taxes on the merchandise collectible by the collector of customs.

(15) Bond for temporary importations, customs Form 7563, in an amount equal to one and one-quarter times the estimated duties, as determined at the time of entry.

(16) Term bond for temporary importations, customs Form 7563–A, in such amount as the collector may deem necessary, but in no case less than $1,000, unless the bond covers entries at 2 or more ports in which case the amount shall not be less than $10,000.

(17) Bond for articles for exhibition, customs Form 7565, in an amount equal to one and one-quarter times the estimated duties as determined at the time of entry.

(18) Single entry vessel, vehicle, or aircraft bond, customs Form 7567, in such amount as the collector may deem necessary, but in no case less than $1,000.

(19) Vessel, vehicle, or aircraft term bond, customs Form 7569, in the amount of $10,000, or such larger amount as the collector may deem necessary.

(20) Blanket vessel, vehicle, or aircraft term bond, customs Form 7569, in the amount of $10,000, or such larger amount as may be fixed by the collector of customs at the port where the bond is filed. A carrier desiring to execute such a bond shall file an application for permission to execute the bond with the collector of customs at any headquarters port. The bond shall be accompanied by a copy for each port named therein.

(21) Bond on entry for or withdrawal from manufacturing warehouse (single entry), customs Form 7571, in an amount equal to the aggregate sum of double the estimated amount of ordinary customs duty on the merchandise, as determined at the time of entry (including any taxes required by law to be treated as duties) plus the estimated amount of any other tax or taxes on the merchandise collectible by the collector of customs.

(22) Single entry bond to produce bill of lading, customs Form 7581, in an amount equal to one and one-half times the invoice value.

(23) Antidumping bond, customs Form 7591, in an amount equal to the estimated value of the merchandise.

(24) Landing bond, customs Form 7593, to land spirits, wines, or other alcoholic liquors in foreign ports, in an amount equal to double the estimated duty.

(25) General term bond for the entry of merchandise, customs Form 7595, in the amount of $100,000, or such larger

[2] When the bond is to cover merchandise granted a conditional right of entry at a reduced rate of duty, the amount of the bond shall be fixed on the basis of the maximum rate of duty prescribed by the law.

[2] When the bond is to cover merchandise granted a conditional right of entry at a reduced rate of duty, the amount of the bond shall be fixed on the basis of the maximum rate of duty prescribed by the law.

amount as may be fixed by the collector. A principal desiring to execute this form of bond shall file with a collector at any headquarters port to be named in the bond an application for permission to file the bond. The application shall show the ports at which it is intended to file entries; the general character of the merchandise to be entered; and the total amount of ordinary customs duties (including any taxes required by law to be treated as duties) accruing on all merchandise imported by the principal during the calendar year preceding the date of the application, plus the estimated amount of any other tax or taxes on the merchandise collectible by the collector of customs. Such total amount of duties and taxes shall be that which would have been required to be deposited had the merchandise been entered for consumption, even though some of or all the merchandise may have been entered under bond. If no imports were made during the calendar year prior to the application, a statement of the duties and taxes it is estimated will accrue on all importations during the current year shall be submitted.

(26) Single entry bond, customs Form 7597, in an amount deemed by the collector to be sufficient to secure the payment of overtime services requested by or on behalf of parties in interest.

(27) Term bond, customs Form 7599, in an amount deemed by the collector to be sufficient to secure the payment of overtime services requested by or on behalf of parties in interest.

(28) Bond for conditionally-free withdrawal of distilled spirits (including alcohol), wines, or beer for supplies of fishing vessels, customs Form 7603, in an amount equal to the duties and taxes that would have been assessed had the supplies been regularly entered, or withdrawn, for consumption. When the form is used as a term bond the bond shall be fixed in such larger amount as the collector may deem necessary.

(29) Special bond, taken under the provisions of section 337(f), Tariff Act of 1930, in the form prescribed in T.D. 45474. This bond shall be in an amount equal to the domestic value of the merchandise.

(30) Special bond in the form prescribed in T.D. 45474 for clearance of vessel penalized for carrying smoking opium or other narcotics under the provisions of section 584, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended. This bond shall be in an amount satisfactory to the collector to guarantee the payment of any fine imposed against the owner or master of the vessel.

(31) Special bond in the form prescribed in T.D. 45474 for exportation of convict-made goods, in an amount equal to the domestic value of the merchandise.

(32) Special bond for observance of neutrality in the form prescribed in T.D. 45474, in an amount equal to double the value of the vessel and cargo on board, including her armament.

(33) Superseding bond of the actual owner whose declaration has been filed pursuant to section 485(d), Tariff Act of 1930, to pay increased and additional duties imposed upon or by reason of importation, to redeliver merchandise for marking and other purposes, and to perform all required acts with respect to merchandise not entitled to admission into the commerce of the United States, customs Form 7601, in an amount equal to the amount of the single-entry bond or the bond charge which it supersedes.

(34) Bond for the control of certain instruments of international traffic, customs Form 7587, specified in § 10.41a of this chapter in the amount of $10,000, or such larger amounts as the collector may deem necessary to afford ample security to the revenue.

(b) The amount of any customs bond approved by the collector shall not be less than $100, except when the law or regulation expressly provides that a lesser amount may be taken. Fractional parts of a dollar shall be disregarded in computing the amount, which shall be stated always as the next higher dollar. The amount of the bond shall be stated both in words and figures. Abbreviations shall not be used, except in dates, descriptions of merchandise, and the marks and numbers on packages. Lines shall be drawn through all spaces not filled in.

(c) If a situation develops where the approved form of a bond is deemed to be inapplicable, the collector may draft a form which he believes will be sufficient, but before execution of the bond the case shall be submitted to the Bureau for its consideration and approval of the proposed form.

§ 25.5 General instructions.

(a) The names of the principal and sureties and their respective places of residence shall appear in full in the body of the bond. The signature of each party to a bond executed by a non-corporate principal or surety shall be witnessed by two persons, who shall sign their names as witnesses, followed by their addresses. No witnesses are required where bonds are executed by properly authorized officers or agents of a corporate principal or a corporate surety. If the bond is executed by an authorized officer of a corporation, the officer's signature shall be properly attested under the corporate seal.

(b) When two persons signing as witnesses act for both principal and surety, they shall so indicate by stating "as to both," or a similar term.

(c) Each bond shall bear the date of the day it was actually executed. The termination date of every term bond shall be the last day of the period and not the first day of a succeeding period; for example, January 1, 1940, to and including December 31, 1940, and not January 1, 1940, to January 1, 1941.

(d) A bond in which erasures, interlineations, or alterations occur shall have placed upon it a statement by an agent of the surety company or by the personal sureties that such erasures, interlineations, or alterations were made prior to this signing of the bond. If such alterations or erasures were made after the bond was signed, the consent of all the parties thereto shall be written in the bond.

§ 25.6 Seal.

(a) The seal on a bond approved by the Secretary of the Treasury or the Bureau shall be affixed adjoining the signatures of principals and sureties, if individuals, and the corporate seal shall be affixed adjoining the signatures of persons signing on behalf of the corporation.

(b) Bonds approved by collectors of customs shall be sealed in accordance with the law of the state in which executed, and when the charter or governing statute of a corporation requires its acts to be evidenced by its corporate seal, such seal is required.

§ 25.7 Partnerships as principals.

(a) Partnership bonds shall be executed in the firm name, with the name of the member or attorney of the firm executing it appearing immediately below the firm signature.[3]

(b) Unless written notice of the full names of all partners in the firm have been previously filed with the collector, the names of all persons composing the partnership shall appear in the body of the bond; for example, "A, B, and C, composing the firm of A, B, and Co."

§ 25.8 Corporations as principles.

(a) When a corporation is the principal, its legal designation and the address of its principal place of business shall be inserted in the body of the bond. The bond shall be signed by an authorized officer or attorney of such corporation and the corporate seal shall be affixed immediately adjoining the signature of the person executing the bond, as provided for in § 25.6 (b). When the bond is to be approved by the Secretary of the Treasury or the Bureau, the official character and authority of the person or persons executing the bond for the principal may be certified by the secretary, assistant secretary, or other officer of the corporation. Such certification shall be made by executing the certificate as to corporate principal appearing in the bond. In lieu of such certificate, there may be attached to the bond so much of the records of the corporation as will show the official character and authority of the officer signing, such evidence to consist of:

(1) A certificate from the proper public officer showing the legal existence of the corporation.

(2) A copy of the bylaws, or so much thereof as authorizes the execution of such bonds, certified by the secretary of the corporation and authenticated by its corporate seal.

[3] "When any bond is required by law or regulation to be executed by any partnership for any purpose connected with the transaction of business at any customhouse, the execution of such bond by any member of such partnership shall bind the other partners in like manner and to the same extent as if such other partners had personally joined in the execution, and an action or suit may be instituted on such bond against all partners as if all had executed the same." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 495; 19 U. S. C. 1495)

(3) A copy of the document authorizing such officer to sign such bonds, certified by the secretary of the corporation under the corporate seal, or a power of attorney executed in accordance with § 8.19 of this chapter containing such authority.

(b) When the bond is approved by the collector, the evidence prescribed in paragraph (a) of this section shall be filed with such officer. The collector may waive the production of evidence of incorporation when such fact is a matter of common knowledge and he shall so certify.

(c) When an attorney in fact executes a bond on behalf of a corporation and the bond is to be approved by the Secretary of the Treasury or the Bureau, there shall be attached a power of attorney executed under the corporate seal by an officer of the corporation whose authority to execute such power shall be shown as prescribed in paragraph (a) of this section. If the bond is to be approved by the collector, the power of attorney shall be filed with him on the prescribed form.

(d) The name of a corporation executing a customs bond may be printed or placed thereon by means of a rubber stamp or otherwise, followed by the written signature of the authorized officer or attorney.

§ 25.9 Individual sureties.

(a) If individuals sign as sureties, there shall be not less than two, except that, in the case of bonds, approved by the collector, one surety may be accepted if the collector is satisfied that such surety is sufficient for the protection of the Government. Every surety on a customs bond must be both a resident and a citizen of the United States. Before being accepted as surety, he shall take oath on customs Form 3579, setting forth the amount of his assets over and above all his debts and liabilities and such exemptions as may be allowed by law, the general description and the location of one or more pieces of real estate owned by him within the limits of the customs district and the value thereof over and above all encumbrances, and he shall produce such evidence of solvency and financial responsibility as the collector may require.

(b) Each individual surety must have unencumbered property liable to execution, the current market value of which must be equal to the penalty of any bond executed by him. If a single surety is accepted, he shall qualify in an amount equal to twice the penalty of the bond. The property must be located within the limits of the customs district in which the contract of suretyship is to be performed.

(c) An individual surety shall not be accepted on a bond until he has satisfied the collector as to his financial responsibility. The collector may refer the matter to the principal officer of the Customs Agency Service in his district for immediate investigation to verify the financial responsibility of the surety.

(d) In order to follow the continued solvency and sufficiency of individual sureties, the collector shall require a new oath and determine the sufficiency of each such surety as prescribed in paragraphs (a) and (c) of this section at least once every 6 months, and oftener if he deems it advisable.

(e) A married woman shall not be accepted as surety.

(f) Any individual other than a married woman may grant a power of attorney to sign as surety on customs bonds. If limited to bonds of one or several importers, the importers shall be named in the power.

§ 25.10 Delinquent sureties.

(a) No person shall be accepted as surety on any customs bond while he is in default as principal on any other customs bond.

(b) A surety on a customs bond which is in default may be accepted as surety on other customs bonds only to the extent that his assets are unencumbered by such default.

§ 25.11 Partners as sureties.

A person may act as surety for a business partner when such person is acting with respect to his separate property and in his individual capacity, but a member of a partnership shall not be accepted as surety on a bond executed by the firm as principal.

§ 25.12 Corporate sureties.

(a) A list of corporations authorized to act as sureties on bonds, with the amount in which each may be accepted, will be furnished annually to all collectors of customs by the Secretary of the Treasury. No corporation shall be accepted as a surety on a bond unless named in the current list and no bond shall be for a greater amount than the respective limit stated in such list, unless the excess is protected as prescribed in 31 CFR 223.12.

(b) Two or more companies may be accepted as sureties on any obligation the amount of which does not exceed the limitations of their aggregate qualifying power as fixed and determined by the Secretary of the Treasury. In such cases each company shall limit its liability, in terms, upon the face of the bond to a definite specified amount, using customs Form 3903 for that purpose, such amount to be in all cases within the limitation prescribed by the Secretary, unless such excess is protected as prescribed in 31 CFR 223.12.

(c) When a bond is executed by an authorized and approved corporate surety through its agent or attorney, a power of attorney on Treasury Form 272, showing the authority of such person to act for the surety company, shall be filed in the office of the collector approving such bond or shall be filed in the Treasury Department when the bond is to be approved by the Secretary of the Treasury or the Bureau.

(d) When a bond is executed in a customs district other than the one in which it is to be filed, the bond may be approved as to surety by the collector of customs in the district in which it was executed if evidence of the authority of each officer or agent executing the bond on behalf of the surety is on file in his office. If the bond is not to be approved by the collector in whose district it is executed, the authority of the person or persons executing the bond on behalf of the company shall be completed, as provided for in paragraph (c) of this section, and attached to the bond unless such evidence has been submitted to the collector at the port where the bond is to be approved and filed.

§ 25.13 Same party as principal and surety; attorney.

The same person, partnership, or corporation cannot be both principal and surety on a bond, but a person may act as attorney in fact for both principal and surety. A person acting as attorney in fact for a principal may be accepted as surety on the same bond and, when acting as attorney for the surety, may be the principal on such bond.

§ 25.14 Acceptance of cash deposits or obligations of the United States in lieu of sureties on bonds.

In lieu of sureties on any bond required or authorized by any law, regulation, or instruction which the Secretary of the Treasury or the Customs Service is authorized to enforce, collectors of customs are authorized to accept United States money, United States bonds, United States certificates of indebtedness, Treasury notes, or Treasury bills in an amount equal to the amount of the bond.[4] At the time of the deposit of any obligation of the United States, other than United States money, with the collector, the obligor shall deliver to such collector a duly executed power of attorney and agreement in favor of the collector in a form similar to that prescribed in Department Circular 154, dated February 6, 1935, authorizing such officer, in case of any default in the performance of any of the conditions or stipulations of the bond, to sell such obligation so deposited and to apply the proceeds of such sale, in whole or in part, to the satisfaction of any damages, demands, or deficiency arising by reason of such default. If cash is deposited in lieu of sureties on the bond, the collector is authorized to apply such cash, in whole or in part, to the satisfaction of any damages, demands, or deficiency arising by reason of a default under the bond.

§ 25.15 Export bonds; cancellation.

(a) A bond to assure the exportation[5] of merchandise may be canceled upon the specification of such merchandise on the outward manifest or outward bill of

[4] "The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to permit the deposit of money or obligations of the United States, in such amount and upon such conditions as he may by regulation prescribe, in lieu of sureties on any bond required or authorized by a law, regulation, or instruction which the Secretary of the Treasury or the Customs Service is authorized to enforce." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 623 (e), as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1623 (e))

[5] An exportation is a severance of goods from the mass of things belonging to this country with the intention of uniting them to the mass of things belonging to some foreign country. The shipment of merchandise abroad with the intention of returning it to the United States with a design to circumvent provisions of restriction or limitation lading, the inspector's certificate of lading, the record of clearance of the vessel or of the departure of the vehicle, and the production of a foreign landing certificate if such certificate is required by the collector; or, if exportation or destruction is not timely in the case of articles entered under section 308, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, upon the payment of liquidated damages in accordance with the provisions of § 10.39 of this chapter. The requirements of the vessel, vehicle, or aircraft bond, customs Form 7567 or 7569, may be considered as having been complied with upon the production of such of the abovementioned documents as may be applicable thereto; but to establish the exportation of narcotic drugs or any equipment, stores (except such articles as are placed on board vessels or aircraft under the provisions of section 309 or 317, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended), or machinery for vessels, a landing certificate shall be required in every case.

(b) This landing certificate shall be produced within 6 months from the date of exportation and shall be signed by a revenue officer of the foreign country to which the merchandise is exported, unless it is shown that such country has no customs administration, in which case the certificate may be signed by the consignee or by the vessel's agent at the place of landing.

(c) Except as provided for in § 4.88 of this chapter, in cases where landing certificates are required and they cannot be produced, an application for waiver thereof may be made to the Bureau through the collector, accompanied by such proofs of exportation and landing abroad as may be available.

(d) In the case of articles for which the ordinary customs duty estimated at the time of entry did not exceed $10 and which are exported within the period of the bond (including any lawful extension) but without customs supervision, the bond may be canceled upon production of evidence of a bona fide exportation satisfactory to the collector.

(e) If any customs bond, except one given only for the production of free-entry or reduced-duty documents, is unsatisfied upon the expiration of 60 days after a liability has accrued thereunder, the matter shall be reported to the United States attorney for prosecution unless measures have been taken to file an application for relief or to effect a satisfactory settlement.

§ 25.16 Bonds and stipulations for production of missing documents; card memorandum; time for production of documents.

(a) When entry is made prior to the production of a required document, whether the importer gives bond on customs Form 7551 or 7553, or other appropriate form, or stipulates to produce such documents, a card memorandum on customs Form 5101 shall be prepared by the importer and presented with the entry.

(b) When a charge for the production of a missing document is made against a term bond, the charge shall be in the amount of the single entry bond that would have been taken had the transaction been covered by a single entry bond.

(c) Except when another period is fixed by law or the regulations in this chapter any document for the production of which a bond or stipulation is given shall be delivered to the collector of customs within 6 months from the date of the transaction in connection with which the bond or stipulation was given, or within any extension of such time which may be granted pursuant to § 25.18 (a). If the period ends on a Saturday, Sunday, or holiday, delivery on the next business day shall be accepted as timely.

§ 25.17 Nonproduction of documents; failure to redeliver packages; sums to be collected.

(a) Collectors of customs are hereby authorized to treat any bond charge for the production of a missing document as satisfied upon payment by the principal or surety of the sum of $25 as liquidated damages for each missing declaration of the consignee or other document, except shippers' export declarations and special customs and commercial invoices not produced within the time prescribed by law or regulations or any lawful extension of such time.

(b) When a required special customs or commercial invoice is not produced on the date of entry or within 6 months thereafter, the bond charge for the production thereof may be canceled upon the payment of $25 as liquidated damages, provided the person who made the entry submits an application for relief from the full amount of the charge, explaining in detail why the special customs or commercial invoice could not be produced within the prescribed period, and the collector of customs is satisfied by such application or otherwise that the failure to produce the invoice within the prescribed period was due to causes wholly beyond the control of the person making the entry and not to any purpose of the foreign seller or shipper to withhold information required by law, regulation, or special instruction to be shown on the invoice.

(c) For each shipper's export declaration covering goods exported to Canada or Mexico by car, vehicle, or ferry, which is not produced within the time prescribed by the regulations or any lawful extension thereof, the sum of $50 shall be collected as liquidated damages.

(d) For failure to return to the collector on demand merchandise subject to return to customs custody, an amount equal to the value as set forth in the entry of the merchandise not returned plus the estimated duties and taxes imposed upon or by reason of importation, if any, on such merchandise as determined at the time of entry shall be demanded. When the demand for return to customs custody is made in the case of merchandise entered under section 308, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, liquidated damages in an amount equal to one and one-quarter times the estimated duties on the merchandise not returned shall be demanded. When the demand for return to customs custody is made pursuant to the Federal Seed Act and the regulations thereunder, an amount equal to the value of the entire shipment, as set forth in the entry, plus the estimated duties, if any, as determined at the time of entry shall be demanded.

(e) When free entry or the application of a reduced rate of duty is dependent upon the production of a document which the importer fails to produce, or when a conditionally free or reduced-duty provision claimed on entry is held to be inapplicable, the claim for free entry or reduced rate of duty shall be treated as abandoned upon the assessment and payment of duty and the bond given for the production of the free-entry or reduced-duty document shall be cancelled without the collection of liquidated damages.

(f) When a customs requirement supported by a bond is waived by the Bureau, the waiver may be unconditional, in which case the importer is relieved from the payment of liquidated damages, or it may be conditioned upon prior settlement of the bond obligation by payment of such liquidated damages, or upon such other terms and conditions, as the Bureau may deem sufficient. When such a requirement is waived by the collector of customs pursuant to authority conferred upon him in these regulations, the waiver shall be unconditional.

(g) Except as otherwise provided for by this chapter, collectors of customs may cancel liquidated damages under $200, assessed under the terms of any bond given pursuant to any provision of the customs regulations, upon the payment of such lesser amount as he may deem appropriate under the law and in view of the circumstances, or without the payment of any amount.

(h) If the interested party is not satisfied with the collector's decision on any application for relief from liquidated damages under a bond given pursuant to a law or regulation administered by the Customs Service, he may file a further application with the collector to be forwarded to the Bureau for reconsideration of the case. A statement to that effect shall be contained in the notification to the applicant of the collector's action.

§ 25.18 Extensions of periods for compliance with requirements of bonds and stipulations.

(a) If a document (other than an invoice) referred to in § 25.16(c) is not produced within 6 months from the date of the transaction in connection with which the bond or stipulation was given, the collector, upon written application of the importer, in his discretion, may extend the period for further periods of 6 months each, but in no case to exceed a total of 2 years from the date of such transaction.

(b) In cases where the regulations relating to certain classes of merchandise, in the tariff laws or to secure a benefit accruing to imported merchandise is not an exportation. Merchandise of foreign origin returned from abroad under these circumstances is dutiable according to its nature, weight, and value at the time of its original arrival in this country.

such as leather imported to be manufactured into footwear (see § 10.84 (c) of this chapter), prescribe a 3-year period within which proof must be produced of the use or disposition of the merchandise in, or its exportation from, the United States, and such proof is not furnished within the prescribed period, the collector may, upon the written application of the importer, extend the 3-year period for further periods of 1 year each, but not to exceed 5 years from the date of entry.

(c) No application for the extension of the period of any bond or stipulation given to assure the production of a missing document shall be allowed by a collector if such application is received later than 6 months after the expiration of the period of the bond or stipulation, including any prior extension. However, when a bond or stipulation is given for the production of any free-entry or reduced-duty document and a satisfactory document is not produced within the prescribed time but is produced prior to liquidation of the entry or within the period during which a valid reliquidation may be completed, it shall be accepted as satisfying the requirement that it be filed in connection with the entry, and the bond charge for its production shall be canceled.

(d) It is not necessary to secure the assent of the sureties to any extension of the period prescribed in a bond when such extension is authorized by law or these regulations. The assent of the sureties shall be obtained before any other extension of such a period is allowed.

§ 25.19 Cancellation of erroneous charges.

When it is definitely determined that liquidated damages assessed or paid under a bond did not in fact accrue, the charge against the bond shall be canceled by the collector without regard to the amount thereof, the liquidated damages, if paid, shall be refunded, and an appropriate notation shall be made on customs Forms 5211 and 5955, or 5955–A, if the transaction has already been recorded thereon. When the determination of whether or not the charge was erroneously made depends upon a construction of law, the charge shall not be canceled without Bureau approval, unless there is in force a Bureau ruling decisive of the issue. Bureau instructions shall be requested in all doubtful cases.

(Sec. 3, 44 Stat. 1382, secs. 514, 643, 46 Stat. 734, 761; 5 U. S. C. 281b, 19 U. S. C. 1514, 1643)

PART 26—DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION

Sec.
26.1 Inspection of final opinions, orders and rules.
26.2 Public records.
26.3 Confidential information.
26.4 Confidential treatment of customs records and documents.
26.5 Information for the press and associations.
26.6 Review of data.
26.7 Suspension of disclosure.

AUTHORITY: §§ 26.1 to 26.7 issued under R. S. 161; 5 U. S. C. 22. Statutory provisions interpreted or applied and special rule making authority are cited to text in parentheses.

§ 26.1 Inspection of final opinions, orders and rules.

(a) All final opinions or orders in the adjudication of cases issued by the Secretary of the Treasury, the Commissioner of Customs, or other officials of the Treasury Department or the Bureau of Customs in matters administered by the Bureau of Customs, except those held confidential for good cause and not cited as precedents, are made available to public inspection. For the most part, final opinions or orders in matters administered by the Bureau of Customs are in the form of letters, addressed to customs field officers or to parties in interest, ruling upon questions arising under the customs and navigation laws and other related laws. Requests for inspection of such opinions or orders should be addressed in writing to the Commissioner of Customs, Washington 25, D. C. Insofar as practicable copies of such opinions or orders will be furnished unless they are confidential under the standards set forth in §§ 26.2 to 26.7. In cases where an opinion or order contains confidential information but the actual ruling can be separated from the confidential matter, partial copies containing only such parts as can properly be disclosed will be furnished insofar as is practicable without undue interference with the work of the Bureau. Final opinions or orders of exceptional importance or wide public interest are published, either in full or in abstracted form, in the Treasury Decisions.

(b) All rules issued in matters administered by the Bureau of Customs, except to the extent that they involve a function requiring secrecy in the public interest or relate solely to internal management, are made available to public inspection. Most of them are published in the Treasury Decisions and the FEDERAL REGISTER or in circular letters made available to the public. Any rule not so published, unless requiring secrecy in the public interest or relating solely to internal management, may be inspected at the Bureau of Customs, Washington, D. C.

(Sec. 3 (b), 60 Stat. 238; 5 U. S. C. 1002 (b))

§ 26.2 Public records.

(a) In general, the types of official records at the headquarters or field offices of the Customs Service include the following:

(1) Entry records.
(2) Warehouse records.
(3) Appraisement records.
(4) Certificates of weight, measure, and gauge.
(5) Vessel manifests, crew lists, and passenger lists.
(6) Statistical information relative to the volume, source, and destination of commodities in foreign trade.
(7) Bulletin notice of liquidation, which is posted or lodged in the customhouse and is available for public inspection.
(8) Record of entry and clearance of vessels.
(9) Record of vessels of the United States belonging to the merchant marine. This information is published annually in a bound volume entitled "Merchant Vessels of the United States," for sale through the office of the Superintendent of Documents.
(10) Records of documents of vessels of the United States.
(11) Records of bills of sales, conveyances, mortgages, and hypothecations pertaining to vessels of the United States.
(12) Statistical information relative to the merchant marine.

(b) Some of the information contained in the documents mentioned in paragraph (a) of this section is held to be confidential for one or more of the following good causes and in accordance with the standards prescribed in §§ 26.2 to 26.7 and is not available to the public:

(1) It relates to the details of business transactions of private parties, the disclosure of which details would be detrimental to the interests of the parties involved, without furthering the public interest.

(2) It is submitted in reliance upon the long-established assurance that such information will be kept in confidence and used only for official purposes.

(3) Its disclosure would be inimical to the public interest.

(c) Requests for information contained in the public records mentioned in paragraph (a) of this section may be made in accordance with established procedures (see 16 F. R. 6964).

(d) The rules set forth in §§ 26.2 to 26.7 regarding the disclosure of information are found to be in compliance with the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1001–1011) and the standards prescribed in those sections for determining what information is for good cause to be regarded as confidential are applicable to all requests for information or for inspection of final opinions, orders, or official records.

(Sec. 3 (c), 60 Stat. 238; 5 U. S. C. 1002 (c))

§ 26.3 Confidential information.

(a) Except as authorized hereafter in this section, no collector, appraiser, customs agent, or other customs officer or employee shall disclose details of any customs activity for publication, except under special authority from the Bureau.

(b) Collectors and other customs officers shall refrain from disclosing facts concerning seizures, investigations, and other pending cases of public interest until the matter is completed. The collector may give the public information concerning any case involving an offense against the customs and navigation laws after he has completed his investigation and the case has been closed by final customs action, such as settlement of a civil liability or reference of a case to the United States attorney for handling. Field officers shall exercise proper restraint and judgment in disclosing local transactions. Unless specifically authorized so to do, they shall not disclose to any person not immediately concerned the text or substance of any communication from the Bureau or the Treasury involving any matter of policy.

(c) Insofar as administrative matters in Washington are concerned, statements will be issued only through the office of the Secretary or the Assistant Secretary in charge of the Customs Service.

(d) The disclosure of the confidential information contained in customs documents or the disclosure to one importer or exporter of information relative to the business of another importer or exporter acquired by the officer or employee by reason of his official employment shall constitute grounds for dismissal from the Service; and if done for a valuable consideration will subject such person to criminal prosecution.

§ 26.4 Confidential treatment of customs records and documents.

(a) The information contained in invoices, entries, manifests, export declarations, official reports of investigating officers, and other papers or documents filed with customs officers for any official purpose shall be treated as confidential, except for the purpose for which such documents are required to be filed. All officers and employees of the Customs Service are prohibited, unless specially authorized to do so by the Bureau or by the regulations in this part from giving out information contained in such papers and documents except to the importer, exporter (in the case of export documents), or other person directly in interest, or to his authorized agent.

(b) Importers and exporters, or their duly authorized brokers, attorneys, or agents, may be permitted to examine manifests with respect to any consignment of goods in which they have a proper and legal interest as principal or agent, but shall not be permitted to make any general examination of manifests or to make any copies or notations from them except with reference to the particular importation or exportation in which they have a proper and legal interest.

(c) In answer to a legal process or demand from a court issued in behalf of the United States or an officer thereof, customs officers or employees shall produce in court in customs custody, and may testify with respect to, any official customs papers or documents demanded. When any such process or demand is issued in behalf of a party other than the United States, it shall be complied with only to the extent that the party in whose behalf the papers or documents are demanded is permitted under these regulations to inspect such papers or documents at the customhouse.

(d) Except as stated in paragraph (f) of this section, nothing in this part shall preclude customs officers or employees from producing in the United States Customs Court in customs custody any customs papers or documents or from testifying or otherwise rendering all proper assistance to the court in proceedings before it when request therefor is made by the court; nor from furnishing to counsel for the United States information in, and permitting him to inspect, customs papers or documents requested by him, nor from testifying on behalf of the United States or otherwise assisting him in the performance of his official duties.

(e) Except as stated in paragraph (c) of this section, copies of customs documents or records desired by or on behalf of parties to a suit, whether in a court of the United States or any other, shall be furnished without prior Departmental approval only to the court on a rule of the court upon the Secretary of the Treasury requesting them, or to a person entitled under paragraph (a) of this section to obtain the information they disclose. Exceptions to this rule shall be made only on the written order of the Secretary, the Under Secretary, an Assistant Secretary, or the Administrative Assistant to the Secretary. When requested, such copies may be authenticated pursuant to the provisions of 28 U. S. C. 1733.

(f) The authority granted in paragraphs (c), (d), and (e) of this section is subject to the restriction that no matters of a confidential nature or the disclosure of which would be prejudicial to the public interest shall be disclosed to any person.

(g) Upon being served with a subpoena or subpoena duces tecum from a court or officer thereof calling for testimony or the production of papers or documents in cases not covered by paragraph (c) or (d) of this section, or in cases where the testimony or documents desired would disclose matters of a confidential nature or the disclosure of which would be prejudicial to the public interest, the matter shall be referred to the Bureau for instructions with a report which shall specifically describe the testimony or documents desired; shall set forth the views of the submitting officer as to whether the giving of the testimony or the furnishing of the documents would disclose confidential information or be inimical to the public interest; and shall state in what particulars, if any, the disclosure of the information and work incidental thereto would interfere with the orderly conduct of customs business in the event instructions are not received prior to the date set for appearance or production of documents, or if the Bureau declines to permit their production or the disclosure of the information contained therein or otherwise within the knowledge of the customs officers or employee whose testimony is requested, the customs officer or employee shall appear in court or before the officer concerned in answer to the subpoena and respectfully decline to produce the documents called for or to testify, except to the extent specifically authorized elsewhere in this section, citing this regulation as authority for his refusal. If the matter has not already been referred to the Bureau for instructions, the customs officer or employee shall advise the court or officer that it will be so referred.

§ 26.5 Information for the press and associations.

Accredited representatives of the press, including newspapers, commercial magazines, trade journals, and similar publications may be permitted to examine vessels' manifests and summary statistical reports of imports and exports and to copy therefrom for publication information and data not of a confidential nature, subject to the following rules:

(a) Of the information and data appearing on outward manifests, only the general character, destination, and quantity (or value) of the commodity, name of vessel, and country of destination may be copied and published. Where the manifests show both quantity and value, either may be copied and published, but not both in any instance.

(b) Confidential information, such as the names of the shippers and consignees, marks and numbers, and both quantities and values of commodities shall not be copied from outward manifests or any other papers. Disclosure of special category export shipments which might endanger the security of the United States is not now permitted. Such restriction upon disclosure shall be in effect during any period covered by a finding by the President under section 1, of the act of August 9, 1950, as amended (50 U.S.C. 191). Such a finding is now in effect (Executive Order No. 10173, Oct. 18, 1950 (3 CFR, 1949–1953 Comp. p. 356; 15 F.R. 7005)).

(c) Of the information shown on inward manifests, only the name of the consignee, the general character of the commodity, the quantity (or value), name of vessel, and the country of dispatch shall be copied and published. When an inward manifest shows both quantity and value of the commodity, either may be copied and published, but not both in any instance.

(d) Accredited representatives of regularly established associations, whether incorporated or not, shall be permitted to examine vessels' manifests for the purpose of securing data relative to merchandise of the kind or class in the importation of which the association is interested, subject to the foregoing rules; but this authority does not extend to attorneys or customs brokers representing individual importers.

§ 26.6 Review of data.

All copies and notations from inward or outward manifests shall be submitted for examination by a customs officer designated for that purpose.

§ 26.7 Suspension of disclosure.

(a) Upon written application of a consignee or importer, the collector of customs shall refuse to permit any person, except as provided in § 26.4, to copy the name of such consignee from manifests.

(b) If any individual shall abuse the privilege granted him of examining inward and outward manifests or shall make any improper use of any information or data obtained from such manifests or other papers filed in the customhouse, both he and the party or publication which he represents shall thereafter be denied access to such papers.

AUTHORITY: §§ 30.1 to 30.18 issued under R. S. 161, 251, secs. 1–21, 48 Stat. 998, 999, as amended, 1000–1003, sec. 624, 46 Stat. 759; 5 U. S. C. 22, 19 U. S. C. 66, 81a–81u, 1624)

§ 30.1 Merchandise permitted in a zone.

Foreign and domestic merchandise of every description, except such as is prohibited by law, may be brought into a foreign-trade zone (hereinafter in this part referred to as a "zone") established pursuant to the act of June 18, 1934, as amended by section 1 of the act of June 17, 1950 (19 U. S. C. 81a–81u, sec. 1, 64 Stat. 246), hereinafter in this part referred to as "the act"). Merchandise which is specifically and absolutely prohibited by law shall not be admitted into a zone.[1] Any merchandise so prohibited by law which is found within a zone shall be disposed of in the manner provided for in the laws and regulations applicable to such merchandise. A distinction is made between (a) merchandise which is specifically and absolutely prohibited by law on the grounds of policy or morals, such as immoral or subversive literature, obscene articles or lottery matter, and (b) merchandise which is subject to conditional prohiibtion only, for example, articles which are subject to permits or licenses for the protection of economic or national security or which may be reconditioned to bring them into compliance with the laws administered by various Federal Agencies. Collectors of customs are required to exclude the first class of articles and may not permit them to be transferred to a zone if they are aware of their prohibited status, except that the collector may permit the temporary deposit of any such merchandise in the zone pending final determination of its status. The transfer of articles of the second class to a zone is subject to any requirements of the Federal agency concerned. There is no prohibition against placing over-quota merchandise in a zone pending its right to transfer to customs territory pursuant to the applicable quota provisions. The application for the admission of merchandise into a zone shall be approved or disapproved by the collector, as the representative of the Foreign-Trade Zones Board (hereinafter in this part referred to as "the Board"), where the merchandise is not excluded by any other Federal agency having jurisdiction over it.

§ 30.2 Use of zone by carriers.

(a) The water area, docking facilities, or any loading or unloading stations of a zone are intended primarily for the use of vessels, vehicles, or aircraft unlading merchandise[2] into the zone or lading merchandise from the zone, and their use for other purposes may be terminated by the Secretary of the Treasury if found to endanger the revenue, or by the Board if found to impede the primary uses of the zone.

(b) Nothing in the act or the regulations in this part shall be construed as excepting any carrier entering, remaining in, or leaving a zone from the application of any other pertinent law or regulation.

[1] "Foreign and domestic merchandise of every description, except such as is prohibited by law, may, without being subject to the customs laws of the United States, except as otherwise provided in this Act, be brought into a zone * * *." 19 U. S. C. 81C)

[2] As used in this part the term "merchandise" means goods, wares and chattels of every description, except prohibited articles, and except the usual wearing apparel and accouterments of persons entitled to enter a zone.

§ 30.3 Transportation of merchandise to a zone.[4]

(a) Merchandise may be brought directly to a zone from any place outside customs territory[4] by vessel, vehicle, or aircraft.

(b) Domestic merchandise[5] may be brought to a zone from customs territory by any means of transportation which will not interfere with the orderly conduct of business in the zone.

(c) Foreign merchandise[6] destined to a zone and moving through customs territory outside a port shall be subject to the laws and regulations pertaining to the movement of like merchandise between two ports in customs territory.

(d) Foreign merchandise being transferred within a port to a zone shall be subject to the laws and regulations pertaining to the movement of like merchandise within the customs territory of the port before delivery to the importer.

§ 30.4 Who may file a zone application.

(a) This section tells who is authorized to apply for permission to transfer merchandise into a zone, to do anything with respect to the merchandise within the zone, or remove the merchandise from the zone. In general, the zone grantee shall have the sole responsibility for determining the legal right of the applicant to make the application. Accordingly, such applications shall show a written concurrence of the zone grantee, except where the regulations in this part provide for the filing of applications by the zone grantee itself, or permit the filing of blanket concurrences by the zone grantee. Government officers acting in their official capacities may question the zone grantee's concurrence if in their opinion it is improperly given. In the case of foreign merchandise brought into a zone through customs territory, the appropriate application as prescribed in § 30.5 must be filed by the person having a right to apply for release.

(b) The forms of application provided for in this part shall be filed in the number of copies required for the purposes of local administration.

§ 30.5 Admission of merchandise into a zone.

(a) This section tells how to obtain the right to unlade or bring merchandise into a foreign-trade zone.

(b) If the merchandise is to be unladen from any carrier in the zone for immediate transfer to customs territory, or if it is to be transferred from customs territory through the zone for immediate lading on any carrier therein, an application for permission to unlade or lade shall be filed on customs Form 3171 and the collector shall permit the unlading or lading unless he has reason to believe that the merchandise will not be moved promptly from the zone or made the subject of an application for zone status in accordance with paragraph (d) of this section. Any such merchandise shall not be considered within the purview of the act, but shall be treated in all respects as though the unlading or lading were in customs territory. Merchandise brought into a zone for lading on a carrier which is not laden without delay which will endanger the revenue must be made the subject of an application for zone status in accordance with paragraph (d) of this section or be removed from the zone.

(c) Imported merchandise which has been entered and which has remained in continuous customs custody may be temporarily transferred to a zone for manipulation under customs supervision pursuant to section 562, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and for return to customs territory. Any such merchandise shall not be considered within the purview of the Foreign-Trade Zones Act, but shall be treated in all respects as though remaining in customs territory. Therefore, no zone form or procedure shall be considered applicable, but the merchandise shall remain subject in the zone to such requirements as are necessary for the enforcement of section 562 and other pertinent customs laws.

(d) If the merchandise is to be unladen or brought into the zone for purposes other than as provided for in paragraph (b) of this section an application to transfer into the zone shall be filed on zone Form D. The approval of the grantee shall be noted on this application unless the grantee furnishes a specific or blanket approval separately in writing. In the case of merchandise to be unladen within a zone directly from an importing vessel or aircraft and intended to have zone status, an application for permission to unlade shall also be filed on customs Form 3171. Before foreign merchandise being transported through customs territory may be brought into a foreign trade zone, a release order authorizing the transfer of the merchandise to the zone must be obtained from the carrier bringing the merchandise to the port at which the zone is located. The release order shall be noted on the application Form D unless the carrier has given the release order as a separate document. Whether the release order is noted on application Form D or is given as a separate document, application Form D shall be supported by evidence of the right of the applicant to transfer the merchandise to the zone. This evidence shall be the same as would be required to establish the right of the applicant to apply for release of the merchandise from customs custody at the end of its transit through customs territory. Such evidence usually consists of an original bill of lading in the name of the applicant, an original bill of lading endorsed to him, or a carrier's certificate.[7] Every application made under this paragraph shall indicate the zone status desired as follows:

(1) Privileged foreign merchandise,

(2) Privileged domestic merchandise,

(3) Non-privileged foreign merchandise,

(4) Non-privileged domestic merchandise, or

(5) Zone-restricted merchandise.

(e) No merchandise shall be transferred into a zone until an application has been filed and a permit issued for the transfer, as set forth in paragraph (b) or (d) of this section.

(f) The collector may cause any merchandise in a zone to be examined at the time of admission, or at any time thereafter, if the examination is deemed necessary to facilitate the proper administration of any law, regulation, or instruction which the Customs Service is authorized to enforce.

(g) Whenever a certificate as to the arrival of any merchandise in a zone is required by a Federal agency the collector shall issue the certificate, properly describing and identifying the merchandise involved.

§ 30.6 Privileged foreign merchandise.

(a) This section tells how to obtain a privileged status for foreign merchandise, and what are the legal incidents of such status.

(b) Merchandise within the purview of the first proviso to section 3 of the act, as amended,[8] shall be given status as privileged foreign merchandise on proper application. Each application for this status shall be filed on zone Form B, with the application for admission of the merchandise into the zone, or at any time thereafter and before the merchandise has been manipulated or [4] For transfer of merchandise from one zone to another zone, see § 30.17.

[4] As used in this part the term "customs territory" means territory of the United States in which the general tariff law of the United States applies but which is not included in any zone.

[5] As used in the act and in this part, the term "domestic merchandise" means merchandise of every description (not including prohibited articles) which has been (1) produced in the United States and not exported therefrom or (2) previously imported into customs territory and properly released from customs custody.

[6] As used in the act and in this part the term "foreign merchandise" means imported merchandise of every description (not including prohibited articles) which has not been properly released from customs custody in customs territory.

[7] See § 8.6 of this chapter.

[8] "• • • Provided, That whenever the privilege shall be requested and there has been no manipulation or manufacture effecting a change in tariff classification, the collector of customs shall take under supervision any lot or part of a lot of foreign merchandise in a zone, cause it to be appraised and taxes determined and duties liquidated thereon. Merchandise so taken under supervision may be stored, manipulated, of manufactured under the supervision and regulations perscribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, be exported or destroyed, or may be sent into customs territory upon the payment of such liquidated duties and determined taxes thereon. If merchandise so taken under supervision has been manipulated or manufactured, such duties and taxes shall be payable on the quantity of such foreign merchandise used in the manipulation or manufacture of the entered article. Allowance shall be made for recoverable and irrecoverable waste; and if recoverable waste is sent into customs territory, it shall be dutiable and taxable in its condition and quantity and at its weight at the time of entry. Where two or more products result from the manipulation or manufacture of merchandise in a zone the liquidated duties and determined taxes shall be distributed to the several products in accordance with their relative value at the time of separation with due allowance for waste as provided for above: • • •." (Sec. 1, Pub. Law No. 566, 81st Cong.).

manufactured in the zone in a manner which has effected a change in its tariff classification. Each applicant for such status shall file with his application a zone customs entry on customs Form 7502. Upon acceptance of the entry, the collector shall cause the merchandise to be appraised and taxes determined and duties liquidated thereon promptly. The taxes to be determined are those of the same nature as are indicated in the liquidation of entries of imported merchandise in customs territory.

(c) A status as privileged foreign merchandise and the consequent determination of taxes and liquidation of duties cannot be abandoned, but remain applicable to the merchandise even if changed in form by manipulation or manufacture, except in the case of recoverable waste, as long as the merchandise remains within the purview of the act.

(d) The procedure in connection with the preparation, filing, and acceptance of the entry, the making of notations on invoices, the preparation of customs Form 6417, the designation of examination packages or quantities, and the examination and appraisement of the merchandise shall be the same as that prescribed in the case of an entry for warehouse made in customs territory, except that no bond shall be required.

(e) Application may be made for permission to manipulate, manufacture, or exhibit any privileged foreign merchandise before taxes have been determined and duties liquidated thereon, but in such case the examination for purposes of appraisement must be completed, or the packages or samples required for such examination must be segregated, before the collector approves the application.

(f) Privileged foreign merchandise shall be subject to appraisement and tariff classification according to its condition and quantity, and to the rates of duty and tax in force, on the date of the filing with the collector, in complete and proper form for approval, of the request on zone Form B for privileged foreign status and the zone customs entry which is required to accompany it. The value of such merchandise shall be determined in accordance with sections 402 and 503 of the Tariff Act of 1930 and the related provisions of law.

(g) For all customs purposes, the date of exportation of privileged foreign merchandise from the country whence it was exported to the United States is the date of its final departure from that country, in accordance with § 14.3 (b) of this chapter.

(h) The value declared in any zone customs entry for privileged merchandise may be amended in accordance with the provisions of section 487, Tariff Act of 1930, and the regulations thereunder.[9]

(i) With respect to privileged foreign merchandise, the requirements, privileges, and procedures of notices of appraisement, appeals for reappraisement, posting of liquidations, and protests against decisions of the collector are the same as those prescribed in the case of merchandise covered by an entry for warehouse in customs territory.

(j) The original of the application on zone Form B when approved by the zone grantee shall be accepted by the collector as the equivalent of a bill of lading or carrier's certificate to identify the person designated in such Form B as the consignee of the merchandise and its owner for customs purposes, except that such person may transfer the right to withdraw such merchandise from the zone to customs territory in accordance with § 30.14 (f).

§ 30.7 Privileged domestic merchandise.

Merchandise within the purview of the second proviso to section 3 of the act, as amended,[10] shall be given status as privileged domestic merchandise on proper application. Application for this status shall be included in the application to transfer the merchandise into the zone on zone Form D, as provided for in § 30.5 (d). In such cases the evidence of the right of the applicant to transfer the merchandise to the zone provided for in that section and the release order of the carrier are not required. If the collector is satisfied that the revenue will be protected, and the rights of importers will not be prejudiced, he may permit the transfer to a zone of domestic packing and repair materials and other adjunctive articles without requiring an application on zone Form D. If the requirements of the second proviso are complied with, any of the foregoing may subsequently be brought back to customs territory free of quotas, duty, or tax.

§ 30.8 Non-privileged foreign merchandise.

(a) All the following shall have the status of non-privileged foreign merchandise.

(1) Foreign merchandise properly in a zone which does not have the status of privileged foreign merchandise or of zone-restricted merchandise;

(2) Waste recovered from any manipulation or manufacture of privileged foreign merchandise; and

(3) Domestic merchandise which will be subject to treatment as foreign merchandise as provided for in the third proviso to section 3 of the act as amended,[11] if removed to customs territory.

(b) Any domestic merchandise shall be deemed to have lost its identity as such for the purposes of paragraph (a) (3) of this section if the collector shall determine that it cannot be identified positively by customs officers as domestic merchandise on the basis of their examination of the articles and their consideration of any proof that may be submitted promptly by a party in interest.

§ 30.9 Non-privileged domestic merchandise.

All merchandise which could have obtained the status of privileged domestic merchandise but for which no application for such status has been approved (not including any merchandise within the purview of § 30.8 (a) (3)) shall have the status of non-privileged domestic merchandise.

§ 30.10 Zone-restricted merchandise.

(a) Merchandise within the purview of the fourth proviso to section 3 of the act, as amended,[12] shall be given status as zone-restricted merchandise on proper application. Application for this status shall be included in the application to transfer the merchandise into the zone on zone Form D, as provided for in § 30.5 (d).

(b) If the merchandise is to be considered exported for the purpose of any Federal law other than the customs laws, the collector shall be satisfied that all pertinent laws, regulations, and rules administered by the Federal agency concerned have been complied with before he approves the application provided for in § 30.5 (d).

(c) If the applicant desires a zone-restricted status in order that the mer-

[10] "• • • Provided further, That subject to such regulations respecting identity and the safeguarding of the revenue as the Secretary of the Treasury may deem necessary, articles, the growth, product, or manufacture of the United States, on which all internal-revenue taxes have been paid, if subject thereto, and articles previously imported on which duty and/or tax has been paid, or which have been admitted free of duty and tax, may be taken into a zone from the customs territory of the United States, placed under the supervision of the collector, and whether or not they have been combined with or made a part, while in such zone, of other articles, may be brought back thereto free of quotas, duty or tax: • • •." (19 U. S. C. 81c)

[11] "Provided further, That if in the opinion of the Secretary of the Treasury their identity has been lost, such articles not entitled to free entry by reason of non-compliance with the requirements made hereunder by the Secretary of the Treasury shall be treated when they reenter customs territory of the United States as foreign merchandise under the provisions of the tariff and internal-revenue laws in force at that time: • • •." (19 U. S. C. 81c)

[12] "• • • Provided further, That under the rules and regulations of the controlling Federal agencies, articles which have been taken into a zone from customs territory for the sole purpose of exportation, destruction (except destruction of distilled spirits, wines, and fermented malt liquors), or storage shall be considered to be exported for the purpose of—

"(a) The draw-back, warehousing, and bonding, or any other provisions of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and the regulations thereunder; and

"(b) The statutes and bonds exacted for the payment of draw-back, refund, or exemption from liability for internal-revenue laws generally and the regulations thereunder.

"Such a transfer may also be considered an exportation for the purposes of other Federal laws insofar as Federal agencies charged with the enforcement of those laws deem it advisable. Such articles may not be returned to customs territory for domestic consumption except where the Foreign-Trade Zones Board deems such return to be in the public interest, in which event the articles shall be subject to the provisions of paragraph 1615 (f) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended: • • •." (19 U. S. C. 81c)

chandise may be considered exported for the purpose of any customs laws, all pertinent customs requirements relating to actual exportations shall be complied with as though the admission of the merchandise into the zone constituted a lading on an exporting carrier at a port of final exit from the United States. Any declaration or form required for a case of actual exportation shall be modified to show that the merchandise has been deposited in a zone in lieu of actual exportation, and a copy of the approved application provided for in § 30.5 (d) may be accepted in lieu of any proof of shipment required in cases of actual exportation.

(d) If merchandise is transferred from a customs bonded warehouse into a zone, it shall have the status of zone-restricted merchandise when admitted into the zone in view of the provisions of the fourth proviso to section 3 of the act, and in all such cases the application provided for in § 30.5 (d), shall state that a zone-restricted status is desired for the merchandise. Merchandise taken into a zone for manipulation elsewhere than in a bonded warehouse under the provisions of section 562, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, is not considered within the purview of the fourth proviso of section 3 of the act.

§ 30.11 Customs control of merchandise in a zone.

(a) No merchandise in a zone shall be removed therefrom in any manner or for any purpose except as provided for in the regulations in this part.

(b) If the collector deems it necessary for the protection of the revenue, he may require segregation of privileged foreign, privileged domestic, zone-restricted, and such other merchandise as he determines to be subject to special risks to the revenue.

(c) The operator of the zone shall keep the collector's office currently informed as to the location of any merchandise in the zone which is not within the purview of paragraph (b) of this section, and shall notify the collector promptly of any loss or damage that may occur to any merchandise in the zone.

§ 30.12 Manipulation, manufacture, or exhibition in a zone.

(a) Permission for manipulation, manufacture, or exhibition of merchandise in a zone may be obtained by filing with the collector an application on zone Form E. No such operation shall be carried on until the collector has approved the application.

(b) The application shall include a full description of the proposed operation; a designation of the exact place in the zone where the operation is to be performed; the identification of the involved merchandise by lot number, marks and numbers of the packages, description, quantity, and zone status; and in the case of manipulation or manufacture a statement as to whether articles with one zone status are to be packed, commingled, or combined with articles having a different zone status.

(c) The collector shall approve the application unless the proposed operation would be in violation of the fourth or fifth proviso to section 3 of the act, as amended,[12] or the place designated for its performance is not suitable for preventing confusion as to the identity or status of the merchandise and for safeguarding the revenue.

(d) In the event of the denial of any application by the collector for any reason, the applicant, the grantee of the zone, or the operator of the zone, may appeal the adverse ruling to the Board. If any revenue protection considerations are involved in such an application, the Board shall be guided by the determinations of the Secretary of the Treasury with respect to them.

(e) When any privileged merchandise is to be manipulated in any way or manufactured, the person performing the operation shall maintain records containing the following information:

(1) A full identification, as specified in paragraph (b) of this section, of each lot of privileged merchandise used in the operation,

(2) The unit and total values of each such lot, the values in the case of privileged foreign merchandise to be those declared in the zone customs entry, including any amendment thereof,

(3) The commercial name or description of the product resulting from the operation, or of each such product if there are more than one,

(4) The quantity of such product or of each such product, as the case may be,

(5) The commercial name or description and quantity of each kind of waste recovered from the operation, and

(6) The description (i. e., evaporation, leakage, spillage, dust, etc.) and quantity of each kind of total physical loss resulting from the operation.

If any non-privileged merchandise is to be used in the operation, records shall be maintained containing a full identification, as specified in paragraph (b) of this section, and the unit and total values of each lot of the merchandise used in the operation.

§ 30.13 Destruction of merchandise in a zone.

(a) Each application to destroy merchandise in a zone shall be filed with the collector on zone Form E.

(b) The application shall include a description of the proposed method of destruction, a designation of the place where the destruction is to be accomplished, and an identification of the merchandise as in the case of an application for permission to manipulate (§ 30.12 (b)).

(c) The destruction of distilled spirits, wines, and fermented malt liquors having a zone-restricted status may not be authorized in view of the exception in the fourth proviso to section 3 of the act, as amended. In any other case, if the collector is satisfied that the destruction will be effective and that the revenue will be adequately protected, he shall approve the application. If proper destruction can not be effectively accomplished within the zone, the collector may permit it to be done elsewhere, in whole or in part, under such conditions as he shall specify for protecting the revenue. Any residue of destruction which is entirely worthless may be removed to customs territory for disposal.

§ 30.14 Sending merchandise from a zone into customs territory.

(a) When privileged domestic merchandise which has not been mixed, combined, or repacked in the zone with merchandise having a different zone status is to be transferred from the zone to customs territory, the zone grantee shall submit to the collector a description of the proposed transaction, in triplicate, and signed by him which shall include:

(1) The proposed date of transfer;

(2) The identification of the carrier;

(3) The destination of the shipment;

(4) Identification of the merchandise by zone storage location, lot number, marks and numbers of the packages, description, quantity, and zone status; and

(5) A notation as to any shortage or damage.

If the transfer is approved by the collector the original of the desoription shall be so stamped to serve as a permit of delivery, the original and one copy shall be returned to the grantee, and the triplicate shall be retained by the collector. If a form of tally prepared by the zone grantee for its purposes contains the necessary information, it may be accepted by the collector as the description required by this paragraph. No document other than the permit of delivery shall be required to release the merchandise to the grantee and authorize its transfer into customs territory.

(b) When privileged foreign merchandise which has not been mixed, combined, or repacked in the zone is to be transferred to customs territory otherwise than for exportation, a zone withdrawal on customs Form 7505 shall be filed as an application for the transfer (see § 30.4). Such withdrawal shall be supported by a bond on customs Forms 7551, 7553, or other appropriate form, and the applicant shall pay the liquidated duties and determined taxes, as assessed in the liquidation of the pertinent zone customs entry, for the quantity of merchandise to be transferred. Such bond shall not be required when all the merchandise to be transferred to customs territory has been inspected, examined, and appraised, and has been found to comply with all laws and regulations governing its admission into the commerce of the United States, and [12] The fourth proviso is quoted in footnote 12.

"* * * Provided further, That no operation involving any foreign or domestic merchandise brought into a zone which operation would be subject to any provision or provisions of section 1807, chapter 15, chapter 16, chapter 17, chapter 21, chapter 23, chapter 24, chapter 25, chapter 26, or chapter 32 of the Internal Revenue Code if performed in customs territory, or involving the manufacture of any article provided for in paragraph 367 or paragraph 368 of the Tariff Act of 1930, shall be permitted in a zone except those operations (other than rectification of distilled spirits and wines, or the manufacture or production of alcoholic products unfit for beverage purposes) which were permissible under this Act prior to July 1, 1949: * * *." (19 U. S. C. 81c)

there have been produced all documents for the production of which a bond is required by law or regulations if not filed at the time of entry. If the pertinent zone customs entry has not been liquidated estimated duties and taxes shall be deposited. Upon acceptance of the withdrawal, the collector shall release the merchandise to the grantee for delivery.

(c) When a product of a manipulation or manufacture in a zone composed of or derived from privileged merchandise only, whether all foreign, or partly foreign and partly domestic, is to be transferred to customs territory otherwise than for exportation, a zone withdrawal shall be filed as prescribed in paragraph (b) of this section. There shall be filed with the withdrawal a statement in the form of an invoice containing the information specified in § 30.12 (e), and when necessary to support the withdrawal, application may be made for a certificate on zone Form F covering identification as shown by the customs records of any privileged domestic or privileged foreign merchandise used in the manipulation or manufacture.

(d) When merchandise described in paragraph (b) or (c) of this section is to be transferred to customs territory otherwise than for exportation and it is desired to pay the duties and taxes at a port other than the port in which the zone is located, the merchandise shall be withdrawn for transportation to the other port on customs Form 7512 which shall clearly indicate the status of the merchandise, and the withdrawal for consumption at the other port shall be made in the manner prescribed in paragraph (b) or (c) of this section except that customs Form 7519 shall be used. The collector at the zone port shall issue a certificate in triplicate, describing the merchandise in its present condition and certifying the amount of duties and taxes and applicable to the shipment, and the duplicate copy of such certificate shall be given to the importer to be filed with the withdrawal for consumption.

(e) When merchandise described in paragraph (b) or (c) of this section is to be transferred to customs territory for exportation, a withdrawal for exportation, or for transportation and exportation, shall be filed on customs Form 7512. Upon acceptance of the withdrawal the collector shall make a notation as to the status of the merchandise on the document, and release the merchandise to the grantee for delivery to the bonded cartman, lighterman, or carrier.

(f) The applicant on customs Form 7505 or 7519 for purposes described in paragraph (b), (c), or (d) of this section shall be the consignee named in zone Form B as approved by the grantee (see § 30.6 (j)), except that such consignee may transfer the right to transfer the merchandise from the zone to customs territory by an endorsement on customs Form 7505 or 7519, whichever is applicable, naming a designated transferee. Customs Form 7505 or 7519 so endorsed with the name of a designated transferee who has been approved by the grantee shall be accepted by the collector to identify the transferee named therein as the consignee of the merchandise to be transferred and the owner thereof for customs purposes.

(g) When merchandise not covered by paragraph (a), (b), (c), (d), or (e) of this section, or either of the last two sentences of § 30.13 (c), is to be transferred from a zone to customs territory, the grantee shall make an application to the collector on zone Form C. The applicant shall state the name and address of the person who will be deemed the consignee of the merchandise when it is transferred to customs territory. The collector shall not accept a term application on Form C. The applicant shall also include a complete identification of the merchandise as it entered the zone, including the lot numbers, marks and numbers of the packages, status of each lot, description, and quantities. If any change in respect of any of the foregoing items of identification occurred while the merchandise was in the zone, the current information with respect to each such item which has been changed shall also be stated.

(h) Upon the approval by the collector of an application on zone Form C, the merchandise is transferred to constructive customs territory, without physical removal from the zone. The collector shall note on the application the date of such constructive transfer and the zone status of the merchandise. Merchandise so constructively transferred shall be marked or labeled with the initials "C. T.". For all customs and internal revenue purposes the merchandise shall be considered to have been imported into customs territory at the time of the constructive transfer.

(i) (1) If a customs entry for disposition in customs territory of the constructively transferred merchandise has not been filed in proper form before 5 p. m. of the second working day after the constructive transfer of the merchandise, or within such longer time as may be specified in a lay-order issued by the collector upon a written application of the grantee or designated consignee filed with the collector on customs Form 3189, and approved by the grantee if made by the consignee, the merchandise shall be deposited by the collector in general order storage. However, if it is desired to restore the merchandise to a zone status after it has been constructively transferred and before the expiration of the lay-order period specified above, a new zone Form D may be filed and the same procedure followed as though the merchandise had then first arrived in the zone from or through customs territory (§ 30.5 (d)). In such a case, the zone grantee shall be deemed the carrier which brought the merchandise to the port.

(2) As an alternative to the filing of a new zone Form D the applicant may, if he so desires, arrange for the redelivery to the collector, prior to the filing of a customs entry and prior to the expiration of the lay-order period specified above, of the grantee's original copy of the zone Form C with a request that it be cancelled.

(j) The original of zone Form C, when approved by the collector and endorsed as provided for in paragraph (h) of this section, shall be accepted by the collector as the equivalent of a bill of lading or carrier's certificate to identify the person designated in such Form C as the consignee of the merchandise and its owner for customs purposes.

(k) When a consumption entry is accepted for zone merchandise which is in constructive customs territory, the collector shall release the merchandise to the grantee for delivery to the consignee. When any other entry is accepted for such merchandise, the release of the merchandise by the collector for physical removal to the designated destination in customs territory shall be in accordance with the customs regulations as to merchandise imported into customs territory, the zone grantee to be considered as the importing carrier.

(l) The products described in subparagraphs (1), (2), or (3) of this paragraph, upon transfer from a zone and entry for consumption, either immediately or after transportation in bond, shall be subject to appraisement and tariff classification in accordance with their character, condition, and quantity at the time of their constructive transfer to customs territory in accordance with paragraph (h) of this section, and at the rate or rates of duty and tax in force at the time entry is made in customs territory as stated in § 8.4(d) of this chapter. The value of such products shall be determined in accordance with sections 402 and 500 of the Tariff Act of 1930 and the related provisions of law.

(1) Articles composed entirely of, or derived entirely from, non-privileged merchandise, foreign or domestic.

(2) Articles composed in part of, or derived in part from, non-privileged merchandise, domestic or foreign, and in part of or from privileged merchandise, domestic or foreign.

(3) Recoverable waste resulting from the manipulation or manufacture in a zone of privileged foreign merchandise. Any of the articles described in subparagraphs (1), (2), or (3) of this paragraph, except articles composed in part of, or derived in part from, privileged foreign merchandise, may be transferred from a zone for entry for warehousing, either immediately or after transportation in bond, subject to the treatment specified in the first two sentences of this paragraph. There shall be filed with each entry covering articles described in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph a statement in the form of an invoice containing the information specified in § 30.12 (e). When necessary to support the entry, application may be made for a certificate on zone Form F covering identification as shown by the customs records of any privileged domestic or privileged foreign merchandise in the articles.

(m) The consumption or warehouse entry covering a product provided for in paragraph (l) of this section shall be liquidated in accordance with Part 16 of this chapter, except that in the case of articles described in paragraph (l) (2) of this section adjustment shall be made for that part of the product which consists of or has been derived from privileged merchandise.

(n) Unless the Foreign-Trade Zones Board has ruled that the return of the merchandise to customs territory for domestic consumption is in the public interest, zone-restricted merchandise shall not be transferred to customs territory except under an entry for exportation or for transportation and exportation, or for destruction (except destruction of distilled spirits, wines, and fermented malt liquors), or for transfer from one zone to another. Each such entry shall be subject to the pertinent provisions of paragraphs (g) to (k), inclusive, of this section, except that if the entry has not been filed in proper form before the expiration of the period mentioned in the first sentence of paragraph (i) of this section, the merchandise shall not be deposited by the collector in general-order storage but shall be considered as having been returned from constructive customs territory to the zone. Upon acceptance of the entry, it shall be endorsed by a customs officer to show that actual exportation of the merchandise is required by the fourth proviso to section 3 of the act, as amended. If the Board has ruled that the return of the merchandise to customs territory is in the public interest, after the merchandise has been constructively transferred to customs territory it may be entered for consumption, warehousing, or immediate transportation without appraisement, unless the Board in its ruling has specified which of these forms of entry shall be made. The entry shall be endorsed by the collector to show the authority under which the entry was made and that the merchandise is subject to the provisions of paragraph 1615 (f) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

(o) Articles produced or manufactured in a zone and returned to customs territory of the United States after having been exported without first having been transferred to customs territory otherwise than for exportation or for transportation and exportation shall be subject to the duties and taxes applicable to like articles of wholly foreign origin, unless it is conclusively established that they were produced or manufactured exclusively with the use of privileged domestic merchandise, the identity of which was maintained in accordance with the pertinent provisions of these foreign-trade zone regulations, in which case they shall be subject to the pertinent provisions of paragraph 1615, Tariff Act of 1930.[14]

§ 30.15 Direct exportation from a zone.

Regardless of its zone status, any merchandise in a zone may be exported directly therefrom upon compliance with the procedure prescribed in § 30.14 (a) for the transfer of privileged domestic merchandise to customs territory.

§ 30.16 Supplies, equipment, and repair material for vessels or aircraft.

(a) Any article in a zone, including zone-restricted merchandise, which is suitable for use on a vessel or aircraft entitled to the privileges of section 309, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, as supplies, equipment, or repair material may be laden on such a vessel or aircraft in the zone or transferred from the zone to such a vessel or aircraft at a port of entry in the United States outside the zone, subject to any applicable limitation prescribed in such section 309.

(b) If the article is laden on the vessel or aircraft in the zone, the provisions of § 30.15 pertaining to direct exportations from the zone shall apply and, in addition, the pertinent provisions of §§ 10.59 to 10.65, inclusive, of this chapter shall also apply as though the article were being withdrawn in customs territory from continuous customs custody elsewhere than in a bonded warehouse for such lading. If the article is to be transferred from the zone to the vessel or aircraft at a port of entry outside the zone, the provisions of § 30.14 pertaining to transfers from a zone to customs territory for exportation shall apply, in which case, when constructive transfer to customs territory has been accomplished, the merchandise shall thereafter be liable to or exempt from duty or tax and be subject to any other applicable provisions of sections 309 and 317, Tariff Act of 1930, I.R.C. section 3451, and §§ 10.59 to 10.65, inclusive, of this chapter as though it were imported merchandise which had remained in continuous customs custody in customs territory elsewhere than in a bonded warehouse.

(c) Any article in a zone which is suitable for use as ground equipment for aircraft entitled to the privileges prescribed in section 309 or 317, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, with respect to ground equipment may be used in the zone, or transferred to customs territory for use, as ground equipment for such aircraft without payment of duty or any internal-revenue tax imposed upon or by reason of importation.

§ 30.17 Transfer of merchandise from one zone to another.

(a) The transfer of merchandise, other than privileged domestic, from a zone in one port of entry to a zone in another port shall be by bonded carrier under an entry for immediate transportation on customs Form 7512. The sending of the merchandise from the first zone into customs territory and its admission into the zone of destination shall be in accordance with § 30.14 (g) through (j) and § 30.5 (d), respectively. All copies of the entry for immediate transportation shall bear a notation that the merchandise is being taken from the first zone for the purpose of transfer to the second zone.

(b) Upon removal of merchandise as specified in paragraph (a) of this section from the first zone, the collector in charge of the port in which such zone is located shall immediately forward to the collector in charge of the port in which the zone of destination is located a history of the merchandise as shown by the records of the first zone.

(c) The transfer of privileged domestic merchandise from one zone to another is not subject to customs control except that the removal of the merchandise from the first zone and its admission into the zone of destination shall be in accordance with §§ 30.14 (a) and 30.5 (d), respectively.

§ 30.18 Reimbursement of customs expenses.

(a) The Commissioner of Customs will assign to each zone the necessary customs officers and guards to maintain appropriate customs control over merchandise in a zone and to protect the revenue.

(b) All necessary cost of maintaining the additional customs services required under the act and these foreign-trade zone regulations shall be reimbursed to the Government by the grantee of the zone,[15] payment to be made monthly to the collector of customs.

[14] "• • • Provided further, That articles produced or manufactured in a zone and exported therefrom shall on subsequent importation into the customs territory of the United States be subject to the import laws applicable to like articles manufactured in a foreign country, except that articles produced or manufactured in a zone exclusively with the use of domestic merchandise, the identity of which has been maintained in accordance with the second proviso of this section, may, on such importation, be entered as American goods, returned." (19 U. S. C. 81c)

[15] "• • • the cost of maintaining the additional customs service required under this act shall be paid by the operator of the zone." (Sec. 14, act of June 18, 1934; 19 U. S. C. 81n)

AUTHORITY: §§ 31.1 to 31.15 issued under R. S. 161, 251, secs. 624, 641, 46 Stat. 759, as amended; 5 U. S. C. 22, 19 U. S. C. 66, 1624, 1641.

§ 31.1 Scope of part.

This part sets forth regulations providing for the licensing as customhouse brokers of persons, including individuals, corporations, partnerships, and associations, desiring to transact business as customhouse brokers, the procedure for applying for licenses, and the qualifications required of the applicants. The regulations also prescribe the duties and responsibilities of customhouse brokers, the grounds for revocation or suspension of the licenses, and the procedures for such revocation or suspension.

§ 31.2 Licenses for customhouse brokers required.

(a) No person shall transact the business of a customhouse broker unless he has first been granted a license in accordance with the provisions of section 641, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.[1] A license to transact business as a customhouse broker may be granted by the Commissioner of Customs upon application submitted therefor, in accordance with the regulations in this part.

(b) No representative of the Treasury Department shall recognize or deal with any person transacting the business of a customhouse broker, or any employee, officer, or agent thereof, unless such person is licensed as a customhouse broker in accordance with the provisions of this part.

[1] "(a) Regulations for licensing. The Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe rules and regulations governing the licensing as customhouse brokers of citizens of the United States of good moral character, and of corporations, associations, and partnerships, and may require as a condition to the granting of any license, the showing of such facts as he may deem advisable as to the qualifications of the applicant to render valuable service to importers and exporters. No such license shall be granted to any corporation, association, or partnership unless licenses as customhouse brokers have been issued to at least two of the officers of such corporation or association, or two of the members of such partnership, and such licenses are in force. Any license granted to any such corporation, association, or partnership shall be deemed revoked if for any continuous period of more than sixty days after the issuance of such license there are not at least two officers of such corporation or association or two members of such partnership who are qualified to transact business as customhouse brokers. Except as provided in subdivision (c) of this section, no person shall transact business as a customhouse broker without a license granted in accordance with the provisions of this subdivision, but nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize the requiring of a license in the case of any person transacting at a customhouse business pertaining to his own importations.

"(b) Revocation or suspension. The collector or chief officer of the customs may at any time, for good and sufficient reasons, serve notice in writing upon any customhouse broker so licensed to show cause why said license shall not be revoked or suspended, which notice shall be in the form of a statement specifically setting forth the ground of complaint. The collector or chief officer of customs shall within ten days thereafter notify the customhouse broker in writing of a hearing to be held before him within five days upon said charges. At such hearing the customhouse broker may be represented by counsel, and all proceedings, including the proof of the charges and the answer thereto, shall be presented, with the right of cross-examination to both parties, and a stenographic record of the same shall be made and a copy thereof shall be delivered to the customhouse broker. At the conclusion of such hearing the collector or chief officer of customs shall forthwith transmit all papers and the stenographic report of the hearing, which shall constitute the record of the case, to the Secretary of the Treasury for his action. Thereupon the said Secretary of the Treasury shall have the right to revoke or suspend the license of any customhouse broker shown to be incompetent, disreputable, or who has refused to comply with the rules and regulations issued under this section, or who has, with intent to defraud, in any manner willfully and knowingly deceived, misled, or threatened any importer, exporter, claimant, or client, or prospective importer, exporter, claimant, or client, by word, circular, letter or by advertisement.

"An appeal may be taken by any licensed customhouse broker from any order of the Secretary of the Treasury suspending or revoking a license. Such appeal shall be taken by filing, in the circuit court of appeals of the United States within any circuit wherein such person resides or has his principal place of business, or in the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, within sixty days after the entry of such order, a written petition praying that the order of the Secretary of the Treasury be modified or set aside in whole or in part. A copy of such petition shall be forthwith transmitted by the Clerk of the Court to the Secretary of the Treasury, or any officer designated by him for that purpose, and thereupon the Secretary of the Treasury shall file in the court the record upon which the order complained of was entered, as provided in section 2112 of title 28, United States Code. Upon the filing of such petition such court shall have exclusive jurisdiction to affirm, modify, or set aside such order, in whole or in part. No objection to the order of the Secretary of the Treasury shall be considered by the court unless such objection shall have been urged before the collector or chief officer of customs or unless there were reasonable grounds for failure so to do. The finding of the Secretary of the Treasury as to the facts, if supported by substantial evidence, shall be conclusive. If any party shall apply to the Court for leave to adduce additional evidence, and shall show to the satisfaction of the court that such additional evidence is material and that there were reasonable grounds for failure to adduce such evidence in the proceeding before the collector or chief officer of customs, the court may order such additional evidence to be taken before the collector or chief officer of customs and to be adduced upon the hearing in such manner and upon such terms and conditions as to the court may seem proper. The Secretary of the Treasury may modify his findings as to the facts by reason of the additional evidence so taken, and he shall file with the court such modified or new findings, which, if supported by substantial evidence, shall be conclusive, and his recommendation, if any, for the modification or setting aside of the original order. The judgment and decree of the court affirming, modifying, or setting aside, in whole or in part, any such order of the Secretary of the Treasury shall be final, subject to review by the Supreme Court of the United States upon certiorari or certification as provided in section 1254, title 28 of the United States Code. The commencement of proceedings under this subsection shall, unless specifically ordered by the court, operate as a stay of the Secretary of the Treasury's order.

"(c) Prior licenses. Licenses issued under the Act of June 10, 1910 (36 Stat. 454; U. S. C., title 19, sec. 415), or under the provisions of subdivision (a) of this section prior to the effective date of this amendment, shall continue in force and effect, subject to suspension and revocation as provided in subdivision (b) of this section.

"(d) Regulations by Secretary. The Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe such rules and regulations as he may deem necessary to protect importers and the revenue of the United States, and to carry out the provisions of this section, including rules and regulations requiring the keeping of books, accounts, and records by customhouse brokers, and the inspection thereof, and of their papers, documents, and correspondence by, and the furnishing by them of information relating to their business to, any duly accredited agent of the United States." (Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 641, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1641.)

§ 31.3 Definitions.

When used in the regulations in this part, the following terms shall have the meanings, respectively, indicated:

(a) "Customhouse broker" includes any person who, acting on behalf of others, transacts customs business not limited to a kind described in § 31.8.

(b) "Treasury Department or any representative thereof" includes any division, branch, bureau, office, or unit of the Treasury Department, whether in Washington or in the field, and any officer or employee of any such division, branch, bureau, office or unit.

(c) "Commissioner" means the Commissioner of Customs.

(d) "Person" includes individuals, corporations, partnerships, and associations.

(e) "Books and papers" includes all books, accounts, records, papers, documents, and correspondence of a customhouse broker relating to his customs business.

(f) "Freight forwarder" means any person engaged in the business of dispatching shipments on behalf of other persons for a consideration, in foreign commerce between the United States, its territories or possessions, and foreign countries, and of handling the formalities incident to such shipments.

§ 31.4 Application for license; investigation and examination.

(a) Application to Commissioner. A person desiring to engage in the business of a customhouse broker shall submit to the collector of customs of the district in which the applicant intends to operate an application in duplicate, addressed to the Commissioner, stating his qualifications for a license. The application shall be under oath and executed on customs Form 3123 (individual), customs Form 3125 (partnership), customs Form 3127 (corporation), or customs Form 3129 (association), whichever is appropriate, and shall be accompanied by the fee of $100 prescribed by § 24.12 of this chapter. If the applicant is an individual who proposes to operate under a trade or fictitious name, evidence of the applicant's authority so to conduct business must accompany his application.

(b) Posting application. As soon as possible after an application has been filed, the collector of customs shall cause to be posted conspicuously in the customhouse at the headquarters port for the district and at the port where the applicant proposes to maintain his principal office the name and address of the applicant and, if the applicant is a corporation, an association, or a partnership, the names of the licensed officers or members thereof.

(c) Examination of applicant. The collector of customs shall notify the applicant, if an individual, to appear before a committee of examiners at a specified time and place in the customs district in which the applicant proposes to do business. The committee of examiners shall consist of not less than three nor more than five members designated as such by the Commissioner.

(d) Purpose of examination. The examination shall have for its purpose a determination of the applicant's knowledge of customs and related law and procedure and his fitness to render valuable service to importers and exporters. The Commissioner may from time to time furnish lists of suggestions for the guidance of committees of examiners in conducting such examinations. The examination may, at the option of the committee, be oral or written, but if oral shall be stenographically reported and transcribed, and in either case shall be transmitted forthwith to the collector of customs, with the report and recommendation of the committee of examiners.

(e) Investigation of applicant—(1) Individual. Upon the applicant's obtaining a satisfactory grade on the examination, his application shall be referred by the collector of customs to the supervising customs agent in charge of the district for investigation, report, and recommendation.

(2) Corporation, association, or partnership. Each application shall be referred by the collector of customs to the supervising customs agent in charge of the district for investigation, report, and recommendation.

(3) Information desired. The investigation shall seek information relevant to the question whether the application should be granted and shall cover, but need not be limited to, (i) the correctness of the statements made in the application, (ii) the business integrity of the applicant, and (iii) when the applicant is an individual (including an officer of a corporation or association or a member of a partnership), the character and reputation of the applicant.

(4) Return of application to collector of customs. The investigating agent shall return the application with his report and recommendation to the collector of customs who requested it. The collector shall forward them to the Commissioner, accompanied by the report and recommendation of the committee of examiners, if any. If he so desires, the collector may also submit his independent recommendation.

(f) Additional investigation or examination. The Commissioner shall endeavor to ascertain, without undue expense or inconvenience to the applicant, all facts deemed necessary to pass upon the application, and may require additional investigation to be conducted. In the event, however, that the Commissioner is not satisfied by the information received, he may require the applicant (or, in the case of a corporation, association, or partnership, one or more of its officers or members) to appear in person before the Commissioner or before one or more representatives of the Commissioner, for the purpose of undergoing additional written or oral examination into the applicant's qualifications for a license.

§ 31.5 Issuance or denial of license.

(a) Issuance if applicant qualified. If he finds that the applicant is qualified, the Commissioner will issue a license in such standard form as he shall have prescribed. The license shall be forwarded to the appropriate collector, who shall deliver it to the licensee after making a record thereof in a roster of licensed brokers which shall be maintained in the customhouse in such manner that it will be readily accessible to the proper customs officers and employees. The license for an individual who is an officer of a corporation or association or a member of a partnership will be issued in the name of the individual licensee, and not in his capacity as officer or member of the organization with which he is connected.

(b) Denial of license. (1) If the applicant fails to obtain a satisfactory grade on the examination, notice of denial shall be given by the collector to the applicant.

(2) At the request of the applicant, the Commissioner may allow a further opportunity to the applicant to present information or arguments in support of his application either by personal appearance or in writing, or both, in the discretion of the Commissioner.

(3) If the Commissioner determines that the application for license should be denied for any reason, notice of denial shall be given by the Commissioner to the applicant and to the collector of the district in which the applicant proposed to do business.

(c) Grounds for denial of license. The causes sufficient to justify denial of an application for a license shall include, but shall not be limited to, (1) any cause which would justify suspension or revocation of the license of a licensed customhouse broker under the provisions of § 31.11; (2) a failure to establish the business integrity and character of the applicant; (3) any gross misstatement of pertinent facts in the application; (4) any conduct which would be deemed grossly unfair in commercial transactions by accepted standards; (5) a bad reputation imputing to an applicant conduct of any of the foregoing types or of a criminal, dishonest, or unethical kind; (6) the minority of the applicant; or (7) a failure to establish sufficient knowledge by the applicant of customs and related law and procedures and fitness to render valuable service to importers and exporters. In the case of a corporation, association, or partnership, the application will be denied by the Commissioner unless it appears that the officers or members who are licensed customhouse brokers are to exercise responsible supervision and control of the transaction of the customs business of such corporation, association, or partnership. An individual who is unable for any reason to take the oath of allegiance and to support the Constitution of the United States shall not be licensed. An alien undergoing naturalization is ineligible to receive a license until he has received his final naturalization certificate. An officer or employee of the United States is ineligible to receive a license.

(d) Review. A decision of the Commissioner denying a license, upon the written request of the applicant, will be submitted to the Secretary of the Treasury for such review as the Secretary shall deem appropriate.

§ 31.6 Other representation by customhouse brokers.

A customhouse broker requires no further license or enrollment for the representation, within the customs districts in which he is licensed, at the office of the Regional Commissioner of Internal Revenue, or at the seat of the Government, of any person for whom he has acted as customhouse broker in respect of any matters relating specifically to the importation or exportation of merchandise under customs or internal-revenue laws.

§ 31.7 Licenses for more than one customs district.

Separate licenses shall be required if the licensee desires to transact customs business in more than one customs district. However, a licensee having a license in force in one district may on application to the Commissioner be granted a license to transact business in another district without further examination, provided it appears on investigation that the licensee is prepared and qualified to render efficient service in such other district. Licenses may be granted to partnerships with two licensed members, and to corporations and associations with two licensed officers, whether or not such members or officers are licensed in the district for which the partnership, corporation, or association license is granted.

§ 31.8 License, when not required.

(a) Dealing for one's own account. An importer or exporter transacting customs business solely on his own account and in no sense on behalf of another is not required to be licensed, nor are his authorized regular employees or officers who act only for him in the transaction of such business.

(b) Transportation in bond by common carrier. A common carrier transporting merchandise for another may make entry for such merchandise for transportation in bond without being licensed as a customhouse broker.

(c) Marine transactions. A person transacting business in connection with entry, clearance, or documentation of vessels or other regulation of vessels under the navigation laws is not required to be licensed as a customhouse broker.

(d) Employees of licensed brokers. An employee of a customhouse broker is not required to be licensed in order to act solely for his employer, but in order that such employee may sign customs documents on behalf of his employer the broker must file with the collector a power of attorney for that purpose. Each broker shall file with the collector at each port where the business is to be transacted an authorization specifically naming each employee who may properly act for him. A broker must promptly give notice of any change in the authority of any such employee and must exercise such supervision of his employees as will insure proper conduct on the part of the employees in the transaction of customs business. Each broker will be held strictly responsible for the acts or omissions of his employees within the scope of their employment, and for acts or omissions of such employees which, in the exercise of reasonable care and diligence, the broker should have foreseen. Every attorney in fact acting for a customhouse broker must be a resident of the United States.

§ 31.9 Books and papers.[1]

(a) Each customhouse broker shall maintain correctly and in orderly itemized manner, and keep current, records of account reflecting all his financial transactions as a customhouse broker. He shall keep and maintain on file a copy of each entry made by him, and copies of all his correspondence and other papers relating to his customs business.

(b) Except as provided for in paragraph (c) of this section, each customhouse broker shall keep on customs Form 3079 (Record of Transactions of Licensed Customhouse Broker), in accordance with the instructions printed thereon, records of all customs business transacted by him in behalf of his clients. If a transaction has been handled only in part by the broker, he need fill in only the appropriate part of his customs Form 3079. Records on customs Form 3079 shall be in addition to, and not in lieu of, the regular records of account required by paragraph (a) of this section to be kept and maintained.

(c) If the data prescribed to be recorded on customs Form 3079 are disclosed in other records regularly kept and maintained by a customhouse broker in a systematic, convenient, and readily available form which will permit an effective inspection thereof by duly accredited agents of the United States, such broker may, by notice in writing from the collector for the district, be exempted from the requirements of paragraph (b) of this section. Such notice of exemption shall be issued only if (1) a broker makes written application therefor to the collector, setting forth the facts as to the records he keeps and agreeing that if the exemption is granted he will not change his system of records or his manner of keeping and maintaining them without notification to and prior approval by the said collector and (2) the collector and the supervising customs agent for the district are satisfied that the records are and will be kept and maintained by the broker in conformity with the conditions above stated.

(d) Whenever it shall appear to the satisfaction of the collector, upon investigation by a duly accredited agent of the United States, that a broker to whom an exemption has been granted as provided for in paragraph (c) of this section is not keeping and maintaining records in conformity with the requirements of the said paragraph (c), the exemption of such broker shall be revoked by notice in writing from the collector, and such broker shall thereafter keep and maintain records on customs Form 3079 as above stated.

(e) All the books and papers required by the foregoing provisions of this section shall be kept on file for at least 5 years and maintained in such manner that they may readily be examined. Any or all such books and papers shall be made available to duly accredited agents of the United States on demand therefor within 5 years after their preparation or receipt by the broker, or within any longer period of time during which they remain in the possession of the broker. Each customhouse broker shall advise the Commissioner and the collector at the headquarters port in each district in which his license is held of each change of his business address. The broker shall also furnish such additional information regarding his activities as a customhouse broker as such agents may require.

(f) The supervising customs agent in charge of the agency district, or a customs agent designated by him, shall make such inspection of the books and papers required by this part to be kept and maintained by a customhouse broker as may be necessary to enable the supervising customs agent, the collector of customs, and other proper officials of the Treasury Department to determine whether or not the broker is complying with the requirements of this section. Furthermore, the supervising customs agent, or any duly accredited agent of the United States designated by him, may at any time, for the purpose of protecting importers or the revenue of the United States, inspect such books and papers to obtain information regarding specific customs transactions.

(g) The agent making any investigation contemplated by paragraph (f) of this section shall report his findings in full to the Commissioner and the collector.

(h) The books and papers referred to in this section and pertaining to the business of the clients serviced by the broker shall be considered confidential and the broker shall not disclose their contents or any information connected therewith to any persons other than such clients and duly accredited agents of the United States except on subpoena by a court of competent jurisdiction.

§ 31.10 Other duties and obligations of customhouse brokers.

(a) No customhouse broker shall permit his license or his name to be used by or for any unlicensed person, or by or for any broker whose license is under suspension, in the solicitation, promotion, or performance of any customs business or transaction.

(b) (1) No customhouse broker shall accept or retain employment from or with an unlicensed employer to transact customs business for others than the employer in such manner that the fees or other benefits resulting from the services rendered by the broker for others inure to the benefit of the unlicensed employer, except that a customhouse broker may compensate a freight forwarder for services rendered in obtaining brokerage business, provided that

(i) The importer shall be notified in advance by the forwarder or broker of the name of the customhouse broker selected by the forwarder for the handling of his customs transactions;

(ii) If the fees and charges for such brokerage services are to be collected by or through the forwarder, the customhouse broker shall transmit directly to the importer a true copy of his bill of charges as rendered to the forwarder. If, on the other hand, such fees and charges are to be collected by or through the customhouse broker, he shall transmit directly to the importer a statement of his bill of charges and an itemized list of any charges to be collected for the account of the freight forwarder.

(iii) No part of the agreement of compensation between the customhouse broker and the forwarder, nor any action taken pursuant thereto, shall forbid or prevent direct communication between the importer and the customhouse broker; and

(iv) In making such agreement and in all actions taken pursuant thereto, the customhouse broker shall be subject to all other provisions of these regulations and any amendments thereto.

(2) Where a customhouse broker is employed for the transaction of customs business by an unlicensed employer who is not the actual importer, a copy of the statement of charges made by the customhouse broker must be transmitted to the actual importer by the customhouse broker, except where the merchandise was purchased for delivery on an all free basis.

(c) No customhouse broker shall knowingly and directly or indirectly (1) accept employment to effect a customs transaction as associate, correspondent, officer, employee, agent, or subagent from any person whose license as a customhouse broker shall have been revoked for any cause, or whose license is under suspension, or who is notoriously disreputable, or (2) assist the furtherance of any customs business or transaction of such person, or (3) employ, or accept such assistance from, any such person, or (4) share fees with any such person, or (5) permit any such person directly or indirectly to participate, whether through ownership or otherwise, in the promotion, control, or direction of the business of the broker: Provided, That nothing herein shall be deemed to prohibit any customhouse broker from acting as a customhouse broker for any bona fide importer or exporter, notwithstanding such importer or exporter may have had his license as a customhouse broker revoked or suspended, or may be disreputable.

(d) No customhouse broker shall act in behalf of any person, or attempt to represent any person, in respect of any protest or appeal for reappraisement, unless he shall previously have been specifically or generally authorized to do so by such person.

(e) No customhouse broker shall knowingly use false or misleading representations to procure employment in any customs matter, nor shall he represent to a client or prospective client that he can obtain extraordinary favors from the Treasury Department or any representative thereof.

(f) No customhouse broker shall represent a client before the Treasury Department or any representative thereof in any matter to which the broker, as officer or employee, gave personal consideration, or as to the facts of which he gained knowledge, while in the Government service.

(g) No customhouse broker shall knowingly (1) assist a person who has been employed by a client in a matter pending before the Treasury Department or any representative thereof to which matter such person gave personal consideration or gained personal knowledge of the facts or issues thereof while in the Government service, or (2) accept assistance in any such matter from any such person, or (3) share fees in any such matter with any such person.

(h) No customhouse broker shall suggest to a client or a prospective client a plan known to be illegal for evading payment of any duty, tax, or other debt or obligation owing to the Government.

(i) Each customhouse broker who knows that a client has not complied with the law or has made any error in, or omission from, any document, affidavit, or other paper which the law requires such client to execute shall advise his client promptly of the fact of such noncompliance, error, or omission.

(j) Each customhouse broker shall exercise due diligence to ascertain the correctness of any information which he imparts to a client with reference to any customs business; and no customhouse broker shall knowingly impart to a client false information relative to any such business when such false information is or might be detrimental to the interests of the Government, the client, or any other person.

(k) No customhouse broker shall withhold information relative to any customs business from a client who is entitled to the information.

(l) Each customhouse broker shall promptly pay over to the Government when due all sums received for the payment of any duty, tax, or other debt or obligation owing to the Government, and shall promptly account to clients for funds received for them from the Government, or received from a client in excess of the governmental or other charges properly payable in respect of the client's customs business.

(m) No customhouse broker shall endorse or accept without authority of his client any Government draft, check, or warrant drawn to the order of such client.

(n) No customhouse broker who has recommended to his client an attorney shall demand of, or accept from, such attorney any fee or remuneration by reason of such recommendation without the knowledge and consent of the client.

(o) No customhouse broker shall file or procure or assist in the filing of any claim, or of any document, affidavit, or other paper, known by such broker to be false, nor shall knowingly give, or solicit or procure the giving of, any false or misleading information or testimony in any matter pending before the Treasury Department or any representative thereof.

(p) Each customhouse broker shall exercise due diligence in answering correspondence, in making financial settlements, and in preparing, or assisting in the preparation and filing of, documents relating to any matter handled by him as a customhouse broker.

(q) No customhouse broker shall procure, or attempt to procure, directly or indirectly, information from Government records or other Government sources of any kind to which access is not granted by proper authority.

(r) No customhouse broker shall attempt to influence the conduct of any representative of the Treasury Department in any matter pending before the Treasury Department or any representative thereof by the use of a threat, false accusation, duress, or the offer of any special inducement or promise of advantage, or by bestowing any gift or favor or other thing of value.

(s) No customhouse broker shall refuse access to, conceal, remove, or destroy the whole or any part of any book, paper, or other record, relating to his transactions as a customhouse broker, which is being sought, or which the broker has reasonable grounds to believe may be sought, by the Treasury Department or any representative thereof, or shall otherwise interfere, or attempt to interfere, with any proper and lawful efforts by such Department or representative to procure such information.

(t) Every licensed officer or member of a corporation, association, or partnership, which is licensed as a customhouse broker, shall exercise responsible supervision and control over the transaction of the customhouse business of such corporation, association, or partnership.

(u) A customhouse broker who is authorized by State law to transact business under a fictitious or trade name, and who proposes to so operate, shall submit evidence of his authority so to do and receive the approval of the Commissioner before he uses such name, and, when signing customs documents, shall affix his own name in conjunction with each signature of the fictitious or trade name.

§ 31.11 Revocation or suspension of licenses.

(a) Failure or refusal to comply with the duties, obligations, or requirements specified in § 31.10 or elsewhere in this part relating to customhouse brokers may be deemed grounds for suspension or revocation of the license of a customhouse broker, but such duties, obligations, or requirements are not to be considered as exclusive, as conduct not within the purview of any specification of this part may be deemed to be conduct warranting the suspension or revocation of a license under the authority of section 641(b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.[3]

(b) A proceeding for the revocation or suspension of a customhouse broker's license shall be governed by the following rules, subject to the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1001–1011):

(1) Inability of collector to act. In the case of sickness or necessary absence of the collector which prevents him from acting as provided for in this section, the assistant collector shall be deemed the chief officer of the customs referred to in amended section 641 (b), Tariff Act of 1930, and shall perform the duties of the collector prescribed in this section.

(2) Investigation. Every complaint or charge against any customhouse broker filed with a collector or other customs officer shall forthwith be forwarded for investigation to the supervising customs agent in charge of the district in which the broker is located. The supervising customs agent shall make his report and transmit it, with recommendation, to the collector of the appropriate district for such action as may be necessary, and shall also transmit a copy thereof to the Commissioner.

(3) Abatement of charges. If the collector determines that there is not sufficient evidence to prefer charges, he shall report all the facts to the Commissioner.

(4) Institution of proceedings. If the collector determines that there is sufficient evidence to prefer charges, he shall institute and conduct, subject to the applicable provisions of this section, a proceeding pursuant to amended section 641 (b), Tariff Act of 1930.

(5) Drafting of notice. The collector may request the Commissioner to assist in the preparation of the statement of charges to be served upon the accused broker. If the statement is prepared in the field, it shall be submitted to the Commissioner for review before being made the basis of action.

[3] See the first paragraph of section 641 (b) in footnote 1 to § 31.2.

(6) Opportunity to avoid proceeding. The collector, before a proceeding is instituted, shall give to the accused broker a preliminary notice in writing that:

(i) Transmits a copy of the proposed statement of charges, or a specification of the substance thereof;

(ii) Cites sections 5 (b) and 9 (b) of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1004 (b) and 1008 (b));

(iii) Calls upon the accused broker to show cause, if he so desires, why the proceeding should not be instituted;

(iv) Informs the accused broker that the notice affords him opportunity to make submissions and demonstrations of the character contemplated by the cited statutory provisions;

(v) Invites any negotiation that the accused broker deems it desirable to enter into; and

(vi) Specifies a reasonable time for response to that notice: Provided, That, if prior to service of the statement of charges, the collector determines that the case is one where such preliminary notice would be improper and unnecessary, he shall incorporate his findings and his reasons therefor in the statement of charges, and the statement of charges shall be served without first giving such preliminary notice.

(7) Service of statement of charges. Notice of the charges, signed by the collector, shall be served upon the accused customhouse broker in the following manner:

(i) If an individual:

(a) By delivery to the accused broker personally, or

(b) By registered mail, with demand for a return card signed solely by the addressee.

(ii) If a corporation, association, or partnership:

(a) By delivery to any officer of such corporation or association, or member of such partnership, or

(b) By registered mail addressed to any such officer or member, with demand for a return card signed solely by the addressee: Provided, That, if a customhouse broker shall have signed and filed with the Commissioner his written consent to be served in some other manner, it shall be sufficient if service is made in that manner. Where the service is by registered mail, the receipt of the return card duly signed shall be satisfactory evidence of service.

(8) Content of statement of charges. The notice of charges shall state the place where and time within which the accused may file in duplicate his verified answer, and shall contain or be accompanied by a statement of charges, which statement shall be signed by the collector, giving a plain and concise, but not necessarily detailed, description of the facts which it is claimed constitute grounds for suspension or revocation of license. A statement of charges which fairly informs the accused of the charges against him so that he is able to prepare his defense shall be deemed sufficient. Different means by which a purpose might have been accomplished or different intents with which acts might have been done so as to constitute grounds for suspension or revocation of license may be alleged in the statement of charges in a single count in the alternative. If, in order to prepare his defense, the accused desires additional information as to the time and place of the alleged misconduct, or the means by which it was committed, or any other more specific information concerning the alleged misconduct, he may present a motion in writing to the collector asking that the statement or charges be made more specific, setting forth in such motion in what specific respect the statement of charges leaves him in doubt and describing the particular language of the statement of charges as to which additional information is needed. If in the opinion of the collector such information is reasonably necessary to enable the accused to prepare his defense, the collector shall furnish the accused with an amended statement of charges giving the needed information.

(9) Service of other papers. After notice of the charges has been duly served, all other papers in the case, including notice of the time and place of the hearing, shall be served by:

(i) Delivering the same to the accused personally if an individual; or if a corporation, association, or partnership, to any officer or member thereof; or

(ii) Leaving them at the office of the accused, or of such officer or member, with his clerk or with a person in charge thereof; or

(iii) Depositing them in a United States post office or post-office box, enclosed in a sealed envelope, plainly addressed to such accused, or to such member or officer, at the address under which the accused is licensed or at the last known address of the accused, or such member or officer.

(iv) When the accused, whether an individual, corporation, association, or partnership, is represented by an attorney, by service upon the attorney in the manner provided for in subdivision (i), (ii), or (iii) of this subparagraph for service on the accused personally.

(10) Copies filed with Commissioner. Copies of all papers in the case, including the notice of charges, and each notice of the time and place of any hearing, shall be sent promptly by the collector to the Commissioner.

(11) Hearing. The hearing shall be before the collector or other chief officer of the customs, who shall provide a competent reporter to make the record of the hearing. If a competent reporter is not available to the collector, he shall request the Commissioner to furnish one for the hearing or to permit the use of available appropriated funds to hire the services of a reporter. The Commissioner shall designate an officer to represent the Government at the hearing and to participate in the presentation of testimony. The collector may designate a member of his staff to assist in the proceedings. The accused or his attorney shall have the right to examine all exhibits introduced at the hearing. Pursuant to order of the collector giving due notice to the parties, depositions upon oral or written interrogatories may be taken by either party for use at the hearing before any officer duly authorized to administer oaths for general purposes or in customs matters.

(12) Submittals. After conclusion of the reception of the evidence, the collector shall by rule afford the parties a reasonable opportunity to submit proposed findings and conclusions and supporting reasons therefor as contemplated by section 8 (b) of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1007 (b)).

(13) Decision by the collector. After compliance with subparagraph (12) of this paragraph the collector shall make his recommended decision in the case and certify the entire record to the Secretary of the Treasury. The collector shall recommend to the Secretary the dismissal of the charges when in his opinion the charges have not been proved. The collector shall recommend to the Secretary that the license be suspended or revoked if in the opinion of the collector such action is warranted by the record. The collector's decision shall conform with the requirements of section 8 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1007).

(14) Decision by Secretary of the Treasury. Upon receipt of the record, the Secretary of the Treasury will afford the parties a reasonable opportunity to make such additional submittals as may then be required by section 8 (b) of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1007 (b)) and by the circumstances of the case. Thereafter the Secretary will make his decision.

(15) Dismissal subject to new proceedings. If the evidence at the hearing indicates that a proper disposition of the case cannot be made on the basis of the charges preferred, the Secretary may instruct the collector to file appropriate charges as a basis for new proceedings.

(16) Immaterial mistakes. The deciding officer shall disregard an immaterial misnomer of a third person, an immaterial mistake in the description of any person, thing, or place, or the ownership of any property, a failure to prove immaterial allegations in the description of the accused's conduct, or any other immaterial mistake in the statement of charges.

(17) Proof, partial. If the deciding officer finds that a part of the charges in the statement of charges is not sufficiently proved but that the residue thereof is so proved, he may base his decision on any facts established by the evidence which are grounds for suspension or revocation of the license and which are substantially charged by the said residue of the statement of charges.

(18) Default. No decision by default shall be made against an accused broker except upon evidence submitted on behalf of the Government.

(19) Notice of suspension or revocation. If the Secretary of the Treasury in the exercise of his discretion issues his order of suspension or revocation of the license of the accused, notice thereof shall be given by the Commissioner to the heads of all interested bureaus, offices, and divisions of the Treasury Department and to other interested departments and agencies of the Government in such manner as the Commissioner may determine. Except as provided for on appeal pursuant to section 641 (b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, such person will not thereafter be recognized as a customhouse broker during the period of suspension or revocation of his license.

(20) Reopening. Any customhouse broker who has been suspended or whose license has been revoked may make written application to the collector to have the order of suspension or revocation set aside or modified upon the ground (i) of newly discovered evidence, or (ii) that important evidence is now available which the applicant was unable to produce at the original hearing by the exercise of due diligence. Every such application shall be filed with the collector in duplicate. Such application must set forth specifically the precise character of the evidence to be relied upon in its support and shall state the reasons why the applicant was unable to produce it when the original charges were heard. If the collector after due consideration of the application shall deem it sufficiently meritorious to warrant a hearing, he shall so recommend to the Secretary, who may order the taking of additional testimony before the collector. The collector shall set a time and place for such hearing, and give due notice thereof to the applicant. The procedures governing the hearing and decision will be the same as those governing the original proceeding.

(21) Notice of reinstatement. In the event that the Secretary shall issue an order vacating or modifying the prior order of suspension or revocation, notice thereof shall be given to all those to whom notice of the original order of suspension or revocation was sent.

(22) Saving provision. Any proceeding for revocation or suspension of a license instituted prior to the effective date of this section shall be governed by the provisions of 31 CFR 11.10 in force at the time the proceeding was instituted: Provided, however, That if in the course of the proceeding there is taken any action that is authorized by the provisions of 31 CFR 11.10 governing the proceedings, but is not authorized by this section or any intervening amendment of 31 CFR 11.10, said action shall not constitute grounds for disturbing any order thereafter made in the proceeding, unless (i) it is shown that the action was in derogation of substantive rights and not merely procedural rights; and (ii) upon occurrence of the action the respondent made timely objection supported by his reasons and the objection was overruled: Provided further, That adherence may be had to this section pursuant to stipulation of the parties.

§ 31.12 Cancellation of licenses.

(a) Any corporation, association, or partnership which is licensed as a customhouse broker shall immediately notify the collector of each district in which it is licensed to transact business in the event it ceases to have at least two officers or members who are licensed individually as customhouse brokers and who exercise responsible supervision and control of the transaction of the customs business of the licensed organization. Collectors shall report to the Commissioner all cases wherein the required number of officers or members of any licensed corporation, association, or partnership have ceased to be qualified as customhouse brokers and the deficiency has continued for more than 60 days. The Commissioner, in such cases, will notify the corporation, association, or partnership that its license has been revoked in accordance with the requirement of section 641 (a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.[4] A copy of such notice shall be sent by the Commissioner to the collector.

(b) A customhouse broker's license may be canceled upon written application to the Commissioner and surrender of the license certificate, but before granting the request, inquiry shall be made by the Commissioner to ascertain whether it has been made in order to evade proceedings for revocation or suspension of the license, in which event the request shall be denied, unless the Secretary of the Treasury shall otherwise order.

§ 31.13 Licenses issued under prior acts of Congress.

Licenses issued under prior acts of Congress shall continue in force and effect in accordance with the provisions of section 641 (c), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.[5]

§ 31.14 Appeal from the Secretary's decision.

An appeal from any order of the Secretary of the Treasury suspending or revoking a license may be taken by any customhouse broker in accordance with the provisions of section 641 (b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.[6]

§ 31.15 Records of the Commissioner.

(a) Maintenance. The Commissioner will keep such rosters and other records as may be necessary to perform his functions under this part.

(b) Availability. (1) The Commissioner, on request, will furnish information to any person as to whether any specified person is a customhouse broker.

(2) There are available to public inspection at the office of the Commissioner:

(i) The roster of all persons licensed as customhouse brokers pursuant to amended section 641, Tariff Act of 1930.

(ii) The final opinion or order in the adjudication of any case in which revocation of any license was sought, provided the licensee (or former licensee) expressly consents to publication.

(3) Matters of official record pertaining to the licensing of customhouse brokers, to persons properly and directly concerned.

(4) The official records pertaining to the revocation (or the proposed revocation) of any license, and to the investigation of any applicant therefor, constitute confidential information, except as provided for in paragraph (b) (2) and (3) of this section. These records are held confidential for these good causes:

(i) Publication is capable of injuring a licensee or former licensee without furthering the public interest.

(ii) Much of the information is elicited without the aid of the subpoena power on the assurance that the sources will be protected.

- 32.5 Detail of customs officers to protect revenue; expenses.
- 32.6 Disposition of articles entered for fairs; entry or transfer; destruction; abandonment, voluntary or mandatory; exportation.

AUTHORITY: §§ 32.1 to 32.6, inclusive, issued under R.S. 161, as amended, 251, secs. 623, 624, 46 Stat. 759, as amended, secs. 2–7, 73 Stat. 18, 19; 5 U.S.C. 22, 19 U.S.C. 66, 1623, 1624, 1751–1756.

§ 32.1 Definitions.

(a) The Act. The term "the Act" means the Trade Fair Act of 1959.[1]

(b) Fair. The term "fair" means a fair, exhibition, or exposition designated by the Secretary of Commerce pursuant to the Trade Fair Act of 1959.

(c) Fair operator. The term "fair operator" means the party named by the Secretary of Commerce as the operator of the fair.

(d) Port. The term "port" means the port at which the fair is to be held or, if the fair is not to be held within the limits of a port, the port nearest to the location of the fair which is in the same customs collection district as the fair.

(e) Collector. The term "collector" means the collector, or deputy collector in charge, of the port as defined above.

(f) Closing date of the fair. The term "closing date of the fair" means the date designated by the Secretary of Commerce as the date when the fair will close (which date is subject to extension by the said Secretary), or, if the fair closes earlier, the date on which the fair actually closes.

(g) Articles for exhibition. The term "articles for exhibition" includes, but is not limited to, pamphlets, brochures, and explanatory material in reasonable quantities relating to exhibits at a fair.

§ 32.2 Invoices; marking; bond.

(a) Articles intended for exhibition under the provisions of the Act and valued at over $500 are subject to the usual special customs invoice requirements if of a class for which such invoices are required under the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and the regulations in this chapter. The invoices shall be on either customs Form 5515 or on foreign service Form 138 and shall contain the information prescribed under section 481 of the Tariff Act of 1930.

(b) The marking requirements of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and the regulations promulgated thereunder will not apply to articles entered under the regulations in this part except when such articles are entered for consumption, in which case they shall be released from customs custody only upon a full compliance with the marking requirements of the tariff act, as amended, and the regulations promulgated thereunder.

(c) The packaging, marking, and labeling requirements of the internal-revenue laws and of the Federal Alcohol Administration Act will not apply to articles entered under the regulations in this part, except (1) that any article failing to comply with such requirements shall be conspicuously marked prior to exhibition "Not labeled or packaged as required by law—not for sale", and (2) when any such article is withdrawn for consumption, it shall be released from customs custody only upon a full compliance with such packaging, marking, and labeling requirements.

(d) The fair operator shall furnish for the approval of the collector a bond in the following form and in an amount to be determined by the collector:

TRADE FAIR BOND

Know all men by these presents, That ----------,

[1] SECTION 1. Short title. This Act may be cited as the "Trade Fair Act of 1959".

SEC. 2. Designation of fairs.

(a) In general. When the Secretary of Commerce is satisfied that the public interest in promoting trade will be served by allowance of the privileges provided for in this Act to any fair to be held in the United States, he shall so advise the Secretary of the Treasury, designating (1) the name of the fair, (2) the place where the fair will be held, (3) the date when the fair will open and the date when it will close, and (4) the name of the operator of the fair.

(b) Definitions. For purposes of this Act—

(1) The term "fair" means any fair, exhibition, or exposition designated by the Secretary of Commerce pursuant to this section.

(2) The term "closing date" in the case of any fair means the date designated pursuant to subsection (a)(3) as the date when the fair will close, or (if earlier) the date on which such fair actually closes.

(c) Regulations. The Secretary of Commerce may prescribe such regulations as he deems necessary or appropriate to carry out the provisions of this section.

SEC. 3. Entry of articles for fairs. Any article imported or brought into the United States—

(1) Which is in continuous customs custody, covered by a customs exhibition bond, or in a foreign trade zone, and

(2) On which no duty or internal-revenue tax has been paid, may, without payment of any duty or internal-revenue tax, be entered under bond under this section for the purpose of exhibition at a fair, or for use in constructing, installing, or maintaining foreign exhibits at a fair.

SEC. 4. Disposition of articles entered for fairs.

(a) Entry under general customs laws, etc. At any time before, or within 3 months after, the closing date of any fair, any article entered for such fair under section 3 may be sold or otherwise disposed of within, or may be removed from, the area of such fair. This subsection shall apply only if, before such disposition or removal—

(1) The article, after the entry for such fair under section 3, has been entered under any provision of the customs laws, and

(2) Any applicable duties and internal-revenue taxes are paid on such article in its condition and quantity, and at the rate in effect, at the time of such entry as if such article were imported or brought into the United States at the time of such entry.

(b) Disposition without payment of duty. At any time before, or within 3 months after, the closing date of any fair, any article entered for such fair under section 3 may, without the payment of any duties or internal-revenue taxes, be—

(1) Exported,

(2) Transferred from such fair to other customs custody status or to a foreign-trade zone,

(3) Destroyed, or

(4) Abandoned to the Government.

(c) Mandatory abandonment to Government. If any article entered under section 3 is still in customs custody, under such entry, at the expiration of 3 months after the closing date of the fair for which it was entered, such article shall thereupon be regarded as an article abandoned to the Government and shall be subject to sale or destruction of the article and disposition of the proceeds of sale in the manner provided for in sections 491, 492, and 493 of the Tariff Act of 1930. For purposes of this subsection, any duties or internal-revenue taxes on the article shall be computed on the basis of its condition and quantity at the time it becomes subject to sale.

(d) Period for performance of certain acts. Whenever any article entered under section 3 is transferred pursuant to subsection (b)(2) or entered under subsection (a), the period prescribed for the performance of any act required by the provision governing the status to which the article is transferred, or under which the article is entered, shall run from the date of such transfer or entry.

SEC. 5. Marking, packaging, and labeling.

(a) Customs laws. Articles entered under section 3 shall not be subject to any marking requirements of the customs laws, except that when any such article is entered for consumption under section 4 it shall not be released from customs custody until the marking requirements of the customs laws have been complied with.

(b) Internal-revenue laws, etc. Articles entered under section 3 shall not be subject to the packaging, marking, or labeling requirements of the internal-revenue laws or of the Federal Alcohol Administration Act, except that any such article failing to comply with such requirements—

(1) Shall be conspicuously marked prior to exhibition "Not labeled or packaged as required by law—not for sale", and

(2) When entered for consumption under section 4, shall not be released from customs custody until such packaging, marking, and labeling requirements have been complied with.

The application of the permit requirements of the Federal Alcohol Administration Act and the occupational taxes prescribed by chapter 51 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 shall be determined without regard to this Act.

SEC. 6. Responsibilities of fair operator.—(a) Sole consignee and importer. Each fair operator designated by the Secretary of Commerce pursuant to section 2 shall be deemed the sole consignee and importer of all articles entered under section 3 for the fair for which such operator has been designated.

(b) Expenses of customs custody, etc. The actual and necessary customs charges for labor, services, and other expenses in connection with the entry, examination, appraisement, custody, abandonment, destruction, or release of articles entered under section 3, together with the necessary charges for salaries of customs officers and employees in connection with the accounting for, custody of, and supervision over, such articles, shall be reimbursed to the United States by the operator of the fair for which they are entered. Receipts from such reimbursements shall be deposited as refunds to the appropriation from which paid, in the manner provided for in section 524 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C., sec. 1524).

SEC. 7. Regulations. The Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe such regulations as may be necessary or appropriate to carry out the provisions of this Act (other than section 2 thereof). (P.L. 86–14; 73 Stat. 18) of _____, as principal, and _____, of _____, and _____, of _____, as sureties, are held and firmly bound unto the United States of America in the sum of _____ dollars ($ _____), for the payment of which we bind ourselves, our heirs, executors, administrators, successors, and assigns, jointly and severally, firmly by these presents.

Witness our hands and seals this _____ day of _____, 19__.

Whereas, pursuant to the provisions of the Trade Fair Act of 1959, Public Law 86–14, approved April 22, 1959, the Secretary of Commerce has approved an application by the principal hereon for the operation of a fair to be known as _____ (Insert exact name of fair) at _____; and

(City and State)

Whereas, pursuant to the foregoing Act, imported articles may be imported or brought into the United States without the payment of duties, taxes, fees, charges, or exactions, for purposes of exhibition at the designated fair, or for use in constructing, installing, or maintaining foreign exhibits at such fair, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe;

Now, therefore, the condition of this obligation is such, that—

(1) If the above-bounden principal shall comply in all respects with the provisions of the foregoing Act and the regulations issued by the Secretary relating to the exhibition or use of any article imported or brought into the United States for the designated fair; and shall receive for exhibition or use at such fair only such articles as may be permitted by law and regulations to be deposited therein; and shall safely keep or use the same therein all in accordance with the purposes authorized by law, and shall not remove, nor suffer to be removed, any article from the fair premises without lawful permit and without the presence of the customs officer in charge;

(2) And if the above-bounden principal shall pay to the collector of customs, when demanded by him, all unpaid duties, taxes, fees, charges, or exactions found legally due in connection with all articles entered or brought into the United States for the fair under the provisions of the designated Act and charged against this bond; and if in respect of any of the articles released from customs custody shall redeliver or cause to be redelivered to the order of the collector of customs, upon proper demand made at any time, any and all articles found not to comply with the law and regulations governing their admission into the commerce of the United States, and shall, after proper notice, mark, label, clean, fumigate, destroy, export, and do any and all other things in relation to said articles that may be required to secure the protection of the revenue and compliance with the Trade Fair Act referred to in the recital clause of this obligation and with all applicable customs and related laws; it being expressly understood and agreed that the liability under this bond shall extend to all cases where any of the articles entered for exhibition or use are lost or stolen, whether or not the said loss or theft shall result from the fault of said principal;

(3) And if the above-bounden principal shall pay monthly to the collector of customs, the actual and necessary customs charges for labor, services, and other expenses in connection with the entry, examination, appraisement, release, or custody of the imported articles, together with the compensation of the customs officers and employees on duty at or assigned to the fair premises in connection with the accounting for, custody of, and supervision over, the articles entered pursuant to the designated Act, including overtime compensation of customs officers and employees assigned to duty at night or on Sunday or a holiday;

(4) And if the above-bounden principal, when an article is entered from the Fair for exportation, shall cause the said article to be actually exported from the United States and not relanded therein, and if proof of exportation from the United States be furnished to the said collector in the form and within the time required by law or regulations, or within any lawful extension of such time; or in lieu of exportation, if the said article shall be destroyed or abandoned within the period fixed by law, or, in default thereof, if the obligors shall pay to the collector the full amount of duties, taxes, fees, charges, and exactions which may be found legally due on the said articles;

(5) And if the said principal shall deliver to the collector of customs all the documents and evidence as may be required in connection with the entry of the articles at the designated fair, and in the form and within the time required by law or regulations, or any lawful extensions thereof, and shall comply with all other requirements of law and regulations;

Then this obligation shall be void; otherwise to remain in full force and effect.

§ 32.3 Entry; appraisement; procedure.

(a) All entries under the regulations in this part shall be made at the port in the name of the fair operator which shall be deemed for customs purposes the sole consignee of the merchandise entered under the Act and which shall be held responsible to the Government for all duties and charges due the United States on account of such entries; but, in the case of merchandise entered under the general customs laws from a fair, the entry may be made in the name of any person duly authorized in writing by the fair operator to make such entry.

(b) Articles to be entered under the regulations in this part which arrive at ports other than "the port", as defined in this part, shall be entered for immediate transportation without appraisement to the latter port in the manner prescribed in Part 18 of this chapter.

(c) Upon the arrival at the port of articles to be entered under the regulations in this part, they shall be entered on a special form of entry to read substantially as follows:

ENTRY FOR EXHIBITION

Entry No. _____

Entry at the port of _____ of articles consigned or transferred to _____ (Fair operator) under _____ I.T. No _____ ex S.S _____ from _____ on the _____ day of _____ 19____, for exhibition purposes under the Trade Fair Act of 1959.

Mark	Number	Package and contents	Quantity	Invoice value

_____ (Fair operator)

By _____

(d) Upon such entry being made, the collector shall issue a special permit for the transfer of the articles covered thereby to the buildings in which they are to be exhibited or used, or, in the discretion of the collector, to the appraiser's stores for examination and subsequent transfer to the buildings in which they are to be exhibited or used. The articles shall be tentatively appraised prior to their exhibition or use. No imported exhibit entered under the regulations in this part shall be removed from or used on the fair premises unless it is first entered in accordance with § 32.6(a), and no imported construction, installation, or maintenance material entered under these regulations shall be removed from the fair premises except in accordance with that section; and such exhibits and materials shall be kept segregated from domestic articles and from imported articles entered under the provisions of the general customs laws and released from customs custody thereunder.

(e) If for any reason articles imported or brought in for entry under the regulations in this part are not upon their arrival to be delivered immediately at a fair building, the fair operator should so indicate to the collector in writing, who will cause such articles to be placed in a bonded warehouse under a "general order permit" at the risk and expense of the fair operator. At any time within one year from the date such articles are imported or brought in, they may be entered under these regulations for a fair, or entered under the general tariff law, or for exportation. If not so entered within such period, they will be regarded as abandoned to the Government.

(f) Any article imported or brought into the United States which is in continuous customs custody, covered by a customs exhibition bond, or in a foreign-trade zone, on which no duty or internal-revenue tax has been paid, may be entered under bond under the regulations in this part for the purpose of exhibition at a fair, or for use in constructing, installing, or maintaining foreign exhibits at a fair. In each case an entry under paragraph (c) of this section shall be filed, which entry shall supersede any previous entry. No bond other than that specified in § 32.2(d) shall be required. Articles which have been entered under section 308 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, may not be entered under the regulations in this part for a fair.

§ 32.4 Compliance, provisions of Plant Quarantine Act of 1912, and Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

The entry of plant material subject to restriction under the Plant Quarantine Act of 1912, as amended (7 U.S.C. 151–164a, 167), shall not be permitted except under permits issued therefor by the Plant Quarantine Division of the Agriculture Research Service, Department of Agriculture, and in accordance with the plant quarantine regulations. The entry of food products shall conform to the requirements of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, as amended (21 U.S.C. 301 et seq.), and regulations issued thereunder.

§ 32.5 Detail of customs officers to protect revenue; expense.

(a) The collector shall detail an officer to act as his representative at the fair and shall station inside the buildings as many additional customs officers and employees as may be necessary to properly protect the revenue.

(b) All actual and necessary charges for labor, services, and other expenses in connection with the entry, examination, appraisement, custody, abandonment, destruction, or release of articles entered under the regulations in this part, together with the necessary charges for salaries of customs officers and employees in connection with the accounting for, custody of, and supervision over, such articles, shall be reimbursed by the fair operator to the Government, payment to be made monthly to the collector for deposit to the appropriation from which paid.

§ 32.6 Disposition of articles entered for fairs: entry or transfer; destruction; abandonment, voluntary or mandatory; exportation.

(a) Any article entered under the regulations in this part may be entered for consumption, for warehouse, or under any other provision of the customs laws, or for another fair, or may be transferred to other customs custody status or to a foreign-trade zone, or abandoned to the Government, or destroyed under customs supervision, or exported, at any time before, or within three months after, the closing date of the fair (including any extension of such closing date). Upon entry of such articles under a provision of the customs laws, or at the expiration of three months after the closing date of the fair (including any extension) in the case of articles not previously entered or transferred, they shall be appraised. Such appraisement shall be final in the absence of an appeal to reappraisement, as provided in section 501 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended. In the case of any article entered under a provision of the customs laws or for another fair, or transferred to other customs custody status or to a foreign-trade zone, the period prescribed for the performance of any act required by the provision governing the status under which the article is entered, or to which it is transferred, shall be computed from the date of such entry or transfer.

(b) At any time before, or within three months after, the closing date of the fair, including any extension, any article entered hereunder may be abandoned to the Government or destroyed under customs supervision, upon compliance with the regulations provided for in § 15.4 of this chapter, so far as applicable in the case of articles abandoned under section 563(b) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, or destroyed under section 557(c) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

(c) Articles which are entered from a fair under the regulations in this part for entry at another fair under such regulations shall be retained in continuous customs custody.

(d) Any article entered hereunder from a foreign-trade zone status of "zone restricted merchandise" which is entered for consumption from a fair is subject to the provisions of paragraph 1615 (f) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

(e) Any article entered under the regulations in this part which has not been entered under a provision of the customs laws or for another fair, exported, or transferred to other customs custody status or to a foreign-trade zone, or which has not been abandoned to the Government or destroyed under customs supervision, before the expiration of three months after the close of the fair (including extension) shall be regarded as abandoned to the Government. Such article shall be subject to sale or destruction and the proceeds of sale disposed of in the manner provided in sections 491, 492, and 493, of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and the regulations promulgated thereunder. Any duties or internal-revenue taxes on such article shall be computed on the basis of its condition and quantity at the time it becomes subject to sale.

54.5 Scope of exemptions; nondeposit of estimated duty.
54.6 Proof of intent; bond; proof of use; liquidation.

AUTHORITY: §§ 54.2 to 54.6 issued under sec. 624, 46 Stat. 759; 19 U.S.C. 1624. Statutory provisions interpreted or applied are cited to text in parentheses.

§ 54.2 Free entry of personal and household effects of certain classes of persons in the service of the United States, or of their families, and of evacuees.

(a) Under section 1 of the act of June 30, 1955, free entry may be accorded to the personal and household effects (with the limitation on alcoholic beverages and tobacco products prescribed by paragraph (c) of this section) of any person in the service of the United States who returns to the United States upon the termination of assignment to extended duty at a post or station outside the customs territory of the United States, or of returning members of his family who have resided with him at such post or station, or of any person evacuated to the United States under Government orders or instructions, provided such effects are entered or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption before July 1, 1960.

(b) The privilege does not apply to articles imported for sale, or for the account of any person not specified in the act, but the term "personal effects" as used in the statute is not confined to that class of articles described in paragraph 1798 (b) (1), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U. S. C. 1201, par. 1798 (b) (1)); nor is any period of use, such as is prescribed by paragraph 1632, Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U. S. C. 1201, par. 1632), applicable to household effects entered under this act.

(c) Not more than one wine gallon of alcoholic beverages and not more than one hundred cigars may be imported by any person under the act, except that no alcoholic beverages or cigars shall be accorded free entry under the act in addition to either of such products concurrently imported by the person in connection with his return to the United States and accorded free entry under the provisions of paragraph 1798 (c) (2) (A) or (B), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U. S. C. 1201, par. 1798 (c) (2) (A) or (B).

(d) Collectors of customs shall be satisfied in all cases that the effects imported free of duty under the act are the personal and household effects of the importer, particularly in those cases where the quantity of effects imported may appear to be an unreasonable quantity for personal or household use.

(e) Except as it may otherwise be deemed proper in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (f) or (g) of this section, no person, or member of his family, shall be allowed free entry of personal or household effects under the act where the person returns to the United States pursuant to Government orders or instructions which authorized him initially to proceed to a foreign post or station and return to the United States upon termination of temporary duty.

(f) The requirement of the act that the person "returns to the United States upon the termination of assignment to extended duty" shall be considered met upon the necessary proof being submitted that any one of the following cases is applicable:

(1) The person is returning from duty outside the customs territory of the United States of at least 140 days duration.

(2) The person is returning after the termination of an assignment to permanent duty at a post or station outside customs territory of the United States, regardless of the duration of the duty.

(3) The person returns to the United States under Government orders at any time after leaving the United States for extended duty of not less than 140 days outside the customs territory of the United States.

(4) The person, although not returning to the United States, is ordered by the Government agency involved from duty at a post or station outside the customs territory of the United States to duty at another post or station outside the customs territory of the United States necessitating the return to the United States of his personal and household effects.

(g) In any case where the limitation on the quantity of alcoholic beverages and tobacco products which may be exempted from duty and tax under paragraph (c) of this section, or the failure of the person to meet the requirement that he be returning from "extended duty", as explained in paragraph (f) of this section, will cause undue hardship to the person through no fault of his own, but rather because of the nature of his assignment or other hardship circumstances, the Commissioner of Customs, upon receipt of a request from the Government agency involved, may waive the limitation or the requirement, as the case may be, if he deems such waiver warranted by the facts.

(h) All articles for which free entry is claimed under the act shall be entered or withdrawn in accordance with the requirements prescribed by the Tariff Act of 1930. Collectors of customs shall accord free entry under the act upon the production of satisfactory proof that the articles are entitled to the benefits thereof. Customs Form 6061 may be used as a declaration and entry for articles granted exemption from duty and tax under the act when entry is made in the name of the person who is entitled to the benefits of the statute. Such declaration and entry shall be verified by the customs officer by an inspection of the owner's travel orders, unless other evidence is furnished which satisfies the collector that the effects were brought into the United States in connection with the person's return to the United States upon the termination of assignment to extended duty, as explained in paragraph (f) of this section, or in connection with the return of members of his family who have resided with him at such post or station, or in connection with the evacuation of a person to the United States under Government orders or instructions. If the collector accepts an inspection of the owner's travel orders as evidence that the effects were brought into the United States within the requirements of the act, the owner's travel orders shall be identified on the entry, which shall be handled like a free baggage declaration. The date of the person's last departure from the United States shall be indicated on the declaration and entry. The inward foreign manifest covering a shipment entered on customs Form 6061 shall be liquidated by noting thereon "Free on C. F. 6061, C. R. 54.2."

(i) No invoice shall be required for articles accorded free entry under the act.

(Secs. 481, 484, 498, 46 Stat. 719, 722, as amended, 728, sec. 1, 56 Stat. 461, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1481, 1484, 1498, 50 U. S. C. App. 801)

§ 54.3 Bona fide gifts from a member of the armed forces of the United States.

(a) Under the act of December 5, 1942, as amended (50 U. S. C. App. 846,[1] 847), collectors of customs shall afford entry free of duty, internal-revenue taxes, and customs charges and exactions, except as provided below, to bona fide gifts from members of the Armed Forces of the United States on duty outside the continental limits of the United States to the extent of $50 in value in any shipment if the gifts were purchased in or through authorized agencies of the Armed Forces of the United States or in accordance with regulations prescribed by the major geographical commands of the United States Armed Forces. The privileges of free importation shall not apply to alcoholic beverages or to nontaxpaid American cigarettes exported under the provisions of section 5704 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(b) Satisfactory evidence as to the status of articles under the act of December 5, 1942, as amended (50 U.S.C. App. 846, 847), will have been filed in connection with the entry within the meaning of the statute if (1) the shipment is accompanied by a declaration of the donor and a duly designated officer of the armed forces executed substantially in the following form:

I certify that I am a member of the armed forces of the United States on duty outside the continental limits of the United States, that the following-described articles in this parcel are being sent as bona fide gifts from me, that they were purchased in accordance with regulations prescribed by the major geographical command of the armed forces from which sent, and that the amounts listed below are the actual amounts paid for such articles:

or if (2) such a declaration, adequately describing and identifying the articles, is subsequently filed at the customhouse, and the entry, if liquidated, can be reliquidated in accordance with section 514, Tariff Act of 1930, or section 520 (c) of the tariff act, as amended, and § 16.14 of this chapter.

(c) The declaration provided for in paragraph (b) (1) of this section shall be retained by customs officers, or, if affixed to the parcel in a manner which makes removal impracticable, shall be appropriately marked to prevent its further use.

(d) The entry requirements prescribed in the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and the Customs Regulations are applicable to articles entitled to free entry under the act of December 5, 1942, as amended (50 U. S. C. App. 846, 847). When any shipment is granted exemption from duty or tax under that act, the declaration of the donor and a duly designated officer of the armed forces required by paragraph (b) of this section may be treated as an entry therefor, to be supported by proper evidence of the right to make the entry. In such a case, except when affixed to the parcel in a manner whch makes removal impracticable (see paragraph (c) of this section), the entry shall be handled like a free baggage declaration. The inward foreign manifest covering a shipment passed free under this procedure shall be liquidated by noting thereon "Free on declaration, 50 U. S. C. App. 846, 847."

(e) Customs invoices, including the invoices provided for in § 9.1, of this chapter, shall not be required for shipments of bona fide gifts accorded free entry under the act of December 5, 1942, as amended (50 U.S.C. App. 846, 847), in whole or in part. If the certificate provided for in paragraph (b)(1) of this section stating the information as to the purchase price of each article listed accompanies the parcel, it shall be accepted as a compliance with the other requirements of § 9.1 of this chapter of the customs regulations.

(f) Free entry shall be accorded under the said act to articles entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption on and after December 6, 1942, and before July 1, 1959.

(Sec. 498, 46 Stat. 728, as amended, sec. 1, 56 Stat. 461, as amended, secs. 1, 2, 56 Stat. 1041, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1498, 50 U.S.C. App. 801, 846, 847)

[1] Under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe so much of any shipment as does not exceed $50 in value, with such further limitation on the importation of alcoholic beverages and tobacco products as the Secretary may prescribe, shall be admitted into the United States or its Territories or possessions or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico free of all customs duties, charges, or exactions, or internal-revenue taxes imposed upon or by reason of importation, if there is filed in connection with the entry satisfactory evidence that the articles for which free entry is claimed were purchased in or through authorized agencies of the Armed Forces of the United States or in accordance with regulations prescribed by the major geographical commands of the United States Armed Forces, and are bona fide gifts from a member of the Armed Forces of the United States on duty outside the continental limits of the United States. ALUMINA

§ 54.4 Alumina to be used in producing aluminum.

Pursuant to Public Law No. 725, 84th Congress,[2] alumina, when imported for use in producing aluminum and entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption during the two-year period beginning July 17, 1956, may be released without the deposit of duty in the same manner and subject to the same conditions as leather to be used in the manufacture of footwear (see § 10.84 of this chapter), except that the proof of use shall show that the alumina was used in the production of aluminum and the other documents required shall be modified accordingly.

METAL ARTICLES IMPORTED TO BE USED IN REMANUFACTURING BY MELTING

§ 54.5 Scope of exemptions; nondeposit of estimated duty.

(a) Articles in chief value of metal (except ores, concentrates, crude metal, and those metals and articles specifically excluded by law) imported to be used, and actually used, in remanufacture by melting shall be exempted from duty (including import tax), upon compliance with the provisions of § 54.6, if entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption during the effective period of the act of September 30, 1950 (sec. 2, 64 Stat. 1093) and the close of the last extension thereof.

(b) No deposit of estimated duty shall be required upon the entry, or withdrawal, for consumption of articles within the purview of paragraph (a) of this section if the collector is satisfied at the time of entry or withdrawal by written declaration of the importer that the merchandise was imported to be used in remanufacture by melting.

(Interprets or applies 56 Stat. 171, as amended, sec. 2, 64 Stat. 1093, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1001 note)

§ 54.6 Proof of intent; bond; proof of use; liquidation.

Articles in chief value of metal, except ores, concentrates, crude metal, and those metals and articles specifically excluded by law, imported to be used in remanufacture by melting shall be admitted free of duty and import tax upon compliance with the following conditions:

(a) There shall be filed in connection with the entry[3] a statement of the importer that the articles are to be used in remanufacture by melting.

(b) If the articles are entered for consumption, there shall also be filed in connection with the entry a bond on customs Form 7551 or 7553. If the articles are entered for warehouse, the regular warehouse bond, customs Form 7555, shall be given and withdrawals shall be made on customs Form 7506. The liquidation of the consumption or warehouse entry shall be suspended pending proof of use or other disposition of the articles within the time prescribed by this section.

(c) Within 3 years from the date of entry (in the case of warehouse entries as well as consumption entries) the importer shall submit to the collector of customs at the port of entry a statement of the superintendent or manager of the plant at which the articles were used in remanufacture by melting, showing: (1) The name and location of the plant; (2) the entry number, date, and port of entry (if the person making the statement is not in possession of this information a reference to invoices, purchase orders, or other documents which will identify the shipment with the entry may be substituted); (3) the date or in-

"Sec. 2. This Act shall be effective as to alumina entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption during the two-year period beginning on the day following the date of the enactment of this Act." (Pub. Law 725, 84th Cong.)

[3] "In connection with the entry" means any time prior to liquidation of the entry or within the period during which a valid reliquidation may be completed (§ 26.18 (c)). Therefore, a claim for free entry under section 2 of the act of March 13, 1942 (56 Stat. 171), as amended, supported by a statement of intent may be filed at any time prior to the liquidation of the entry or within the period during which a valid reliquidation may be completed.

clusive dates of the processing of the articles; and (4) a description of the processing in sufficient detail to enable the collector to determine whether such processing constituted a use in remanufacture by melting. In appropriate cases the processing of the articles covered by more than one entry may be included in one statement. The statement shall be based on adequate and carefully kept plant and import records, which shall be open at all times to customs agents or other employees of the Customs Service. The statement shall be in duplicate, one copy to be forwarded to the comptroller of customs.

(d) If satisfactory proof of use of the articles in remanufacture by melting is furnished within the prescribed time, the entry shall be liquidated without the assessment of duty on the articles covered by such proof. If such proof is not filed within 3 years from the date of entry, or the use does not warrant the classification claimed, the entry shall be liquidated without any exemption from duty and import tax under section 2 of the Act of March 13, 1942, as amended.[4]

"SEC. 2. Articles of which metal is the component material of chief value, other than ores or concentrates or crude metal, imported to be used in remanufacture by melting, shall be accorded entry free of duty and import tax, upon submission of proof, under such regulations and within such time as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, that they have been used in remanufacture by melting: Provided, however, That nothing contained in the provisions of this section shall be construed to limit or restrict the exemption granted by section 1 of this Act." (Sec. 1, 64 Stat. 1093)

PART 56—EXTENSIONS OF TIME PURSUANT TO PROCLAMATION OF THE PRESIDENT UNDER SECTION 318, TARIFF ACT OF 1930

MERCHANDISE IN GENERAL ORDER AND BONDED WAREHOUSES

Sec.

56.1 Periods of time prescribed in sections 491, 557, and 559, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, extended; conditions.
56.2 Merchandise in general order.
56.3 Extension of bonds.

AUTHORITY: §§ 56.1 to 56.3 issued under sec. 624, 46 Stat. 759; 19 U. S. C. 1624. Interpret or apply sec. 318, 46 Stat. 696; 19 U. S. C. 1318. Proc. 2948, Oct. 12, 1951, 16 F. R. 10589; 3 CFR, 1951 Supp.

§ 56.1 Periods of time prescribed in sections 491, 557, and 559, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, extended; conditions.

(a) Pursuant to authority contained in Proclamation No. 2948 (3 CFR, 1949–1953 Comp. p. 132), issued by the President on October 12, 1951, the 1-year period prescribed in section 491, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, or the 3-year period prescribed in sections 557 and 559 of the said act, as amended, as the case may be, or any extension or further extension thereof heretofore granted under the authority of Proclamation No. 2599 of November 11, 1943 (3 CFR, 1943–1948 Comp. p. 13), as amended by Proclamation No. 2712 of December 3, 1946 (3 CFR, 1943–1948 Comp. p. 98), is hereby extended for 1 year in each case wherein such 1-year or 3-year period or any such previous extension thereof has expired on or after December 16, 1950, or shall have expired hereafter and during the continuance of the national emergency proclaimed on December 16, 1950 (Proclamation No. 2914, 3 CFR, 1949–1953 Comp. p. 99), and wherein the collector of customs concerned shall have been furnished with:

(1) If the merchandise is in general order, the written application of the consignee for extension and any evidence of identity required by § 56.2 (c); or

(2) If the merchandise is charged against an entry bond, the agreement of the principal and the sureties on the bond to remain bound under the terms and conditions of the bond to the same extent as if no extension had been granted, or a new bond with acceptable sureties to include the period of extension; or

(3) If the merchandise is charged against a carrier's bond, the agreement of the principal and the sureties on the bond to remain bound under the terms and conditions of the bond to the same extent as if no extension had been granted; and

(4) If the merchandise is in general order or charged against an entry bond, the certificate of the proprietor of the warehouse in which the merchandise is stored consenting to the extension, or certifying that all charges or amounts due or owing to the proprietor for the storage or handling of the merchandise up to the date of the beginning of the 1-year period of extension requested have been paid.

(b) Pursuant to the same authority and subject to the same conditions, such 1-year or 3-year period, as the case may be, is hereby extended for an additional period of 1 year each from and after the expiration of the immediately preceding extension if such expiration occurs during the continuance of the aforesaid national emergency.

§ 56.2 Merchandise in general order.

(a) Applications for extension or further extension of the 1-year period prescribed in section 491, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, shall be made in each case by the consignee, in writing, and in substantially the following form, and shall be submitted, in duplicate, to the collector of customs at the port where the merchandise is stored:

_____, 19____

SIR: In accordance with the provisions of Treasury Decision No. 52896, of December 28, 1951, application is hereby made for an extension (or further extension) of the 1-year period prescribed in section 491, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, for 1 year in the case of the merchandise described below:

Quantity and description of the merchandise: _____
Name of port where imported: _____
Date of importation: _____
Present location of merchandise: _____
_____
(Address of warehouse where the merchandise is stored)

Additional information: _____

(Here state whether any previous extension has been allowed or application made for such extension and, if so, the details thereof)

(Name of consignee)
By _____
(Name and title)

The undersigned hereby consents to the granting of the 1-year extension requested herein, or

The undersigned hereby certifies that all charges or amounts due or owing to the undersigned for storage or handling of the merchandise described above up to the date of the beginning of the 1-year period of extension requested herein have been paid.

(Warehouse proprietor)
By _____
(Name and title)

(b) If the merchandise concerned is stored in the public store, all charges or amounts due or owing to the Government for the storage or handling of the merchandise up to the date of the beginning of the 1-year period of extension requested shall be paid as a condition precedent to the granting of the extension.

(c) In connection with each application for extension, there shall be furnished, as evidence that the applicant is the consignee, the bill of lading or a duplicate thereof or a carrier's certificate covering the merchandise, but it will not be necessary that such evidence be furnished in connection with applications for any subsequent extensions when made by the same applicant.

(d) If the application is approved by the collector, he shall endorse the fact and date of his approval on both copies of the application, retain the original as his record of the transaction, and return the duplicate to the consignee for his records. If the application is disapproved by the collector, he shall retain both copies of the application on file in his office and advise the applicant in writing as to the reasons for his disapproval.

§ 56.3 Extension of bonds.

(a) In each case in which the merchandise remains charged against a carrier's bond, customs Form 3587, and an extension or further extension of the 1-year period prescribed in section 491, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, is desired, there shall be furnished to the collector of customs at the port where the charge against the bond was made the agreement of the principal and sureties on such bonds in the following form:

EXTENSION OF CARRIER'S BOND

Whereas, in Treasury Decision No. 52896, of December 28, 1951, issued pursuant to authority contained in the President's Proclamation No. 2948, dated October 12, 1951, the 1-year period prescribed in section 491, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, was extended for 1 year and further extended for additional periods of 1 year each from and after the expiration of the immediately preceding extension, provided, among other things, that in each case in which the merchandise remains charged against a carrier's bond the principal on such bond shall agree to the extension and shall furnish the agreement of the sureties on the bond to remain bound under the terms and conditions of the bond to the same extent as if no extension had been granted, and

Whereas, the carrier's bond described below was furnished in connection with the entry for transportation in bond indicated and it is now desired to extend the liability under such bond for a period of 1 year from the date of maturity of the bond:[1]

Name of carrier: _____
Date of bond: _____
Date of approval: _____
Class and number of transportation in bond entry: _____
Dated: _____
Port where charge against bond was made: _____
Description of merchandise: _____
Date of importation: _____

Now, Therefore, This is to certify that _____, principal, and _____ and _____, sureties on the carrier's bond referred to above, hereby stipulate and agree that their liability under said bond[1] shall continue unchanged and in full force and effect to the same extent as if no extension had been granted for a period of 1 year from the date of maturity of the bond.[1]

(c) If the principal on a warehouse entry bond desires to furnish a new bond to include the period of extension or further extension in lieu of furnishing an agreement in the form prescribed in paragraph (b) of this section, the new bond shall be furnished on customs Form 7555 but with the words "3 years" appearing in conditions (1) and (2) of the form changed to read "4 years" or "5 years," and so forth, as the case may require.

(d) In cases in which the merchandise concerned was entered for warehouse and charged against a General Term Bond for Entry of Merchandise, customs Form 7595, or against a Blanket Smelting and Refining Bond in the form prescribed in Treasury Decision 50267, as modified by Treasury Decision 52403, the agreement of the principal and sureties on the bond shall be furnished to the collector of customs in the following form:

EXTENSION OF GENERAL TERM BOND FOR ENTRY OF MERCHANDISE[1a]

Whereas, in Treasury Decision No. 52896, of December 28, 1951, issued pursuant to authority contained in the President's Proclamation No. 2948, dated October 12, 1951, the 3-year warehousing period for imported

[1a] Substitute the words "Blanket Smelting and Refining Bond" if the merchandise was charged against such a bond.

merchandise prescribed in sections 557 and 559, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, was extended for 1 year and further extended for additional periods of 1 year each from and after the expiration of the immediately preceding extension, provided, among other things, that in each case the principal on the entry bond shall furnish the agreement of the sureties on the bond to remain bound under the terms and conditions of the bond to the same extent as if no extension had been granted, and

Whereas, the bond described below was furnished by _____

PART 57—REFUND OF IMPORT TAX ON MANUFACTURED SUGAR

Sec.
57.1 Refund of import tax.
57.2 Proof of claim.
57.3 Form of claim.
57.4 Transfer of custody of imported manufactured sugar.
57.5 Transfer of custody of articles manufactured from imported manufactured sugar.
57.6 Evidence of importation.
57.7 Period for filing claim.
57.8 Payment of Claim.

AUTHORITY: § 57.1 to 57.8 issued under R. S. 161, 251; 5 U. S. C. 22, 19 U. S. C. 66. Interpret or apply secs. 4501, 4502, 4504, 6418, 6511, 68A Stat. 533 as amended, 534 as amended, 535, as amended, 801 as amended, 808 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 4501, 4502, 4504, 6418, 6511.

§ 57.1 Refund of import tax.

Any person (individual, firm, corporation, or association) using any manufactured sugar, or article manufactured therefrom, with respect to which an import tax has been paid under section 4501(b), Internal Revenue Code of 1954,[1] as livestock feed, in the production of livestock feed, or for the distillation of alcohol, may file a claim under section 6418(a), Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended,[2] with any collector of customs for a refund of the amount of the tax paid.

§ 57.2 Proof of claim.

No claim for refund under I.R.C. section 6418(a), as amended, shall be allowed unless the claimant establishes to the satisfaction of the collector (a) that the tax with respect to the imported manufactured sugar upon which claim is based was actually paid; (b) the quantity, identity, and polariscopic test of the imported manufactured sugar upon which claim is based; (c) that the imported manufactured sugar, or article manufactured therefrom, was actually used as livestock feed, in the production of livestock feed, or for the distillation of alcohol; and (d) such other facts as may be necessary to determine the claimant's right to a refund.

§ 57.3 Form of claim.

Claim for refund shall be filed in duplicate and shall be in substantially the following form:

I solemnly declare that the imported manufactured sugar, or manufacture thereof, described above was used by me between _____ 19____, and _____ 19____, at _____
for the purpose set forth above; that the identification of the imported manufactured sugar, or article manufactured therefrom, shown above is in accordance with my records of importation, or the Certificate of Delivery as noted above, a copy of which is in my files as furnished by the importer, and according to said records, no part of the import taxes has been heretofore claimed or refunded by way of drawback or otherwise; and that a true record of all imported manufactured sugar, or manufactures thereof, used, is kept by me and is at all times open to the inspection of officers of the customs.

(Claimant)

[1] "Import tax. In addition to any other tax or duty imposed by law, there is hereby imposed, under such regulations as the Secretary or his delegate shall prescribe, a tax upon articles imported or brought into the United States as follows:

"(1) On all manufactured sugar testing by the polariscope 92 sugar degrees, 0.465 cent per pound, and, for each additional sugar degree shown by the polariscopic test, 0.00875 cent per pound additional, and fractions of a degree in proportion;

"(2) On all manufactured sugar testing by the polariscope less than 92 sugar degrees, 0.5144 cent per pound of the total sugars therein;

"(3) On all articles composed in chief value of manufactured sugar, 0.5144 cent per pound of the total sugars therein." (26 U.S.C. 4501 (b))

[2] "Use as livestock feed or for distillation of alcohol. Upon the use of any manufactured sugar, or article manufactured therefrom, as livestock feed, or in the production of livestock feed, or for the distillation of alcohol, there shall be paid by the Secretary or his delegate to the person so using such manufactured sugar, or article manufactured therefrom, the amount of any tax paid under section 4501 with respect thereto." (26 U. S. C. 6418 (a))

§ 57.4 Transfer of custody of imported manufactured sugar.

When the imported sugar which is the basis of a claim for refund under I.R.C. section 6418(a), as amended, was not imported by the user thereof, transfer of custody of such sugar from the importer to the user, including transfers through any intermediate holders, shall be evidenced by filing with the collector at the port where the claim for refund is filed a certificate of delivery, in duplicate, on customs Form 7543, or official evidence of the existence of such a certificate filed at another port, fully describing the sugar delivered and tracing it from the importer to the user. Requirements in this respect shall be the same as those for drawback transactions, as set forth in § 22.15 of this chapter.

§ 57.5 Transfer of custody of articles manufactured from imported manufactured sugar.

(a) When imported manufactured sugar has passed through some process of manufacture before delivery to the ultimate user (claimant under I. R. C. section 6418 (a), as amended), a certificate shall be filed in duplicate on customs Form 7577 showing the particulars relative to the manufacture and delivery of the articles concerned. Procedures shall be the same as those for drawback transactions, as set forth in § 22.16 of this chapter.

(b) In order to preclude the payment of claims or refund to both the manufacturer of livestock feed and the feeder thereof, each manufacturer executing a certificate of manufacture and delivery shall state thereon that he has not filed and will not file a claim for refund of the import tax paid on the sugar contained in the products covered by the certificate.

§ 57.6 Evidence of importation.

If the imported manufactured sugar identified in the claim for refund or certificate of manufacture was not imported at a port within the customs collection district where the claim or certificate of manufacture is filed, a certificate of importation on customs Form 5265, or an extract therefrom on customs Form 5267, shall be obtained as evidence of importation of said sugar. The procedure to be followed in obtaining the certificate of importation or the extract therefrom is set forth in § 22.14 of this chapter.

§ 57.7 Period for filing claim.

No refund under I.R.C. section 6418(a), as amended, shall be allowed unless claim therefor is filed by the person entitled thereto (see § 57.1) within 2 years from the date the right to such refund accrued. Right to refund accrues as of the date the manufactured sugar, or article manufactured therefrom, is used for one of the purposes for which refund is allowable.

§ 57.8 Payment of claim.

(a) No refund shall be made until the import entries covering the manufactured sugar upon which claim is based have been liquidated, the liquidated duties have been paid, and such liquidation has been made final by operation of law or by acceptance in writing by the importer.

(b) Import entries, certificates of importation, and extracts from such certificates shall constitute the records from which the amount of import tax paid on the manufactured sugar shall be determined. In order to guard against errors in identification and overallowance, all sugar identified in certificates of manufacture and claims for refund which have been liquidated and all sugar covered by certificates of importation and extracts from such certificates shall be charged against the records of importation to which they respectively refer.

(c) The amount of the refund due having been ascertained, the collector shall certify such amount for payment to the person making the claim.

[SEAL] RALPH KELLY,
Commissioner of Customs.

Approved: December 15, 1960.

A. GILMORE FLUES,
Acting Secretary of the Treasury.
